Chapter 59 I'll borrow him for a while

"But we just arrived here."

Xiaogang looked at Miss Junsha somewhat awkwardly. Her words just now still moved Xiaogang, but they had only just arrived in this city not long ago.

Hearing Xiaogang's words, Junsha's eyes suddenly became sharp, and the corners of her mouth slightly raised. She looked at Xiaogang and Xiaozhi very confidently and said, "I heard that thieves will return to the scene of the crime."

"This is too..."

"You may believe it after reading this."

Faced with this situation, Xiaozhi was very familiar with it. He vaguely remembered that he seemed to have been stopped once in Viridian City?

Xiaozhi skillfully opened the introduction function of the illustrated book, and Professor Oak's voice slowly came out from the illustrated book.

"And I was originally a gym trainer."

Xiaogang also took out his gym badge to prove his identity.

"Ah, this is indeed evidence."

"I'm sorry, I shouldn't have doubted you."

Miss Junsha, who realized that she had wrongly accused someone, touched her cheek embarrassedly and looked at Xiaozhi and the others with some guilt.

"But my sister actually knows this kind of person. She is so short-sighted."

Miss Junsha hung the handcuffs back around her waist and seemed to be talking to herself, but her voice was not very quiet.

"Well... this is the first time we meet, can I buy you a cup of tea and ask you some questions? Is that okay?"

Even though he had been rejected by Miss Junsha once, Xiaogang still wanted to try to have a date with Miss Junsha.

"Thank you, but you picked the wrong time. I'm a policewoman and my current mission is to catch thieves."

Miss Junsha seemed to be very proud and held her chest high, and she was very confident when facing Xiaozhi and the others.

"Excuse me, what was stolen?"

Xiaozhi first looked at Xiaogang with great sympathy, and then curiously asked Miss Junsha what was stolen.

When asked by Xiaozhi, Miss Junsha just blurted it out. She crossed her arms and looked at Xiaozhi with a distressed face and said, "You know what? That thief was very strange. He didn't steal money. He stole huge water pipes and large engines."

"Giant water pipes and massive engines?"

Xiaozhi was also confused about the point of stealing these things, as they couldn't be fed to Pokémon and couldn't be used.

"Anyway, this is extremely strange. No matter how much you want to chat, no one will talk to a busy woman."

"Wait a minute, your name is Yu Feng."

Miss Junsha originally wanted to chase them away to avoid affecting their duty, but suddenly she thought of Xiaofeng's conspicuous blue hair and asked uncertainly.

"Yes, yes? What's the matter? Does this have anything to do with me?"

Yu Feng, who was about to leave with Xiaozhi, was a little surprised. Why was there still his business?

"It's really you. I thought you were a little girl. After all, my sister told me about you. But...if you are a boy? Then my sister...didn't do anything out of line, right?"

Miss Junsha seemed very happy to see Yu Feng, but suddenly she remembered that her sister said Yu Feng was a little girl, while she herself said he was a boy.

If she remembered correctly, her sister... seemed... maybe... probably... possibly... said that she let Yu Feng live in her house?

Her sister shouldn't have done anything out of line, because if she had, even if they were all Junsha, they wouldn't be able to save her.

"It's okay. Anyway, I'll leave now if there's nothing else."

Yu Feng, with Kirliao shining above his head, seemed to have nothing to do and was about to leave with Xiaozhi and the others when his right hand was handcuffed by a pair of shining handcuffs.

Yu Feng looked at the handcuffs on his hands with surprise, pointed to the handcuffs on the other side of Miss Junsha's arm and asked his questions.

"I'll requisition your two companions over there! Don't worry, I'll return them to you in good condition!"

Miss Junsha told Xiaozhi and Xiaogang that she would requisition Yu Feng for a period of time, then gave him a look and took Yu Feng to maintain order at the scene.

"Sister, please get the badge for me."

Yu Feng gave his Poké Ball to his younger sister. It seemed that Miss Junsha would not let him go anytime soon.

"Chirrut? (You should keep the butler and that woman for yourself for self-defense, and leave the other little bitches... friends to me.)"

"Chirrut! (You still don't believe in my fighting ability?)"

Shiny Kirlia pointed at himself in surprise, and after getting Yu Feng's confirming nod, he pushed back the Poké Balls of the Attendant and the woman. After all, he had to keep some Pokémon for self-defense, even though few people could beat him.

.....

"Really, this place is weird and dangerous."

Xiaozhi and Xiaogang sat on a bench by the roadside and complained about what happened today. They were treated as thieves as soon as they came in, which would have been a tough time for either of them.

"Chirrut. (You guys gave me a hard time finding you here.)"

Shiny Kirlia suddenly appeared in front of Ash and Brock, holding his forehead helplessly.

"Who is this? Xiao Feng's sister?"

Xiaogang squinted his eyes and confirmed that this strange Kirlia was Yu Feng's sister.

"You came here. Xiao Feng was released?"

Xiaozhi looked at the flashing Kirlia in front of him and asked, after all, does her coming mean that Miss Junsha has released Xiaofeng?

"Chirrut! (He asked me to challenge the gym first, but I didn't know the way so I came to find you.)"

Shiny Kirlia briefly explained her actions, but unfortunately she seemed to have forgotten one thing. Unlike her brother, Xiaozhi could not understand what she said.

"What is she talking about, Pikachu?"

Xiaozhi looked at Xiaogang in confusion, he didn't understand at all.

Looking at Xiaozhi's wise expression, Shiny Kirlia reacted and patted his head.

I almost forgot that not everyone can understand what the elves are saying. The reason why my brother can communicate is because he is a member of the elf tribe and has super powers to assist him, and he is also an elf.

So she fixed her eyes on Pikachu. After all, this silly-looking boy seemed to understand what the electric mouse said.

"Pika, Pikachu!"

Seeing Shiny Kirlia looking at him, Pikachu greeted him cutely.

Following the flash, Kirlia pointed at herself and then at Xiaozhi. Pikachu immediately knew what she wanted to do, and patted his chest as if to leave it to me.

Pikachu quickly climbed onto Ash's body, took out the badge box from the lining of his clothes, and slapped Ash on the head with its tail.

Seeing Xiaozhi's puzzled expression, Pikachu pointed at Shiny Kirlia, then pointed at the badge box, made a discharge gesture, and then looked at Xiaozhi with a cute face.
