Chapter 66 Shocking numbness! (5/5)_1

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations on passing the SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. Your SSS-level title "Godslayer Challenger" has gained 1 experience point!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations on being the first professional in this Star System to complete this SSS-level task. Your SSS-level title "Pioneer" has gained 1 experience point!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Your SSS-level title "Godslayer Challenger" has reached Level 2!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Your SSS-level title "Pioneer" has reached Level 3!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: Congratulations on passing the SSS-level assessment. You have obtained the mythical-grade equipment 'Stellar Shift'!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: As you achieved a perfect score in this assessment using a sweep scroll, you will not receive an experience point discount in your next Realm Breakthrough Assessment!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: As you achieved a perfect score in this assessment using a sweep scroll, you will not receive an additional 'SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll' this time!]

[The Heavenly Path's Hint: This assessment is now complete. You will be teleported back to your original world in 3 seconds!]

Upon using the sweep scroll, a flood of Hints from the Heavenly Path appeared in rapid succession.

Soon, he was being teleported out of the space.

The sound of the great path, which had already left everyone somewhat numb from the day's successive shocks, resonated once more!

"Congratulations to the Solar System for its first professional achieving a perfect completion of the Level 10 SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

As a result, special rewards will be distributed to all professionals in the Solar System.

From now on, all native professionals in the Solar System, upon reaching Level 10, may choose to skip the Realm Breakthrough Assessment entirely, without needing to undergo an autonomous breakthrough!"

"Congratulations to the Solar System for its first professional achieving a perfect completion of the Level 10 SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. This professional will receive an additional, special SSS-level reward!"

The people had only just calmed down and taken a brief respite from discussing the previous two announcements of the great path when they were jolted again. At this point, they were beyond mere surprise; they were utterly stupefied.

They had been shocked into numbness!

What in the world was happening on Earth today? Had someone poked the Great Path's hornet's nest? The sound of the great path was incessant.

"Are you serious? Again? Surely this wasn't triggered by the same person who just completed the Level 5 SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment."

"It really doesn't seem like there are any other possibilities. The SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment is incredibly difficult; it's not something just anyone can complete. And while the experience points required to go from Level 5 to Level 10 are substantial, for someone capable of passing an SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, leveling from 5 to 10 probably isn't a major hurdle."

"No, no, that's too fast! How long has it even been since the Level 5 sound of the great path was broadcast? What kind of experience gain allows for such rapid leveling?!"

"If you actually calculate the experience gain efficiency, it doesn't add up. Perhaps he got lucky and took down a red-named individual over Level 10, earning enough experience points to reach Level 10 in one fell swoop."

"That's plausible. Someone capable of defeating a Level 5 god-grade BOSS could likely handle a professional who hasn't undergone their first-transition. Unless the target had exceptionally high-grade equipment, killing them shouldn't be too difficult."

"You all suspect he killed a red-named individual, but another possibility just occurred to me," someone interjected, a mysterious look on their face.

"What possibility?"

"Do you think it's possible... just maybe... that this person took down a high-level field team BOSS and received a massive amount of bonus experience points?"

At these words, everyone looked at each other in shock and exclaimed, "You don't mean... the person who triggered the second sound of the great path... is him?"

"Exactly."

GASPS!

Sharp intakes of breath were heard all around as a palpable sense of terror gripped them.

It was too preposterous! For one person to trigger the sound of the great path three times in a single day... just how many SSS-level rewards did he possess?

He was practically a walking treasure trove! Imagine if they could just... loot him?

Of course, that was just wishful thinking. He was already incredibly formidable even before acquiring SSS-level rewards. Now, with his strength further enhanced, how could ordinary people like them possibly dream of coveting what he had?

While the common populace discussed the possible connections between the three occurrences of the sound of the great path, Earth's upper echelons were not at all surprised by this latest announcement.

It wasn't that no one on Earth had ever completed an SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment before; it was just that no one had completed one at these lower levels. In fact, more than one person had completed high-level SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessments.

However, none of them had managed to achieve a perfect score, so they hadn't obtained an 'SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll'. They had, however, received S-level and SS-level versions.

Furthermore, they had received a hint indicating that only a perfect score on an SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment would yield an 'SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll'.

Thus, they were aware of the existence of the 'SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment Clearing Scroll'.

The moment Chen Mo passed the Level 5 SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment, they knew this subsequent sound of the great path was inevitable.

Of course, they had anticipated that this Level 10 assessment announcement might not necessarily be due to a sweep scroll; he could have cleared it through combat, though that possibility was considered slim.

After all, the timeframe was exceedingly short. He would have needed to level up and prepare a set of powerful, bound Level 10 equipment. The time constraints were simply too tight.

Therefore, using a sweep scroll was the most probable scenario.

SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessments are incredibly difficult. If they could be passed using tradable equipment, no one would have to struggle so much. Everyone had already accepted that a set of high-grade, bound equipment was essential to pass an SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment. This equipment, serving as a foundation, coupled with some unknown but powerful trump cards, was considered the guarantee for successfully navigating an SSS-level Realm Breakthrough Assessment.

And acquiring each piece of high-grade, bound equipment was no easy feat!

How could anyone assemble a full set so quickly?

With this premise, if the announcement for the Level 10 assessment came too quickly, it almost certainly meant a sweep scroll had been used.

Of course, this was what they had originally assumed about the announcement for the Level 10 assessment.

What they hadn't anticipated, however, was that before this expected announcement, another, completely unexpected sound of the great path would occur, surprising everyone.

Someone had managed to solo-kill a field team BOSS, over 10 levels their senior, within a single hour.

At that time, some among the higher-ups had speculated whether the individual responsible for this feat was connected to the person who had triggered the first sound of the great path.

However, not many held this view at the time.

Because it was simply too fast. The second sound of the great path—the BOSS kill—had appeared very shortly after the first, less than half an hour later, in fact.

What did this imply?

It implied that if the trigger for the second sound of the great path was indeed the same person as the first, then that individual must have engaged the field BOSS immediately after completing their assessment. Furthermore, they would have had to defeat a field BOSS more than 10 levels above their own, all within that brief half-hour window.

That was simply too fast!

An hour was already incredibly hard to believe. But if one connected the trigger of the first sound of the great path with the trigger of the second, that timeframe would have to be slashed in half!

The difficulty was simply staggering!
