Chapter 149 Lotus Pond by Moonlight_1

"Ladies, could you give me some face here? After all, I am the owner of this place!"

Qin Fang really wanted to say this to the two beauties, but before he could even start, he was stared down by a fierce look from them, and it turned into what it was now. In his own little house, he had no say anymore. The two beauties verbally transformed it with their chit-chat, making it resemble a young girl's boudoir, which caused Qin Fang to break out in a cold sweat.

"Alright, we were just talking, see how scared you got... Humph, it's your own fault for deceiving us so badly..."

Luckily, the two beauties still gave Qin Fang some dignity and didn't continue to torment him any further. Otherwise, Qin Fang really would have had to run away in shame. As for being wrongfully accused by the beauties, he let it slide. If he kept nitpicking, it certainly wouldn't end well for him.

"Yes, yes, yes, I admit I was wrong, okay?"

Qin Fang nodded vigorously, finally appeasing the two beauties.

"Don't get smug just yet. There's no need for a major overhaul of this cabin, but look at it, it's such a mess, how can anyone live here? It still needs some improvements, and since you're not poor anymore, how about we find someone to do the renovations and you foot the bill?"

However, it was quite clear that Tang Feifei was still not satisfied with the living conditions here and immediately made her stance known.

"Can't we just forget about it? Ever since I bought this plot, I've been left with only a pittance. If you two start a big construction project, even selling me wouldn't cover the cost..."

Qin Fang said with a wry smile on his face. There wasn't much left in his bank account, and gambling on stones wasn't something he could do often. His only income was the little he got from Fang Feixue, which couldn't sustain such extravagant expenditures.

"You bought such a piece of land? What did you buy land for?"

Tang Feifei was slightly startled, looking at Qin Fang with astonishment.

The location of the land wasn't great, a bit remote, and the university town planning had also bypassed it, which basically stripped it of any significant commercial value. She hadn't expected Qin Fang to actually buy such a plot.

"What can I do when housing prices are soaring these days? With the little money I have, I can't afford a decent house in the city center. So I just bought this piece of land outright. If all else fails, I'll just build on it myself!"

Qin Fang said cheerfully, though he was just making a casual remark and didn't seriously plan to build a house there himself.

"That's actually a good idea..."

As soon as Tang Feifei spoke, Qin Fang broke out in a sweat, "I'm just kidding, relax. Your money is my money, I'll definitely be frugal for you, not wasting a single cent..."

Tang Feifei truly had a bit of a housekeeper's demeanor, actually counting on her fingers to Qin Fang about how to save money, even discussing it with Xiao Muxue.

Looking at the graceful figures of the two beauties, Qin Fang couldn't help but feel a bit impulsive, silently practiced his Breathing Technique a few times. However, to his surprise, instead of suppressing the surge, it intensified, and he hurried out of the cabin to "cool off" outside...

Ever since he had started practicing the Breathing Technique taught to him by Fang Dacheng, Qin Fang had been doing it daily without fail, and his proficiency kept improving. He could also increasingly feel the changes the technique was bringing to his body.

The only surprise was that the Breathing Technique, which was a form of Inner Strength, appeared to be very masculine, making it easy for Qin Fang's body to react impulsively.

It was evident that renovating Qin Fang's little house wouldn't start immediately, and the two beauties had just briefly discussed it before coming out, dragging Qin Fang to a nearby large market in the university town to buy some daily necessities and some appliances.

It was summer and quite hot, so an air conditioner was needed, along with a computer, and so on. They even went to get broadband set up, really planning to make Qin Fang's cabin a proper living space.

"Hey, Feifei, Muxue, you two aren't planning on taking over my cabin, are you?"

After everything was taken care of, Qin Fang sensed something was amiss and couldn't resist asking cautiously.

"Of course, we will. We're the ones who decorated this place, and I will come and stay for a few days when I have time..." Tang Feifei immediately declared, hands on her hips.

"Eh... really?"

Upon hearing this, a smug expression immediately appeared on Qin Fang's face.

Thwack~~

A smack landed on Qin Fang's head, "What are you thinking? If I come to stay here, you're going back to the dorm, and if you dare have any crooked thoughts, watch how I deal with you..."

Qin Fang had only just started entertaining some unsavory thoughts when Tang Feifei instantly caught on.

As for Xiao Muxue, her gaze shifted slightly, and when Qin Fang ducked his head, she deliberately gave him a suggestive wink, instantly warming his heart. He then remembered that night in the cinema and the gentle hand that had caressed him in the dark...

However, it was clear that Qin Fang was merely entertaining the idea. After that night, Xiao Muxue avoided him for many days.

"Ah, it's about time we headed out, Fangfang, let's go... Muxue, you're coming too!"

Tang Feifei didn't notice the exchange of glances between Qin Fang and Xiao Muxue, but when she checked the time and realized it was close to the time they had agreed on, she exclaimed in surprise.

Of course, after today's experience of catching a cheater together, Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue's relationship had returned to how it was at the very beginning. Although there was still a bit of wariness, it wasn't as defensive as before when Tang Feifei was so cautious she would even introduce men to Xiao Muxue.

"Sure! We all know each other quite well anyway..."

Xiao Muxue didn't refuse. At least from the perspective of others, her relationship with Qin Fang seemed rather ambiguous, even though there really wasn't anything between them, aside from what happened that night, of course.

As usual, Qin Fang locked the door and then led the two beauties to the agreed-upon destination.

Night Scenery of the Lotus Pond was the best nightclub near the university town, and naturally, its KTV was also the best. As the initiator of this mixer, the wealthy second-generation Xiao Nan didn't care about the expense, so naturally, he chose the best place and set the location there.

"Fourth Brother, you've finally arrived! My goodness, the beauties are here too, we've been waiting for a long time..."

When Qin Fang and his group arrived, they saw that Xiao Nan and his buddies had only just entered, but Xiao Nan jokingly made it seem like they had been there for ages.

"Is the private room booked?"

Qin Fang rolled his eyes, too lazy to bother with him, and just sat down with them, waiting for the beauties from Tang Feifei's dormitory to show up, casually asking the question.

"It's booked already, but it's a shame it's only a medium-sized room..."

Xiao Nan nodded but still seemed somewhat disappointed.

He originally wanted to book a large private room. After all, adding both dormitories together made twelve people, and with Xiao Muxue, that made thirteen. A medium-sized room seemed a bit cramped for Xiao Nan.

Unfortunately, even with money, he couldn't help it as many of the private rooms here had already been booked. Trying to squeeze in a last-minute reservation wasn't something that could be achieved just by throwing money at the problem.

"It doesn't matter, a medium-sized room is enough!"

Qin Fang tilted his head and thought for a moment. He remembered that last time Li Dong said he would give him a few VIP cards for Night Scenery of the Lotus Pond, the kind that give you fifty percent off on direct purchases. However, he had been busy with making guns recently and hadn't gone back to the shop much, so naturally, he didn't receive those VIP cards, which would have been useful at this time.

Qin Fang and his buddies sat in the lobby chatting, watching people come and go. The business at Night Scenery of the Lotus Pond was indeed doing quite well. There were successfully dressed businessmen and, of course, some non-mainstream individuals dressed in garish attire. In short, there were people from all walks of life since this place was a public entertainment venue, not a private club like Elite Salon, where entry is only possible with a membership card.

"Jelly, Guagua, Aling... I'm over here!"

Thankfully, the beauties from Tang Feifei's dorm didn't make Qin Fang and the others wait too long and soon showed up, each one clearly dressed with careful attention. Although they couldn't compare to Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue, they were still quite beautiful girls.

After brief introductions, they all headed to the private room that Xiao Nan had booked.

Generally, entertainment venues have some hostesses dressed in flamboyant or scanty clothing, accompanying guests in drinking and singing. They might also get a chance to be flirted with by the guests and earn some commission.

Of course, if the guests and the hostesses were interested, they could also make arrangements for further services, but these were private transactions. The venue itself wouldn't interfere, at most collecting a management fee in secret. If by chance the police caught them, the venue would also step in to bail people out.

Tang Feifei and her group of seven girls were escorted by the six boys, which included Qin Fang, and finally arrived at their booked private room. They closed the door, declined the hostesses offered by the venue, and got started on their own.

"Tsk tsk, those girls are really pretty, especially two of them..."

"Totally hot! And all of them are schoolgirls, so pure..."

"Dude, you'd better behave. Don't forget where we are. This is Brother Dong's turf. If you cause a scene, Brother Dong will get angry!"

Qin Fang and the others closed the door, unable to hear the remarks of the people outside. With the deafening music in the KTV, they couldn't hear the outside conversations either.

It's no wonder those people were making such comments. KTV places like this tend to have a mix of patrons, and with the hostesses around, girls who come to play here are indeed in some danger.

This is why, seeing that Qin Fang and his group were numerous, the onlookers didn't directly approach them. After all, if there were fewer of them and a dispute arose, it would be quite a disadvantage.

"Among those people just now, I thought I saw someone very familiar. Looks like someone I've seen somewhere before..."

Meanwhile, a staff member watching the venue looked at Qin Fang's group entering the private room and muttered to his colleague in a low voice.

"You're probably thinking of someone who tipped you before. Stop fantasizing. Room XX ordered drinks; hurry up and deliver them..."
