

Gardevoir 178

Chapter 178 The incident was successfully resolved, probably

"Moga?"

The water otters used a water cannon to seriously wash away another batch of agate jellyfish that wanted to rush over to disturb them, and asked about the subsequent rescue work.

If they could complete the task, they could fight with all their might. Being looked down upon by a newly evolved stinging jellyfish was really challenging his endurance.

Under normal circumstances, this Pokémon would have been lying on the ground talking to him. How could it stand in front of him so arrogantly?

"Roar!"

Garchomp also asked very impatiently how long it would take for Aledo to defeat her. After all, she was so good-tempered thanks to Shirona's instructions. Otherwise, if she used her full-strength Dragon Swarm, there wouldn't be so many problems.

To begin with, Tyranitar is not a good-tempered Pokémon, and it became even more irritable after being taunted by this Stinging Jellyfish. If it hadn't been stopped by Shirona, she would have punched the Stinging Jellyfish hard and hard to dehydrate it.

Well, I've decided. Next, I must beat this poisonous jellyfish into a dried jellyfish to vent my hatred.

Land Shark secretly rubbed his wings, preparing to give the venomous jellyfish a big surprise.

After all, it's rude not to reciprocate, thinking of this, a ferocious smile appeared on Lu Shark's face.

"Have you rescued all the people?"

Yu Huijun pulled Yu Feng, who was taking a break to catch his breath, and asked him about the current disaster relief situation.

"There are not many left. They are all sunk into the water."

Yu Feng nodded in understanding, and then told them what they perceived about the surrounding situation.

All those who can be rescued have been rescued. The rest are sinking in the water and are difficult to rescue. The situation underwater is unpredictable, and even with the help of the boss Shining Gardevoir, it is not that convenient.

This is not as simple as pulling people away and teleporting them. Not only must the sea water be isolated before doing so, but the compressed area must also be teleported out.

This delicate work requires him and his sister to be linked together to operate, but his mental power is not infinite, and he needs to take a good rest after rescuing two or three people.

Otherwise, he would not be able to rescue the person and would be killed by him, which would be a waste of both money and the army.

He has never been a pushover. Of course he would save someone if he could, but asking him to do so knowing that he cannot save the person is another matter.

"Hey, hold on tight, you're the only one who can save us here. Shirona, Fu Ningna and I have to stop the agate jellyfish and the stinging jellyfish."

"It really can't..."

Yu Huijun was just about to urge Yu Feng to hurry up, but they didn't know when the Flying King would arrive, and they didn't dare to use their ultimate move until they had rescued all the people.

Even though Garchomp opens his mouth with a swarm of dragon stars, his control is superb, ensuring that a meteor can hit an agate jellyfish.

"Zizizi, can you hear me?"

The communicator shaped like a sign hanging on Yu Huijun's waist rang, and Yu Huijun picked it up immediately.

"I can hear you, old...President. I just need to request a rescue. There are only three of us here and we are too busy to handle it."

When Yu Huijun saw that the call was from Lao Deng, he was overjoyed. After all, the current situation required support.

Fu Ningna, who took the drowning person handed over by a member of the Lonely Heart Salon, was also overjoyed. Didn't Lao Deng's arrival mean that they could call for support?

Honestly she didn't mean to say anything, it was normal for the Flying King to be slow in taking charge of two regions, but what about the local gym leaders?

It's fine that the rock gym leader couldn't rescue them because of their attributes, but why did you, the water gym leader, also go to the evacuation? You are the gym leader, how come you ran faster than the crowd?

Even if you can't resist you, you should at least come to help rescue us. This is really outrageous.

"I know. That's why I came here. The higher-ups have approved that you should use all your strength now. If you can subdue it, then subdue this giant poisonous jellyfish and bring it back."

"We need to study why he can grow so big. After all, Gigantamaxing is not yet common in Kanto."

"Don't worry about the damage to the building, I'll reimburse you!"

Zhou Jingkang waved his hand and directly paid for the repair costs of the damage. He couldn't even enjoy the fight. If he backed down because of a little damage, how could he get things done?

Moreover, this giant poisonous jellyfish is very worthy of research. The Kanto region clearly has the strongest Pokémon Doctor and a king who can be the champion in other regions but can only be the king in this region.

This is a region of such intensity, but it is the area with the least systems. It has to be said that the people of Kanto have something on their side.

Ahem, back to the topic, in a place like Kanto where there is no Gigantamax venue, the appearance of Pokémon of such gigantic size are either super ancient Pokémon or man-made mechanical Pokémon.

However, this stinging jellyfish did not have the unique patterns of the super ancient Pokémon, and they watched it evolve.

It would be a great thing if we could figure it out clearly.

"It's fine if you reimburse me! It's up to us from now on."

Upon hearing that the money was reimbursed, Yu Huijun laughed arrogantly. If it could be reimbursed, there was no need to be so restrained. He threw the communicator back and went to tell Shirona the good news.

Completely ignoring Zhou Jingkang's nervous expression, he told you not to worry about the damage, but that doesn't mean you can really do whatever you want, hey!

Unfortunately, his voice was destined not to reach the ears of Yu Huijun who was in high spirits. Maybe he pretended not to hear it in order to trick Lao Deng? After all, the screen was facing the battlefield.

The three elves who were able to exert their full strength on the battlefield could hardly suppress their excitement. After all, they had been annoyed by these little creatures for so long and finally they could fight back.

"Ah!! Then Vileotter, don't use the water cannon at full power!"

"Aledo!! That's not how you play with the holy sword!! 1"

"Shut up, Land Shark!"

Looking at the bubbles that were several times thicker than the giant poisonous jellyfish, the golden holy sword that illuminated a small area, and the dragon stars that were bigger than the Land Shark.

Zhou Jinggang's heart was bleeding. His own little treasury was going to shrink again. He could only reduce the food rations for his little cutie. He hoped that the little cutie would not bear a grudge against him.

Looking at these three Pokémon who were eager to beat the giant poisonous jellyfish to death, Zhou Jinggang couldn't help but shed a few tears for his wallet which was about to be deflated.

The Pokémon that were beating up the big, poisonous jellyfish in the arena just felt very happy and didn't care whether Zhou Jinggang's wallet would be empty.

It has nothing to do with them if it's empty.

Under the full-force attack of three Pokémon at least at the Elite level, the giant stinging jellyfish was tossed around like a plastic bag.

Finally, after the three Pokémon were defeated, the giant stinging jellyfish was caught into the Poké Ball by Yu Feng with an expression of finally being liberated.

Ah, what? You ask why Yu Feng?

Because he is the only one who can get close to the center of the battlefield which has now turned into a shallow sea.
