Chapter 153 Apology_1

"Fourth Brother, never would have guessed that you know everyone on the streets... You're not actually playing dumb and acting like the tiger's prey, when you're really the son of some underworld big shot, right?"

Mouse Qiang politely and respectfully left the private room, and the crisis was immediately defused. Everyone couldn't help but breathe a sigh of relief in secret, and their gazes towards Qin Fang had changed. Xiao Nan was the most exaggerated, rushing in front of Qin Fang, sizing him up from all angles as he muttered to himself.

"Get lost..."

Unable to stand it, Qin Fang rolled his eyes and kicked Xiao Nan out, "What nonsense are you spouting? I just know their Boss, and we've only shared a drink once!"

"Yeah, right, who would believe that!"

Faced with such a response from Qin Fang, Xiao Nan and a few other brothers all threw up their middle fingers at the same time, emitting a contemptuous noise.

"Believe it or not..."

Qin Fang was helpless; he was telling the truth.

Up till now, he really had only shared a drink with Li Dong, but the reason Li Dong held Qin Fang in such high regard was not just because of Tang Feifei by Qin Fang's side but also because Qin Fang had fairly good relationships with Tang Cheng and Ning Weiqiang.

Li Dong arrived quite quickly, especially after hearing that Qin Fang and Tang Feifei might have been attacked in his territory, he rushed over in a state of anxious urgency.

"Brother Dong..."

Just as Mouse Qiang was about to take care of Zhu Pangzi, he saw Li Dong enter the door and immediately went over to greet him with great respect.

"How's the situation? Nothing happened, right?"

Li Dong wasn't very concerned about the minor details; what mattered to him was whether anything had happened, everything else could be put aside for the moment.

"Don't worry, Brother Dong! Zhu Pangzi entered right after me, so nothing serious kicked off! However..."

Mouse Qiang had his own cunning; he knew he couldn't omit his part in the merit, but how to satisfy Qin Fang was what he really needed to do now.

"However, what?"

Sure enough, upon hearing Mouse Qiang's words leading to a twist, Li Dong felt a sudden jolt in his heart, dreading bad news.

"Zhu Pangzi has quite a dirty mouth, especially towards Miss Tang, making Young Master Qin somewhat unhappy..."

From the moment Li Dong appeared, Mouse Qiang knew that the way the matter would be resolved was not up to him. Although Zhu Pangzi was just a nouveau riche, if there had been some connection between him and Boss Li Dong, and he had taken matters into his own hands without authorization, he would be stepping out of line.

"What?"

At those words, Li Dong's body couldn't help but shake. It took him a moment to compose himself before he asked in a very low voice, "That fat pig didn't lay a hand on Miss Tang, did he?"

"I surely wouldn't have let him lay a hand on her, but this guy was ranting to Young Master Qin and Miss Tang that he was your good brother. The way he spoke was very certain, he even cussed at me too. I'm worried..."

Mouse Qiang was no good bird, and when he held a grudge, it was quite malicious. Whether Zhu Pangzi had said or done those things, with just a few words, even if it wasn't his doing, the blame could easily be pinned on him too.

Especially with the arrogant and confident way he spoke at that time, it was very easy for people to imagine his connection with Li Dong. Mouse Qiang and his own people knew the truth, but Qin Fang and Tang Feifei didn't, and if they were to speculate, Li Dong would truly be in a passive position.

"Damn it, that Zhu Pangzi is looking for death and trying to drag me down with him... Mouse Qiang, where is that guy now?" Li Dong was really furious now.

Zhu Pangzi's momentary satisfaction with his mouth was one thing, but if he involved someone completely clueless like him, it would be a huge injustice. Li Dong, who was originally involved in the underworld, was furious at being tricked this way and, following Mouse Qiang's lead, stormed off to settle accounts with Zhu Pangzi.

"What's with everyone standing around? Keep doing what you were doing, it's all good..."

Even though the crisis was over, Qin Fang saw the girls were still a bit timid and couldn't help but laugh and say.

"Exactly! Let's keep having fun. With Fourth Brother here, we don't need to be afraid of anyone showing up..."

Xiao Nan didn't seem to care and might have seen such incidents before, quickly calming down and joining his brothers and a few beauties in laughter and frolics again.

The commotion caused by Zhu Pangzi gradually subsided. Everyone waited a while, and seeing that indeed no one else was causing trouble, and even Mouse Qiang had specifically instructed his men to send over two bottles of fine red wine to Qin Fang's table—free of charge—everyone felt more at ease.

For Xiao Nan and his group of brothers, it was a matter of course. With Qin Fang looking awesome, they too felt honored.

The beautiful girls in Tang Feifei's dormitory, who originally harbored considerable dissatisfaction towards Qin Fang for playing two sides, had been egging on Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue to confront Qin Fang. Now, seeing Qin Fang's impressive demeanor, their thoughts changed completely, and even their gazes towards Qin Fang became somewhat strange.

Qin Fang suspected that if he showed even the slightest interest in them, these girls might readily throw themselves at him.

Of course, Qin Fang definitely wouldn't do that, as having two women watching him was already troublesome enough. Adding a few more to the mix would only create unfathomable chaos!

Knock knock knock~~

Before long, someone knocked on the private room door. Despite the loud music inside, Qin Fang still heard it and turned to see Li Dong pushing the door open, accompanied by several very beautiful women dressed in light clothing, bringing in some fruit and pastries.

"Brother Dong..."

Qin Fang was somewhat surprised; he had heard from Mouse Qiang that although Night Scenery of the Lotus Pond was Li Dong's main source of income, he preferred staying in the bar because it was too noisy here.

"Young Master Qin, I'm very sorry about today..."

After entering, Li Dong immediately apologized to Qin Fang and also offered a polite smile to Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue. Just judging by his appearance, he looked like a robust man. No one could tell he was the boss of the university town area.

"Brother Dong, if you keep talking like that to me, then you're really treating me as an outsider..."

Although Zhu Pangzi talked arrogantly, almost as if he had a special relationship with Li Dong, not even considering Mouse Qiang, Qin Fang knew that this matter definitely had nothing to do with Li Dong, and Li Dong wouldn't have the guts to do it.

The reason why Li Dong was so polite to Qin Fang was mainly because of Tang Feifei. With Zhu Pangzi's bad luck, he dared to flirt with Tang Feifei. Regardless of his relationship with Li Dong, even if they truly had a good relationship, he would have to draw a clear line with Zhu Pangzi under such circumstances.

If not, not only would Lord Hu come after him, but Tang Cheng would certainly not let it go.

"Young Master Qin, regardless, I must give you an explanation today, or else..."

Li Dong clearly had his own thoughts and showed no intention of backing down. While speaking, he sneakily glanced at Tang Feifei and seeing that she and Xiao Muxue were sitting calmly beside Qin Fang without a peep, he somewhat understood the situation.

Clap clap clap~~

Li Dong immediately clapped his hands and the door to the private room was pushed open again. Mouse Qiang, accompanied by two men, entered while they dragged what looked like a dead pig into the room.

No, in their hands, they pulled a mound of flesh inside.

Qin Fang glanced at the pile of flesh on the ground in slight surprise. The person was already bruised and battered, covered in wounds, some of which were still oozing blood.

As for the identity of this person, Qin Fang casually deployed his Scouting Skill and sure enough, it was the previously smug Zhu Pangzi, who had acted as if he was second to heaven.

Unfortunately, he now looked worse than a pig's head, probably even Zhu Bajie would find him ugly.

Li Dong stood up, walked over to the groaning Zhu Pangzi, and kicked his pile of fat, "Stop playing dead, apologize to Young Master Qin and these two ladies right now, or else... hmpf."

Zhu Pangzi had clearly been beaten severely, his chubby face was unrecognizable due to swelling, groaning incessantly from the pain. It was evident he was in agony, yet he dared not let out too loud of a cry.

"I'm... I'm sorry!"

But faced with Li Dong's words, he dared not continue to feign death. Struggling, he opened his swollen, purple eyes, gasping from the pain. Managing to see Qin Fang sitting on the couch, he very quietly apologized with a slurred tongue.

Bang~~

"Didn't you eat, speak up..."

Li Dong couldn't care less about whether Zhu Pangzi was in pain, kicking him in the belly again, forcing an involuntary howl of pain from him.

"I'm sorry!"

Zhu Pangzi dared not resist at all, immediately suppressing the pain in his body, he shouted with a thick tongue, his voice louder than before.

"Enough, that's enough!"

Although Li Dong seemed unsatisfied and was about to continue kicking the fatty a few more times, Qin Fang noticed that Tang Feifei seemed a bit sympathetic and immediately spoke up to stop him.

Li Dong naturally gave face to Qin Fang and, noticing the change in Tang Feifei's expression, quickly took the hint. Otherwise, trying to ingratiate himself might backfire and lead to some resentment, which would truly be troublesome.

"Thank... thank... Young Master Qin!"

Zhu Pangzi turned out to be somewhat smart, hearing Qin Fang call for a halt, he gratefully expressed his thanks, though moving caused him intense pain, the four words barely spoken.

Truth be told, Zhu Pangzi was sincerely grateful. Even though he had been ruthlessly beaten by Li Dong because of Qin Fang, at this moment, besides gratitude, he felt no anger or resentment, which he himself found quite strange.
