

Gardevoir 45

Chapter 45: I killed him in one second. What's there to say?

"No, no, don't look at me in a normal way."

Yu Feng shook his finger and told Xiaogang not to underestimate him. After all, he was not like Pikachu that Xiaozhi asked to come to the Rock-type gym without any preparation. He came here after training Charmander.

"Everyone can say that, right? Let me see why you said that."

"Fistful of Rocks Attack!"

Xiaogang crossed his arms across his chest. Everyone can say nice words, but how many people can actually do it?

Several large rocks appeared out of nowhere next to Geodude. Geodude took them, shook them in his hand, and threw them at Charmander.

Several rocks flew towards Charmander, blocking the direction in which he could escape.

"Charmander, get out of the way."

Yu Feng did not give too many instructions. His main focus was to train their independent combat capabilities, which meant he had to use the trainer cheat mechanism.

"Hi!"

The little fire dragon heard Yu Feng's command, stomped one foot on the ground, and flames instantly covered its body. It barely slipped through the gap between the fallen rocks.

Then, with white light flashing on his claws, he punched Geodude, causing him to scream in pain and fall in front of Brock, while Charmander slowly fell back to where he started.

"Hmm? He actually used the acceleration of Charged Flame Strike to dodge the falling rock attack of Geodude, and the one behind it was a split attack?"

"No, it doesn't look like Split. It's not an ordinary skill that can cause such great damage to Geodude. It's really troublesome to fight against a psychic."

"So how do you counter this move? Geodude, use Roll."

Xiaogang was wondering what skill had caused Geodude to suffer such heavy damage. After all, many of the moves were flashing white light, and he wouldn't know what skill it was if the opponent didn't shout it out loud just by guessing.

But it was not his turn to think so much now. Seeing Charmander rushing up again, he quickly commanded Geodude to roll. In his opinion, Yu Feng did not speak the whole time and it seemed that he was having a superpower conversation with Charmander.

It's a pity that Yu Feng didn't give much command. He just reminded Charmander at the appropriate time. The battle has lasted until now only thanks to the combat skills that Charmander had been forced to develop in those few days.

Geodude on the field hugged his body with both hands and spun at high speed, rolling towards Charmander quickly. Charmander quickly dodged the first attack, but Geodude did not give up and turned around and rushed towards Charmander again, but Charmander still dodged easily.

"I need to remind you that rolling is a move that increases damage over time. If you get hit by Charmander afterwards, you will instantly lose your ability to fight."

Xiaogang crossed his arms and shook his head as he looked at Charmander who was dodging all the time. Geodude could make countless mistakes but Charmander would lose its combat ability if it was hit once.

"Charmander, sunny day, then hold on to block Geodude, and finally the most powerful Flame Fist."

Yu Feng nodded. What Xiaogang said was indeed right. However, Charmander had not yet learned how to defend, but had learned how to hold on. With the 1 times bonus of Fierce Fire plus the 5 times bonus of Sunny Day, plus the 1.5 times bonus of this system, even Geodude with double resistance to fire could not stop this punch.

Unless Geodude has the tough attribute, but even if it does, there is nothing we can do about it right now, as Geodude is not at full health right now.

After hearing Yu Feng's words, the Charmander on the field caught the high-speed rolling Geodude, and at the same time, the Charmander that triggered the Fierce Inferno was wrapped in a thick flame.

"Geoblast, get out of the way!"

Xiaogang looked at Geodude on the field anxiously. He knew that Geodude would not be able to withstand this hit.

"It's too late, Charmander kill him!"

Yu Feng shook his head as he looked at Geodude who had been pinned to the ground by Charmander, and the next step was to kill him.

Even if Geodude gathered all his strength, he still couldn't escape Charmander's grip. He could even see black marks appearing where Charmander was holding him. At this moment, Geodude could only see two golden eyes of Charmander, which was wrapped in liquid flames.

You know, his body is made of stone! The black marks on Charmander's body can be imagined.

"Hi!"

Charmander didn't intend to give Geodude a chance to resist. It raised its right arm, which was wrapped in thick flames. The temperature of the flames on it increased further and took on a blue color.

Charmander punched Geodude mercilessly and knocked him out of the competition arena.

"Geoblast, come back."

"I admit that I underestimated you, but after you exchanged injuries for yours, Charmander no longer has the strength to continue fighting."

Xiaogang took back the Geodude with circles on it. He looked at Charmander that triggered the Inferno. He clearly had a way to stop Geodude from rolling without getting hurt, but he resorted to a method of exchanging injuries for injuries. This was very puzzling.

"Come back, Charmander."

"I'm just checking her recent training results. My main focus will come next."

Yu Feng also took the little fire dragon back. He was just checking the results of the little fire dragon's recent training. The next step would be the real moment of decision.

"Since you are so confident, then take on a more powerful opponent. Go Onix."

"Then I'll leave this to you, Shiny Gardevoir!"

Xiaogang sent out a very well-cultivated Onix, which is currently slightly larger than the average Onix.

Yu Feng also sent out his most capable general, the leader Shiny Gardevoir (that is, himself), to deal with Xiaogang's Onix. He originally wanted to let his sister come, but after thinking about it, he felt that a giant battle would be more interesting, so Yu Feng temporarily replaced it with Shiny Gardevoir.

"Gardevoir from the Hoenn region? It looks like a shiny Pokémon, but this size..."

As a gym owner, Xiaogang has a good understanding of Pokémon. After all, it would be quite troublesome to meet challengers from all over the world without some corresponding knowledge.

It is easy to tell at a glance that this is just Gardevoir, which is mainly found in the Hoenn region. Although it is a different color, the flickering spots around her are not something that different color Pokémon can have.

However, the size of this Gardevoir really shocked him. An ordinary Gardevoir is only about 1.6 meters tall, and if it is well cultivated, it may reach 1.8 meters. But the Gardevoir in front of him looked almost as tall as Onix.

Of course, Onix is definitely taller, after all, its body length is 8.8 meters. But Onix is not standing upright on the ground. At a glance, Gardevoir is actually a little taller than Onix.

"It looks like a very strong enemy. This Onix of mine is not the kind used in gym battles. It was a gift for my tenth birthday."

"It doesn't matter if you can't beat me. I already admitted in the previous battle that you are worthy of the Gray Badge."

Xiaogang looked at the huge, shining Gardevoir in front of him, his eyes filled with the flames of fighting spirit.
