

Gluey Love 1401

Chapter 1401

Lucian turned around and glanced at Edith. Tears ran down her face as she looked at him with grievances.

Lucian felt more and more agitated.

"Get out of here as well!" His ruthless voice was colder than the frost in the morning.

Edith was stunned and then cried more sadly.

"Lucian, do you hate to see me so much? I've been loving you since I was a child. Can't you give me a chance?" She said while sobbing. After all, he was so handsome and charming that she was obsessed with him. Ordinary men couldn't be compared with him.

She had been dreaming of marrying him since she was young.

Lucian said expressionlessly, "As I said, I have never given you a chance. Thank you for loving me, but I don't love you. I've fallen in love with someone else."

"But she has left you! She left you when you needed her the most. Don't you know what it means? She can't weather the storm with you, but she wants to enjoy a happy life with you. Do you think it's reasonable? Do you think this is love?" Edith finally spoke her mind.

She knew that he loved Amelia, otherwise he would not have become like this.

"Shut up and get out of here! You're not qualified to judge my love!" Lucian pointed at the door and roared angrily. Amelia left him, which dealt him a severe blow indeed, but he didn't need anyone to remind him whether it was right or wrong for her to leave him.

He loved Amelia. No matter whether she was right or wrong, he could forgive her, and he could understand why she left him. When she came back, she would still be his lover and no one could change the fact.

"Woo-woo..." Edith ran out crying. What Lucian had said injured her self-esteem badly.

She loved him so humbly, but he gave her such a response, which made her extremely upset.

"Bang..." Hearing the sound of closing the door, Lucian sat on the sofa dejectedly and rubbed his messy hair hard. He exhaled with depression and sat on the sofa for a long time before getting up to take a bath.

As soon as he got up, his phone rang. He glanced at it and found that his elder brother was calling him.

"Hello?"

"Lucian, how dare you! You've actually drawn so many shareholders to your side. What should I do to you? My good brother, don't think that I don't know how to deal with you because I get nothing on you. Don't forget your mother."

Lucian's expression suddenly turned cold, "What on earth do you want to do?"

"You know very well what I want to do. I have run Ronen Group for so many years, but you take away half of it easily. What do you think I will do?"

Lucian said, "I didn't touch anything that belongs to you, but I won't give you anything that should belong to me. If you dare to hurt my mother, I'll take over the whole company and won't give you a penny. I will keep my word! You'd better not let me have the idea!"

After finishing his words, Lucian hung up the phone quickly.

He immediately dialed his mother's phone number, but he couldn't get through to her.

He felt so anxious in heart.

He dialed Brian's number in a hurry.

"Hello? Lucian, I am very busy now. Get straight to the point."

Lucian asked, "Investigate where my mother is."

"Your mother?" Brian asked with confusion.

"Yes! Benson threatened me with my mother. Now I can't get through to her."

"I see. Lucian, don't worry. I'll get the surveillance video in your villa now. Don't be anxious and calm down." Brian comforted him cautiously.

Lucian had been tortured by his love and the conflict in his family.

They were worried about him every day.

"Okay!" After hanging up, Lucian took a shower and changed his clothes.

When Kenneth woke up, he found himself in the room. He felt very dizzy and there was a burning sensation in his stomach.

He looked around and then saw Eden who was sleeping by the bed.

He frowned slightly and didn't know what had happened. Shouldn't he be in the school at this time? Why was he still lying in bed?

"Mom." His voice was hoarse, and his throat was very uncomfortable.

Eden raised her head slowly when she heard Kenny's voice. Seeing that he had woken up, she smiled and said, "Kenny, you're awake. Are you still feeling bad?" Even she herself could not believe that Kenny got drunk after drinking one glass of wine, and he was allergic to alcohol.

After drinking a glass of wine, he was as drunk as a lord.

Kenny nodded, "Mom, my head is dizzy and there is a searing pain in my stomach."

Eden pursed her lips and smiled, "You're just a child. Why did you drink?"

Kenneth frowned and thought for a moment. He remembered what had happened last night. He accompanied Lucian for a meal and watched him drink one glass after another. Seeing him drinking with ease, he couldn't help but pour himself a glass of wine. The wine tasted so bad that he wanted to vomit, and he seemed to lose his consciousness after drinking.

Kenny clenched his fists in fear. Why did he forget everything after drinking?

He didn't even remember when he got home.

Moreover, he only drank one glass of wine!

"Mom, did I only drink one glass of wine?" He asked uncertainly.

Eden nodded and reached out to touch his smooth forehead, "Kenny, you were in a bad condition when you came back last night, and you broke out in a rash. Dr. Conley came over and said that you were allergic to alcohol. You can't drink anymore. Fortunately, you only drank one glass of wine. If you drank more, you would feel dizzy, vomit and suffer from diarrhea."

Kenneth nodded, "Mom, I won't drink anymore. Uncle Lucian was very sad and drank wine as if it was water. I couldn't help but want to taste the wine. I wanted to see if it was really so delicious. But it was very spicy, and it tasted bad. It made my throat uncomfortable."

Eden looked at him with distress and said softly, "It's good to know it earlier, but you can't drink anymore. Understand? I cooked porridge for you. You'll feel better after eating it. I have asked for leave for you, and I'll stay at home with you today."

"Okay!" Kenneth smiled with his face full of happiness.

Eden smiled and got up to get the porridge on the first floor.

Kenny looked at her back and smiled. Gia and Ricky were at school, and Eden would only stay with him.

Thinking like this, he felt much better.

However... he raised his arm. Sure enough, he came out in a terrible rash.

He really couldn't drink again.

Eden soon came up with a bowl of millet porridge and fed Kenny in person.

The scene of them getting along with each other was very warm.

A day had passed, but Melissa hadn't come up with a way to set Irving at ease.

Chapter 1402

Once Irving withdrew his money, she would have worked for a year in vain.

In anxiety, she walked back and forth in the office.

Seeing her like this, her assistant was very helpless.

In his heart, the branch office of TS Company was about to go bankrupt.

After all, Melissa couldn't win Victor.

What had happened yesterday sent share prices down. If they couldn't think of a solution, they could only leave River City.

"What should we do?" Melissa stopped and looked out of the window. She felt that she had been driven into an impasse.

Her assistant thought for a moment and said, "Miss Craig, I heard of something. Would you like to listen to it?"

Melissa turned around and looked at him with shrewd eyes, "If you have something to say, just say it quickly. It will be better if you can come up with an idea."

The assistant said, "I heard that Mr. Matthews came to River City for Eden. Eden was his classmate in high school and he has liked her for many years. His purpose is very simple. He wants to take over Alwynn Group and get Eden."

Hearing this, Melissa widened her eyes in shock, and she couldn't believe what she had heard.

Why could Eden be loved by so many nice men?

Could Irving do everything for her?

"Are you telling the truth?" Melissa was a little excited, and a thought flashed through her mind.

"Miss Craig, this is true." The assistant gave an absolute assurance. He had investigated it. Melissa was very nice to him. At the very least, she paid him well.

Moreover, he didn't want to lose this job.

"Go and confirm it again. I want to know if Irving really came here for Eden and if Dahlia knows about this." If it was true, Irving would not withdraw the funds easily.

The assistant said confidently, "Miss Craig, there is no need to confirm it again. Mr. Matthews sends Eden a bunch of roses every morning. Whether Eden likes it or not, he asked his assistant to do it. Everyone in Alwynn Group knows it."

"Oh!" Melissa sneered. Was Eden so attractive? Why did every man treat her so well?

"Make an appointment with Mr. Matthews for me. I want to talk to him. Since he likes Eden, I'll help him fulfill his wish." Finally, she had a bargaining chip to negotiate with Irving.

"Okay, Miss Craig." The assistant went to make a phone call happily.

Melissa stood in front of the French window and looked down at the beautiful scenery of River City. Smiling brightly, she was no longer as anxious and desperate as just now.

There was always a way out. She didn't expect that one day Eden could help her.

The assistant came back very quickly and looked at Melissa, "Miss Craig, Mr. Matthews asked you to go to his apartment."

"Alright! Let's go there now." Melissa walked out confidently, but she went berserk when she thought of her injured arm.

"Victor, the crueller you treat me, the braver I become. Do you think you can scare me in that way?"

"Even though you are ruthless and cold-blooded, I am not someone you can bully at will."

"Victor, just wait and see!"

Melissa said in heart and sneered. Her eyes were shockingly malicious and horrible.

.....

When Lucian came out of the bathroom and changed his clothes, Brian called him.

Lucian answered it quickly, "How is it?"

Brian said, "Lucian, bad news! Your mother has been caught by your elder brother. I didn't find out her whereabouts, but I found that your brother was in an old building. Nine times out of ten he has kidnapped your mother in order to threaten you."

Lucian flew into a rage. Since Benson dared to do that, he should not blame him for showing him no mercy.

"Brian, save my mother." Without waiting for Brian's answer, Lucian turned around, picked up his car key and walked out.

While walking, he called Adonis.

At this time, Adonis was with Candace. The relationship between them improved a lot recently. Last night, they made a breakthrough and had sex in the hotel.

At this time, they were sleeping soundly.

The phone rang twice, and Adonis opened his eyes reluctantly. Seeing that Candace hadn't woken up, he smiled gently.

He finally became a real man.

"Ha-ha..." Adonis laughed happily before answering the phone.

"Lucian, you've disturbed my wonderful dream!"

Hearing his unusual voice, Lucian frowned, "Adonis, did you have sex last night?"

Adonis said, "You're indeed my best friend. I'm not single anymore. Candace and I have decided to get married. I'll meet her family and bring up proposal of marriage in a few days."

In order to be with Candace, he had spent a lot of effort during this period of time.

He tried his best to keep her by his side. Finally, she was touched by his sincerity.

He was five years older than her, and she was always called him in a sweet and lovely tone, which made him feel particularly pleasant.

He had never loved a woman so much.

Looking at Candace who was sleeping soundly in his arms, he was obsessed.

When Adonis finished his last sentence, Candace woke up in his arms.

"Adonis, I'm hungry." She said shyly.

Adonis nodded at her, "Lucian, hurry up and get straight to the point."

Lucian hesitated for a moment before saying, "Ask your assistants to help me. Something bad happened to my mother."

"What? What has happened to her?" Adonis got anxious as well.

"My elder brother kidnapped her."

"I see. Wait for me for a moment. I'll take my assistants there soon." After saying that, Adonis hung up the phone.

He helped Candace get up and kissed her on the red lips before saying, "Candace, I have something urgent to deal with. I'll ask the hotel staff to send you something delicious. You can rest in the hotel after you finish eating. When I come back, I'll take you home and meet my parents."

Saying this, Adonis took out a card from his wallet and put it on her hand, "Candace, there's a lot of money in this card. You'll keep my money for me in the future. I'm responsible for making money, and you're responsible for being my pretty and lovely girlfriend. You're so cute and attractive, and you can't do tired work."

Candace blushed and smiled, "Adonis, you look careless on the surface. I didn't expect you to be so thoughtful. But I have money."

Adonis hugged her, "Keep your own money, and I'll give my money to you. You are my woman now, so of course you should spend my money." Adonis said generously. To Candace, his thoughtfulness was the most charming. She couldn't help but nod with a smile.

She raised her cute face and looked at him with a smile, "Since you said so, I'll take it. You promised to go back with me and bring up proposal of marriage in three days. In this case, I don't have to go on a blind date anymore. I will only love you in the future."

Adonis nodded solemnly, "You're not allowed to go on blind dates in the future. You have to remember that you're mine all the time. I'll love you wholeheartedly, and I won't let you feel insecure."

Chapter 1403

"Ha-ha..." Candace smiled with a red face, "It's just because you give me a sense of security that I want to be with you. Maybe when you knocked me down in the hospital, we were destined to be together. When my mother asked me to go on a blind date, I always thought of you." She spoke her mind with a red face, and her big watery eyes were full of tender affection.

That was why she came to this city to see him.

After getting along with him for a period of time, she felt that he was very suitable for her. She was a gentle and quiet girl who liked to stay at home, while he was capable and kindhearted. He had the ability to protect her, and his family was rich. She just wanted such a boyfriend.

The main reason why he had sex with him last night was that she really loved him.

He was as perfect as the overbearing president in her novel.

Hearing her words, Adonis was like over the moon.

Fate turned out to be so wonderful.

"Ha-ha..." He laughed happily, lowered his head to kiss her red lips hard and then looked up at her. Seeing that her fair face blushed scarlet, he got obsessed and sexually aroused again.

If it weren't for the fact that something bad had happened to Lucian's mother, he could spend a whole day with her here.

He got up, dialed a number and asked the waiter to send some food here.

Then he turned around, carried Candace in his arms and went to the bathroom.

Candace widened her starry eyes, "Adonis, you... have a bath first."

"No, let's have a bath together." Adonis didn't allow her to escape and held her overbearingly.

Thinking that there was such a plot in the novel she wrote, Candace couldn't help laughing. It turned out that being doted on was such a feeling.

She felt as if she was in a warm and happy castle, and she was so delighted that she didn't know what to do.

After they took a shower, the breakfast had been delivered. After ordering the waiter, Adonis accompanied Candace to have breakfast casually. Then he asked his assistants to come over in a hurry.

When they arrived downstairs, he got up and said goodbye to Candace, "Wait for me to come back to pick you up. Then I'll call Eden and ask her to come out for dinner. You always want to meet her, don't you? Unfortunately, something bad happened between Amelia and Lucian, but you'll see them sooner or later."

"Okay, ensure safety in driving." Candace smiled and saw him off. Adonis kissed her affectionately before he left unwillingly.

Adonis met Lucian at the appointed place. He brought a dozen people there.

Lucian looked at him gratefully, "Adonis, you don't have to come here personally. It's not easy for you to meet someone you like, and you should spend more time with her."

Adonis's handsome face blushed as he said with a smile, "How can I just sit by and watch since your mother has got in trouble? Candace urged me to come here. She's waiting for me in Marriott Hotel. After we save your mother, I'll pick her up and have a meal with all of you. She wants to meet Eden and Amelia. After all, they knew each other."

Realizing that he had touched Lucian's sore point, he smiled apologetically.

The expression in Lucian's eyes changed as he said, "Let's go there first. Brian has brought his bodyguards over."

"Okay!" A hint of malice flashed across Adonis's eyes. Benson simply went too far!

Five luxury black cars drove to the main road slowly.

Lucian and Lucian sat in a car, and Lucian's phone rang all of a sudden.

He said, "It's from Benson."

Saying this, he answered it.

Benson's arrogant voice came from the phone, "Lucian, since you hung up my phone, you have to pay the price. I'm in the unfinished building in the south of the city. Exchange your mother's life with all your shares."

Lucian's face darkened to the extreme, and he roared in a furious voice, "I want to talk to my mother to make sure that she's safe. Only then will I come with my shares."

"Don't worry. She's fine now. I'll give you twenty minutes. If you don't come here, I'll push her down from here, and you'll lose her forever." Saying this, he hung up quickly.

"B*stard!" Lucian cursed angrily and drove as fast as he could. On the wide road, he kept the speed at one hundred.

Adonis said with a straight face, "Lucian, why is Benson so shameless? You haven't aimed at the property that belongs to him, have you?"

Lucian shook his head, "No, I just want the part that belongs to me, and he's unwilling to give it to me. It's impossible for him to get all the property. Even if I give up the property, he won't let my mother live a good life. In this case, why should I give up?"

Adonis glanced sideways at his mad face, "Why should you give your property to him? You have to get what should belong to you. What's wrong with your father? You and Benson are going against each other. Doesn't he want to solve the problem?"

"He is no longer in charge of the company. He doesn't do anything about it because he wants to choose a suitable successor. But he is wrong. I will not manage Ronen Group. I only want to do what I like."

No one could force him to do what he didn't like.

Twenty minutes later, Lucian met Brian and his bodyguards.

Lucian asked Brian and his bodyguards to hide nearby, while he and Adonis went to the appointed place first.

In Alwynn Group!

Dean entered the office in a hurry.

"Mr. Alwynn, bad news! Benson has caught Mr. Ronen's mother."

Hearing this, Victor stopped working and asked with a gloomy face, "Has Brian brought his bodyguards there?"

"Yes, Mr. Ronen and Mr. Church are both there. I don't know what's going on now."

"Where are they?" Victor asked as he got up and put on his coat.

"In the unfinished building in the south of the city. He asked Mr. Ronen to exchange his mother's life with all his shares."

Victor said, "Prepare the car and we'll set off immediately."

"Alright!" Dean turned around and walked out.

In order to go to work and get off work conveniently, Irving bought a villa in the center of the city.

His villa was simple and bright. It was decorated with light grey, and it was very pleasant to the eye.

On the gray sofa, Irving crossed his legs gracefully, and there was a cigarette between his slender fingers. He took a draw on it occasionally and blew a ring of smoke slowly. With a serious expression, he looked at Melissa who was smiling coquettishly.

He asked expressionlessly, "Is this the result you give me after thinking about it for a whole day?"

Melissa asked confidently, "Aren't you satisfied with it? I help you get Eden, and you help get Victor. Isn't this a win-win situation?"

"Really?" Irving was still expressionless. He put out the cigarette in the ashtray and sat quietly. He narrowed his eyes, making it hard for Melissa to figure out what he was thinking.

Seeing that he was unmoved by her request, Melissa was a little anxious.

Chapter 1404

"Mr. Matthews, the new products will be on the market in a few days. If you withdraw your funds at this time, it will do no good to both of us. Moreover, I can help get what you want. Isn't it a perfect thing for us?"

Although Irving thought that her plan was despicable, it was exactly what he wanted.

He came here to get Eden and develop his career.

He wanted to take a shortcut, because he had an abnormal obsession with Eden.

"Fine, I will give you another chance. If you fail again, I will withdraw the funds immediately and show you no mercy." Irving said blandly, looking out of the window and stopped talking.

Melissa knew his personality more or less. He had always been deep-minded and didn't like to talk.

She got up and said goodbye to him with a smile, "Mr. Matthews, wait for my good news."

She smiled gracefully and turned to leave in her high heels.

Did Dahlia know what Irving was doing?

Dahlia was his fiancée, but he didn't like her.

Humph! It seemed that she had to talk to Dahlia about it.

But at this time, the most important thing was to make TS Company survive the upset in share prices.

The share prices couldn't continue to fall.

Irving closed his eyes and recalled Eden's words.

"Irving, you don't understand love at all. If you love me, you should wish me happiness instead of running my marriage. What you are doing now is destroying my happiness."

Irving suddenly opened his eyes and stood up from the sofa with annoyance.

Why did things become like this?

He didn't want her to hate him.

.....

In front of the unfinished building, it was grassy and the ground was filled with puddles.

It was very difficult to walk on the bricks and stones.

However, Adonis and Lucian walked extremely fast.

On the second floor, Benson and his bodyguards saw Lucian and Adonis downstairs.

At the corner, Renata's hands and feet were tied and her mouth was gagged. Her hair was messy and there was blood on her forehead. One of her cheek was red and swollen, because Benson's bodyguards beat her. She was in an awkward state, but she still looked so noble.

With a mad face, she glared at Benson who was crazy.

She knew that he would kidnap her to threaten Lucian, but she failed to escape.

Benson glanced at Lucian who was going upstairs and then looked at Renata.

He smiled evilly, "Do you think I can do nothing to your son because Amelia has left? Have you forgotten that you are also someone he cares about?"

"Oh..." Renata's mouth was gagged and she could not speak. She could only groan to express her dissatisfaction.

"It's really funny. Don't you think so? It's the first time that I have seen such you so humble. These years, you have been on guard against me as if I am a thief, for fear that I will do something to your son. But can you guard against me? You've lived uneasily for many years. Every time I see your vigilant eyes, words can't describe how happy I am. I just want you to live a restless and uncomfortable life in my family. Only when you live in fear can my mother rest in peace."

Renata glared at him furiously, but she could not say a word. Over the years, he showed that he would hurt Lucian again and again. It turned out that he just wanted to torture her and make her anxious.

What a despicable man!

When Benson finished speaking, Lucian and Adonis had arrived.

"Mom!" Looking at Renata who was badly injured, Lucian flew off the handle.

He wanted to run over, but two bodyguards stopped him immediately.

"Ha-ha..." Lucian could always remain calm, but he looked so worried at this time. Seeing him like this, Benson could not help but laugh and walked to him with a wicked smile, "Lucian, have you brought what I want?"

Looking down, he saw Lucian's empty hands, a hint of fierceness flashed across his eyes.

"Lucian, do you turn a deaf ear to my words? How dare you fool me!" Benson roared with a surge of great fury.

Seeing how excited he was, Lucian sneered, "You will never get what you want. Adonis, beat him!"

He roared, and Adonis laughed evilly with his eyes full of viciousness. He stood behind Benson, lifted his foot all of a sudden and kicked Benson's butt with great strength. Benson was caught off guard and fell to the ground. The severe pain made him unable to get up.

Even the fastest bodyguard failed to catch him.

At the same time, Lucian took actions and knocked down the bodyguards who stopped him.

Adonis ran over to stop the bodyguards who were rushing toward Lucian, so that he would have enough time to rescue his mother.

Meanwhile, he gave Brian the signal.

Brian, who was nearby, rushed upstairs with several bodyguards at once.

Adonis kicked down one bodyguard. Seeing that he was too weak to get up, he laughed mockingly, "How useless you are! You have well-developed limbs, but you're powerless. In my opinion, you're totally a stupid good-for-nothing!"

The bodyguard was speechless. How could Adonis look down on him like this?

How f*cking arrogant he was!

But he really couldn't get up.

He was too embarrassed!

Hearing Adonis's words, the other two bodyguards who rushed over were rendered speechless.

However, after they reacted, he immediately ran toward Adonis.

Adonis turned around, jumped up and kicked them hard smoothly. The two bodyguards immediately fell to both sides.

"Ha-ha... I'm so cool, aren't I!" Adonis said complacently.

"Humph! You only have superficial skills! Don't think you're awesome just because you're handsome and nimble." A bodyguard retorted with his face twisted in pain.

"Humph! Everything is inferior to power. I'm charming, tall and rich. A man like me is truly attractive. People like you will be thrown into the sea to feed sharks sooner or later." Adonis was in a particularly good mood that day, so he was more talkative than usual.

"Bah! In this world, anyone who has money and power can bully people." The bodyguard went berserk and retorted angrily. If they were as wealthy as Adonis, they did not have to be bodyguards and depend on other people for a living.

"So, I'm bullying you right now. What can you do? What can you do with me?" Adonis's face was full of arrogance. Originally, he had planned to teach these lackeys a lesson. In his eyes, kidnapping was something intolerable.

Brian heard Adonis's shameless words when he rushed up with several bodyguards.

"Don't talk nonsense and concentrate." Brian warned him.

Adonis smiled, "Since you're all here, there's nothing I'm afraid of."

Although Adonis said so, he didn't let down his guard and fought with them with Brian tacitly.

Lucian had walked to Renata.

He looked at her nervously, "Mom, are you okay?"

Chapter 1405

Renata shook her head. She just felt very wronged because she had been kidnapped by the a*shole, Benson.

She had been delicate and noble since she was young, and she had never suffered such grievances and treatment.

Lucian tore the tape off her mouth cautiously.

"Ah..." She fell on Lucian's arms weakly.

Panting, she said, "Lucian, I was almost scared to death."

Lucian patted her back gently and comforted her, "Mom, it's okay now. I will take you out of here right now."

Lucian helped Renata get up and looked at Benson who lay motionless on the ground. His hatred overflowed.

Renata had taken care of Benson for many years, but he was so ungrateful.

Renata married into the Ronen family after Benson's mother died, and she did not do anything to hurt his mother.

Benson shouldn't treat Renata like this.

At the same time, Brian and Adonis had knocked down all of Benson's bodyguards.

Lucian said in a deep voice, "Brian, stay here and deal with this matter. Adonis, let's go."

Adonis kicked the bodyguard who was glaring at him before leaving.

"How dare you glare at me!" He kicked him again to vent his anger and then chased after Lucian.

However, before he could take a few more steps, Benson, who was lying on the ground, suddenly stood up from the ground and rushed towards Lucian and Renata.

He was shocked. Without thinking too much, he shouted, "Lucian, be careful..."

The next second, he pounced on Benson.

Benson had reached the staircase. There was no handrails, and the ground was filled with steel bars, gravel and cement.

Adonis pounced on Benson. The two of them rolled on the ground and fell straight down from the staircase without a guardrail.

"Adonis..." Lucian screamed in a shrill voice as he watched them fall down in a daze.

Hearing this, Brian was stunned and had a nasty feeling.

He ran over quickly. Through the crack, he saw Adonis and Benson falling on the gravel and bricks on the first floor.

The terrible thing was that Benson was on the top of Adonis.

From his angle, he could see that Adonis was gradually losing his consciousness.

"No, Adonis, hold on!" Brian went downstairs hurriedly.

Victor and Dean arrived and happened to see Adonis and Benson fall on the ground.

"Ah..." Victor roared with a frenzy of rage, walked over and pushed away Benson with great strength.

He tried to lift Adonis up, but he saw a lot of blood on his head.

Seeing that Adonis's pupils were dilated, he was overwhelmed by fear.

"Adonis, are you okay? Don't scare me." Victor looked at him nervously.

Adonis opened his mouth forcefully, "Take care of... Candace..." But before he could finish his words, blood gushed from his mouth and splashed on Victor's chest. Adonis closed his eyes slowly, and his hands fell down powerlessly.

"Adonis!" Victor let out a heart-wrenching scream.

He reacted and immediately pulled Adonis onto his back, "Adonis, hold on. I'll send you to the hospital right now."

However, as soon as he placed Adonis's hands on his back, his hand slid down powerlessly again. A ripple of fear passed through Victor, and he almost lost his strength.

"Adonis, wake up." His voice was trembling.

Dean walked over and helped Adonis lie on Victor's back.

Victor tried to calm down, carried Adonis who was about the same height as him and ran out as fast as he could.

"Dean, hurry up and start the car. Brian, contact the hospital immediately. Let them make full preparations and we have to go through the green channel." Victor said loudly while running.

He could feel Adonis's soft body on his back, and even his heartbeats were so weak.

"Okay!"

"Alright!"

They acted separately.

Lucian stood where he was. He didn't move and looked at Benson who had fainted.

He blinked his eyes, but Benson was still lying there.

He hoped that it was just his dream.

He wished that everything that had happened just now was not real.

"Lucian." Seeing that Lucian couldn't accept the fact, Renata felt so painful in heart.

Her heart-wrenching cry made Lucian come to sense slowly. He looked down at her and moved his lips, wanting to say something. But he didn't speak in the end.

Renata knew what he was afraid of. He grew up with Adonis, and Adonis was his best friend.

"Lucian, don't worry. Adonis will be fine. He has been kindhearted since childhood. God blesses the good man. With you by his side, God will love him deeply and let him be all right."

Her words woke him up completely.

"So it is not a dream." He muttered in sorrow and blinked his grieved eyes, on the verge of tears.

Adonis fell from here to save him and his mother.

Lucian's heart ached badly, "Mom, I'll take you to the hospital first."

Renata nodded.

Lucian left some bodyguards to deal with things here and wait for the police.

At the same time, he called an ambulance and sent Benson to the hospital.

In the hospital, Victor, Brian and Dean were waiting outside the operating room.

Victor sat with his shoulders drooped. He helped Adonis all the way to the hospital, so he could feel that Adonis was in danger.

He had never been so worried, scared and distressed before.

Adonis was lively and cute when he was a child. After he grew up, he was careless and had no bad intentions. Among them, he was the kindest.

He was very loyal to them, and he would never betray their friendship.

Over the years with him, Adonis had been working with him. He did a good job and brought them a lot of fun in life.

"Whew..." Victor exhaled with depression.

Brian had a bad feeling. He looked at Victor with melancholy, "Victor, Adonis..."

"Everything will be fine." Victor interrupted him with a serious expression.

However, he could clearly feel that Adonis was dying.

When he thought of this, a wave of fear swept over him.

Seeing his expression, Brian knew that he was deceiving himself.

"Did Adonis keep calling Candace's name when he passed out?" Victor asked.

At this time, Lucian arrived after dealing with the aftermath.

He said, "He has been in a relationship with Candace, and he plans to meet her family and bring up proposal of marriage three days later. They lived in Marriott Hotel last night. Today, he told me that he wanted to meet us with Candace after we saved my mother." But...

Lucian looked at the door of the operating room sadly.

"Adonis, you must hold on. Candace is waiting for you to take her home." He prayed in heart.

Chapter 1406

Victor looked at him and nodded, "We should tell her about Adonis's accident. Adonis's parents went on a trip and they won't be back until tomorrow morning."

Victor took out his phone and called Eden.

Eden was playing chess with Kenny.

They had been chatting happily.

The phone rang, and she answered it with a smile.

"Hello? Victor." She said with a grin.

"Eden, listen to me. Something bad happened to Adonis. Candace is his girlfriend, and she lives in Marriott Hotel. Now take Candace here and don't tell her anything. Adonis is in the operating room. Bring her to the hospital first." He knew that Adonis was in a bad condition.

Eden was stunned, and her whole body tensed up, "Is he seriously injured?"

Victor sighed, "He fell down the stairs, and his head hit the floor. Now he is having an emergency treatment."

"Okay! I will go find Candace now." After hanging up the phone, Eden looked at Kenny apologetically.

"Kenny, Adonis has an accident. I have to go out now. Can you stay at home alone?" He had become much better, and he had almost recovered from the rash.

Kenny smiled and said, "Mom, go ahead. If I want to eat something, I will ask Mary to cook for me. What's more, grandpa and grandma will come back tonight." Eden had been with him for almost a day, so he was very happy.

"Okay! My Kenny is the most sensible. If you are bored, watch TV by yourself." Eden rubbed his head gently, went downstairs to change her clothes and then drove to Marriott Hotel.

In Marriott Hotel, Candace had been feeling a little uneasy. She didn't even have the mood to write.

She simply sat on the sofa and waited for Adonis to come back.

After sitting in a daze for a while, she looked down at the black card in her hand. Adonis gave it to her when he left. She smiled softly. In fact, she didn't really need money.

She couldn't spend much money in the card, but his affection was much more valuable than the money in this card.

Candace put the card on her chest and took a deep breath, trying to relieve her dejection.

After a while, she was a little discouraged and put down her hand. Why did she always feel so sad?

"Adonis, why haven't you come back?"

She heard the doorbell ringing after muttering to herself.

"It's Adonis!" She jumped off the sofa and opened the door with a smile.

"Adonis, you're back."

Standing at the door, Eden felt so painful in heart when she heard her excited and happy voice.

When Candace saw Eden, she felt a little disappointed for no reason.

However, she wanted to meet Eden as well, so she looked at Eden with a bright smile, "Mrs. Alwynn, I was going to meet you tonight. I will go back to C country with Adonis in three days."

Eden looked at her delighted face and could not bear to tell her the truth.

"Miss Aiken, I'll take you to a place first."

"Okay, but Adonis said he would come back to pick me up. Why don't I call him first and let him know?"

Eden's throat tightened, but she forced herself to smile, "No, Miss Aiken. Adonis is there as well."

"Oh! Then wait a minute. I'll go wear a coat." Candace turned around and walked in with a smile, her voice full of expectations.

Eden's smiling face turned mournful instantly.

Victor's tone was serious, which made her extremely worried.

Soon, Candace put on the coat, carried a black leather bag and walked out with a smile.

"Mrs. Alwynn, let's go."

"Okay, just call me Eden." Eden looked at her.

"Alright, then I will not stand on ceremony. Eden, you can call me by my name. We will become good friends in the future."

"Yes, I heard that you and Adonis have been in a relationship. We will become good friends."

"Ha-ha..." Candace laughed happily, "I like the feeling of staying with you."

Seeing how glad she was, Eden felt so bitter in heart.

Along the way, Candace kept talking to Eden about what had happened between her and Adonis these days.

She even told Eden what she had encountered when she went on blind dates before. Obviously, she had regarded Eden as her good friend.

Eden liked her sincerity.

Listening to Candace's words, she suddenly felt that she and Adonis were fated.

At that time, Candace hit her with the car. When Adonis went to the hospital to see her, Candace was knocked down to the ground by Adonis. She was afraid that their story had begun at that moment.

In the world, fate was sometimes so wonderful.

When they arrived at the hospital and entered the elevator, Eden's face became serious.

Candace was suddenly brought to the hospital. Looking at Eden with gentle and friendly eyes, she didn't understand why they came here, and she felt uneasy again.

"Eden, why did you bring me to the hospital? In fact, I had been disturbed before you came to me."

When Eden heard this, the expression in her calm eyes changed a little. It turned out that people who loved each other were really telepathic.

When Adonis had an accident, Candace was uneasy.

But at this time, she had to tell her the cruel fact. Eden suddenly took her hand and looked at her seriously, "Candace, Adonis has an accident. He is being rescued now."

"What?" Hearing this, Candace smiled in disbelief.

"Eden, how is it possible? Don't joke. When he left me in the morning, he told me tenderly that he would come back to pick me up, and then we would meet you at night. Three days later, he would meet my family and bring up proposal of marriage, and then we would get married at the end of the year."

Eden's eyes darkened, and her heart ached.

"Candace, I didn't lie to you." Her tone was very serious.

The smile on Candace's face froze, and her clear and bright eyes became glassy in an instant.

Her grief was etched into every line of her quiet face.

"Really? Adonis..."

Before Candace could finish her words, the elevator door opened. The operating room was right opposite the elevator.

At the same time, the door of the operating room was opened.

Eden held Candace's hand and walked out quickly.

Victor and the others all looked at the doctor nervously.

"Dr. Conley, how is Adonis now?" Victor asked in a hoarse voice.

Everyone's nerves were stretched to breaking point as they stared at Dr. Conley's amiable face.

Dr. Conley shook his head with pity, "Mr. Alwynn, if you sent him here few minutes later, he would have died. His brain is seriously injured. Now his life is saved, but he has no consciousness, and he can't breathe on his own. He is in what is described as a vegetative state."

"Ah..." Hearing this, Candace screamed in pain and fell on the ground.

Victor, Lucian and Brian's shoulders drooped dejectedly.

Chapter 1407

"Woo-woo... Adonis, how can you treat me like this? You said you would come back to pick me up. We agreed that we would go back together. How can you... leave me alone?" Candace sobbed.

Eden squatted down and held her in her arms, trying to give her some strength to hold on.

Victor looked at Dr. Conley and said in a firm tone, "Dr. Conley, I believe that there will always be miracles in this world. No matter how much money it will cost, you must save Adonis. I will pay all the money. Invite all the most authoritative doctors at home and abroad to come to our hospital. You must bring Adonis back to life."

Back then, Eden was also in a coma. After lying on bed for half a year, she finally woke up.

He had never given up.

He would not give up Adonis, either.

Dr. Conley nodded. If they could let Adonis wake up, they would make a great progress in medicine.

"Mr. Alwynn, I will prepare for it. You can ask someone that Mr. Church cares about to talk to him every day and stimulate his will to survive."

"Okay!" Victor nodded.

"I'll stay with Adonis here until he wakes up." Candace got up from Eden's arms and looked at Dr. Conley with determination.

Victor looked at her. He always felt that Candace was weak.

When she spoke, she always lowered her head and did not dare to look into others' eyes.

At this time, she came forward to accompany Adonis without hesitation, and she was worthy of Adonis's affection and love.

Victor said, "Miss Aiken, thank you. Adonis was thinking about you when he fainted." He knew that Adonis wanted them to take care of Candace on his behalf.

Justin looked at the door of the operating room dejectedly and burst into tears, "He is my man. I will never give him up." Her voice was soft, but extremely firm.

Adonis was sent to ICU after being pushed out of the operating room.

These days, professional doctors would take special care of him, and no one was allowed to visit him.

Candace insisted on staying in the hospital and waiting for Adonis. Victor arranged a room for her. The room at the corner of the sixth floor was specially prepared for Candace and Adonis.

Victor even asked the hospital staff to prepare a kitchen for Candace so that she could take care of Adonis more conveniently.

The next day, everyone was not in the mood to work. They all came to the hospital to see Adonis. Anson and Sean went there as well.

When they saw Candace again, she seemed to have lost her soul, sitting outside the ICU quietly and lowering her head without saying a word.

Eden sat on the sofa beside her. She glanced at Eden and leaned on her shoulder silently.

Eden accompanied her in silence.

"Adonis!" When the elevator door opened, a heartbreaking scream sounded.

Victor, Lucian and Brian looked back, only to see that Adonis's father and mother supported each other and came over.

His mother's face was wet with tears.

Lucian walked over and knelt in front of them. He lowered his head and said with tears, "Uncle Church, Aunt Church, I'm sorry. In order to save me, Adonis had an accident."

Looking at Lucian who knelt on the ground with tears, Bruce Church reached out to help him up.

"Lucian, it isn't your fault. You know that Adonis is very kind. Even if it was another person who needed help, he would save that person. Since it was you, of course he would save you." Bruce wiped his tears.

"Is your mother all right?" Brenda Church asked.

Lucian nodded, "Aunt Church, my mother only has a superficial wound and she was scared. She's fine now."

"Alas!" Brenda looked at them, "What on earth is going on? Why do you guys get into troubles one after another?"

Victor said, "Aunt Church, no one can predict that an accident will happen. Adonis is such a kind person, and he will definitely make it. We have arranged for the best doctor to take care of him. Now he has someone he cares about. For the woman he loves, he will definitely wake up."

He always knew that the power of love was amazing.

Since Adonis was in love, he would have hope in heart.

Brenda nodded, and bits and pieces of the past raced through her mind, "I used to urge him to get married, and I nagged almost every day, but he never disliked it. He always looked at me with an unconcerned smile and asked me not to worry. He said that I would naturally have a daughter-in-law when the right time came. Why did he suddenly have an accident?"

After Brenda finished speaking, she lowered her head and wiped her tears. She was so angry that her whole body was trembling.

Eden introduced to her, "Uncle Church, Aunt Church, this is Adonis's girlfriend, Candace."

Bruce and Brenda looked at each other and quickly walked towards Candace.

Candace stood up and bowed to them, "Nice to meet you, Mr. Church, Mrs. Church!" She said in a choked voice and immediately lowered her head.

Brenda looked Candace up and down carefully. She was pretty and cute, and her big bright eyes were clear and pure. Besides, she was very sincere when she looked at them.

She had seen so many girlfriends of Adonis, but Candace was absolutely different.

She was a kind and lovely girl, while Adonis was careless. They were a perfect match.

"Candace, thank you. Adonis has been very happy since you came here." Brenda looked at her. She didn't know if Adonis would be so lucky to marry such a good girl.

Looking at Brenda, Candace pursed her lips slightly and said slowly, "Mrs. Church, I want to stay here to take care of Adonis until he wakes up."

Hearing this, Brenda was very grateful. But she didn't know when Adonis would wake up, and she didn't dare to affect Candace's future.

Seeing Candace's red and swollen eyes and thinking that she was willing to accompany Adonis, she bit back what she would like to have said.

She could only nod.

Seeing this, Candace bowed to Brenda again gratefully.

"Thank you, Mrs. Church!"

Brenda looked at her, feeling very satisfied but sad.

Bruce looked at them and knew that they valued friendship so much. He was very grateful because they were willing to stay with Adonis at this time.

"Victor, Anson, Lucian, Sean, just go back. You won't be able to see Adonis here, so come back when you can visit him." They were all busy and their work couldn't be delayed.

They nodded.

Eden looked at Victor, "Go back to the company. I'll stay with Candace here."

"Okay!" Victor nodded.

Eden helped Candace back to the room they had prepared for her.

Brenda and Bruce followed them in.

Seeing everything that Victor had prepared, they felt very much indebted.

"Eden, I really thank Victor for preparing so much for Adonis." Brenda looked at Eden with gratitude.

Eden said, "Aunt Church, you're too polite. Adonis and Victor are friends, and they grew up together like biological brothers. He should do these for Adonis."

Chapter 1408

Bruce and Lucian stayed there for a few hours, and then Candace persuaded them to go back.

Only she and Eden were left in the room.

Eden looked at her, "Candace, have you made up your mind?"

Candace nodded heavily, "Eden, I have already decided, but I haven't told my parents about it. I have think of a reason. I work freelance, and I like to stay here. My parents won't let me go back immediately."

"I love Adonis, so I want to be with him. However, such a thing happened to him as soon as we confessed our love to each other. I feel really sad."

"He told me about his past. He said that he had dated many girls and they broke up in less than three days. One of the girls dated him for a month and cheated him to buy a house for her. He told me everything about his past."

"But I don't think it's his fault. Those girls didn't understand him. He's a passionate person, but you will find that he is actually very warm when you know more about him. I've lived for twenty-four years, and he's the best man I've ever met."

"He said that he would love me forever. He gave me all his money, and said that he was responsible for making money, while I was responsible for being his pretty girlfriend. His every word was so warm, and he doted on me very much."

"Eden, this is the love that I have always dreamed of. He didn't make any highfalutin promise, but we can spend the rest of our lives together happily. This is my wish."

Eden took her hand, "Candace, you two are in true love, so you can weather the storm together and share the bitterness and joy in life. No matter what you encounter in life, you'll stay with each other.

Since you can go through a difficult period together, you can live together until old and grey. Believe Adonis. He will wake up soon."

"Victor and I once encountered such a thing as well, but we woke up in the end, because we cared about each other. Adonis can't bear to leave you, so he will wake up."

"Mm!" Candace nodded and leaned against Eden's arms again, crying sadly.

She looked at the direction of ICU and whispered in heart, "Adonis, my heart beats for you every moment, and I am touched by you every second. You're the reason why I live, and I will pray for you and our happiness all the time. Therefore, you must wake up quickly."

In the next few days, Eden almost went to the hospital every day. Candace didn't have any friends here, and she was not familiar with this place. After Eden got off work, she would take Candace to buy some daily necessities.

Meanwhile, Adonis was finally transferred from ICU to the ward that was specially prepared for him.

In this way, it would be easier for Candace to take care of him.

When Adonis was transferred to the ordinary ward, everyone came to visit him.

In the evening, they left, leaving only Eden and Candace there.

Victor waited for Eden downstairs.

They would release the new products the next day.

It would be a very important day to Eden.

Eden looked at Candace who had been staring at the hospital bed and said, "Candace, I may be busy tomorrow, so perhaps I won't have time to accompany you here. If you have anything to do, you can tell me in advance. I will come here and stay with you three days later."

Candace looked at her with glassy eyes and forced a smile, "Eden, I'm very happy that you've accompanied me for so long. I'm not short of anything now. During the day, I'll work here and stay with Adonis. At night, I'll sleep on the small bed next to him. I'm very glad because I can see him as soon as I wake up. Thank you for supporting me these days. I will hold on and take care of him all the time. Even if he can't wake up, I'll be with him like this forever."

Candace gave her a soft and sweet smile.

Eden looked at her and smiled as well. Sometimes, women were just so stupid. As long as they fell in love with someone, they would endure all the loneliness and wait for the man to come back.

Eden did not speak. She and Victor were once in a coma, but Adonis's condition was worse than theirs.

But she believed that one good turn deserved another.

Kindhearted people were always lucky.

Lucian did not leave. Instead, he stood outside the door and looked at Adonis through the window with his eyes full of grief and guilt.

Adonis was the pillar of the family. Without him, the Church family had lost their backbone.

"Adonis, why are you so silly? I should have been the injured one, but why did you have to bear it for me?"

When Eden came out, she heard him talking to himself.

Lucian had become very haggard because of what had happened to Adonis.

"Don't think like that, Lucian. It has happened. Adonis will wake up."

Lucian nodded, but the doctor's words stimulated his heart like a sharp needle.

Several experts came here in the past few days and gave Adonis a check-up. They were not very optimistic about Adonis's condition. None of them told Candace about this.

Candace looked so weak, but she had a very strong heart.

She believed that Adonis would wake up, so she could keep waiting for him. If she knew there was no hope, she would be in the depth of despair.

If someone left, they could wait for him to come back.

But if someone fell asleep forever, they could never wait for him to wake up.

A deep sense of despair overwhelmed Lucian.

"Lucian, look at me. Didn't I wake up after lying in bed for half a year? Adonis will wake up, too."
Eden persuaded him again.

Among them, Lucian was the most brokenhearted one.

He thought that it was because of him that Adonis got hurt.

In the past few days, Eden came to the hospital everyday and her face was pale. Looking at her, Lucian said, "Eden, go back first. Victor is waiting for you downstairs. I will leave here after staying for a while. You don't have to worry about me."

Eden looked at him with concern, "Lucian, don't blame yourself too much. We have to believe Adonis."

"Okay!" Lucian smiled and looked at Adonis in the ward.

Eden sighed helplessly and walked towards the elevator.

When Eden came to the first floor, she encountered Melissa who dressed in black and Dahlia who dressed nobly.

When they saw each other, their expressions were extremely subtle.

The smile on Melissa's face froze instantly.

Eden looked at Melissa's hand. Only then did she remember that Victor had taken revenge for her.

It turned out that he had really broken Melissa's hand. It seemed that Melissa came to the hospital to treat her hand.

Feeling Eden's eyes, Melissa burnt with a frenzy of rage.

If it weren't for Eden, her hand wouldn't have become like this.

"Eden, you are such a jinx!" Melissa couldn't help but curse, and a trace of hatred flashed through her eyes.

Dahlia didn't say a word and only looked at Eden quietly. She hated Eden, but she wouldn't be like Melissa and curse Eden so openly.

Chapter 1409

Eden smiled blandly as she looked Melissa up and down with wicked eyes, "You're right. I'm just a jinx. Anyone who has offended me will suffer a lot. You'd better take a detour when you see me in the future. Otherwise, next time, not only your hands will be broken, but your legs and face will also be ruined."

"You..." Hearing her words, Melissa could even imagine Victor's cold and cruel expression.

She couldn't help shivering.

Seeing this, Dahlia knew that they couldn't outargue Eden at this time.

She persuaded Melissa, "Miss Craig, forget it. Let's go and treat your hand first."

"Humph! She's just a daughter of a humble family, but she is so arrogant and proud just because of her husband. She will be taught a lesson sooner or later!" Since Melissa couldn't beat Eden, she had to mock her.

"Ha-ha... You're from a wealthy family, but you're not nobler than me, are you? We live in the world equally, and you're not even as successful as me!"

Melissa was so angry that her whole body was trembling, "Eden, let me tell you. Anyone who is so arrogant will get his retribution. Just wait and see!"

"Ha-ha..." Eden was amused by her words. She lowered her head slightly and pursed her lips.

Then, she looked up at Melissa and said, "Miss Craig, you should say these words to yourself. You have got your retribution several times, but why haven't you learned a lesson?"

"You're not qualified to judge me! Don't think you can be so snooty just because you have Victor!"

Eden smiled proudly, "If you have the ability, be with a man who is powerful enough. Don't get yourself injured every time. You have done too many evil things, so you get your retribution so quickly."

Victor doted on her and loved her, so she was qualified to be haughty.

"Humph!" Melissa snorted and looked at Eden with contempt, "I don't believe that I'll get retribution. I only know that power is everything. As long as I have money, I can do anything I want."

Eden looked at her confident face and smiled. Why was she so sure that she could do everything with money?

"Then I wish you good luck!" Eden smiled weirdly, walked past her and left.

"Humph! What a hateful woman!" Melissa stamped her foot forcefully, "Dahlia, don't you say anything? Why are you silent every time you see her?" In her opinion, their dooms were closely linked

Dahlia smiled, "I have nothing to say to her."

It was not that she had nothing to say to Eden, but that she could not talk about something openly.

She looked at Melissa with a serious expression, "By the way, do you know when they will release their new products? Something happened to Mr. Church these days, which has delayed their progress. How's your preparation going? This time, you can't fail again. If you fail again, you can't explain to Mr. Matthews."

Melissa looked depressed, "I have bought off a few employees in Alwynn Group, but I don't know the specific time of the release of their new products." She was afraid that Alwynn Group would release the new products and give her a blow all of a sudden.

"Will you release the new products tomorrow?"

"Yes. I've contacted many reporters, and all the Internet platforms have got ready. We won't sell the clothes at high prices. We make small profits but quick turnover, so we'll be able to make a profit soon." Melissa looked at her, "As you said, Adonis had an accident. It's a good opportunity for us." Melissa smiled brightly, "I really want to see their expressions tomorrow."

Seeing that she was so confident, Dahlia was relieved.

However, Victor's styles of doing things were really unpredictable.

"Go in and treat your hand. Only in this way can you have time to work."

"You're right!"

They walked in with lofty faces.

Eden went to find Victor. She was in high spirits, and her mood was not affected by Melissa.

Suddenly, a little girl ran over. She slipped down and fell to the ground while passing by her.

"Ah..." The little girl screamed.

Eden immediately turned around and saw the little girl lying on the ground and unable to get up.

She went back in a hurry to help her up. The girl was dressed in a pink princess dress and had two braids with bows. She was cute and adorable. It seemed that she was about the same age as Giada.

She asked worriedly, "Girl, you are so lovely and beautiful. Are you okay?"

When the girl heard Eden praise her, she immediately held back the tears in her bright big eyes.

She blinked her eyes that were brimming with tears. Looking at Eden's pretty face, she melted into smiles.

"Thank you, Miss. Only my knees hurt a little." Her voice was very soft and sweet, but Eden could sense that she was enduring the pain.

Eden looked at her princess dress and remembered that she had a special affection for princess dress when she was a child.

However, Gia hated princess dresses very much.

She liked jeans, white T-shirts and other special styles. Moreover, she never wore her hair in braids.

"Let me see." Eden lifted her princess dress carefully. Her white trousers had worn through at the knees. The skin on her knees had been rubbed raw, and the wounds were bleeding.

Eden felt so distressed. She looked up at her and said, "You're bleeding. Let me take you to the hospital to treat the wounds, okay? Are your parents nearby? I can contact them and ask them to take you to the hospital."

The little girl shook her head, "I ran out to play on my own. My father is very busy. Now he is having a meeting."

Eden got up and picked up her dress, "Then I'll take you to the hospital. You will be all right soon."

"Thank you, Miss. It's so kind of you!" The little girl smiled very sweetly. Her misty eyes became clearer and clearer.

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled, held her hand and walked to the hospital.

"You should be a primary school student this year. Shouldn't you be in the school at this time?"

The girl nodded, "Yes! But I wanted to meet my Prince Charming here, so I asked for leave and asked my dad to take me here." The little girl's eyes were full of expectation. When she talked about her Prince Charming, she looked so happy.

"Ahem..."

Eden coughed a few times.

Her Prince Charming?

She was just a child, wasn't she? Did she even have a Prince Charming?

What was wrong with these children?

Eden smiled and asked, "So, have you seen your Prince Charming?"

The little girl shook her head gloomily, "No, but he lives in this city."

"Oh! Do you want to find him?" Eden asked again.

The little girl nodded heavily, "My dream is to meet him."

Suddenly, she stopped and looked at the billboards on the side of the road.

It was the advertisement Henrick shot for Alwynn Group.

In the picture, Henrick wore the clothes last season with a faint smile on his handsome face, looking very adorable and attractive.

The little girl did not leave, but looked at Henrick with infatuation.

Eden was stunned. Looking at the girl's eyes, she seemed to have understood something.

Chapter 1410

"Well... Is he... your..." The little girl said before Eden could finish her words.

"He is my Prince Charming! This time, I came to River City for him. Henrick is my Prince Charming and my future husband." The little girl said proudly.

Eden was stunned. Had she actually met her future daughter-in-law?

She was shocked by the girl's words.

This little girl wanted to see her son.

The children were so precocious!

In order to meet Henrick, the girl even asked for leave in school.

In every interaction, there was a pair of forces acting on the two interacting objects, except for the interaction in love.

Well...

She thought too much again.

"Let's go and bandage your wounds first." Victor was still waiting for her in the car.

As for the little girl, she'd better give up her idea.

Eden planned to wait and see what she would do.

"Oh!" The little girl nodded, "I have to see him, otherwise, I won't go back to study. This time, I won't compromise with my dad."

The little girl looked so determined.

Eden was taken aback and then smiled. She took the girl to the emergency room to treat her wounds and then took her out.

Walking to the billboard, the girl stopped again.

Looking at Henrick's photo, she was reluctant to leave.

Eden asked with a smile, "Do you know where he is?"

The girl shook her head, and there was more expectation in the bottom of her eyes, "My dad is here to talk about business. He said that he is very busy now and he can only take me to meet my Prince Charming after he is done with his work. But today, I must see Henrick no matter how hard it will be. I believe I can do it!"

Eden was speechless. Her manner of speaking was very similar to Ricky's.

She was indeed strong!

She really wanted to tell her that there was no need for her to be so obsessed with Ricky.

But it was not proper for her to say such words to a determined child.

That was a beautiful expectation in the girl's heart.

Eden smiled and handed the girl her card, "If you really can't find him, you can tell me. I will help you find him."

After all, the girl wouldn't go back to study if she didn't see Ricky.

The little girl took the card with joy and glanced at it. She was a little surprised, "Miss, I know you! You're the director of Alwynn Group, Eden. You are the mother of my Prince Charming, my future mother-in-law, aren't you?" The little girl's attitude suddenly became respectful.

Eden almost knelt down when she heard that.

Before this child came here, she had investigated her and Ricky clearly.

The little girl suddenly stopped and said to Eden respectfully, "Mrs. Alwynn, nice to meet you. I can't call you Miss anymore. My name is Alice Klein, and I come from Lemmon City. I like the TV series and movies that Henrick acted in so much."

Eden smiled. Alice's eyes were clear and bright, and she behaved gently and politely.

"Mrs. Alwynn, you look so beautiful when you smile!"

"Really? Alice, you're pretty, too, but I have to take you back to your parents first. I have something else to do. If you want to meet Ricky, you can call me at any time. When your father has time, I will arrange for you to meet him, and then you should go back to school, okay?"

"Okay! I'll be very satisfied as long as I see him." Alice smiled with joy and said very happily.

"However, Mrs. Alwynn, you don't need to send me back. My father is talking about business in a nearby club. I will go back to find him right now. Mrs. Alwynn, goodbye, I will call you later." Alice waved at Eden happily and left with a smile.

Eden smiled and walked to the parking lot.

Victor had been waiting for her for a long time, but he was not impatient at all.

Seeing her from the rearview mirror, he immediately got off the car and opened the car door for her.

Eden looked at him, "Have you waited for a long time?"

Victor nodded and asked, "You meet each other every day. Do you have so much to talk?"

Eden couldn't help laughing, "No, I encountered something when I came down."

Victor looked at her with a frown, "What's happened?"

Eden smiled even more heartily and said, "I met our future daughter-in-law."

Victor was puzzled.

He said with a fake smile, "Honey, you're so cute!"

Eden said, "I'm not only cute, but also love you."

"Ha-ha..." Hearing this, Victor was very pleased.

He leaned over and whispered in her ear, "Honey, I love you more!"

Eden blushed. After they got on the car, she told Victor what had happened just now.

After hearing that, Victor said with a proud face, "Our son is really amazing."

Eden looked at her helplessly. The three children had always been his pride. No matter who mentioned them, he always smiled so smugly.

"Oh, by the way, Victor, the new products will be on the market tomorrow. Irma and Gwyneth don't know about it, do they?"

Victor drove out and said with slightly cold eyes, "Eden, don't worry. I have arranged everything. Coincidentally, we'll release the new products with TS Company on the same day. I'm looking forward to the show tomorrow. Your design is absolutely unique." He had always been confident in Eden.

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled, "It's the best that you're so confident."

When they returned home, Jaida accompanied Zaiden to his relatives' house.

They had dinner together.

Eden didn't go to bed until the three children went back to their own rooms.

After taking a bath, Eden felt a little tired and lay on the bed to rest.

When Victor came out of the bathroom, she had fallen asleep.

However, Victor's made some noises and Eden was woken up by him.

She puckered her mouth and looked at him with complaint.

Victor looked at her pouted red lips and said with obsession, "Honey, don't behave like this."

Eden was puzzled.

"Because I'll kiss you at any time."

Eden rolled her eyes at him again and turned over to sleep.

Victor lay down quickly and held her in his arms. Both of them were busy these days, and he had no time to love her.

"Honey." His tone was extremely gentle.

Eden knew what he wanted to do.

"I want to sleep. I have many things to do tomorrow." Eden ignored him, and her voice was a little sleepy. She was indeed very tired these days.

Victor would have sex with her for a long time once he started.

Victor turned off the light and said in a low voice, "Honey, I finally know why I always catch a cold when I see you, because I have no resistance to you. Do you know what's the difference between you and the stars?" His low and pleasant voice was very attractive, just like old fine wine.

Only then did Eden open her eyes and look at Victor.

She blinked her somewhat drowsy eyes, "I know the difference. The stars are in the sky, while I am in your heart."

"Alas!"

Eden sighed in heart. As his wife, she should please him on bed.

"Honey, close your eyes." She said in a tender voice.
