

Genius 262

Chapter 262 Premeditation_1

"Hungry? Get up and let's have a meal..."

Outside the window, the night was enthralling, yet both of them felt the pangs of an empty stomach. Qin Fang was surprised to find that his Life Points had even decreased a few points due to hunger.

"Hmm...hiss!"

Xiao Muxue nodded, struggling to get up.

But the moment her body moved slightly, it immediately pulled at the wound on her lower body. The pain twisted her pretty face into a knot of agony, and she kept sucking in breath sharply.

"Let me take a look..."

Qin Fang instantly felt awkward, having forgotten that Xiao Muxue had just lost her virginity, and the wound was still somewhat torn. He immediately laid Muxue's flawless body flat on the bed, pulled away the bedsheets that covered her modesty, and his eyes unblinkingly stared at Muxue's tender and swollen private area, which was now a swollen red mess.

Seeing such injuries, Qin Fang couldn't help feeling self-reproachful. He was used to Fan Ning, but after his first time with Fan Ning, he was kicked out of bed, and he had not realized until now how painful it could be for a woman after losing her virginity, especially after prolonged intercourse, which made the injury even more severe.

"Don't look..."

Although the two of them had already been intimate, Xiao Muxue was still uncomfortable with Qin Fang's direct gaze at her private parts, shyly pushing him away while trying to grab the quilt to cover her body.

"Don't move..."

Qin Fang came back to his senses, held Xiao Muxue's hand still, and at the same time, a silver needle appeared in his other hand. He gently pricked a few acupuncture points on Xiao Muxue's lower body.

Xiao Muxue was still a bit scared, but as the acupuncture began, she only felt a warm sensation slowly flowing into her body from those points, which then quickly spread over the painful areas. An instant cool sensation enveloped her completely, even making the pain disappear quickly.

"All done!"

A smile appeared on Qin Fang's face as he wiped the sweat from his forehead. It seemed like a simple acupuncture session, but it actually consumed a considerable amount of his Inner Breath.

Of course, the effects were very obvious, and Xiao Muxue was completely flabbergasted.

"How did you do that?"

Her words were filled with disbelief, as it was her first time discovering that Qin Fang possessed such a skill.

"There's a lot I can do, and you'll slowly come to know more about it..."

Qin Fang smiled and lightly patted Xiao Muxue's delicate hip.

Her face turned a rosy red, and although the pain had disappeared and she was still slightly uncomfortable, with Qin Fang's help, she could barely get out of bed.

However, she was still a little uncomfortable with Qin Fang's invasive gaze and hobbled back to her own room, wrapped in a quilt, to get dressed.

Meanwhile, Qin Fang started to dress himself, and only then did he notice dozens of missed calls on his phone, most of which were from Tang Feifei. Based on the times, she had called almost every few minutes, but Qin Fang had heard none of them.

Just as Qin Fang saw these missed calls, the phone rang again, displaying Tang Feifei's name. Without any hesitation, he answered the call immediately.

"Fangfang, why are you only answering now? I've been calling all day."

Tang Feifei's voice came from the other end of the phone. Though initially filled with excitement, her words soon had a hint of annoyance. Even though Tang Feifei was not visible, one could imagine her expression.

"I'm sorry, Feifei, I was really tired and have been asleep until now..."

Qin Fang said apologetically.

"Oh, as long as you're okay, that's what matters. I was worried something happened, feeling anxious all day, but now I can finally relax..."

Tang Feifei spoke as if a burden had been lifted, then added, "By the way, is Muxue with you? I've been calling her all day, and she hasn't answered either..."

"I'm not sure about that, let me go check!"

Hearing this, Qin Fang felt a sense of guilt inside, feeling that he had wronged Tang Feifei. Yet, he couldn't tell the truth and could only offer an evasive response.

Dut dut dut~~

At that moment, Xiao Muxue also came over, knocking on the door a few times before using her crisp voice to say, "Qin Fang, still not awake? It's getting late, I'm already hungry, we should go have a meal..."

Her voice sounded very calm, as if between normal friends, but these words were precisely heard by Tang Feifei on the other end of the call.

"Muxue's here? Then you two should hurry up and go out to dinner. We can talk more tonight!"

Upon hearing Xiao Muxue's voice, Tang Feifei felt much more at ease and immediately said to Qin Fang.

After a brief exchange, they hung up the phone.

"Thank you, Muxue!"

Qin Fang was moved. Xiao Muxue had seen his dilemma and had taken the initiative to help him out, which was incredibly rare.

"I'm your woman, of course everything revolves around you... Don't worry, I will keep our secret well, Feifei won't find out!"

Xiao Muxue was a woman who knew how to take care of a man, gentle like water, which made Qin Fang feel guilty but compelled him to show her even more affection.

"Let's go, let's go out to eat!"

Qin Fang gently patted Xiao Muxue on the shoulder and said.

"Mm, Sister Yue called just now. I want to go see her interview after dinner..."

Xiao Muxue nodded obediently but also mentioned this.

"Sister Yue? Miao Yue?"

Qin Fang was slightly taken aback and somewhat surprised. Xiao Muxue and Miao Yue had only chatted for a few hours on a plane and were not really close. He was puzzled about how these two beauties had become so friendly.

"Sure, I'll go with you!"

Qin Fang nodded. There were still a few days before he had to start his formal affairs, and he could spend these days accompanying Xiao Muxue around Southern Yue. He couldn't just come and go in a hurry. As for the interview, he had no interest in it, but since Muxue wanted to go, he had to proactively undertake the promising career of being a Flower Protector.

Qin Fang and Xiao Muxue dined in the restaurant of the Hilton. Although the cost here was quite high, Qin Fang, now worth tens of millions, didn't mind too much.

After finishing their meal, Qin Fang asked for the address and drove the Mercedes S600 that Xiao Nan had left for him towards the destination.

Miao Yue was not yet a big star, but she was already considered a rising idol of the new generation, and there were plans to promote her as the new jade girl star.

This interview was intended to generate buzz for Miao Yue's next TV drama, as well as being a means of publicity.

Qin Fang didn't care about these things, as he was just there to accompany Xiao Muxue. The location was set inside a studio of Shenzhou Television Station. Besides reporters and audiences invited by the station, Miao Yue also had a group of friends and relatives, consisting of friends she knew or colleagues from the film crew.

Having coordinated with her agent beforehand, Miao Yue ensured that although Qin Fang and Xiao Muxue didn't have the friends and relatives passes, they could still enter the studio. Qin Fang was disappointed, however, as he expected Xiao Nan, who had also received a ticket from Muxue, to show up, but the young man was nowhere to be seen.

Qin Fang gave Xiao Nan a call, but it was quickly cut off. After a while, he received a text message letting him know that Xiao Nan was in a meeting and couldn't take the call, promising to get in touch with Qin Fang when he was free. Seeing this message, Qin Fang had no choice but to let it be.

The interview with Miao Yue soon began. Xiao Muxue listened and watched attentively while Qin Fang appeared somewhat idle, only occasionally echoing Muxue's opinions, and otherwise merely clapping along with the rest of the audience when appropriate.

Qin Fang nearly fell asleep; he hadn't really absorbed any content from the interview. Muxue just smiled at this and occasionally engaged Qin Fang in subtle little interactions.

"I'm going to the restroom..."

Having no interest in a show-like program, and feeling some discomfort in his stomach, Qin Fang excused himself and left the studio to look for the restroom.

As soon as he stepped out in search of the restroom sign, he noticed a man and a woman talking in the distance down the hallway. The woman was unmistakably Miao Yue's agent, who was just receiving a thick envelope from the man.

Sensing someone was watching, the agent quickly stashed the envelope in her handbag. Upon seeing Qin Fang approaching, she seemed a bit guilty and no longer spoke, quickly parting ways with the man.

Qin Fang didn't pay much attention to this. He had found the restroom and immediately went in to take care of his physiological needs.

"Young Master Zhang, rest assured, I have everything prepared. As soon as Miao Yue leaves the television station, I will immediately deliver the person to you..."

A very low voice reached Qin Fang's ears, surprising him a bit. The sound seemed to be coming from the stall next to his.

Though Qin Fang was surprised, he knew the entertainment industry was fraught with sleaze and didn't bother with it, continuing to take care of his own business. The person next door also hung up the phone and went back to his "duty," and they both left the restroom one after the other. Qin Fang saw that the man who had been on the phone was the one who had spoken with Miao Yue's agent earlier.

"What are you looking at? Looking for trouble?"

When Qin Fang gave the man a second glance, he hadn't expected him to be so brash, striking a very assertive pose with his hands on his hips.

"Idiot..."

Qin Fang couldn't be bothered with this guy and just coldly uttered "idiot" before heading back to the studio, leaving the man with a livid face behind.
