

Gardevoir 199

Chapter 199 So let's just conquer him directly

After flapping Butterfree's wings, the pink Butterfree flew away without looking back.

Only Butterfree was left with tears in its eyes, flying away in disappointment.

"It seems like he has suffered quite a blow."

Xiaogang couldn't help but sigh as he watched Butterfree flying towards the depths of the forest with tears in its eyes.

"Life is not going as planned, so you have to be strong."

Yu Feng sighed as he watched Butterfree running away, and touched his sister's soft hair. Fortunately, he didn't have to worry about such things. If things really didn't work, he could just use the boss Shining Gardevoir to make do.

How does the saying go? Anything produced by Xerneas must be top quality.

Besides, there are so many Gardevoirs in the forest, all of them are female. There is also the Blimwen tribe on the other side. Why should he be in such a hurry?

"You two still have the time to chat here? Why don't you go catch up with Butterfree!"

Xiaoxia expressed contempt for the two people who said nice things to each other but in the end neither of them had a girlfriend.

And the question now is, isn't it time to lament about life? Shouldn't we catch up with Butterfree who is running away in sadness?

"True, but I think it would be better to just capture the pink one. This color probably wasn't released."

Yu Feng nodded, and then told us his solution, which was to directly subdue the pink Butterfree.

There is no reason, this is the most convenient solution.

As for why it is certain that he can capture it, is there really anyone willing to release Butterfree of this color?

No way! Is there really someone who would release a Pokémon of this color? You know, the shiny Butterfree is green.

And this one is pink! Not the pure pink one from the island.

"Even if it wasn't released, isn't it a bad idea for us to capture it at this time?"

While controlling the hot air balloon to fly towards where Butterfree left, Xiaogang expressed his concerns.

Yes, regardless of whether this Butterfree was released or not, would anyone say anything about them if they captured Butterfree during its breeding season?

"Just say it, you can talk about it after you beat me, and besides, you won't allow me to tame him?"

"Besides, there's not even Miss Junsha here."

Yu Feng didn't care. After all, how could you stop someone from catching Pokémon? You had no practical effect except morally condemning the other party.

Since there is not even a Miss Junsha stationed at this place, it means that this is not a protected behavior.

It is simply an activity that takes a long time to gather together and has a strong symbolic meaning.

Yu Feng's words made everyone silent. Yes, he was right. To put it bluntly, this was a moral issue. It was okay if one Butterfree didn't cross the sea to lay eggs.

What's more, crossing the sea is not a must, as long as the animal is not released by others, it can be captured.

.....

After a long search, everyone finally found the lost Butterfree.

"Butterfree, what's wrong with you?"

Xiaozhi: Well...how should I put it? It's just as expected. He is such an emotional idiot that he doesn't even know why Butterfree is lost.

Xiao Gang seemed to have a lot in common with him: "He was dumped by the other party. This blow is of course very big. I understand, I understand how you feel."

For Xiaogang, who is a professional dumpee, he can now be said to be the one who understands him the most.

"There's nothing we can do about it! Let me give you a lesson in love!"

I don't know what Xiaogang was thinking. As a guy who couldn't even get a girl, how could he give love guidance to another loser?

This is as outrageous as the Tanabata Bluebird being a fairy.

"Are you going to teach him how to get dumped quickly?"

Xiaoxia put on a confused expression, spread her hands and looked at Xiaogang. If you say that Xiaofeng has this method, she believes it, but as for Xiaogang...she would rather believe that Xiaozhi will win the championship.

Xiaoxia's words were like opening a huge underworld, and every word of her sword hit the vital points directly.

Xiaogang loses the will to fight!

"Really? Isn't it written in the illustrated book? For example, let other Butterfree like it or something."

Xiaozhi rarely used his brain for once, and wanted to see if there was any method written in the illustrated book.

"I'm glad you thought of looking at the illustrated guide. But I don't like what you're looking for. Why would the illustrated guide have that kind of thing written on it?"

Yu Feng agreed with Xiaozhi for using his brain more often today, but the problem was that such boring things would not be written in the illustrated book.

"But it's really unpleasant to think about it. She actually dared not to like Butterfree, who I worked so hard to cultivate."

"The words hard work and cultivation should be emphasized."

Yu Feng felt that Xiaozhi was very courageous. Why could he say so confidently that he had worked hard to cultivate Butterfree?

These words seemed to have nothing to do with him.

In fact, it is Butterfree and Brock who take care of Butterfree. They help with food and some basic training.

"What are you talking about! I've worked so hard to cultivate Butterfree!"

Xiaozhi is a little dissatisfied with Yu Feng for sabotaging his plans. Now he is encouraging Butterfree. What's the big deal about sabotaging his own plans?

"No, I'm just pointing out that what you call cultivation is just free-range breeding."

"Gon wants to be a breeder so he doesn't need to train Pokémon that much, but he is a former gym leader after all."

"Xiaoxia's Pokémon is not suitable to come out in a place like this."

"I let them out for training every morning. What about you?"

"The food is prepared by Xiaogang, and the things we use are also Xiaogang's. The training will only be done for a while and then stopped."

"Of course I'm not blaming you for what you said, but your Pokémon really needs some proper training."

Yu Feng didn't want to say much. He pointed at Xiaogang, Xiaoxia and himself. Let's not talk about Xiaogang who wanted to be a breeder. Xiaoxia and his guy were training whenever they had free time.

On the contrary, Xiaozhi's attitude towards training is basically just a last-minute cram. He failed the first time he challenged the gym, learned his lesson, and then trained hard to defeat the gym.

This is basically Xiaozhi's daily operation. He will not investigate in advance what Pokémon the gym trainers he wants to challenge use.

"In short! You have to sell yourself and show your good qualities!"

Xiaozhi selectively listened to some useful things. As long as he performed well, he would not have to worry about not finding a partner.

Then as long as you show your strength in front of that pink Butterfree, you might be able to win her heart!

Xiaozhi suddenly felt that he was so smart that he could even come up with this method!

"I still insist on taming Butterfree. You don't plan to let Butterfree run so far to leave offspring, do you?"

Of course, Yu Feng still insisted on his own opinion that conquering the opponent would solve all problems.

If Butterfree really wants to have offspring, just send it to Professor Oak.
