

Gardevoir 196

Chapter 196 I'll give you a task

So much so that Ash's Charmander was getting beaten, and this was Ash's biggest weakness.

On the other hand, she didn't really command her Charmander, but she knew how to use combos, although I don't know where she learned this combo from.

"So what you need next is to train your Pokémon's ability to adapt to changing situations and your ability to observe situations."

"Don't let yourself get defeated in the knockout round of the Quartz Conference. That would be embarrassing."

Yu Feng pulled Xiaozhi up, and signaled to his sister to give Charmander a drop of life. After all, his Charmander was still tired after the fight.

Also, his hands were sore, so healing Ash's Charmander was just a side job.

"Don't worry! I'm going to win the championship!"

Holding Yu Feng's hand, Xiaozhi also stood up holding Charmander, and by the way enjoyed the baptism of a wave of green life droplets.

I don't know if Shiny Kirlia did it on purpose or what, but the green light of the water of life shone above Xiaozhi's head for a long time.

The green light disappeared only when Yu Feng almost laughed out loud.

"Why is Xiao Feng laughing?"

Xiaozhi looked confused, as if he didn't know why Yu Feng was laughing.

"Hahaha, I'm laughing at Xiaoxia's lack of wisdom and Xiaogang's lack of strategy. If I use... cough cough cough, I'm wrong. It's nothing. I just saw something interesting."

Yu Feng almost made the same mistake as Prime Minister Cao. If he finished speaking, he was afraid that a dodo bird would suddenly jump out.

Xiaozhi scratched his head, not really knowing what made Xiaofeng so funny, but he thought he had dragged it out long enough.

Xiaogang and the others should have finished it, probably...

"Where are Xiaogang and the others?"

At this time, Yu Feng also noticed that Xiaogang and the others were not around Xiaozhi, and he was a little curious. Normally, these three people can be said to be inseparable.

"He...they, they are preparing food in the back."

Xiaozhi thought that he had stopped Yu Feng long enough for Xiaogang and the others to cook, so he told Xiaogang and the others their location.

"Cook?"

Yu Feng was a little confused when he heard this. Hadn't he and Ai Guanshi been doing the cooking recently?

The maid shook her head a few times to indicate that it was not the case, but that she had done it herself!

"Yes, Xiao Feng, you are leaving soon, so we plan to give you a surprise."

Xiaozhi's main feature is that if you ask me something, I will answer it. No matter what Yu Feng asked, Xiaozhi would answer it directly.

"...You've already said this surprise, but it's still a surprise, Xiaozhi, next time when you prepare a surprise, don't say it nonsense."

Yu Feng patted Xiao Zhi's shoulder with a headache. The reason why a surprise is a surprise is that you can't tell the person who receives the surprise. If you tell it out loud, the surprise will no longer be a surprise.

After passing Xiaozhi, Yu Feng began to feel where Xiaogang and the others were behind him. After all, since Xiaozhi was able to hold him back, they must not be too far away.

The surging mental power enveloped an area of about one kilometer in radius, and Yu Feng could feel who was doing what there.

Of course, with his ability, he can only feel what is being done. His mother's ability has a wider range and can also control the creatures therein.

Well, I've gone off topic. Yu Feng, who sensed where Xiaogang and the others were, walked over quickly and left Xiaozhi, whose brain had crashed, there to wake him up.

"I'm back, boss."

Bluebird, wearing black stockings and holding a pile of collected information, walked into the dark office without even having time to change her clothes.

Although I don't know why the boss likes this kind of dark environment, there must be a reason why he does this.

"I'm back. Have you found out what I asked you to find out?"

With half of his face shrouded in shadow, Banmu's mouth corners slightly raised, as if indicating that he was in a very good mood.

Of course, even so he did not forget to stroke the cat boss beside him.

"It's been investigated, Boss."

"This is what I have found out during this period of time. Please take a look."

Faced with this situation, Mantori almost buried her head in her chest. Although she didn't have much cleavage, it was always bigger than Xiaoxia's.

At the same time, he handed the information in his hand to Boss Sakaki, indicating that this was all the information collected during this period.

Sakaki put the information aside and had no intention of opening it.

He tapped his fingers on it a few times, and then said, "Don't worry about the data for now. How is the investigation of Gardevoir Butterfly Mask that I asked you to investigate going?"

Compared to Satoshi and the others who Kojiro and the others have been chasing, Sakaki is more concerned about the situation of Gardevoir Butterfly Mask that ruined their plans.

"Boss, his information is also among this group of people. He has no intention of joining us for the time being, but he said that as long as we don't provoke him and his friends, he will not interfere with our actions."

He recalled that Yu Feng had told himself that he was interfering with their actions simply because they had robbed him and his friends.

He doesn't want to care about what the Rockets do unless it's something like this.

"Ah."

Upon hearing the news, Sakaki, for the first time ever, withdrew his hand that was stroking the cat boss and began to think about something.

But it wasn't long before the smile returned to his face, and his hand began to stroke the purring cat boss.

Seeing this scene, Zhenniao felt relieved. After all, this showed that the boss was in a good mood.

"Well, what do you think of Kojiro and the others?"

Sakaki did not tell Manatori what happened next as Manatori expected, but instead asked what Manatori thought of Kojiro and the others.

"Them?" Manatori was stunned, as if he didn't expect the boss to say such a thing, but he still said what he had observed in the past few days: "I think their position in the special operations team should be cancelled."

"They are unreliable and have failed to fulfill their duties as special operations officers. This is very harmful to our image."

Zhenniao almost had his dissatisfaction with them written all over his face. After all, these guys couldn't get anything done and they were wasting their resources.

"Don't be so impatient. Musashi's mother was a senior cadre at the time of my mother. Unfortunately, she disappeared in an operation. Kojiro is the child of the God of Wealth of our organization."

Sakaki didn't want to say anything more. They already owed Miyamoto a lot. Since Musashi had met him, he had to take good care of him.

And Kojiro... simply brought money into the group. He is the eldest son of a chaebol in the Kanto region. His family has businesses in various regions. Even in the most difficult to infiltrate Chinese region, they have a chain of high-end hotels.

"But...."

"No buts. How about this, Mana, after Gardevoir Butterfly Mask leaves that little guy, you take a few team members to follow him."

Sakaki didn't want to say anything more, so he waved his hand to end the topic and assigned a new task to Manato.

Zhenniao bit her lip. It seemed that she had no other choice at this point.
