Chapter 213 - Playing the Hooligan_1

"Really?"

By this time, much of the blush had faded from the girl's face. Hearing Qin Fang say that she was already better, she really couldn't believe it as she had been massaging for a long time to no avail, and it had been less than a minute since Qin Fang started to help.

"Of course it's true, you can try it out!"

Qin Fang smiled, confident in his massage skills. If he wasn't sure about this, then all his previous learning would have been in vain.

"Okay, then I'll give it a try..."

The girl nodded gently, but she didn't dare to move rashly. Since Qin Fang was still half-squatting at this time, the girl's little foot was resting on Qin Fang's knee.

To try out meant that she lightly stepped a few times on Qin Fang's hand with her little foot. As long as she could stand on her ankle without pain, it meant she was healed.

"Wow, it really doesn't hurt that much anymore!"

After tentatively stepping a few times, poking around on Qin Fang's leg, it really wasn't as painful as before, and a brilliant smile appeared on her face.

Qin Fang was naturally very happy as he watched the girl and smiled slightly, noticing her somewhat excited demeanor, he suddenly felt that she looked familiar.

"Senior, have we met somewhere before?"

Looking at the beautiful girl in front of him, Qin Fang almost instinctively uttered these words, the girl giving him a sense of familiarity.

The girl was slightly startled, and her round eyes suddenly widened.

"Look, Uncle, your way of hitting on someone is really too out-dated. You better go back and practice for a few more years, okay? Don't think that just because you helped me rub my foot means you can woo me, I'm not falling for that..."

Furthermore, the girl's rebuttal was quite sharp, almost causing Qin Fang to want to leave in shame on the spot, especially when the students passing by, who were also looking for their favored clubs, looked at Qin Fang with utter contempt, even though they were envious of Qin Fang's current position with the girl.

"That... that's not what I meant. I was telling the truth..."

Qin Fang replied with a wry smile, truly feeling that he had met this girl before, which made him blurt that out.

"Forget it, maybe I've mistaken you for someone else..."

However, seeing the girl's contemptuous gaze, Qin Fang also couldn't help but smile wryly, "Although your foot is better now, it's unlikely you can walk normally, so you'd better call someone to take you back to the dorm to rest..."

As he spoke, Qin Fang took the girl's delicate foot off his knee, reached out, and brought back the pair of high-heeled sandals she had set aside, thoughtfully helping her put her shoes on.

"You..."

The girl was immediately dumbfounded. She had never had a man do such an intimate gesture for her before and was a bit flustered, blurting out without thinking: "Hooligan..."

"Hooligan? You dare to harass Yan Yan? You're looking for death..."

Ironically, not only Qin Fang heard this, but many people nearby did as well. Seeing Qin Fang and the girl's current position, many immediately thought the worst, especially when an angry shout suddenly came from behind Qin Fang.

Almost as soon as this voice sounded, Qin Fang felt a strong gust of wind from behind and a warning flashed through his mind.

The assailant was moving incredibly fast and the angle was very tricky, coupled with the fact that the attack was from behind; despite squatting, Qin Fang found it difficult to dodge.

Difficult as it was, if Qin Fang had really wanted to dodge, his current +10 agility would have barely allowed him to avoid it.

But unfortunately, right in front of Qin Fang was the girl who had just set her bone properly but was not yet able to walk. Given the angle of the attacker's approach, Qin Fang didn't need to look back to know it was a flying kick; if he chose to dodge at that moment, the attacker's target would switch from him to the girl.

And with such a fierce move from the person behind, given the girl's delicate figure, if she were to be hit, she would definitely be seriously injured.

"Damn it, what's all this about?"

Qin Fang could only smile wryly, not having time to slowly help the girl put on her shoes anymore. He slightly lifted his feet, quickly extended his arms, reached one hand under the girl's legs, and wrapped the other around her slender waist, while urgently whispering, "Hold onto me..."

The girl was still confused at the time, especially since she had noticed the person attacking Qin Fang. The attack was vicious, as if intending to beat Qin Fang into a pulp. Ever since the two met, this was the first time she had seen that person with such an expression, and she was so frightened that she couldn't react.

However, once Qin Fang spoke, without thinking too much, she subconsciously clung to Qin Fang's back, and immediately felt her body lift off the chair and soar through the air.

"Ah..."

Seeing everything around her spinning so suddenly would shock anyone, and the girl was no exception, letting out a scream.

"Wow, that's amazing..."

"So awesome!"

"This is what a master looks like!"

The girl hadn't figured out what was happening yet when she felt her body finally steady, although... someone was holding her in their arms.

It was him!

Looking at Qin Fang's quite ordinary face, not that handsome or refined, and even a bit dark, but it gave off an extremely resolute impression, much better than those pretty boys.

The two bodies were pressed together like this, and the girl could even feel Qin Fang's chest not being very muscular, but extremely firm, and then there was Qin Fang's hand around her smooth thigh, while the other hand passed under her moist armpit, then grabbed the other side... It had almost touched the edge of her underwear, and just a little bit further, it might have touched her breast.

Such contact was... the girl's face immediately turned red.

However, Qin Fang clearly wasn't thinking too much about it and quickly put the girl down, making sure she stood on solid ground, and even whispered a warning in her ear, "Be careful..."

"Eh..."

The girl was slightly startled, not understanding why Qin Fang would say that, when she already saw the previous sneak attacker coming fiercely at them again after a failed hit.

"Careful..."

The girl warned tensely this time, even wanting to pull Qin Fang away to take the hit herself, but Qin Fang's body was like a heavy steel wall, she gave a tug, and Qin Fang still stood there unmoved.

Bang~~

The attacker's kick came, and Qin Fang simply shifted his arm lightly, the leg that could break bricks and stones thudded heavily on Qin Fang's arm, making a very dull sound.

But the anticipated sound of bones breaking didn't come, and even Qin Fang just waved his arm, the attacker immediately felt a force push him, and his body retreated back at once.

Of course, the man didn't think Qin Fang was so impressive, just that he got lucky, immediately moving his steps, ready to strike again.

"Du Wei, stop..."

The girl finally came back to her senses at this point, seeing that the other party was still persistent, she immediately cried out.

"Yan Yan, he... no, I must beat him up!"

This man named Du Wei clearly didn't want to let it go and even wanted to fight with Qin Fang, his face full of rage as if wanting to devour Qin Fang.

"He what? Why did you start hitting people at random? What if you hurt someone?"

The girl was obviously quite temperamental too, seeing that Du Wei had hit someone and still wanted to fight, naturally, she got angry and scolded furiously.

"Yan Yan, I was venting for you; this guy dared to act like a hooligan toward you! I... I must beat him up no matter what!"

But Du Wei seemed quite stubborn, possibly really angry, still looking at Qin Fang with those fierce eyes, his body adjusting constantly as if he might strike at any moment.

"He acted like a hooligan to me?"

The girl was taken aback for a moment, then remembered the previous incident, obviously, she had overreacted a bit, and it just so happened that Du Wei had overheard it.

As for Du Wei's temper, the girl knew all too well, so it was quite a normal reaction for him.

"He didn't act like a hooligan to me, you've got it wrong..."

The girl immediately explained, she certainly didn't want the two to continue fighting, especially since Du Wei's skills were quite formidable, and if someone really got hurt, she would definitely feel guilty.

"How is that possible? I saw him with my own eyes..."

Du Wei obviously didn't believe it; he was standing behind Qin Fang and the girl when he saw Qin Fang gripping the girl's foot and even "stripping off" her shoe; this looked like an attempt to act like a hooligan.

Moreover, he had heard that some people have very abnormal preferences, including a foot fetish, so he pegged Qin Fang as that kind of pervert.

"Act like a hooligan? My boyfriend doesn't lack women, does he need to act like a hooligan?"

Just then, a cold, disdainful voice came from the crowd, and then Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue stepped out, each taking one of Qin Fang's arms, looking down on Du Wei with eyes full of contempt.

"Uh..."

Now it was Du Wei's turn to be dumbfounded; Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue, any one of them walking out would be considered a top beauty, not the slightest bit inferior to his long-pursued Yan Yan, and now the two beauties were with the same man, and that man was the "hooligan" he had accused, he was suddenly deflated...
