

Gardevoir 5

Chapter 5 Ready to go!

Time is like water, always passing by inadvertently.

A pretty girl with blue hair with long orange strips on the sides was lying on the grass in the breeze, holding a vitality root in her mouth.

Although she is a teenager, she looks like a beautiful woman in close contact with nature.

The bitter taste of the energy root in the boy's mouth bloomed on the tip of his tongue, and his orange eyes stared at the surrounding environment, reminding him all the time that what was happening now was real.

This was the Yu Feng from back then. After he recovered, he discovered that the green humanoid creature was the Gardevoir whom he had loved but could not get.

I don't know how I traveled to the world of Pokémon, and based on my observations when I was a child, he seemed to be a Ralph Lauren, and a shiny Ralph Lauren!

What is this? Did he become a wifemon because he didn't get one? And the father in his world is so brave. He really achieved what most players want to achieve.

Yu Feng didn't understand, but this didn't stop him from being in a good mood, even though he didn't know whether he was in the comics world, the games world, or the anime world.

The latter is okay, although there are many ambitious people, but at least there is Xiaozhi, the big enemy, to support him. But for the former two, they should just go to bed and live a good life with their family in the forest.

He didn't think too much about it until the bitter taste of the vitality root brought him back to reality. The breeze gently brushed across his face, and from time to time, flies and butterfly flies rolled pollen into balls and tried to feed them to him.

The Flower Therapy Ring quietly landed on top of his head, and when it saw that he didn't react, it twisted its body with joy.

Lying around them in twos and threes were some Miblim, Larulas, Goethe babies, and female love stewards who looked like maids.

A pale white fairy and Hua Beibei were also playing not far away.

Lily Root Doll and Tiantian Bamboo hugged each other and looked at a false mantis trembling.

Yu Feng stroked a light pink miniature Brilliant with a look of doting on his face.

"Mmm."

Flash fan Blim let out a very comfortable cry, and at the same time she couldn't help rubbing against Yu Feng's hand.

"Chirrut!"

Suddenly, a shining Kirlia with the same hair color as Yu Feng appeared above him.

Shiny Kirlia sat on Yu Feng like a duck and immediately saw the Shiny fan Blim who was interacting with him.

She was so angry that she hit the boy with her little hands, saying something as she hit him.

"Chirrut!"

"Chirrut!"

As if he was still not satisfied, he quickly hit the boy's chest with both hands.

"Okay, what's the matter with mom asking you to come over?"

Yu Feng was also smiling as he watched the shining Kirliaan hitting herself. Although she looked so happy, she was just pretending and didn't use any strength at all.

After Shining Kirlia had vented enough, Yu Feng lifted her into the air and said with a smile.

After all, since she evolved into Kirlia, her sister rarely came to see him. This time she came to see him, it was obvious that her mother had something to ask her.

"Chirrut! (Feng, you pervert!)"

Kirlia didn't expect Yu Feng to lift her up. Her face turned red. She subconsciously wrapped her feet with ice energy and stepped on the boy's face.

"Hey man, is this how you use the Triple Spin Attack? And where did you learn this skill from?"

Feeling the power of this kick, Yu Feng's eyes burst into a blue light representing mental power, and he forcibly fixed Flash Kirlia's feet on the tip of his nose.

Looking at the shining "jade feet" of Kirlia wrapped in ice, Yu Feng swallowed subconsciously.

If he gets beaten, he won't be able to get out of bed for at least half a day, right?

That's right, although Yu Feng has the appearance of a human, he still has the physique of an elf and can learn a variety of skills.

For example, he practiced the 'Farmer's Three Punches' directly to proficiency. Although it can only be used a few times because of its low level, it's fine as long as it can be used!

"Mom must be getting impatient, let's go first."

After placing Shining Kiruli on the ground, Yu Feng left a few words and disappeared in front of her.

Shining Kirlia had no idea where to vent her anger, so she stomped the ground three times with her feet wrapped in ice energy. Then she gave Shining Little Fairy and Shining Fan Blim a fierce look, and disappeared in front of them using instant teleportation.

Only the Flash fan Blim and the others were left, hugging each other and trembling, looking at the huge sunken hole in the ground.

Inside the tree house, a gentle and virtuous-looking Gardevoir was humming a song while packing a piece of clothing, folding it neatly and putting it into a sky blue backpack.

As if he knew something, he looked at the seat next to the table.

Yu Feng instantly appeared on the chair, picked up the cup on the table, drank it all, and then let out a long sigh of relief.

"Sana? (Where's your sister?)"

Gardevoir looked at Yu Feng who came back alone and was a little curious. Didn't she ask his sister to call him?

How come you came back alone after such a while?

"Oh, she's in the back."

"Mom, what are you doing?"

Yu Feng waved her hand, indicating that she had not caught up yet. Then she saw the backpack on the table and asked curiously what had happened.

"Chiru! (Damn it, brother, where are you going?)"

Before Gardevoir could answer, Shiny Kirlia appeared like a facehugger, hugged Yu Feng's face and began to swing it left and right.

"Sana. (Okay, okay, your brother is leaving soon. You won't be able to see him for a while.)"

Gardevoir separated the two fighting children and gently restored Yu Feng's messy hair to its original shape.

"Chirrut?"

"what?"

"Sana?"

Three voices sounded from different directions, and Yu Feng and others instantly focused their attention on the source of the last voice.

A petite Gardevoir was propped up on the roof of their house with her hands and feet apart. Judging from the drops of sweat that were sealed with telekinesis around her, she had been there for quite a while.

"Aunt, why are you up there?"

Yu Feng felt it was a little unbelievable. After all, how could the three of them not notice this aunt hiding?

"Sana! (Don't worry about that, sister, what do you mean by asking Xiaofeng to leave?)"

The petite Gardevoir looked at her sister in disbelief. When did her little nephew go out?

"Sana. (His father was this age when he traveled with me. Now that I think about it, I really miss it.)"

Gardevoir covered her slightly red cheeks, reminiscing about the time when she traveled with her trainer.

"Sana! (Okay, shut up, stop talking! It's too corny)"

When the petite Gardevoir mentioned her trainer as soon as she spoke, she rubbed her arms. It was true that she always mentioned her trainer whenever she chatted over the years.

Their ears are almost callused from listening so much.

"Sana? (So you're willing to let him go?)"

However, the petite Gardevoir expressed doubts about her letting her beloved son go out, after all, she is a crazy doting son.

"Sana. (Well, let him become the best trainer like his father!)"

Gardevoir clasped her hands together in front of her chest and expressed her expectations. Of course, what her son thought was not within her jurisdiction.
