Chapter 259 Strategic Transfer_1

As for any movements from the Ye Family, Qin Fang was too lazy to bother with that, only waiting for Ye Heng to come to him seeking help.

"Fourth Brother, are you going to Southern Guangdong this week?"

Sitting in the car, Qin Fang and Xiao Nan were heading back to the university town. Xiao Nan suddenly remembered this and immediately asked.

"Yeah, it's the same business as last time. There will be quite a few manufacturers coming from there, and it's an opportunity I can't miss..." Qin Fang nodded his head, Xiao Nan knew about Qin Fang's lithium battery project. Initially, he was planning to help, but then he thought better of it, mainly because he didn't want to take advantage of Qin Fang.

"That's perfect, I'll come with you! Southern Yue is my turf, and I might be able to help out there, at least not as embarrassed as I am in Ninghai..."

Xiao Nan immediately volunteered, quite frustrated with the situation involving Ye Xiang. Although the Xiao Family had money and its own connections in official circles, most of those were in Southern Guangdong Province. Once they came to Ninghai in Jiangnan, they couldn't exert much influence, which was why Xiao Nan had suffered so much.

"You should keep Sister Yun company. I see how lovey-dovey and inseparable you two are, and I really can't bear to interrupt your sweet little world..."

Qin Fang smiled and declined. The lovey-dovey sight of Xiao Nan and Xia Yun was well-recognized by their dorm mates, and even Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue knew about it. He really didn't want to intrude on their time together.

"You've got it all wrong. Look at me, if I didn't have something to deal with, would I dare to go back? Heh... It just so happens I have some matters to handle when I go back. They were from last week, but I deliberately postponed them to this one!"

Xiao Nan then smiled and explained the reason to Qin Fang.

"If that's the case, then let's go together! You're the landlord, so I won't bother making much effort over there..." Qin Fang agreed, nodding his head. Having Xiao Nan looking after him in Southern Yue might not be as influential as in Ninghai, but it probably wouldn't be too bad.

"Rest assured, my good brother, I will make sure you enjoy the most fantastic one-stop service! Our service industry in Southern Guangdong is the most developed in the country..."

Xiao Nan naturally guaranteed it, beating his chest and winking while he spoke.

"Don't fool around, kid. Even though Feifei isn't coming with me, Muxue is still watching on the side..." Qin Fang surely understood the meaning behind Xiao Nan's looks and immediately shook his head and said.

"Er... I actually thought you'd bring our enchanting and sexy Teacher Fan with us!"

Xiao Nan was slightly stunned, then spoke with evident envy.

Qin Fang had become a legend in the dorm by now, as both Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue were outstanding girls, yet both had an ambiguous relationship with him, which made the brothers quite envious and resentful.

And Xiao Nan knew a bit more than others, that being the relationship between Qin Fang and Fan Ning, and even learned some of the untold stories between Qin Fang and Fan Ning from Xia Yun, which made Xiao Nan sigh at Qin Fang's good fortune, while also helping Qin Fang keep the truth hidden, hoping Qin Fang wouldn't expose himself.

"Cut the crap, book the flight tickets early, we'll go together..."

Qin Fang scornfully berated Xiao Nan, but the two still laughed and joked together.

"Elder Ma, what's this about..."

To Qin Fang's surprise, Elder Ma actually called him.

"Xiao Qin, Ye Heng from the city bureau came to me today, saying his son has contracted some strange illness... Was it your doing?"

Elder Ma was quite direct, without beating around the bush and getting straight to the point.

"Elder Ma, why would you ask that? I'm a bit perplexed..."

Qin Fang was also surprised by Ye Heng's influence. The incident had just happened, and Ye Heng had already made a trip to the Ma Family, yet Qin Fang hesitated for a moment before deciding to feign ignorance.

"Hehe, you little rascal, you still dare to guard against me?"

Elder Ma obviously wasn't very satisfied with Qin Fang's answer, but he didn't sound angry at all, still chuckling, "I can't be bothered with your affairs, I just want to remind you to be a bit more discreet next time you pull such stunts, don't get caught so quickly! Don't worry, I've already dismissed the matter. I think Ye Heng will soon come looking for you, so just be careful yourself..."

Unexpectedly, Elder Ma wasn't looking to mediate, much less genuinely concerned about Ye Xiang's welfare; he was simply kindly warning Qin Fang, which touched him a little. However, thinking of Elder Ma's ulterior motive, Qin Fang hesitated and thought he shouldn't be too polite to him.

"Thank you for your concern, Elder Ma, I understand!"

Qin Fang cheerfully responded, without confirming his involvement in the matter, but that in itself suggested to Elder Ma there was some connection with him.

After hanging up the phone, Qin Fang began to ponder. It wasn't surprising that Ye Heng wielded such power, but what he hadn't anticipated was his swift action. Qin Fang didn't want Ye Heng wasting his time, as there was a big deal to discuss in Southern Guangdong.

"What's wrong?"

Although Xiao Nan didn't know the content of the call, he couldn't help but ask upon seeing Qin Fang's silence.

"Ye Xiang's old man is pretty quick. I'm thinking maybe I should leave Ninghai as soon as possible and head to Southern Yue first. Let that old guy hang for a while and worry a bit. That's the only way to make him truly behave!"

Qin Fang didn't hide anything, as there was no need for secrecy with Xiao Nan involved in the matter. Moreover, discussing it might lead to even better ideas.

"I see, then we'll leave tomorrow! But tonight... it seems like the city bureau is pretty idle, so I'll find something for them to do first!"

Xiao Nan didn't hesitate. He was supposed to have returned to Southern Yue a few days earlier and delaying it had set back some matters. Leaving now could still salvage some time. As for finding something for the city bureau to do, that wasn't a difficult task for someone who was a hacker like Xiao Nan.

Getting the plane tickets sorted out was relatively easy. Fortunately, there was a flight to Southern Yue at dawn today, and Xiao Nan immediately booked several first-class tickets.

Qin Fang felt that leaving so suddenly was a bit rushed, but after thinking it over, he agreed to it.

Afterwards, Xiao Nan went off to create trouble for the city bureau, while Qin Fang arranged to meet with Tang Feifei. He didn't want to address this matter with just a simple phone call; talking face to face would be better.

"We're leaving for Southern Yue tonight?"

When Tang Feifei heard the news, she couldn't help feeling a bit gloomy. She had planned to spend a romantic evening with Qin Fang before he left, but now that was all for naught.

"It's quite urgent. Xiao Nan also needs to go home, so I'm going to leave with him. This way, having him in Southern Yue should provide some support!"

Qin Fang was reluctant to lie to Tang Feifei, but he also adhered to the Tang Family members' attitude of keeping her out of complicated matters as much as possible. He wished for Tang Feifei to lead a simple and carefree life.

The matter with Ye Xiang was complex, involving many more intricate issues, and Qin Fang didn't want Tang Feifei to worry about him, hence he chose to keep the matter a secret.

"Alright then... I'll wait for your return!"

Although Tang Feifei was somewhat displeased, she didn't complain to Qin Fang, even though her final words sounded exceptionally wistful.

"Mhm, wait for me..."

Qin Fang gently embraced Tang Feifei's shoulders. She seemed somewhat uncomfortable at first but ultimately didn't struggle as Qin Fang's lips landed on hers, slightly trembling, and they could both feel the heat in their embraces.

"I'm sorry!"

Sensing Tang Feifei's body tense up as if she was not comfortable with such intimacy, Qin Fang quickly let go and apologized with a hint of embarrassment.

"I... I'm not blaming you!"

Tang Feifei's face turned crimson with shyness. Despite the embarrassment, seeing the expression on Qin Fang's face, she managed to reply in a voice that was almost only audible to herself.

"Remember, take care of yourself..."

Upon hearing these words, Qin Fang was taken aback, while Tang Feifei, overwhelmed with shyness, promptly pushed him away and quickly escaped, calling out from a distance before she darted into her dormitory building and disappeared from sight.

Tang Feifei was dealt with, and Xiao Muxue also seemed somewhat surprised.

When Qin Fang called her, she had already bathed and gotten into bed. She was dozing off when she got the news.

"Wait for me, I'm coming down right away..."

But Xiao Muxue's response was much more resolute. Dropping that remark, she immediately got dressed and went downstairs. Qin Fang didn't have to wait long for her, and without much conversation, a simple exchange of glances was enough.

Once the three of them met up, they immediately took a taxi to the airport. Luckily, it wasn't too far, and they arrived in less than half an hour. Then came a series of routine procedures, all prepared by Xiao Nan,

"Why do I feel like this is somewhat like desertion?"

Having passed through security and ready to board, Qin Fang said to Xiao Nan, laughing.

"Desertion? This is called strategic relocation..."

Xiao Nan replied, flipping his hair with a proud gesture.

Qin Fang's face was covered with speechless lines, but their conversation was just light banter. They boarded the plane, heading towards their destination, Shenzhou City in Southern Guangdong Province, a bustling metropolis at the southern tip of the Mainland, bordering the two special administrative regions of Hong Kong and Macau.

In Shenzhou, Qin Fang was going to prepare for the upcoming lithium battery industry conference. Xiao Nan had even managed to secure an invitation for him, allowing for more direct contact with the manufacturers, which was convenient for Qin Fang.
