

Gardevoir 90

Chapter 90 Do you think I don't know what I'm saying?

"Sana!! (What's that expression on your face? Why are you looking at me like that?)"

Seeing Shiny Gardevoir looking at a fool, the aunt became angry. How could you look at your elders like that?

"Sana? (Who am I?)"

Looking at her aunt who didn't understand what she meant, Shining Gardevoir shook her head, pointed at herself and asked her aunt who she was.

"Sana! (Are you Xiao Fengfeng? Why are you asking this?)"

Although the aunt was very confused about Shiny Gardevoir's question, she still answered her question seriously. After all, they all knew who she was.

"Sana. (Who is talking in there?)"

Seeing the aunt's reaction, Shining Gardevoir was helpless. It was so obvious, yet he still asked her?

"Sana. (Fengfeng too, is there anything wrong?)"

Up to now, my aunt has not found any problems. After all, these problems are very basic. Even if she always feels that there is a problem but doesn't know how to describe it, she just doesn't know how to describe it (it's unreasonable but she is also confident).

"Sana... (So you said that the one inside is me, and the one outside is also me, so how can I not know what I want to say?)"

Looking at her aunt who had noticed something was wrong but still didn't find anything wrong, Shiny Gardevoir sighed helplessly and pointed inside the room, then pointed at herself.

I signaled to my aunt that both of them were me, so how could she not know what the other me was saying?

"Sana! (Sigh, it seems like she knows everything.)"

Only then did my aunt realize how outrageous what she had said was. Two people could know what the other person was thinking. This was even more outrageous than telepathy.

"Sanae. (Did you realize that? Well, they're out.)"

Seeing her aunt finally reacting, Shiny Gardevoir finally breathed a sigh of relief, and then suddenly looked towards the door. She saw that she had touched the door handle.

"Kacha."

Yu Feng came out holding his sister who looked burnt out, and touched the head of Shining Gardevoir to indicate that she had done a good job.

Shiny Gardevoir also leaned down and obediently accepted Yu Feng's head pat with an obedient expression on her face. Of course, you have to ignore the strange blush on her face first.

This beautiful scene made my aunt beside me very surprised. Didn't I just say that it was all me? How can you touch your own head? And what's with that expression of enjoyment?

"Hey, mom, I'm going to go see the other aunts."

Yu Feng jumped onto the shoulder of Shining Gardevoir, said goodbye to his mother who came out next, and floated towards the place where other aunts often stayed.

"Sanae~ (Say hello to them for me!)"

Mother Gardevoir, with a rosy face, waved goodbye to her son and daughters. This time she had replenished enough energy.

"understood."

Yu Feng agreed to his mother's request without even turning his head, after all, it was just a matter of convenience.

"Sana~ (Good sister~ Tell me what happened inside~)"

When the aunt at the side saw Yu Feng walking away, she immediately started gossiping about what was said inside to Gardevoir's mother, and she acted cute and coquettishly by looking at Gardevoir's mother's arm.

But he got a look of disgust from Gardevoir's mother, saying, "Why is he pretending to be so young when he's this old?"

"Sana! (What's that expression on your face? I'm so beautiful, okay!)"

The aunt became unhappy instantly, and looked at Gardevoir's mother coaxingly.

"Sana. (You? Pretty?)"

Hearing the shameless words from Aunt Gardevoir, Gardevoir's mother looked at her in surprise, as if she was surprised why she was so confident.

"Sana. (Come on, let's do the math. Your figure is not as good as the second sister's, your eyes are not as good as the third sister's, and in the eyes of humans you are not as pretty as me. Even now my daughter's figure and appearance are prettier than yours. Where do you get the courage to say you are pretty?)"

Gardevoir's mother compared the differences between her younger sister and herself and others, and now she can't even compare to her own daughter's appearance.

"Sana! (You! You! Forget it, I am magnanimous and will not bother with you. What on earth did you two talk about in there?)"

Aunt Gardevoir didn't expect that her sister would say this to her. Qi covered her slightly barren chest and took a few steps back in disbelief. She really didn't expect why a sister would say such insults to her.

"Sana? (Want to know? Actually, it's nothing, Xiao Fengfeng just said there's news about his father.)"

Gardevoir's mother glanced at her sister. As an elder sister, how could she not know that if she told her the news, it would spread throughout the forest the next day.

But this is exactly the effect she wanted. After all, there are many elves in the forest who want to attack Xiao Fengfeng's father, and she also has the idea of taking action herself.

As for why? Ten years, a full ten years. Do you know how she spent these ten years? In the first few years, she thought about him day and night, but later she was angry. Why didn't he come to see her for ten years?

She didn't believe that he didn't know the location of the forest, but it had been almost ten years, from the time she escaped back to the forest and Xiao Fengfeng and Xiao Yaya were left behind to now.

It is impossible to say that she has no resentment, but letting the child find him to question him is much better than her going there in person. And this way maybe a few sisters can go and help Xiao Fengfeng. After all, he was already the title of King of Heaven before he left, and he must be stronger after ten years.

"Sanae! (Ohhh! Big deal! Xiao Fengfeng is going to find that unfaithful man himself! When the time comes, count me in as the one who beats him up!)"

After hearing what Gardevoir's mother said, Gardevoir's aunt suddenly felt like she had eaten a big melon. What about the son who was determined to find his scumbag father, beat up the opponent and left in a cool manner, although it was highly likely that he would not leave in a cool manner.

But this is a rare opportunity to beat that man, so how can I not bring myself along? Upon hearing the news, everyone in the forest who wanted to beat that man had to line up to sign up.

Seeing her little sister's excited look, Gardevoir's mother made a "yeah" gesture with her hands behind her back, indicating that the operation was a great success.

If her ball wasn't still in his hands, she would have wanted to beat him up together with Xiao Fengfeng.

"Sana. (Ahem, I still have to pass on that... I still have things to do.)"

After hearing this explosive news, Aunt Gardevoir no longer wanted to stay here. She couldn't wait to tell her friends about it.

Aunt Gardevoir slowly retreated to make sure she was at a safe distance, then she smiled and waved to Gardevoir's mother, and instantly disappeared from the spot.

Looking at her disappearing sister, Gardevoir's mother curled up the corners of her mouth into a smile. She wondered how many people would beat him up by then. It was really exciting.
