Chapter 33 The Pioneer of Unbeatable Solitude! (5/5)_1

The Space-Time Pearl, in itself a potent artifact, served an even more crucial function. Unexpectedly, it was a component of a divine artifact.

Divine artifacts, transcending the conventions of nine ranks, are extremely rare and invaluable treasures. Thus far, throughout Earth's long history, only a handful of divine artifacts have ever appeared. This wasn't limited to Earth. For many years, the three intelligent life planets of the Yongming Star System, which had been in competition with Earth, along with their countless professionals, had often encountered god-grade artifacts. However, they had rarely been seen using divine ones. This just went to show how incredibly rare such items were.

The fact that Chen Mo managed to obtain even the faintest clue related to one was already an instance of extraordinary fortune.

A divine artifact! If I could get my hands on one, wouldn't I just skyrocket?

Chen Mo couldn't help but daydream.

But he quickly returned to reality. Divine artifacts were too far-fetched; it was wiser to focus on steadily increasing his own strength.

After viewing the information about the Space-Time Pearl in his backpack, Chen Mo turned his attention to the "SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll" lying next to it.

[SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll]

[Item Effects]: Upon using this scroll, one SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment will be cleared automatically for you; you can directly claim the rewards for this assessment without completing it yourself. The reward level will be equivalent to a flawless clearing. However, an additional SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll won't be obtained.

[Item Introduction]: A divine scroll that can only be obtained by those who perfectly complete an SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment!

Good grief, there's even a Scroll that directly clears the SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment! Isn't that basically giving me a free rise in title level and one piece of mythical-grade equipment? This is too outrageous!

Having read the introduction to the SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll, Chen Mo couldn't help but feel the urge to reach Level 10.

However, this scroll didn't have a level restriction, meaning it could also be used after reaching Level 10. Therefore, whether to use it at Level 10 was something that required careful consideration.

With this in mind, Chen Mo decided to consider it when the time came.

The rewards from this SSS-Level Realm Breakthrough Assessment were bountiful. The Godslayer Challenger title, which can boost All Attributes by 100 points, alone was worth the price of admission.

Attribute points are difficult to acquire; apart from those obtained through leveling up, each extra point is hard-won and immensely valuable. This was especially true for a whopping 100 points in All Attributes.

Chen Mo had essentially received 500 attribute points for free. Even though 100 of these points were for Strength, which he didn't need, the boost from the other 400 points was genuine. The rewards were still astonishing.

Seeing how valuable the SSS-grade title was, Chen Mo immediately turned his eyes to the Pioneer title rewarded by the Heavenly Dao.

When the sound of the great path announced it, this title seemed to be SSS-grade as well. Maybe it could give me another 100 points in All Attributes?

[SSS-Grade Title - Pioneer]

[Title Level]: LV1

[Title Experience]: 0/1 (Gain 1 point of experience for each SSS-level solo task completed in this star system that has not been completed by others.)

[Title Effect]: Increase All Attributes by 100 points, double the amount of experience gained when alone, and adds a restoration effect for 10% of your maximum life value and energy value every second.

[Title Skill]: The Pioneer's Light

[The Pioneer's Light-The Golden Passive]: The Pioneer's glory will illuminate all darkness and clarify all confusion. When alone, you can gain insight into everything within a range of (10*Level) meters around you (including invisible units).

Current Effect: Off (It can be enabled or disabled at any time.)

[Title Introduction]: As a Pioneer, you always venture forth alone, clearing the path for those who follow. Your glory is enough to stand shoulder to shoulder with Gods!

It's so powerful!

After reading the introduction to the Pioneer title, Chen Mo couldn't help but feel that the Godslayer Challenger seemed much weaker by comparison. Of course, the Godslayer Challenger would inevitably rise to the occasion when confronting god-grade entities. But how often did one encounter god-grade entities in daily life? In terms of everyday utility, the Pioneer title completely outshone the Godslayer Challenger.

However, the only downside was that aside from the attribute boost, all other effects of the Pioneer title were only effective when he was alone; they were useless when teamed up. It was not well-suited for group combat.

Of course, that was a problem for others, but not for Chen Mo. He didn't need to team up with anyone; he alone was an army! Currently, his yellow skill could summon five hundred Skeleton Monsters. With further enhancement, summoning thousands or even tens of thousands might not be unthinkable.

Seeing that the effect of The Pioneer's Light was currently off, Chen Mo was intrigued and wanted to see just what this 'insight into everything' entailed. He decided to turn it on.

As the effect of The Pioneer's Light activated, Chen Mo instantly felt as though his perception of the world had been renewed. Everything around him, whether in front or behind, was reflected in his mind with extreme detail. What's more, the intricacies of all things appeared in his mind in stunning detail. His current state could no longer be described as merely 'seeing' but rather as a higher level of perception—sensing!

Thanks to the success of the Realm Breakthrough Test, all the extra experience Chen Mo had accumulated abruptly took effect; his level had skyrocketed to Level 8, just shy of Level 9. According to the effect of The Pioneer's Light, he could sense everything within an 80-meter radius. Within this 80-meter radius, he could perceive every nuance with clarity.

Moreover, compared to seeing, sensing was far clearer. Seeing is subject to the influence of light, the width of one's field of vision, and can lead to sensations like dizziness, blurriness, and afterimages. But sensing was different; everything was so clear. Chen Mo felt he could now even navigate an obstacle course blindfolded.

The sensation of perceiving everything around him was incredibly exhilarating. He felt as though he were observing the world from God's perspective. Consequently, he decided to keep the passive effect of The Pioneer's Light permanently active.

After taking stock of his gains, Chen Mo finally checked his own attributes. He allocated all the distributable attribute points gained from leveling up. As a result, his attributes were now impressively high.

[Name]: Chen Mo

[Grade]: Seven-star (Two-star + Five-star hidden)

[Profession]: Skeleton Mage (initial profession), Infinite Fusion Master (hidden initial profession)

[Level]: Level 8

[Experience]: 5,620/28,500

[Attribute]:

Constitution 300 = Life 9,000, Physical Defense 1,500, Life recovery 300 points/10 seconds

Strength 220 = Physical Attack 660

Agility 220 = Critical Damage +220%

Wisdom 495 = Magic Attack 1,765

Spirit 495 = Energy 24,750, Magic Defense 2,475, Energy recovery 635 points/10 seconds

With these attributes, the Skeleton Monsters that could be summoned would have the following stats: Health 4,950, physical attack 1,485, magic attack 1,485, physical defense 0, magic defense 0, characteristics – Bomb, Revival, Corpse Poison, Invisible.

With an attack power of over a thousand, they were already surpassing the attack power of a Level 10 BOSS. If not for their low Health, each one could individually serve as a Level 10 BOSS. And these monstrously strong Skeleton Monsters, Chen Mo could summon a full five hundred of them!

Just as Chen Mo was checking his attributes, a strange fluctuation suddenly appeared in his surroundings!
