Chapter 611: The Ultimate Hunt, Do or Die Mission! (Three-in-One)_1

Chen Mo didn't understand what these people were thinking, nor did they comprehend what Chen Mo was contemplating at that moment.

They dared not leave the area where they had gathered, fearing Chen Mo would instantly snipe and kill them.

Outside the instance, spectators were profoundly shocked by the current scene.

After all, they couldn't see that Chen Mo was in invisible mode.

They only knew that Chen Mo and a large contingent of top fourth-transition players occupied two adjacent areas.

Just moments ago, it seemed two individuals from the top fourth-transition players had breached their own area and entered Chen Mo's. However, one quickly retreated, while the other perished in Chen Mo's area.

Furthermore, concurrent with his death, a large group of top fourth-transition players rushed into Chen Mo's area, only to instantaneously retreat to their own.

This scene utterly dumbfounded all the spectators.

These were several thousand top fourth-transition players! How could they, in that instant, appear as if a single second-transition player had scared them all into fleeing?

No one understood the meaning behind the actions of these fourth-transition players.

But at the very least, it was evident that these fourth-transition players were extremely wary of this lone second-transition player. After retreating to their own area, they all huddled together.

The people of Earth were incredibly excited by this.

"Too awesome! Truly too awesome! Our second-transition player actually managed to scare off thousands of top fourth-transition players. Is there anything more incredible in this world?"

"Indeed, he's powerful! Watching this makes me feel so proud! It's just too thrilling! A second-transition player from our Solar System managed to suppress so many top fourth-transition players from other star systems that they don't dare to move. This deterrent force is truly indescribable!"

"Is this the allure of possessing an Above SSS-level ability? He can crush top fourth-transition players even at second-transition. Watching this makes me genuinely envious. When will I ever possess the strength of this unparalleled genius?"

"Stop dreaming. We've been professionals for many years; forget us, no other star system has produced someone like this!"

"I wonder how the people in the Yongming Star System will react to this scene."

"I bet they've already pissed their pants! If he reaches third-transition and activates his pet contract, wouldn't he soar like a dragon, becoming completely unstoppable?"

"This feels amazing! For so many years, we've been suppressed by them, constantly living with the fear they instilled. Finally, we're giving them a taste of their own medicine! It's their turn to be apprehensive and uncertain about what tomorrow holds!"

Just as the people of Earth were discussing this, the higher-ups in the Yongming Star System watched the unfolding situation, their expressions extremely grim.

They knew Chen Mo was formidable and possessed the ability to defeat top fourth-transition players. However, they never imagined that even when thousands of top fourth-transition players united to form an army array, they would still be so terrified of him that they would flee back to their own area in a panic. This was truly astounding!

However, Chen Mo not pursuing them, instead sitting down and ignoring these top fourth-transition players, was also quite peculiar.

If one were to argue he killed for points, his earlier actions were indiscriminate slaughter, showing no concept of "fattening them up before the kill."

Yet, if one claimed he killed according to points, Na Zhua, whom he had just slain, wasn't his designated prey and didn't offer many points. He only received half, yet he still took them.

Outsiders found Chen Mo's motivations increasingly inscrutable.

However, regarding his strength at least, everyone was now thoroughly convinced.

Meaning, Chen Mo, at second-transition, already possessed the capability to dominate top fourth-transition players.

Being able to contend with top fourth-transition players, defeating them, killing them, suppressing them, and dominating them represented entirely different tiers of power.

Chen Mo now stood at the highest tier, comparable to a fifth-transition expert.

Had they not witnessed Chen Mo's journey to second-transition, they would have found it utterly unbelievable that a second-transition player could be so formidable. Even newly advanced fifth-transition experts wouldn't dare claim they could overawe such a large contingent of top fourth-transition players.

This event, where thousands of top fourth-transition players were too terrified of Chen Mo to advance further, clearly indicated that his threat level had reached an unprecedented magnitude.

The "Solar System Threat Theory," previously propagated by the Yongming Star System, finally gained recognition from all other neighboring star systems this time.

Such a monstrous individual absolutely had to be eliminated; otherwise, no one would survive encountering him in the future.

For a time, considerable contact and discussions commenced among the higher-ups of the various star systems!

「Inside the instance.」

Since the numerous top fourth-transition players ceased their provocations, Chen Mo couldn't be bothered with them either, and time ticked by.

As Chen Mo remained alone in an area, his retention time steadily increased. For every minute he stayed alone in a single area within the Ninth Area, he gained 10,000 points. These points would be settled and awarded upon entering the next floor.

If he changed areas midway, the accumulated retention time and points would all be nullified, forcing him to accumulate them anew.

Since no one was disturbing Chen Mo, 10 minutes passed quickly.

Throughout this period, within the instance's discussion group, the debate among these top fourth-transition players on how to deal with Chen Mo never ceased.

But regardless of their methods, as long as they couldn't break his invisible mode, all efforts were futile.

Chapter 612: The Ultimate Hunt, Do or Die Mission! (Three-in-One)_2

In the end, they could not come up with any suitable plan to deal with Chen Mo. They simply let Chen Mo remain alone for the full ten minutes.

As soon as the time was up, Chen Mo immediately received a series of hints from The Heavenly Path.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: You have successfully survived alone for 10 minutes and are rewarded with a total of 100,000 points!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations to contestant number 6659 from the Solar System for being the first to enter the tenth floor of the Demon Tower. As he was also the first professional to enter the ninth floor, he is rewarded with 270,000 points. Others are also encouraged to hurry and secure good rankings. Continuously achieving high ranks will increase the reward bonus for subsequent placements. If contestant number 6659 from the Solar System is among the first three to complete the Ultimate Exploration Task of the tenth floor, his corresponding rewards will be doubled. The first contestant to complete the Ultimate Exploration Task of the tenth floor will be rewarded with 100,000 points, the second will receive 90,000 points, and the third will receive 80,000 points.]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Since you have achieved first place nine times, you have unlocked a hidden achievement for obtaining first place on every floor. The original reward of (number of times achieving first place × 100,000 points) has been changed to a 100% increase in your final points total.]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Because you have won first place more than five times consecutively on previous floors, you are rewarded with an additional 100% increase in your final points total.]

With the end of The Heavenly Path's hints, Chen Mo's points had reached nearly fourteen million.

At this point, an additional hint from The Heavenly Path rang out.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Since contestant number 6659 from the Solar System is the first to have his points exceed ten million while over 99% of contestants are still alive, the final group hidden mission, "Ultimate Hunting Mission," is activated!

During the remaining time of this event, no matter who the original prey was, killing contestant number 6659 from the Solar System will earn the killer all of contestant number 6659's points. If contestant number 6659 from the Solar System was already the killer's prey, killing him will result in a double-point reward.

If contestant number 6659 from the Solar System is still alive after one hour, he will be rewarded with 100 million points!

Throughout the Ultimate Hunting Mission, contestant number 6659 from the Solar System's stealth ability will be disabled, and his coordinates will be shared with everyone. During this period, regardless of whether they are hunting contestant number 6659 from the Solar System, if contestant number 6659 kills any hunter, he will receive 10 times the total amount of points possessed by that hunter.

Who is truly the prey, and who is the Hunter? Let us all eagerly await and enjoy this ultimate hunting feast!]

The sudden hint from The Heavenly Path rocked the entire ninth floor.

The top fourth-transition professionals, who had previously felt helpless against Chen Mo, were instantly fired up.

"What!? There's an Ultimate Hunting Mission on top of the Special Hunting Mission!"

Everyone was completely taken aback.

The Demon Tower event had occurred before, and while Special Hunting Missions had been revealed in previous instances of this event, the Ultimate Hunting Mission had never appeared. This new mission required a participant to reach ten million points while over 99% of all participants were still alive—meaning a maximum of only 100 participants could have died.

Under normal circumstances, this was considered impossible. Participants usually began slaughtering each other early in the event, quickly surpassing 100 deaths. How could someone amass ten million points while over 9,900 participants still remained alive?

It was only in this current event instance, due to Chen Mo's formidable presence, that everyone had been forced to temporarily unite and prioritize survival, thereby avoiding widespread conflict. Therefore, this Ultimate Hunting Mission had never appeared before. It was the first time any of them had heard of such a thing.

Not just them; even the executives of many Large Star Systems were witnessing this mission activate for the first time. Recorders immediately noted down this information.

At the same time, everyone was astounded by the rules of the Ultimate Hunting Mission. This Ultimate Hunting Mission was a hunt where anyone could benefit, regardless of who killed whom. This meant that even a second-transition professional, seemingly everyone's prey, could potentially transform into a greedy Hunter and seize a tenfold points reward from others. As for who was truly the prey and who was the Hunter, that remained to be seen.

Those outside the instance didn't know why the top fourth-transition professionals had previously fled in fear. Consequently, they perceived the Ultimate Hunting Mission, issued by the Heavenly Dao, merely as an opportunity for Chen Mo to hunt these top professionals. However, for the contestants inside the instance, the implications were entirely different.

They had retreated earlier because all their top-tier detection tactics had been exhausted to no avail. Since they couldn't overcome their opponent under such circumstances, there was naturally no need to remain in the same area and provoke his killing intent. After Chen Mo didn't pursue them when they left the area, they felt a slight sense of relief. Yet, as long as Chen Mo remained on this floor, their sense of crisis would not dissipate. After all, an unseen enemy delivering unseen fatal attacks could strike at any moment. This invisibility bred a state of paranoia where every rustle and shadow seemed to harbor a threat, making the situation utterly terrifying.

Even a gentle breeze across the grassland could send chills down their spines, making them think Chen Mo had attacked.

It showed the extent of the psychological trauma Chen Mo had inflicted on them.

Now, this psychological terror could finally be eliminated.

The announcement of the Ultimate Hunting Mission, nullifying the target's stealth ability, presented an excellent opportunity for a counterattack!

Everyone grew irresistibly excited upon learning of this rule.

However, someone soon poured cold water on their excitement.

"Everyone, if he could ignore rules and kill from a distance before, could he also ignore this no-stealth rule?"

This statement immediately dampened the crowd's revived excitement.

That's true. If he could ignore rules and kill beyond the limits set by the rules, what's to stop him from continuing to stealth in spite of the rules? If he could ignore the heavenly path's rules, then any restrictions on him were futile.

"Let's not be disheartened yet. His ability to kill from a distance by ignoring rules might not truly mean he's neglecting the rules. Our Yongming Star System once dispatched a special operations unit into an instance to assassinate him, thereby acquiring some intelligence. He can summon an extremely powerful creature. When he was only level 35, his summoned creature was already comparable to a fourth-transition expert.

Now that he's level 60, it wouldn't surprise me if his summoned creature is comparable to a fifth-transition expert.

Perhaps it was merely the summoned creature he left behind that killed those people!" Spike said to the crowd.

"If he couldn't truly ignore the rules, then his summoned creature would be beyond his control if it moved outside his perception range. If it can't be controlled, how could it kill accurately? That doesn't quite add up!" Someone immediately voiced their dissent.

"You have a point. Regardless, it's a good thing that the Heavenly Dao is limiting his abilities. Whether he can continue to ignore heavenly path's rules is another matter. After all, while he might genuinely have the ability to ignore heavenly path's rules, if he truly possesses such power, he could likely only ignore one type of heavenly path's rule at a time, at most."

"Indeed, I even doubt whether Above SSS-level abilities alone can reach rule-level. I think it's slightly lacking. Even if one argues that Above SSS-level abilities can reach rule-level, as you said, ignoring one rule is already the limit, and the Cooldown is probably quite long. If he chose to ignore the attack range restriction rule, the Cooldown for that ability probably hasn't even ended yet."

"So, he probably can't ignore the no-stealth rule now."

"Yes, we think that's highly likely."

As they analyzed the situation, the crowd felt their reasoning was sound.

Logically, rule-level abilities should be higher than Above SSS-level. Therefore, even if Above SSS-level abilities could touch upon rule-level, there would likely be significant limitations.

If Chen Mo actually managed such a feat, he certainly couldn't use the related ability again so quickly.

So, he most likely cannot evade this rule of the Ultimate Hunting Mission.

Realizing this, the crowd felt surges of excitement once more.

If they could break his stealth and see him, the opportunities to kill him would be plentiful!

He was strong only because of his extraordinary Above SSS-level abilities; fundamentally, he was still just a second-transition professional.

His overall attributes were limited.

If he were exposed and attacked by everyone, it was uncertain whether he could withstand their elite fourth-transition army array, even with his other Above SSS-level abilities.

"Although it's beneficial that his stealth ability has been broken by the Heavenly Dao, we can't let our guard down. Once 1,000 areas on this layer open up, we'll send 1,000 people up each time. This way, we can ensure at least a thousand people can form an army array, and we won't have to fear him lying in wait on the tenth layer to pick us off one by one."

"That's feasible. Besides, the Ultimate Hunting Mission continues until the event ends. It doesn't matter when we ascend; as long as the poisonous fog from below hasn't reached this layer, we're fine."

"It definitely hasn't caught up. We've undoubtedly climbed faster this time than in any previous event. Participants from other competition zones are probably still lingering around the first six layers!"

This person was right; at that moment, participants from other competition zones had not surpassed the sixth layer, and the fighting among them was extremely fierce.

A harmonious and united competition zone like theirs was truly unique.

After gaining a general understanding of Chen Mo's capabilities, the group waited for more areas to open.

Every five minutes, 100 areas opened. To reach a total of 1,000 open areas would require waiting another 45 minutes.

Given that the Ultimate Hunting Mission had no time limit and the poisonous fog was still far from the ninth layer, the crowd wasn't in a hurry.

「On the tenth layer」

Chen Mo was somewhat taken aback by the sudden announcement of the Ultimate Hunting Mission.

This Ultimate Hunting Mission is quite harsh on the first person to reach ten million points. My coordinates are shared, and my stealth is disabled... there's nowhere to hide. It's clearly forcing everyone into a deadly free-for-all.

However, the rewards are tempting. As the public target, killing anyone grants me ten times their points. This way, I might even be able to boost my score to one billion!

According to Moluo's Brain's analysis, reward categories at the hundred-million-point level have never been unlocked before. A billion-point tier would be even higher; perhaps I could even directly exchange points for Above SSS-level rewards!

Chapter 614: The Ultimate Hunt, Do or Die Mission! (Three-in-One)_4

With that in mind, Chen Mo still felt quite excited.

However, since this group hadn't made it up yet, Chen Mo decided to first check the rules of the tenth level.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations on reaching the tenth floor, the final stage of this activity. You can wait for the activity to end in the safest area at the center of the tenth floor, where you won't be affected by the poisonous fog.

Of course, before the activity ends, you can attempt the Ultimate Expedition Mission.

The Ultimate Expedition Mission is extremely difficult, but if you can successfully complete it, you will receive a reward: an additional boost to your final settlement points.

If you are interested in challenging the Ultimate Expedition Mission, please proceed to the safe zone at the center of the tenth floor and communicate with the Expedition Mission Administer.

The Expedition Mission Administer will provide you with the detailed content and requirements of the mission.

The Ultimate Expedition Mission is the most challenging task of this activity, requiring courage, wisdom, and great power to complete.

The mission objective may involve riddles, battles, exploration, and other aspects. You need to give it your all, face various challenges, and achieve victory.

Completing the Ultimate Expedition Mission will bring great rewards.

Apart from the additional boost to your final settlement points, based on your performance and final ranking in the mission, you can also receive generous bonus point rewards. This will allow you to attain a higher ranking on the points leaderboard.

However, the Ultimate Expedition Mission is by no means easy. It is full of unknowns and dangers, and it may even pose a risk to your Life.

You need to stay calm and cautious in harsh environments and intelligently apply your abilities and strategies to successfully overcome the numerous challenges.

Please carefully consider the decision to challenge the Ultimate Expedition Mission and ensure that you have adequate preparation and strength.

The activity will end when the countdown finishes. If you decide to wait for it to end, please stay in the safe zone for the final settlement. This will ensure your points are calculated accurately.

Of course, the safe zone can only protect you from the attack of the poisonous fog, but we cannot guarantee your safety against attacks from other participants.

Good luck, and may you achieve glorious results in this Demon Tower adventure activity!]

After reading The Heavenly Path's Hint, Chen Mo wasn't really concerned about the numerous requirements of the Ultimate Expedition Mission.

With Moluo's Brain, solving puzzles and exploring were a piece of cake. As for battling, it was even less worrisome. The challenge of a battle in a fourth-transition activity area was practically nonexistent.

Chen Mo opened the map, then used Divine Flicker to directly enter the safe zone.

Inside the safe zone was a small, round light sphere floating around. It appeared to be the Expedition Mission Administer mentioned in The Heavenly Path's Hint.

"Hello, dear explorer, congratulations on reaching the top floor of the Demon Tower. However, this isn't the final stage of the Demon Tower adventure. If you're interested in challenging a more high-level adventure mission, I can provide the relevant service for you here."

Chen Mo said with a faint smile, "Then please introduce it to me."

"I can provide you with ten levels of Ultimate Expedition Missions. Depending on the chosen difficulty level, the challenges you'll face in the Ultimate Expedition Space will also vary."

"Oh, what's the difference between the different levels?"

"The rewards are different. Each level grants a 100% additional boost to your final settlement points. This means if you choose the Level 10 Ultimate Expedition Mission, you can receive a 1,000% additional boost to your final settlement points."

"That's outrageous! What about the difficulty?"

"The difficulty of a Level 10 Ultimate Expedition Mission is extremely high, with a high mortality rate. In the history of the Fourth Competition Zone in the Milky Way Area, every participant who challenged the Level 10 Ultimate Expedition Mission has died in the Ultimate Expedition Space. Therefore, please carefully consider what you can handle."

Chapter 615: Is Above SSS-level Insignificant?! (5,000 words)_1

After listening to the Expedition Mission Administer, Chen Mo had a rough grasp of the difficulty of this ultimate expedition mission.

Considering no fourth-transition individual had ever challenged this difficulty in Milky Way history, yet the mission was designed for them, it was likely structured to be virtually impossible for a fourth-transition to complete. This suggested the difficulty was almost on par with a fifth-transition level.

Even so, the Divine Power of monsters encountered likely wouldn't exceed 100 points; otherwise, it would be impossible for a fourth-transition to clear.

With Chen Mo's current combat power, he wouldn't flinch even if he encountered a fifth-transition individual with less Divine Power than him, so he certainly wasn't concerned about this mission's difficulty.

He directly chose the highest difficulty.

The small ball of light flickered a few times and reminded him again, "Final reminder: the historical completion count for this mission is zero, and the death rate is 100%. Do you still wish to proceed with the challenge?"

"All missions with a completion count of one started as missions with a completion count of zero. Continue."

The moment Chen Mo confirmed, the ball of light stopped flickering.

The Heavenly Path's Hint stated, "You have selected the level 10 ultimate expedition mission and will soon enter the Ultimate Expedition Mission Challenge Space. Countdown: 10 seconds. Within these 10 seconds, you may still choose to withdraw. Once the countdown ends, you will be unable to exit the mission space until the mission is completed!"

As the countdown began, Zhui Yi immediately said, "I want to go in too. We'll have more options if we go together."

Chen Mo nodded with a smile and said, "Alright."

Saying this, he recalled Zhui Yi, transforming her back into an outer incarnation item, and brought her with him into the Ultimate Expedition Challenge Space.

As Chen Mo entered the Ultimate Expedition Space, The Heavenly Path's Hint sounded promptly.

Ultimate Expedition Mission: Illusionary Maze

Mission Overview:

The Illusionary Maze is an extremely challenging and diverse ultimate expedition mission that tests the wisdom, courage, and strength of participants.

Within this mysterious illusion, countless puzzles, monsters, and treasures are hidden, waiting to be explored by courageous adventurers.

Mission Content:

Puzzle Decryption: Explore various areas within the illusion, unlocking hidden puzzles and mechanisms.

These puzzles may involve decoding, pattern assembly, logical reasoning, and more, requiring you to flexibly use your wisdom and observation skills to find the correct solution.

Combat Challenge: Various powerful monsters and guards, possessing exceptional combat skills and special abilities, are scattered throughout the illusion.

You will need to engage them in fierce combat, using your combat skills and strategies to defeat them and protect your own Life.

Exploring the Maze: A complex and intricate maze exists within the illusion, filled with unknowns and dangers.

You need to bravely venture deep into the maze, searching for the path to the final exit, but beware of traps and obstacles. Only by finding the correct path can you continue to advance.

Ultimate BOSS Challenge: In the deepest part of the illusion, a powerful and mysterious BOSS awaits.

Only by passing all the preceding trials can you face this final battle.

Confronted by the BOSS's Frenzied attacks and unique skills, you must unleash your greatest power to fight for victory.

After reading the mission details, Chen Mo activated his perception ability to scan his surroundings.

The Heavenly Path's Hint stated, "You have fallen into a special maze. Your perception ability will be limited. You can only perceive potential enemies, but you cannot perceive the surrounding environment. Please be aware."

My perception ability is restricted... What about teleportation?

Chen Mo immediately tried using Divine Flicker and instantly blinked 100 meters away.

The Heavenly Path's Hint stated, "You have fallen into a special maze. Your spatial abilities can only be used within a range not exceeding 100 meters and cannot pass through walls. Please be aware."

Being able to blink 100 meters isn't bad.

Although his perception ability was restricted, Moluo's Brain still utilized its powerful processing capabilities, quickly analyzing the correct path.

However, even after analyzing the correct path, the troubles along the way could not be entirely avoided. The required path was intentionally designed with significant obstacles.

Still, this wasn't a major issue. Moluo's Brain could handle the puzzles and maze navigation, and Chen Mo could manage the combat encounters himself.

As he advanced, Chen Mo released Zhui Yi once more.

The two of them, shoulder to shoulder, used Divine Flicker to move forward quickly.

The moment they passed through a detection area, they were instantly imprisoned within a specific space by a powerful Rule Power.

At the same time, a puzzle emerged within the space.

The Heavenly Path's Hint stated, "You have entered the Puzzle Domain. Please solve the corresponding puzzle in this area. If you solve the puzzle incorrectly, the final BOSS's Divine Power will increase by 10 points from its original base."

"Hah, so that's how they play it? No wonder no fourth-transition has ever passed this. One mistake could increase the final BOSS's Divine Power by 100 points—what would be the point of even trying then?"

Chen Mo felt that this level 10 ultimate expedition mission was indeed quite a setup.

However, this didn't affect him much. Not only could Moluo's Brain easily solve any puzzle, but even if he genuinely couldn't, he wouldn't be afraid even if the BOSS's Divine Power increased by 100 points.

Although only 23 points of his actual 230 Divine Power were effective, his hidden Divine Power numbered in the thousands, all of which could be fully utilized. He could effortlessly counteract an additional 100 points to the BOSS's Divine Power.

Chapter 616: Is Above SSS-level Insignificant?! (5,000 words)_2

After Chen Mo stepped into the puzzle zone, a semi-transparent floating window immediately appeared before his eyes.

The window displayed the current puzzle. The puzzle showed some strange patterns and corresponding numbers, arranged in five rows. The first four rows each had corresponding numbers displayed. The last row, however, was a collection of symbols and a question mark.

Clearly, Chen Mo was expected to use the known patterns from the first four rows to derive the answer for the last row.

Chen Mo actually hated such brain-consuming tasks. Even though he was smart, that didn't mean he enjoyed using his brain.

Fortunately, Moluo's Brain was running calculations automatically, sparing him the ordeal.

In just a few seconds, Moluo's Brain had figured out the pattern.

As Chen Mo filled in the final question mark with the answer, the Rule Power around him vanished instantly.

Obviously, he had easily solved this first puzzle.

Chen Mo immediately continued his journey, relying on the Divine Flicker.

Meanwhile, many people outside were deeply astonished by Chen Mo's actions.

They had also read about the ten difficulty levels of the ultimate adventure.

When they learned that no fourth-transition in the history of the Milky Way had managed to complete a level 10 ultimate adventure task in the fourth competition zone, the people on Earth felt apprehensive about Chen Mo directly challenging such an absurdly difficult task.

Even though they knew Chen Mo was exceptional from his various performances, they couldn't help but worry for him, or perhaps worry for Earth and the Solar System.

After all, Chen Mo's life no longer belonged only to him; it was tied to the future of the entire Earth and Solar System.

It was rare for such a figure to appear on Earth, and no one wanted to see him perish so young.

Whether they believed in him or not, everyone began praying for him.

They hoped that he could complete this ultimate adventure task, one of a difficulty level that no one had ever conquered since ancient times.

Contrary to them were, naturally, the people of the Yongming Star System and those from other powerful neighboring star systems.

They certainly didn't want to see Chen Mo continue to grow stronger and fervently cursed him to die quickly in this ultimate adventure task.

That would be the best outcome for them.

But regrettably, despite their relentless curses, Chen Mo cleared the various interference zones one after another.

There were minions, BOSSes, traps, and puzzles, but none of these zones could halt Chen Mo's advance.

Moreover, his points were boosted once again by a significant amount.

"Is this level 10 difficulty? It's practically like there's no difficulty at all! Look at the speed he's moving; does it look like he's facing any real challenge?"

"And this guy is such a freak! He's moving as if he has a map in hand, taking the most direct route to the maze exit. He hasn't made a single wrong turn!"

"That's right. From the moment he entered the maze until now, having already covered half the area, he truly hasn't taken a single wrong step. That's too outrageous!"

Everyone couldn't help but carefully re-examine the rules of the maze area for this ultimate adventure task, displayed on the semi-transparent floating window.

Didn't it say that perception ability couldn't be used to perceive the surrounding area in this region?

Moreover, the map was disabled, and spatial abilities were heavily restricted, unusable through walls. He had no way of cheating.

The only thing that could explain what he was doing now was that he genuinely had a strategy guide map.

Considering Chen Mo's various past performances, they more or less confirmed this.

The Yongming Star System's side thus gained another piece of information about Chen Mo: he possessed an ability to obtain complete dungeon strategies. The exact nature of this ability was currently unknown!

The fact that this ability could be used so effectively within event dungeons spoke volumes about its power.

At this point, the higher-ups of the Yongming Star System finally understood why Chen Mo could complete even tasks that were Above SSS-level. With a strategy guide always at hand, unless his actual capabilities were completely lacking, wouldn't he be able to complete any task he set his mind to?

This ability is just too broken!

Inside the dungeon, Chen Mo was still moving forward. The maze was quite large, and to get from the entrance to the final exit, one had to wind through nearly the entire labyrinth.

Along the way, he was constantly subjected to various regional restrictions and interferences, making his passage quite time-consuming.

While Chen Mo was undertaking the ultimate adventure task, the first batch of top-tier fourth-transition individuals also appeared on the tenth floor.

These thousand individuals immediately formed an army array upon arrival. They were terrified that if they were even a fraction of a second too slow, they would be instantly wiped out.

However, once they had anxiously finished forming their army array, they found no trace of Chen Mo nearby.

They immediately checked the map and couldn't even find Chen Mo's coordinate markers.

If Chen Mo could ignore the Heavenly Dao's rules to remain hidden, that might be somewhat plausible. But to erase even his coordinate markers? That was impossible.

Evidently, he had entered the ultimate adventure task by now.

Seeing this, everyone instinctively breathed a sigh of relief.

At this moment, they didn't dare to challenge any ultimate adventure task themselves. The fact that the weird second-transition individual wasn't around was a huge relief. They could safely wait here for the others to arrive. As for the ultimate adventure task, that could wait until after they had killed this second-transition individual.

Everyone immediately gathered and continued to wait.

After another 10 minutes, the second batch of 1,000 people were teleported up too.

Like the first batch, as soon as they arrived, they instinctively chose to form a defensive formation in case of an immediate attack.

Only after they noticed that there was no threat did they relax.

Soon, the third wave of people arrived as well.

At this point, 3,000 people had already gathered on the tenth level.

Meanwhile, in the ultimate exploration mission, Chen Mo had already reached the exit after breezing past all challenges.

However, this so-called exit was, in fact, an entrance leading to the deepest part of the maze, where the ultimate BOSS of the ultimate adventure mission awaited adventurous challengers!

As Chen Mo ventured into the deepest part of the labyrinth, he found himself within a mysterious and grand spectacle.

This was a solemn and ancient shrine, its towering architecture radiating a sacred glow.

The entire shrine was surrounded by a dazzling starry sky, with numerous stars twinkling on the high dome, like countless eyes of the universe observing this sacred realm.

The doors of the shrine were wide open, revealing a majestic hall. The murals within depicted scenes from legends, both vivid and stunning.

Gemstone-encrusted pillars emitted dazzling light, illuminating the entire hall and making one feel as if they were in a dreamlike world.

At the center of the shrine, a massive altar stood tall, radiating a sacred aura.

Atop the altar stood a man bathed in dazzling golden light. He was adorned in magnificent battle robes, his sculpted physique radiating immense power and might. His eyes, like twin golden suns, shimmered with divine light, seeming to hold infinite wisdom and strength.

So, this is the ultimate BOSS of the exploration mission, Chen Mo thought as he studied the opponent carefully.

The ultimate BOSS wielded a broad, imposing sword, its blade etched with flowing sacred runes. His features were as perfect as a masterfully carved statue, exuding an air of nobility and authority, as if a true God had descended to the mortal realm.

The atmosphere within the shrine was solemn and majestic, each corner radiating divine energy, causing one to involuntarily hold their breath.

The presence of the ultimate BOSS filled the shrine with an overwhelming sense of pressure and solemnity, as if time itself had frozen in this moment.

"Adventurer, impressive. You have managed to make it here without a single mistake. I admire your wisdom and strength."

Upon seeing Chen Mo, the opponent's golden glow gradually faded. His voice was warm and gentle, and hearing it unconsciously brought a sense of peace and reassurance to the listener.

"So, does that mean I've passed?" Chen Mo asked with a smile.

Admiration and flattery are all well and good, but let's get down to business.

Upon hearing Chen Mo's question, the opponent chuckled.

"Indeed, with your strength, defeating this avatar of mine would be a piece of cake. Since you made no mistakes, my avatar only has 50 points of Divine Power. You rascal, to think you actually possess a Divine Physique! Your Divine Power alone is a full 230 points. Even if only 23 points of it are effective, that's still remarkable. Add to that your hidden divine power, and this avatar of mine is simply no match for you."

Clearly, the opponent could see right through his strength.

"You have keen sight, Senior," Chen Mo commented, amazed.

Not only had the opponent recognized his Divine Physique, but he had also accurately stated the exact amount of Divine Power and hidden divine power Chen Mo possessed.

"The Divine Physique was initially a highly controversial research project in the Divine Realm. It is a heaven-defying constitution that could grant mortals power to rival Gods. It was only during a major disaster, when even Gods were in peril, that they had to resort to using Legendary Strength, seeking more power to avert the catastrophe!"

"Just what kind of disaster was so insane that even Gods couldn't withstand it? Is it related to the Chaos Origin Land?"

"It is significantly related. Once you've witnessed the power of a Chaos Supreme Treasure, you'll understand just how terrifying the Chaos Origin Land is. Your Above SSS-level techniques are not even worth mentioning in front of a Chaos Supreme Treasure!"

"My Above SSS-level techniques aren't worth mentioning?!"

Chen Mo first heard about the concept of the Chaos Supreme Treasure when he entered the divinely crafted Fake Chaos Origin Land during his university entrance exam. He knew it was powerful, but according to this God, the Chaos Supreme Treasure could render Above SSS-level techniques insignificant. That Chaos Supreme Treasure was just too overpowered! Meanwhile, a bold idea sparked in Chen Mo's mind: could he synthesize items beyond the Above SSS-level? Currently, the highest-grade materials in the synthesis store were Divine Fusion Agents. He recalled that when his Synthesis Level reached ten, The Heavenly Path's Hint had informed him he'd temporarily reached the maximum level. Chen Mo had found the use of 'temporarily' quite curious back then. It implied that Level 10 of the synthesis store wasn't the true maximum. But without a class change option for lifestyle professions, how could he unlock higher levels for the synthesis store? To synthesize something beyond Above SSS-level, he would undoubtedly need materials more special than Divine Fusion Agents. That much was clear to him without needing to dwell on it. He just wasn't sure what those materials would be. Furthermore, he hadn't been able to save anything; he always used an Above SSS-level Gift Pack as soon as he got one.

After this conversation with the God, Chen Mo decided he would save up three Above SSS-level Gift Packs next time and try to fuse them. At the very least, he'd find out what components he was missing. His current survival and damage-dealing capabilities were already satisfactory. Plus, his strength would increase further after his third-transition when he could form a soul contract with a pet. So, there was no urgent need to acquire even stronger techniques right now. He could afford to save up for a bit.

"May I ask, Senior, have you ever obtained a Chaos Supreme Treasure? Could you perhaps show it to this junior?"

"Young man, the Chaos Supreme Treasure is incomparably precious. Not every God can obtain one, and I haven't been so fortunate. Alright, let's stop the chitchat here. Since you possess such strength, young man, there's no need for us to fight. I'll grant you the reward directly."

"Senior, are you saying you'll give me your 50 points of Divine Power?" Chen Mo asked, a wide grin spreading across his face.

Chapter 618: The Domination of Ten Thousand Realms! Supremely Invincible! (Three in One)_1

"You brat, your dreams are certainly ambitious. This Avatar of mine needs to stay here to continue testing others. Handing over Divine Power to you would render it useless.

Moreover, this is a Fourth-Transition activity instance, strictly overseen by the Heavenly Dao. It's impossible for you to be rewarded with Divine Power here. However, I can give you the maximum reward in terms of points," the ultimate BOSS said, glancing at Chen Mo.

As the words of the ultimate BOSS of the Ultimate Exploration Mission faded, The Heavenly Path's Hint immediately sounded in Chen Mo's ear.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations on completing the Level 10 difficulty Ultimate Exploration Mission! Your mission rating is Perfect. You have earned 100,000,000 points and received an additional bonus: Final Points Reward +1000%!

This mission is now ending. You will be teleported back to the Tenth Layer in 10 seconds. Please prepare!]

It's a pity I couldn't obtain Divine Power, but the earnings are still quite good. I earned 100,000,000 points just by making my way from the maze entrance to the end. Then I was awarded another 100,000,000. This Ultimate Exploration Mission directly gave me 200,000,000 points, plus the 1000% final points bonus.

Chen Mo was quite satisfied with these gains.

Once the 10-second countdown ended, he and Zhui Yi were teleported out of the Ultimate Exploration Mission space.

Just then, The Heavenly Path's Hint sounded again.

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations to Solar System participant No. 6659 for being the first to complete the Ultimate Exploration Mission. As one of the first three professionals to complete it, he will be awarded 300,000 points.

Others, please hurry and strive for a good ranking.]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations to Solar System participant No. 6659 for being the first in this competition zone in Milky Way history to complete the Level 10 Ultimate Exploration Mission! He will receive an additional SSS-level Gift Pack and another 1000% final points reward bonus!]

As this announcement sounded, an immediate uproar erupted both inside and outside the instance.

Previously, they had seen the Heavenly Dao repeatedly stating how immense the difficulty was and how extremely high the mortality rate was. They had assumed Chen Mo would face danger within.

Yet, they had witnessed Chen Mo clear it with ease and speed. Now, they were utterly speechless.

Inside the instance, all the top Fourth-Transition participants were stunned.

They had gained some understanding of Chen Mo's strength along the way and dared not underestimate him.

However, entering the Level 10 difficulty Ultimate Exploration Mission was said to mean certain death. Given this, his speed in completing it was astounding. What is his actual level of strength?

Initially, they thought they might stand a chance by forming an army array, but now everyone was bewildered.

It had been speculated that the Level 10 Ultimate Exploration Mission in this Fourth-Transition competition zone likely required strength approaching that of a Fifth-Transition, with nearly a hundred units of Divine Power, to pass.

For a Fourth-Transition, this level of difficulty was like an insurmountable chasm.

But now, a Second-Transition had passed it. What kind of strength does this Second-Transition possess?

Although Chen Mo had cleared it quickly, "quickly" was relative. Normally, completing the Ultimate Exploration Mission took at least twelve hours, but Chen Mo had taken less than two.

His speed was truly astonishing.

By the time Chen Mo emerged, the Tenth Layer had already gathered a full 9,995 top Fourth-Transition participants!

It had taken them only 100 minutes to ascend—just over an hour. This meant Chen Mo's time clearing the Ultimate Exploration Mission had been sufficient for all of them to arrive.

After ascending and learning that Chen Mo had entered the Ultimate Exploration Mission space, they had preemptively formed an army array. They had also set up numerous traps and Arrays in the surroundings, waiting to kill Chen Mo the instant he appeared!

The moment Chen Mo and Zhui Yi stepped out of the void, the entire safe zone immediately erupted.

An indescribable oppressive force instantly filled the space, as if it were enveloped by a storm of mixed blood and flames. The rampaging power threatened to tear the very earth apart.

At some unknown point, a large, new section of land had appeared within the safe zone.

The instant Chen Mo and Zhui Yi landed, the ground suddenly cracked. FWOOSH! FWOOSH! FWOOSH! Countless glinting ground spikes shot up like a Crocodile Dragon erupting from the sea, carrying an icy chill and razor-sharp killing intent as they thrust towards Chen Mo and Zhui Yi.

Amidst this raging torrent of earth, THWUMP! THWUMP! THWUMP! Several nets shot out, unfurling instantly in mid-air and falling directly onto Chen Mo and Zhui Yi, pinning them down. The coarse, tough netting exuded a dangerous aura and tightened viciously upon contact, as if intending to strangle them alive.

Following the nets, an arrow rain trap was sprung. These arrows, as thick as steel spears, materialized from the sky. Like deadly meteors, a dense volley descended like a sudden tempest—WHOOSH! WHOOSH! WHOOSH!—tearing through the air with sharp shrieks, each imbued with fierce killing intent, raining down furiously upon Chen Mo and Zhui Yi.

Simultaneously, various physical traps were continuously triggered: massive hammers and giant axes fell, slashing sword lights swept past, all aimed at mincing Chen Mo and Zhui Yi into paste.

In addition, all kinds of elemental traps were also triggered, one after another.

As the Water Elemental Trap activated, the air suddenly grew humid. A shimmering lake surface materialized out of thin air, obscuring their vision. Hidden Water Arrows shot out from within like a whale spouting, sharp as swords. They tore through the air with piercing whistles, aimed at Chen Mo and Zhui Yi, as if intending to riddle them with holes.

Chapter 619: One realm breaks ten thousand realms! Domineering invincible! (Three in One)_2

Simultaneously, the Fire Element Trap exploded instantly, sending up plumes of seething fireballs that lit up the entire battlefield like daylight. The scorching heatwave, carrying a suffocating odor, surged through the air. Relentless Flame roared and blazed immensely, like a raging dragon searing the heavens. While incinerating Chen Mo and Zhui Yi, it also collaborated with the Water Elemental Trap to produce a large amount of high-temperature steam, causing even more powerful damage.

The Wind Element Trap swept across the field like a tempest, with fierce gales howling. Sharp wind blades whistled past, slicing through the air and causing severe turbulence, making one feel as if caught in a storm. At the same time, the wind fanned the fire, amplifying the Flame, and bolstered the water, making the Water Arrows even more deadly!

Above all this, the Thunder Trap detonated abruptly. The entire sky was suddenly engulfed by thunder and lightning; frenzied electrical arcs danced in the air, silver-white lightning intertwining with dark clouds, as if incited by divine wrath, striking awe into people's hearts. As countless thunderbolts descended, the scene became even more chaotic. Water conducted the electricity, broadening the lethal range of the Thunder.

Thunder amplified the fire's heat, further enhancing the power of the Flame.

The combination of wind and thunder, an age-old partnership, fused to form a thundercloud storm that wildly ravaged the area around Chen Mo and Zhui Yi.

The Light Element Trap manifested as a dazzling white light that instantly washed over the entire battlefield. The intense radiance prevented anyone from looking directly at it, while hidden beams of light, more terrifying than arrows, shot out like spears. If struck, one would undoubtedly be riddled with bloody holes—this aura, capable of piercing space itself, was simply unstoppable.

The Dark Element Trap, on the other hand, resembled a bottomless Black Hole, swallowing everything. It firmly ensnared Chen Mo and Zhui Yi, disrupting the surrounding Spatial Force to prevent any possibility of their escape. Furthermore, within the Black Hole, invisible currents of poison surged, corroding everything.

All this occurred almost instantaneously. The world seemed to plunge into a turbulent storm in a flash. Roaring, explosive, and howling sounds, among various others, intertwined to compose a heart-shaking symphony of destruction.

The moment the traps, jointly laid by nearly ten thousand top-tier fourth-transition experts, triggered simultaneously, there was a devastatingly beautiful spectacle of world-ending power!

As the primary targets at the very center of the onslaught, Chen Mo and Zhui Yi appeared completely unfazed, utterly indifferent to the damage from these traps.

Zhui Yi, capable of entering an invisible state, would inherently take no damage—setting that aside, even Chen Mo, without his divine stealth, could withstand these traps head-on without issue.

This wasn't even considering the suppressive effect of Divine Power on those who lacked it.

Chen Mo's Divine Ultimate Skill, derived from his Above SSS-level title 'Legendary Challenger,' alone rendered him immune to all non-true damage and non-Chaos Damage from units whose Divine Power was not higher than his own.

Even if all these traps dealt exclusively true damage and Chaos Damage, it wouldn't matter.

They also had invincible skills at their disposal.

Even without invincibility, the presence of their summoned creatures ensured they couldn't be killed.

The Heavenly Dao had only restricted Chen Mo's stealth ability; it hadn't limited Zhui Yi's stealth ability, nor that of Chen Mo's summoned creatures.

Chen Mo had over a hundred million Skeleton Monsters concealed nearby. Merely distributing the damage among them would be enough to keep these top-tier fourth-transition experts occupied for a very long time.

Upon seeing a vast array of ferocious traps trigger the moment Chen Mo returned, the surrounding top-tier fourth-transition experts became extremely excited.

Previously, although they had meticulously set up the traps, they were still worried about one thing: whether Chen Mo's stealth ability had truly been limited as the Heavenly Dao indicated.

If he had emerged from the Ultimate Expedition Space still in an invisible state, all these traps would have been for naught.

But now, the successful activation of the traps proved one thing: his stealth ability was indeed restricted by the Heavenly Dao.

For the numerous top-tier fourth-transition experts, this was the best possible news.

This meant there was now a possibility of dealing with him.

Although the triggered traps looked incredibly ferocious, these top-tier fourth-transition experts knew that, considering Chen Mo's various performances within this event instance, killing him with these traps alone would likely be exceedingly difficult.

They only hoped that these traps could, at the very least, force him to expend some of his life-preserving measures.

And as all the traps triggered, the Domains of nearly ten thousand top-tier fourth-transition experts unfurled in unison.

Each individual's Domain was unique, and the sight of nearly ten thousand such Domains overlapping and taking effect together was truly spectacular.

The instant these nearly ten thousand fourth-transition Domains manifested almost simultaneously, the entire battlefield transformed into a kaleidoscope ocean of colors.

Myriad Domains swelled and expanded in the air like vibrant bubbles, constantly colliding, merging, and overlapping, resembling a brilliant galaxy blooming in the night sky.

Some Domains were like raging infernos, instantly igniting the surrounding air and sending forth rolling waves of fire, making one feel engulfed in a sea of flames.

Other Domains, however, were akin to a Glacier World, instantly freezing the ambient air and exuding a pervasive chill, as if one were trapped in an ice cavern.

Still other Domains resembled a Thunder and Lightning Realm, where silver electrical lances flickered and danced, each flash tearing through the darkness to bring forth dazzling light.

Some Domains were like a Gale Territory, where fierce winds howled, each gust like a razor-sharp blade carrying a biting killing intent.

A few Domains were like an Abyss Territory, immeasurably deep, seemingly capable of swallowing everything and instilling a sense of boundless dread.

Chapter 620: One Realm Shatters Ten Thousand Realms! Unrivaled Domination! (Three in One)_3

Some domains shone like dazzling stars, starlight flickering within them, creating dreamlike scenes that captivated all who witnessed them.

Other domains were ever-changing: sometimes a dark forest, sometimes a tranquil lake, a desert storm, or a raging waterfall. Various scenes constantly shifted within them, as if encompassing all worldly phenomena.

The energy released by the continuous clash and fusion of these domains caused the very air to tremble.

The intertwining energies of numerous domains transformed the battlefield into what resembled a vibrant, multicolored ocean, resplendent and dazzling.

Every domain radiated its own unique brilliance, each declaring its existence to its surroundings.

The interplay of countless domains formed a unique and spectacular vista that stirred the soul.

"Want to play domains with me?" Chen Mo chuckled.

Theoretically, the cumulative effect of so many domains should have massively impacted any units below the fourth transition. However, soon, centered around Chen Mo, another domain began to expand.

The surrounding turbulent airflow, as if sensing this change, instantly fell silent.

In that moment, it felt as if the air had ceased its flow and time had paused its march.

His domain began to spread, initially appearing like morning dew, forming silently in the air.

However, unlike the refreshing morning dew, this domain exuded endless calamity and threat.

This was his "Disaster Domain," an ability copied from the Above SSS-level BOSS, "Supreme Catastrophe God - Domsday Devourer."

Instantly, like a descending Demon God, the Catastrophe Realm swept in all directions. Every inch of land, every wisp of air, every gust of wind under the Catastrophe Realm's shroud became violent and chaotic.

The Catastrophe Realm was the color of a Black Hole—deep and sinister, brimming with boundless destructive power.

Under its influence, the nearly ten thousand vibrant and diverse domains before it burst like bubbles, instantly dissipating. None were spared.

Darkness descended like an eternal night, swallowing all light.

Those once-powerful domains, like myriad stars, were extinguished one by one in this boundless darkness, vanishing without a trace.

No fourth-transition domain's power could withstand the Catastrophe Realm. Everything became insignificant.

Under the Catastrophe Realm's pall, the surrounding world transformed into a scene of apocalypse.

Thunder rumbled, wild winds howled, the earth quaked, and mountains shook. It was like the end of the world, striking terror into hearts and chilling them to the bone.

The destructive power of the Catastrophe Realm seemed capable of devouring everything: time, space, Life, and all existence.

In the face of this terrifying power, no domain, no other force, could resist.

This was the Catastrophe Realm; this was Chen Mo's domain.

Endless calamities erupted from this domain, unleashing immeasurable destructive power from within.

Everyone felt a deep-seated fear, a profound despair.

However, this was merely the beginning of the Catastrophe Realm's expansion. More calamities and even greater powers were continuously being unleashed from within it.

With his Catastrophe Realm, Chen Mo demonstrated the true might, dominance, and invincibility of a domain.

The mere activation of his single domain shattered the domains of nearly ten thousand top-tier fourth-transition experts!

The "Disaster Domain" copied from the Above SSS-level BOSS, "Supreme Catastrophe God - Doomsday Devourer," was, in fact, considered an Above SSS-level domain.

How could mere fourth-transition domains compare to an Above SSS-level one? They were outclassed by two entire levels. Even a god-grade domain would be instantly crushed before the Catastrophe Realm; fourth-transition domains naturally stood no chance.

Instantly, the expressions of all top fourth-transition experts gazing at Chen Mo turned to fear and shock.

They no longer had the mental capacity to wonder why this person looked different from the one they had seen on the ninth floor. Now, facing Chen Mo's domain power, their hearts were filled with nothing but endless shock!

They struggled to comprehend: why? Why was a domain unleashed by a second-transition expert so terrifyingly powerful?

The strength of this domain had surpassed any they had ever witnessed.

Among them were many well-traveled individuals who had witnessed fifth-transition domains and even god-grade domains.

Yet, all the domains they had ever seen paled in comparison to the one wielded by this second-transition individual.

This was utterly terrifying!

They had initially believed that the combined suppression of nearly ten thousand domains would be enough to severely limit Chen Mo's strength. To their dismay, his single domain tore through all of theirs. Compared to his, their domains were as fragile as a child's game.

The thoughts that now surfaced in everyone's mind were largely the same:

How could this be?

Why is his domain so freakishly strong?!

How are we supposed to fight this?

It would have been one thing if their domains had fought to a standstill, but now they were being suppressed instead. Everyone was enveloped by the Catastrophe Realm's influence. All their attributes were reduced by a full 50%. Beyond that, they were continuously subjected to terrifyingly massive damage every second. This damage bypassed all resistances and damage reduction, directly inflicting true damage that seared them.
