Chapter 511: Outer Incarnation! (Two in One) _2

If a dungeon is ultimately failed, then no matter how many epic fights you had, if the final mission isn't completed, all those monsters killed and tasks done will have been for naught. There's nothing to gain.

However, hidden missions within a dungeon are settled separately, so they wouldn't be affected.

The dungeon profit boost provided by 'The Ultimate Overcomer' is precisely the attribute Chen Mo needs right now.

And as an Above SSS-level Title, the dungeon profit boost from the title effect also applies to the final profit.

The difference introduced by the word 'final' is truly like night and day.

Take the Imperial Dungeon that Chen Mo just completed, for example.

Upon finishing it with a perfect score, the dungeon's final profit was 1,000% experience points and 1,000% eternal coins.

If Chen Mo only possessed a regular 100% dungeon profit boost, that would increase the 1,000% profit to 1,100%, effectively adding only one-tenth more. The effect is quite limited.

But with the addition of the word 'final,' it's different. The final profit is boosted by 100%.

This means the 1,000% profit jumps directly to 2,000%—an absolute windfall!

Chen Mo was quite satisfied with the title effect alone. He immediately turned his gaze to the Title Skill.

[Title Skill]: Ultimate Overcomer

[[Ultimate Overcomer · Dazzling Passive]] : When you challenge targets and dungeons above your Level, all experience points and eternal coins gained within the dungeon will be increased by a multiplier equal to 'the difference between your Level and the target (or dungeon) Level.'

[Title Introduction]: Your efforts in surpassing limits will earn you rewards that surpass limits!

This Title Skill is awesome! If I find some seniors to get into a high-Level dungeon with, wouldn't I make an absolute killing?

Chen Mo had just seen the enormous amount of Experience required for class reincarnation and was thinking it would take considerable effort to gain it all. He hadn't expected such a powerful, Experience-boosting Title to be handed to him.

This is simply wonderful!

After checking these three basic benefits, Chen Mo turned his gaze to the Above SSS-level Gift Pack he had received as a reward when the sound of the great path echoed.

He chose to bind it and open it.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: You have successfully opened the Above SSS-level Gift Pack. Congratulations, you have obtained the bound item 'Outer Incarnation·Origin-grade'!]

[Outer Incarnation·Origin-grade]

[Item Active Effect]: When activated, it generates an outer incarnation identical to you that absolutely obeys your orders. This will be a perfect Avatar, replicating all your abilities, but this outer incarnation cannot inherit any abilities that generate Avatars! You can recall the outer incarnation at any time. After recalling it, the item requires a 1-minute Cooldown before it can be used again. (Can be activated from the backpack.)

[Item Passive Effect]: When your strength increases, the outer incarnation will instantly synchronize to your current strength. If the outer incarnation is killed, the item enters a Cooldown state and can only be used again after 1 hour. (Effective while in the backpack.)

[Item Introduction]: It's often said that one can't be in two places at once, but with this, you can even sneak in a break!

This is insane! A perfect Avatar that duplicates everything I can do? Isn't that a bit too powerful?!

Chen Mo couldn't help but immediately summon an Avatar.

A flow of Rule Energy emerged, and a copy of himself immediately appeared beside Chen Mo!

The moment the outer incarnation appeared, it immediately bowed respectfully to Chen Mo.

"Greetings, Master."

Wait, it's even sentient? Chen Mo was surprised when the Avatar took the initiative to speak.

He immediately asked, "You possess consciousness?"

"I possess wisdom identical to yours, Master."

It actually has consciousness! This is incredible!

Chen Mo was pleasantly surprised. Full of anticipation, he asked the outer incarnation, "Since you possess consciousness, can you think and make decisions independently?"

The outer incarnation replied with a smile, "My instinct is to obey your commands absolutely. However, I also have the ability to think independently."

When you find yourself in a situation where your judgment is clouded, I can analyze it from an observer's perspective, using your way of thinking, to offer advice and suggestions."

Chen Mo was overjoyed and increasingly intrigued by the outer incarnation.

He then asked seriously, "Do you truly possess wisdom equal to mine? Can you comprehend my thoughts and feelings?"

Maintaining a respectful posture, the outer incarnation answered with a smile, "Yes, Master. I possess the same wisdom and emotional capacity as you. I can comprehend your thoughts and feelings and act according to your instructions and expectations."

Chen Mo was elated. His outer incarnation not only possessed his abilities but also shared his thoughts and feelings.

He stroked his chin, thinking for a moment, then asked, "So, as my Avatar, do you have your own will and ideas? Will you object to my decisions?"

This is different from independent thought; this concerns potential conflicts in decision-making. I need to get this clear.

The outer incarnation answered solemnly, "As I mentioned, my instinct is to obey your orders, but I also possess the ability to think independently. If I believe your decisions carry risk or are unsuitable, I will offer my counsel and do my best to dissuade you.

However, the final choice will always be yours. If you insist on a decision that I deem unsuitable, I will still unconditionally obey."

Hearing this, Chen Mo nodded in approval. No conflicts then. That's good.

He continued, "Then, what will you do when I'm not around?"

The outer incarnation replied with gravitas, "When you are absent, I will act according to your instructions and established principles, striving to meet all your requirements and protect all your interests.

I will do my utmost to complete the tasks you assign and promptly report on progress and any problems encountered."

Chen Mo felt even more satisfied upon hearing this.

He thought for a moment, wanting to test this supposedly independently-thinking Avatar. He then asked, "Alright, from now on, we will cooperate closely and work together. Do you have any suggestions or plans for our future development?"

The outer incarnation said with a smile, "As your Avatar, I believe we should make full use of my existence. I can act for you in situations where you cannot be present. We can divide labor, complete more tasks, and undertake more challenges."

Divide labor? Challenges? Chen Mo asked in shock, "You mean you can enter dungeons independently?"

"I can, but I won't be able to gain experience points," the outer incarnation confirmed with a nod.

The revelation that his outer incarnation could enter dungeons independently truly stupefied Chen Mo.

Chen Mo abruptly stood up, his eyes flickering with excitement and curiosity.

"You mean you can enter dungeons by yourself and acquire item rewards for me?" Chen Mo asked, full of anticipation.

The outer incarnation confirmed with a nod and a smile, "Indeed, Master. While I cannot acquire experience points, I can obtain item rewards from dungeons for you. When you cannot participate personally, I can face challenges and secure spoils of war on your behalf. This will significantly enhance your efficiency and gains."

Chen Mo shook his head in disbelief. This is simply unimaginable! I thought it could only accompany me into dungeons. I never imagined it would possess such an extraordinary special ability—an Avatar that can enter dungeons independently!

The outer incarnation spoke respectfully, "Thank you for your affirmation, Master.

As an origin-grade outer incarnation, I do indeed possess some special abilities that ordinary Avatars lack. If the conditions are met and you wish it, I can enter any dungeon you desire me to, regardless of the danger. I will strive to obtain the best possible returns for you, ensuring your profits are maximized."

Chapter 512: Shared Memories! (Two in One) _1

Upon hearing this, Chen Mo couldn't sit still anymore.

This is too insane.

Originally, Chen Mo thought the outer incarnation could only enhance his combat power in dungeons with him or stay outside to protect the people he needed to protect. He never thought that the outer incarnation could also enter dungeons.

This was truly outrageous. Wouldn't his efficiency in collecting materials then double in the future? Not to mention, his avatar might even manage to get him some SSS-level rewards.

As Chen Mo was reviewing his rewards, he suddenly received a message. It was from Alliance Hierarch Jiang Yun.

Alliance Hierarch Jiang: You always manage to pull some new stunt! I bet it was you this time too.

Chen Mo responded with a laugh.

Chen Mo: Well, I was just doing an experiment. I didn't expect this outcome.

Alliance Hierarch Jiang: Are you even from the same world as us? I'm baffled by how you always come up with things that are beyond our understanding. You even triggered an Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

Chen Mo: Purely accidental.

Alliance Hierarch Jiang: Alright, no more of that. The impact of the sound of the great path arriving this time is unprecedented. I just heard you spent a lot of merit. After discussing with the other two Alliance Hierarchs, we've decided to reward you an additional two hundred million merit points for this monumental contribution in triggering an Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

Upon hearing about the merit reward, Chen Mo was overjoyed and immediately responded.

Chen Mo: Thanks, Alliance Hierarch. But the SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment already has a high mortality rate. If we've initiated an Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, isn't it likely that only a few individuals will attempt it? Might this encourage many people to recklessly challenge this difficulty and result in large-scale losses among Earth's powerful practitioners?

Despite being pleased, Chen Mo had a clear understanding of the core issues. The situation was indeed as he described. Although the initiation of the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment was good news, it was like opening an enticing abyss.

In response to Chen Mo's worries, Alliance Hierarch Jiang Yun immediately sent a reply.

Alliance Hierarch Jiang: Chen Mo, I completely understand your concern. The initiation of an Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment indeed brings about tremendous challenges and risks. We must handle this matter carefully to avoid heavy losses among Earth's practitioners.

Chen Mo: What are your plans for this?

Alliance Hierarch Jiang: For this newly initiated Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, we will immediately issue a public announcement and enforce strict management and control measures. Firstly, we will limit the number of participants to ensure only a handful of well-prepared, powerful practitioners can attempt it. Meanwhile, we'll provide ample resources and guidance for them to refer to.

Chen Mo: This plan could work. Such measures will certainly deter most people from acting rashly. As for those insisting on doing so, we can't help it either.

Alliance Hierarch Jiang: Yes, we will also strengthen monitoring and evaluation. When we see any Talented Youngsters, we will have extensive dialogues with them. Even with the rash ones, we don't want to see a significant loss of Earth's practitioners due to this assessment.

Chen Mo: Indeed. Those who dare to participate in the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment are generally ones who have absolute confidence in their abilities; they can be considered Earth's future pillars. The loss of even one of them would be a severe blow.

Alliance Hierarch Jiang: Simultaneously, we will step up publicity and education. We'll highlight the difficulty and risks associated with the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment and discourage them from making blind challenges. We all want the powerful practitioners on Earth to handle the situation rationally, weigh the pros and cons, and make wise choices.

Upon seeing Alliance Hierarch Jiang Yun's replies, Chen Mo felt somewhat relieved. The level of importance the Alliance Hierarchs gave to this issue and the measures they were taking made him feel assured.

Chen Mo: Alliance Hierarch, I'm relieved seeing how thoroughly you've thought this through in such a short period.

After his conversation with Alliance Hierarch Jiang Yun ended, Chen Mo began to plan his next move.

He had a great need for experience points at the moment. If possible, it would be best if he could participate in higher-level dungeons with some seniors.

Thinking of this, Chen Mo immediately made a phone call to Alina.

She had enrolled earlier than him, so she might know some seniors.

"Chen, what's up? Miss me that much even though we just parted a while ago? If needed, I can move in with you~" Alina teased happily. When she picked up Chen Mo's call, before Chen Mo could even speak, her excited voice came through.

Hearing Alina's teasing, Chen Mo responded with a wry smile, "I have something I want to ask you."

"What is it?" Alina immediately became serious.

"Do you know any seniors at the school? I'm in need of experience points lately and want to join a high-level dungeon," Chen Mo asked.

"You're still short of experience? Didn't you just earn over a hundred million experience points from that last dungeon?" Alina said, then suddenly recalled The Heavenly Path's Hint.

"By the way, Chen, did you trigger that Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment just now?" Alina asked.

"Yes," Chen Mo answered.

"Oh my God, how did you manage to do that?" Alina exclaimed in surprise.

"That's not important; it's my special ability. But the most pressing matter now is, do you know any seniors?" Chen Mo changed the subject, pressing on.

Chapter 513: Shared Memories! (Two in One) _2

"Yes, I know her, but I don't really want to introduce her to you," Alina said with a hint of teasing.

"Why?" Chen Mo was taken aback.

"Because this Senior sister is pretty, has a great body, and most importantly, her Support abilities are extremely powerful. I'm afraid she'll sweep you off your feet!" Alina answered jokingly.

Chen Mo gave a wry smile and asked, "Come on, what level is she?"

"She just recently advanced to Level 80 in the third-transition and is on the verge of the fourth. She's lacking experience points for the high-difficulty Realm Breakthrough Assessment. She's been madly grinding dungeons recently. She's currently in one, but once she comes out, I'll mention you to her," Alina explained.

"I really appreciate that," Chen Mo responded gratefully.

"If you want to thank me, just give me a call more often for a chat," Alina replied playfully.

"I definitely will next time," Chen Mo said, reciprocating the jest. Once they had discussed the matter, he hung up the call, which made Alina pout in annoyance.

Having sorted out his access to the high-level dungeons, Chen Mo glanced at his duplicate standing next to him.

How should he best utilize his outer incarnation? It wasn't really necessary for them both to enter the dungeon; that seemed a bit like overkill. However, if his Avatar were to enter a dungeon alone, he didn't have enough credits, and without credits, there would be no access. He had just used Alina's connections to find a dungeon opportunity for his main body, so there wasn't much he could do for the Avatar immediately. Perhaps the Avatar could help earn some credits instead.

Suddenly, Chen Mo asked his outer incarnation, "If you learn any relevant knowledge, can you transfer it to me?"

The Avatar smiled and replied, "Of course. As your Avatar, I share your memories and experiences. Any independent experiences and memories I gain while away from you will be shared with you when I return. Moreover, any pertinent knowledge I acquire can be transferred to you, assisting in elevating your abilities. Similarly, should your abilities improve, mine will too. We are in a state of shared growth."

"You wouldn't fall in love with the same person as me, would you?" Chen Mo suddenly thought of a crucial question.

Would he end up cuckolded by his own Avatar? If that were the case, could he still dare to leave it alone in the future?

"Rest assured, Master. While I possess intellect, I can only express simple emotions and don't have the complex feelings of love common among humans. If I must name a beloved, I would only remain loyally devoted to you, Master," its outer incarnation responded sincerely.

Hearing such a sincere confession from his Avatar, Chen Mo felt a strange sensation.

"Ahem, that's good. For the next few days, you can attend my classes. Try your best to perform well and earn credits for me," he decided.

"Yes, Master, rest assured. I will execute your commands to the best of my ability!"

"Alright, let's get some rest for tonight," Chen Mo nodded.

"You sleep, Master. As your Avatar, I have no need for sleep. I can guard your safety while you sleep," it offered.

"So, you never get tired or hungry, and you don't need to eat?"

"Yes, Master. As long as you're alive, I do not require any of these, for I am not a real life form, but your outer incarnation."

Hearing about this ability, Chen Mo was speechless. Wow, this Avatar is even more capable than him! He himself still got tired, hungry, and needed to eat. The Avatar, on the other hand, didn't need any of that. It was ridiculously powerful! If only the Avatar could gain experience points, Chen Mo would have it grind monsters in the wilderness while he slept. Every little bit helps, after all. Oh well, that will have to wait for now.

But having a clone of himself around all the time is unnerving.

"Did you also inherit my equipment?" Chen Mo asked.

"I inherited every ability you possess," the outer incarnation nodded.

"Then use the ability of the Illusory Spirit Feather Boots and change your appearance a bit," Chen Mo said, irritated by constantly having his own image at his side.

"Alright. Would you like me to change according to my own preferences, or will you define it?"

"Change according to your own preferences," Chen Mo said, his curiosity piqued.

According to the outer incarnation, its thought processes were completely aligned with his own. Yet, sometimes even he wasn't sure what he subconsciously liked.

Soon, the outer incarnation had finished transforming.

Looking at the appearance of the outer incarnation, Chen Mo was taken aback.

"Yan Yingyue? Why did you turn into her?"

"I transformed based on your preferences."

No way, do I really like her? Chen Mo was somewhat dazed. If he had to say he liked her, well, he did feel quite comfortable when he was with her. But if he had to say he didn't, he hadn't really missed her since they parted, had he? He wasn't too clear about his own feelings.

"Change into a boy. If you stay as a girl in my bedroom, people will think I'm a pervert," Chen Mo said with a wry smile.

"No problem." After saying that, the outer incarnation immediately changed its form again.

This time, it transformed into a young boy.

"Who is this?"

This little boy... Chen Mo barely recognized him. He was a playmate from his previous life who had unfortunately passed away from an incurable disease. Back then, he had cried his eyes out over his friend's death. Thinking about it now, this was his best friend when he was young. He thought he had forgotten him, but it turned out the memory was still vivid in the depths of his heart.

"Let it be this way, then." Seeing his prematurely deceased friend again, Chen Mo sighed, his emotions complex.

"Master, do you want to give me a name?" After transforming into a little boy, the outer incarnation's voice became soft and endearing.

Chen Mo thought quietly for a moment, then smiled and said, "You were my dearest friend when I was young. But using his name wouldn't feel right. I want to give you a special name... How about 'Zhui Yi'?"

The boy-like incarnation nodded happily, accepting his new name.

Chen Mo looked at Zhui Yi, his heart filled with emotion. Although their reunion was only in the form of an outer incarnation, for Chen Mo, it felt like a continuation of their past friendship.

Satisfied after naming the outer incarnation, Chen Mo finally went to the bathroom to freshen up. Zhui Yi was left standing by the window, quietly appreciating the view outside.

As an outer incarnation, even though it possessed intelligence, its intelligence would be entirely devoted to helping its Master increase his power as much as possible. As for anything else, it had no concerns.

When night fell, Chen Mo lay in bed. He could sense Zhui Yi standing rigidly by the bedside, watching him. This is a bit creepy and unsettling, he thought. Eventually, he asked Zhui Yi to lie down beside him; that felt somewhat more acceptable than having Zhui Yi stand there watching him.

「Soon, the next day came.」

Chen Mo had just finished freshening up when he received a call from Alina.

"Chen, I've talked to the Senior sister. She said she'd welcome you to join her in the instance and that she'll cover your credits. She's starting a new one this morning. As for the difficulty level, she said she'll discuss it with you when you meet. What do you think? You have a professional class this morning, right?"

"It's fine, it won't interfere with class. Give me the Senior sister's contact details, and I'll get in touch with her."

"Okay." Alina didn't playfully refuse today and sent the contact information directly.

However, she couldn't resist adding, "Don't let the Senior sister seduce you, okay?"

Seeing this, Chen Mo replied with a smile, "Definitely not."

After getting the Senior sister's contact information, Chen Mo immediately reached out to her.

"Senior sister, this is Chen Mo. Alina introduced me."

"Oh, I've heard a lot about you, Chen Mo. We can set off for the instance after breakfast. What do you say? That girl Alina mentioned you have a professional class this morning."

"It's fine. I've already made arrangements for my professional class. Going to the instance is more important. How about we get in touch again after you've had breakfast?"

"Sure, no problem."

Chapter 514: Joint Plan! (Two in One, 6/6) _1

「Yongming Star System...」

Many had raised concerns about the difficulty of the sound of the great path triggered by Chen Mo this time.

"The emergence of the Above SSS-level difficulty indeed represents a significant advancement, but achieving this improvement is extremely challenging. Hardly anyone can perfectly pass the SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. Most just manage to complete it. And the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment is even more arduous."

"Considering this, it's debatable whether the sound of the great path triggered by the Solar System truly has such a terrifying impact."

"Indeed, the SSS-level already has a high mortality rate. If their Talented Youngsters challenge the Above SSS-level difficulty, wouldn't they perish even faster? Although we haven't encountered this difficulty level, many of us have experienced SSS-level difficulty, right? We can infer the whole picture by observing a small part."

"The task's difficulty and the mortality rate are certainly issues. Even Talented Youngsters find it extremely hard to overcome this level. Ordinary talents are common, but those capable of surpassing the Above SSS-level difficulty are exceptionally rare. Should even one emerge, they would be a remarkable existence. Even if they can't achieve a perfect clear to obtain additional rewards, the benefits from just a normal completion would be incomparable to those from the regular SSS-level Realm Breakthrough difficulty, wouldn't they?"

"The Solar System has already reached this point. What can we do to suppress them?"

"Find an SSS-level Disaster! If we can locate an SSS-level Disaster within the Tower of Eternity and trigger it, we can undoubtedly deliver a devastating blow to the Solar System!"

"That's a useless suggestion. Previously, it took us ages to encounter a mere SS-level Disaster. Find an SSS-level Disaster? That's like finding a needle in the Universe!"

"It's difficult, yes, but it's currently the only way to contain the Solar System. Alternatively, we could disregard the cost and forcefully assault the Solar System's stronghold within the Tower of Eternity, even if it leads to mutual destruction. But if we truly exhaust our strength against the Solar System, we'll be devoured by the Sanyang System, Kaiyang Star System, and Fairy Star System."

"But we can't allow the Solar System to develop unchecked! We can't find an SSS-level Disaster, we can't launch a strong attack, and we can't even gather one hundred five-stars to deal with that monster. We're utterly helpless against the Solar System!" someone exclaimed in frustration.

"Perhaps we should ally with other star systems to confront the Solar System," someone suggested.

"Ally with other Star Systems? Would they be willing?" someone expressed doubt.

"We can explain the Solar System's potential threat to other Star Systems, making them understand the urgency. The Sanyang System, Kaiyang Star System, or Fairy Star System—none of them have likely ever heard of a unique five-star initial hidden profession or the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. Just exaggerating and spreading news of these two matters should be enough to capture their attention," someone proposed.

"Exactly. Perhaps we can convene a meeting with other star systems to discuss countermeasures," another person added.

"With no other options, we can only try this for now. Simultaneously, we must do our utmost to find the SSS-level Disaster and devise a way to gather one hundred five-stars."

"Regarding the hundred five-stars, it's difficult for a single star system like ours to provide so many. However, if we could unite with a few other star systems and have them contribute as well, perhaps it's achievable."

"Are you serious? Their willingness to cooperate is already questionable, and you expect them to contribute their five-star professionals for a suicide mission?"

"Don't underestimate the Solar System just because it has only one Life Planet. It's already demonstrating an unstoppable rise, its potential defying the heavens. If it fully develops, which of us neighboring systems stands to gain? If they don't contribute now, by the time they're willing, it might be too late to handle the Solar System. We must clearly explain the stakes involved; surely they can weigh the pros and cons themselves."

"That's a fair point. Let's try it."

The Yongming Star System was already considering uniting with other star systems to deal with the Solar System. However, the reality was that the Solar System was currently the weakest among all surrounding star systems. This couldn't be helped. The Solar System, possessing only Earth as its sole Life Planet, was at a significant disadvantage. A powerful entity like the Yongming Star System uniting with several other strong star systems to eliminate a weaker one—such a deal might indeed be feasible. However, convincing them to sacrifice their five-star professionals merely to deal with a promising individual from the much weaker Solar System was an entirely different matter, and its success remained uncertain.

Back on Earth, although no one could currently challenge him, Chen Mo remained eager for his own growth. Having recently survived an assassination attempt by the hundred-strong Cursed Demonization Team from the Yongming Star System, he knew full well they hadn't given up their nefarious designs.

They are definitely still scheming ways to deal with the Solar System.

I need to grow stronger quickly, enter the Tower of Eternity sooner, and teach those bastards a lesson!

After sleeping, Chen Mo felt a bit hungry. He instructed Zhui Yi to transform into his likeness and attend classes for him while he entered the sub-dimension, then used Divine Flicker to teleport directly to the cafeteria.

While still eating breakfast, he received a call from the senior sister Alina had recommended.

Chapter 515: Joint Plan! (Two in One, 6/6) _2

"Hey, Junior Brother Chen Mo, I'm all ready over here. If you're ready, come directly to the Instance Bureau," a voice said.

"Alright, I'll be right there," Chen Mo replied.

Quickly finishing his breakfast, Chen Mo arrived at the Instance Bureau in a Divine Flicker.

At the entrance of the Instance Bureau, Chen Mo caught sight of a young woman with an exceptionally dignified bearing, floating there as if waiting for someone.

She was dressed in a Japanese Miko Costume, a white top and red skirt. Its wide sleeves drooped loosely, showcasing their elegant lines.

A delicate golden hair ornament adorned her head, shimmering faintly in the morning light. A red cord tied back her long, straight black hair, accentuating its smooth and glossy sheen.

Her beauty was stunning; her skin, as fair as snow, was tender and smooth, like carved jade.

Her eyes were bright and spirited, revealing confidence and wisdom. Her slender eyebrows were slightly arched, outlining her delicate features. A high-bridged nose and soft pink lips further enhanced her captivating charm.

Her figure was nothing short of perfect. The Miko Costume's collar outlined her ample and proud bust. The gently swelling curves were captivating, making it impossible to look away. Her slender waist flowed into smooth, graceful lines, a sculpted, perfect proportion that showcased her elegance and charm.

Beneath the long red skirt, her bare feet were visible, suspended in the air and swaying gently, exuding an ethereal and agile aura.

And when one's gaze fell upon her jade-like feet, it was difficult to look away. They were fair and slender, as flawless and pure as a work of art. The delicate skin of her feet radiated a captivating luster, perfectly complementing her elegant posture.

This young woman was undoubtedly of exquisite beauty and possessed a perfect figure. The charm she exuded, with its touch of Japanese allure, was utterly captivating. Her bare, jade-like feet added a touch of enticement, making her overall image even more perfect and irresistible.

As Chen Mo was observing her, she also noticed him.

She floated over lightly, her posture graceful, her movements ethereal, like a celestial maiden drifting near. She gently lifted the sleeves of her Miko Costume, smiled faintly at Chen Mo, revealing a hint of tenderness and warmth.

When her gaze met Chen Mo's, a bright light flashed in her eyes, as if she could penetrate his innermost thoughts. A flicker of curiosity crossed her brow; she seemed to have developed some interest in Chen Mo.

"Are you Junior Brother Chen Mo?" the senior sister parted her red lips and asked, her voice like a fragrant orchid.

Chen Mo responded courteously, "Yes, I am Chen Mo. Are you the senior sister Alina introduced?"

The senior sister smiled and nodded, a glint of approval in her eyes. She chuckled charmingly, "Alina did mention you. She said you're a promising newcomer and also quite handsome. You certainly live up to it. No wonder that girl was so afraid I'd snatch you away."

"Senior sister, you know my name, but I don't know how to address you yet."

"My name is Yusheng Liuyin. Just call me Liu Yin."

"Hello, Senior Sister Liu Yin," Chen Mo added with a smile.

"Junior Brother Chen Mo, Alina said you're very strong and can challenge any difficulty," Yusheng Liuyin said, her beautiful eyes gleaming with interest as she looked at Chen Mo. "Do you have any suggestions for the next instance?"

"I haven't actually tried instances of this high difficulty. I mainly participate in high-level instances for experience points; I'm not that concerned about item rewards. Senior sister, which instance do you think yields more experience points? Let's go for that one."

"Is that so? That's perfect, it aligns with my needs too. I also need a lot of experience points right now."

I happen to have an SS level difficulty instance with high experience point returns that we can activate. The fewer people who enter that instance, the more experience points each person receives. If only the two of us enter, the experience point gains will be very substantial, fitting both our needs.

However, the instance's difficulty is quite high, and it's hard to clear with few people.

I wonder, Junior Brother Chen Mo, do you have the confidence to carry me, your senior sister?"

If this were before, and a Level 80 third-transition player asked a Level 40 first-transition player to carry them through a high-difficulty instance, people would definitely think the third-transition player was either crazy or was taunting the first-transition player.

But after the survival event, everyone knew about the monster who could leap two tiers to defeat powerful experts of higher transitions.

So, saying such a thing to this kind of monster clearly carried no hint of a Taunt.

"Since Senior sister has faith in me, I certainly won't disappoint you," Chen Mo replied with a smile.

Senior Sister Liu Yin smiled sweetly, her eyes shining with anticipation. "Let's begin then. As for your academic credits, your big sister here will cover them."

"Then I'll thank you in advance, Senior sister."

"You're welcome. After all, it's practically my employment fee for you," Yusheng Liuyin chuckled, covering her mouth.

As Yusheng Liuyin led Chen Mo into the Instance Bureau, the portal to the SS level instance on the first floor was already open.

When they approached the staff member responsible for opening instances, the man took their instance handbooks and noted the Level discrepancy between Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin.

He asked with some surprise, "You two, this is an extremely difficult SS level instance. If only two people enter, its difficulty might even be comparable to an SSS-level instance.

And by 'comparable,' I mean at the difficulty level of a Level 80 third-transition player. Are you sure only two of you are entering?"

Yusheng Liuyin smiled and replied, "Of course. Take a good look at this junior brother's name."

Chapter 516: Joint Plan! (Two in One, 6/6) _3

She pointed to Chen Mo's dungeon manual as she spoke.

The dungeon initiator glanced at the name on Chen Mo's manual, and information associated with it appeared in his mind.

"Is this the Student Chen Mo who saved countless comrades during the SS-level Disaster?" he asked excitedly and curiously.

Yusheng Liuyin nodded with a smile. "Yes, that's him."

"I heard you participated in the previous survival event. Is that true?" the dungeon initiator asked, looking at Chen Mo with excitement and curiosity, as if a fan had encountered his idol.

Chen Mo didn't hide anything, smiled, and replied, "Yes, I participated in that event."

The dungeon initiator looked at Chen Mo with admiration and said passionately, "That's incredible! You are the pride of our Earth. With your strength, you should have no problem in this dungeon. However, please be careful. Your loss would be a significant one for Earth."

"Thank you for your concern." Chen Mo smiled and nodded.

With the confirmation that Chen Mo, who could defy tiers to battle, was present, the dungeon initiator no longer tried to dissuade him. After deducting Yusheng Liuyin's double credits, he allowed the two to enter the SS-level experience dungeon.

Although it was an experience dungeon and the item gains weren't remarkable, it was still an SS-level dungeon, where Legendary materials could be obtained.

Maybe I can even gather enough materials for synthesis while earning experience points this time, Chen Mo thought.

As they stepped into the Central Teleportation Array, Yusheng Liuyin twisted a sphere on the high platform in the center of the Array, instantly triggering the Dungeon Transfer Array.

The next moment, the scene in front of Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin drastically changed.

A vast cave entrance emitted a faint glow, illuminating the surroundings.

They found themselves in a spacious and mysterious underground space.

Gigantic stalactites hung from the cave walls, forming a spectacular array of stalagmites and draperies, as if they were in a massive art gallery.

The cave interior was filled with a weak glow, making the surroundings seem hazy and mystical.

The ground was made of smooth stone slabs that shimmered faintly, looking like scattered stars.

The two exchanged a glance and then slowly stepped into the cave, feeling its mystical power. It seemed as if the entire space was breathing and alive.

Deep in the cave, they could see a dark passage leading to the unknown.

At that moment, The Heavenly Path's Hint sounded.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint]: SS-level dungeon 'Nest of the Legendary Beast' has been opened.

[Dungeon Introduction]:

The Nest of the Legendary Beast is a vast cave located deep within distant mountains, rumored to host several powerful and ferocious Legendary monsters.

Brave Adventurers are invited into this nest to take on missions and challenge these terrifying creatures.

The tasks within this dungeon center around defeating these Legendary monsters. Be careful—they are incredibly fierce, and each one is lethal. The Adventurers who have died here are numerous enough that, if lined up, they would circle the entire world five times.

'Main Quest': End the Rule of the Giant Beast King

'Main Quest Requirements': Adventurers, please locate and defeat the Legendary Giant Beast King deep within the nest. This colossal creature rules the nest and is rumored to have a profound connection with God. Be vigilant when you encounter it.

Chapter 517: Conscientious Copy! (Two in One) _1

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: There are multiple side quests in this instance. Here are the known three side quests, and it's up to you to find the rest of them.

"Side Quest One": Dragon Slaying

The Adventurer's Guild posted the first task, calling adventurers to the Flame Abyss Area of the lair to track and defeat a powerful Fire Dragon. This Fire Dragon possesses a blazing flame breath and fierce attack power, making it a significant threat within the lair.

"Side Quest Two": Conquer the Ice Giant Beast

The Adventurer's Guild posted the second task, inviting adventurers to the Ice Peak Area of the lair to face a colossal Ice Giant Beast. This beast, with its extreme frost power and freezing attacks, can transform the surrounding area into a frozen land.

"Side Quest Three": Challenge The Broken King

The Adventurer's Guild posted the third task, urging adventurers to go to the Shattered Realm Area of the lair to confront The Broken King. This monster possesses substantial destructive power and domain control ability, able to tear the earth and collapse mountains.]

After reading The Heavenly Path's hints, Chen Mo quickly scanned the passages around him. Only three of the lair's passages were clearly marked as leading to specific monsters. The remaining five lair passages were entirely unknown.

"Let's deal with these three clearly identified side quest monsters first. Since we're here, we should aim to maximize our rewards by completing all side quests," Chen Mo said after reading The Heavenly Path's hints.

"I just paid my tuition to tag along for the benefits; you decide," Yusheng Liuyin said, her red lips curving into a slight smile.

Hearing Yusheng Liuyin, Chen Mo smiled and said, "Alright, let's head to the lair for the first side quest then."

Yusheng Liuyin nodded, and the two immediately flew side by side towards the Fire Dragon Lair.

As they ventured deeper into the cavernous Fire Dragon Lair, Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin were met with a scorching heatwave. They hovered in the air, overlooking the majestic spectacle in the heart of the lair. The lava pools emitted a scorching red glow, the molten rock pulsating like the heartbeat of some colossal beast. The intense heat of the lava made the air shimmer and distort, while the dancing flames painted a breathtaking spectacle.

The cavern walls, like the hide of a colossal beast, were covered in cracks and splattered lava. Under the lava's glow, the patterns and textures on the cavern walls became distinctly visible, resembling a vast, ancient stone mural. The flowing lava carved peculiar patterns, like the tracks of a great dragon winding across the stone. The sound of the flowing lava resembled the low roar of a dragon, echoing through every corner of the cavern and inspiring profound awe.

From high above, a massive lavafall cascaded down, a torrent of fire emitting a blinding radiance. The lavafall's current surged like the very blood of the Fire Dragon—brilliant, accompanied by roaring heat and waves that stirred the soul.

At the heart of the Fire Dragon Lair lay an immense lava lake, the Fire Dragon's domain, burning fiercely. Amidst the erupting lava, the Fire Dragon lay, resembling a slumbering behemoth. Its body was immense, its scales shimmering with an orange-red light, exuding an aura of majesty and power. The erupting lava bathed the cavern in a crimson glow, sending colossal pillars of magma soaring towards the ceiling, like fiery columns connecting the depths of the earth to the cavern roof.

Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin gazed upon this magnificent, molten landscape, completely immersed in the raw power and terrible beauty of the fire and lava.

As Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin flew into the Fire Dragon Lair, the great Fire Dragon, situated at the center of the molten expanse, twitched an ear as if sensing their approach. It lay majestically within the lava pool, a colossal and wondrous sight, like a living volcano. Its body, tens of meters in length, was covered in solid scales, each shimmering with a fiery red light. The dragon's muscular physique radiated power and majesty, its every breath causing the ambient flames to surge and ebb. The Fire Dragon's head was immense, crowned with sharp horns and lined with razor-sharp teeth. Hearing the disturbance, it slowly opened its eyes. Its eyes, deep and blazing, radiated an intimidating aura of majesty and ferocity. From its maw, incandescent flames burned ceaselessly, coalescing into powerful blasts of fiery breath. The Fire Dragon's breath was hotter than molten lava, capable of instantaneously reducing everything to ash.

Upon seeing Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin intrude upon its forbidden demesne, the Fire Dragon abruptly unfurled its colossal wings, vast enough to eclipse the sky. The scales on its wings shimmered with an orange-red light, exuding an oppressive and seemingly insurmountable power. Each beat of its wings whipped up furious gales and searing heatwaves, churning the lava below into a roiling sea of fire. The dragon's tail, like a colossal serpent of fire, was agile and perilous. The scales on its tail glinted with a fiery red light, and each sweep carried immense power and devastating force. With the might of its tail alone, the Fire Dragon could whip the entire lava pool into a raging vortex, causing the cavern's temperature to spike dramatically.

Every move of the Fire Dragon was filled with majesty and oppression. It was the sovereign of this cavern, regarding all other beings with contempt.

It glared furiously at Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin and, to their astonishment, spoke in a human tongue.

"Humans, this is not a place for you. You dare to anger the great Arribas! Prepare to face the destruction of the Power of Flame!"

Chapter 518: Conscientious Copy! (Two in One) _2

Arribas's deep and authoritative voice echoed through the cave, filling it with a sense of oppression and terror.

Fire Dragon Arribas opened its enormous mouth, inside which burned scorching flames that seared the air. It absorbed the energy within its lair; as it inhaled and exhaled, the flames in its mouth coalesced into a massive and terrifying energy ball. The brilliant red light from this fearsome sphere of fire instantly illuminated the entire cavern. The terrifying temperature further agitated the surrounding magma, causing the flames to blaze fiercely.

Time seemed to freeze as Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin watched, feeling the heat in the air. The dragon's thunderous inhalations echoed in the cave, then it spewed out that scorching fire energy ball with astonishing speed.

The energy ball was composed of countless flames, burning fiercely and emitting a suffocating heat. It was like a sun, dazzling and breathtaking.

With the Fire Dragon's exhalation, the energy ball plummeted towards Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin like a fallen sun.

The breath of the Fire Dragon was unstoppable, instantly changing the temperature and light within the cave.

Chen Mo didn't act hastily, as he wanted to see if he could copy any powerful abilities from the Fire Dragon.

Having just been captivated by the beautiful scenery in the Lava Cave, he hadn't yet had a chance to check the Fire Dragon's attributes.

The moment the dragon exhaled, Chen Mo conjured a Solid Shield to cover both himself and Yusheng Liuyin.

With his current attributes, the shield's thickness exceeded 900 million. Such a robust shield, like an unbreakable barrier, completely blocked the furious Fire Energy Ball.

Yusheng Liuyin, who had been preparing to cast her Yin and Yang Technique to take Chen Mo into the Void Realm and evade the damage, paused when she felt the powerful shield.

Her eyes were wide with shock as she looked at Chen Mo, her face a mask of incredulity.

Although she had heard of Chen Mo's strength, this was the first time she had genuinely experienced his capabilities. He merely showed a hint of his power, and it already stunned her.

A shield with nearly 1 billion in thickness? Is this something a first-transition professional can cast?

And what's even more astounding is that this isn't an ordinary shield; it's a shield that can block any damage, whether it's true damage or any other type. That's the true strength of this shield.

Even if ordinary shields are thick, they become useless when encountering true damage. But Chen Mo's shield is both incredibly thick and reassuring.

The moment the Fire Energy Ball touched the shield, it detonated with a BANG, setting off a massive explosion. Flames erupted, energy scattered, and the entire space began to tremble. The cave walls shook, and the magma churned, but the two figures beneath the shield remained steadfast, not retreating an inch.

At the same time, two Lightning Chains suddenly shot out from the shield toward the Fire Dragon on the opposite side.

However, it wasn't very effective. Even though Chen Mo's Magic Attack now exceeded 300,000, he was currently in a Level 80 third-transition instance with Yusheng Liuyin, and this Fire Dragon was a formidable BOSS of the same tier.

Its attributes were quite high; its defensive power alone was over 1.5 million. Furthermore, the Fire Dragon possessed absolute defense, impervious to any damage type except true damage. All other types of damage were subject to attack versus defense calculations.

The 300,000-plus Chaos Damage from the Lightning Chains was no different from a Normal Attack. After the attack and defense calculations, it failed to penetrate the Fire Dragon's defense, rendering the attack ineffective.

The power of the Fire Energy Ball quickly dissipated, and tranquility returned to the cave.

Both sides had engaged in a simple skirmish, with neither inflicting damage on the other.

After withstanding the Fire Dragon's attack, Chen Mo examined its attributes. He found that most of its abilities were inherent to dragons, making them difficult to replicate.

Chen Mo had originally hoped to see if this creature knew any Draconic Magic. If he could copy a Draconic Magic spell, it would be comparable to a true forbidden curse. Unfortunately, this dragon didn't seem to possess any.

Seeing this, Chen Mo lost interest in toying with it and, with a mere thought, summoned a large number of Skeleton Monsters.

Just a moment ago, Yusheng Liuyin had been wondering. Alina said Chen Mo was a Skeleton Mage, so why hadn't he summoned any skeletons? Instead, he used a shield and Lightning Chains, and his damage output wasn't even that high.

Yet, in the blink of an eye, she sensed tens of millions of densely packed Skeleton Monsters appearing around Chen Mo, their attributes terrifyingly high.

Yusheng Liuyin thought, "Impossible! Is this the strength of summons from a Level 40 first-transition professional? Their attack power is actually in the tens of millions?!"

Yusheng Liuyin wondered if her eyes were deceiving her.

Chen Mo's current attributes:

[Level]: 40

[Experience]: 20,664,699 / 4,645,300 (eighth-tier bottleneck)

[Attributes]:

Constitution: 66,792 (Life: 2,553,760; Physical Defense: 388,960; Life Recovery: 66,792/10 sec (100%/sec))

Strength: 66,792 (Physical Attack: 200,376)

Agility: 66,792 (Critical Damage: +66,792%)

Wisdom: 122,392 (Magic Attack: 377,175)

Spirit: 122,392 (Energy: 6,119,575; Magic Defense: 666,958; Energy Recovery: 127,392/10 sec (200%/sec))

The Skeleton Monsters he could summon had the following attributes: Health 10,403,278; Physical Attack 3,120,983; Magic Attack 3,120,983; Physical Defense 0; Magic Defense 0. Characteristics: Bomb, Revival, Corpse Poison, Rally, Sacred, Unity, Sustained, Symbiosis.

With his current attributes, the Skeleton Monsters he could summon had an attack power exceeding three million.

Furthermore, under the Rally characteristic's enhancement, the Skeleton Monsters' attributes increased even further, granting them the tens of millions in attack power she was now witnessing.

Previously, Chen Mo's own Magic Attack was just over 300,000, which might not have been enough to break through the Fire Dragon's defense, but his Skeleton Monsters were a different story.

Moreover, all of Chen Mo's Skeleton Monsters now possessed low-level class Skills.

As Chen Mo summoned over fifty million Skeleton Archers, they all began to glow red, activating their basic Skill: Rapid-Fire!

Their attack speed instantly doubled. Within a single second, each Skeleton Monster loosed at least four arrows.

The third-transition, Level 80 BOSS Fire Dragon only had a little over 180 billion Health. Over fifty million Skeleton Archers, each with tens of millions in attack power, could have killed it in a single round of Normal Attacks. That wasn't even counting the fact they had activated Skills to boost their attack speed, with each Skeleton Archer continuously launching several arrows. The Fire Dragon, having spent its eons cowering in its lair, had never witnessed such a terrifying onslaught.

It had no chance to resist and was instantly riddled with arrows, crashing heavily to the ground.

This spectacle left Yusheng Liuyin so shocked she stood rooted to the spot.

She had heard how terrifying Chen Mo was and had tried to imagine his strength, but she had never conceived he could be this ridiculously powerful.

With attributes like these, who could possibly contend with him unless they've reached the fifth-transition? Anyone else would likely be instantly killed.

No wonder Alina said not to bother with his Level; he can carry anyone through high-difficulty instances of any tier!

Actually, Yusheng Liuyin didn't realize that Alina's knowledge of Chen Mo was based on when he was only Level 35. Chen Mo's current strength was far beyond what he possessed at Level 35. He had been comprehensively enhanced after emerging from the previous instance.

Forget fourth-transition; Chen Mo dared to believe he could instantly kill even a fifth-transition professional, provided their Divine Power wasn't exceptionally high.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: You have successfully killed the Fire Dragon Arribas. Rewards for this instance are increased by 100%. Fire Dragon Arribas was a Legendary creature and contains many Legendary materials. You are temporarily granted the 'Top-Tier Collecting Technique'. Please enjoy collecting!]

Chen Mo remarked, "This instance is quite generous, even providing a collecting technique!"

Chen Mo was pleasantly surprised; he had been wondering if he should stuff the dragon into his space backpack to take back.

Just as The Heavenly Path's Hint sounded, a black mist suddenly erupted from the corpse of Fire Dragon Arribas. An Undead state of the Fire Dragon Arribas materialized before Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin.

Chen Mo considered the Fire Dragon Arribas's strength. It lacked any special abilities and wasn't even as strong as his Skeleton Monsters. He directly dismissed the undead creature, having no intention of keeping it.

Chapter 519: Excellent Returns! (Two in One) _1

Watching the fire dragon Ghost appear and then disperse, Yusheng Liuyin cast a surprised glance at Chen Mo.

"That fire dragon Ghost just now—you didn't summon it, did you?"

"Sort of," Chen Mo said with a laugh.

"That fire dragon Ghost was practically indistinguishable from a regular Fire Dragon BOSS! This ability is too powerful."

This was akin to a golden-grade BOSS monster. Killing it allows the summoning of the corresponding Ghost. Doesn't this mean he effectively has the combat power of a golden-grade BOSS?

However, recalling the Skeleton Monster beside Chen Mo, Yusheng Liuyin fell silent.

This BOSS, despite having more powerful Skills and higher Health, doesn't even have attack power comparable to Chen Mo's Skeleton Monster.

"It's not that great. The Ghosts summoned this way can't exist for long."

Chen Mo wasn't lying. As long as a Special Undead wasn't stored in the Special Space for the Undead, it would quickly dissipate on its own.

Chen Mo then turned to the fallen Fire Dragon before them and said, "Let's start harvesting. These are all Legendary materials. We can sell them for a lot of money."

Most Legendary materials that could be harvested like this were saleable. Chen Mo was short of money, so he was naturally eager to collect them.

Of course, Legendary materials were also categorized into rare and common types.

Legendary creatures like Fire Dragons appeared frequently and produced a considerable amount of related materials, so they sold for a relatively cheaper price.

But no matter how cheap, they were still Legendary grade and could always be sold for a good sum.

Soon, he and Yusheng Liuyin had completely harvested the Fire Dragon before them.

Under their combined efforts, not even a single bone chip remained of the massive Fire Dragon.

After all, every part of a Fire Dragon was a treasure.

Whether it was dragon scales, dragon bones, dragon horns, dragon teeth, or dragon meat...

Every single part was a valuable item.

Naturally, they had stripped it completely clean.

"We've finally harvested it all. Senior sister, how much do you think these materials we've collected could sell for?"

Chen Mo wasn't very familiar with Legendary materials, so he wasn't sure.

Yusheng Liuyin estimated, "The materials from this Fire Dragon should sell for about 1,000 eternal gold coins. We should each make 500 eternal gold coins without any problem."

"Not bad. If we dismantle two, we can afford one bottle."

The Divine Fusion Agent cost one thousand eternal gold coins. Dismantling two Fire Dragons would cover the cost of one bottle. Earning money this way didn't seem too difficult.

Chen Mo was oversimplifying things.

In reality, it wasn't normally this profitable.

He had killed the Fire Dragon instantly, which meant most of its parts maintained their normal quality and usability.

If others were to battle a Fire Dragon, they could easily damage its valuable components. Furthermore, the significant consumption of its Energy would lead to a depletion of its blood essence. Consequently, most of its internal components would degrade in quality, and there wouldn't be as many Legendary materials to harvest.

Having gained nearly five hundred eternal gold coins from harvesting the Fire Dragon, Chen Mo was very satisfied and immediately prepared to head to the next nest.

In his eyes, these Nest Bosses were now like walking piles of eternal gold coins.

His next target was the Ice Nest.

Immediately, the two flew out of the scorching Magma Nest and headed into the adjacent Ice Nest.

It was truly a world of ice and fire.

This abrupt transition from an extremely hot to an extremely cold environment couldn't help but make one shudder.

Inside the Frost Nest, Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin unconsciously drew closer. They were in a world teeming with snow and biting cold. Flying through the air was too frigid, so they landed on the ground.

They stepped onto ground paved with ice crystals, their footsteps making crisp sounds on the shattered ice.

The air in the Ice Nest had condensed into a thin layer of frost. Every breath brought a surge of icy coldness.

Icicles in the nest rose sharply, like statues of giants, shimmering with crystalline light. Frost patterns formed on the ice walls, brilliantly dazzling and reflecting a spectrum of colorful beams.

A piercing cold permeated the nest. Everything was covered in ice and snow.

A thick layer of ice spread across the ground, its translucent crystals reflecting faint light.

The internal walls of the nest were smooth and white, like mirrors, adorned with a variety of exquisite frost patterns.

Slender icicles hung from the ceiling, creating a landscape of ice sculptures.

From the ceiling hung ice formations resembling stalactites, wreathed in snow and ice, painting a picture of an icy wonderland.

In this chilling air, a faint fog pervaded, as if formed by the snow itself.

A slight breeze, its origin unknown, wafted through the nest, causing snowflakes to scatter like dancing silver petals.

Chen Mo had never seen such a beautiful snowy landscape before. He couldn't help but think that the world was truly full of magnificent sights.

Everything, when taken to an extreme, possessed its own unique beauty.

As the two delved deeper, the interior of the nest was saturated with an atmosphere of snow and ice. Icicles stood sharply, and ice walls were thick. Through the transparent ice, they could see a frost-covered vista. Ice crystals shimmered with a blue light, radiating a dazzlingly cold aura.

In the depths of the nest, an Ice Giant Beast appeared in Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin's sight. Its massive body, towering as if to pierce the clouds, stood straight and tall, entirely covered in hardened ice armor.

It was enormous and imposing, like a colossus sculpted from condensed ice. Frost glittered on its body, emitting a cruel and frigid aura. The beast's eyes shone brilliantly, flashing with an icy blue light that seemed to contain boundless cold Energy.

Chapter 520: Excellent Returns! (Two in One) _2

Its entire body was enveloped in frost, emitting a penetrating chill.

Through the special senses laced throughout its lair, it noticed Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin's entrance. The Ice Giant Beast let out a ferocious roar, its sound as piercingly cold as the winter wind, reverberating throughout the entire lair.

It opened its massive mouth, spewing out a cold breath that formed a dazzlingly radiant frost ray.

The frost ray instantly froze everything around, layering the lair's floor and walls with an even thicker coat of ice.

"It's really cold in this darn place."

An icy environment was more unbearable than sweltering heat. Considering its incessant roaring, Chen Mo was genuinely worried that the ice cave would collapse.

He immediately decided to end this quickly. After assessing its abilities, he ordered the Skeleton Monster to kill it instantly.

SWISH! SWISH! SWISH!

As countless arrows flew out, the Frost Beast, which had just given Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin a taste of its power through its roars, was killed instantly, before it even had a chance to launch an attack on them.

Yusheng Liuyin was at a loss for words as she watched from the side.

She had teamed up with others before, and although killing a BOSS of this level posed no real threat, she had never killed one so quickly or easily.

This isn't killing a BOSS; this is bullying and slaughter! she thought. An instant kill upon meeting it. The BOSS couldn't even last a second!

This was a super BOSS with the strength of a third-transition level 80, yet it was swiftly killed by someone at first-transition level 40.

Yusheng Liuyin finally understood what was meant by "comparisons are odious."

Compared to this junior, my third-transition feels so futile, she mused.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: You have successfully killed the Frost Beast Lei Enshuo, increasing the current instance settlement rewards by 100%. Frost Beast Lei Enshuo is a Legendary creature and contained many legendary materials. You are now temporarily granted the "Top-Notch collecting technique." Please gather to your heart's content!]

"Time to harvest!"

After slaying the Frost Beast, Chen Mo cheerfully gestured to Yusheng Liuyin to start gathering materials.

In the meantime, Chen Mo stashed the Frost Beast's Special Undead into his Special Space for the Undead.

This beast possessed good area-of-effect freezing Skills, which were quite potent control abilities. Chen Mo was fond of such functional Skills.

The Frost Beast was even larger than the previous Fire Dragon, so the two of them spent quite some time harvesting it.

However, they harvested fewer legendary materials than from the Fire Dragon.

But Yusheng Liuyin said with a smile, "This Legendary creature is quite valuable! We've gathered materials worth nearly 1,500 Eternal Gold Coins from it."

"That much?"

"These Legendary creatures are rare because they can only be found in extremely cold environments. Dragons are different; they can survive in many environments. Sometimes you can even encounter them on a mountain peak in any SS level difficulty dungeon. Naturally, the more common they are, the lower their price."

"I see."

Chen Mo nodded. That made sense.

Having gained another 750 Eternal Gold Coins, it felt quite satisfying to have earned over a thousand Eternal Gold Coins in such a short time in the dungeon.

Moreover, legendary materials were different from other materials; there was no need to worry about selling them due to high demand.

He could sell them directly to the Academy Alliance Headquarters.

These materials were in great demand.

Unlike Chen Mo, when challenging a dungeon, others usually needed an ample supply of high-level medicines and high-level tools to ensure safety.

Legendary materials are the primary ingredients for most high-level medicines and tools, so the demand is naturally very high.

After all, these items are consumables and are used up quickly.

"Junior Brother Chen Mo, you should invite me to dungeon raids more often in the future. It's so relaxing to go with you," Yusheng Liuyin said with a smile. "I'll cover all your academic credits."

"Well, if I can get academic credits for free, then that's great. I'll come to you, Senior sister, when I'm short on Experience," Chen Mo joked with a smile.

"That's a deal, pinky promise," Yusheng Liuyin said, elegantly extending her slender finger. Her pinky was as delicate and smooth as white jade, and her movements were light and elegant, exuding a gentle aura.

Chen Mo smiled and gently extended his own finger to touch Yusheng Liuyin's, their fingers gently entwining.

The moment their fingers hooked, Yusheng Liuyin began to recite a solemn pledge unique to her homeland.

Seeing this, Chen Mo laughed and said, "Does it have to be that serious?"

Yusheng Liuyin playfully stuck out her tongue and said, "Just joking, it never really works anyway."

Chen Mo shook his head with a smile and then headed straight for the third confirmed Legendary BOSS's lair—the Lair of The Broken King.

The lairs of the previous two BOSSes were relatively straightforward, so Chen Mo was quite curious about what kind of lair this new BOSS would inhabit.

Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin flew out of the ice cave and turned to enter the Lair of The Broken King.

The lair was dark, forcing them to rely solely on their perception abilities to navigate.

The walls of the cave were covered in cracks and fractures, and the entire cave exuded an aura of disarray and collapse.

Various Space-Time Rifts could be seen on the walls and floor of the cave.

These rifts emanated waves of distorted Energy, sometimes flickering with a faint blue light, and at other times emitting terrifying tearing sounds.

"Space-Time Rifts? We need to be careful. Even high defensive power won't protect against instant death if we touch one," Yusheng Liuyin warned, having sensed the surrounding Space-Time Rifts.

Chen Mo nodded. He had previously studied the danger posed by these Space-Time Rifts. Their danger was incomparable to regular attacks; high defensive power and health points were insufficient to withstand them. One would need to have reached at least the fifth-transition and mastered some degree of Spatial Force to avoid them.

Of course, there were ways to deal with them before the fifth-transition, but that required possessing specific high-end abilities.

However, neither Chen Mo nor Yusheng Liuyin possessed such abilities at this point.

Having discovered these Space-Time Rifts, the pair carefully navigated between them, remaining constantly on guard.

The Space-Time Rifts were a clear sign of danger within the cave. Anyone who carelessly touched them could be torn apart and swallowed by the tremendous Spatial Force in an instant. Once that happened, even their corpses might not be recovered.

For those capable of resurrection, it was slightly better. If a Space-Time Rift devoured them, they could resurrect after being transported through it, thus temporarily escaping the immediate peril.

A chaotic aura emanated from the rifts, inspiring fear. Chen Mo and Yusheng Liuyin sensed the Energy fluctuations from the rifts, understanding the immense danger and uncertainty they posed.

They carefully avoided these Space-Time Rifts, ever vigilant for any sudden incidents they might cause.

Compared to the previous two lairs, the environment of this cave was clearly more dangerous. The pair were Flying through it, the atmosphere tense. They moved cautiously with each advance, lest they fall into the engulfing rifts.

Soon, they reached the depths of the cave, where The Broken King resided.

They gazed into the darkness ahead, where a huge and terrifying figure gradually materialized.

The Broken King was large and imposing, its body appearing to be composed of shattered rocks and twisting Energy. It loomed in darkness, flickering with a deep purple light, its devil-like wings stirring up chaotic Energy.

Its skin displayed a shattered pattern, as if eroded by endless time and power. Its fiery red eyes revealed no mercy or coldness, resembling those of a devil from the abyss.

Sharp, blade-like tentacles extended from The Broken King's head, radiating dark Energy. Its sharp claws were sturdy and strong, capable of tearing mountains and pulverizing land.

Every breath The Broken King took was accompanied by a surge of terrifying Energy.

Chen Mo sensed that all its Skills were chaos-type, and it possessed virtually no defensive abilities, indicating it was a purely offensive BOSS.

There's no point in trying to subdue this type of BOSS, Chen Mo felt slightly disappointed. I had initially thought I might encounter a BOSS in this environment that could create Space-Time Rifts, which would have been somewhat useful.
