Chapter 98 H-Dao Brother Hu_1

"Scarface, actually, you didn't need to go out of your way to send us off. The school has a shuttle bus, we could've gone straight back..."

The farce involving the gun finally ended with one party covering their face and fleeing in bare shame, marking Qin Fang as the unarguably victorious party. However, this also signified that the military training session had officially come to an end. They only needed to return to the school for a final report performance, and Qin Fang and his peers would successfully receive those few academic credits.

What was unexpected was Scarface's initiative to offer Qin Fang a ride back to the city.

"Quit your yapping, I have something to tell you on the way..."

Scarface glared at Qin Fang before saying, "Don't think that kid got off easy just because you bullied him pretty badly. I've done some digging, and he's no pushover. I sure don't want to see you end up floating dead in the Yangtze River before you've had a chance to grow."

With that said, Qin Fang felt he had no choice. He also wanted to know what Scarface had to tell him, so he didn't decline his invitation.

"Scarface, this is Tang Feifei..."

But when Qin Fang was asking for leave from the school, Tang Feifei and Xiao Muxue insisted on coming along, seemingly worried about him. Unable to resist the two beauties, he had no choice but to bring them along.

"I know, the sister of Tang Leader, I've met her before..." Scarface wasn't surprised at all, instead he seemed quite pleased as he greeted Tang Feifei.

"Scarface!"

Tang Feifei also recognized Scarface, or rather, she had recognized him during the time Qin Fang and Li Feng were squaring off, but she had simply not come over to greet him.

"You girl have grown up, you're a young lady now... last time I saw you, you were only... this tall!" Scarface chuckled as he spoke and then his eyes shifted to Xiao Muxue.

"Muxue, this is Scarface. Scarface, this is Muxue..." It was natural for Qin Fang to make the introductions immediately.

"Nice to meet you, Scarface, you can just call me Xiao Xue!"

Xiao Muxue was the kind of girl who was very likable, and she greeted Scarface with a bright smile on her face.

"Good, good, good..."

Being warmly addressed by two beauties, even a tough guy like Scarface felt a bit elated. Fortunately, he remembered his purpose and, after briefly greeting the two women, pulled Qin Fang toward the military jeep he had driven over.

"I must say, you're quite something, kid, both of them first-class beauties, you're quite lucky with the ladies! Tell me, which one have you taken a shine to?" On the way, Scarface joked with Qin Fang.

"Scarface, don't talk nonsense, I'm just good friends with them, it's not what you think..."

Qin Fang immediately felt a bit shy, his face turning a touch red as he spoke, and he couldn't help thinking about Tang Feifei's soft little hand and her tender gaze, finding himself somewhat enthralled.

"Don't play dumb, kid. I can see that Feifei seems quite fond of you. Don't let her down! Otherwise, forget about Tang Leader cleaning your clock, even us brothers definitely won't let you off the hook..."

As a subordinate of Tang Cheng, Scarface naturally was a strong backer of Tang Feifei and immediately stood up for her.

"Yes, yes, yes... Is that good enough for you now?"

Qin Fang was speechless, and thinking about Scarface's iron-like palm made his shoulders feel a bit sore.

All four of them got in the car, and they headed toward Ninghai City District. Along the way, Scarface didn't bring up the topic he had mentioned earlier. Qin Fang wanted to ask several times, but considering the two beauties sitting in the backseat, he couldn't bring himself to speak up. He didn't wish to drag the two women into it.

Fortunately, on the way through the university town, they dropped off the two beauties at Ninghai University, and only then did Scarface take Qin Fang away again, without explaining in detail to the two beauties why.

"Scarface, shouldn't you tell me what this is all about now?"

Only after they were out of sight of the two beauties did Qin Fang ask.

"It's not a big deal, just introducing someone to you..." Scarface said indifferently, "This guy is my brother, originally a member of our squad too. He had to be discharged due to some errors, but thankfully, Tang Leader helped him out, gave him some work, and over these past few years, he's made quite a name for himself."

Scarface briefly introduced the person he wanted Qin Fang to meet and their relationship. It seemed they were close comrades, especially since he had received help from Tang Cheng, so it was reasonable for him to ask for help in return.

"Tiger, long time no see..."

"Scarface, you little shit, you're still alive!"

When Scarface brought Qin Fang to the arranged meeting place, Qin Fang began to understand what it meant to have made a name for himself—this was clearly an underworld boss.

"Qin Fang, come here, call him Brother Hu..."

"Brother Hu!"

After Scarface and Tiger caught up for a bit, Scarface introduced Qin Fang, who was waiting at the side, to Tiger, "Tang Leader has already briefed you over the phone, so I won't say more. If he ever comes to you with trouble, you can't refuse him, okay?"

"Nonsense, what do you take me for, Scarface? It's not just because Tang Leader arranged it personally, even if you asked a brother for a favor, I would go through fire and water for you. Don't worry, leave everything to me!"

Only when he was close did Qin Fang notice that despite Tiger looking lean, he was like Scarface—unknown level, clearly another formidable character, exuding an aura that instinctively put Qin Fang on edge. He was definitely a dangerous man.

"Hey, kid, have you trained before?"

Tiger was clearly sizing up Qin Fang as well, curious since Tang Cheng had personally made the call for him. However, the sharp-eyed Tiger asked in surprise.

"No, I just learned a set of boxing moves from a classmate a while ago!" Qin Fang cooperated fully. Although Tiger seemed quite dangerous, he didn't have that red glow of hostility.

"I see!"

Tiger nodded in understanding, didn't ask further, and took out a business card from his pocket, handing it to Qin Fang with both hands. He also very politely offered, "This is my private card, call me if you run into any trouble... Oh, and A Dong, give him your number too since you're over at Ninghai University Town, it might be more convenient for him to reach out to you..."

"Thank you, Brother Hu! Thank you, Brother Dong..."

Formalities must not be overlooked, Qin Fang could tell that Tiger was probably not a simple figure in Ninghai's underworld, surely one of the notable characters in the underground scene.

Behind Li Feng, the Li Family had a significant influence in Ninghai, and for a small fry like Qin Fang, if they truly wanted to deal with him, he would have likely been dumped in the Yangtze River long ago. It only seemed that Li Feng wanted to take Qin Fang down personally, hence the minor disturbances which allowed Qin Fang some breathing room.

"Hmph, since you can't tolerate me, I will not show you any courtesy either! Letting me catch my breath just shows how foolish you are. Just watch how I play you to death!"

Quietly, Qin Fang started scheming in his heart. The enmity between him and Li Feng had escalated sharply ever since their confrontation with guns, and Li Feng's next move would surely be even more vicious.

Instead of sitting around waiting to die, better to... strike first to gain the upper hand!

In the past, Qin Fang lacked the opportunity, but now... it was really hard to say. After all, Qin Fang had unexpectedly learned a lot of very useful things during the half-month of military training, especially some weapons that could be used for self-defense, or even... killing the enemy.

Of course, before the right opportunity presented itself, Qin Fang wouldn't act rashly. But with Brother Hu and his men, they became a significant protective umbrella for Qin Fang. While they couldn't guarantee Qin Fang would be completely safe, at least they could minimize some minor trouble.
