

Gardevoir 190

Chapter 190 I'm dead

Kojiro, who fell off the cliff, climbed up from the bottom with his amazing wrist strength, which scared Xiaoxia who was still next to him.

"Don't get me wrong. As a woman, I get angry when I see a woman who treats men like this."

"Even if a woman is dumped, it's just bad luck. After crying for a while, there will be another bright day. This is the dignity of a woman."

Musashi told Kojiro not to misunderstand, she didn't run out to save him because she was moved, but she did it because she was disgusted with this abandoned woman who was still clinging to other people.

Five-star reviewer and part-time Admiral McMewser said: "What on earth is this woman talking about, meow?"

Obviously, even a Pokémon like Meowth who doesn't understand humans can see that Musashi is simply saying one thing and doing another. He doesn't understand why he has to beat around the bush when it would be better to just say it directly.

Humans are so hard to understand.

"I don't understand either, but for those who hinder me..."

The girl ghost didn't quite understand what Musashi said, but that didn't stop her from thinking that Musashi was trying to stop her.

In an instant, the girl ghost's hair moved without wind, and countless ghosts passed by Xiaozhi and Team Rocket, bringing a slightly cool touch.

It was as if they were the gathering of the wronged souls of men who had been murdered in previous years. They were somewhat dissatisfied with the men being rescued this year. The wronged souls bared their fangs and roared at Xiaozhi and the others.

It looked like he was going to drag them all into the water.

"what is that?"

Xiaoxia, Team Rocket and Manabu quietly hid behind Yu Feng, who was the strongest in appearance and also the strongest in reality.

As for why....in addition to being strong, it is also because those ghosts dare not approach Yu Feng. Those who approach will turn into a wisp of green smoke and disappear in the world.

"Is it a Pokémon?"

Of course, Xiaozhi's style is different from that of the others. He even took out the illustrated book to see what these things in front of him are.

"No Pokémon reacted!"

Of course, these things are just illusions, so it is normal that they cannot be scanned out.

The wronged souls of Nian seemed to be angered by Xiaozhi's action, and began to surround them, ready to wait for an opportunity to turn them into their companions.

Faced with such a scene, even Xiaozhi, a tough guy, was constantly dodging the swarms of wronged souls, for fear of being contaminated by something unclean.

Just as he kept dodging, the Pokémon's reaction was detected by the Pokédex, which made him look around excitedly, trying to find out what Pokémon was playing a prank on them.

That's right, Xiaozhi was already certain that it was the Pokémon that was causing trouble. After all, seeing that Yu Feng had no reaction, he knew that it was definitely not a ghost this time, otherwise he would have taken action long ago.

Instead of chatting with the woman who looked like she was from Team Rocket, if something really happened he would act faster than anyone else.

"Look at the ghost behind you."

Watching Xiaozhi scanning randomly without any clue, Yu Feng pointed at the ghost of the girl floating behind them. After all, isn't that the one that looks most like Pokémon at the moment?

"Oh, yes!"

After being reminded by Yu Feng, Xiaozhi finally realized that although these were definitely not real ghosts, it did not mean that the one behind was fake.

Xiaozhi aimed the illustrated book at the 'Ghost of a Young Girl' at the back, and after a brief pause, the illustrated book scanned out her true appearance.

"Garsis, that's a ghost Pokémon..."

The illustrated guide reported Gastly's information very professionally, and specifically pointed out that Gastly was good at hypnosis.

"Gars, it turns out you're the one causing all this trouble!"

Xiaozhi looked at the information in the pokédex and confirmed that this time...he was not the real culprit behind this incident over the years.

"If I'm discovered, there's nothing I can do. Sometimes I'm the legendary girl, and sometimes I'm the mysterious fortune teller."

As she spoke, a purple-black gas swirled around the 'Ghost of the Young Girl', and she suddenly transformed from the 'Ghost of the Young Girl' into the old woman who had tricked them into buying those fake talisman papers.

"But sometimes I am a pale and skinny old woman, but my real identity is!"

While changing his identity, Gastly also changes his voice very professionally.

"Yes, it's me, Gastly. You humans are really interesting. Someone has already seen through my identity and hasn't exposed me yet."

After a series of changes, Gastly finally revealed his true appearance, and at the same time teased Yu Feng for knowing all the truth but not telling his companions.

"No, no, no, what you said is wrong. You can see it, but it's my business whether to say it or not. But you have provoked me, so I'm on to it."

Yu Feng shook his finger. To expose the truth, Gastly would have to have the advantage. Unfortunately, Yu Feng would have a greater advantage between them.

But since he was being talked about, Yu Feng couldn't just sit there and do nothing.

With his fingertips slightly raised, Flash Kirlia came out of the ball after a long absence.

"Chirrut! (Brother, I want to apply to stay outside all the time! No one knows me here anyway.)"

The first thing Shining Kirlia came out of was to apply to stay outside, lest her role become less and less.

Obviously, she is the heroine! She is the first wife! Why did it take so long for her to appear?

"It's a Pokémon I've never seen before. By the way, hypnosis is also useful for Pokémon."

"If you are a brother and sister, then your biggest fear should be that your brother will become ugly. This is the brother who eats too much sugar."

Although Gastly has never seen a Pokémon like Kirlia, he can tell from their conversation that this sister is a complete tsundere and has always been thinking about possessing her brother.

So...for her, the most unacceptable thing is her brother becoming ugly.

The purple-black smoke turned into a very ugly human figure, and one could vaguely see a hairstyle similar to Yu Feng's.

It's just that his face is full of fat and his eyes are not visible. Not only that, but his skin is also oily, his pores are large, and his complexion is dark and has freckles.

The whole person looks like a realistic, dark, fat otaku.

"Sister, come and hug me."

The fat otaku version of Yu Feng narrowed his eyes and said to Shining Kirlia.

"!!!!!!!"

Shining Kirlia looked as if she had seen a ghost. She glanced at her brother and decisively hung on the railing beside her and vomited continuously. She really couldn't accept that her handsome brother had become the protagonist of the comic book that her aunt secretly hid.

"If your brother would become like that if he ate candy, he would have changed a long time ago."

Yu Feng felt helpless as he looked at Kirlia who couldn't accept the flash. It was just a hypnosis. Not many people could get excited enough when using hypnosis in front of them.

"Then it's my turn, Pikachu!"

Seeing that Yu Feng's Pokémon was also unable to deal with Gastly, Xiaozhi sent out his own Pikachu to fight.

"You're an electric mouse, right? We'll have to use a mousetrap to deal with you!"

Gastly took one look at Pikachu and turned around, then created an oversized mousetrap and chased after Pikachu.

Pikachu had never seen such a scene before. The fear of this thing ingrained in his bones made him run backwards in panic.

"Then it's my turn, meow!"

Meowth saw Pikachu being scared off by the mousetrap and thought now was the best time, so he rushed towards Gastly with his claws showing and tried to subdue him.

"Haha, give the cat gold coins, give the cat Mu Tian Liao!"

Gastly looked at the attacking Meowth without any fear. Instead, he conjured up a woodpecker ball to attract Meowth's attention.

"Damn it, come on, Arbok!"

Musashi couldn't accept that one Pokémon could restrain them all, so he directly sent out his own Arbok.

"To deal with snakes, of course we have to use their natural enemies, the mongoose!" (Probably the mongoose)

Gastly ignored the Arbok that was wrapping around it and became the natural enemy of snakes, scaring the Arbok so much that it went limp and ran back as if escaping.

"Hand over the baton. I can't do anything about it."

Musashi was speechless upon seeing this. This thing can only be dealt with by Kojiro, a gas egg who is nothing to be afraid of, right?

"Huh? Gas Egg attacks with poison gas."

Although Kojiro was still confused, it did not affect his command of Gastly to fire a shot at this hateful Gastly.

So the Gas Egg approached Gastly with thick poisonous gas. Although Gastly was not afraid of this thing because he himself was made of poisonous gas, he couldn't resist and wanted to have some good fun.

"I have a gas mask!"

Wearing a gas mask, Luo stepped on the gas egg with one foot, looking like he was saying "you can do whatever you want".

"The Charmander has decided that it's you!"

Seeing that Gastly was also defeated, Xiaozhi immediately sent out his capable Charmander.

Gastly, who has been wandering in Kanto for who knows how long, is very familiar with the three starter Pokémons in Kanto: "To deal with fire, you need a fire extinguisher!"

Gastly transformed into a huge fire extinguisher and chased Charmander.

"Fire!! Fire!! Fire!!"

When Charmander saw this thing, he hugged his tail and started running around, and for the first time ever, he spoke human words.

"Okay, use whatever you have."

Gastly seemed to be tired of playing and asked Xiaozhi to do something interesting as it was still very boring.

"Squirtle! Bulbasaur, both of you come at me!"

Xiaozhi gritted his teeth and looked at Gastly in front of him. This time he had no choice but to send out two Pokémon regardless of the rules.

Gastly was stunned when he saw the two, the garlic toad and the water turtle. Gastly's tone was indescribable: "It's so troublesome, just be lazy and use this."

Bulbasaur and Blastoise walked with heavy steps, looking at Squirtle and Bulbasaur in front of them with unfriendly faces.

The two little ones were so frightened that they trembled and hugged each other, forgetting how to attack.

"And this! A big fusion, how about calling this Venusaur and Blastoise!"

A Blastoise with flowers on the back of Bulbasaur appeared in place. The two little ones no longer had the energy to fight and ran back to the Poké Ball.

"No, there's no way to compare."

Seeing that no matter who he eliminated would be scared off by finding their weaknesses, Xiaozhi's face fell involuntarily. The fact that Yu Feng didn't take any serious action until now meant that there wouldn't be any serious problems, but it was really unpleasant to be hit like this!

Xiaoxia took out a cross at some point and pointed it at Gastly: "Then use this!"

"what?"

Now it was Gastly's turn to be confused. He didn't know what this human woman was doing with a cross.

"I have many more treasures, including garlic, peach wood stakes, and hammers!"

Xiaoxia took out a set of equipment to fight against vampires from somewhere, as if she was showing off her arsenal.

Without caring about the expressions on Ash and the others' faces as they looked at the monster, this is a Pokémon!

What's the use of having a bunch of things to fight vampires?

Even Xiaozhi knows that ghosts and vampires are two different things.

"Ah, I'm not a vampire, what's the matter?"

Gastly's arrogant expression gradually turned into helplessness. Is it really useful for you to use these things to deal with him?

In other words, he was just playing around, otherwise half of these people would have been killed, and they didn't even know who they were dealing with.

"Dong~dong~"