

Genius 511

Chapter 511 Almost Famous..._1

Qin Fang and Chu Yunxuan were not familiar with each other and were very much strangers.

Their contact only lasted for a single day, and naturally, Qin Fang knew very little about her past.

Or rather, not just Qin Fang, even Li Yang, who was somewhat acquainted with Chu Yunxuan, might not know much about her, as she had been abroad for nearly ten years.

When Qin Fang first met Chu Yunxuan, he simply thought this beautiful military doctor was quite stunning and her personality somewhat eccentric. Later, Qin Fang found out she was wearing a mask, hiding her true self.

Perhaps the Chu Yunxuan he had seen just before was the real her!

It was also possible that it wasn't her, just her letting herself be very capricious after getting drunk.

Two lines of tears soaked the sheets and moistened her cheeks, the cool sensation penetrating Chu Yunxuan's face, which unexpectedly brought her to her senses.

Her eyes became clearer, and it seemed she had sobered up quite a bit.

However, she didn't seem to notice her surroundings and was immersed in her memories, murmuring to herself, with tears continuing to well in her eyes.

"Why do you have to treat me like this... Is that really so important to you? Even to the point of hurting me like this..."

Her voice was very low, as if only she could hear it clearly.

Yet, her whispers seemed to hint at some secrets unknown to others, or perhaps the man she kept mentioning had hurt her deeply.

"Hmm?"

Qin Fang, lying in bed, tossed and turned, unable to sleep, and could only helplessly stare at the ceiling and space out.

Perhaps it was this boring action that led Qin Fang to a startling discovery. There was a slight reflection coming from a very inconspicuous corner of the ceiling.

Qin Fang found it strange, as that spot was an indoor central air-conditioning vent, where no light should escape, but there was indeed light there.

Almost without any thought, Qin Fang launched his Scouting Skill over there.

The result came back quickly, and Qin Fang's face dramatically changed.

He immediately flipped out of bed and rushed there, grabbed a chair from the room to use as a step, removed the blinds of the air-conditioning vent, and promptly discovered a camera inside.

This camera seemed rather advanced, a wireless transmission type, automatically sending the captured video images to a receiver. Qin Fang had seen similar equipment for sale on the black market of the Assassin's platform.

However, the equipment sold on the Assassin's platform's black market was naturally much more advanced than this one, especially as it was meant for registered assassins worldwide.

That stuff was special agent equipment, but the one before him, although much less advanced, was also considered quite state-of-the-art domestically, definitely the work of a technical expert.

"Damn it..."

He had found the camera, but Qin Fang couldn't help but utter a curse.

The camera's light was still on, indicating it was still working and recording, capturing his every move quite clearly.

Qin Fang looked at the position and examined the room's environment. He immediately took down the camera and then quickly ran to the other side, where he found another camera hidden in the corner of the curtain. Qin Fang's face almost turned green.

Two cameras had captured everything in the bedroom, almost leaving no blind spots.

But this wasn't what Qin Fang was most worried about. The suite was large, with other rooms, a living room, a bathroom, and so forth... If cameras were installed in the bedroom, it was possible they were also in other places.

Qin Fang was no longer in the mood to sleep. He quickly got up from bed, wrapped himself in a bath towel, and rushed out of the room to search for more cameras.

He continuously launched his Scouting Skill while his eyes also tirelessly searched.

Although he was no professional, he was, after all, a National Security Special Agent and had taken the initiative to learn counter-reconnaissance methods from a few special forces soldiers while at the Ninghai Military District.

As for the current situation, it wasn't about counter-reconnaissance but counter-espionage tactics, which had some similarities. Moreover, he needed to undertake more assassin missions in the future, so such methods were essential.

Quickly, Qin Fang found another two cameras in the living room. His expression was extremely grave, and the more cameras he found, the more ominous he felt the situation was.

This meant that there were more recorded footages of them, especially... the bathroom and the bedroom where Chu Yunxuan slept, where very passionate scenes between him and Chu Yunxuan had occurred. If those were to be carelessly leaked, Qin Fang and Chu Yunxuan could become internet sensations, possibly recognized by hundreds of millions of netizens nationwide...

He might not care if his face thickened, but letting a woman, and a female soldier at that, face such a matter, was likely to be...

Qin Fang didn't dare to imagine anymore. He hurriedly rushed into the bathroom and scavenged around, finding as many as three cameras, showing just how much importance the installer had placed on this location, covering almost every angle with no spot missed, sparing no dead angle.

Chapter 512 Almost Famous..._2

The thing he was most worried about had happened, in the bathroom he had engaged in a half-hearted friendly match with Chu Yunxuan, where their bodies were entirely uncensored, fully engaged in real action. Although they only went halfway, it was still incredibly revealing...

"And the bedroom..."

After scanning the bathroom for cameras and sweeping the entrance, only Chu Yunxuan's bedroom was left, a place he was especially wary of. But given the current situation, things looked decidedly grim.

Without any hesitation, Qin Fang pushed open the door to Chu Yunxuan's bedroom. Concerned that something might happen to Chu in the middle of the night, the door was not locked and opened easily.

"Ah..."

Qin Fang was intently searching for the hidden camera and hadn't noticed that Chu Yunxuan was awake. His sudden entry startled her, and she let out a shocked cry.

"Err... sorry!"

Only upon hearing that cry did Qin Fang notice Chu Yunxuan sitting up in bed, looking at him with big eyes, her snow-white body shivering under the covers, and her hands clutching them tightly.

At that moment, she looked like a scared little cat, full of helplessness and pity, while Qin Fang was like a barbarian who had suddenly intruded, wearing nothing but a towel around his waist.

Qin Fang was naturally very embarrassed. Although they had already had very intimate contact and he had explored almost every part of Chu Yunxuan's body, it had been when Yunxuan was drunk. Now she was clearly sober.

"You... get out!"

Chu Yunxuan was both ashamed and furious. This was her room, where she was completely naked, and a man with very little covering had barged in, which was something she really couldn't adapt to.

If she had a gun at hand, she would definitely shoot this stinking man who dared to rush into her room.

"You can hit me or scold me, but wait a moment, I need to take care of something first..."

Qin Fang gave a bitter smile. If there truly was nothing to worry about, he would have let himself be kicked out, but the problem was that there was undoubtedly a working camera in the room, and if it remained, Chu Yunxuan's loss would be even greater.

Since there was no avoiding it, he had to bite the bullet and immediately began searching for the camera in the bedroom.

The layout of this bedroom was slightly different from Qin's, so naturally the location of the camera was different too. Qin had to observe carefully to locate it.

Chu Yunxuan's complexion was pale, devoid of any color, especially when Qin refused to leave. She became very panicky, fearing that Qin might suddenly turn violent and assault her.

Perhaps she had once been confident in her self-defense skills, but now, having sobered up and with some vague memories of what had happened at the bar, knowing that Qin had single-handedly beaten three strong men badly, she realized that she was no match for Qin.

If Qin really wanted to overpower her, she would have no way to resist.

Although she could accuse him of rape afterwards, the fact that she would have lost her virginity was irrevocable. Having it gone was unacceptable to her.

Frightened and anxious, Chu Yunxuan clutched the blanket tightly, covering her entire body, not daring to expose even a bit of herself, as if that made her feel somewhat safer.

But in reality, if she were to encounter such a beast, the more she behaved like this, the more she would stimulate a man's impulsive desire to conquer, making the situation far worse.

Fortunately, things did not develop in the worst direction she had imagined. Qin Fang seemed to completely ignore the presence of such a stunning, naked beauty, simply glancing around at the bedroom furnishings and layout.

Chu Yunxuan was puzzled by Qin's actions, not understanding what he intended to do, but she didn't dare make a sound and just watched...

Finally, Qin Fang made his move, jumping onto Chu Yunxuan's bed.

"Ah~~~"

This truly terrified Chu Yunxuan, who let out a sharp scream, almost instinctively wanted to cry for help, and she could even see Qin Fang's thing beneath that towel...

"Don't make a sound..."

Qin Fang just frowned and gave a gentle reprimand, then walked up to the head of the bed and shifted the painting hanging on the wall, taking out a camera from behind it.

Chu Yunxuan was looking up, and Qin Fang was right beside her, which gave her an extremely clear view of what Qin was concealing under his towel. Glancing at that substantial thing, her face flushed with embarrassment, but when she saw what Qin pulled out from behind the painting, the blush was quickly overshadowed by a ghastly white.

Without a doubt, when she saw the camera, she understood what Qin was doing.

She had been filmed!

Chu Yunxuan's face turned deathly pale. As a respectable woman, she never imagined such a thing could happen. Although she wasn't sure if she had undressed herself or if Qin had helped her, it had all been recorded. If it was leaked... Suddenly, she felt an overwhelming sense of despair, thinking she wouldn't be able to live if it accidentally got out.

Chapter 513 Almost Famous..._3

"What should we do?"

At this moment, Chu Yunxuan felt even more helpless than when she had discovered Qin Fang breaking in.

Exposing her body in front of Qin Fang meant at most that only Qin Fang would see her, but if the video got out, then the number of people admiring her body could reach millions...

Insults toward a woman usually don't go beyond calling her ridden by thousands or tread upon by tens of thousands, akin to a public bus, but if she were to be gawked at by millions, tens of millions, or even hundreds of millions of people, she truly wouldn't be able to live on.

When a woman feels helpless, besides silently shedding tears, there truly isn't a better way to vent.

"Stop crying, I'll figure something out... Maybe it's not as bad as it seems!"

Qin Fang just couldn't stand to see a woman cry, but he could also understand Chu Yunxuan's feelings at the moment. He himself was quite distressed, yet a man's mental fortitude is clearly stronger in these situations. However, he was still worried something might happen to Chu Yunxuan, so he immediately offered a word of comfort.

"You... Do you really have a way?"

Chu Yunxuan's tears were scared into stopping by Qin Fang's scolding. She looked at Qin Fang with teary, pitiful eyes, hardly resembling the cool and elegant military doctor he had first met.

"Just stay here by yourself. I've already removed all the cameras. Now, I'll go find the peeper and get those videos back..."

Qin Fang was afraid of Chu Yunxuan losing hope and had no choice but to sound more definitive in his assurance, at least to give Chu Yunxuan a glimmer of hope. He certainly didn't want to leave, only for Chu Yunxuan to be unable to take this blow and resort to a suicide act, which would really be a headache for him...

"You must get them back!"

At this time, Chu Yunxuan was truly out of options. Qin Fang was her only pillar of strength, and she was so desperate that she didn't even realize she was unclothed, grabbing Qin Fang's arm pitifully and pleading.

"I will definitely get them back! Don't worry..."

Even though a beautiful woman was in front of him, and without clothes at that, Qin Fang was completely devoid of any desire, really flustered by the incident of the secret filming.

Although he assured her with utmost certainty, he himself had no idea deep down...

He couldn't put on his clothes, but luckily the suite was high-class enough to have bathrobes. Qin Fang had no choice but to make do with one and headed straight down to the service desk.

While the hotel wasn't exceptionally high-end, it was still three-star, and it should pay close attention to the privacy of its customers. There was no reason at all to install cameras inside the rooms; it would simply be sabotaging its own reputation.

Therefore, Qin Fang also felt that the hotel management probably wasn't involved, though he couldn't completely rule it out.

Nevertheless, the incident had happened, and the hotel's liability was undeniable. He had to get some explanations and also wanted to check the identities of the recent guests who had stayed in that room.

With no leads at all, this was the only way he could investigate.

The matter couldn't be delayed. The longer it took, the more disadvantageous it was for them. So he didn't have much time, it was very pressing, and he needed to come up with a solution fast. If necessary, he was even considering asking for Li Yang's help.

"Hmm, where is everyone?"

Soon, Qin Fang arrived downstairs. The hotel's main doors were already closed, and the lobby was pitch-dark, without a single person in sight. This was highly abnormal.

Typically, hotels operate 24 hours a day. Even if there weren't many guests at night, there would definitely be staff on duty. Qin Fang and Chu Yunxuan had come over at three in the morning, but there was still that young man on duty.

Only now that young man was nowhere to be seen...

"There's someone over there..."

However, Qin Fang soon noticed a faint light coming from a room nearby. It was very dim, just a straight line under the door, but it was enough for Qin Fang to notice, and he immediately headed over.

"Haha, I'm such a genius. I thought three hours would be tight, but it took less than two to fix it... Tsk tsk, I can finally enjoy that beauty's appealing figure... The thought alone excites me; I feel like jerking off again... Damn, it's a pity that such a beauty ended up with a pretty boy..."

This room's door didn't seem too soundproof. Just as Qin Fang reached the door preparing to knock, he heard such a statement from inside.

The voice wasn't very loud, but Qin Fang's hearing was superb, so he roughly made out what was said.

Bang~~

Qin Fang immediately sensed that there might be a breakthrough in the situation. He kicked the door with all his might, causing a dull boom. At the same time, the room's door was kicked open.

Ah~~

Of course, it was accompanied by such a scream.

In the room, a wretched man, naked from the waist down, lay on the ground with his face suddenly blooming with "peach blossoms." A door Qin Fang had directly kicked down was pressing on him, and it turned out he was indeed the young man who had attended to Qin Fang and Chu Yunxuan.

Qin Fang didn't focus on this because his attention was caught by a laptop on the table.

The laptop was already turned on and a program was running, showing only one surveillance image. Qin Fang glanced at it and, even though most of it was pitch-dark, he vaguely recognized some familiar scenes—it was the living room of the suite he was staying in.

And the angle of the shot... Qin Fang recalled and realized it was from the balcony he had missed.

Chapter 514 Unlucky Peeping Tom_1

Qin Fang had been somewhat worried about not being able to retrieve the video data; after all, a considerable amount of time had elapsed since he discovered and removed those cameras until he arrived at this small room.

If the voyeur hadn't been paying close attention, it wouldn't have been a problem, but if they were, they would have had enough time to escape to the ends of the earth, and Qin Fang, no matter how capable, wouldn't be able to catch them in the vast sea of people.

However, it seemed Qin Fang's luck was quite good; the voyeur hadn't run away but was brazenly waiting to be caught...

Despite the voyeur's current situation seeming rather dire... Qin Fang's kick had been too violent, even through a door, it still inflicted serious injury on the Wretched Brother.

The Wretched Brother hadn't expected Qin Fang to suddenly arrive, especially not in such a violent manner. He hadn't had the chance to dodge and was struck down by the door, breaking several bones.

At this moment, his bones felt like jelly; the pain was severe, and his face was a bloody mess, with his nasal bones shattered, hanging limply on his face.

Qin Fang had no time to attend to him, but he wasn't polite, either. He stepped on the door, increasing the pain for the Wretched Brother, who could only gasp for air... his mouth twisted to one side.

Qin Fang couldn't just stand idly by; having found the voyeur, he needed to search for the video data. Without hesitation, he took the laptop and started looking for the video files.

Though Qin Fang wasn't a hacking expert like Xiao Nan, he wasn't unfamiliar with computers. After all, he had spent nearly two months in an online gaming workshop and could fix minor computer issues himself, let alone searching for files on a computer.

But Qin Fang was quickly disappointed. The laptop was empty; he scanned it several times and didn't find what he was looking for.

Although the software on the desktop could directly monitor the feeds from the cameras, the video data wasn't stored on this laptop.

"There must be another storage location..."

Qin Fang wasn't foolish and quickly understood this point. It was clearly a program made by an expert, a highly skilled one at that, and Qin Fang with his novice computer skills couldn't outmatch such an expert.

Thinking this, Qin Fang pondered if he should ask Xiao Nan to teach him hacking skills after returning. If it became a type of Skill, Qin Fang might even develop into a world-class top hacker, surpassing his almost teacher Xiao Nan...

But distant water can't quench immediate thirst; the current predicament needed to be solved quickly.

Even though the voyeur's computer didn't store the video data, he certainly knew where the videos were sent.

So, Qin Fang shifted his gaze from the laptop and turned towards the Wretched Brother lying beneath his feet, gasping in fear but not daring to make too much noise.

"What... what do you want to do..."

The Wretched Brother was already in severe pain, and Qin Fang's kick had been especially ruthless. And with his weak physique, which was a common issue for tech nerds, the violent impact was almost unbearable; that single blow might have broken several bones, and he was likely to spend a not-so-short time in the hospital.

However, that assumed Qin Fang would kindly let him go, but at least when he noticed Qin Fang's expression, a chilling fear inexplicably surged inside him. It seemed like he wasn't facing a young man who appeared a little younger than himself but a savage beast ready to pounce and devour at any moment.

"This isn't a person, it's a Godzilla!"

This thought popped into the Wretched Brother's head, and his panic intensified. However, his face, smeared with blood, made it difficult to see clearly...

But this didn't affect Qin Fang's determination to deal with him. He wouldn't let him off easily before he got the videos.

With a flick of his wrist, the door slammed to the side, revealing the Wretched Brother's bare buttocks to Qin Fang, prompting a wry smile from him.

Fortunately, they were both men; bare buttocks were just that, the same as in a public bathhouse, nothing strange about it, despite the different context.

"Come clean, where are the goods?"

Qin Fang didn't immediately resort to force but spoke in a very calm tone. However, the intense aura emanating from him was quite terrifying.

People of a higher level exert a clear superiority over those of a lower level.

The Wretched Brother was merely an ordinary Level 1 person, far below Qin Fang's Level 4, making the level suppression very apparent. The strong aura that the Wretched Brother felt was indeed the effect of level suppression.

If it had been another Level 4, the same level as Qin Fang, the feeling wouldn't be as pronounced. For a Level 3, there would be suppression, but it wouldn't be as intense.

"I... I don't know anything!"

But Wretched Brother clearly wasn't going to surrender that easily. Seeing Qin Fang here, he knew things were going to get bad, yet from his angle, he could conveniently see the laptop screen. All other cameras showed no feed at all, leaving only the last one on the balcony.

Wretched Brother was actually quite wronged. It had taken him two hours to repair this laptop, and he had just opened the related program. He hadn't even noticed that the cameras he installed in room 518 had been completely swept clean by Qin Fang; the sole survivor was the one mounted outside on the balcony.

Of course, it was this last surviving camera that betrayed him, leaving him no opportunity for argument or denial. He couldn't possibly claim that the camera was installed by the hotel for the convenience of monitoring the surroundings, right?

That was the fifth floor, after all. Even a thief couldn't climb that high, not to mention that the camera was aimed directly inside the room.

Denial was out of the question, so he might as well play dumb.

Since the video was in his hands and nobody else knew where that thing was except for him, he felt all the more fearless.

Although he hadn't seen the content captured by the camera, judging by Qin Fang's state at the moment, it was definitely explosive.

And since Qin Fang cared so much about these materials, he speculated that both Qin Fang and the woman named Chu Yunxuan had no simple identities, just like the guy he had planned to deal with before. Such relationships could not be exposed.

Given this, Wretched Brother's courage swelled.

"I hold the leverage over you, what can you do to me?"

So he racked his brains on how he could make his escape.

As long as he left smoothly, holding the passionate video of Qin Fang and Chu Yunxuan, he could then gain benefits from Qin Fang, just as he had done before.

"Ouch..."

Unfortunately for him, he wasn't dealing with just anyone; he was facing Qin Fang.

This meant his fate tonight was bound to be exceptionally tragic; it wouldn't be as simple as a few broken bones. It was definitely going to be worse than he could imagine.

Seeing Wretched Brother's eyes darting around, Qin Fang knew the guy was scheming. He immediately stepped hard onto his chest. His ribs were definitely broken, and with Qin Fang stepping on him like this, even though Qin Fang wasn't using much strength, it was enough to make Wretched Brother grimace in pain and wail miserably.

It was fortunate that this was happening in the lobby downstairs, and the hotel's front door had already been locked. Otherwise, if the noise got out, someone might call the police.

"Stop playing your shady tricks with me. Hand over the stuff and I won't hold you accountable. Otherwise... hmph!"

Qin Fang's overpowering presence bore down on Wretched Brother, with his foot pressing down a little harder, immediately causing Wretched Brother to cry out in pain, calling for his parents. He had no more thoughts to consider anything else but enduring the pain before him was his utmost expectation.

Wretched Brother was scared and felt guilty.

And Qin Fang's opportunity had come. He threw the Mind Reading Technique at Wretched Brother relentlessly, aiming to extract the hiding place of those video materials directly from his memory.

It was in such a state, when Wretched Brother's defenses were at their weakest, that Qin Fang's Mind Reading Technique was most effective, making it easier to learn the secrets he needed to know.

"Err..."

The unbearable pain turned Wretched Brother's mind into mush, interfering with Qin Fang's mind-reading, forcing Qin Fang to retract his leg. This reduced the pain slightly, making Wretched Brother feel a bit better, and his thoughts gradually calmed down. Only then, Qin Fang managed to find what he needed.

Having gotten what he needed, Qin Fang felt somewhat relieved. He now understood the whole situation, and the security of the item wasn't an immediate issue. He could retrieve it anytime, so he didn't need to worry too much.

At the same time, he learned the name of Wretched Brother, who was actually called Wei Suo, which fit his sleazy character surprisingly well.

Although Wei Suo started this trouble, Qin Fang now knew just how tragic his earlier night had been, blindly blundering about, getting electrocuted while...

"Stay put, and don't you dare move, or see how I'll deal with you..."

Wei Suo was seriously injured at this point; even if he thought of fleeing, he couldn't. Merely moving would cause him excruciating pain, so running away was impossible. Qin Fang's words were more of a perfunctory warning.

Chapter 515 Video Retrieval_1

Actually, the location where the video was stored wasn't very far from here, just about seventy to eighty meters away in an outdoor paid parking lot.

A van was parked there, having undergone some simple modifications, and its interior was equipped with electronic transmitters and receivers capable of capturing the video signals from the cameras.

His laptop was merely an intermediary device; although it could display the content captured, it could only show live broadcasts at most.

To review the entire process, he had to come here to retrieve the stored hard drive.

Due to signal transmission limitations, the receivers couldn't be situated too far from the cameras. Plus, the open-air parking lot offered minimal signal interference, naturally making it the optimal location.

As the parking lot was fee-based, as long as one paid enough, there would be no problem leaving a car there for many days, and with someone watching, theft wasn't a concern...

Of course, regarding his clunky old van, thieves probably wouldn't spare a second glance at such a piece of junk.

This was Wei Suo's entire covert filming plan. It wasn't flawless, but it had virtually no significant loopholes – at least to the average person unaware of his scheme, it would be impossible to guard against.

Even Qin Fang, who was generally very cautious, had previously been tricked by him. Had it not been for a bout of insomnia that led him to stare blankly at the ceiling, he might never have discovered those cameras.

By the time Wei Suo fixed the computer and took away the hard drive, all the extremely compromising videos and photos of him and Chu Yunxuan would have truly been exposed.

Even if they weren't exposed, they would be subject to Wei Suo's viewing pleasure, and then...

Thinking of his peculiar hobbies, Qin Fang couldn't help but make a strange expression. He wanted to curse at the guy, but truly didn't know where to begin...

Now that Qin Fang was aware of Wei Suo's entire plan, he naturally knew some of the details, such as the unusual secret signals he had arranged with the parking lot – meant to prevent the secret from leaking. Qin Fang wasn't troubled by these either.

After finding the van and locating the storage hard drive inside it, Qin Fang inspected it several times very carefully to ensure there were no oversights before returning to the hotel.

Wei Suo hadn't fled. Although he truly wanted to leave and seek medical help, his body was in such pain that any movement caused him excruciating agony. He had no choice but to stay put obediently.

"You..."

However, when Qin Fang returned wielding the hard drive, Wei Suo's face instantly turned green.

Qin Fang was supposed to know nothing, and Wei Suo hadn't mentioned anything about this hard drive, yet Qin Fang had found it. It was utterly surprising, almost like seeing a ghost.

"If you don't want to take another beating, just stay put..."

With a fierce glare, Qin Fang roared, instantly making Wei Suo shrink back like a frightened bird, tucking his neck and hiding, not daring to move a muscle for fear of Qin Fang's foot striking him again.

Meanwhile, Qin Fang connected the hard drive to the computer and began pulling up the stored video data, searching for the parts featuring him and Chu Yunxuan...

These videos certainly couldn't be allowed to spread. If confirmed that the videos were stored on this hard drive, not only would he destroy the videos but also the hard drive itself.

The capacity of the hard drive was enormous, a whole 1TB. Although videos take up a lot of storage space, that was rather limited compared to such a large capacity.

The cameras had been operational for two hours, and each camera had recorded several gigabytes of video; together, nearly ten cameras had not accumulated more than 100GB.

Before opening the specific video directories, Qin Fang made sure to check the storage content on the hard drive.

Over 700GB!

This 1TB capacity hard drive already had over 700GB of data stored on it, while the videos of him and Chu Yunxuan wouldn't amount to more than 100GB at most.

Meaning that, in addition to the video data he planned to destroy, there were some other files stored here.

Qin Fang was also a bit curious about how much stuff this guy had stored inside, so he immediately clicked to have a look.

The large-capacity hard drive was clearly divided into several files, conveniently arranged by month. Since it was November, which was also the latest month, Qin Fang unhesitatingly opened that month's folder.

Inside the folder were several more, still sorted by date. Qin Fang chose the most recent one based on today's date and saw a long list of video files.

Each video file had its own number, which Qin Fang noticed seemed to be differentiated by the surveillance camera's identifier.

For instance, the camera by the entrance was labeled A01, followed by A02 and A03 in the living room, and then the two bedrooms were assigned B01, B02 and C01, C02 respectively. The focus was on the bathroom's D01, D02, D03, D04, as well as the E01 that was placed on the balcony and had not been discovered.

"Hmm, D04?"

Coming across this, Qin Fang was puzzled for a moment. He had searched the bathroom and found only three cameras, but here the file showed there were four videos—indicating a fourth camera he had missed.

Realizing this, Qin Fang paid special attention to the overlooked camera. He checked the video file sizes, and while the other three were roughly similar, one was clearly smaller. The problem must lie with that one.

Hesitating for a moment, Qin Fang clicked on the video file he had ignored.

Of course, Qin Fang didn't forget to keep an eye on Wei Suo, who, frightened by the prospect of getting caught peeping, quickly hid away, terrified of suffering another beating given his already "severely injured" state.

Qin Fang silenced his laptop and watched in mute mode, also adjusting the angle so Wei Suo couldn't see anything...

Watching the video, Qin Fang's expression was indescribably odd; he also figured out the installation spot of the camera—it was by the massage tub.

It appeared to have been soaked by the water in the tub and then malfunctioned. As for the content of the video, it happened to stop right when Qin Fang's weapon penetrated Chu Yunxuan's exquisite haven—just as the head was barely in, the footage abruptly ended...

If this were a movie, there's no doubt such a setup would provoke a lot of cursing from the audience, but it would also successfully spark their imagination...

Yet, Qin Fang couldn't find it amusing because the video stopped there, and he couldn't prove that he hadn't gone all the way in... or to be precise, only half-way in... just a tiny bit. Strictly speaking, he hadn't engaged in the most direct intimate act with Chu Yunxuan.

But the problem was, if Chu Yunxuan saw it, even jumping into the Yellow River wouldn't cleanse him; no one would believe him...

Despite his frustration, Qin Fang immediately brought up the other three bathroom videos, hoping to gather evidence from different angles that he hadn't deeply violated Chu Yunxuan.

He quickly scanned the other three videos; two of them, due to their angles, didn't capture the scene, and only one recorded a bit, though not clearly. At most, it barely matched up with the time when Qin Fang carried Chu Yunxuan out of the bathroom—that was the only piece of side evidence he had.

After reviewing a few other videos related to himself and Chu Yunxuan, Qin Fang felt quite relieved.

Luckily he had found them because if these had leaked, while not as explicit as some hardcore footage out there, the level of exposure was still significant.

The key point was that Chu Yunxuan was too beautiful; such risqué videos of such a beauty would definitely cause a sensation. Probably countless otakus would secretly download them, wiping out much of male vitality...

Fortunately, the videos were recovered and did not spread, so Qin Fang could rest easy, at least providing Chu Yunxuan with some explanation.

In fact, Qin Fang knew that he and Chu Yunxuan were innocent "casualties," not the actual targets of Wei Suo's plan, which was aimed at a corrupt government official.

That man was a notorious official from Jincheng, perhaps viewed by senior leaders as a capable and ambitious subordinate, but at the grassroots level, he was infamous, cursed by countless citizens.

Wei Suo came into contact with this man by chance and after a detailed investigation discovered that he was having a secret affair with a married woman. The hotel owner was on good terms with him, and room 518 on the top floor was almost his private room, where he usually stayed.

That's why Wei Suo came to work at this hotel and quickly secured his position relying on his comprehensive skills. He then carefully rigged the room, aiming for perfection.

Today, he had received news that the corrupt official would meet his lover here for some adult content, which is why Wei Suo had requested to be on duty.

But unexpectedly, that man didn't show up, and Wei Suo waited in vain, frustrated to the point of falling asleep, when Qin Fang and Chu Yunxuan appeared...

Thus, the situation developed to its current state... so to say, Qin Fang and Chu Yunxuan were truly innocent, just taking bullets for others. Thankfully, the matter hadn't gone completely out of hand.

Chapter 516: The Versatile Little Brother Wei Suo_1

Wei Suo wanted to secretly record that corrupt official purely out of indignation, thinking of using such a video to bring down the official and vent the anger of the ordinary people.

It was because some government officials were just too unscrupulous, only caring about their own promotion and wealth, never minding the life and death of the populace, yet they always protected each other. For someone like him, an ordinary citizen, the likelihood of challenging a high-ranking official was slim to none.

He could end up captured and thrown into jail, or dying in hide-and-seek, handcuffing himself with banknotes, choking on water, being driven mad, or committing "suicide,"—all sorts of magical mishaps could happen to him.

But now, the internet was a potent weapon, and quite a few officials had already fallen because of it—chiefs with their exorbitantly priced cigarettes, officials with their diaries, affairs exposed on social media—such cases were emerging one after another.

Wei Suo didn't have many talents. After much thought, he wanted to use the video as a weapon; with proper planning, he could definitely bring down the corrupt official... He knew that the mistress's husband was also a high-ranking official. If the two of them started clashing, it would truly be quite the spectacle.

The plan was actually a good one. In fact, this wasn't the first time Wei Suo had done something like this; he had already experienced one success. Unfortunately, that case didn't succeed in the end due to a slight oversight and ultimately came to nothing.

His intentions were commendable, and even Qin Fang didn't think what Wei Suo did was all that wrong. Perhaps Qin Fang would have done similarly in such a situation. It was just that Qin Fang inadvertently became the target of the secret filming, which greatly displeased him.

"What should I do with this kid?"

Looking at Wei Suo, who was lying on the ground wailing in pain, Qin Fang also faced a dilemma.

Although the kid had done something wrong, to be fair, his initial motives were quite noble; he didn't film these videos with the intention of blackmail or extortion, but simply to punish corrupt officials.

Or it could be said that in Wei Suo's heart, he wanted to fulfill his own hero dream in such a way, even though the nature of the act itself was illegal, he didn't care.

In this regard, Qin Fang still rather admired the kid.

He had a quick look at the contents of the hard drive, most of which were love action movies that the kid had collected, including productions from Japan, with both cavalry and infantry, a very complete collection, not missing any of the female stars.

There were also domestic films from Dragon Country, such as those produced by Little Island, and some self-filmed by citizens, and there were quite a number of them, too.

Of course, there were some films from Europe and America as well, but it seemed he didn't like them much, so their numbers were nowhere close to the Asian collection.

Among them, one video did surprise Qin Fang a bit because it was also a secretly filmed video, edited somewhat. The male protagonist was the same person, but there were quite a few female protagonists, several of whom were well-known domestic actresses, including one who was currently a very famous top-tier actress...

Although Qin Fang knew the entertainment industry was chaotic, he didn't expect it to be to this extent. He could only shake his head helplessly.

After throwing a Scouting Skill at Wei Suo, Qin Fang's eyes nearly popped out of his head.

It could be said that he had seen many abnormal individuals, some with attributes so powerful it left him speechless, like Chu Yunxuan: in her twenties, she already had a Grandmaster Level Ability, along with other high-level abilities.

But Wei Suo in front of him made Qin Fang want to scream 'Freak!'

Why?

Let's look at Qin Fang's reconnaissance results,

"Wei Suo, LV1, a jobless drifter, from the Righteous Guardian Faction, abilities: Modifying LV5, Programming LV5, Car Driving LV4, Electronic Repair LV5, Stalking Investigation LV4..."

In short, there was a long list of abilities, most of them LV4, with about six or seven at LV5, and even more at LV3 and below...

Looking at the range of his abilities, Wei Suo appeared to be an all-around character, and these abilities were not low either. Qin Fang pondered that if this kid concentrated on one or a few skills, he would definitely be able to develop several Master-level Abilities.

Such versatility was comparable to Qin Fang's, although Qin Fang belonged to the all-around upgrade type, while Wei Suo was still subject to human and environmental limitations.

Suddenly, Qin Fang thought that taking in such a follower might not be such a bad idea.

"Hey, what are you spacing out for? Deal with me however you want, just go ahead and call the police. I'm about to die; I need to go to the hospital..."

Qin Fang was wrestling with the decision and had spaced out for a bit, but Wei Suo couldn't afford to wait. A bone in his body had been broken for a good while, and if he didn't go to the hospital soon, he felt he might actually die.

At this point, even though he was really afraid of Qin Fang and the police, he had to speak up for the sake of his life.

Considering the crimes he had committed, even if he ended up in jail, it wouldn't be for very long, and this thought provided him with some comfort. Compared to that, he was more worried about his physical condition.

"Aren't you afraid of going to prison? The inmates there are very horny, and with your small frame, you are clearly a bottom. Who knows how many people will want to pop your little daisy!"

When Qin Fang heard Wei Suo say that, he couldn't help but laugh and suddenly got an idea. He couldn't resist teasing the kid.

"Ah... No, please!"

As expected, upon hearing this, Wei Suo's body involuntarily shivered with the thought of being ravaged by a bunch of burly men, and he subconsciously tightened his own daisy as if he were in imminent danger.

"You have two options... First, I call the police right now, you go to jail, and then those inmates burst your daisy..."

Qin Fang immediately presented two options, but before he could finish, Wei Suo couldn't wait any longer and started shouting, "No, no, I'll take the second option!"

"You haven't even heard what the second option is. What if..."

Qin Fang couldn't help but coldly chuckle, somewhat bemused.

"As long as I don't get my daisy popped, I'll do anything... even pop someone else's daisy, I want to be the top..." Wei Suo was indeed no ordinary person; his principles were unusually strong, determined to be the top...

"It's not necessarily like that!"

With no other choice, Qin Fang shook his head and said, "I'm offering you a job. You'll be my employee, and I won't shortchange you on salary and benefits. However, if you dare to be even a little bit dishonest, you can look forward to getting your daisy burst... I can talk the talk and walk the walk. Do you want to experience the feeling of a battered daisy and wounds all over your butt right now..."

While speaking, something appeared in Qin Fang's hand as if by magic. It looked like a stick, and right now, Wei Suo was bare-bottomed. If that thing were poked into him...it would definitely leave a battered daisy and wounds all over.

"I agree, I agree to everything!"

Without any hesitation, Wei Suo immediately agreed. His only thought was to protect his daisy, even forgetting the need to go to the hospital.

"That's a wise choice, student Wei Suo. If you're not obedient, not only will you be in trouble, but your half-sister from the same mother will also suffer..."

Merely threatening his daisy was not enough; Qin Fang also knew what Wei Suo cared about the most was his sister. Although it was rather unscrupulous, Qin Fang had no other choice but to use this tactic.

"Of course, if you are obedient, not only will you enjoy good food and drink, but I will also help pay for your sister's studies abroad..."

The carrot-and-stick approach was the simplest and most practical trick, and Qin Fang handled it effortlessly.

As for Wei Suo, he was already dumbfounded. He never imagined that Qin Fang would know so much about his own affairs. The idea of sending his sister abroad for studies was just an idea of his own, still far from reality...

But the problem was, this was a thought he had kept to himself, never mentioned to anyone, not even his sister knew about it. Yet, Qin Fang knew it inside out, making Wei Suo feel Qin Fang was a mysterious and powerful presence, which only increased his fear.

"Go to the hospital yourself, and then contact this person. He'll tell you what to do!"

As if pulling a rabbit out of a hat, Qin Fang took out a business card with a phone number and tossed it to Wei Suo, then dialed 120 to call an ambulance.

Having dealt with Wei Suo, there was no need for Qin Fang to stay any longer. Chu Yunxuan was still waiting for him in the room. He had already delayed for quite a while, and if he continued to delay, the sky would soon brighten. If Chu Yunxuan grew desperate, that would be troublesome.

So Qin Fang immediately returned to the room where Chu Yunxuan still needed soothing.

"How did it go? Did you find it?"

As soon as Qin Fang entered, Chu Yunxuan rushed over and asked eagerly, clearly feeling anxious about the situation, unable to rest easy and sleep.

If the problem wasn't resolved, she wouldn't be able to settle down for even a day.

Qin Fang looked at Chu Yunxuan, who was wearing a hotel robe identical in style to the one he had on but designed for a woman. It covered most of her graceful figure, leaving only a section of her fair, slender legs exposed.

But her body moved closer in her excitement, the loosely fastened front of the robe opened a bit, allowing Qin Fang a glimpse of a deep cleavage.

Luckily, Qin Fang had already admired every inch of Chu Yunxuan's skin, so even though her posture was tempting, he remained quite composed.

"I got it back... Just..."

Seeing the beauty so anxious, Qin Fang naturally didn't want to keep her in suspense and immediately indicated so.

But before he could finish his sentence, Chu Yunxuan eagerly interrupted, "Quick, quick, give it to me..."

Chapter 517: Beauty Watching H_1

This video was too important for Chu Yunxuan.

During Qin Fang's absence, she had been ridden with anxiety and fear; not only had sleep eluded her, but she suspected that not even sleeping pills would take effect.

Now that she heard Qin Fang say he had retrieved the video, Chu Yunxuan was truly thrilled and excited, but even more impatient, for she could only truly be at ease when it was in her own hands.

"This..."

However, Qin Fang hesitated,

"What...what do you want to do?"

Although the video had been retrieved, Chu Yunxuan's face turned ugly at Qin Fang's reaction, and a thought instantly sprang to her mind, making her think the worst.

She spoke with a trembling voice as she instinctively tightened her clothes around her, hugged her arms a bit closer, and eyed Qin Fang with full suspicion; her demeanor was beyond mere theft prevention.

"You... don't you dare... don't think about taking advantage of me! I... I won't submit!"

If it had just been that expression, Qin Fang might have simply rolled his eyes, but Chu Yunxuan didn't stop there and added another line.

With that, Qin Fang's image in her heart was completely set – that of a total pervert.

"Damn, what kind of person do you think I am... Am I that sort of person? Here, take it... but let me make it ugly clear upfront, no matter what you see, you need to be mentally prepared..."

Qin Fang was frustrated by her words and felt utterly helpless. This woman's character when drunk and sober were two entirely different personas, almost like split personalities. If not for the fact that she hadn't been replaced by someone else, it would be hard for Qin Fang to believe that these two personalities could be exhibited by the same person.

Irritated by all this, Qin Fang's mood soured, and he tossed the hard drive straight to Chu Yunxuan. Of course, he didn't forget to reveal a bit of information beforehand, which prompted a dramatic change in Chu Yunxuan's complexion, causing Qin Fang to stop any further explanation.

At most, he just muttered very quietly to himself – so low that only he could hear.

"Besides, there is not a part of your body I haven't seen, I missed just a bit... was there any need to resort to such despicable tactics?"

He dared only speak these words to himself; if he had said them in front of Chu Yunxuan, who knows how she might have dealt with him.

As for Chu Yunxuan seeing those videos later, that was beyond Qin Fang's control.

The deed was already done, captured on video, and there was no denying it. He could only take it one step at a time now, hoping the woman could tolerate it a little better mentally.

"Hmph..."

She didn't pay much heed to Qin Fang's earlier warning. Despite her grave concerns about the video's content, the mere fact that it hadn't spread was an enough relief for her. As to what exactly had transpired during her drunken stupor, she didn't dwell on it given her current mood.

"I'm going back to sleep now..."

Qin Fang touched his nose, called out a greeting, and hurried back to his room to sleep. He didn't want to face the impending roar that was about to erupt from this woman.

Now that he had what he needed, Qin Fang's value instantly dropped from infinity to zero. Chu Yunxuan didn't care what he was up to anymore and immediately turned away and went into her room, carefully locking the door behind her.

At this point, she had no energy left to blame Qin Fang for sharing a suite with her.

Or rather, she should probably thank Qin Fang for staying with her; at least, when she was covertly filmed, she was able to discover it in time and retrieve the hard drive, preventing herself from falling into an irrecoverable predicament.

Of course, she would never utter such thanks aloud.

The hotel's facilities were quite good, and in such a high-class suite, each bedroom had its own computer. Although it was very risky to plug storage devices into such computers, Chu Yunxuan couldn't feel at ease until she saw the footage for herself.

Soon after the device was read, Chu Yunxuan entered the hard drive, and without hesitation, she clicked on one of the folders to take a look.

"Ptui~~"

But immediately, she couldn't help but spit in disgust.

She didn't know what kind of person the owner of this hard drive was, as the vast majority of the content was filled with pornographic films.

Chu Yunxuan, having studied abroad for many years, had witnessed plenty of preposterous scenes. Her former roommate and close friend had even attended an extreme open-air festival with no holds barred, and had once described the scene to her...

Even so, she was still relatively pure at heart; she had seen some of this kind of content, just... the sheer volume here was overwhelming for her.

With her face flush with embarrassment, Chu Yunxuan didn't dare to look any longer and immediately found the folder she was looking for. Her mouse hovered over it for quite a while, as if she lacked the courage to click on it.

However, out of concern for herself, she finally mustered the bravery to click on it.

The videos were sorted by number; the first one was naturally from the camera at the entrance, and it happened to be organized by the time Chu Yunxuan entered the room. She clicked on it first.

In the video, Chu Yunxuan was brought into the room by Qin Fang, slightly overpowered by intoxication and lacking strength in her body. They didn't appear very clean, but she couldn't remember why that was.

The video played in fast-forward. She couldn't possibly examine every detail thoroughly; at least this camera quickly had nothing to do with her. Chu Yunxuan quickly opened other videos.

She barely lingered in the living room and went straight into the bedroom.

Seeing that Qin Fang left immediately after laying her down in the bedroom, Chu Yunxuan felt a bit relieved at the moment, grateful that Qin Fang had not done anything improper to her.

As the video progressed, Chu Yunxuan's expression turned uneasy.

After falling into a deep sleep, she soon was in a half-asleep state. It seemed that she felt uncomfortable with her underwear, and she started to struggle to take off her clothes.

This habit was well-known to her. Having gotten used to it abroad, she never wore clothes to sleep, so such a reaction was normal.

But that's where the problem lay. At least Qin Fang, in his hurry to leave, had not closed the door, and as Chu Yunxuan's upper body was exposed, the door remained wide open, making her face burn with heat and worry that Qin Fang might come in suddenly.

Chu Yunxuan's face changed drastically. She didn't fast-forward the video to the end; instead, she immediately started searching for the subsequent footage, which led her to a short clip from the living room.

"I can't believe I was so forward in seducing him..."

Chapter 518 Dream Push_1

But now it was Chu Yunxuan's turn, and she too was filled with shock and disbelief. She couldn't imagine why everything had stopped at such a critical moment.

"Did I actually lose my virginity?"

Chu Yunxuan's first thought was frustration, as well as the instant extinguishing of all her desires. But then she immediately thought of a key issue: whether Qin Fang had taken her virginity or not.

Qin Fang felt that Chu Yunxuan might have been with men before, perhaps even several, but in reality, she had always treasured herself. Although she had a boyfriend and even considered giving her body to him, before it could happen, the man heartlessly abandoned her and deeply hurt her.

Heartbroken, Chu Yunxuan then gave up offers from several well-known hospitals abroad and returned home. Finally, through her parents' connections, she took a job at Jin Cheng Military Region Hospital...

In other words, Chu Yunxuan had always been a very pure girl, despite being in her twenties and having studied in the United States for nearly a decade.

A woman's first time is always very painful, but Chu Yunxuan hadn't felt it before because her attention had been captured by the video, and she hadn't thought about anything else.

Furthermore, even though she had sobered up from the alcohol, certain parts of her body seemed still to be intoxicated, and her nerve responses weren't as sensitive, so her feelings weren't very clear.

But now... She suddenly thought of this, and abruptly felt an intense pain in her lower body, as if it had been torn apart.

"I've lost my virginity!"

This thought suddenly appeared in Chu Yunxuan's mind, instantly making her feel as if someone had poured a cup of ice water over her in the dead of winter, bone-chillingly cold...

"This bastard! I'm going to kill him!!"

For a girl who cherished herself dearly, the anger at finding her virginity taken away in such a baffling way was imaginable.

Chu Yunxuan's first thought was to find a knife and then, piece by piece, dismember Qin Fang, chop him into mincemeat, and feed him to the dogs...

It was this thought that drove her. She had no intention of watching other videos. With rage written all over her face, she rushed out of the room and into the living room, where she noticed a fruit knife on the table. Without a second thought, she grabbed the knife and charged towards Qin Fang's room.

The fruit knife was very sharp. A slight slice with the blade would leave a deep cut; it could definitely be fatal if used to stab someone.

With such a weapon, you wouldn't think of getting through security at stations or airports.

At that moment, Chu Yunxuan, fueled by her rage, was quite satisfied with the knife. She rushed to Qin Fang's room and, almost instinctively, wanted to kick the door open with a bang, then rush in and stab Qin Fang several times.

But as Chu Yunxuan lifted her foot to kick the door, she suddenly came to her senses, and the thought vanished.

"Forget it, he helped me with such a favor, I owe him one... Consider it his compensation!"

This is the most precious thing for a woman, something every self-respecting girl treasures, hoping to lose it in a very harmonious and perfect environment. But Chu Yunxuan's experience was a bit too unconventional and unexpected.

However, thinking of the huge trouble Qin Fang had just helped her out of, she owed him a big favor and had not yet repaid it. To take revenge for kindness with hatred...

Recalling women in TV dramas faced with such favors, most would consent with their bodies. Although times have changed, she had already given herself, so she thought it was better to just accept the mistake and move on.

While she hesitated, Qin Fang's room door suddenly opened. He was holding a cup and about to come out, almost running into Chu Yunxuan.

Fortunately, Qin Fang was quick to react. Before his bulky frame could bump into her, he caught her slender waist and gently pulled her, thus preventing a possible collision between them.

"Er..."

Qin Fang himself hadn't expected to encounter Chu Yunxuan right outside his room door and was momentarily taken aback, looking very surprised.

Noticing the fruit knife in Chu Yunxuan's hand, Qin Fang's eyes cleared up considerably, and after a brief thought, he knew what she intended to do.

"Don't worry, I won't do anything to you! You've helped me out, and you've taken something very valuable from me. Let's just say we're even... and that nothing happened!"

Qin Fang was just about to say something when Chu Yunxuan spoke first, and her meaning was quite clear.

"Er..."

Hearing this, Qin Fang was stunned.

What did she mean?

He didn't quite understand!

"What do you mean by taking away something valuable? What did I take from you?"

Qin Fang was completely baffled, but then his eyes brightened, and he looked at Chu Yunxuan up and down with a strange expression, muttering to himself, "She couldn't still be a..."

Even though Qin Fang thought it unlikely, Chu Yunxuan's current state had said it all. This woman was truly...

Oh my gosh!

Qin Fang suddenly felt extremely overwhelmed. How had he stumbled into such a situation?

"That... uh, nothing actually happened between us!"

"You... bastard!"

Chu Yunxuan couldn't believe that at this point, Qin Fang could still say something like that. She scolded him without a second thought and, at the same time, swung her hand in a slap.

Of course, Qin Fang would never let himself get hit. He extended his arm and caught Chu Yunxuan's hand in mid-air, making it impossible for it to land a blow.

"I'm serious! I really didn't do anything to you... even though I actually... but in reality, I only went in a little bit and then pulled out..."

Qin Fang was also frustrated. Chu Yunxuan was staring at him with eyes that seemed like they wanted to tear him apart, making his own speech somewhat muddled and unconsidered, expressing directly whatever he wanted to say.

But her hand was caught by Qin Fang, she couldn't move at all... Her other hand, holding the knife, she wouldn't really stab Qin Fang with it!

Unable to stab with the knife and with strength far inferior to Qin Fang's, all the woman had left was her mouth. So, abandoning the fruit knife, Chu Yunxuan pulled over Qin Fang's arm and bit down hard.

Qin Fang was also caught off guard by her sudden sneak attack and just like that, was bitten. The sharp pain in that instant spread throughout his body.

"Damn it, what are you, a dog?!"

Even though Qin Fang didn't care about such an injury, the pain from the wound was still intensely real. Being bitten like that by Chu Yunxuan really wasn't ordinary pain...

But Chu Yunxuan was both ashamed and angry, and feeling the loss of her most precious possession, the bite seemed to alleviate her discomfort somewhat, so she was even less willing to let go.

Qin Fang was really in pain, but there wasn't a much better solution. He certainly couldn't grab her hair and pull her off forcibly...

"Don't make me lose my temper! If you don't let go now, I'm going to have to get physical!"

Actually getting physical was definitely not an option, and Qin Fang was just bluffing with his words.

But such language carried little force. Chu Yunxuan seemed not to hear it at all, and bit down even harder, though tears still streamed down from the corners of her eyes...

"Damn it, stupid woman! Forcing me to get physical..."

Seeing that mere words wouldn't work, Qin Fang was also getting irritated. He cursed, then grabbed Chu Yunxuan's body, seemingly indifferent to the fact that she was wearing practically nothing below, and carried her straight into the room.

Slam~~

The two of them fell together onto the soft bed. The violent jolt made Chu Yunxuan's mouth open up a bit, but before Qin Fang could retract his arm, she bit down on it again, resolutely.

Perhaps because of the position they were in, Chu Yunxuan's robe was also lifted up, revealing her snow-white thighs completely, and even the smooth curve of her buttocks showed, at least partially. The front remained unseen, but the sad, fragrant grass still revealed a bit...

Gulp~~

Qin Fang had been pent-up all day today, having doused his fervor with proverbial cold water, but now, stirred by the scene before his eyes, the frustration flared up again. He couldn't help but swallow his saliva.

"Look, beautiful, your body is still intact. If you don't let go soon, I may have to let the facts speak for themselves..."

Qin Fang's words were deep, even a bit hoarse, as if he was struggling to suppress something. Chu Yunxuan and Qin Fang were very close, and at this moment, that soft place of hers immediately felt an increasingly hard object expanding and constantly brushing against her secret spot.

Chu Yunxuan started to panic. She had seen that video before, and saw the imposing size of Qin Fang's robust instrument when it swelled. The pain in her lower body was still so vivid...

"How could I possibly accommodate something so thick..."

Her thoughts were of fear, but not in the way one might imagine; she was wondering how such a robust instrument could ever fit inside her body...

But the idea that her virginity had been taken by such a beast, and that the experience that should have been enjoyable left her with no impression at all, left her feeling somewhat indignant.

"You... what are you trying to do!"

But in the end, she became fearful. Feeling the brute below Qin Fang grow even more vicious, she became timid, her mouth lost its determination, she let go and spoke with a bit of fear.

"Damn, you're playing me..."

Qin Fang really felt murderous then. If she was going to cling on with her bite without letup, he might have leveraged the situation to vent some of his own frustration.

But just at the critical moment, she changed her tune; having her stirred up by his intensity seemed not to matter anymore, and with that timid look and tone, he found himself unable to harden his heart against her. He could only give the heavens the middle finger, cursing to vent the frustration in his heart.

"You... I'm a doctor! And right now, you're a patient..."

But Chu Yunxuan was always a strong-willed woman, and she seemed a bit submissive earlier only because she was worried. Now, seeing that something was off with Qin Fang, even though she didn't fully understand what was happening, as a doctor, she felt it was her responsibility to look after the unwell Qin Fang.

This is where doctors at home and abroad differ. A doctor in the United States might save a life without a question, while one in China might pretend not to see and ignore a dying person...

"Damn it, just get lost..."

Almost with the last of his strength, Qin Fang threw Chu Yunxuan out and then felt his consciousness blur, as if falling into a dream, where everything became illusionary.

In that illusory world, the Chu Yunxuan who had previously seemed silly to him turned into a charmingly attractive beauty, smiling sweetly in a cute, pink nurse outfit tenderly fussing over him...

Chapter 519 The Marvelous Effects of Joyous Zen_1

Ring, ring, ring~~

It wasn't until a cell phone ringtone went off that both people, asleep, were startled awake, and Qin Fang also emerged from that extremely mystical state.

"Ah..."

"Ah..."

But as soon as the two opened their eyes and saw each other, they both simultaneously let out a cry of surprise, but then they both fell silent.

"Did you wake up?"

"Did you wake up?"

The two almost spoke in unison, asking the same question in chorus.

"Mhm!"

"Mhm!"

Even nodding their heads was done at the same time, a level of synchrony simply unimaginable.

"Answer the phone!"

"I'll answer it!"

The continuously ringing phone was Qin Fang's, and the two of them spoke at the same time again, although no longer parroting each other word for word, their intentions were still the same.

This was a very strange kind of harmony, all stemming from their accidental union and also because of that miraculous Joyous Zen Technique.

This profound Zen technique from the Esoteric Sect was not fully understood by Qin Fang before, but now he did.

Perhaps it was because Chu Yunxuan was the first woman he cultivated with, and it even started with both of them being virgins; moreover, Qin Fang was in an extremely dangerous and abnormal state when they did so, so the effect was unprecedentedly potent.

Not only did Chu Yunxuan step into Qin Fang's past life, but Qin Fang also understood Chu Yunxuan's past twenty years of life very clearly now, and he knew about the grudges and entanglements she had with that man.

What happened last night was indeed too unexpected for the two of them, or perhaps too dreamlike, making Qin Fang feel as if he were in a dream.

Chu Yunxuan felt the same way; she didn't understand why she disliked Qin Fang before, but now however she looked at him, she thought Qin Fang was absolutely perfect.

Qin Fang answered the call but didn't say much, only uttering a few "Mhms" before hanging up.

"Was it Li Yang who called?"

Chu Yunxuan now seemed like an extremely gentle and docile wife, that queenly aura no longer present; her tone was so gentle, unlike her previous coldness.

"The ingredients I listed on that medicinal recipe for him have some news... he was going to look for me and realized I wasn't around, that's why he called."

Chu Yunxuan was the only person in this world who knew the most about his matters.

Of course, that mysterious system was not included in this, that part of his memory being automatically sealed off such that no one but Qin Fang himself could ever know.

"Medicinal recipe? The one for Uncle Li? You really are too wicked..."

Chu Yunxuan immediately understood what was going on and said with a chuckle.

The two had no barriers between them, their talk was exceedingly affectionate and casual, as if they had been lovers for many years, yet in reality, they had only known each other for the second day.

Having additional memories of Qin Fang, she naturally knew about Qin Fang taking the opportunity to heal General Li to seek some personal gain.

However, Chu Yunxuan now wouldn't think there was anything bad about Qin Fang doing this, as she was now completely on Qin Fang's side, and thus she didn't see anything wrong with it.

"Actually, you could teach the recipe to me; after all, I have a doctorate in pharmacology from Harvard Medical School, I'm good at this..."

Having mentioned the medicinal recipe, Chu Yunxuan also knew about the Heart Nourishing Pill recipe, thus she made such a suggestion.

A thought crossed Qin Fang's mind, and he really started to consider this idea.

Without question, the Heart Nourishing Pill was an absolute panacea for the most stubborn heart diseases, the only pity being that the ingredients listed in the prescription were hard to find and could only be easily produced by Qin Fang himself.

However, the process of Qin Fang crafting medicine was not suitable for public disclosure, making it impossible to mass-produce this medicine.

Chu Yunxuan had a Ph.D. in pharmacology, and Qin Fang also knew her mastery in pharmacology was at the Grandmaster Level, so her expertise was definitely without question. If he was to refine the Heart Nourishing Pill and then hand it over to Chu Yunxuan for analysis of the various components, using other drugs for substitution or dilution, then it would be entirely feasible to mass-produce this very beneficial drug for humanity.

Heart disease was undoubtedly a global medical conundrum, and the number of deaths it caused each year was no small figure. Should the Heart Nourishing Pills be made available, it could definitely fill this void— not only would it save many lives, but it would also bring Qin Fang immense fame and wealth.

"This idea isn't bad... But I'll have to wait until I've actually refined that elixir!"

But this was just a concept for now; gathering the ingredients for the Heart Nourishing Pill was not easy and might be unattainable in the short term, so the development would have to be postponed. However, Qin Fang already had such a plan in mind.

After all, he didn't just have the prescription for the Heart Nourishing Pill; he also had the formula for the Detoxification Pill, and it was entirely possible that he could obtain other prescriptions in the future. He could definitely dedicate efforts in this area.

All these matters could be put aside for the moment. Qin Fang felt that the dual cultivation session that night was extremely beneficial, yielding much gain, so he flipped through his character and skill panels to check them.

Through this dual cultivation, Qin Fang had come to understand the power of Great Bliss Zen, enabling him to gain additional insights into the Martial Way.

These insights were not the result of improved skills, but came from his own comprehension and perception.

The difference between having an insight and not having it was significant. If he were to face an enemy now, the battle between two people would not be evenly matched at all, but would be a complete one-sided affair.

Great Bliss Zen was a Special Skill, leaning more towards internal power, and was very effective in the spiritual aspect of cultivation. It also spurred an increase in his National Arts Skill proficiency.

"Jumped 30% in just one night..."

Looking at the proficiency that had soared so suddenly, Qin Fang's face was filled with surprise. An increase of 30% was a truly terrifying figure.

Qin Fang's National Arts Skill progression was usually very slow, requiring him to practice bit by bit, and even with direct guidance from Old Master Wu, a Grandmaster, the proficiency only surged by 20%. This time it was a full half more than before.

This was the growth represented by data. There were also improvements not shown in the data: Qin Fang's Inner Breath had definitely become more than twice as powerful as before.

If previously Qin Fang's Inner Breath was like a pellet gun, now it had undergone a huge transformation—it was like upgrading to a machine gun, with incomparably stronger firepower.

With stronger Inner Breath, Qin Fang's other skills could also become much more powerful. For example, his acupuncture skill, The Nine Revival Needles, was about using Inner Breath to drive the needles; the strength of the Inner Breath absolutely determined the timing and intensity of the needlework.

Previously, when Old Master Wu forced the poison out of him, Qin Fang had almost gone mad due to excessive consumption of Inner Breath. If it were now, it would definitely not be as dire.

After checking his own changes, Qin Fang nonchalantly cast a Scouting Skill on Chu Yunxuan, which immediately made him stunned because Chu Yunxuan's attributes had also changed.

"Chu Yunxuan, LV3, Military Doctor, Righteous Guardian Faction, Abilities: Western Medicine Level 5, Pharmacology Level 6, Pharmaceuticals Level 5, Karate Level 2, Inner Strength Level 1..."

Seeing such a result, Qin Fang was somewhat surprised!

Recalling the reconnaissance from yesterday, he remembered it quite clearly. At that time, Chu Yunxuan was only LV2, but now she had become LV3, having leveled up overnight, and in addition, she had gained "Inner Strength Level 1."

Such changes came overnight, and the reason... was obviously due to their dual cultivation.

Not only did Qin Fang's strength increase significantly, but Chu Yunxuan also benefited considerably. A woman who originally did not know Inner Strength now possessed Inner Breath, which was quite an impressive feat.

Remembering General Li's disappointment, and how his senior sister Li Yang had excellent martial arts talent, even slightly better than the Tian Nan Four Shows, but was born unable to cultivate Inner Breath, resulting in her having Level 5 combat strength but still unable to defeat other Level 5 experts...

Seeing this new ability added to Chu Yunxuan, Qin Fang thought about whether he could use this method to let his other women also achieve Inner Strength.

Tang Feifei was secretly protected, and ordinary people wouldn't dare to touch her, so Qin Fang was not too worried about her.

But Xiao Muxue, Fan Ning, Wen Yan, and Miao Yue were all ordinary people with no ability to resist danger. If he could let them possess Inner Strength too and teach them some self-defense skills, their safety would definitely be greatly enhanced. Then Qin Fang could leave home with much greater peace of mind.

He had now taken on the task of the King of Assassins. Things were still manageable for the time being, but there was no doubt that he would be busier in the future, even skirting the edge of death, and he did not want his women to be threatened, thereby compromising his own safety...

Therefore, the safety of these women had to be taken seriously...

While Qin Fang was still lying there, his mind was filled with countless thoughts. He had a long road ahead, and the System had been a great help, but he couldn't take it lightly— who knew when he might encounter some perverse task again. So, he had to be extremely cautious and prepared for certain details...

Without question, his biggest weakness lay in these women...

Chapter 520: Medicinal Materials_1

"It's time to go back..."

Li Yang's calls had come through, and it seemed he was quite anxious.

Actually, after the poison was resolved, General Li's injuries were largely healed, leaving only some recovery and recuperation to be done.

The pharmaceutical treatment proposed by Qin Fang was just a simple auxiliary effect. In fact, what he really wanted was to ask Elder Ma about some related treatment methods, as he himself was still a novice in medical arts.

If it had been earlier, Qin Fang might not have been very confident, and he would definitely have been extremely cautious with the use of medicines. It wouldn't matter if the healing effects were slow, as long as nothing went wrong.

Now, it was much better. Chu Yunxuan was tantamount to being half of Qin Fang. Basically, what Qin Fang knew about his limited methods, Chu Yunxuan was already very clear about. Moreover, her own level in medical arts was quite high, already at a Quasi Grandmaster Level.

Having this pure Western medicine practitioner deal with the unpredictable Gu poison was indeed a tough ask for her, but if it was just about simply assisting Qin Fang with General Li's rehabilitation, there would be absolutely no problem.

"You must teach me The Nine Revival Needles..."

After all, Chu Yunxuan was a doctor, and she knew that Qin Fang was really not up to scratch in medical arts. It was just that The Nine Revival Needles were too miraculous, which even she, a high-standard Western medicine practitioner who had once scoffed at Chinese medicine, envied immensely.

"No problem, but you need to start practicing first..."

Qin Fang naturally had no reason to refuse such a request. Although a secret technique like this was greatly coveted by a Medical Grandmaster like Elder Ma, Qin Fang would definitely not agree to pass it on to a bunch of doctors lacking in morals and professionalism.

However, Chu Yunxuan clearly did not have such an issue, and besides, she was now Qin Fang's woman, his most intimate one at that—truly one of his own, so there was absolutely no problem.

Furthermore, the biggest challenge for Chu Yunxuan in learning The Nine Revival Needles had already been overcome.

The Nine Revival Needles required Inner Breath as a foundation, which meant that one had to have practiced Inner Strength first. And with a night's cultivation of Joyous Zen, Chu Yunxuan unconsciously gained the Inner Strength that many martial artists longed for—even if it was only Level 1, she at least now had the qualifications to cultivate.

It was already noon, the sun was high in the sky, and with the urging of Li Yang's calls, they had to leave this place.

But the two of them lingered in the room for a bit longer, naturally engaging in some intimate contact. However, since Chu Yunxuan had just lost her virginity, it wasn't appropriate to engage in vigorous activities again, so they eventually stopped rather hastily.

Their clothes were no longer suitable to wear, but Qin Fang's personal bodyguard, Shen Liang, had arrived in Jincheng. He had arranged for some items for them, which allowed them to leave the hotel.

As for Qin Fang's new subordinate, Wei Suo, Shen Liang had already met him. People from Ninghai had already been sent to pick him up and take him to Ninghai.

Ultimately, Qin Fang didn't particularly trust this shifty subordinate whose character was questionable. The guy was too slick, always saying the right things, yet harboring all sorts of schemes in his heart.

Whether or not this guy's loyalty could be won over would depend on Qin Fang's methods in the future. Such a versatile subordinate would definitely be a significant aid by Qin Fang's side.

As for Chu Yunxuan's car, Shen Liang had driven it off with a grimace, enduring the smell inside, to get it cleaned, while Qin Fang drove Chu Yunxuan back to the military base.

"You two..."

Li Yang looked incredulously at the young couple before him, noting their intimate behavior, and couldn't help rubbing his eyes, wondering if he was seeing things.

Chu Yunxuan had grown up with him, and their relationship was like that of siblings. The Li and Chu families had once hoped to bring the two together, but since the pair felt no spark, they never became a couple.

Once Li Yang stepped aside, the eligible young men within the military compound saw an opportunity. Facing a competitor like Li Yang was too much pressure, but without him in the way, they were relentless in their pursuit.

Despite this, having been in the military hospital for over half a year, Chu Yunxuan had not succumbed to anyone's advances, not even for a simple meal...

If it weren't for this, Chu Yunxuan would not be so unfamiliar with the city; she focused solely on her work, paying no attention to anything else, making success for those young talents nearly impossible.

These military scions might resort to some tactics with other women, but with Chu Yunxuan, coming from a military family herself, they didn't dare. If any issues arose, plenty of far more influential military scions would stand up to crush them.

Chu Yunxuan's father might not hold a particularly high military rank, but he was still a major general. Key to note was Lady Chu—Chu Yunxuan's mother—who was a top medical expert in the country and one of the prime medical advisors for top leaders, having served several heads of state. As such, her connections were considerable, for who doesn't experience the occasional illness? The higher the status, the more one needs a highly skilled doctor.
