

Gardevoir 21

Chapter 21 The little guy woke up?

"Lilili!!! "

Charmander was awakened by a water drop that was bigger than her. She woke up from her coma with a panicked look on her face. She vaguely remembered that her trainer was being attacked by some huge green unknown creature.

Looking around, she saw her trainer looking at her worriedly. Without looking any further, she saw that the green unknown creature was not nearby. Charmander pulled Yu Feng's pants and wanted to run out.

"Okay, okay, it's okay."

Yu Feng stroked the top of Charmander's smooth head to comfort her, and at the same time he didn't forget to complain about his mother. "Look how scared you made her."

"What?"

Following Yu Feng's gaze, Charmander saw the unknown creature that had just held the trainer hostage.

She was so frightened that she subconsciously spit out her most skilled sparks from her mouth, but it had no effect on the unknown creature.

Before the spark reached her, it was forcibly extinguished by some unknown force.

Trainer, hurry up and I'll cover your back!

"Mom, don't scare her."

Yu Feng helplessly picked up the little fire dragon that wanted to push him away, to prevent her from doing anything strange.

"What?"

After Yu Feng's repeated assurances that there was no danger, Charmander finally relaxed. She tilted her head and looked at the trainer's mother. Charmander understood the word mother, but she glanced at Gardevoir, who was nearly four meters tall, and then looked at her own trainer, who was only one meter seventy tall.

She couldn't find any similarities between the two. The height difference was too outrageous. Moreover, one was a human and the other was a Pokémon. They didn't look like mother and son at all. Her legs were thicker than her entire Charmander.

Charmander suddenly felt an itch on his head, as if something was about to grow out.

"Sana. (Oh, Mom, I didn't do anything.)"

Gardevoir's mother stood aside and spread her hands innocently. You know, she didn't do anything. Not only did she not have red eyes, she didn't even use her super powers.

"Sana. (But this child is very energetic.)"

Even so, Gardevoir was still very satisfied. After all, this kind of behavior of being able to cover the trainer's retreat was still quite acceptable.

It's just... well, I need to study the attribute restraint table carefully. I actually used dragon-type skills to fight fairy-type skills. Although it is not an energy attack that can cause damage, the power is very poor and no damage was caused. Instead, I knocked myself unconscious.

"It's only the second day since I got it, and I haven't officially started training yet."

Yu Feng knew what his mother wanted to say, but he had only had Charmander for a few days and had not even decided on a training method.

But this little guy of mine actually inherited the inverse scale. It seems that the father or mother should be some kind of dragon elf?

In this case, it seems that Mega Charizard X would be a more appropriate choice for super evolution.

I just don't know if she has inherited other skills. If so, I'd have to consider the direction of her training accordingly.

"Chirrut. (You two, how long have you been ignoring me!)"

Shiny Kirlia was a little indignant. Why did the family members care so much about his stinky brother?

Although I care about her, this is not a reason to ignore her!

Shining Kirlia's hands were waving like fans, but no one paid any attention to her, which made her very unhappy.

Of course, we can't blame Yu Feng and Gardevoir. After all, one of them is 1.7 meters tall and the other is nearly 4 meters tall. It is really hard for them to notice the shining Kirliao who is about 1 meter tall.

Moreover, the two of them had been watching Charmander, so naturally they didn't see Shiny Kirlia.

"Shanai. (Be good, be good, little Yaya, how could mommy forget you, give me a kiss!)"

Gardevoir bent down, picked up her daughter, and kissed her. Although to outsiders, the scene was indeed a bit scary, as if Gardevoir was about to eat a child.

Yes, that's right, eating children.

Shining Kirlia now felt that she shouldn't have said that extra word just now, and tried her best to push away Gardevoir's "bloody mouth".

I've only been out for a few days and I forgot that my mom likes to rub them!!!

"Chirrut! (No, and don't call me Yaya-chan!!)"

Unfortunately, her strength is still far behind her mother's.

Just a little bit, really just a little bit. (Finger Universe.jpg)

Although Shining Kirlia tried her best to resist, she was still kissed by her mother.

Shining Kirlia sat slumped on the side with a pale face, muttering something.

Of course, Yu Feng didn't have the leisure to take care of his sister at this moment, because his mother's eyes were now focused on him.

"Ahem, calm down, mom. I am not a child anymore, your son."

Yu Feng leaned against the tree house, slowly groping for an escape route. Every time his mother became like this, he couldn't accept it.

"Sana. (Mom hasn't replenished Xiao Fengfeng's energy in the past few days, and Xiao Fengfeng's energy has been exhausted.)"

Gardevoir's face could not be seen clearly in the shadows, only that hint of red light was exceptionally conspicuous.

While Yu Feng was steadying his mother, he was figuring out the best route to escape. You know, it would not be pleasant to be caught by his mother in this state.

Just as Gardevoir was thinking about Yu Feng's words, Yu Feng's eyes flashed.

good chance!

Yu Feng's eyes were dyed with the blue light representing superpowers, and his figure instantly became blurred. He couldn't help but smile proudly at his mother: "Goodbye, Mom! We'll see you when you're back to normal."

Although she can't take Charmander away, her mother probably won't do anything to her. At most she'll be depressed for a while... maybe?

Seeing that her son was trying to use his super powers to escape from her, Gardevoir's mouth curled up slightly and she clenched her hands in front of her chest.

Yu Feng, who had disappeared, appeared in her hands. Just when Yu Feng couldn't figure out what was going on, Gardevoir's faint voice reached his ears.

"Sana. (You used teleportation to escape from me. You underestimated me, my son.)"

Gardevoir looked at her son with red glowing eyes and a smile.

It's a good idea, but he's still a little naive to use super powers in front of him. With a little trick, he can teleport into his hands.

"Oops, I forgot."

Yu Feng felt a little desperate, he had forgotten that although his mother seldom used her superpowers on them, it didn't mean her superpowers were weak. Is it just a joke that she is the fighting force besides the old patriarch?

"Do not!!!"

Yu Feng's screams were heard, and the Gardevoirs nearby who heard it silently prayed for him. No one wanted to meddle in other people's family affairs, even though they all liked Yu Feng very much.

Not long after, another gray-white human appeared beside Shining Kirliaan, and Yu Feng also collapsed on the ground like his sister, muttering something.
