Chapter 99 The Power of Science

"But this is a fully automatic digging machine."

"Yes, this is great progress."

Accompanied by the roar of the fully automatic digging machine, Kojiro and Musashi refuted Meowth's words, from manual digging to fully automatic, what a great invention.

While they were talking, the machine stopped running, and when it slowly moved back, it turned out to be a perfect trap.

Looking at this perfect pothole, Kojiro and Musashi moved a shelf from somewhere and placed it above the pothole. Then Kojiro spread grass and Musashi filled it with soil, and in a very short time, the road surface became the same as before.

"Who digs a hole automatically and fills it up manually?"

Meow Meow is really powerless to complain, what the hell are they doing, can't they just dig a hole and fill it up at once? The machine dug the hole and then filled it up manually, isn't that like taking off your pants to fart?

"Stop picking on me. Science hasn't advanced to that level yet."

Musashi answered Meow Meow's question directly. It's good enough that they can dig holes automatically now, so why expect to fill them automatically?

"How can such a thing happen, meow."

"They are coming."

After hearing Musashi's explanation, Meowth fell to the ground. What kind of explanation was this? However, he suddenly stood up and pointed at Satoshi and the others who were already visible.

After hearing what Meow Meow said, Kojiro and Musashi immediately took Meow Meow to hide in the bushes nearby. Then Musashi seemed to notice that the machine was too conspicuous in the middle of the road, so he took out the remote control and operated it a few times.

The machine instantly stood up, and two long legs appeared underneath it. It walked slowly with heavy steps towards the woods and hid.

Yu Feng was walking in front with anger written all over his face, but when he saw the three members of Team Rocket hiding in front of him and looked at the ground not far away which was obviously a different color, he instantly fell into deep thought.

Is it really so obvious that no one can see it? You guys are hiding so close to me, do you really think others are blind? He can hear the roar of the machine from hundreds of meters away, not to mention the mountain road where you can see a long distance at a glance.

No matter how he thought about it, there seemed to be something fishy going on. Even though he stopped to think, Team Rocket was sweating profusely, fearing that they would discover something wrong.

Xiaozhi and Xiaogang, who caught up from behind, didn't think anything had happened. They just thought that Yu Feng was thinking about something and naturally walked into the trap. Surprisingly, the trap was not punished.

Yu Feng's eyes twitched when he saw Xiaozhi and the others' behavior. What kind of Dora eyesight do these people have?

It would have been fine if they didn't see the Rockets when they were only a hundred meters away, but he also accepted that he didn't hear the loud roar of the machines.

But this piece of land is obviously different in color from the surrounding areas. Who gave you the confidence to step on it?

Musashi and Kojiro on the side began to blame each other, and only calmed down after being pawed by Meow Meow.

When Xiaogang stepped into the trap, the ground began to rumble.

"Is it an earthquake?"

Xiaozhi clearly felt the ground around him shaking, and subconsciously thought it was an earthquake, so he stopped and looked around.

"What's the matter?"

Misty and Yuto Seidai also caught up from behind, looking at Xiaozhi who was looking around and asked him what happened.

But then Xiaoxia felt something empty under her feet, as if she and Yuto Seidai were overweight after coming up. She moved her feet slightly, and the four of them looked down together and found that there was nothing under their feet. Then they screamed and fell down.

"Pikachu~"

Pikachu, who was walking in front, also noticed that Xiaozhi and the others had fallen into the pit. He turned around to look at the four people lying in the pit in a mess, and then looked at Yu Feng who was trying not to laugh at the edge of the pit. He couldn't help but sigh, wondering why his trainer was so thick-skinned.

The grass nearby began to rustle, and Pikachu instantly became alert.

Team Rocket, wearing protective suits, walked out from the bushes and stood arrogantly beside Pikachu.

"Meow, why did you fall down? If you didn't lower your heads, you would have passed it."

Meowth complained about the anti-Newton behavior of Xiaozhi and the others just now. The ground had obviously collapsed, but they looked down and discovered that the ground had collapsed, and then they fell down. If they had not lowered their heads, they would have walked over.

"So the power of science is still great."

"Listen Pikachu, just come over here."

Musashi and Kojiro stood in front of Pikachu fearlessly, as if they were not worried at all that Pikachu would use electric shock to send them away.

When Pikachu saw that it was Team Rocket, he immediately released 100,000 volts to try to repel them.

But unexpectedly, even though the golden electric light had enveloped the trio, they were still smiling happily.

"Rubber doesn't conduct electricity."

"That's the power of science."

Musashi and Kojiro were bathed in Pikachu's attack, enveloped by the golden 100,000 volts, but they were still smiling happily.

"We are not Team Rocket who will be defeated foolishly every time."

Kojiro said that since Pikachu had been defeated by 100,000 Volts so many times, why wouldn't they be prepared for this move.

"Nowadays, the times have progressed to a point where there is a new trend of not worrying about electric shock or leakage, but the design is still a bit tacky."

Although Musashi is very happy that she is no longer afraid of electric shock, she is dissatisfied with the rustic style of the protective suit. Although it can highlight her beautiful figure, it is very ugly.

"You two stop talking nonsense and catch him, meow!"

Meow Meow, who had been listening for a long time, said that if you keep talking so much, something bad will happen sooner or later. Why don't you catch Pikachu quickly? Otherwise, something bad will happen.

Hearing Meowth's words, Kojiro pulled out a rocket launcher-like device from somewhere and aimed it at Pikachu.

Pikachu was very clear that their target was him, and he was not interested in Xiaozhi and the others at all, so as long as he left, they would leave as well. Until he saw Xiaofeng watching their performance with great interest, he hid behind him without thinking.

"emission!"

Seeing Pikachu trying to run away, Kojiro and the others excitedly launched a red rubber ball to chase Pikachu.

"It's amazing that you knew to come to me."

Yu Feng was amazed as he looked at Pikachu running towards him. He had lowered his presence but he didn't expect Pikachu to notice him.

Then a snap was directed at the rubber ball covering Pikachu and it exploded instantly. Pikachu took this opportunity to climb up Yu Feng's trouser leg and onto his shoulder.

"Damn it, big devil, this is none of your business. Our target is only Pikachu. Hand him over and we won't attack you!"

Seeing Yu Feng who appeared again out of nowhere, the three members of Team Rocket were a little surprised, but they still asked Yu Feng to hand over Pikachu. After all, they had no interest in people.

"What if I say no?"
