Chapter 75 The Whip of Friendship

"Then I will mercifully tell you!"

Xiaogang appeared from the side while stirring flour.

"To prevent the world from being destroyed!"

A big word "justice" seemed to appear behind Yu Feng.

"To protect world peace!"

Xiaogang stirred the flour faster and continued following Yu Feng's words.

"Justice through love and truth!"

"A lovely and charming decent character!"

Yu Feng and Xiao Gang made very awkward moves.

"Yu Feng!"

"Xiao Gang!"

"Sana~~~"

After finally finishing those awkward words, Xiaogang and Yu Feng stood in front of several students.

Shining Gardevoir also roared in cooperation, and the boss's aura swept the surroundings, causing the fog to become thinner.

"You...you just wait for us!"

Looking at the horrifying scene in front of them, several people looked a little stern. After threatening Yu Feng and others, they ran into the fog in a panic.

"They are the students of the legendary Pokémon class."

Xiaogang ignored the people who ran away and continued to look for the flour in his hand with some emotion. After all, it was the first time he saw students in the Pokémon class.

"Pokémon class?"

This was the first time Xiaozhi heard of this name. Why did it become a legendary class in Xiaogang's mouth?

"I remember having their flyers."

Xiaoxia fumbled in the pocket of her shorts for the flyer she remembered.

After fumbling for a while, he took out a crumpled flyer. Just as Xiaozhi was about to lean over to take a look out of curiosity, the flyer was snatched away by Xiaogang.

"Let me see. All are boarding schools, Pokémon trainer training schools, and Pokémon research schools."

While Xiaogang was reading the contents of the flyer, Pikachu ran to the treadmill nearby and kept pressing the buttons on it.

I don't know what button I pressed, but the treadmill suddenly started by itself. Pikachu was frightened by the vibration of the machine starting up and jumped onto the conveyor belt below.

"Qiu~Qiu~Qiu~"

Pikachu ran on the treadmill with his usual cute steps.

"After graduating from this school, you will be eligible to directly participate in the Pokémon League without taking a practical exam."

"In short, if you join this training class, you don't need to go to various gyms to challenge them, and you can get the qualification in a short time without collecting badges."

While reciting the remaining benefits, Xiaogang found a place to hold on to, but accidentally pressed the acceleration key. Pikachu, who was able to barely keep up, was thrown off in an instant. However, what he felt was not solid ground, but something soft and warm.

Pikachu turned his head and saw that it was Shiny Gardevoir who caught him with his hands. Then he was lifted up by the scruff of the neck and placed on the ground. Pikachu looked at the treadmill that almost made him fall.

He kicked at it, and after a brief silence, Pikachu hugged his feet and jumped on the spot, making the Shiny Gardevoir above laugh so hard that he couldn't stop.

"You can participate in the Pokémon League without a badge? That's too lazy."

Xiaozhi is very dissatisfied with these lazy people. They can directly challenge the league after attending a cram school. What do those trainers who have conquered eight gyms think about this?

"It also says that since it is a full boarding education, the tuition fee is definitely not cheap."

Xiaogang felt a little uneasy after taking a look at the information on the flyer. After all, the tuition fee was enough to support his family for a long time.

"Yes, according to legend, this is a prestigious school that only the richest kids in the whole country can attend."

Xiaoxia also added that after all, as a gym leader, she had heard of the situation in such places.

"That's just the way it is. Xiao Mao didn't even go to study here, so it's just something the rich people brag about."

"Besides, once you finish your studies, you're equivalent to challenging all the trainers in the eight gyms? Just relying on this so-called special training? Tsk!"

Yu Feng, on the other hand, sneered at this so-called prestigious school. After all, if we really wanted to talk about rich people, who in this area could be richer than Professor Oki's family?

A doctor who enjoyed a good reputation in all areas did not want his heir to go to this so-called school.

One can imagine the composition of this school, not to mention that after graduating from this school, they will be able to compete with trainers who have fought in at least eight gyms by the end of the journey?

If Long Shidu heard this, he would laugh out loud. These people would just be cannon fodder if they challenge the alliance directly.

"The more I listen, the angrier I get! Where in the world is there a school like this?"

Xiaozhi deeply hates this kind of school where he can get something for nothing. It is an insult to trainers like him who seriously challenge the gym.

"It's right there."

Xiaochun lived up to his name and acted really stupidly. He pointed ahead and interrupted Xiaozhi's words.

"Today's special course, the practical course in the fog is now over, and tomorrow's will be conducted in the snow."

Along with beautiful music and the sound of the radio, which also announced tomorrow's classes, the thick fog around them gradually dissipated, and what appeared in front of Xiaozhi and the others was a very luxuriously decorated school.

"In the snow? They will definitely make me into a snowman tomorrow."

When Xiao Chun heard that tomorrow's class would be in the snow, he had already thought of what the consequences would be for him: being made into a snowman and freezing.

"They're going to bully you collectively again, aren't they?"

Xiaozhi also has moments of clarity, and can immediately see through the nature of these people.

"That's friendship, that's the whip of love."

Xiaochun wanted Xiaozhi to explain their intentions. They kept saying that this was their love for him.

"Calling that love is really ignorant."

Xiaogang couldn't stand what these people did. After all, if this kind of bullying could be called love, then it would be better not to have this kind of love.

But even so, Xiaogang did not stop what he was doing and continued to make his own food.

"But thanks to them, my Pidgeot evolved into Pidgeot..."

Xiaochun was about to explain what he had learned when Yu Feng interrupted him.

"I don't care what you learned. Do you really think their behavior is correct?"

Yu Feng stopped Xiao Chun from continuing. After all, what he was going to say was nothing more than various knowledge points, which were of no use to him.

"My parents worked so hard to get me into this school. Look at the seniors over there. Some of them have been held back for years because the courses are too difficult and have not been able to graduate. He is a junior like me."

Xiao Chun did not directly answer Yu Feng's question, but pointed to the senior who was obviously much older than him. This is the disadvantage of not being able to graduate. How can he face the family who sent him here without graduating?

"What is elementary?"

Xiaozhi was more interested in the elementary level that Xiaochun mentioned.

Then, um, let me say here that there is actually no relationship between Sundae and Sirona (Sister Shiraha or Bamboo Orchid). The relationship written later is just to introduce Sister Shiraha. If you don't like it, Yuto Sundae will not appear in the future.
