Chapter 47 How did it get to level 10! (2/5)_1

The effects of the two newly acquired titles were extremely powerful. After Chen Mo read them, he was over the moon.

But that was just a small part of what he had recently harvested.

He had also just received two large Gift Packs: one SS-level, the other SSS-level.

Judging by the grade of these Gift Packs, they should contain some correspondingly high-quality items.

However, with so many people around, Chen Mo wasn't in a hurry to open them.

He continued to review his attributes.

The Pioneer title was also just upgraded. Its effects should be further enhanced now.

Chen Mo checked it immediately.

[SSS-Level Title – The Pioneer]

[Title Level]: LV2

[Title Experience]: 0/1 (Earn 1 experience point for each SSS-level difficulty task completed that no one else has accomplished.)

[Title Effect]: All Attributes increased by 200 points. Experience gain increased by 200% when alone. Recover 20% of maximum life value and energy value per second.

[Title Skill]: The Pioneer's Light

* The Pioneer's Light·The Golden Passive: The glory of The Pioneer will illuminate all darkness and clarify all uncertainties. When alone, you can perceive all information within a (20 x Level)-meter radius (including invisible units). Current effect: Active (Can be freely toggled on or off).

[Title Introduction]: As The Pioneer, you always advance alone, clearing the path and overcoming obstacles for those who follow!

The effects of the upgraded Pioneer title had been strengthened in all aspects.

Whether it was the rate of experience gain, recovery rate, or the effective range of its passive skill, all had doubled.

Its usefulness had become even stronger.

With The Pioneer ensuring his sustainability and The Lonely God of War for survival, Chen Mo felt that all he lacked now were means to increase his attack power.

But then again, considering he could summon a large number of minions, he didn't really want to take action himself.

After all, not having to do anything, just waving his Magic Wand and watching his hordes of minions swarm and kill a BOSS, was also a kind of enjoyment.

After reviewing the title effects, and unable to check other gains at the moment, Chen Mo promptly allocated the attribute points from just reaching Level 10.

[Name]: Chen Mo

[Grade]: Seven-star (Two-star + Five-star hidden)

[Profession]: Skeleton Mage (Initial Profession), Infinite Fusion Master (Hidden Initial Profession)

[Level]: 10

[Experience]: 79,420/50,600 (Second-tier bottleneck)

[Attributes]:

Constitution 1,020 = Life 30,600, Physical Defense 5,100, Life Recovery 1,020 points / 10 seconds

Strength 920 = Physical Attack 2,760

Agility 920 = Critical Damage +920%

Wisdom 1,255 = Magic Attack 4,045

Spirit 1,255 = Energy 62,750, Magic Defense 6,275, Energy Recovery 1,395 points / 10 seconds

With his current attributes, the Skeleton Monsters he could summon had the following stats: Health 12,550, Physical Attack 3,765, Magic Attack 3,765, Physical Defense 0, Magic Defense 0, Traits—Bomb, Revival, Corpse Poison, Invisible.

After being enhanced by several top-tier titles, Chen Mo's attributes, especially his attack power, were fast approaching those of a Level 20 first-transition professional wielding Silver weapons of the same level.

The fighting power of his Skeleton Monsters had also increased tremendously, far surpassing that of BOSSes of the same level. In fact, even a Level 15 BOSS wasn't a match for the attack power of Chen Mo's current Skeleton Monsters, let alone those of the same level.

This meant Chen Mo could summon more than 500 monsters, each with attack power far surpassing that of a Level 15 BOSS, with just a wave of his hand.

How terrifying!

Non-Rebirth professionals appeared as fragile as common mobs before him, easily wiped out with a gesture!

My attributes have been enhanced so much. I wonder if I can challenge the Level 10 SSS-level breakthrough trial now.

Chen Mo had barely managed to pass the previous breakthrough trial by exploiting the advantage of Corpse Poison.

If he hadn't had Corpse Poison and had to engage in a straightforward fight, he would have had no chance of winning.

Not every BOSS was unable to remove debuffs, nor was every BOSS susceptible to poison damage.

So, Chen Mo wasn't completely confident he could pass any SSS-level breakthrough trial.

He decided to hold off for now. After returning home today, he would first sort through his spoils of war, see how much money he could make, and then continue to elevate his combat power.

Most of his current abilities were survival-oriented; his main offensive power relied on Corpse Poison, which still left something to be desired.

Even though the attack power of his Skeleton Monsters was now quite formidable, their attack speed was only once every two seconds. Thus, even if 500 Skeleton Monsters managed to hit the target with full damage every time, it would only deal a total of around 1,880,000 damage.

1,880,000 damage in two seconds was likely far from enough against God-grade BOSSes.

Not to mention, BOSSes also had defensive power and damage reduction abilities, so each hit's damage would be significantly reduced.

After allocating his points, Chen Mo had nothing else to do for the moment, so he opened the Heavenly Dao Network and looked up the trading prices of some items.

This would give him some idea of his loot's value when he decided to sell it later.

While he was searching for relevant information, the Principal and the others returned.

"Students, due to the arrival of The Master of Mutation, the distribution of monster levels in the forest has become very chaotic. It's unsuitable for you to continue with the novice examination.

Therefore, after consulting with the inspectors and the higher-ups, it has been agreed to reschedule.

Today's novice examination ends here. We will arrange a new examination location for you tomorrow.

Students who wish to continue participating tomorrow may register again," the Principal announced.

As he spoke, he couldn't help but glance at Chen Mo, who was engrossed in his research.

Among so many students, apart from Chen Mo, the others had basically gained nothing today.

"Holy shit! Mr. Mo, when did you reach Level 10?"

Fang Datong had intended to check Chen Mo's current level, thinking of discussing whether they should wait for their levels to catch up before leveling together. Instead, he discovered Chen Mo's level had maxed out.

His exclamation immediately drew the attention of the nearby students and teachers, who promptly used their exploration skills on Chen Mo.

Normally, reaching Level 5 within a day of the novice examination was considered very good. Chen Mo, however, had practically not killed a single monster today, yet he was already Level 10. Everyone was naturally astonished.

Seeing all the teachers and students looking at him, Chen Mo simply smiled and said, "It's the experience points given to me by that red-named individual earlier. I got stuck at Level 5 because I'd chosen the wrong difficulty for the examination, and I was probably going to have to choose an independent breakthrough and lose experience points. But then, someone achieved a special accomplishment, so I didn't have to choose an independent breakthrough anymore. I instantly broke through the bottleneck and rose to Level 10."

At his words, everyone was speechless.

Good heavens, he had thoroughly milked the benefits from that red-named individual, reaching Level 10 without killing a single monster.

He was comfortably sitting at the top of the county's novice examination rankings!

"Alright, everyone, no need for further discussion. Chen Mo's situation is an accidental exception. You all still need to perform well tomorrow and try to raise your levels as much as possible. The opportunity to have close protection isn't always available," Shen Rulong said. He then looked at Chen Mo and added, "Chen Mo, since you've reached Level 10, you don't need to come tomorrow. Just report to the school the day after tomorrow. We will submit your results today. You are definitely first in the county!"

After Shen Rulong finished speaking, Su Tianxin quietly approached Chen Mo and said, "Come to my office after we return to school. I'll explain this matter to you in detail."
