Chapter 199: Catching the Thief with the Loot_1

...

Qin Fang's magic trick had nearly conquered all the spectators, so much so that even after Qin Fang declined to perform any further and led Tang Feifei off the stage by the hand, the audience below were still guessing how he had pulled off that trick, to the extent that they paid no attention to the performances that followed.

"That was brilliant!"

Xiao Muxue greeted them with words of admiration as soon as they stepped off the stage.

"Thank you!"

Qin Fang politely expressed his gratitude, but he didn't dare to look directly at Xiao Muxue's slightly resentful eyes. At least Qin Fang noticed that she seemed to care more about the bunch of roses in Tang Feifei's hand, which were lusciously seductive.

"Muxue, look, the flowers Fangfang gave me!"

Tang Feifei, whether intentionally or not, showed off the flowers Qin Fang had given her to Xiao Muxue, which only added to the resentment in Xiao Muxue's eyes.

"Feifei, don't make a fuss now. Muxue's performance is about to start..."

With no other alternative, Qin Fang changed the subject, and it wasn't long before the host called the cue, and it was Xiao Muxue's turn.

"Eh, what's this? Such a big patch of bloodstain here..."

Around the auditorium, there were some streetlights, but their light was dim. The lush trees added to the darkness, blocking a great deal of light and leaving only a vague path visible as they walked.

As the three of them were walking, Qin Fang suddenly stopped in his tracks, voicing his surprise.

Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue were also slightly taken aback and used their mobile phones to shine a light on the ground, where there really was a pool of crimson blood.

"It seems it hasn't completely dried yet, it must not have been dripping for very long... This is..."

Qin Fang reached out to test the bloodstain with a finger, finding it still moist and not yet dry, immediately began to analyze, while looking at the environment around him, muttering in surprise.

"Qin Fang, Li Feng's car seemed to have been parked here earlier..." Xiao Muxue said, her voice suddenly rising.

"Right, I found bloodstains on his car earlier and even touched them, but I didn't pay much attention at the time. Could it be..."

Qin Fang immediately went along with the line of reasoning, even giving a reasonable explanation for the prior action of disposing of the body.

"Fangfang, you mean... Call the police quickly, no, call Sister Ning!"

Although Tang Feifei didn't understand what Qin Fang and Xiao Muxue were getting at with their back-and-forth, the mention of bloodstains and Li Feng made her suggest immediately.

"Okay, I'll call her now!"

Qin Fang nodded and immediately took out his mobile phone to call Ning Yumo. Beside him, Tang Feifei looked on nervously, not daring to pay attention to the bloodstain on the ground, while Xiao Muxue's eyes flickered with a strange light, quietly watching Qin Fang.

"Sister Ning, I've discovered something very strange..."

"What is it?"

"Li Feng came to the school's performance today, driving a red Ferrari with the license plate number Jiang AXXXX. I found bloodstains on the back of his trunk, but I didn't pay much attention at the time. Just now, after the performance ended, I discovered a pool of blood on the parking spot where his car had been..."

Qin Fang stopped here, believing Ning Yumo would understand the situation.

"Is this true?"

Ning Yumo was almost stunned when she heard this news, her heart filled with doubt about the truth of Qin Fang's words. Was he devising a trick to deal with Li Feng? If it was just such a petty trick, Ning Yumo wouldn't approve, because it would be useless.

"Not only did I see it, Feifei and Muxue saw it too..." Qin Fang immediately brought over two witnesses to corroborate his statement. As for whether he had seen blood before, that was no longer very important.

"Sister Ning, what Qin Fang is saying is true, there really was a pool of blood on the ground..."

Qin Fang passed the phone to Tang Feifei, who also spoke with certainty, though she had not noticed that the bloodstain on the ground seemed a bit too fresh.

This was the advantage of having Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue present together; it could save Qin Fang from a lot of trouble.

"Hmm? I understand..."

Hearing Tang Feifei's confirmation, Ning Yumo was more than half convinced. Even though it was already late, if something truly had happened, she still needed to act before the evidence was completely destroyed, so she immediately made calls to arrange things.

...

On a small road beside the highway leading to the city from the university town, a red Ferrari was parked quietly. The dim glow of the streetlights on the highway allowed one to see two figures moving around in the sports car, alongside some rather strange noises that carried quite far in the secluded wilderness.

"Young Master Feng, you're amazing!"

Woo woo woo woo~~~

But just then, a series of urgent siren sounds erupted in the surrounding area, and beams of light suddenly illuminated their location, as a bunch of police officers quickly charged over.

"Don't move, raise your hands..."

With a cold command, Li Feng's brother, who had only just reacted, was instantly terrified into submission, while the woman also let out a shriek, instinctively wanting to cover herself with clothes, but too scared by the police to make a move.

Surrounded by a group of police officers, Ning Yumo arrived at the sports car.

"Pah~"

Ning Yumo didn't expect to walk into such an explicit scene and spat out in disgust. However, she had a different purpose and started to give orders methodically, not too concerned about Li Feng's disgraceful state. "Old Liu, make them put on their clothes! Xiao Sun, open the trunk..."

"Yes, Chief Ning!"

Old Liu and Xiao Sun immediately obeyed and took Li Feng and the prostitute to one side. Li Feng was still indignantly yelling, "What are you trying to do? Do you know who I am?"

"Talk back again and I'll smash your mouth..."

Ning Yumo was not one to have a good temper, and by then, Li Feng had recognized that the team leader was Ning Yumo, and he instantly quieted down.

At the same time, Xiao Sun had already taken the keys and opened the trunk.

"Ah~~~"

It would have been better if the trunk had remained closed. Once opened, not only were the police astounded, but Li Feng's eyes also widened in disbelief. As for the prostitute, she got so nauseous she crouched by the roadside and started vomiting uncontrollably, recalling how recently she had been in the trunk of the sports car, having sex with Li Feng. The thought now was beyond disgusting...

"This... this has nothing to do with me! I didn't do it..."

Seeing Pi San's corpse lying in the trunk, Li Feng didn't know how to explain and could only keep insisting on his innocence.

"Take him away!"

If nothing had been found, Ning Yumo might have had to apologize to Li Feng. But now with the corpse in front of them, Ning Yumo was not about to be polite. She immediately ordered her subordinates, and the handcuffs clicked as they restrained both Li Feng and the prostitute.
