

Genius 1571

Chapter 1571 - Even a Crowd Can Be Defeated in Seconds!

...

The location of Tang Feifei and their room is quite good, from here they can clearly see what's happening downstairs. Following the direction Lu Wei pointed, indeed they saw many more people downstairs.

Looking at the densely packed crowd, it seems there are dozens of people, and it looks like the crowd is still growing, maybe soon there will be a hundred people or more.

"What are these Koreans up to now?"

Watching the gathering Koreans, Qin Fang couldn't help but mutter.

Although the number of these Koreans is quite large, it's not enough for him to be afraid, but what exactly they are doing is puzzling to him.

"They... they said... said you insulted their national arts... so..."

Lu Wei was a bit hesitant, but he still stammered out the hidden truth. He went to the school's medical office for a simple bandage earlier and returned to find these Koreans gathering.

Curious, he felt something was about to happen, so he sneaked into the group to gather information. After all, Dragon Country people and Koreans don't have significant differences in appearance, and Lu Wei, specializing in Korean, is quite fluent, so no one noticed him while gathering information.

Plus, with his head wrapped up, he looked quite different from before, and none of the Koreans who participated in beating him recognized him.

Once Lu Wei gathered the information, he couldn't sit still anymore, he rushed into the building to inform Qin Fang and the others.

After all, Qin Fang and Tang Feifei had saved him once not long ago, and Lu Wei knew how to be grateful, taking a big risk to report the situation.

If the Koreans discovered him, just one kick per person from the dozens would be enough to trample Lu Wei to death.

"Damn it, these Koreans really have brains kicked by a donkey..."

Upon learning why from Lu Wei, Qin Fang felt amused and irritated. The Koreans' pride is exceptionally strong, surpassing Qin Fang's imagination in their absurdity.

"I understand the situation now. I think you should find a place to hide, don't let those crazy Koreans find you. Who knows what they might do... leave the rest to me!"

These crazy Koreans are already making a scene, Qin Fang can't just stand by, otherwise who knows if these lunatics would harm Tang Feifei and the others?

As for Lu Wei, he asked him to hide first. If these Koreans go crazy, they might just charge into the building and attack everyone indiscriminately.

"But..."

Lu Wei wanted to say "I can help too", but before he could speak, he was cut off by a sharp glare from Qin Fang.

"Then I'll head back first, you all be careful..."

If Qin Fang and others could rescue him from the Koreans, it shows they are very strong. It's only that the number of Koreans is several times larger than before, yet they don't have knives or guns, relatively speaking, it shouldn't be too difficult...

"You all stay in the room, no matter what happens outside, don't come out..."

After sending Lu Song away, Qin Fang reassured Tang Feifei and the other two women. Given the number of people outside, while Tang Feifei and the others might have some self-defense ability, in such a chaotic environment, even someone as strong as Qin Fang cannot guarantee absolute safety.

So, thinking it over, staying in the room seems to be the safest option.

"Qin Fang, be careful..."

As Qin Fang went out alone, Tang Feifei and the others were naturally very worried.

Although they knew Qin Fang was very strong, seeing so many people gathering outside, they feared Qin Fang might struggle because of the sheer numbers.

"No problem! It's just a piece of cake..."

Qin Fang smiled, dismissively reassured the three women, and walked out of the room to face the increasing number of Koreans alone.

This was not Qin Fang being overconfident; rather, he genuinely did not fear the numbers...

In fact, the more people there were, the more advantageous it was for him!

As Qin Fang walked, he adjusted his title to "One Against Hundred," a massive weapon for group fights, perfect for dealing with the Koreans outside!

Soon, Qin Fang reached downstairs, by now the Koreans had gathered over a hundred, seemingly planning to storm the building.

Pei Yongming and Park Yongxiu had already been rescued by someone, by now they should be sent to the hospital for treatment. Although Qin Fang was quite gentle, they suffered enough.

"It's him, it's him... it's definitely him!"

Almost as soon as Qin Fang appeared, someone excitedly shouted.

"Dammit, why does that sound so familiar..."

Even though it was said in Korean, translated, Qin Fang felt it was oddly familiar. But now was not the time to dwell on that, so he didn't bother with it.

"What now? Wasn't the previous lesson enough, now you think numbers can bully the few?"

Facing the massive crowd alone, Qin Fang appeared so isolated, like one man facing thousands, it looked like he was at an absolute disadvantage.

But Qin Fang did not see it this way, instead, he casually looked at the Koreans, with a playful tone and mocked.

"Hit him! Hit him... He's the one who insulted our National Arts!"

Unfortunately, Qin Fang's words were like talking to a brick wall, these Koreans were completely unreasonable. Amidst the crowd, someone shouted.

"Kill..."

The Koreans suddenly went wild like they were on steroids, immediately howling and rushing towards Qin Fang.

"What a bunch of idiots..."

Staring at these crazed Koreans, Qin Fang coldly scoffed, his gaze became sharp and fierce, and the aura surrounding him suddenly transformed into something extremely violent.

"Since you Koreans are stubborn, I won't hold back..."

Although Qin Fang didn't want to cause trouble for himself, these people forced him to act, leaving him no choice but to retaliate.

Boom~~

The aura around Qin Fang grew heavier, affecting everything in the nearby area. Those Koreans hadn't even had the chance to approach Qin Fang before being crushed by the enormous pressure of his aura, rendering them helpless...

But this was only the beginning. Qin Fang's foot suddenly fell forward, and instantly a violent shockwave erupted from his toes.

Bam Bam Bam~~

Almost simultaneously, many people felt as if their chests had been kicked, and then...

"Ah!!"

A series of screams rang out, and these people surrounding Qin Fang were immediately kicked, flying away like kites cut free.

"How about it? Still want to continue?"

With a single strike, Qin Fang easily dealt with more than ten people in the crowd, while he remained completely unaffected.

"Everyone, don't be afraid of him, we won't lose with so many of us..."

However, some people were simply ungrateful, especially these Koreans. Seeing their companions beaten by Qin Fang, they showed no sign of retreating. It seemed they wanted to attack Qin Fang even more aggressively...

Provoked by this person, these Koreans barely suppressed by Qin Fang, suddenly became more determined.

"Kill..."

And so, these unfortunate souls, recently disciplined by Qin Fang, continued to charge towards him.

Boom~~

This one-against-hundred tactic was most effective in such environments; the more people, the greater the power. Such scenes fit perfectly.

"Stubborn fools..."

Qin Fang was enraged. He thought he intimidated them enough to make them lay down their weapons, but these Koreans completely ignored this tactic.

Boom~~

Qin Fang stomped hard, another wave of shock erupted from beneath him, forming a fierce ripple immediately impacting the Koreans.

"Ouch ouch ouch..."

This time was even more brutal than before; most of the Koreans were beaten, clutching themselves in pain, crying out hopelessly. It seemed the situation was more difficult than their idol statue... Of course, they weren't really dead, just pretending, yet everyone presumed them dead.

Puff~

At this moment, a swift leg swept fiercely from the crowd; it moved so fast it nearly caught Qin Fang off guard.

"Oh? Finally, someone a bit more competent..."

Just based on the strength of that kick, Qin Fang had to take it a little seriously. This youngster's strength was commendable, but just commendable, not enough to threaten Qin Fang.

With a slight movement of his body, Qin Fang easily dodged the Korean's side kick, speaking casually while swiftly positioning himself next to him.

This Korean's strength was indeed decent, far superior to Park Yongxiu and Pei Yongming from before, nearly reaching Level 5 cultivation.

Such prowess and youth would definitely make him a top-notch figure among youngsters in Korea.

Unfortunately...

He shouldn't have encountered Qin Fang at this moment and shouldn't have attacked Qin Fang actively; he was only making trouble for himself.

Bam~~

Qin Fang's speed was remarkable; the traceless snow-stepping technique was famous for a reason. The young Korean didn't even have time to react before Qin Fang kicked him, sending him flying.

Weighing over a hundred pounds, he transformed into a cannonball, soaring into the air. This kick alone would hurt him for a while.

Chapter 1572 - Arrogance Turns to Deference!

...

This young Korean was really unlucky. He wasn't Qin Fang's match head-on, and his attempt to sneak attack failed, ending up with Qin Fang landing a hard kick on him.

Luckily, Qin Fang held back a bit; otherwise, if he had used his full strength, this guy would have been completely done for by now.

Even so, the young Korean suffered a considerable loss, lying on the ground resting for quite a while before finally struggling to get up.

"Again..."

The Koreans' stubbornness can sometimes be seen as an advantage, somewhat similar to the Japanese fearlessness of death. This young Korean had barely recovered but was already charging at Qin Fang again, seemingly eager for a rematch.

"Hold on..."

Qin Fang, while kicking over the remaining Koreans, waved his hand to stop him.

The young Korean paused slightly, looking at Qin Fang in surprise, apparently unsure what he intended, though common sense told him that this man was not to be messed with!

After dealing with the remaining Koreans, the ground was soon covered with groaning and pained Koreans, leaving only Qin Fang completely unscathed.

"Is your surname Ryu?"

Only then did Qin Fang turn his attention to the young Korean, asking calmly.

"How do you know?"

The young Korean was stunned, replying instinctively, but then quickly became vigilant, staring intently at Qin Fang.

"What's your relation to Liu Xianhe?"

Qin Fang ignored him and continued his questioning.

"Uh... Do you know my uncle?"

Upon hearing Liu Xianhe's name, the young Korean's caution vanished instantly, looking at Qin Fang with a peculiar expression and a flicker of unusual light in his eyes.

Qin Fang is from Dragon Country, and Liu Xianhe runs a Taekwondo Dojang there; it wasn't impossible for the two to be acquainted, which prompted this question from the young Korean.

"Of course, I know him... I have a pretty good relationship with him!"

Qin Fang shrugged, speaking nonchalantly.

He indeed knew Liu Xianhe, and even once fought and defeated Liu Xianhe, who had reached the Level 5 Peak at that time.

After that battle, Liu Xianhe treated Qin Fang well, even offering him his precious Yunluo Tea, and had once invited Qin Fang to visit Korea, hoping he would visit the Ryu Family.

If it were just such an invitation, Qin Fang wouldn't have bothered to make the trip, but after tasting the Yunluo Tea, he discovered something that piqued his interest.

The real uniqueness of Yunluo Tea wasn't just due to the tea itself, but because the tea trees were nourished by the Cold Pool Creek Water, making it a famous tea in Korea.

The peculiarity of the Cold Pool Creek Water lies in its content of the extremely precious Cold Jade Ice Crystal, indicating that under the Cold Abyss, there exists a very valuable Thousand-Year Cold Jade.

The Thousand-Year Cold Jade is a rare treasure, not only speeding up one's cultivation but also doubling the efficacy when used in medicine.

Because of this discovery, Qin Fang decided that when visiting Korea, he must visit the Ryu Family since even if the Cold Abyss was well-hidden, he naturally had ways to locate its whereabouts.

If he couldn't pry open the Ryu Family's mouths, could he not pry open their minds?

Though Mind Reading Technique doesn't mean much when used on a Martial Artist, Qin Fang has other secret tricks he can use. He doesn't believe that among so many in the Ryu Family, he wouldn't get a single bit of information.

Once he finds a clue, he'll be able to locate the Cold Abyss by himself, and naturally take away that piece of Thousand-Year Cold Jade.

Such a rare treasure being left with the Ryu Family only for nurturing tea trees is too much of a waste; it would be more appropriate to fall into Qin Fang's hands.

However, Qin Fang didn't plan on going straight to the Ryu Family immediately upon arriving in Korea; he intended to contact Liu Xianhe first to make the visit more convenient.

Even though he was going to steal their treasure, he couldn't just charge in head-on; stealing should be done secretly. At least on the surface, he should visit as a guest.

What Qin Fang didn't expect was that before he could visit the Ryu Family, they had already come to him, which surprised him a little.

"This might not be a bad thing..."

The young Korean who was beaten by Qin Fang was undoubtedly a Ryu Family member, and apparently even of Liu Xianhe's junior generation.

It's not very appropriate for Qin Fang to hit Liu Xianhe's nephew like this, but back when he fought with Liu Xianhe and even beat up Liu Xianhe's son, just a mere nephew is nothing much.

If one wants to be considered a guest of the Ryu Family, without some skills, it's definitely not feasible. Instead of dealing with it later, it's better to handle it now with better results.

While speaking, Qin Fang pulled out his phone and looked up Liu Xianhe's number, dialing it directly...

Fortunately, Qin Fang had activated global roaming for his trip to Hong Kong Island, otherwise he wouldn't be able to make calls here in Korea.

"Hello, Mr. Liu..."

The call connected quickly, and Liu Xianhe was very surprised to receive Qin Fang's call, but at the same time very pleased.

The two had a brief conversation, and the old Liu Xianhe even wanted to spar with Qin Fang again, seemingly still unconvinced about his previous loss.

To this, Qin Fang just chuckled and said, "I'm in Korea now, so I'm afraid even if you want to spar with me, it might not be possible..."

"You're in Korea?"

Upon hearing Qin Fang's words, Liu Xianhe was extremely surprised, "You're really in Korea?"

"Do I have a reason to lie?"

Noticing Liu Xianhe's odd reaction, Qin Fang couldn't help but smile bitterly.

"That's quite a coincidence, I've just returned to the country too..."

However, Liu Xianhe's next words explained why he was so surprised, even expressing very excitedly, "Mr. Qin, where are you now? I'll come over right away..."

"Well... I think it's not necessary!"

Qin Fang smiled, meeting Liu Xianhe wasn't really crucial. He believed that even if they didn't meet this time, Liu Xianhe would soon invite him again, so he wasn't in a hurry.

However, the immediate trouble needed to be dealt with, so he briefly explained the situation. "I am currently at Seoul University, and there was a little conflict with one of your nephews..."

"Mr. Qin, give me the phone, I'll handle this matter!"

Liu Xianhe, destined to be the future head of the Ryu Family, and a relatively authoritative voice, Qin Fang handed the phone to the young Liu, and watched as the unfortunate young man's face turned blue and white, as if Liu Xianhe was scolding him harshly over the phone...

The unfortunate kid was scolded so badly, his face turned green, yet he didn't dare to retort, showing that his family upbringing was quite good.

Or perhaps it's because Liu Xianhe's authority in the Ryu Family is quite strong, making the child not dare to go against him...

Anyway, seeing such a scene, Qin Fang knew that this matter should be relatively easy to handle, allowing him to relax a bit.

It's not that he's afraid of trouble, it's just that he doesn't want to stir up these trivial matters, bullies ordinary people are really uninteresting, it's better to find a grandmaster-level expert for a big fight...

"Mr. Qin, my uncle still wants to speak with you..."

After a while of scolding, the young Liu cautiously handed the phone back to Qin Fang and said very politely.

Although he still didn't understand Qin Fang's identity, his uncle Liu Xianhe's reaction showed that Qin Fang was clearly someone he shouldn't provoke.

And the strength Qin Fang demonstrated just now made him feel utterly hopeless. Looking at the dozens of people lying on the ground, his face twitched constantly.

Such strength is definitely not something ordinary people can achieve, let alone him, a martial artist at level 5, even his almost grandmaster-level uncle Liu Xianhe clearly couldn't do it... Not even his grandmaster-level grandfather could.

And Qin Fang was about his age, yet with such terrifying cultivation, it really hit him hard, making him no longer arrogant...

Qin Fang took the phone, and heard Liu Xianhe's voice coming from the other side.

"Mr. Qin, rest assured, I will have Liu Renfu handle this matter properly, and it won't cause you any trouble..."

Liu Xianhe made such a statement right after he opened his mouth.

He already knew the ins and outs of the matter. As a Korean who lived in Dragon Country for many years, Liu Xianhe knew very well the trouble these Koreans could cause.

If Qin Fang doesn't make an issue of it, it's fine. But if he insists, then the ones in trouble will definitely be the Koreans, even his nephew Liu Renfu would not escape this ordeal.

Having fought with Qin Fang before, even if he lost to Qin Fang, then it's needless to say about his inept nephew Liu Renfu...

Of course, his nephew Liu Renfu was already considered the most talented in martial arts among the third generation of the Ryu Family, otherwise, he wouldn't have reached level 5 in his early twenties, almost catching up with Liu Xianhe's strength, which is why Liu Xianhe is protecting his nephew like this.

As for handling this matter, it's actually not that difficult, as the Ryu Family is a major family in Korea, with a very strong position and power, even not much different from the Li Family of the Seven Stars Group.

Of course, the Li Family is a huge business conglomerate, while the Ryu Family is more of a martial arts family, though the family has also operated many businesses. Even if they haven't reached the wealth of the Seven Stars Li Family, they are definitely a renowned wealthy family.

Chapter 1573 - Fate!

No matter which country it is, a family with money and power always possesses certain privileges, holding a stronger position than the ordinary people.

Korea is no exception, and it is even more severe than many countries.

Take the Seven Stars Group for example. As Korea's leading corporate conglomerate, the Li Family of Seven Stars is akin to an overlord in Korea.

People might not know who the next president will be, but they absolutely know who the president of the Seven Stars Group is...

Korea is just a tiny country, although its economy is doing well, the Seven Stars Group remains a major enterprise.

If the Seven Stars Group were to suddenly collapse one day, the entire country would suffer a devastating blow...

It's precisely because of this that the Seven Stars Group holds a very special status in Korea, and the Li Family of Seven Stars is truly like an overlord, with almost no one daring to provoke them.

The Ryu Family, although not as prominent as the Li Family, is also a family that no one dares to provoke, handling matters very adeptly.

Especially since Liu Renfu was one of the participants in this incident, with a little effort, it was easy to brush this matter off.

Brushing it off was necessary, as Qin Fang was so forceful, facing a hundred opponents without a scratch, while nearly all of the hundred took a hit to some extent.

The injuries weren't severe, barely even considered injuries, just a bit of pain, but the impact on them was quite severe.

To have a hundred people assault one person and end up having the larger group get beaten makes for an unbelievable story; even if the police were involved, they likely wouldn't side with them, as the reason is simply too ridiculous.

"Thank you, Mr. Liu..."

With someone handling the matter for him, Qin Fang wasn't bothered about it anymore. He thanked Liu Xianhe over the phone and was about to hang up.

"Mr. Qin, if time allows, I hope you can visit the Ryu Family... I will be in the country for a while longer, and I will personally host you!"

Liu Xianhe naturally hadn't forgotten the initial invitation, and now the timing and location were appropriate, so he extended a warm invitation again.

"Let's see how it fits with my schedule. If there's no conflict, I'd be delighted..."

Qin Fang was already eager to go to the Ryu Family and find the Cold Abyss and bring out the Thousand-Year Cold Jade...

However, Qin Fang politely expressed his interest. His agreement was straightforward, though he didn't outright refuse, keeping his response vague seemed like the best course of action.

"Then I'll await your good news..."

Liu Xianhe understood Qin Fang's intention and didn't press the matter, instead politely bidding farewell before hanging up.

At this moment, Qin Fang also noticed the young man from the Ryu Family, Liu Renfu, busy dealing with the aftermath. Qin Fang didn't want to bother him and returned upstairs on his own.

He had no further business here; these Koreans had been taught a lesson and likely wouldn't dare to lay a hand on him again easily.

Because they couldn't hurt Qin Fang, and they might get a harsh beating from Qin Fang...

Returning to Tang Feifei's room, before Qin Fang could knock, the door opened automatically, causing a moment of panic as he feared Tang Feifei and the others might have been controlled in his absence.

Because before Qin Fang left, he instructed them not to open the door lightly for anyone, so the door opening was a bit unreasonable.

Fortunately, when the door opened, Tang Feifei, Xiao Muxue, and Wen Yan appeared simultaneously, with worried expressions on their faces, carefully checking Qin Fang.

"Are you alright?"

As the leader, Tang Feifei represented the concerns of the other two and asked worriedly.

"I'm fine... nothing happened! Don't overthink it..."

Qin Fang smiled and patted Tang Feifei's smooth hair as he spoke.

His voice was full of confidence, with no hint of discomfort, and his clothes were intact, without the slightest wrinkle.

In fact, during the incident downstairs, Tang Feifei and the others were watching attentively, although they didn't go down, they could see everything from the window.

They saw how Qin Fang faced a hundred people without fear and, with a dominant stance, utterly defeated them.

Witnessing this scene, although Tang Feifei and the others had anticipated Qin Fang's confidence, the reality still shocked them.

The three beauties did know that Qin Fang's strength was quite formidable, but just how formidable it was, they couldn't quite fathom. They could only have a rough idea in their minds.

However, that scene just now clearly went beyond the scale in their hearts. It was rather frightening, and they still hadn't completely calmed down even now.

Even though they knew Qin Fang didn't seem like someone who would suffer a loss, when Qin Fang actually returned, they couldn't help but feel anxious, afraid that Qin Fang had taken some hidden hit.

After all, Qin Fang was besieged by over a hundred people, and quite a few managed to get close. It's inevitable that someone might have landed a hit on Qin Fang... A single person might not be a threat, but ten or eight combined could be quite dangerous.

"I'm really fine, those people can't hurt me..."

Qin Fang was a bit speechless at the three women's unnecessary worry, but he knew it came from their concern for him, and naturally, he should enjoy that.

"By the way, this matter is over now. Those Koreans won't dare cause trouble anymore..."

Of course, Qin Fang didn't forget to report this matter.

Those Koreans got a beating from Qin Fang, so they'll probably behave more sensibly from now on. Plus, with Liu Renfu handling things, this kind of incident probably won't happen again, at least not while Qin Fang is in Korea.

"That would be best... Those Koreans are really annoying! Their brains must have been caught in a door..."

Recalling the events earlier, the three women couldn't help but express their irritation with huffs.

Although this is the Koreans' home turf, it was clearly their fault. But they didn't care about right or wrong and directly gathered so many people to cause trouble.

If they hadn't encountered a tough nut like Qin Fang, Tang Feifei and her friends, and all the Dragon Country students staying here, would have suffered a loss...

Don't underestimate these Koreans' shamelessness. To achieve their goals, they've long stopped caring about dignity and would do anything.

"By the way, enough about this... Weren't there supposed to be other exchange students? Why is it just the few of you? Where are the others?"

Since the matter was already resolved, continuing to talk about it served no purpose, so Qin Fang changed the topic, curiously asking.

This exchange group wasn't small, seemingly about twenty people, but the entire building seemed to only have Tang Feifei and her group, with no trace of the others.

If the others were still around, they wouldn't have let the Koreans bully their compatriots like this. Although Dragon Country people might like internal conflicts, when abroad, they're generally united, especially on short-term trips like this...

"They went to Jeju Island..."

Tang Feifei explained simply.

In fact, Tang Feifei and her group originally planned to go too, but things got delayed, and just as they were about to depart again, this incident coincidentally happened.

"Jeju Island... "

Hearing this place name, Qin Fang, who had long heard of it, knew Jeju Island was a great tourist spot in Korea, located amid the sea and close to the Dragon Country and North Korea.

Jeju Island's scenery is indeed beautiful, with mountains, water, and charming landscapes. Many tourists visiting Korea choose to take a trip there.

For exchange students like Tang Feifei, supposedly there for study, it was more a chance to travel, spending most of their time touring around Korea.

So it wasn't surprising at all that they went to Jeju Island...

But that's not the reason Qin Fang was muttering those three words. It's because... the Ryu Family is based on Jeju Island, at a landlord-like level.

"Looks like I really have a special connection with the Ryu Family..."

Not long ago, Qin Fang had spoken with Liu Xianhe on the phone, saying he'd visit the Ryu Family when he had time. Unexpectedly, Tang Feifei and her friends were planning to go to Jeju Island too, which was quite a coincidence, so naturally, Qin Fang had such a sigh.

"Since you're planning to go, why don't I join you? I've nothing else to do anyway; I'll accompany you for some fun..."

Since he was already in Korea, seizing the Thousand-Year Cold Jade was Qin Fang's primary goal, but accompanying Tang Feifei and her friends was also important.

Since both goals aligned, Qin Fang was more than willing and immediately smiled and said to Tang Feifei and the others.

"You're the best..."

Hearing Qin Fang's words, Tang Feifei and her friends immediately exclaimed in excitement, even rushing over to give Qin Fang several kisses on his face.

Qin Fang was usually busy, spending less time with them. Though they didn't say it, they were somewhat upset about it.

Especially with this exchange abroad, which was supposed to include Qin Fang, he was busy dealing with things in Jiangzhou and couldn't return, so they had to leave him behind.

Now Qin Fang had caught up, making Tang Feifei and her friends overjoyed. Knowing he'd accompany them to have fun added to their delight, leaving them ecstatic and excited.

Chapter 1574 - Arrival at Jeju Island!

...

Jeju Island is Korea's largest island, known as "Goryeo Hawaii," and indeed a beautiful vacation destination.

Qin Fang, along with Tang Feifei and the other two women, quickly arrived at Jeju Island for a sightseeing trip. It's a rare visit to Korea, and Jeju Island is a must-see place.

Originally, Qin Fang planned to contact Liu Xianhe, arranging a time to visit the Ryu Family.

However, Liu Xianhe called first, informing Qin Fang that the previous minor conflict had been settled by Liu Renfu, causing no trouble for Qin Fang; secondly, he invited Qin Fang to visit the Ryu Family on Jeju Island.

This was exactly what Qin Fang wanted. After a series of invitations and refusals, Qin Fang finally agreed with Liu Xianhe.

However, Qin Fang did not specify when he would visit the Ryu Family, only saying it would be within the coming days. Liu Xianhe understood and requested Qin Fang to contact him before visiting, so he could prepare vehicles and welcoming personnel.

But Qin Fang still brought Tang Feifei and the other two women over to play ahead of time, intending to delay the Ryu Family visit for a while.

The Ryu Family has been on Jeju Island for hundreds of years, and the Yunluo Tea is a secret passed down in the family, with only one person knowing the location each generation.

But Qin Fang felt that the location must still be somewhere on Jeju Island, even if finding that place seemed quite challenging.

Once, many people thought about finding it, but no one has ever succeeded, which shows how hidden the origin of Yunluo Tea is.

However, Qin Fang was not in a hurry. His priority was to quickly familiarize himself with Jeju Island's environment and terrain, especially the mountainous areas.

The Thousand-Year Cold Ice is presumed to be submerged in the Cold Abyss, with the Yun Luo Tea Tree growing nearby. Qin Fang guessed this place might be inside a mountain or at least a hidden cave.

The tea tree has stringent growing requirements; the more precious the tea tree, the stricter the conditions. Yunluo Tea is no exception.

Inside Yunluo Tea lies quite a few Cold Jade Ice Crystals, indicating the pool of water is likely stagnant or not frequently flowing.

If the water flowed like a waterfall, the Cold Jade Ice Crystals would have been washed away long ago, unable to be absorbed in such quantities by Yunluo Tea.

Thinking about it, Qin Fang felt the location must be inside one of Jeju Island's mountains.

Jeju Island is a large island with quite a few mountains, and finding the right mountain and cave is no simple task.

Qin Fang did not plan to find the place so quickly but intended to understand the mountains' positions, distributions, and relevant information at the very least.

This was why Qin Fang came ahead of time. Traveling with Tang Feifei and the others was one aspect; scouting was his serious task.

Jeju Island is a volcanic island formed by eruptions 1.2 million years ago, creating Korea's highest mountain... Halla Mountain!

Of course, Halla Mountain is the highest peak in Korea, but if placed in Dragon Country or compared globally, it would merely be a small mound.

Yet Koreans don't see it that way; Halla Mountain holds a high status in Korea, similar to Mount Fuji in Japan, and is regarded as a "sacred mountain."

This is not surprising. Upon reaching Jeju Island, Qin Fang and his group heard a legend about the island's origin.

Jeju Island was once known as the "Island of Myth." It is said that three immortals lived on the island and met three princesses from Bilang Country in the East Sea who arrived on rafts. They brought cows, horses, and seeds of five grains. Later, the immortals married the princesses, established a village, which marked the origin of Jeju Island. Jeju Island's famous attraction, the "Three Clans Cave," is a historical relic of this myth.

Of course, there's no need to verify the truth of this myth; no one truly believes in immortals, but Koreans highly respect this mythical island, and the highest peak, Halla Mountain, is also hailed as a "sacred mountain."

"Qin Fang, do you think we should climb this sacred mountain?"

Upon hearing the legend, Tang Feifei and the other two women snorted with laughter. Koreans have little history but love to make it seem like they were the earliest humans.

They treated the legend as utter nonsense, with Tang Feifei even joking about climbing the sacred mountain with indifference.

"Surely there's no problem... Since it's a sacred mountain, how can it not bow beneath our feet?"

Qin Fang had no fondness for Koreans and was dismissive of their so-called sacred mountain. To him, a mountain not even two thousand meters tall claiming to be a sacred mountain was laughable.

"Three princesses, please..."

Just after hearing this legend, Qin Fang quickly picked it up and joked, "I'm the only immortal here, so don't hold it against me, okay?"

Traveling to Jeju Island is quite convenient for Qin Fang and those who can proficiently speak Korean... Especially since Koreans and Dragon Country People are quite similar, it's hard to tell them apart unless they start talking.

First, they found a hotel on the island and settled down, then rented a car so they could freely explore around. They're carefree, money's no problem, so they could be more relaxed and comfortable.

It's already spring, just the best season for visiting Jeju Island, but the temperature hasn't risen much yet. Thus, tourists at places like beaches are relatively fewer, but it doesn't affect the enthusiasm of Qin Fang and her companions...

Besides the ocean and beaches, Jeju Island's bizarre caves and pillars attract the most attention from tourists. However, Qin Fang and her friends weren't too interested. Those caves are pitch-dark; even with some lights, they're too gloomy... Not favored by the three beauties, they were naturally ruled out.

Tang Feifei and her friends didn't get in touch with classmates who arrived earlier; instead, they explored around with Qin Fang as a quartet.

They couldn't enjoy a world for two, but a world for four was quite nice too, allowing time to cozy up with Qin Fang.

"Let's go to the east coast of Jeju Island. They say there's diving there..."

Qin Fang didn't know much about Jeju Island either; apart from some information found online, he learned these details by asking locals or hotel staff.

At this time, swimming is definitely off the table, but diving isn't really affected. With diving gear on, the temperature rises considerably.

"Diving... Great, let's go diving!"

The three beauties brightened up at the sound of this, seemingly very interested, and immediately insisted on going together.

Swimming in the sea in this season is out of the question, so flaunting their figures has no place. These three have been quite flirtatious with Qin Fang.

But the three sisters, usually quite reserved, only reveal their impressive figures boldly when wearing swimsuits.

This season isn't right for that, but diving seems a good alternative.

Tang Feifei gave Qin Fang a playfully meaningful look, blinking as if trying to remind Qin Fang of something.

Qin Fang got the hint, knowing what Tang Feifei wanted to convey.

During an outing in Hong Kong Island, Qin Fang took Tang Feifei on a joyride with Little Dragon, enjoying a true dive in the sea.

Compared to that, diving with gear seems far less technical.

But that's a little secret shared solely between Qin Fang and Tang Feifei; although sharing it with the sisters sounds great, Tang Feifei's little selfish side wants to keep it a private secret.

Tang Feifei's little thought was clear to Qin Fang as well, but he chose not to reveal it. He owed Tang Feifei much, that little secret is hers to keep.

"Koreans here on Jeju Island are quite peculiar; they still maintain some matriarchal traits, like a place we're heading, the east coast of Jeju Island, where women run everything and make a living..."

"Sea women are the most typical career women. They often dive along steep reefs to gather clams, abalones, sea cucumbers, and sea snails, while men stay home handling household duties..."

On the way to the diving spot, Qin Fang explained these tidbits to Tang Feifei and the others, leaving them quite amazed.

Screech~~

At that very moment, a sports car suddenly zoomed by their car, narrowly avoiding a collision with Qin Fang's car.

Only because of Qin Fang's quick reaction and a swift turn of the steering wheel at a very small angle did they barely dodge it.

Even so, it gave Tang Feifei and the others a feeling of life and death terror, while that reckless sports car roared off rapidly and disappeared from view.

"Damn, these Korean rich brats are the same..."

Watching the sports car speeding away—a flashy Lamborghini Reventon limited edition—Qin Fang, who mixed in Dragon Country's high society, hadn't seen many people owning such cars.

It's not that they can't afford the car, probably priced around fifteen million or more, but being limited edition makes it hard to purchase. Without connections, don't even think about getting one...

Chapter 1575 - Fierce Counterattack!

...

The Lamborghini Reventón is absolutely one of the top sports cars on Earth, its appearance, power, speed, and many other aspects are at the utmost peak.

Of course, the price also makes many people sigh with regret.

For instance, an older brother that Qin Fang knows, who's Qin Fang's future brother-in-law, Ning Weiqiang, really desires to buy a Lamborghini Reventón.

Unfortunately, his father's identity is special, so he can't be too ostentatious, and this car isn't something you can just buy easily. He can only envy and resent but doesn't have the opportunity to get one to enjoy.

"Should I order one for him to drive someday?"

Watching the little golden bull vanish into the distance, Qin Fang couldn't help but think to himself.

The relationship between Qin Fang and Ning Yumo has already been broken through, but they haven't had any overly intimate contact. Judging by the situation, it seems that Ning Weiqiang might really turn from elder brother to brother-in-law.

It's not inappropriate for Qin Fang, as the future brother-in-law, to buy a car for his brother-in-law, especially since money to Qin Fang is just a number now.

For Ning Weiqiang to order, he'd probably have to wait years before taking delivery, but Qin Fang has much more reliable connections than Ning Weiqiang.

For example, on Hong Kong Island, both Second Master Kong and Master Qu have excellent relationships with Qin Fang. Asking them for this favor is not a particularly difficult matter.

Especially Second Master Kong; his family has a very good cooperative relationship with the Volkswagen Group in Germany, and the Lamborghini company has long been under the Volkswagen Group. With this connection, it should be rather easy.

Of course, that's Qin Fang's wild imagination.

Compared to such a supercar, the ordinary Hyundai sedan Qin Fang rented feels a bit below par...

Speaking of Koreans, despite their shameless nature, their national pride is something Qin Fang can't help but admire.

If Koreans despise any country the most, without a doubt, it's Japan. Their boycott of Japanese products is much stronger than that of the Dragon Country people, and they greatly uphold their own brands, like using Seven-star for electronics and Hyundai for cars...

Although Qin Fang isn't very fond of Korean cars, upon arriving in this magical country, he had to do as the locals do. But unexpectedly, soon after arriving on Jeju Island, he got teased by a Korean rich second generation.

Watching the Lamborghini Reventón drive off into the distance, Qin Fang wanted to chase with his beat-up Hyundai... but considering there were three beauties in the car, and not wanting to worry them, Qin Fang decided against it.

However, there is a saying "Enemies cross paths on narrow roads," which is really quite true.

When Qin Fang and the others arrived at their destination, a resort on the eastern coast of Jeju Island, they saw the black Lamborghini Reventón parked in the parking lot.

Such sports cars are very rare. Seeing just one is uncommon, so it's impossible to see two identical ones in the same place. Without a doubt, this car was the one that almost collided with Qin Fang's car earlier.

"Qin Fang, don't make trouble..."

Feeling Qin Fang's anger, Tang Feifei and the others feared he might get too impulsive and cause trouble, so they immediately tried to hold him back.

"Don't worry, I'm not planning to do anything..."

Qin Fang shrugged, presenting a very innocent expression.

He honestly didn't want to let that kid who teased him get off comfortably; however, with the three beauties intervening, Qin Fang couldn't do much and chose to follow their wishes.

However...

Could Qin Fang give up his idea so easily?

Clearly not!

The Lamborghini Reventón was parked in a corner of the parking lot with no other cars around, seemingly enjoying some kind of privilege.

But after a simple observation, Qin Fang noticed that directly above the Lamborghini Reventón was an advertising board, detailing the resort's information and welcoming visitors...

The advertising board was quite large, about ten meters or so, supported by a very sturdy steel structure.

"Kid, blame your own arrogance..."

Seeing this advertising board, Qin Fang revealed a sinister grin. That's just how he is—if people don't mess with him, he won't mess with them. But if people do, he won't let it slide...

Qin Fang didn't know who was driving that car, not even the gender of the driver. But driving fast on such a road is bad enough; deliberately teasing Qin Fang and almost causing an accident was something Qin Fang couldn't let go of.

Tang Feifei and the two other girls were in the car but were not as aware of the situation as Qin Fang. If they were, they probably would have been more furious than Qin Fang.

Qin Fang planned for Tang Feifei and the three girls to buy diving equipment at the resort while he excused himself to the restroom where he disappeared for a while.

Qin Fang didn't foolishly get too close to that car; instead, he kept a distance of at least fifty meters away, suddenly releasing the puppet and handing it the Flowing Shadow Sword.

Then Qin Fang, controlling with his mind, manipulated the puppet wielding the Flowing Shadow Sword to head that way...

But the puppet didn't directly go to damage the Lamborghini Reventón. Instead, it went to the corner area and quickly swung the Flowing Shadow Sword at the steel structure supporting the advertising board...

Clank, clank, clank~~

The puppet possessed incredible strength, and the Flowing Shadow Sword was unrivaled in sharpness, combining into an extremely violent force.

The sword swiftly sliced through the steel structure supporting the massive advertising board. It wasn't quite like cutting through tofu, but the puppet's brute strength coupled with the sword's sharpness easily severed the supporting steel structure.

Then...

Before the puppet could even finish severing all the steel structures, the massive advertising board was already unable to stand properly, quickly toppling down.

Very unfortunately, the Lamborghini Reventón was parked directly beneath it, and since no one was in the car, moving it was impossible.

The security guard noticed this scene but was so shocked that he didn't know how to react.

Qin Fang assessed the situation, seeing the board falling right where the Lamborghini Reventón was parked, and immediately contentedly retracted the puppet and Flowing Shadow Sword, erasing all evidence!

Boom~~

Almost simultaneously, a loud crash echoed as the enormous advertising board completely collapsed, crushing the Lamborghini Reventón beneath it...

...

Although the Lamborghini Reventon is a top-tier sports car, its quality is undeniably top-notch, but after being crushed by this advertisement billboard weighing over ten tons of steel structure, the vehicle was completely flattened with a bang...

Such an impact may not match the collision of vehicles at high speed, but it's no less than the weight of those large trucks flipping over.

At least with such a powerful impact, the car's main structure held up against the pressure and didn't collapse completely like some Japanese cars, but it still suffered significant damage.

Especially the four tires, which burst with four sharp sounds, all blowing out instantly...

The alarm sounded, and the security guards from the parking lot immediately rushed over... Meanwhile, Qin Fang, the mastermind behind the puppet person, had already quietly left.

Although there was surveillance in the parking lot, Qin Fang had already prepared beforehand, blocking the angles that could capture the footage before acting.

Not to mention, the billboard location was already a blind spot for cameras, making it impossible to capture the puppet person... The most it could capture was a simple shadow from other camera angles.

However...

After completing the task, the puppet person was immediately retrieved by Qin Fang back into the Props Box. Even if more people came to search, they absolutely couldn't find it.

Qin Fang, the true culprit behind the scenes, was naturally at large...

This matter was just a small issue, and after resolving it, Qin Fang would soon forget it. At least after leaving the parking lot area, he had already stopped thinking about it.

It's just when Qin Fang went looking for the three women, including Tang Feifei, who were buying diving equipment, he saw the three women running toward him with slightly anxious expressions.

"What's wrong? Why are you in such a hurry..."

Qin Fang was also stunned, surprised he asked.

These three beauties were merely going to buy diving gear and tools, but why did they look like they were up to something illegal?

"Qin Fang, we...we got into trouble!"

Seeing Qin Fang, Tang Feifei and the other two showed some relief, but Tang Feifei still spoke worriedly, looking anxious and somewhat flustered.

"Got into trouble? What kind of trouble?"

Qin Fang paused upon hearing this, thinking that these three beauties wouldn't be capable of causing much trouble, "Did you break something? It's just a matter of paying for it, right..."

Qin Fang chuckled, indicating that if a problem can be solved with money, it's hardly a problem at all. At least money is just a string of numbers to Qin Fang, it doesn't represent much.

"It's not about things...it's about people!"

Tang Feifei glanced carefully at Qin Fang before speaking cautiously.

"People?"

Qin Fang was taken aback, starting to vaguely understand what Tang Feifei and the others meant.

"What happened?"

However, Qin Fang understood Tang Feifei and the others weren't the type to cause trouble, so if they hurt someone now, something must have happened, prompting him to furrow his brows and ask.

That's how Qin Fang is—if people don't provoke him, he won't provoke them, and Tang Feifei and the others are much the same; unless someone deliberately instigates, they wouldn't take the initiative to act against others.

Tang Feifei now is an Intermediate Ninja, with skills equivalent to a Level 5 Expert, more formidable than most special forces soldiers, so it's not surprising that fighting her, ordinary people could easily be hurt.

But the problem is, Qin Fang is extremely protective. His wife being bullied, even if she has already fought back, doesn't mean Qin Fang would let things go so easily.

"Here's how it is..."

Tang Feifei hesitated for a moment, still prepared to tell the whole story.

"Over there! Over there..."

Yet at this moment, such voices came from not far away, spoken in Korean, clearly showing the ones coming were a group of local thugs heading straight for Qin Fang and them.

In fact, the phrase "over there" actually referred to Tang Feifei and the other two, as several formidable figures quickly surrounded Qin Fang and the girls.

These individuals were evidently locals from Jeju Island, and quite frankly, judging by their appearance, they didn't seem like good people, probably just hooligans.

However, these hooligans were somewhat different from those in Dragon Country. In Dragon Country, they might dye hair in a rainbow of colors or have tattoos, but these here had nose piercings, tongue rings, or carried some bizarre styling...

These hooligans looked more like circus clowns than thugs!

"Ignore them, just tell what happened..."

Tang Feifei and the other two seemed a bit nervous, cautiously watching these Korean hooligans, yet Qin Fang appeared unconcerned, saying he was more interested in the events that transpired.

Tang Feifei hesitated a bit, albeit wary of these thugs, but with Qin Fang present, she felt much safer, her heart relaxed significantly, calmly narrating the events that just happened.

Chapter 1577 - One-Sided Conflict! (Part 2)

Actually, this is quite a melodramatic story.

Qin Fang left on some pretext to carry out his evil sabotage plan, while Tang Feifei and the other two women went to a shop in the resort specifically renting and selling diving gear to purchase equipment.

But inside the shop, they encountered a young man who, upon seeing Tang Feifei and the other two, immediately came over to flirt with them. Unfortunately, the three women didn't bother to acknowledge him.

Yet, this young man was undeterred and kept pestering them. Even when the three women turned their backs and ignored him while selecting diving equipment, he sneakily extended his hand, aiming to touch Tang Feifei's curvy backside...

Tang Feifei was an Intermediate Ninja, with a far keener sense of her surroundings than ordinary people. Before the rascal's dirty hand reached her, she had already sensed it instinctively and delivered a swift kick to his crotch...

The aftermath... that was predictable.

Tang Feifei, a Level 5 Expert, possessed considerable strength, and her kick to that sensitive area was a devastating move against men. Almost instantly, the guy let out a scream and collapsed, passing out, while his body twitched uncontrollably...

This scene frightened Tang Feifei and the other two women, causing them to abandon picking out diving equipment and rush to find Qin Fang.

As they just exited the shop, they encountered a group of thugs. Upon seeing the boy knocked unconscious, they inquired with the shop owner and immediately chased after them. It seemed like these people were either the boy's underlings or had some close connection with him.

"Damn it, how dare you lay hands on my woman..."

After hearing Tang Feifei briefly recount the truth of the matter, Qin Fang became furious. Men are possessive, especially regarding women, and they won't tolerate any slight.

That boy had dared to touch Tang Feifei. Though he didn't succeed, Qin Fang's anger was instantly ignited, and his face turned savage.

His gaze lightly swept over the faces of the thugs present, and his fierce killing intent almost made them tremble involuntarily.

In his rage, Qin Fang's aura at the Grandmaster Level Peak became completely ferocious. These thugs were just ordinary people; under such pressure, not immediately turning to flee was quite bold of them.

Of course, this was because Qin Fang was still suppressing his anger; otherwise, even with a slight release of killing intent, someone might soil themselves.

"Where are those three women?"

Before Qin Fang could act, he heard an enraged voice roaring from the back of the crowd. The crowd automatically parted to let this person through.

To be precise, the person arrived on a resort electric cart, but from his leg-clenching stance, it was clear he was the lecher who had been kicked by Tang Feifei.

Qin Fang was worried the boy had fainted, planning to go over and give him a good thrashing. Unexpectedly, the fellow came of his own accord, daring indeed.

"Grab them for me... Damn wenches, dare to hit me!"

That boy was also furious from the kick, in a foul mood, commanding the nearby thugs the moment he came in.

"I'll make you pay for kicking me; soon you'll beg to live, unable to die..."

His originally handsome face now appeared particularly hideous and terrifying, clearly blinded by anger, even ignoring Qin Fang next to the three women.

"Capture them... Hah, who dares?"

Qin Fang didn't intend to spare the boy, but surprisingly, the boy was angrier than him, or perhaps confident in his numbers, completely disregarding Qin Fang and the women.

This action and the words provoked Qin Fang immediately, stepping forward with a fierce gaze that made many shrink back involuntarily.

And Qin Fang himself moved slightly, practically vanishing from the spot...

The thugs hadn't reacted when the boy in the electric cart seemed to be grabbed by something, flying straight out of the vehicle, quickly soaring through the air toward a tree trunk nearby...

"Help... Help!"

The young Korean was terrified, suddenly thrown out with no control over his body. Most concerning was the approaching tree trunk, thick and sturdy, potentially cracking his skull upon impact.

At this moment, the young Korean couldn't maintain pretense, emitting a scream calling for help.

Surprisingly, his call was effective; someone from the crowd immediately darted out, swiftly chasing the young Korean.

The person moved remarkably fast, even quicker than the flying young Korean, possibly reaching him before crashing into the tree.

Chapter 1578 - One-Sided Conflict! (Part 3)

The idea is quite good and has great feasibility, but the problem is, will Qin Fang give them such a chance to escape?

"Hmph... Are they out?"

Qin Fang sneered, his body moved once again, instantly turning into a black shadow, quickly chasing after the little Korean still flying in mid-air.

The advantage of the Snow Traversing Step movement technique was extremely apparent, combined with Qin Fang's inherently powerful burst of strength. Although he started off a bit slow, he caught up in just a few steps.

The expert who appeared later was about to grab the little Korean's leg when suddenly a foot appeared in front of him, and then...

Bam~~

A dull thumping sound.

"Ah~~"

Accompanied by a man's scream, the expert was kicked high into the air like a cannonball, crashing into the crowd of stunned gangsters nearby.

No one came to help, and the little Korean's hopes were instantly dashed as he watched himself getting closer and closer to the tree's trunk...

At this moment, avoiding was impossible, no one could save him now. In his despair, the little Korean gritted his teeth, brought his body into a slight shiver, and adjusted his body's angle slightly.

Originally he was going to hit the tree with his head and neck, but he managed to turn it so his back was facing the tree trunk...

Bam~~

The little Korean's body slammed into the tree trunk with a dull thud, causing the tree to tremble violently, with leaves continuously falling down, showing how heavy the impact was...

The poor little Korean was now lying under the tree, blissfully unconscious again... Yet, even so, his body suffered extremely severe collisions, with at least four ribs broken...

As for other bumps and bruises, they were countless, and the internal injuries were unavoidable; just this alone was enough to see him laid up in the hospital for at least two to three months.

With the Korean out of commission here, Qin Fang didn't have to continue fighting; this guy already got his comeuppance...

And the expert who was kicked away by Qin Fang also seemed to be secretly protecting the little Korean, whose situation wasn't any better than his master's at the moment.

He was kicked by Qin Fang, his body flying backward like a cannonball, crashing into the wide-eyed crowd of gangsters, and the powerful impact immediately sent at least three people flying, with another dozen or so being knocked over, finally coming to a stop...

In just that instance, at least ten people were injured, four rendered unconscious!

The gangsters who chased after Qin Fang were more than half incapacitated in just one move, with only five or six still standing, albeit looking terrified...

The fight from start to finish lasted only a few seconds, but the changes were enormous.

A moment ago, the Koreans were dominant in numbers and arrogance, as if they had all the advantages and could do whatever they wished.

The next moment, though still advantaged in numbers, they became fearful, not daring to make any rash moves, while the ground was littered with injured, some unconscious, others wailing incessantly...

Everyone looked at Qin Fang with eyes full of awe, truly frightened!

"Qin Fang, won't this cause any trouble?"

Seeing this scene, Tang Feifei and the others naturally knew the crisis was resolved, but seeing the injured on the ground, they couldn't help but ask.

After all, this was not within Dragon Country; they had no special privileges here. If the Koreans pursued the matter, it would be quite a hassle, no wonder Tang Feifei had such concerns.

"Don't worry, it won't be a problem..."

Qin Fang replied nonchalantly, seemingly not concerned about what just happened.

"No worries, I'll find someone to handle this..."

However, understanding the worry from Tang Feifei and the other two women, fearing he might suffer losses, he reassured them and quickly took out his phone to dial.

Qin Fang knew few people in Korea, besides Li Enhui from the Seven Stars Group, there was Liu Xianhe from the Ryu family, and it was to Liu Xianhe that this call was made.

"I clashed with people from the J Family on Jeju Island, handle it as you see fit..."

To Tang Feifei and the others' surprise, upon the call connecting, Qin Fang didn't exchange any pleasantries; he merely said this simple line and immediately hung up.

"The J Family..."

Yet Tang Feifei and the other women captured a key word from Qin Fang's brief mention, noticing that this little Korean seemed to have some background.

They weren't clear on what that might be, but for Qin Fang, also meeting them for the first time, he seemed aware, which caught them by surprise.

The J Family and the Ryu Family are both quite powerful martial arts clans in Korea, with similar standing and strength, and to top it off, they are historical rivals.

Coincidentally, this little Korean is from the J Family, and the expert kicked by Qin Fang was likely his bodyguard, suggesting that this little Korean holds some status within the J Family.

Jeju Island is the Ryu Family's domain and foundation, yet this J Family Korean appeared here unexpectedly, rounding up so many local gangsters. If the Ryu family knew, it would be intriguing...

Qin Fang now conveniently passed this matter to the Ryu family. With the J Family and Ryu Family as rivals, he essentially escalated the issue directly for the Ryu family to deal with...

With this, Qin Fang was relieved, leaving the Ryu Family as the most troubled one!

...

Jeju Island, Ryu Family,

Liu Xianhe learned about what happened from Qin Fang and also realized that the young guy from the J Family had already fallen into Qin Fang's hands. His face immediately turned dark.

"The people from the J Family are really arrogant, daring to stir up trouble on Jeju Island... I won't let this go easily!"

After putting down the phone, Liu Xianhe couldn't help but express his indignation.

The feud between the J Family and the Ryu Family has been ongoing for many years, with both being major competitors and always extremely hostile towards each other.

Each family has its own territory, and generally, they try to avoid conflicts in each other's territories. Naturally, Liu Xianhe was really annoyed by a young guy from the J Family causing trouble on Jeju Island, especially when knocked out by Qin.

In the martial world of Korea, the strongest families are the Fu Family and the Cui Family, both having Grandmaster-level experts with long-standing traditions and high status.

Next are the Ryu, J, and Li Families, considered second-rate families in Korea, but they also have Grandmaster-level experts...

However, the martial world in Korea has been substantially weakened. Grandmaster-level experts are rarely seen, and even the second-rate martial arts clans are gradually declining, with the Ryu Family heading in that direction.

The Ryu Family currently only has two Grandmaster-level experts, one being the elderly Ryu old man and the other being Liu Xianhe's cousin. Then there is Liu Xianhe, who has always been a step away from reaching the Grandmaster Level.

However, the old Ryu is well advanced in years, already in his twilight years, and retired early from the position of Family Head, passing it to his son Liu Xianhe.

But for important decisions in the Ryu Family, they still generally rely on him, especially during the two years when Liu Xianhe was in the Dragon Country seeking a breakthrough. He managed most of the affairs.

Inviting Qin Fang to the Ryu Family was Liu Xianhe's decision and also the decision of the old Ryu.

"What? He hit someone from the J Family?"

But right at this critical point, Qin Fang caused such a stir as soon as he arrived on Jeju Island, indeed shocking the people of the Ryu Family.

"So what if he hit someone from the J Family? If someone from the J Family dares to cause trouble in the territory of the Ryu Family, even if Qin Fang didn't make a move, I definitely wouldn't let it slide..."

Liu Xianhe's attitude was extremely tough, deeply dissatisfied with the J Family, almost on the verge of capturing that young guy and punishing him.

"Moreover, Qin Fang is a guest of the Ryu Family. How could we allow our guest to be bullied on our territory without losing face?"

As for the matter of Qin Fang dealing with that young guy from the J Family, he himself took a supportive stance.

"Uncle, actually... in the years you've been away from home, the J Family has changed quite a bit!"

Next to him, Liu Renfu couldn't help but speak cautiously.

His strength had reached Level 5, making him a substantial expert in the Ryu Family. Although he was of a lower generation, he was qualified to listen in on some major family matters, and occasionally, he could voice his opinion.

After the conflict with Qin Fang, he discreetly cleaned up the mess for Qin Fang and immediately returned to the Ryu Family, just in time for this family meeting.

Liu Renfu, while intimidated by Qin Fang, was also quite wary of his strength. The sense of helplessness he felt back then still made his heart tremble.

But listening to Uncle Liu Xianhe's tough stance, the other family members had a strange look on their faces but did not speak up, so he had to gently remind.

"Quite different? How so... Could the J Family have possibly come to dominate over the Ryu Family?"

Liu Xianhe, having spent two years in the Dragon Country primarily seeking out experts for dueling and trying to find a breakthrough, did not inquire much about the movements in the Ryu Family, thus knowing very little.

Upon hearing Liu Renfu's words, Liu Xianhe was immediately displeased, glaring and demanding fiercely.

"Ahem... ahem..."

At this moment, someone else stood up and cleared his throat a couple of times, preparing to speak, "Big Brother, indeed some things have happened while you were away these past two years... The J Family has formed an alliance with the Cui Family, and Jin Zhengming has broken through to Master Level Late Stage!"

The speaker was another Grandmaster-level expert of the Ryu Family, Liu Xianjun, Liu Xianhe's cousin, a mid-master-level expert who could initially match Jin Zhengming of the J Family.

"What?"

Liu Xianhe's face changed upon hearing this, with a flicker of unusual light in his eyes.

Jin Zhengming held a status in the J Family comparable to Liu Xianhe and was the family head, but unlike Liu Xianhe, Jin Zhengming was legitimately a mid-master-level expert.

Unexpectedly, after two years without seeing each other, Liu Xianhe hadn't managed a breakthrough to Grandmaster Level, yet Jin Zhengming had advanced to Master Level Late Stage, further widening the gap between them.

Although this situation was worrisome, the Ryu Family was fortunate to have a Master Level Peak ancestor, the old Ryu, despite his age and weakened vitality. If a fight were to break out, Jin Zhengming wouldn't dare act recklessly.

The truly shocking development for Liu Xianhe was that the J Family had actually allied with the first-rate martial arts family, the Cui Family, a dramatic change from the past.

Chapter 1580 - These Pieces of Scrap Are No Match for Me!

Just as the Ryu Family and the J Family are sworn enemies, the two top-tier families, the Cui Family and the Fu Family, have also been sworn enemies for hundreds of years.

Other martial arts clans, to avoid involving their families in the warfare between such large families, dare not easily marry into or form alliances with these two great families.

The strength of the two great families is evenly matched, and after hundreds of years, neither can gain a decisive victory, let alone destroy the other, but obliterating these second-tier families isn't a difficult task.

As for hoping that an in-law will intervene, causing a massive family war, that possibility is extremely low...

Rather than being sent to be cannon fodder, it's better to avoid them as much as possible... and that's why no one easily touches this forbidden line.

But now that the J Family has actually aligned with the Cui Family, Liu Xianhe's initial reaction was that the J Family was courting disaster, yet upon seeing the reactions of the other members of the Ryu Family, he immediately felt something was amiss.

"What's going on here?"

Liu Xianhe asked with a face full of surprise.

"Fu Qinglin had an accident while training, rumored to have gone into a closed-door healing..."

Liu Junxian was silent for a moment before speaking slowly.

Upon hearing this, Liu Xianhe's expression changed dramatically, obviously deeply shocked by this news.

Fu Qinglin is the head of the Fu Family and a grandmaster-level expert, considered to be the premier force in the Fu Family, and together with Cui Haoyu of the Cui Family, they are known as the two top experts in Korea.

Yet, unexpectedly, Fu Qinglin had an accident while training and has gone into closed-door healing, clearly indicating a significant issue. Whether he could come out alive is a question,

At this time, it's naturally a great opportunity for the Cui Family to develop themselves vigorously, but for the Cui Family to outright attack the Fu Family is clearly unrealistic. So, the Cui Family employed an indirect method, aligning with the relatively strong J Family among the second-tier families to suppress other families and occupy more territory...

The Ryu Family in Jeju Island and the J Family have long been enemies. Now that the J Family has risen, they naturally won't treat the Ryu Family kindly and have immediately started targeting the Ryu Family.

So, sending people gradually to advance into Jeju Island is the J Family's attack strategy.

It just so happened to encounter Qin Fang, which was akin to stirring up a hornet's nest...

"No matter what, our Ryu Family cannot allow our guest to have any accidents on our territory..."

Although Liu Xianhe's expression became quite unpleasant, his attitude remained very firm.

However, he did not notice that when he said this sentence, a trace of sharpness and dissatisfaction flashed in Liu Junxian's eyes, but he hid it well enough that no one noticed.

...

Qin Fang wasn't concerned about the reaction from the Ryu Family's side, nor did he bother dealing with those small-time thugs. He directly took out a rope from the Props Box, tied up the kid surnamed Jin along with his bodyguard into a bundle, and then hung them on a tree...

The position they were hung was quite high. Ding Chen had the Traceless Snow Stepping Technique, so scaling walls wasn't a problem. A mere five or six meters high branch was difficult, but it didn't stop him.

Moreover, the rope was also tied to a relatively high place, making it not easy to get them down. Not to mention, those small-time thugs were already frightened away by Qin Fang, and didn't dare stay there any longer.

After resolving this matter, Qin Fang took Tang Feifei and the other three women to buy diving equipment once again, then directly went out to sea for diving, temporarily putting the matter aside.

Tang Feifei and the others did not take this matter to heart either, Qin Fang had already told them to let the Ryu Family handle it. Considering the incident at Seoul University, wasn't it also resolved by the Ryu Family? This time was just a minor issue...

However, Qin Fang didn't tell them that this kid's background wasn't trivial, not any weaker than the Ryu Family.

Of course, even Qin Fang himself didn't know that the current J Family was actually more powerful and aggressive than the Ryu Family... Nevertheless, even if he knew, Qin Fang still wouldn't care.

Qin Fang directly led Tang Feifei and the others with diving equipment, set sail, and left those two unfortunate kids hanging on the tree pitifully. Ironically, the location was quite prominent, almost guaranteed to be seen by anyone who came to this resort.

The people at the resort didn't dare to act rashly, let alone easily let them down. Qin Fang's fierce, aggressive gaze before leaving practically made them shiver with fear, not daring to step out of line.

And so, that J Family kid and his bodyguard hung there until Qin Fang and the others came back from their sea adventure, still hanging there.

However, during this period, people from both the J Family and the Ryu Family had already gathered at the resort...

From the Ryu Family's side came Liu Xianhe and Liu Junxian, along with some younger martial artists of the family, including Liu Renfu.

The J Family sent quite a few people too, but since this wasn't the J Family's territory, the presence didn't match the Ryu Family's. At least, the Ryu Family's head, Liu Xianhe, was present while the J Family's head, Jin Zhengming, did not appear, only sending his brother, Jin Zhengxi, over.

"Uncle, save me..."

The J Family kid had already woken up from his unconscious state, but being hung there was quite uncomfortable, wanting someone to rescue him, yet everyone stayed far away, avoiding being seen by them.
