

Gardevoir 29

Chapter 29: I captured Shining Gardevoir?

"OK then."

Yu Feng took out the shrunken Poké Ball from the buckle of his belt and looked at the Shining Gardevoir in front of him that looked like Sleeping Beauty.

Oh no, it's me. I swallowed secretly.

"Shanai! (I'll use the Poké Ball my mom gave me later. This one is made at home.)"

Gardevoir's mother took out a pink Poké Ball with a heart painted on it.

Unlike ordinary Poké Balls, the base of this Poké Ball is not pure white, but has strange patterns on it.

"Is this a love ball?"

Yu Feng picked up the ball and took a look at it with some surprise. Although the style was slightly different, it was indeed a love ball.

He looked at his mother with some confusion, not quite understanding why she gave him such a ball.

"Sana. (I made this myself. Is it more brainwashing than a normal Poké Ball? I'm kidding.)"

"Shanai. (This is a private Poké Ball without the surveillance and positioning functions of a normal Poké Ball. The Poké Ball mark is your father's, so feel free to use it! Having this ball means your father is there.)"

Gardevoir thought about it and told the news he knew. After all, she had helped to make the Poké Ball for the child's father before, and she hoped that her craftsmanship had not deteriorated.

"Is this ball so useful? Do you want to fight with it before you capture it?"

Yu Feng was a little conflicted holding the Poké Ball. It would feel weird to capture it without a fight.

"Chirrut! (Do you still want to fight yourself? Hurry up!)"

Shining Kirlia can't bear it anymore. She is the shortest one here, Alexander.

"Ok."

Hearing this, Yu Feng stopped hesitating and gently tapped the Poké Ball against Shiny Gardevoir.

A red light instantly enveloped the Shiny Gardevoir lying on the sofa and took her into the ball. The Poké Ball made a crisp sound without even shaking, indicating that the Shiny Gardevoir had been captured.

"I captured Shining Gardevoir!"

Yu Feng held the Poké Ball in his hand, not caring about the gazes of those around him. He posed in Ash's classic style to express his happiness at having captured the Shiny Gardevoir.

After all, this is the thing he wants to do most in his two lifetimes. Before, there was Arceus and Flash, and Larulas was a cute boy.

Later, she turned into a cute boy. What? You ask, isn't her sister a female Flash Larulas?

That's my sister, not a Pokémon! Isn't it even more perverted that this Shiny Gardevoir is me?

Only you know your own XP better, so no one will say anything if you dress up Shiny Gardevoir.

"Sanae. (Wow, this is really embarrassing. I'll give it back to you tomorrow.)"

"Sana. (Don't peek. Your Charmander can be seen from the training ground.)"

Aunt Gardevoir covered her face and couldn't bear to watch this embarrassing action, so she took the love ball from Yu Feng's hand with one hand.

After giving Yu Feng some instructions, they left with the Poké Ball containing the Shiny Gardevoir, leaving Yu Feng and Shiny Kirliao alone, not knowing what to do.

"How about we go to the training grounds?"

Yu Feng took a look at the current situation and thought about whether they should go to the training ground to pick up Charmander and take him back to rest.

Shining Kirlia nodded. Although she slept for a long time today, she was still very tired, not physically but mentally.

It was like they had been using telekinesis all day and were constantly using other skills.

The two walked towards the training ground, and along the way many little mushroom-headed kids came up to them to play.

The relatively older Kirlia was too embarrassed to come near them and just pretended to wander around them casually.

The Gardevoirs didn't do that, but just hid aside and whispered as if they were communicating something.

When they arrived at the training ground, there were already an astonishing number of little mushroom-headed kids around them; almost all the little guys in the entire tribe came to them.

Except it still looks like an elf egg.

As soon as Yu Feng walked in, he felt a burning breath. The little fire dragon's arms were wrapped in dazzling lightning and burning with scorching flames.

He fired hard at the training target, as if there was a creature in front of him that he hated.

When he looked again and saw a dozen gray-white stones with lightning and fire patterns beside him, Yu Feng understood.

And at the same time, learn quickly and absorb the energy of the evolution stone to adapt yourself to these two energies.

Of course Yu Feng also noticed that during the time they were standing there, his sister had been surrounded by the little rascals, with only one hand left towards Yu Feng, as if wanting him to save her.

He also found that his legs had been occupied by these little rascals, and some of them even wanted to pull up their pants to climb up to his head.

"Charmander is back."

Yu Feng shouted at Charmander, and after seeing her reaction, he took out the Poké Ball and took her back.

Seeing that these little rascals were about to drown him, Yu Feng grabbed his sister's hand and disappeared from the spot in an instant.

However, the little carrot heads lost their support and fell down because of their disappearance, and were caught by the Gardevoirs who arrived later.

residence...

"Huh, I finally escaped."

Yu Feng wiped the sweat from his head. Why are all these Larulas surrounding him and climbing on him today?

"Chirrut! (I just asked you to save me!)"

Shining Kirlia's body was a little messy, and it was a little wet if you looked closely.

"What's wrong with you? Huh? Why are my trouser legs a little wet?"

Yu Feng glanced at his sister and found that she was obviously in a bad mood. Her whole body was wet as if... someone had licked her like a lollipop?

But soon he couldn't care about his sister's situation anymore, as his own trouser legs were also wet.

"Chirrut. (These little guys have been acting weird since we came out. Go away, butler, stop sticking to me.)"

Shining Kirlia was a little strange. He had never seen these little guys so clingy before. Why were they so exaggerated today?

He pushed away the steward who wanted to get close to him and pushed her aside, then tidied himself up.

"It seems that it's not just the little carrot heads that are weird. Look at Little Milk Fairy and My Blim."

Yu Feng pointed at the Glitter Fairy and the Glitter Blim, who began to lick themselves with saliva after being released. Their movements were exactly the same as those little rascals.

"Chirrut. (Even the butler, leave me alone! You can't lick my hair!)"

Shiny Kirlia pushed away the Pokémon that kept trying to get close to her. What the hell is going on today? Why are all the other Pokémon so weird except for Gardevoir?
