

Global CM 551

Chapter 551: High Efficiency! (Four in One) _5

In a short period, his Health had dropped to the bare minimum!

At this point, he had no intention of fighting Chen Mo and Zhui Yi. He just wanted to retreat to his Invincible Area.

Unfortunately, this area was already crowded with Chen Mo's Skeleton Monsters, so much so that many were spilling out, unable to fit.

He could only return if he completely wiped out all the Skeleton Monsters in the burial chamber.

Unable to become invincible and unable to defeat Chen Mo and Zhui Yi, the undead's guardian felt utterly powerless for the first time.

He had guarded the Tomb of Oblivion for over a thousand years. The Church of Light had sent countless assailants to attack this place, all of whom he had slain in his invincible state. Eventually, the Church of Light, left with no alternative, had been forced to seal the Tomb of Oblivion from the outside using three Holy Artifacts.

He had never imagined such a day would come: forced out of his own stronghold only to be completely overwhelmed and beaten.

Even ten lives wouldn't be enough for the undead's guardian.

The undead's guardian was forced back step by step, his body swaying, Dark Power flickering unsteadily around him.

His devil eyes filled with helplessness and resentment. He was once the undisputed master of this burial chamber, yet now he stood powerless before a horde of Skeleton Monsters.

The undead's guardian let out another shrill roar, but the dominance and majesty in his voice had vanished, leaving only profound powerlessness.

His body began to thrash violently, Dark Power surging wildly around him, but this was merely the final struggle of his Life.

Chen Mo and Zhui Yi stood calmly in the distance, watching everything unfold.

They watched as the once-mighty undead's guardian was forced back step by step under their strategy, finally succumbing to defeat.

Finally, the undead's guardian let out one last mournful cry. His body instantly crumbled, transforming into a mass of Dark Power.

The mass of dark Energy rolled in the air a few times, then shattered like a bubble, slowly dissipating.

The burial chamber was filled with a deathly silence, only the ghostly flames still flickered in the darkness.

Only then did Chen Mo dispel the Skeleton Monsters that had been packed into the tomb chamber to overflowing, and turned his gaze to the stone platform at its center.

With the dispersion of the undead's guardian, the atmosphere in the burial chamber grew even heavier.

An eerie Energy permeated the dead silent air, as if concealing an Endless Dark Power.

Chen Mo's gaze remained firmly locked on the stone platform in the center of the tomb chamber.

Suddenly, the stone platform CRACKLED and split open from the middle, emanating a faint, ghostly glow. Simultaneously, a strong surge of undead aura erupted skyward—the aura of the Heart of the Undead.

Chen Mo and Zhui Yi immediately moved closer to inspect it.

The Heart of the Undead was encased in a delicate glass cover, its interior etched with strange runes and intricate patterns.

As Chen Mo approached the stone platform, he could feel the potent undead Energy emanating from the Heart of the Undead.

It was the fount of the undead, containing Endless Power and secrets.

In the faint, ghostly glow, he thought he could discern the flickering silhouette of the Dominator of the Undead.

The Energy emitted by the Heart of the Undead made Chen Mo's heart race. He took a deep breath and reached out, gently touching his finger to the glass cover.

A faint current traveled up his finger, and he felt a connection form between himself and the Heart of the Undead.

At that moment, Chen Mo felt as if he could hear the faint whispers of the Heart of the Undead—the murmurs of countless undead souls.

CRACK! The glass cover shattered spontaneously, and the Heart of the Undead flew into Chen Mo's palm of its own accord.

Although named the Heart of the Undead, it possessed an inexplicable warmth.

Chen Mo gently cradled the Heart of the Undead, feeling its pulse, much like holding a small animal.

The moment Chen Mo touched the Heart of the Undead, a warm current surged from it into his body. This was the Heart of the Undead's gesture of goodwill, offering Chen Mo a glimpse into the memories and power of the Dominator of the Undead it carried.

From the information shared by the Heart of the Undead, Chen Mo learned just how special it was. It was not only the core of all undead but also the nexus connecting to the Realm of Life and Death.

It contained the ultimate mystery of Life and the Endless Power of the undead.

Chen Mo stared intently at the Heart of the Undead. He hadn't expected this thing to be so incredible!

Unfortunately, this item was bound to its master. It already had an owner and could not be used by him.

However, it could help Chen Mo open the Sovereign Underworld within the burial chamber, allowing him to obtain the legacy of power left by its master.

Feeling the guidance of the Heart of the Undead, Chen Mo wasn't in a hurry to enter the Sovereign Underworld.

He still needed to acquire the Professional Exclusive Artifact Component first.

Based on clues from the three Holy Artifacts he had obtained earlier, Chen Mo already knew the location of the Crown of the Undead, one of his Professional Exclusive Artifact Components.

Now, all he needed to do was take the Heart of the Undead to open that tomb chamber and retrieve it.

Holding the Heart of the Undead as he left the previous tomb chamber, Chen Mo felt that this second-transition quest had been remarkably easy.

With the help of Moluo's Brain, his efficiency had skyrocketed.

All unnecessary steps had been completely bypassed.

Plus, with Zhui Yi as the perfect Support, even this hidden second-transition quest was completed quickly, easily, and enjoyably.

Chapter 552: The Wonderful Use of Outer Incarnation! (Three in one)_1

With the three routes to obtain Holy Artifacts and the direct deduction from Moluo's Brain, Chen Mo easily located the tomb chamber where the Crown of the Undead was kept.

At first glance, the chamber hardly seemed like one. Unknowing passersby would have merely assumed it was a wall.

Only by meticulously following the clues did Chen Mo discern the difference in this particular wall.

Even upon discovering this distinctive wall, retrieving the Crown of the Undead still required the Heart of the Undead's aid.

At his thought, the Heart of the Undead in Chen Mo's grasp suddenly emitted a mysterious glow that shot towards the wall before him.

With a series of CRACKLING sounds, the apparent wall—actually the tomb wall itself—automatically slid open to both sides.

Behind it, a massive burial chamber lay hidden.

The chamber was filled with a grim and eerie ambiance; black tapestries adorned the walls, and various altars and candlesticks were scattered about.

In the center of the burial chamber, just like the chamber where he had obtained the Heart of the Undead, stood a large stone platform.

On this platform, in plain sight, rested a crown gleaming with an ethereal light—the Crown of the Undead.

Chen Mo gazed at the Crown of the Undead, sensing the powerful undead energy it exuded.

The Crown of the Undead, like a black gemstone set in a metal frame, emanated a mysterious and alluring radiance.

At this moment, The Heavenly Path's Hint also sounded.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations, you have found your Professional Exclusive Artifact Component 'Crown of the Undead'. The Crown of the Undead is the symbol of the Dominator of the Undead. To possess it means to wield power over the undead.]

Hearing The Heavenly Path's Hint, Chen Mo slowly approached the Crown of the Undead.

However, just as his hand was about to touch the Crown of the Undead, a burst of Dark Energy suddenly erupted from it.

A black mist instantly filled the air, plunging the entire tomb chamber into darkness.

Chen Mo was prepared for this change. After all, possessing Moluo's Brain, he had long since clearly analyzed what he might encounter during the mission.

Profession Exclusive Divine Artifacts are not easy to obtain. While the journey to find them is filled with trouble and detours, merely locating one does not make it instantly available.

Just like when he underwent the first-transition, Chen Mo had gone through a lot of trouble to obtain his Profession Specific Artifacts' fragments.

In the chamber, the black mist gradually condensed into a figure: an Undead Demon King in skeletal form.

The skeleton glittered, its eyes emitting a merciless and icy glow.

The Undead Demon King released a low roar, a sound like a howl from hell, shaking the entire chamber.

Without a word, it reached out its skeletal hand towards Chen Mo, releasing a blast of Dark Energy.

Chen Mo stood firm, allowing the Dark Energy to strike him. This Undead Demon King was no match for the undead's guardian he had just fought. It was much easier to handle.

Chen Mo didn't waste time with words and simply ordered the Skeleton Monsters to unleash a volley.

In less than three seconds, the seemingly ferocious Undead Demon King was instantly slain.

Upon its death, the special layer of energy clinging to the Crown of the Undead also dissipated. As Chen Mo reached out to touch the Crown, it unexpectedly flew into his embrace.

"It seems it was being suppressed by that Undead Demon King just now. Now, like a little pet long separated from its master, it's eager to acknowledge you the moment it sees you," Zhui Yi remarked with a chuckle.

Chen Mo found Zhui Yi's description amusing and couldn't help but laugh.

After stowing the Crown of the Undead, this second-transition hidden mission was considered thoroughly complete.

The two then turned and headed towards the Sovereign Underworld.

The Sovereign Underworld was the most mysterious place in the Tomb of Oblivion, located in its deepest recesses. Only those holding the Heart of the Undead could find it.

Following the Heart of the Undead's guidance, Chen Mo and Zhui Yi walked along a long, black stone corridor. Each step echoed profoundly, reverberating in the boundless darkness as if the Tomb of Oblivion were whispering their names.

Inset into the stone walls on either side were white bones, like countless hollow eyes watching them.

Those eyes were not real, yet they gave a strong impression, as if the abyss itself were gazing at them.

After walking for a little over ten minutes, the two finally arrived before the Sovereign Underworld.

As they reached the entrance to the Sovereign Underworld, their eyes were inevitably drawn to the gigantic black iron gates.

The inscriptions on the gates were complex and profound, depicting a grand story: an endlessly powerful Dominator of the Undead who, with his own strength, constructed an eternal Kingdom and ruled over all the undead...

Evidently, the story depicted on these gates was that of the master of this Tomb of Oblivion.

Chen Mo activated the Heart of the Undead in his hand. He didn't even need to push; the Heart triggered the profound inscriptions on the black iron gates, causing them to swing open automatically with a CLANG.

As the gates opened, the two immediately peered inside, their first sight being the central altar.

The altar stood over ten meters tall, surrounded by flickering candle flames formed from Dark Energy.

Above the altar hung a massive black banner, emblazoned with a giant skull—the symbol of the Sovereign.

Chapter 553: The Wonderful Use of Outer Incarnation! (Three in one)_2

The area around the altar was vast, large enough to accommodate thousands of people conducting rituals simultaneously.

The entire floor of the grand hall was covered with black marble. Each slab was smooth as a mirror, resembling a profound and captivating starry night.

The walls of the hall were engraved with Undead Runes. Each rune seemed to possess life, radiating a deep, mysterious gleam.

The walls were also decorated with an array of weapons and armor, each emanating formidable power, attesting to the majesty and strength of the dominator.

The top of the grand hall was a massive dome filled with twinkling lights resembling stars. They sparkled in the darkness, as if recounting the grandeur and mystery of the dominator.

These star-like lights flickered in the darkness, appearing like stars in a distant galaxy, casting a dim radiance that illuminated the entire grand hall.

Deep within the Sovereign Underworld lay an extremely eye-catching Sovereign Core.

The Sovereign Core floated there like a Black Hole, devouring all light while simultaneously emitting a powerful force that was impossible to ignore.

That was the power of the dominator, a symbol of dominion and eternal life.

The Sovereign Underworld evoked awe. It was the Dominator's residence and also where his power source remained.

Here, Chen Mo and Zhui Yi could still sense the presence of the original dominator—a power from the abyss, so profound that words failed to describe it.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations! You have arrived at the hidden space of the Dominator of the Undead. The previous Dominator of the Undead has left his Sovereign Core for you. You only need to touch this Sovereign Core to accept his legacy.]

[Once the legacy is accepted, the mission in the current instance will be automatically completed. Please take note!]

I've already obtained the Profession Exclusive Divine Artifacts, so what else is there to worry about?

Chen Mo walked directly towards the Sovereign Core and reached out to touch it.

The instant Chen Mo's hand touched the Sovereign Core, an immense surge of Energy erupted from it and poured into his body.

The sensation of something unlocking deep within his soul, of Energy continuously surging into him, washed over him once more.

No matter how many times he experienced it, Chen Mo was always thrilled. The sensation was so incredible it felt like he could ascend to heaven.

Unfortunately, this wonderful sensation never lasted long. In less than 30 seconds, the inheritance process concluded.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations! You have accepted the legacy of the former Dominator of the Undead. Your current profession has changed to 'Second-transition Dominator of the Undead-15th-star!']

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: As you have successfully completed your class transition, you have gained an opportunity to reset your attributes. Do you wish to proceed?]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: As your profession has successfully reached the second-transition, you have unlocked the 'Flying Ability.' Related enhancement items have now been unlocked for drops and acquisition. You can obtain these items from subsequent rewards to continuously strengthen your Flying ability.]

I've heard that items to enhance Flying ability are hard to come by. Most people rely on their innate Flying ability, which strengthens automatically as they Level up. Since I often tackle SSS-level difficulty instances, I might encounter these enhancement items more frequently. Still, I wonder how much enhancement I'd need to match the effect of the Illusory Spirit Feather Boots.

However, flight equipment and Flying ability can be stacked, allowing one to fly faster.

Chen Mo could now combine the two, achieving even greater flight speed than before.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: As your total star level has reached 20 stars, the freely assignable attribute points gained per Level up have quadrupled!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Due to the effect of your SSS-level title, First Transcender, the freely assignable attribute points gained per Level up will quintuple! Currently, for every Level you advance, you will gain 500 freely assignable attribute points.]

Chen Mo had already reset his attributes before and saw no need to do so again. He declined the opportunity and immediately examined the changes to the Dominator of the Undead profession after its second-transition.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: As your profession has advanced to a second-transition profession, it has received certain enhancements!]

[Profession]: Dominator of the Undead (Second-transition·15th-star)

[Occupational Talent]: Lord of the Undead

[Lord of the Undead]: When your summoned Undead Units are alive within a radius of 'Level * star level * 300 meters' around you, you will not die for any reason. You possess an Undead Containment Space and can contain up to 'Level * star level * 300' Undead Units within your body. Undead Units placed in the containment space will have their duration timers paused, allowing them to exist indefinitely therein. However, once released, their duration timers will resume counting down.

[profession-exclusive passive skill]: Dominator's Appearance, Undead Rally, Death Summons, The Undead's Fear, Locked (Unlocks upon breaking through the eighth-tier bottleneck)...

[Dominator's Appearance-The Golden Passive]: All your undead summoning Skills can be cast instantaneously and ignore any summoning restrictions (such as Energy costs, requirements for special materials, etc.).

[The Undead's Gathering-The Golden Passive]: When summoning Undead, there is a chance, corresponding to a given multiplier, to increase the summoned quantity by that same multiplier. (This chance is calculated starting from the highest possible multiplier, which can be up to 'Level * 30' times, and proceeds towards lower multipliers, often tiered in 10x increments).

[The Death Summon-The Golden Passive]: All units killed by you or your summons will be resurrected as Special Undead, possessing their original strength, to serve you!

Special Undead can only be housed in the Special Containment Space. Outside of it, each Special Undead can survive for a maximum of 3 minutes. Storing them in the Special Containment Space allows them to exist permanently. Each time they are summoned forth, their 3-minute survival timer is refreshed.

Chapter 554: The Wonderful Use of Outer Incarnation! (Three in one)_3

Special Undead in the Special Containment Space can only be summoned again after 40 seconds. For every 10 levels, you will gain three additional Special Undead Containment Spaces, currently at 3/12.

[The Undead's Fear-Golden Passive]: For each Undead-Summoning Item you possess, enemy units within a range of 'Level × Star Level × 200m' will lose 1 point of dual defense!

[Profession Exclusive Active Skills]: Undead Summoning●God, Order of Dominance, Dominator's Power, Undead Creation, Locked (unlocked when breaking through the eighth-tier bottleneck).

[Undead Summoning●God-Golden Active]: Usable once every 6 hours, summons a powerful undead whose level changes in sync with yours.

Has a 100% chance of summoning a mid-tier undead, a 30% chance of summoning a top-tier undead, a 3% chance of summoning an uber-tier undead, and a 0.03% chance of summoning a god-grade undead.

The summoned powerful undead can exist permanently, but only 'your Level * 3' can be active simultaneously. Powerful undead that cannot exist permanently will be returned to the Undead Realm after 3 hours. (Probabilities are checked starting from the highest rank upon summoning).

[Dominator's Power-Golden Active]: You can absorb the power of all Undead Units you summon, enhancing your own attributes by an amount equal to the total number of absorbed Undead-Summoning Items and gaining their active skills. This effect lasts for 20 minutes and has a 20-minute Cooldown.

While Dominator's Power is active, you cannot perform any related summonings. (Each low-level undead increases attribute values by 1%, each mid-tier undead by 2%, each top-tier undead by 5%, each uber-tier undead by 10%, and each god-grade undead by 100%.)

[Undead Creation-Golden Active]: Instantly revives all friendly units who have died within a range of 'Level × Star Level × 200m'. This is an SSS-level resurrection with a 12-hour Cooldown (not affected by any Cooldown reduction). If a target has a resurrection restriction, this effect will instead remove that restriction.

After the second-transition, the effects of the Dominator of the Undead's job skills improved once again. The incredibly useful Undead Creation resurrection skill, which had just been unlocked after breaking through the fourth-tier bottleneck, not only had its resurrection range doubled but its Cooldown was also halved. The enhancement was quite obvious. Furthermore, Chen Mo would soon be able to break through the eighth-tier bottleneck, meaning he would have another opportunity to unlock a new active skill and a new passive skill.

Having reviewed the strength of his current job skills, Chen Mo was also eagerly anticipating the skills that would be unlocked next.

With the increase in his job's star level, Chen Mo's attributes also received a significant boost.

Possessing twenty stars, his normal attributes were comparable to those of someone who had completed their third-transition. Additionally, due to a title effect that granted him an extra first-tier's worth of free attribute points, his current attribute point gain was equivalent to that of a fourth-transition expert. So, although Chen Mo was only at his second-transition, his attributes were on par with those of a fourth-transition expert.

However, compared to ordinary fourth-transition experts, Chen Mo also possessed an extraordinary title and the enhancement of Divine Power. Even if fourth-transition experts had high-star level pets, Chen Mo's attributes could still rival theirs.

[Name]: Chen Mo

[Grade]: Twenty-star (15th-star hidden + five-star hidden)

[Profession]: Dominator of the Undead (second-transition hidden profession), Infinite Fusion Master (initial hidden profession)

[Level]: Level 40

[Experience]: 4,878,664,699 / 4,645,300 (eighth-tier bottleneck)

[Attribute]:

Constitution 159,252 = Life 5,377,560, Physical Defense 856,260, Life Recovery 159,252 points/10 seconds (110% per second)

Strength 159,252 = Physical Attack 477,756

Agility 159,252 = Critical Damage +159,252%

Wisdom 330,372 = Magic Attack 1,003,116

Spirit 330,372 = Energy 16,518,600, Magic Defense 1,711,860, Energy Recovery 336,372 points/10 seconds (210% per second)

With such attributes, the stats of a summoned Skeleton Monster are: Health 36,340,920, Physical Attack 10,902,276, Magic Attack 10,902,276, Physical Defense 0, Magic Defense 0. Traits: Bomb, Revival, Corpse Poison, Rally, Sacred, Unity, Perpetual, Symbiotic.

Chen Mo's own attributes were only comparable to those of a fourth-transition expert, but he was a Summoner, so his true strength was reflected in his summons. His summons weren't just on par with a fourth-transition expert; they could completely overwhelm one.

Although his attributes looked strong now, they were still a far cry from god-grade. The Base attributes of a god-grade unit start at 100 million. These so-called Base attributes were not Physical Attack or Magic Attack, but Constitution, Strength, Agility, Wisdom, and Spirit. Only when these Base attributes reached 100 million could one have a chance at deification.

Currently, Chen Mo's Base attributes were only around one hundred thousand for some and over three hundred thousand for others, evidently still a vast distance from deification.

Outside the Tower of Eternity, he could dominate. Even if he faced a fifth-transition expert, as long as their Divine Power wasn't extremely high, Chen Mo could slay them, ignoring the tier difference. But with these attributes, if he were inside the Tower of Eternity facing god-grade units, he would be at the bottom of the food chain.

Of course, Chen Mo was currently only at his second-transition and still in the early stages of growth. By the time he was strong enough to enter the Tower of Eternity, he would undoubtedly be much more powerful.

After reviewing his strength following the second-transition, Chen Mo was very satisfied with his current power level.

He then accessed the Heavenly Dao interface and began checking the ridiculous difficulty of his newly unlocked Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. This difficulty was so high that even he had never attempted anything like it. Chen Mo immediately glanced at the Heavenly Dao interface, trying to find a success probability simulation function, but couldn't see one at all.

He immediately tried asking the Heavenly Path Assistant.

[Heavenly Path Assistant: I'm very sorry, the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment is a hidden-level assessment. I cannot provide you with a success rate simulation for this assessment difficulty.]

Chapter 555: The Wonderful Use of Outer Incarnation! (Three in one)_4

"How ruthless. They deduct the most experience points and entail the highest risk, yet they don't even offer a simulation."

The Above SSS-level difficulty seemed daunting. However, Chen Mo felt his current attributes qualified him as a Level 40 second-transition powerhouse of that caliber, even considering the risk of rashly challenging an unknown difficulty. Besides, he possessed a host of life-saving abilities; if things got truly dire, fleeing wouldn't be out of the question.

If he couldn't succeed, he would only lose the rewards from one Realm Breakthrough Assessment. He had already maxed out all possible titles through SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessments anyway. At worst, he'd just forfeit two sets of SSS-level rewards.

Thinking of this, Chen Mo couldn't help but give a wry smile, realizing he had become rather conceited, no longer batting an eye at two SSS-level rewards.

He currently didn't know if passing the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment would yield Above SSS-level rewards. However, he was certain that challenging it would trigger an announcement from the Sound of the Great Path, which would definitely include an Above SSS-level Gift Pack. After all, that was how the previous rewards were given. Just based on this, the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment was worth challenging.

Having made up his mind, Chen Mo immediately chose the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

The Heavenly Path's Hint: You are about to initiate a sweep of the eighth-tier Realm Breakthrough Assessment for Level 40. As this tier's bottleneck has surpassed Level 20, no experience point cost reduction can be applied. To undertake the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, you must expend experience points equivalent to a multiple of your current Level's upgrade requirement. Are you sure?

In fact, it was just 40 times the experience points required for a Level 40 upgrade. Chen Mo had consumed 50 times that amount for his second-transition mission just recently. He had also gained billions of experience points from the Level 80 experience instance not long ago. This cost was merely a drop in the bucket. So, for the mere 185,812,000 experience points, Chen Mo unhesitatingly chose to deduct them.

Currently calculating a suitable difficulty task based on your current profession.

Calculation complete. Warning: This assessment task is incredibly difficult. If you choose this assessment difficulty, you must enter the assessment space alone to challenge a divine-grade BOSS restricted to Level 40. You may challenge it directly, or you can complete relevant tasks within the mission space to uncover some of the divine-grade BOSS's weaknesses or to weaken its attributes.

The assessment duration is 24 hours. Upon entering the assessment space, its time flow will be independent. Regardless of how long you remain inside, only one minute will have passed in the outside world.

Caution: During the assessment, once combat is initiated, you will be unable to immediately exit the assessment space. This assessment difficulty carries an extremely high risk of death. Please choose carefully!

Chen Mo had been prepared, but this prompt made him a little hesitant.

After all, Above SSS-level entities possessed elusive abilities; it was highly probable that most of his own SSS-level abilities would be rendered ineffective or outright ignored. The risk level was definitely high.

He couldn't help but think how great it would be if his outer incarnation could enter the assessment alone. Let him test the waters for me. After all, even if the outer incarnation died in battle, it could simply be resummoned.

He looked at Zhui Yi and asked, "Can you undertake the Realm Breakthrough Assessment in my place?"

"I'm sorry, my Lord, this is one of the very few tasks I cannot complete for you..."

Hearing this, Chen Mo was about to give up, but then Zhui Yi's words took an unexpected turn.

"Whether it's a professional rebirth mission or a Realm Breakthrough Assessment, when I initiate such tasks, I do so based on my existence as the main body. However, I am merely an outer incarnation. Therefore, even if I successfully complete the corresponding instance, I ultimately cannot receive any associated rewards, nor can I gain any benefits within that instance. Having me undertake such tasks would be a fruitless endeavor. Ultimately, you must complete these kinds of missions yourself to reap the benefits."

Hearing this, Chen Mo's face lit up. "So, if we disregard the benefits, does that mean you can undertake any mission I possess?"

"Yes." Zhui Yi nodded.

"You rascal! You should have told me about this wonderful capability sooner! In that case, you go first and try out this Realm Breakthrough Assessment. No matter how long the Realm Breakthrough Assessment takes inside, only a minute will pass in the outside world. I can afford to wait. The rewards aren't important; the main thing is for you to help me gauge the true difficulty of this Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment," Chen Mo said with a laugh.

"If that is your purpose, my Lord, then it is indeed a good idea. However, initiating a Realm Breakthrough Assessment consumes experience points, and the amount required for an Above SSS-level one is exceptionally high. My Lord, are you certain you wish to waste so many experience points for no direct gain?" Zhui Yi rationally explained the pros and cons to Chen Mo.

"It's no problem. It's just over a hundred million experience points. If they're gone, they're gone. The crucial part is that you can enter the instance and help me figure out what this Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment truly entails," Chen Mo said nonchalantly.

"Very well, my Lord. I shall choose to undertake the Realm Breakthrough Assessment now," Zhui Yi confirmed once more.

This was consistent with what Zhui Yi had stated when he first appeared: he would analyze situations for Chen Mo from an observer's standpoint, clarifying the advantages and disadvantages. If he perceived Chen Mo was about to undertake a losing proposition, he would attempt to dissuade him.

From the outer incarnation's perspective, what he was about to do was a pointless exercise, yet it would consume an amount of experience points considered massive for a Level 40 individual. Naturally, Zhui Yi felt compelled to strongly advise against it. However, if Chen Mo insisted, he would respect his original body's decision.

As Zhui Yi chose to start the assessment task, Chen Mo immediately received a notification.

The Heavenly Path's Hint: It has been detected that your outer incarnation is about to undertake the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. You must provide the experience points required for initiation. Do you consent?

Special Reminder: Completion of the Realm Breakthrough Assessment by the outer incarnation will not raise your level bottleneck.

Chen Mo immediately disregarded The Heavenly Path's Hint and paid nearly 200 million experience points for his outer incarnation.

The next moment, Zhui Yi vanished from Chen Mo's side into thin air.

Chapter 556: Divine-Grade BOSS_1

After a stroll around the Heavenly Trade Market, one minute quickly passed.

A figure reappeared beside Chen Mo. It was Zhui Yi, who had just completed his Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

Without needing to ask, Chen Mo directly synchronized his memory with Zhui Yi's.

Suddenly, information about the Above SSS-level instance BOSS flooded Chen Mo's mind.

[Name]: Azuras

[Identity]: Time and Space Controller (Incarnation)

[Talent - Time and Space Divine Origin]: Ignoring all anomalies, each time Azuras receives damage, all subsequent damage decreases by 1%, recalculated every minute. When Azuras's life value drops to a certain level, it will restore its life to its maximum value using the power of time, also recalculated every minute.

[Active Skills]:

[[ Universal Destruction]] : Azuras releases powerful energy, causing massive damage to all enemies and inflicting negative effects such as slowing down, defense reduction, etc.

[[ Spatial Teleportation]] : Azuras instantly moves to any location, making it impossible for enemies to predict its next appearance.

[[ Time Lock Chain]] : Azuras targets an enemy, freezing them in time for a period, gaining all their attributes during the freeze. When the freeze ends, the target's attributes will be reduced to 1 point.

[[ Energy Absorption]] : Azuras absorbs the energy of surrounding enemies to restore its own life value.

[[ Life Link]] : Azuras links its life to an enemy. When the enemy is damaged, Azuras gains an equal amount of life recovery. When Azuras is damaged, the enemy will also receive the same damage.

[Passive Skills]:

[[ Time and Space Body Armor]] : Azuras is protected by the power of time and space. If the damage that Azuras receives exceeds 1% of its maximum life value, it will be completely immune to that damage.

[[ Chaos Domain]] : When Azuras is in combat, the surrounding environment will constantly change.

[[ Mysterious Aura]] : The presence of Azuras puts pressure on nearby enemies, reducing their fighting ability. In addition, depending on the surrounding environment, it can gain different aura effects.

【 Endless Power】 : As the battle progresses, Azuras's energy will never be depleted. Also, when launching an attack, it has a chance to deal infinite damage to units with lower Divine Power than itself.

【 Heart of the Starry Sky】 : Every time Azuras uses a skill, the power of its next attack will be enhanced.

[Divinity·Super]:

【 Everything is Void】 : Any attacks from units possessing this divinity will ignore the enemy's defense, damage reduction, and shields, causing direct damage to the enemy's body.

【 Stellar Collapse】 : Each time a unit with this divinity is damaged, it will erupt with the gravity of a collapsing star, causing massive damage to the enemy and resulting in severe control effects.

【 Endless Starry Sky】 : A unit with this divinity can transfer any damage it receives to the Endless Starry Sky.

The BOSS was Above SSS-level, and Chen Mo himself lacked sufficient Divine Power. Consequently, the abilities he gained from his SSS-level title, The God of Bravery, were unable to seal the opponent. The seal from his Godslayer Challenger title was similarly ineffective.

This meant that once Zhui Yi entered the instance, he had to rely on Moluo's Brain. By frantically completing several tasks in advance, he managed to seal some of the BOSS's most troublesome abilities.

The most troublesome abilities were its talent, the active skill Life Link, the passive skill Time and Space Body Armor, and the Divinity·Super ability, Endless Starry Sky.

With its talent, the BOSS would quickly return to full health unless dealt explosive, instant-kill damage.

However, its passive skill, Time and Space Body Armor, meant each instance of damage could not exceed 1% of its maximum life value; otherwise, the damage would be completely nullified.

This combination created an unsolvable defensive loop.

Apart from this unsolvable loop, the second most troublesome ability was its Life Link. Surprisingly, this skill wasn't classified as a debuff but as a linking effect, making it impossible to break once established.

Being linked was dreadful. Attacking the BOSS became tantamount to attacking oneself. While the BOSS could use its Divinity ability to transfer away the damage it received, you would have to endure the full impact. In such a fight, the only outcome would be your death while the BOSS returned to full health.

Since its talent couldn't be sealed, Zhui Yi had to settle for the next best option: completely sealing the other three problematic abilities.

Only after sealing these three abilities did Azuras become somewhat manageable.

However, its combat power was still far more potent than a typical SSS-level BOSS. Its Time Lock Chain skill had an Above SSS-level freezing effect, which Chen Mo's Space-Time Pearl could not grant immunity to.

Although Chen Mo's Space-Time Pearl was a divine artifact component, it was currently fragmented. Perhaps after being reassembled, it might regain its Above SSS-level power, but for now, it was clearly inadequate.

This was the crux of what made this BOSS so difficult.

Its high rank rendered many of Chen Mo's abilities ineffective.

Conversely, most of the BOSS's abilities remained effective, allowing it to severely suppress Zhui Yi.

Zhui Yi had a very tough battle against this BOSS.

Nevertheless, despite the BOSS's strength, Chen Mo's underlying power—channeled through Zhui Yi—was still formidable. Ultimately, Zhui Yi managed to defeat it.

Unfortunately, he didn't trigger the perfect clearance reward.

Too much time had been consumed.

The BOSS's Time Lock Chain skill proved to be the greatest obstacle to achieving efficiency.

Achieving perfect clearance meant an additional Above SSS-level reward, a significant difference.

After absorbing Zhui Yi's experiences from the instance, Chen Mo's mindset was calm.

Zhui Yi couldn't achieve perfect clearance alone, but I can enter the instance with Zhui Yi.

If we team up, even if our combined strength is merely additive—one plus one equaling two, rather than something greater—our efficiency will still double.

Achieving perfect clearance shouldn't be too difficult then.

Having thought this through, Chen Mo immediately recalled Zhui Yi. He then paid 180 million experience points and initiated his own Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

Upon entering the instance, Chen Mo did as Zhui Yi had done: he first sealed one of Azuras's active skills, one passive skill, and one Divinity-Super ability.

With these three key defensive abilities sealed, Azuras was left with only one rather troublesome skill: Time Lock Chain.

Originally, without this skill, Zhui Yi could have used the Dominator's Power of the Dominator of the Undead. He could have absorbed all the Skeleton Monsters to significantly enhance his combat power and defeat the BOSS single-handedly.

However, with this skill in play, Zhui Yi didn't dare. If he attempted it and the BOSS used Time Lock Chain to freeze him and steal all his attributes, it would be like lifting a rock only to drop it on his own foot—a complete disaster.

Zhui Yi alone would be completely countered by this skill. But now, with Chen Mo and Zhui Yi entering the instance together, they could adopt a different strategy.

If they both employed such a strategy, even if one was caught by Time Lock Chain, the other would remain free to act.

My plan is for Zhui Yi to use a Life-and-Death skill to lock onto the BOSS. That way, the BOSS can only attack Zhui Yi, its designated Life-and-Death target. This will leave me free to engage the BOSS one-on-one without any threat.

Chapter 557: Protective Divine Pearl, Transcending Divine Stone! (Three in One)_1

Having completed the preliminary tasks according to Zhui Yi's experience, Chen Mo arrived before the first BOSS of the Above SSS-level instance—Azuras.

"Human, your courage is commendable, but I won't hold back. This is a challenge you chose yourself; let's see if you can defeat my avatar, whose power has been suppressed to match yours."

Azuras, the Time-Space Controller, was an awe-inspiring, colossal figure. He was composed of dark matter, seemingly containing endless stars and abysses. His body constantly flowed, churned, and reshaped, like a living galaxy. His eyes were as profound as Black Holes, flickering with cold, captivating light, seemingly holding the secrets of time and space.

His arms seemed capable of sweeping across infinite space; each extension and contraction appeared to encapsulate the birth and annihilation of stars. His fingertips seemed to touch every dimension, capable of tearing through space to forge new paths at will.

Azuras's form was not fixed. At times, he was as towering as a mountain, filling the entire field of view, as if he could support the endless heavens and earth. At other times, he was as minuscule as dust, resembling a miniature Black Hole, yet still capable of consuming all life's radiance.

His voice, vast and hollow as if emanating from an endless abyss, made each syllable fall like a grain of sand from an hourglass—cold and absolute. His very existence in this world seemed like an insurmountable chasm, inducing a profound sense of powerlessness and despair.

Affected by Azuras's skills, the environment around him constantly shifted, like an unpredictable dreamscape.

Sometimes, he stood on a boundless green meadow. Emerald grass swayed gently in the breeze, teeming with vitality. Golden sunlight cascaded from the sky, illuminating every leaf, and all of creation seemed to awaken, brimming with energy.

During this time, Azuras would acquire an ultra-strong regenerative aura.

The next moment, the environment would instantly transition. He would find himself atop an ice-bound snowy mountain. White snowflakes fluttered in the frigid wind, alighting on his body and blanketing him in white. The surroundings were an expanse of blinding white snow, utterly still and desolate. The entire world seemed sealed in ice, all sounds frozen in the frigid air.

At this time, Azuras would gain an ultra-strong area-of-effect freezing aura.

The next moment, everything would change again, and he would appear on the edge of a volcanic crater. Surrounded by rolling heatwaves and molten lava, the entire world seemed to be burning. Scorching magma erupted from the crater, soaring into the sky like a Fire Dragon, staining it red.

During this, Azuras would obtain an ultra-strong scorching aura.

All these rapidly changing scenes were under Azuras's control, as if he were indeed the master of this world, capable of altering anything at will.

Depending on the battle situation, he could manifest any aura he wished.

This ability was very powerful. Chen Mo coveted it, but unfortunately, as it was a passive skill, he couldn't acquire it.

Even if it were an active skill, he wouldn't be able to acquire it. After all, Azuras was an Above SSS-level BOSS. All of Azuras's skills were Dazzling Grade. Chen Mo's Divine Replication Seal was only SSS-level; he couldn't replicate such high-level skills.

Although his opponent spoke gently, Chen Mo didn't hold back when he attacked.

Having already fought Azuras once, Chen Mo wasted no time, striking ruthlessly from the outset.

Right from the start, Chen Mo had Zhui Yi use the Life-And-Death Emblem to lock onto Azuras.

Azuras possessed immunity to all abnormal statuses, rendering Chen Mo's SSS-level crowd control skills ineffective. However, the linking effect of the Life-And-Death Emblem was similar to Azuras's Time-Space Lock Chain. Both were linking effects, falling outside the scope of such statuses.

Azuras had no specific immunity to linking effects.

Therefore, even the SSS-level Life-And-Death Emblem could still bind him.

Due to Azuras's talent, confronting him with multiple entities was disadvantageous. Thus, Chen Mo opted for a one-on-one approach.

He used the Dominator of the Undead's single-combat Divine Skill, Dominator's Power, absorbing all his Skeleton Monsters to enhance his own strength.

Chen Mo currently possessed around 30,000,000 Skeleton Monsters.

According to the description of the Dominator's Power—a golden active skill—each low-level Ghost could temporarily increase an attribute value by 1%.

Therefore, the attribute value increase after Chen Mo used this skill would be:

30,000,000 (number of Ghosts) * 1% = 300,000

This meant Chen Mo's attribute values would increase 300,000-fold.

While this was a significant increase, the Heavenly Dao imposed incredibly strict control over attributes. Any ability that bolstered attributes could not provide a boost exceeding a multiplier of (Personal Level + Divine Power).

This was one reason why those who had undergone their fifth transition held a crushing advantage over those who hadn't.

Even if those below the fifth transition possessed strong attribute-enhancing abilities, because they only had their Level and no Divine Power, they could at most increase their attributes a few dozen times.

But those above the fifth transition, due to their Divine Power, could bolster their attributes by hundreds, thousands, or even tens of thousands of times.

The attributes of those who had completed the fifth transition already vastly surpassed those below. Even if the enhancement multiplier were the same, they would still dominate—not to mention that their maximum possible multiplier was far greater.

Although Chen Mo himself was currently only Level 40, he possessed a full 100 points of Divine Power.

Chapter 558: Protective Divine Pearl, Transcending Divine Stone! (Three in One)_2

He was considered an outlier among those below the fifth-transition.

If he were to unleash his Dominator's Power, his attributes could be directly boosted up to a maximum of 140 times, a rather abnormal increase.

Azuras' Dazzling Grade Passive Skill, Mysterious Aura, could ignore Chen Mo's SSS-level immunity to abnormalities and suppress his attributes, reducing them by 50%. Despite this, Chen Mo's current attributes were still equivalent to seventy times his normal stats, making him extraordinarily strong.

This was not Chen Mo's limit. After using the Shield Worship skill, he could further enhance his attack power by an additional 200%, reaching an attack power 72 times his base.

His Magic Attack alone reached about seventy to eighty million.

With such Magic Attack intensity, in addition to his newly upgraded black quality high-damage skill, Reflected Healing Wave, he could gain significant advantages when facing powerful enemies such as Azuras.

The black quality Healing Wave could now reach up to 200 jumps per second.

This meant that 100 of these jumps would directly hit the opponent each second, causing damage. The other 100 would jump to Chen Mo himself. However, due to the Healing Wave's overflow trait, even if it landed on Chen Mo, as long as his Health was full, it would inflict damage equal to the maximum life value of the healed target (Chen Mo).

After Chen Mo had increased his attributes by 70 times, his Health had also drastically increased, having reached over 370 million.

Given the presence of Zhui Yi, the Healing Wave would jump to Chen Mo once for every two jumps, meaning it would jump to him 50 times per second.

Although Chen Mo, due to the suppression from the BOSS's rank, could not deal Critical Damage even with a critical hit, the regular damage was still incredible.

After activating the Almighty Converter, he transformed the damage into true damage, which was unaffected by the BOSS's basic damage reduction skills. These 100 instances of regular damage then equated to 100 hits of over 70 million damage each, allowing Chen Mo to deal more than 7 billion in direct damage from the Healing Wave alone.

Meanwhile, there were also 50 instances of fixed damage based on life value, triggered 50 times by his 370 million Health, dealing damage as high as 18.5 billion.

This meant that within one second, Chen Mo could deal approximately 25.5 billion damage to the BOSS.

Although the BOSS's total Health was in the trillions and its regeneration was not slow, even accounting for its regeneration rate, it would still lose a full 15.5 billion Health per second.

In addition to all this, Zhui Yi had also unleashed The Demon Princess BOSS Special Doll, one of the Special Undead Chen Mo had previously subdued.

When Chen Mo first took her in as a Special Undead, he had been drawn to her Magic Domain, a domain buff skill.

Although the Demon Princess was instantly annihilated by Azuras as soon as she appeared.

Her domain skill still persisted, remaining effective until its duration ended.

The most game-breaking aspect was that Zhui Yi had summoned the Demon Princess. So, even if she was killed, it didn't matter. As a replicated outer incarnation, Zhui Yi could continuously synchronize with the main body's abilities, as long as the main body still possessed them.

After being absorbed as a Special Undead, the Demon Princess became part of Chen Mo's summoning ability.

So, even if the Demon Princess summoned by Zhui Yi was killed, as long as the Demon Princess in Chen Mo's Special Space for the Undead remained alive, Zhui Yi could continuously maintain the ability to summon her.

Chen Mo, having used the Dominator's Power skill, was temporarily unable to summon anything; he couldn't even summon the Demon Princess to be sacrificed, even if he wished.

So, even if a summoned Demon Princess died and her domain was nullified, Zhui Yi could still replace it promptly.

At this moment, although the Demon Princess was dead, her Magic Domain continued to take effect powerfully.

Her Magic Domain's effect was not weak at all, directly increasing the attack power of all friendly units within it by 100%.

Since the buffs from domain abilities were generally modest, the buff from a domain was different from other buffs; it was an exclusive multiplicative increase.

This indicated that Chen Mo's damage per second could double once more. This meant Chen Mo could deal 510 billion damage per second. After subtracting the BOSS's regeneration rate, Chen Mo could still inflict 410 billion damage per second. Even if the BOSS's Health reached 1 trillion, it wouldn't last 30 seconds.

The reason Zhui Yi had taken so long to wear down Azuras previously was entirely because he couldn't use Dominator's Power and could only rely on the Skeleton Monster to slowly chip away at its Health.

Due to the BOSS's potent area-of-effect attribute reduction, combined with its talent restrictions, too many simultaneous attacks would inflict no damage at all. The Skeleton Monster's damage frequency was completely restricted, making the killing process unbearably slow.

After all, the BOSS's talent effect wasn't standard damage reduction but a reduction to all damage taken. As previously mentioned, in the damage calculation order, this was a final damage mitigation effect with the highest priority, similar to Divine Power.

This type of damage reduction could decrease even true damage.

This was because the step where true damage bypassed standard defenses was completed before this final damage mitigation was applied.

So sometimes, one plus one doesn't necessarily equal two.

Chen Mo, by adding Zhui Yi as an outer incarnation, now achieved a synergistic effect far greater than 'one plus one equals two'.

The Above SSS-level BOSS, which originally would have taken a slow grind far exceeding the perfect clear time to defeat, could now be dealt with in less than 30 seconds.

The disparity was simply too outrageous.

As Chen Mo's Healing Wave landed on Azuras for the last time, a bright light suddenly flared from Azuras' body. He then turned to Chen Mo with a smile and said, "Very good, child. I acknowledge your strength. Even though this incarnation of mine has used less than one percent of my power, for you to reach this level at this stage makes you one in a billion in the Billion Star Sea."

Chapter 559: Protective Divine Pearl, Transcending Divine Stone! (Three in One)_3

"You have passed this Realm Breakthrough Assessment, and at a perfect level. For completing this Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, in addition to the regular rewards, you will also receive a bonus of 10 Divine Power. Take it; it's what you deserve."

Such immense strength, and it's not even one percent of this avatar's power? Chen Mo was speechless. If the avatar is already this formidable, how unfathomably powerful must the main body be?

As Azuras finished speaking, a finger, vast as a mountain, pressed down towards Chen Mo. Instantly, his vision was filled, leaving only the sight of the approaching mountain. The sheer pressure was so intense it made breathing difficult.

This sight, a mountain pressing down on me, is truly overwhelming. For a moment, I feel like Sun Wukong, trapped beneath a mountain.

However, the size of Azuras's body was truly unpredictable. One moment, his finger was mountain-sized; the next, it shrank until it was nearly invisible to the naked eye. Chen Mo only felt what seemed like a grain of sand land on his glabella, followed by a familiar surge of Energy flowing into his body.

I successfully mooched another 10 Divine Power!

I didn't expect to mooch Divine Power from a Realm Breakthrough Assessment too. This is an unexpected windfall!

However, compared to the Divine Power I just received, I'm more curious if I'll get the rewards for an Above SSS-level Assessment.

After dispensing the 10 Divine Power, Azuras chuckled and sent Chen Mo out of the Realm Breakthrough Assessment Space.

Immediately, The Heavenly Path's Hints began to sound out rapidly.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: You have successfully defeated Azuras's avatar. The Above SSS-level Assessment has concluded. Calculating results...]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Due to your swift victory over Azuras's avatar, this assessment will be graded as Perfect!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations on passing the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment! Your Above SSS-level Title, 'Legendary Challenger,' has gained 1 experience point!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Your Above SSS-level Title, 'Legendary Challenger,' has reached Level 2!]

[Above SSS-level Title - Legendary Challenger]

[Title Level]: LV2

[Title Experience]: 0/1 (Earn 1 experience point each time you complete an Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment)

[Title Effect]: All Attributes increase by 400 points, your hidden divine power increases by 200 points.

[Title Skill]: Legendary Strength, Divine Heart

[Legendary Strength · Dazzling Passive]: This power, surpassing that of gods, grants you absolute suppression abilities. When you inflict damage on units whose Divine Power is less than or equal to yours, your final damage increases by 100%. Conversely, when you take damage from units whose Divine Power is greater than or equal to yours, your final damage is reduced by 50%!

[Divine Heart · Dazzling Passive]: This power, surpassing that of gods, grants you absolute suppression abilities. When you inflict abnormal statuses on units whose Divine Power is less than or equal to yours, the effect is doubled; if the effect is fixed, the duration is doubled. When you suffer abnormal statuses from units whose Divine Power is greater than or equal to yours, the effect is reduced by 50%; if the effect is fixed, the duration is halved!

[Title Introduction]: You are destined to surpass gods. Your very existence will cause even deities to dim in comparison!

"If I encounter a divine-grade enemy who inflicts a Dazzling Grade abnormal status on me, my golden skill won't be enough. I'd need a Dazzling Grade skill to resist it. This title isn't bad at all."

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations on passing the Above SSS-level Assessment! You have obtained the origin-grade item, 'Protective Divine Pearl'!]

[Protective Divine Pearl · Origin-Grade]

[Item Passive Effect]: While carried, your physical body will not suffer any damage for any reason. Even if you are killed, your physical body will remain unharmed. Additionally, you are immune to all terrain damage and negative terrain effects. (Effective even while in your inventory bag)

[Item Active Effect]: Activate the Protective Divine Pearl's guardian effect to gain 10 seconds of absolute super armor, rendering you immune to all hard crowd control effects (regardless of rank). Cooldown: 15 seconds. (Can be activated even while in your inventory bag)

[Item Introduction]: It is often said that resurrection is impossible if the physical body is damaged. With this, however, you need not worry. No one can harm your physical body anymore.

"Awesome! I'm immune to physical body damage!"

Immunity to physical body damage is far more valuable than resurrection.

After all, only by preserving the physical body first is there a chance for resurrection.

If the physical body is also destroyed upon death, then even a hundred resurrection abilities would be futile.

This prerequisite allows my resurrection abilities to achieve their maximum effect.

And the Protective Divine Pearl doesn't just keep the physical body from harm; it also grants immunity to terrain damage. There are many types of terrain damage, like those ground traps I encountered in the Wilderness Forest dungeon. If they detonate, that counts as terrain damage.

But those were artificial.

Beyond that, there are many natural forms of terrain damage. Things like poison pools, magma pools, and ground spikes. The most powerful terrain damage is the Space-Time Rift.

The Space-Time Rift is a super-terrain, packing maximum damage and negative effects.

Without reaching the fifth-transition level and mastering the corresponding abilities, even someone as strong as I am would have to detour around a Space-Time Rift.

But now it's different. With the Protective Divine Pearl's protection, I can walk right alongside a Space-Time Rift without being affected in the slightest.

This alone surpasses most fifth-transition experts.

After all, not every fifth-transition expert can master such potent Spatial Force so quickly.

Chapter 560: Protective Divine Pearl, Transcending Divine Stone! (Three in One)_4

In addition to this, the Protective Divine Pearl also had a powerful active ability that granted immunity to all hard crowd control effects, and it ignored rank.

This meant that even if the user encountered a situation where the opponent's rank was higher than origin-grade, the ability would still take effect, which was extremely powerful.

Of course, whether there was anything higher than origin-grade, Chen Mo was unsure. After all, it wasn't just him; even Earth—no, the entire Solar System—was like a newborn baby in this game of Heavenly Dao.

The powerful individuals on Earth hadn't even fully grasped the first floor of the Tower of Eternity.

This wasn't just true for the Solar System; even the Yongming Star System was at a similar stage, still vying for dominance on the first floor.

Chen Mo was very satisfied with the Above SSS-level item he received.

He immediately stored the Protective Divine Pearl and continued to read The Heavenly Path's Hint.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: After level 20, you will no longer enjoy experience point discounts during Realm Breakthrough Assessments. However, when you complete an assessment with a perfect score, you will receive a reward of eternal gold coins equal to the level of the Realm Breakthrough Assessment challenge you completed. You have obtained 40 eternal gold coins!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: As you completed the assessment with a perfect score, you have also received an 'Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll'!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: The assessment is over. In 3 seconds, you will be teleported back to your original world!]

Just as Chen Mo left the assessment space, The Heavenly Path's Hint immediately sounded.

"Congratulations! The Solar System has witnessed its first professional perfectly complete the level 40 Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. As a result, a special reward will be distributed to all professionals in the Solar System. Furthermore, from now on, any native professional of the Solar System at level 40 may choose to skip the Realm Breakthrough Assessment. This bypasses the need for an autonomous breakthrough, and they will receive the 'Breakthrough' title as a reward!"

"Congratulations! The Solar System has witnessed its first professional perfectly complete the level 40 Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. An additional special Above SSS-level reward will be granted to this professional!"

Upon hearing that Chen Mo had once again passed an Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, Jiang Yun immediately sent a message.

[Alliance Master Jiang]: You've passed the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment twice in a row. Can you describe the difficulty? You're currently the most knowledgeable person about it in the world.

[Chen Mo]: I used a sweep scroll last time, so I wasn't entirely sure. This time, I experienced the difficulty firsthand. It's absolutely nightmare-level. I don't think anyone in the world has a chance of passing this assessment.

[Alliance Master Jiang]: No hope at all?

[Chen Mo]: Yes. According to what the figure in the instance told me at the end, to pass the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, one would have to be a one-in-a-billion talent chosen from the Billion Star Sea. You can imagine how terrifyingly difficult it is.

After reading Chen Mo's reply, Jiang Yun was utterly speechless.

[Alliance Master Jiang]: So, that's another way of saying you're truly a monster!

[Chen Mo]: Hehe, I wouldn't dare claim that. However, this Above SSS-level assessment is indeed extremely difficult. I wouldn't recommend anyone attempt it.

[Alliance Master Jiang]: It should be possible to just go in, take a look, and give up if it's unbeatable, right?

[Chen Mo]: Just taking a look should be fine. However, I'm worried some people might enter and get trapped, unable to leave. The main and most troublesome issue is that the Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment offers no simulation opportunity. Otherwise, we could calculate a success rate to make it safer.

[Alliance Master Jiang]: That's a real shame. It would have been great if the reward our planet received after your perfect completion allowed for probability calculations for the current level's Above SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

Jiang Yun was actually echoing Chen Mo's own thoughts.

Although directly breaking through the bottleneck and receiving a decent title reward offered a significant boost for ordinary people, this reward was hardly useful for top-tier players.

As members of Earth's upper echelons, they naturally hoped for more rewards that could enhance the combat strength of elite fighters.

[Chen Mo]: Perhaps when I break through to level 100, there might be such an effect. It's hard to say.

[Alliance Master Jiang]: Let's hope so. With your strength, level 100 probably isn't far off.

After chatting with Jiang Yun, Chen Mo immediately looked at The Heavenly Path's Hint again.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations! You have obtained an Above SSS-level Gift Pack!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Since you have broken through the eighth-tier bottleneck, you have unlocked a Profession Exclusive Active Skill!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Because you undertook a hidden rebirth mission challenge during your second-transition, the strength of the new Skill you obtained has automatically increased by two tiers!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Since you have broken through the eighth-tier bottleneck, you have unlocked a profession-exclusive passive skill!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Because you undertook a hidden rebirth mission challenge during your second-transition, the strength of the new Skill you obtained has automatically increased by two tiers!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: It has been detected that you have broken through the eighth-tier bottleneck. You have gained an opportunity to undertake the Legendary Trial. Since you possess the Divine Physique, if you do not undertake the Legendary Trial, your level cap will not be fully broken. Do you wish to proceed to the Trial Tower to participate in the trial?]

Receiving another Above SSS-level Gift Pack, Chen Mo was ecstatic.

This meant that the Above SSS-level rewards from one Realm Breakthrough Assessment were essentially doubled, and on top of that, he could also score an extra 10 Divine Power points.

It couldn't get any better.

He immediately chose to open the Above SSS-level Gift Pack he had just received.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: You have successfully opened the Above SSS-level Gift Pack. Congratulations, you have obtained the bound origin-grade item 'Super Divine Stone'!]

Seeing this, Chen Mo was immediately reminded of the Touchstone he had obtained before, which could turn any non-Profession Skill golden.

He wondered what effect this new stone would have.