

Gardevoir 150

Chapter 150: Let's do bad things!

Shirona's white fingers gently pressed on the key stone, and golden light instantly gushed out from the key stone and enveloped the body of the Garchomp.

In the golden light, Tyrannosaurus' body became taller, while its head and shoulders became thinner, and its sickle-like wings turned into a real sickle of death.

"This is Super Land Shark! So cool!"

When Xiaozhi looked at Sirona's Mega Garchomp, his eyes twinkled with little stars. How could there be such a handsome Pokémon!

Strong and powerful! Strong and powerful!

"I think Super Gardevoir is more charming. Look at those proud peaks, and then look at those black gloves and the beautiful big skirt!"

"Just thinking about that black-gloved hand gently caressing my face makes me feel like I'm about to die of happiness."

Xiaogang looked at the Shiny Gardevoir's body, which had become like a heating steam engine, and said some words that Xiaozhi should not hear.

"How can Xiaozhi hear you say such things?!"

Xiaoxia pinched Xiaogang's ear without any instruction for some reason, and then ignored his pleas for mercy and pulled him to a deserted place.

The rest of the onlookers all had cold sweat on their foreheads.

"Ahahahaha, this guy really is, really genuine."

Professor Oak was sweating and didn't know how to describe Xiaogang. After thinking for a long time, he finally came up with his true character.

"It's just lust, you put it so refreshingly."

Dr. Kailan looked disdainful and said, "If you are lustful, then just be lustful. Why are you looking for excuses?"

"Ahahaha, Xiaozhi, who do you think will win?"

Professor Oak chose to ignore this fatal question and chose to ask Xiaozhi which one he thought would win?

This put Xiaozhi in a difficult position. In terms of body size, he felt that Xiaofeng's Gardevoir had a greater chance of winning, but in terms of physical strength, he felt that Shirona's Garchomp was more powerful.

It's really hard to choose! Xiaozhi let out a silent wail.

"Pica, Pica!"

Pikachu doesn't have so many worries. Although Yu Feng often abuses him during training, that is for his own good. Besides, who else can he cheer for if he doesn't cheer for his own people?

Pikachu took out two cheerleading balls from somewhere and cheered and encouraged Yu Feng.

"Pikachu is still free and can cheer for whoever he wants."

Xiaozhi was delighted with Pikachu's casual attitude, after all, he could always find some strange things.

"I think Sirona has a better chance of winning. I've fought against Xiaofeng's boss Gardevoir before and I was able to fight back, but facing Garchomp..."

Xiaozhi compared the previous Gardevoir with the Garchomp that he had just fought against, and Xiaozhi felt that Garchomp was still a little more powerful.

Moreover, Professor Oak also said that mega evolution will become stronger, so Gardevoir, which is weaker to begin with, may not be able to defeat Garchomp even if it mega evolves, not to mention that the opponent has also mega evolved.

"Xiaozhi, Mega Gardevoir's attributes are Fairy plus Psychic. Fairy-type skills restrain Dragon-type skills. Conversely, Dragon-type skills have no damage to Mega Gardevoir except for their own physical damage."

"Xiao Feng's Gardevoir has ice-type skills. At the same time, due to the characteristics of the fairy skin, the normal skills will become fairy-type, so the situation on the field is actually unfavorable to Sirona."

Seeing Xiaozhi relying entirely on his feelings to determine the outcome, Daiki couldn't help but sigh. This kind of thing can't be determined by just your feelings.

Attribute restraint will not disappear as the level increases, and Xiao Feng doesn't kill you instantly, perhaps because he doesn't want to hit your self-confidence.

After all, as a former champion, Professor Oak still has some eyesight. Whether it is Shirona's Garchomp or Xiaofeng's boss Shiny Gardevoir, they can defeat you instantly.

This is a guidance battle for Shirona, so she wants Xiaozhi to guide him on his own problems, but Xiaofeng probably doesn't want to discourage him. After all, Xiaofeng, who also just went out on a trip, can defeat him directly, which is still a big blow to a person's self-confidence.

"Who are you talking about being at a disadvantage? But Mega Garchomp is indeed not at an advantage against Mega Gardevoir."

Kaizilan condemned Oak for saying that about his granddaughter, but what Oak said was indeed reasonable, as Shirona's Mega Garchomp super evolution was still within the realm of champion.

On the contrary, although the boss Gardevoir is not the champion, it is just one step away from Lingmen. After super evolution, it has reached this level.

And with the help of its attributes, it can still fight against Tyrannosaurus.

.....

"Let's go! Use the loud voice!"

Yu Feng raised his hand high, and after he finished speaking, he pointed at Super Land Shark with a very confident smile.

"sand!!!"

The super boss Shiny Gardevoir (what a long name!)'s eyes were filled with red light, and every move seemed to shake the entire venue.

With his lips slightly opened, pink sound waves enveloped the Super Biting Land Shark.

"Create a sandstorm! Then use Sword Dance!"

Shirona had no intention of dodging. After all, sonic skills were sure to hit. This was not like the High-Speed Star, which relied on high speed to make a false hit, but a real hit. Unless Super Bite Land Shark could not hear the sound, it would either be interrupted or eaten up.

But it is obvious that interrupting the psychic skills is simply a joke, so it is more cost-effective to just take it and then strengthen yourself.

Endless dust swept up, blocking everyone's vision.

In the sand and dust, the Super Biting Land Shark's two sickles merged, and it frowned and swallowed the huge sound while performing a mysterious dance.

"You're creating a sandstorm to block my vision. What a pity! I'm a psychic, and I have to perform a sword dance while creating a sandstorm. I'll take it back on a sunny day."

When Mega Garchomp cannot use its Dragon-type skills, the only way it can create a sandstorm is to use Rocky Ground and Steel-type skills.

Then Shirona's purpose is very clear. She must not be allowed to maintain the sandstorm, no matter what the reason is.

A dazzling small sun rose from Mega Gardevoir's hands, but a very strange scene appeared on the field.

Mega Garchomp was half-displayed in the sand and dust, while Mega Gardevoir was meditating under the sunlight.

"Are they evenly matched?"

These can arouse Shirona's interest. Logically speaking, the new champion Mega Gardevoir should not be able to compete with her Mega Garchomp in terms of weather.

There is only one situation where the weather is divided into two halves, and that is that the strength of both sides will not differ too much.

Or maybe Mega Gardevoir's knowledge of the weather is better than his own Mega Garchomp.