

Genius 123

Chapter 123 - Flat-chested Demoness Fan Ning_1

"Why are you laughing? It's infuriating..."

Tang Feifei kept talking nonstop, while Qin Fang's face bore a faint smile. It was a long while before Tang Feifei snapped back to reality, then she pinched Qin Fang's waist angrily.

"Hehe..."

Qin Fang had nothing to say to that, except to laugh goofily. Since piercing through that layer of window paper between them, their relationship had become much more open, no longer as reserved as before.

Even their terms of address had changed. Although Qin Fang was quite indifferent to such terms of address, since Tang Feifei insisted, he naturally accepted them cheerfully.

The lithium battery matter was currently just a concept. Qin Fang himself didn't know when it could be successful, but of course, he would allot some time to enhance his Repair Skill.

"By the way, Fangfang, I heard that today's freshman orientation meeting will elect class leaders. Li Feng invited the whole class to Ningcui Residence for lunch at noon. I'm worried that he..."

Walking hand in hand on their way back to school, Tang Feifei suddenly remembered this and couldn't help but remind him.

"Inviting the whole class to Ningcui Residence for lunch? He really has money burning a hole in his pocket, huh? What does he want to do? Could it be to bribe his classmates in advance to become the class president?"

Qin Fang laughed too. Although college classes were smaller, there were at least thirty people in each class, which meant at least three or four tables. With Ningcui Residence's consumption level, one table wouldn't have anything decent without spending at least three thousand. So, Li Feng had thrown down more than ten thousand in advance to bribe his classmates.

Of course, this bit of expense was nothing more than a drizzle for the rich Young Master Li.

"You're laughing, but what if he becomes the class president..."

Seeing Qin Fang laughing so carefree, Tang Feifei suddenly frowned in dissatisfaction.

"It's fine, Feifei. A college class president actually doesn't do much. I heard it from Brother Qiang. It's just a gofer role, at most slightly better relations with the teachers, but they can't control us..."

Tang Feifei's thinking was obviously still stuck in their high school days, forgetting that they were now in college, where the environment is much more relaxed. Being late, leaving early, or skipping classes was common, and as long as you passed your exams and earned the credits, generally, no one would bother you.

As for the class president, it was the same. They had no real power—God knows what was going through Li Feng's head.

"Still, be careful! Li Feng is sly..."

Perhaps it was a case of guilt by association, but Tang Feifei, who previously just disliked Li Feng, now treated him as an utterly vile villain, wishing everyone would condemn him.

"Got it! Miss Feifei's words are the highest command to me, Qin Fang. How could I not obey!"

Qin Fang snapped to attention and saluted, then said very seriously, eliciting a burst of giggles from Tang Feifei, making her delightful chest tremble irresistibly.

...

2 PM.

Qin Fang and Tang Feifei walked hand in hand into their meeting room, only to see Li Feng already there, seeming to have hit it off with the other classmates.

But upon seeing Qin Fang and Tang Feifei's joined hands, the smile on his face instantly turned incredibly gloomy.

"Hmph, classmate, what kind of behavior is this in front of everyone?"

Who knows which wire got crossed in Li Feng's head, or if his jealousy was just too strong, for him to spit out such a poor comment.

"Feifei, let's sit over there!"

Qin Fang glanced at Li Feng with disdain, then cheerfully pointed to a corner of the classroom and said to Tang Feifei, completely ignoring Li Feng.

"Hmm, just sit over there!"

Tang Feifei was very cooperative with Qin Fang, treating Li Feng like air, smiling and nodding, then actively pulling Qin Fang towards that corner.

"You..."

Li Feng's face immediately turned a purplish color, wanting to explode in anger, but found that the classmates in front of him were looking at him with an extremely weird gaze, forcing him to suppress his fury.

Reflecting on it made him realize that he had indeed been blinded by jealousy, even uttering such stupid words. No wonder his classmates were looking at him like that.

The age where "dating without the intention of marriage is hooliganism" was long gone. Not to mention that college was naturally a hotbed for romance, even middle schools and high schools were filled with dating students.

A rich young master like Li Feng had already lost his virginity at the age of thirteen or fourteen. By comparison, Qin Fang, still a virgin, was much purer than him.

"Hmph, Qin Fang, we will see..."

Knowing that he had done something foolish, Li Feng couldn't help but bide his time for now, especially since he had a plan to deal with Qin Fang, he didn't need to be too anxious.

Tap tap tap~~

And almost right after Qin Fang and the others sat down, a rhythmical tapping reached their ears. Without a doubt, it was the sound of high heels, indicating that a woman was approaching.

Squeak~~

The classroom door was pushed open, and a snowy white, slender leg stepped in through the gap, followed by a beauty in a pale grey suit carrying a stack of folders.

Fair skin, enchanting features, cherry red lips, and those slender legs were on full display, delivering a strong visual impact.

The perfectly exquisite face was adorned with a pair of black-framed glasses, lending a touch of intellectual beauty.

The combination of the two made it impossible not to stare the moment you saw her, a truly exceptional beauty, especially when she smiled. The extreme charm and seductive nature of her smile made men involuntarily feel an urge.

A foxy temptress!

Definitely a breathtaking foxy temptress!

The only flaw was... her flat chest.

Qin Fang had seen quite a number of beautiful women; Tang Feifei, Xiao Muxue, Ning Yumo, and Lei Zi's sister were all outstanding beauties. Nevertheless, compared to the one before him, there was a clear difference.

Tang, Xiao might appear somewhat green due to their young age, Ning Yumo exuded a wild beauty, while this woman presented a contradictory blend of sexiness and intellect.

"You're still looking..."

Seeing that Qin Fang was gawking, Tang Feifei, his prospective girlfriend, naturally felt jealous. She immediately twisted him hard, awakening him from his daze with the pain.

"Uh... heh heh!"

Qin Fang opened his mouth to explain but couldn't find the right words.

"Men, not a single good thing among them... always looking at the next best thing," Tang Feifei huffed, twisting Qin Fang one more time. Qin Fang's groan of pain was well deserved.

Just like Qin Fang, many others were similarly flustered. Nearly all the male students present couldn't help but be stunned; even a womanizer like Li Feng couldn't close his mouth in surprise when he first saw this beauty. It wasn't until the woman gently coughed twice that everyone snapped back to reality.

"Hello everyone, I'll start with a brief self-introduction. My name is Fan Ning, and I'll be your class teacher. For the next four years, I will be responsible for all matters relating to your class. If any of you have issues you cannot solve on your own, feel free to come to me!"

"Alright, I won't repeat any unnecessary details. Today, we're holding this orientation meeting mainly to get acquainted with each other. Also, for the regular management of the class, we need to elect some class officials to assist me with class matters. Considering that everyone hasn't been together for very long and doesn't know each other well, the election of class officials will have to rely on your first impressions. First, let's all do a round of self-introductions..."