

Gardevoir 8

Chapter 8 Meeting Xiaozhi for the first time

Yu Feng, the future Pokémon master, temporarily bid farewell to Professor Oak and went to Hanako's home. What kind of adventure is waiting for him now?

For some reason, after saying goodbye to Professor Oak, a female voice suddenly appeared in Yu Feng's mind while he was sitting in Aunt Hanako's house, reading out these words in an impassioned voice.

"Come on, Xiao Feng and Kirlia, don't be polite to me, your aunt."

When Yu Feng was wondering if his second year syndrome had gotten worse again, Hanako came in with a fruit basket, put it on the table and greeted Yu Feng warmly.

This made him temporarily ignore the voice in his head. After all, he was now a half-psychic Pokémon, and the person who could speak in his head would probably not appear in Pallet Town.

Maybe my second-year syndrome has worsened again. After all, I just performed a show in front of Shining Kirliao this morning, so it is possible that the scene at that time is automatically reproduced in my mind now.

"Chirrut. (Thank you.)"

"Well, thank you Aunt Hanako, this fruit is the most delicious I have ever eaten."

Without thinking too much and ignoring his sister's contemptuous look, Yu Feng picked up a piece of fruit and thanked Aunt Hanako for her hospitality.

He said that although he usually ate tree nuts in the forest, this did not prevent him from eating some ordinary fruits.

"Hahaha, Xiaofeng you are really good at talking, much better than my Xiaozhi."

Hanako listened to Yu Feng's compliment and laughed happily with her hands covering her mouth, but when she thought of her son Xiaozhi, she really didn't know when he would be able to speak like Xiaofeng.

"Xiao Feng, where are you from?"

Hanako is still very curious about Xiaofeng's origins. After all, Hanako could see Professor Oak's expression today.

Hearing Hanako's question, Yu Feng fell into deep thought.

It is not clear what Professor Oak and others think about the fact that he is the son of an elf, but he is very clear about what kind of capture the Gardevoir clan will face if this special matter is exposed.

And Gardevoir is okay. If Gardevoir evolves normally to this stage, few people can see it unless they deliberately discover it.

What I'm afraid of is that Chirulia and Larulas will be captured in large numbers, but it's not impossible to say it, right?

While Yu Feng was brainstorming, Hua Zi seemed to see that Yu Feng was reluctant to talk about his life experience, so she took the initiative to speak up and said, "If it's not convenient for you to say it, Xiao Feng, then don't say it."

"Ah, that's not the case."

Yu Feng, whose brainstorming was interrupted by Hanako, reacted and waved his hands. It was not that he didn't want to say it, but he didn't dare to say it.

Who knows what the world thinks of an outlier like him, and it is not clear whether the tone here is based on the anime or a special comic.

If it is based on the world view of the anime, at most the doctor would be interested. But if it is close to the special chapter of the comics, if he dares to tell others about his life experience, he will have to prepare a comfortable coffin for himself in the afterlife.

Although there is a high probability that there is no chance to sleep in it.

"I don't know who my father is. I was raised by the Gardevoir tribe since I was a child."

Yu Feng modified his words slightly to make people think that he was raised by Gardevoir. Although it is not much different from the actual situation, it would make people think that he was a child abandoned by his parents.

It was hard work for his mother and his father, whom he had never met, to bear such a big blame. Yu Feng observed three seconds of silence for them in his heart.

"Ah, is that so?"

Listening to Yu Feng's story, Hanako, who had a low tear point, wiped her tears with a handkerchief that she didn't know where it came from.

"Xiao Feng!"

Yu Feng was not paying attention for a moment and his hand was held tightly by Huazi. Yu Feng secretly tried to pull his hand away, but found that he was unable to pull his hand out of Huazi's hand.

This made Yu Feng's eyes twitch. As a half-elf, he was not as strong as a human? Nine out of ten people in this town were wrong!

Super rookie Satoshi, the legendary Red from Silver Mountain, and the one-ball superman Gougou.

Oh, the last one he sees must be humanely destroyed. He doesn't want to score a goal for no reason while he's sleeping.

"Xiao Feng, how about you be my godson?"

"what?"

"Chirrut!?"

Huazi looked at Yu Feng and said seriously that she really felt sorry for Xiao Feng, who had been raised by elves without parental care. In the TV shows she had seen, the children raised by elves were all miserable, with poor food and clothing. It must have been very hard for him to grow up alone.

Yu Feng was about to cry when he saw Hanako's expression, so he silently pulled his hand away. Although he didn't know what she was imagining, it was definitely not a good thing, but he could probably guess that it was a scene from some stupid TV drama.

He had a very comfortable life as a child. His breakfast always consisted of a big can of Moo Moo fresh milk and a Jelly Egg.

Lunch is usually wheat ripened by Mahuaquan and fermented by Goutoubao.

The afternoon tea is rich, with various dishes including the skin that falls off the back of the Fengmi dragon, tropical dragon fruit, Sakura treasure balls, cream from the Frost Milk Fairy, juice from the Sweet Bamboo, and black tea from the Busihu.

Dinner was thin slices of wild jellyfish fried with leaves similar to cauliflower monkey head.

Well, in order for him not to get tired of it, his mother specially caught sixty-three Frosty Milk Fairies of different styles and flavors. The little Milk Fairy he carries with him now is their offspring.

Of course, the fact that he and Shiny Kirliao only eat but don't evolve also worries Gardevoir. Most of the eggs born at the same time as them have grown into Gardevoir, but they two have just evolved into Kirliao.

Of course, what his mother is thinking about now is whether or not to prepare the Awakening Stone for him. After all, Yu Feng is a boy after all, and it is definitely better for him to evolve into Alakazam than Gardevoir. But who can blame him for having a happy family, from the clan leader to the aunt (laughs).

Back to the point.

"Ah, isn't this a bit fast, Aunt Hanako?"

Yu Feng was speechless for a moment. After all, wasn't the progress a bit too fast? How did it suddenly come to the point of adopting a godson?

"How come it's so fast? Look at Xiao Feng, you haven't seen your parents since you were a child. Auntie, I really am..."

Hanako didn't finish her words, but the one and two spirits present knew what was going to be said next.

Just when Yu Feng was in trouble, Shining Kirliao pulled Yu Feng's hand and placed it on Hanako's hand, then nodded with satisfaction.

"Chirrut. (Just agree to it. It won't make any difference.)"

Although she didn't know what the Doctor's status was in human society, the fact that even the clan leader couldn't enter this town showed that the Doctor was not a low-ranking person.

And this Hanako can enter and exit the doctor's research institute at will, and can also educate the doctor, which shows that she has a good relationship with the doctor.

Although I often hear my mother say that their father is a superstar, my brother does need a backer from human society, but they have never seen this superstar father since they were born. So apart from that doctor, Hanako is the best choice.

What's more, she was the one who took the initiative to bring this up. Does she still need a choice?

Yu Feng looked at Shining Kirlia with an unfriendly look and moved his mouth a few times as if he said something.

"Look, Kirlia has agreed."

Hanako held Yu Feng's hand tightly, her eyes shining with anticipation.

"Then I'll trouble Aunt Hanako from now on."

"You still call me auntie, call me mom."

"Then I'll trouble you, Mom, from now on."

Looking at Hanako who just went with the flow and asked him to call her mom, Yu Feng didn't know whether to laugh or cry. This relationship was progressing too fast!

"Well, I will go find the doctor to help you with your identity information tomorrow. You should have a good rest in the next two days, and help me educate Xiaozhi."

Hanako couldn't hide the smile on her face, but she couldn't help feeling a little disappointed when she talked about her children.

Xiao Feng is about the same age as Xiao Zhi, and Xiao Feng is so sensible and cute.

But Xiaozhi is still like a child who never grows up, which makes people worry.

Everyone had their own thoughts, and the scene became quiet for a while. Shining Kiria's eyes flickered as she quietly ate her honey ball.

"Mom, I'm back!"

Xiaozhi's return interrupted the quiet atmosphere. He was covered in water and was wiping his hair in the corridor.

"Xiaozhi! Where have you been again?"

"You come home so late, do you still see me as your mother?"

Seeing Xiaozhi who was a little wet, Hanako didn't know what to say for a moment.

He grabbed Xiaozhi's ear and asked him what he did today.

"Mom, be gentle, there are outsiders here."

Xiaozhi was grabbed by the ear and begged for mercy repeatedly, after all, there were outsiders at home.

"What outsider? That's my new godson, your younger brother."

"Also, don't change the subject. What on earth did you do today? Your clothes are all wet."

When Xiaozhi mentioned Yu Feng, Hanako still introduced him carefully, but she realized that Xiaozhi wanted to change the subject, so she let go of his ear to save his face.

"My brother? He went fishing at my secret base today."

Looking at Yu Feng, Xiaozhi muttered a few words in a low voice, and did not see the flashing Kiria behind him, but he told him what he was going to do today.

Then he pointed to the equally wet fishing rod on the ground, indicating that he had indeed gone fishing.

"Really? It's that kid from Mosquito Repellent again, right?"

When I heard that Xiaozhi went fishing and saw his wet clothes, I knew what happened to him.

"That's right. I don't know why he wants to spit all over me when he sees me."

Xiaozhi complained to his mother that he just went fishing but always came back wet every time he encountered this.

"Okay, go upstairs and change your clothes. I'll introduce you to your brother."

When it comes to the mosquito coil tadpole, Hanako can't do anything about it, that little guy just doesn't get along with Satoshi.

After sending Xiaozhi up to clean himself up, Hanako sat down again and continued to learn about Yu Feng's past.
