

Gardevoir 55

Chapter 55 Who Understands!

"What is this? Let me try it."

Hearing Xiaozhi and the others' discussion, Yu Feng came over to join in the fun and took a piece of Pokémon food made by Xiaogang from Xiaozhi's hand.

"I don't like the shape, it looks like pet food, but the smell is okay."

Yu Feng looked at the Pokémon food made by Xiaogang. He didn't like its appearance. It made him feel like it was dog food?

He put it to his nose and smelled it. To Yu Feng's surprise, it tasted quite good, although it was not his taste as he preferred sweet food.

"Chew, chew. It tastes okay, but not to my taste. I would prefer it if it was sweeter."

Yu Feng tasted it and although it was a bit bitter, he might like it better if it was a little sweeter.

"So this is food for Pokémon."

Xiaogang felt helpless when he saw them eating Pokémon food one by one. These food were not made for humans to eat, so of course they couldn't get used to it.

"That's wrong. How can you eat Pokémon if you can't eat it?"

Yu Feng took a sip of the black tea and disagreed with Xiaogang's statement. After all, if you don't want to eat it, how can you be sure that the Pokémon likes it?

"What you said is indeed a problem."

Xiao Gang thought about what Yu Feng said and it seemed that what he said made sense. He couldn't even eat it, so how could he ask the Pokémon to eat it?

"Also, this really doesn't look good. Look at this. This is the energy block that is popular in Hoenn and other regions."

Yu Feng picked up the pink energy cube prepared by his mother and compared it with Xiaogang's black Pokémon food.

"This... is indeed good-looking and tastier, but I doubt the rest."

As a Pokémon breeder, Brock can tell which is good and which is bad at a glance. The energy cube that Yu Feng took out was like a beautifully crafted work of art, but his own was as bumpy as porcelain made by a novice.

As for the texture and taste, Xiaogang had to admit that this energy block was much better than his own Pokémon food.

However, Xiaogang still has reservations about its effectiveness and has never done these things.

"This is great. Look how much my sister has grown up... where is she?"

Yu Feng was just about to show off that his sister was prettier and stronger than the average Kirlia, but he found that the sister who was by his side just now suddenly ran aside to chat with Pippi.

"Pippi!"

"Chiru, Chiru~"

"Pippi!"

"Pica! Pica!"

The three elves were chatting animatedly, with Pippi pointing to the sky from time to time and anxiously explaining something to them.

Shiny Kirlia and Pikachu also listened to her words carefully.

"I really can't believe my Pikachu is quite good at making friends."

Xiaozhi felt happy when he saw Pikachu chatting with them. After all, making friends is much better than being alone.

"Chirrut! (Brother, she said let's follow her.)"

Shining Kirlia walked up to Yu Feng, pulled his clothes and spoke to him.

"Go with her? What's the matter?"

Yu Feng raised his eyebrows. After all, there are very few Pokémon that would let humans follow them.

Shining Kirlia shook her head to indicate that she didn't know either, but Pippi said for them to follow.

"What's wrong, Xiao Feng? What did Pi Pi say?"

Xiaozhi and the others were very curious about what Pippi said, but they couldn't understand what she was saying at all. Now that there was someone who could understand her, he must be very curious.

"Oh, nothing. Pippi told us to follow him."

Seeing the curious looks on Xiaozhi and the others' faces, Yu Feng briefly explained what Pippi meant.

Seeing that they all understood what he meant, Pippi started jumping and running towards his destination again.

Yu Feng and the others hurriedly followed Pippi's footsteps and headed towards some unknown place.

The sky gradually darkened, and Xiaozhi and the others had been running with Pippi for nearly an hour.

But I haven't seen Pippi show any intention of stopping yet.

"Pikachu, where are you going?"

Xiaozhi followed Pikachu and the others weakly, he was exhausted after running for so long.

Finally, under their gaze, Pippi stopped in front of a cave.

Pippi looked back at Xiaozhi and his group, especially Yu Feng, whom she looked at closely, as if signaling them to follow her, and then led them into the cave.

"Is this the real Moon Stone?"

The man in the white coat seemed a little shocked. A huge Moonstone was shining in the moonlight in the middle of the cave, with some small Moonstone fragments around it.

"Look at Pippi!"

Xiaozhi watched as Pippi jumped onto the altar-like stone platform and placed the Moon Stone in his hand on the remaining gap.

A faint fluorescence started from that piece of moonstone and gradually enveloped the entire huge moonstone, appearing extremely dreamy under the moonlight.

Many Papis appeared from nowhere and began to perform a wonderful dance around the huge moonstone.

"Pippi!"

Pipi was explaining something to Pikachu and Shiny Kirlia with her hands and feet dancing, and Pikachu was listening to Pipi carefully.

As for why Shiny Kirlia didn't listen, her brother is not deaf. The previous explanation was that it was because they were far away. Now Ash can hear Pippi talking, so how could her brother not hear it?

"Pikachu, what is Pikachu talking about?"

Xiaozhi was a little curious about what Pippi was saying. After all, the dancing was quite pretty to watch.

"Pika! Pika, Pika Pika Pikachu!"

Pikachu was seriously explaining to Xiaozhi what Pipi had said.

"You can understand!"

Seeing Xiaozhi listening attentively, the man in the white coat looked at Xiaozhi curiously. Yu Feng could understand what he said, which could be interpreted as a superpower that allowed him to directly understand the meaning, but Xiaozhi didn't look like he had any superpowers.

"Well, I guess that's what he said. Gather a lot of these stones and do the Zhongyuan Dance!"

Following Pikachu's movements, Xiaozhi began to translate what Pikachu meant. Everything was fine until Xiaozhi mentioned the Zhongyuan Dance, and Pikachu fell to the ground and couldn't get up.

"Pica! Pica!"

Then Pikachu quickly stood up and crossed his arms in front of his chest, indicating that what Xiaozhi said was not right, and then ran to the side and picked up Pikachu.

"Hold Pippi?"

"Be good?"

"Protection?"

The people in white coats began to guess what Pikachu meant, but Xiaoxia was the one who thought quickly and understood what Pikachu meant first.

"Pica, Pica."

Pikachu then opened his arms and did a Hail Mary gesture, which made Ash curious.

"Protect Pippi? Long live? What does that mean?"

Xiaozhi really couldn't figure out what these words could mean when put together.

Pikachu was so angry that he jumped up and pulled a strand of Ash's hair with his short little hands, then waved it in his hand.

Then he looked at Yu Feng with expectant eyes. He really didn't want to communicate with these people who couldn't understand his meaning.

"The meaning is very simple. This huge moonstone is the god of Pipi and his people."

Looking at Pikachu's expectant eyes, Yu Feng, who could hardly hold back his laughter, also told him what Pikachu said.

It got the approval of a circled sign that Pikachu picked up from somewhere.