Chapter 6 Where the dream begins

"Then I'm off."

Yu Feng carried the backpack that his mother had packed, took the six Poké Balls his mother gave him, and waved to his family members who were looking at him under the big tree.

Before he could do anything, the old patriarch used his enormous superpowers to teleport away.

Outside Pallet Town

"Sana. (Xiao Feng, I'll take you here.)"

"Sana. (If I go in any further it will be seen as a provocation.)"

"Shanai. (But don't worry, if you encounter difficulties outside, just tell us the name of our forest and no one will dare to bully you.)"

The old patriarch patiently helped Yu Feng sort out his clothes and reminded him of what to do next.

They don't cause trouble, but they're not afraid of it! There are more than a dozen people in the entire Super Power Forest who are not weaker than her, and these old guys are not to the point where they can't walk.

"Got it, Grandma Clan Leader, we don't cause trouble, but we're not afraid of trouble either."

Yu Feng nodded. With the memories of his past life, he was clear about these things. Besides, if this was an animation world, there wouldn't be so many twists and turns.

"Shanai! (That's good to know. After you go in, go find that old guy named Ohmu and give him our token. He will arrange your initial elf for you.)"

"Shanai. (Okay, I know you young people don't like us talking too much, just go ahead and I look forward to seeing you at the top in the future.)"

The clan leader looked at Yu Feng, who was full of vigor and vitality, and he seemed to have overlapped with someone else's figure in a trance. His words were full of nostalgia.

"Then I'm leaving, Grandma, you should go back early too."

Yu Feng waved his little hand at the clan leader and walked towards the town ahead.

The old patriarch stood behind him, staring at his back, and then disappeared on the road.

"So Yu Feng, who aspires to become a Pokémon master, embarks on his journey. This is just the beginning of the Pokémon story. What kind of adventures and puzzles will be waiting for him in the future!"

Yu Feng walked and spoke in a very magnetic voice, words that seemed very strange to others.

The Poké Ball on Yu Feng's waist flashed, and Shining Kirlia appeared from the Poké Ball, looking up and down at his brother with an incredible expression.

"Chirrut? (When did you say something so narcissistic?)"

"What's narcissism? This is called a sense of ritual. Wait! Why are you here?"

Yu Feng responded to Shining Kirlia's words very naturally, but suddenly he realized that if he remembered correctly, his sister should be at home, right?

How did it escape from its own Poké Ball?

"Chirrut. (Of course, Mommy gave me to you because she was afraid that you wouldn't be able to get your own elf. I didn't agree to it because I was worried about you.)"

Shiny Kirlia sighed helplessly and spread his hands to indicate that he didn't come here on his own initiative, but came because his mother was worried that he wouldn't be able to get the initial Pokémon.

"Yes, yes, thank you for your concern, my dear sister."

Yu Feng touched the head of Shiny Kirlia with a doting expression.

"Chiru! (Yue, you are so cheesy!)"

Kirlia looked as if she had seen a ghost. When had her brother ever had such an expression?

"But since you are here..."

"Chilu, Chilu! (Yes, they are here too. The old chief said that our people should not be embarrassed when they come out. We can still get a few shining elves.)"

Before Yu Feng finished his guess, Shiny Kirlia confirmed his guess that those elves who got along well with him must have been brought out together like his sister.

Thinking of this, Yu Feng took out the six Poké Balls his mother had given him. Sure enough, except for his sister's Poké Ball, three of the remaining five balls already had owners.

Shiny Blim, Shiny Fairy, and the female Pokémon who had been taking care of her since she was a child were all resting in the Poké Ball. When they saw Yu Feng noticed them, they squinted their eyes and waved to him happily.

"Isn't this depriving me of the joy of taming elves?!"

"Chirrut. (You should be content. I heard from my mother that some humans cannot get the initial elves, so they have to catch those bugs as elves.)"

Speaking of this, Shiny Kirlia remembered what her mother said, that if her brother couldn't get an elf, he would have to catch those bugs as elves. When she thought of those bugs, Shiny Kirlia felt numb all over. She hated those bugs the most.

She couldn't bear to think about her brother coming back with a bunch of bugs in the future, so she could only humble herself and be her brother's elf to help him keep things under control. No need to thank her, after all, he was her brother, and if she didn't love him, who else would?

Thinking of this, Shiny Kirlia's face inexplicably turned red, while Yu Feng was immersed in the sadness that he could not capture his first Pokémon by himself.

As the two of them played around, they gradually went deeper into the town.

As expected, Yu Feng and his companion got lost. This town is not small, and they were playing around and didn't pay attention to the route for a while, and now they are lost in the town.

"It's broken! Do you know where to go next?"

Seeing houses of similar style nearby, Yu Feng was a little dumbfounded, even though he had watched anime and played games before.

But there is still a gap between games, animation and reality. Anime does not tell the process, and the game is only a small place. Now that we have really arrived in Pallet Town, we are still lost.

"Chirrut. (Isn't there someone over there? Go ask.)"

Shining Kirlia pointed at a brown-haired woman who was wearing a straw hat and had a dangerous hairstyle. This outfit was obviously that of a local.

"Why don't you ask?"

"Chirrut. (She doesn't understand.)"

The sentence "I don't understand" directly killed Yu Feng's idea of being lazy. The only reason he could understand was because he was also an elf, otherwise he would have to rely on superpowers to understand.

"Sister, where is the Oak Research Institute?"

There was no other way, so Yu Feng walked up to the woman and gave her an innocent smile like a child, asking where the Oak Research Institute was.

"Oh, this little brother is so sweet, but you call me sister, which makes me look younger than I am."

"If you count as an auntie, my child is about the same age as you."

The word "sister" made the woman very happy. She rubbed Yu Feng's little blue hair and corrected Yu Feng's mistakes with a smile.

"I see, Auntie. Do you know where the Oak Research Institute is?"

Without paying attention to the woman's behavior, Yu Feng continued speaking along with what the woman said, causing the shining Kirlia on the side to exclaim in surprise.

"Just call me Aunt Hanako. As for the Oak Research Institute, I'm going there soon. You can just come with me."

Hanako reluctantly took her hand away from Yu Feng's head. The feeling was much better than Xiaozhi's.

"Thank you, Aunt Hanako."

Yu Feng was shocked to hear that it was Hanako, after all, she was the mother of the mentally retarded little boy. However, this had nothing to do with the purpose of his trip. He waved to Shining Kirlia, and she walked over leisurely, holding up her white skirt and bowed to Hanako.

"Is this child your elf? I don't think I've ever seen him before."

Looking at the beautiful and cute Shiny Kirlia, Hanako also liked it very much. Of course, because it was the first time she saw a Pokémon like Kirlia, she didn't realize that it was a rare Shiny Pokémon.

"Well, she's a Pokémon from the Hoenn region, and she basically has no range in the Kanto region."

Touching the head of the shining Kirlia, Yu Feng carefully explained to Hanako about Kirlia's habitat, while also answering Hanako's questions.

"Hoenn region? I see you guys have a very good relationship, but I have to correct you."

"This is the Kanto Alliance and Johto Alliance under the Huaxia Alliance, not the Kanto region."

When Hanako heard Yu Feng talking about the Kanto region, she just thought that Yu Feng was a young master who didn't care about worldly affairs. After all, the Hoenn region was far away and it was not surprising that they didn't know much about it, just like they didn't know what unique Pokémon the Huaxia Alliance had, and the two places had been separated a long time ago.

"Huaxia Alliance?"

Yu Feng grasped the most critical part of Hanako's language. The Huaxia Alliance is an area that has never appeared in the original work. This is probably not some hodgepodge world.
