

Gardevoir 24

Chapter 24 Entering the Forest

"Just go in like this?"

Yu Feng looked at the strange crystal in his hand, in which a strange blue liquid was slowly flowing.

He looked at the old patriarch with some confusion. Did he prepare for a whole day just to prepare something like this?

"Sana. (What's that look in your eyes? This little thing is getting ready... why am I telling you so much?)"

"Sana. (Hurry up and go in. Do you still want to go out and travel?)"

The old patriarch was somewhat dissatisfied with Yu Feng's expression. This thing was very troublesome to prepare.

Why should I explain this thing to him later? When he becomes the patriarch, he will know how difficult it is to prepare this thing.

He waved his hand unhappily and told Yu Feng to quickly go to the forest and serve Lord Xerneas.

"Okay, okay, I won't ask too many questions. Come on, sister, let's go in."

"By the way, help me take care of Charmander."

Yu Feng looked at the old patriarch's impatient expression, asked them to help train the little fire dragon, then consciously shut his mouth and obediently walked into the forest with his sister.

"Chirrut. (I'll take good care of you, brother.)"

Shining Kirlia nodded to Gardevoir and followed Yu Feng into the forest.

"Sana. (I'm really worried.)"

Gardevoir's mother looked at the two's backs with some worry. After all, they were her own children and she was still very worried.

"Sana. (Okay, sister, don't worry. You have to rest assured that they are both very strong.)"

The youngest Gardevoir patted its mother's shoulder to comfort her. They had watched these two children grow up, and they knew very well what they were capable of. It would not be that difficult to just go in and offer sacrifices to obtain the inheritance.

"Sana. (By the way, did you go and inform them yesterday to let them go?)"

The old clan leader raised an eyebrow and looked at the youngest who was comforting Gardevoir.

Seeing her smiling face gradually become stiff, the old clan leader knew that the little girl definitely did not say it.

"Sana. (I hope they are okay.)"

The youngest Gardevoir clasped his hands together and prayed for Yu Feng and Shining Kirlia.

Her performance was not forgiven by Gardevoir's mother. With red eyes, Gardevoir's mother lifted her sister's shoulder with one hand and said kindly: "Gardevoir. (Let's go and help you and Charmander practice.)"

Although she tried her best to seek help from her sisters, the sisters around her ignored her cries for help. Even the old clan leader was unwilling to touch Gardevoir's mother in this form, let alone them.

"Sanae. (I hope they are okay.)"

The old patriarch silently prayed for the Pokémon in the trial. Although these two little guys had not evolved to their final form, their strength was not bad. It was just that no one knew why they had not evolved.

Moreover, they can learn a lot of skills, and the Pokémon that participate in the trial will not be particularly powerful. It is just to determine whether they are qualified to enter.

But, if you get in the way, just say you want to fight them, and there are generally some psychic and fairy-type Pokémon in there.

Pokémon that recognize them will probably just let them go, but Pokémon that don't recognize them will be in trouble.

In the forest.

"What do you think is in here?"

Yu Feng was a little puzzled. He and his sister had visited this forest when they were children.

They didn't see anything different. Except for the road they hadn't walked before, they had already been there before.

It's just an ordinary forest, with nothing but trees.

"Chirrut. (How would I know that? We grew up together.)"

Shining Kirlia shrugged. It was pointless to ask her this question. After all, they grew up together. What she knew, her brother also knew. What she didn't know was also known by her brother.

The information they both have is completely equal, and no one has any extra information.

"Ok."

Yu Feng didn't know what to say. After all, he had only worshipped Xerneas once in his two lifetimes.

Although I have caught many Xerneas in various Pokémon mobile games in my previous life.

But that's just a game, and the so-called Xerneas is just a piece of data in the game. If you really want him, you can spawn dozens of shiny ones.

But it's different now. What we have to face now are real divine beasts, which can destroy the world if we really fight them.

Even though Xerneas was one of the more benevolent beings among them, he was still enough to put people in deep danger.

Not everyone is a little idiot and can be friends with mythical beasts.

And this is different from Ho-Oh. He knows that Ho-Oh wants to find a way for Pokémon and humans to coexist peacefully.

As long as he doesn't do anything dangerous, he is the best witness of peace in the eyes of the King of Phoenix.

What could better represent this method than a half-blood son of a human and an elf? This is why he can confidently ask for feathers from the King of Phoenix.

"Sister, do you feel that there are Pokémon watching us?"

For some reason, Yu Feng always felt that there were Pokémon around who were spying on them. Although there was no hostility, this feeling of being watched was really creepy.

"Chirrut. (You have it, too? I thought I was the only one who felt it.)"

Flash Kirlia frowned, she thought she had perceived it wrongly.

But how could a Pokémon spy on them in a place like this? This was the only way to see Master Xerneas, how could a Pokémon have the guts to cause trouble here?

"here!"

Yu Feng seemed to have noticed something, and the shadow ball flew out of his hand and hit a tree.

There was indeed something strange in that place, and the Shadow Ball was knocked aside by a ray of colorful light.

A yellow Pokémon in the shape of a fox stood there, holding a spoon in one hand and his eyes glowing blue, representing super powers.

"Yongjira, do we have this Pokémon in our forest?"

Yu Feng frowned and used his telekinesis to twist Yongjira's phantom light aside.

"Chirrut. (No, there can't be.)"

Shiny Kirlia searched her memory but could not find any memory of the existence of the Pokémon series like Braum.

"So this is just for guarding the gate? Do you want to do it or should I?"

Now Yu Feng understood what he was doing. It was obvious that he was here to test whether their strength was up to par.

He asked his sister who would come first. After all, if one came, there would be others, and they had to conserve their energy and could not act at the same time.

"Chirrut. (Let me do it. I hate his peeping.)"

Shining Kiria showed a cruel smile. You know, she hated people peeping at her the most.
