

Gluey Love 1561

Chapter 1561

The expressions of Barrett's sons and daughters all changed when they heard that.

"Dad, I'll listen to you." Chelsea looked at him with a flattering expression.

If she went against Barrett, she would definitely suffer. People like them who were born in a rich family had no chance to decide their marriages.

As long as she had money, she would be satisfied.

True love was just the dream in childhood.

After she grew up, she knew that money was the most important thing.

Nothing could be done without money.

"Yeah! Chelsea is the best." Barrett looked at her with satisfaction.

Chelsea was his favorite.

Chelsea looked at Adrienne with malice, "Dad, I have figured it out. They are in a relationship. The most important thing is that this man is Eden's eldest brother."

Adrienne's heart sank in an instant.

Morgan looked at Adrienne in shock, "Adrienne, you..."

"Morgan, do you also believe her words? Don't you know better than me what kind of person she is?"

"You know their purpose very well, don't you? How can you believe whatever she says? Don't you believe me?" Adrienne knew what Morgan was worried about. She broke up with Delmont six years ago, and they hadn't been together again, so she was not lying to Morgan.

"It's good that you're not." Morgan's eyes were filled with distress. He naturally knew what Chelsea, Leilani and Stephen wanted to do.

They wanted to drive them out and divide up the shares of their mother.

Chelsea's eyes were blazing with the flames of fury, "Dad, look at Morgan and Adrienne! How can they think of me like this? What do they mean by saying that? I don't have any bad intention." After Chelsea said that, she immediately tipped Leilani a wink.

"Barrett, Chelsea is doing this for Adrienne's good. If Adrienne really marries a disabled man, it will disgrace our family."

"What's more, Chelsea's kindness is misunderstood like this. She is so wronged, isn't she?" Leilani used all her efforts to speak for Chelsea. That day, she wanted to make Adrienne angry and then let her be kicked out of his family.

She had drawn up the Share Transfer secretly.

As long as she and Chelsea got the shares, no one could get the shares again.

Adrienne looked at Leilani with meaningful eyes.

Leilani and Chelsea always wanted to deal with her, and she was used to it.

There was always a way out, and she could bear it when Barrett lost his temper.

"Adrienne, what you said will cast a bone between you and Chelsea. Don't treat her good intentions as malice. Apologize to her and then break up with this man immediately. He is disabled, and he is Eden's eldest brother. Eden is Victor's wife. Even if he is not disabled, you two can never be together. As long as I am alive, I won't agree!" Barrett roared fiercely.

He knew that Adrienne and Morgan had complaints against him because of their mother.

But he still had the right to decide their marriages.

Adrienne sneered and said, "Dad, you only believe what you see. Why can't you believe what you hear in person? Chelsea fabricates rumors just by a few photos, and you indulge her. I just said a few unpleasant words, but you think I want to cast a bone between her and me."

"Isn't she driving a wedge between us now? This man is not my boyfriend, but she insists. Dad, why don't you ask her what she wants to do?"

It was impossible for her to apologize to Chelsea.

"Dad, look at her! I'm obviously doing this for her good, but she actually bears malice to me." Chelsea felt so wronged that she burst into tears.

Barrett glared at Adrienne with disappointment.

"Adrienne, when can you stop being so rebellious?"

"Ha-ha..." Adrienne laughed in pain, "Dad, am I rebellious? In the past years, I did everything you asked me to do. Don't I manage the company well enough? I came back here in advance. What have I done wrong?"

"Dad, I know that I will never be comparable to Chelsea in your heart, but you can't say those words to me. We are both your children. If you show favouritism, this family will never be harmonious."

"You..." Barrett was trembling with anger.

"Dad, Adrienne is right. They're just ordinary friends, but Chelsea keeps saying that they're in love. What does she mean by this?" Morgan said with neither fast nor slow speed.

He would not let Adrienne be bullied by these people anymore.

They were all greedy a*sholes.

They only cared about money and interest.

At this time, Barrett liked Leilani very much, and he wanted Stephen to inherit the Simpson family.

Although he was not so ambitious, he had to get what he deserved.

Hearing Morgan's words, Barrett knew that it was meaningless to talk about this, "Alright. Since it's a misunderstanding, go to rest."

"Dad..."

Chelsea was unwilling to give up.

Leilani immediately stopped her.

They couldn't be in a hurry to drive out Adrienne, and there were more opportunities in the future.

Chelsea could only give up.

When Adrienne returned to her room, she felt exhausted.

Why was it so difficult for her to be with Delmont?

"Rat-a-tat..." Someone knocked on the door.

Adrienne knew that it was Chelsea without thinking.

She composed her emotions and sat gracefully on the balcony, looking at the night sky with her beautiful and sad eyes.

She touched her chest and felt warm in heart.

Chelsea walked in with high heels, and the noise made her very unhappy.

There was a hint of irritation in Adrienne's eyes.

She did not even glance at Chelsea.

Chelsea did not care about Adrienne's attitude. In private, they got along like this all the time. There was no need for them to pretend that they were close sisters.

She sat down opposite Adrienne and smiled viciously, "Adrienne, you escaped tonight. But do you think you can be so lucky next time?"

"Is that so? Shouldn't you be glad that you managed to escape as well?" Adrienne said indifferently without looking at her.

"What do you mean?" Adrienne looked at her in confusion.

"Humph! You know very well that you have embezzled the company's funds. If dad and those shareholders know it, what will they do? Whether you get out of the Simpson family or leave the company, the consequences will all be serious. But none of them is what you want, right?" Adrienne said calmly.

Chelsea was a maelstrom of churning emotions inside.

"How do you know this?" She was extremely terrified.

"Get out! I'm not in a good mood right now." Adrienne didn't want to waste her time on her.

Chelsea could only leave in dismay because Adrienne got something on her.

Adrienne thought for a while. In the end, she picked up the phone and called Eden.

Chapter 1562

Eden had just taken a bath, and she was about to sleep.

While she was drying her hair, she heard her phone ringing.

She picked up the phone to answer it. Seeing this, Victor walked over and wiped her hair for her.

"Hello?"

"This is me, Adrienne."

"Miss Simpson, it's so late. What's the matter?" Eden asked and waited for her to speak.

"Eden, my family members have known the relationship between me and Delmont, and they are opposed to it. Your worry is reasonable, but I have to tell you that I will not give up Delmont. I owe him too much. I came back just to make up for it."

Adrienne's tone was firm.

Listening to her, Eden felt reassured for no reason.

Their love might be very bitter, but they could be together forever after weathering the storm.

"I did something at the banquet. Did I put you in a difficult position?" Eden felt somewhat guilty. At that time, she didn't know what Adrienne really wanted.

"No, Eden, you did a good job. No one has ever dared to treat Chelsea like that. You made her lose a hundred million dollars. She will hate you forever, so you have to be more careful."

"I know that you are worried about Delmont. I call you to tell you that I will not give him up."

"Although I don't know how they knew about this, I can't wrap fire in paper. Our relationship will be exposed sooner or later."

"Then what are you going to do?" Eden wanted to know what she was thinking. Perhaps they could cooperate.

"I don't know what happened between the Simpson family and the Alwynn family in the past. My father told us that he went bankrupt back then because the Alwynn family took away Amand Real Estate from him, and then he was forced to leave River City."

"He wants to let the Alwynn family pay the price just because of this, and I think this reason is a little far-fetched."

"The business world is like a battlefield where the strong defeat the weak. He lost, so he could only blame himself for being incompetent. Although he's my father, I look down upon him because he vents his anger on others."

"I don't want this grudge to affect the relationship between Delmont and me."

Eden lowered her head slightly, "But it will affect you more or less. I don't want both of you to get hurt."

There was determination in Adrienne's eyes, but she quickly suppressed it.

"Don't worry. I will try my best to disassociate myself from the Simpson family as soon as possible. As long as I don't belong to the Simpson family, they couldn't do anything to me."

"Miss Simpson, if there is anything I can help you with, just tell me." Eden reminded her euphemistically. Since Adrienne was sincere to Delmont, she was willing to help her. Besides, Delmont still loved her.

All these years, he had never forgotten Adrienne.

"Eden, thank you. If I really need your help, I will definitely not stand on ceremony. I will be your sister-in-law in the future." Adrienne said jokingly.

Eden smiled, "In fact, I hope that you can be my sister-in-law. You and Delmont are a good match."

"Eden, hearing your words, I am more confident. That day will come." Adrienne's tone immediately became tender.

Eden was relieved.

She smiled and said, "Miss Simpson, I hope the day will come earlier."

"Well, I'm in a much better mood after talking to you. Good night."

"Okay! Good night." Eden smiled and nodded before hanging up.

Victor used a hairdryer to dry her hair. After drying her hair, he asked, "Is that Adrienne?"

"Yep!" Eden leaned against his arms and looked up at him, feeling a little worried, "Victor, I'm afraid that Delmont will suffer a lot in this relationship."

Lowering his head and smelling the fragrance on her hair, Victor narrowed his eyes, "Eden, the road to love is always strewn with setbacks. This kind of love will make them cherish each other more."

"That's right, but can Delmont and Adrienne really stick with it? We can tell how much the Simpson family hates us." She was worried that Delmont would suffer.

He loved Adrienne deeply, so he had to bear more.

"Fool, don't worry. Delmont has been very lucky since childhood. This time, he will also be lucky." In his memory, Delmont rarely cried except when he was beaten by him.

"I hope so!" Eden was a little tired. She felt sorry for Delmont because he loved Adrienne too much.

Victor carried her in his arms. Looking at her tired face, he whispered in her ear, "Eden, let's go to bed!"

"Okay! I need to go to the design department for a meeting tomorrow morning, so I have to get up early to prepare for it. Compared with last year, the sales this year have increased a lot."

"Yes! My wife is amazing." Victor smiled gently.

Eden had always been his lucky star.

Eden glanced out of the window. When she thought of Adrienne's words, the message Aro had sent to her flashed through her mind.

Paula met Chelsea.

Therefore, was it Paula who told Chelsea about the relationship between Adrienne and Delmont?

She would ask Aro to investigate it the next day.

Early the next morning, Eden returned to her office from the design department, and Paula caught up with her happily.

"Director Bleu, Irving gave me an invitation. I'm going to the party at the River City Restaurant tonight."

Eden stopped and looked at her, saying in a bland tone, "Just go there. You like such a party very much, don't you?"

Paula was very excited. Irving gave her an invitation specially, which made her feel very honored.

She frowned, "Why do you say so? Aren't you going there?"

"No!" She had other things to do, and she should prepare for the spring collection next year.

Moreover, she had to go out and take a walk so that she could draw inspiration.

"Ah, you're not going." Paula was slightly disappointed.

In fact, on such an occasion, there were not many people she could talk to. If Eden was there, she would have a sense of security, and she would feel more at ease.

"I have something to do." Eden walked into the office.

"You don't show respect to Irving, do you?" Paula chased after her.

Just as Eden was about to speak, the special notification sounded. She set this notification for Aro on purpose. Then she looked down at the message.

"Mrs. Alwynn, Chelsea transferred three million and five hundred thousand dollars to Paula's bank account yesterday."

When Eden saw this message, her eyes blazed with the flames of fury.

It was indeed Paula.

She quickly replied to him, "Keep the evidence."

Eden raised her head, held back her anger and looked at Paula as usual, "Paula, I know you like money, but you'd better not send yourself to prison."

After warning her, Eden turned around and left.

Paula was stunned, and her pupils trembled, "Eden, what do you mean by this? Make it clear!"

"What are you doing? How dare you yell in the company? Do you want to be kicked out of here?" Dean's voice rang out behind Paula.

When Paula saw Dean and Victor, she immediately shrunk her neck timidly.

With sharp and hostile eyes, Victor warned her, "If my wife is unhappy, I will make all of you suffer."

Chapter 1563

After Victor left, Dean added coldly, "If you make Mrs. Alwynn unhappy, Mr. Alwynn will make everyone in the company suffer. At that time, all of us will aim at you!"

Paula was stunned. D*mn it! How could they bully her like this?

But what did Eden suddenly become so angry?

Why did she suddenly say so?

Had she found something out?

No way. Paula remembered that she didn't show off before Eden that day.

She had suffered several times before. This time, she would not let her guard down and let Eden suspect her.

By the way, Eden spoke to her harshly after she checked her message.

Paula couldn't figure it out and could only go back to her office in dismay.

Not far away, Thalia looked at her back and sneered.

"Eden, did Paula provoke you again?"

Victor returned to the office and saw Eden standing in front of the French window. She looked out of the window with a worried face.

Eden shook her head slightly, "She's not qualified to affect my mood. I am just a little worried about Delmont and Adrienne. Since the Simpson family has found out their relationship, they will absolutely do something about it."

"According to the information, Now Barrett likes Leilani, Chelsea and Stephen the most, and Chelsea has always been aiming at Adrienne."

Hearing this, Victor frowned and looked at her, "You think too much."

"Rat-a-tat..."

Dean walked in, "Mrs. Alwynn, this is your package."

Eden looked at the box in his hand doubtfully and said blandly, "I didn't order anything."

Dean smiled and said, "Mrs. Alwynn, your name is indeed written here."

Eden walked over, took the box from his hand and put it on the table. When she opened it with scissors and had a look, "Ah..."

She threw away the scissors in fear and staggered back a few steps.

"Eden!" Victor immediately held her.

Dean walked forward quickly. His pupils constricted violently when he saw the stuff in the box, "Mr. Alwynn, it's a bloody and dead cat." The white cat was covered with blood, and its eyes popped out. Even he was scared by it.

"What?" Victor took a quick look, and his face turned stern and fierce.

"Go find out who did it!" Victor said harshly.

Dean nodded and left with the dead cat hurriedly.

Eden patted her chest in lingering fear and closed her eyes tightly, looking very painful.

Victor helped her sit on the sofa and comforted her softly, "Eden, it's okay. Don't be afraid."

Eden nodded and slowly opened her eyes. She felt much better.

It seemed that what she did at the banquet had worked.

They had started to attack her with all kinds of dirty means.

Eden glanced at Victor and smiled at him, "Don't worry. I'm fine."

Chelsea just lost a hundred million dollars, but she aimed at her recklessly.

She did not tell Victor what she was planning in heart.

In fact, she was really reluctant to part with the children.

Jaida and Zaide left their hometown for her, which made her even madder. It was all because of the Simpson family.

How could she not hate them?

Victor held her in his arms with distress. Who warned Eden in this way?

It must be someone from the Simpson family.

He took out his phone and called Dean.

"Hello? Mr. Alwynn."

"Investigate Chelsea and Baylee. It must have something to do with them." After Victor finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Eden shook her head and said, "It might have nothing to do with them."

"Humph! No matter who it is, I will not let that person go." Victor's eyes were full of harshness.

Eden didn't give him a blow. Since that person dared to do so, he was not afraid of being found out, and they had to way to find him out.

"Victor, I have to go out to do something at noon. Don't worry about me."

"Where are you going?" Victor looked at her worriedly.

"The hospital."

"Are you not feeling well?"

"No, Candace is in better spirits these days. She wants me to talk a walk with her."

"I would have told you if I were not feeling well."

"Oh!" Victor did not like her to go out every day.

The dead cat was a warning from the Simpson family.

"Victor, just rest assured. I will take Thalia with me. She is skilled and you can trust her. In addition, Aro and Anthony are protecting me secretly. I will be safe." Eden knew that he was worried about her.

After all, the Simpson family had wanted to hurt them before they came back here.

Those small tricks they had played did not affect their life.

However, since that night, they would not show mercy to her and Victor anymore.

After all, they were rich and powerful, and they had connections with the gang and the police. Even if they killed someone, they could disassociate themselves from it.

These were their rules of survival.

If they did not take the initiative to take actions, no matter what happened, it would only be an accident.

Eden lowered her head slightly, and the expression in her eyes was apathetic.

It was not easy for her to live a happy life, and she couldn't let anyone ruin her happiness.

But before that, she had to deal with Paula.

Paula could do anything for money.

She accompanied Victor for lunch. Dean hadn't come back, so she knew that they couldn't find out who sent the dead cat.

When she left, she went to Paula's office.

Paula was working hard and trying to finish her work.

Seeing Eden come in, she asked with a guilty conscience, "What's wrong? You need those documents tomorrow, don't you?"

Eden nodded, "I have something to do at noon, so I can't go to the club. Go there and meet a client on my behalf. He's an agent in a film and television company. They're shooting a big-budget TV drama, and I provide clothes for them. It's a good way to give publicity to our company."

She put the documents on the table, "Here are the documents I have sorted out. After reading them, you can go there. You're supposed to meet at two o'clock in the afternoon."

"Ah..." Paula was taken aback, "That's a big-budget drama, but I'm just an assistant. It is not appropriate, is it?"

"Why is it inappropriate? As long as we are willing to sponsor them, they will welcome anyone who represents our company. Or are you not confident?" Eden's tone was very indifferent.

They did everything for the sake of profit. If it weren't for profit, who would invest so many material resources and financial resources?

Alwynn Group was very popular indeed, but there were so many countries in this world. Before Alwynn Group became popular all over the world, they had to make it more famous.

She took fancy to the characters in the TV drama. The young and good-looking actors and actresses could show her design in a perfect way.

She knew the agent, and he had invited her several times. She had promised him on the phone.

"Paula, introduce our products properly. Make their drama more attractive with our design and show people how stylish and elegant our clothes are."

Chapter 1564

"Ah..." Paula was dumbfounded. Why did Eden ask her to do such a thing?

Eden did not say anything else. However, she sneered when she turned around.

She said in heart, "Paula, a fox cannot hide its tail."

"You should pay the price for what you've made Delmont suffer."

Paula pouted as she watched Eden leave, and she was very angry. Usually, Eden would do such a thing by herself.

"Ah..." Paula stamped her feet. Eden was taking revenge on her.

She didn't pester Delmont anymore, did she?

Ever since she saw how Delmont treated Adrienne at the banquet, she had known that Delmont wouldn't fall in love with her no matter how hard she tried.

But to be honest, Delmont was the best among the rich men she had ever met. He knew how to respect others, and he was very humorous and extraordinary.

She liked Delmont very much.

When she saw how gentle he was, she was even more tempted.

In particular, he looked so attractive when his dark eyes were full of affection and gentleness.

In the past two nights, when she went back to sleep, she always thought of Delmont's tender expression.

When she was with Terry, she always regarded him as Delmont.

"Alas!" Paula sighed, "How nice it would be if he was not disabled."

She whispered in heart, "Delmont, I'm really sorry. I arranged the car accident because I really liked you."

If it weren't for Eden, she would have had the chance to save Wyatt, and Delmont would be grateful to her because of this. In this way, they would be closer to each other.

In fact, she thought that it was Eden who hurt Delmont.

If Eden didn't push away her father, Delmont wouldn't have got injured in order to save her.

Thinking of this, Paula no longer felt guilty.

Eden brought Thalia downstairs and called Aro.

"Aro, follow Paula today. As for the person you mentioned, arrange them to meet after Paula meets the client."

"Okay, Mrs. Alwynn."

After Eden hung up the phone, she and Thalia went to the hospital to pick up Candace.

She did have an appointment with Candace.

After she picked up Candace, Aunt Church stayed there to take care of Adonis.

Eden and Candace went directly to the mall.

She held Candace cautiously, because there were many people in the mall.

Thalia was protecting them secretly.

"Candace, what do you want to buy?"

Candace glanced at her flat belly and smiled with joy.

"Eden, let's buy maternity supplies. I've used up what I bought a few days ago."

"Okay, we should buy toothpaste and toothbrush for pregnant women." Eden looked at her with a smile. Candace had been very happy since she was pregnant, and she smiled all day long.

She had been by Adonis's side all the time, and she could see her lover and feel her child everyday. Only she herself knew how satisfied and glad she was.

Eden felt that Candace's love was great. She appreciated such a girl who was kind and willing to do a lot for her lover.

No matter whether it was worth it or not, she had a clear conscience.

"Besides, Abby said that your novel is very likely to be rearranged into a play. After Abby gives birth to her child, she will talk to you in detail." Eden had been reading her novel. Although she was pregnant, she didn't stop writing.

She had advised Candace to rest more. But Candace said that she was used to it and she was not tired.

Hearing Eden's words, Candace smiled happily and said in an excited tone, "Eden, I didn't expect that my novel can be made into a play! Writing is just my dream and hobby."

She remembered that when she was in high school, she loved reading novels, especially romance novels.

After reading novels for a few years, she knew an author unexpectedly. After chatting with her, she became a writer as well.

"Eden, thank you!" Candace knew that she wouldn't get this opportunity if she didn't know Eden.

"You don't have to thank me. You deserve it. The novel is really fantastic. I've been waiting for the ending."

"Ha-ha..." Candace laughed, "Then you'll have to wait for a long time. I have a lot of things to write."

She looked hopeful, "I want to give everyone a perfect ending. This is exactly what I want to write."

Looking at her expectant and happy face, Eden knew she was really delighted at this moment.

The heroine of the story had a miserable fate, but the ending was always so happy and perfect.

They bought a lot of things in the special area for pregnant women.

Candace took out Adonis's black card. Looking at the card, she melted into tears.

"Candace, in the future, you're only responsible for being my pretty girlfriend, and I will be responsible for making money. You can spend the money in this card as you wish."

Candace thought, "Adonis, if I spend all the money in the card, will you wake up?"

But there was a lot of money in it. How could she spend all of them?

Candace sighed with depression and paid the bill.

Adonis was the person who loved her the most in the world. He would definitely wake up.

After Candace paid the money, Eden carried the things and they left together.

Eden looked around the mall. This mall was very close to the club.

At this time, Paula should arrive at the club.

"Candace, I'll take you back to the hospital first."

"Okay!" Candace smiled and said.

They were about to leave the mall.

With her observant eyes, Eden saw Adrienne pushing Delmont and coming in.

Eden pulled Candace and walked to the other side.

"Eden, do you have anything else to buy?" Candace looked at her.

Eden smiled, "Candace, we're already here. Let's take a walk somewhere else."

Eden watched Adrienne push Delmont to the cosmetic area.

What surprised her was that Paula walked into the shopping mall at this time.

She was slightly stunned. She glanced at the watch on her wrist. It was past the appointed time to meet the client. Could it be that Aro had arranged them to meet here?

Eden and Candace followed them unhurriedly.

According to Paula's speed, she would be able to see Delmont soon.

Paula looked around as she walked. It seemed that she was looking for someone.

Suddenly, she saw Adrienne and Delmont.

She was slightly surprised. She didn't expect them to be together so openly.

Didn't Chelsea do anything to them?

Paula immediately hid in a corner, took out her phone and took a picture of them.

Seeing this, Eden narrowed her sharp eyes. She asked Candace to wait for her in the rest area.

Then she walked towards Paula with cold eyes.

Paula was sending a message to Chelsea.

As long as she sent this photo, she could get some money again.

After sending it, she held her phone and smiled. It happened that she had time that day. She could go shopping and buy some good things.

She waited for Chelsea to give her money. Suddenly, someone snatched the phone from her hand.

"Ah..." She cried out in surprise.

Chapter 1565

She looked back, only to find that it was Eden.

"Eden, why are you... here?" She glanced at the phone in Eden's hand, "Moreover, why did you take away my phone?"

Eden did not look at her, but swiped open her phone and saw the chat history of her and Chelsea.

She looked at Paula's nervous face and sneered, "It turns out that you were the one who ratted on Delmont and Adrienne. Three million and five hundred thousand dollars. It seems that Delmont and Chelsea are really worthless. Are they only worth three million and five hundred thousand dollars? You're really silly. Since you know such news, you should ask Chelsea for one hundred million dollars so that you can live a rich life forever."

"I..." Paula's face darkened to the extreme. She was so embarrassed that she wished she could escape.

"Humph!" Eden waved the phone in her hand, "Didn't say that you loved Delmont very much? Why do you take him as a chip to make money?"

"I..."

"What do you want to say?" Eden's eyes were cold and sarcastic, "Paula, I always know that you haven't changed much. However, you not only didn't become a better person, but also became more vicious. You have become more despicable and scheming."

"I... Eden, listen to my explanation. You misunderstand me. Delmont treated me so heartlessly, and I just... couldn't accept the fact, so..."

"So, did you use him and Adrienne to make money?"

"Ha-ha... Paula, you're really left without a shred of self-esteem, and you're too shameless. For money, you can do anything."

"Do you know how many people you will hurt by doing this? Do you know that you will put Delmont in a dangerous position?"

"You can love money, but you can't hurt others for money."

"How... could it be that serious? I... just wanted to get some money. You know me. I just wanted money. I didn't hurt anyone, did I?"

Paula defended herself stubbornly.

Eden looked at her sarcastically. Seeing that she was not regretful, she said, "You can really do everything for money."

Eden returned the phone to Paula.

"Paula, remember my words. If Delmont gets hurt again because of you, I will make you pay a price that you can't even imagine."

"How could I... hurt him?" Paula said with a guilty conscience.

"Ding..." Paula's phone suddenly rang.

While she looked down, Eden looked down at her phone as well.

Chelsea sent her a message and transferred money to her.

"Ha-ha..." Eden looked at the message and couldn't help laughing, "Paula, it's quite easy for you to earn money."

"I..."

"Humph! I will watch you reap what you sow." After Eden saying this coldly, Eden turned around and left.

Paula looked at Eden's back, and her heart was trembling violently. How could Eden know this so soon?

Thinking of the woman she saw that day, she was even more flustered. Why did she come here?

"Paula!"

Just as Paula was about to turn around and leave, she saw a middle-aged woman walking towards her in an aggressive manner. Then she looked around nervously.

"Aunt, why are you here? I told you not to come here, didn't I?"

"Humph!" The middle-aged woman glared at her fiercely and said with a face full of hatred, "You malicious and heartless b*tch! I can't find my husband all the time. It turned out that you asked him to hit someone with his car. After that, he was put in prison. Now you don't care about him. Do you want to ruin my family?"

When Paula heard this, she was shocked, "Aunt, who told you about this?"

"That's not important! If it weren't for the police's call, I wouldn't have known that my husband is in prison. It was not easy for me to have a shoulder to rely on after your uncle died, but your family members gossip about me all day long."

"But he was actually sent to jail because of you! You have to raise me in the future. I have been following you these days, and I know that you have a rich boyfriend. Since you're rich, you have to support me!"

The middle-aged woman was very indignant, and she looked as if she wanted to kill Paula.

Hearing this, Paula became anxious, "Aunt, keep your voice down."

"Why should I keep my voice down? Will anyone save my husband if I keep my voice down? They don't want to settle this matter out of court, and they want to sue him! He has no choice but to call me. You little sl*t! Why do you even want to hurt my husband?"

"You asked him to do such a thing for you and even take the blame for you. You are too wicked. He is my husband and your elder! You slept with him for one night so he was willing to go to jail. Why are you so despicable? Paula!" The middle-aged woman burst into tears. She was so furious that her body trembled.

"Aunt, listen to me explanation. Things are not like that." Paula said with a guilty conscience, but she didn't know how to explain.

How did her aunt know about this matter?

She had a chill down her spine.

"You shameless b*tch! I've known everything. How do you want to explain?" The woman was burnt with a frenzy of rage.

Seeing that some people gathered around to watch, Paula immediately pulled the middle-aged woman and forced her to leave.

Eden, who was standing not far away, opened her mouth wide in shock when she heard the terrifying truth.

No wonder that man kept his mouth shut and refused to expose Paula.

That explained it.

Paula's uncle was died, and her aunt married another man. But Paula slept with this man...

Eden immediately stopped thinking. She felt disgusted just by thinking about it.

Did the man still want to sleep with Paula after he was released? With Paula's character, he might not even have a chance to touch her dress.

He was actually so loyal to her.

Humph!

She would not settle this matter out of court. She wanted to see how long Paula could hold on.

However, looking at Paula's back, she trembled all over with anger. How could a person be so immoral?

Eden's eyes were filled with apathy. Since she had evidence, she was sure that the man would confess his crime.

But it was not time to do something to Paula. Chelsea would definitely reach a certain agreement with Paula, and Paula would report everything in Alwynn Group to her.

As long as she did not fire Paula, Paula would not leave Alwynn Group on her own.

Paula was greedy for money, and she could do everything to get money. As long as she did not expose Paula, she would still tell the Simpson family and Dahlia everything she knew.

She could meet trick with trick and lure Paula into the trap.

Eden thought about it and sent a message to Aro. Then, she went to pick up Candace and returned to the hospital.

When she left, she glanced at Delmont and Adrienne who were happily selecting cosmetics. Then she smiled and left.

"Delmont, what do you think of this one?" Adrienne handed a bottle of toner to Delmont.

Delmont glanced at the toner in her hand and then looked at her expectant expression, smiling, "Since when did you like such an inferior brand? I'll buy you a better one. The cosmetics produced by Alwynn Group are very nice." On New Year's Day or other festivals, he would buy them for his grandmother and mother.

"No, I don't have to use the products of a certain brand. The one that suits me is the best." Adrienne wanted to go shopping with him like what they did in college.

Although they were very rich, they were not extravagant at all. Things that suited them were the best.

"Let me have a look." Delmont took it over with his slender fingers, lowered his head and had a look carefully.

Adrienne looked at him. His hair was much longer, and he did not use gel. There were locks of hair on his forehead. Compared to a few years ago, he looked much more attractive, and she liked the way he was.

As expected, first love was always the hardest to forget.

"Adrienne, your skin is dry, and you don't like strong smell. It's refreshing, and it has a faint scent of orchids. It's the smell you're fond of." After finishing his words, he handed toner back to her hand.

Adrienne smiled gently. He still remembered the smell she liked.

Delmont looked at her teasingly, "Adrienne, I've been single these years. On the Valentine's Day last year, I was single, and this year I'm still single. I hope I won't be single next year."

Hearing this, Adrienne remembered that on the Valentine's Days in the past, he would always buy her many things she liked. They would go to the seaside to eat delicious food hand in hand.

Others were romantic on Valentine's Day. However, they were not only romantic, but also very happy.

He was the one who loved her the most in this world.

Although Morgan doted on her as well, he was her family, and their love was different.

"Delmont, you've changed." After she saw him at the banquet, she felt that he had changed.

He became even more masculine, and he was the type she liked.

Delmont smiled, and his handsome face blushed a little. Eden was right. No matter how much he loved her, he should have his own principles and be his real self.

"Adrienne, people become cautious when they someone deeply. In the past, I felt myself inferior in front of you, and I was afraid that I would make you unhappy."

"That's why I always treated you so cautiously. But it's different now. I love you, but I love myself as well. I am my real self in front you, and I won't deliberately hide my shortcomings and inferiority. You see the real me." He spoke his mind and looked at her sincerely and affectionately. He had never said these words to her.

But doing this made him feel much more relaxed. In front of her, he was not nervous anymore. Instead, he could face her every move and expression at ease.

"Adrienne, do you like the way I am?" He looked at her quietly. She was back, and he wanted to be with her again. He had been thinking like this since he first saw her.

She was the only woman he had ever loved.

Adrienne was stunned. It turned out that his love for her was so diffident, and he felt himself inferior.

It turned out that he was so cautious. He apologized again and again just because he didn't want her to be angry.

He loved her more deeply, so he was hurt more severely.

She looked at him with distress. When they looked at each other, their eyes were filled with intense affection and love. After all, they really missed each other a lot.

At this moment, Delmont was as excited as he was when she agreed to be his girlfriend back then. He really wanted to hug her and kiss her.

They gave each other their virginity.

It was a very romantic and wonderful night.

Every time he thought about it, he was touched and obsessed.

"Delmont, don't be like that in the future. Just be yourself." There was no need for him to wrong himself for her. On the contrary, she preferred the way he was at this time.

They could spend the Valentine's Day together next year, she thought.

"Delmont, you know what? In the past, I hated you the most when you lowered your head and apologized to me. You had no backbone and self-esteem at that time. So, in the future, you just need to be yourself." She really liked the way he was.

She had never said that she loved him, and she would say this to him at the right time.

"Okay!" Delmont smiled and nodded, "What else do you like? Pick some more."

"Will you pay the bill?" Adrienne joked.

"Have I ever let you pay the bill when you came out with me?" Delmont smiled playfully.

Although the Simpson family was richer than the Clement family, he always took the initiative to pay the bill when they went out together.

On the one hand, Adrienne was the woman he liked. She only needed to live a happy life, and he would make money to support her. On the other hand, he was ashamed to let his beloved woman buy things with her own money.

Adrienne thought for a while and smiled with joy. She slightly lowered her head and said with a faint smile in her eyes, "No. I'll buy some cosmetics, and then we'll eat together in River City Restaurant. After that, you should send me home."

"Okay!" Delmont looked at her gentle face. He smiled excitedly when she asked him to send her home. Since he became his real self, Adrienne's attitude towards him had changed.

He owed it to Eden. If he had not talked to Eden, his relationship with Adrienne wouldn't have improved so fast.

Adrienne smiled again before leaving with Adrienne.

To Adrienne, if the Simpson family found that she stayed away from Delmont, they would suspect her more.

Chelsea couldn't do anything to her if she and Delmont met normally.

Her father couldn't do anything to her, either.

After coming out, they went straight to the parking lot.

Delmont's legs had recovered a lot, and he could stand on the ground. When he reached the car, he slowly stood up.

Adrienne put away the wheelchair and put it in the trunk.

After closing the trunk, she carefully helped Delmont sit in the back seat before sitting down beside him.

Neither of them could drive, so Delmont called his driver over.

After she got in, the driver started the car slowly.

Paula saw that Delmont could stand on the ground, and she felt that she had been fooled by Eden.

Didn't Eden say that Delmont had amputated?

Didn't she say that Delmont was disabled?

But what had she seen? Delmont stood on the ground!

Did Eden say those words just to sound her out?

"Eden!" She stood where she was and stamped her feet angrily.

Her aunt came to her, and she gave her one hundred thousand dollars to settle her.

She really couldn't bear to give so much money to her.

Chapter 1567

She cursed in heart, "Eden, you ruined my happiness! I won't let you go easily!"

Paula's eyes were filled with viciousness, and she immediately dialed Dahlia's phone number.

"Dahlia, Eden won't go to the party tonight."

"Why?" Dahlia couldn't believe it. Irving loved Eden so much, but wouldn't Eden show him respect?

Paula said with a malicious face, "Who knows? Maybe she looks down on Irving, but isn't it better? Irving will like you more."

Dahlia and Irving didn't look like a couple at all.

Anyone who once dated could tell that Irving didn't like Dahlia at all.

"Humph! He's my fiance. Of course he'll love me!"

Dahlia's tone was very unfriendly, "I even prepared a good show for her tonight. Do you have any way to let her come here?" If Eden did not come, everything she did would be in vain. Furthermore, Chelsea arranged it, and Baylee would do it in person. Eden couldn't escape like she did before.

She was very happy that someone was going to deal with Eden. However, Eden had to attend the party.

"What could I do? Victor dotes on her so much, and our words are just useless. I can't persuade her." Paula was a little disappointed. If Eden didn't go there, Dahlia wouldn't be able to carry out her plan.

How could she make Eden attend the party?

Paula narrowed her eyes and tried to come up with an idea.

"Paula, think about how to let Eden come to River City Restaurant." Dahlia said sternly.

"As long as you bring her to the party, I will give you a rich reward."

Paula was moved when she heard this.

She said with a smile, "Let me think about it."

After hanging up the phone, she frowned. How could she let Eden go to River City Restaurant?

The client she met that day was not satisfied with some of the clothes, and she wanted to talk to Eden about it.

Thinking like this, Paula laughed, "I've got it."

She immediately took out her phone and called the client.

"Hello, Miss Cooper. Today you told me that some of the clothes were not suitable for you. There's a party in River City Restaurant tonight. Why don't we go there together? Director Bleu will go there as well. Let's sit down and discuss about it at that time."

"Sure!" A lazy voice came from the phone.

"Thank you, Miss Cooper! See you at the party." Paula hung up the phone happily and immediately called Eden.

Eden and Candace had just returned to the hospital and put down the things they had bought.

Seeing that it was a phone call from Paula, she answered it slowly.

"What's the matter?" She asked indifferently.

Paula was more shameless than she thought.

"Director Bleu, I met Miss Cooper today. She was not very satisfied with some of the clothes, and she wanted to talk to you about it. She heard that you would go to the party, so she wanted to talk to you there tonight. Just now, you left in a hurry, so I didn't have time to tell you."

"I see." After saying that, Eden hung up the phone.

Paula was a bit confused. Would Eden go to the party or not?

D*mn it! Eden actually held her in suspense!

Paula stamped her feet and left quickly.

Without Eden's accompany, she couldn't contact Sean, and she had to go somewhere else to make a hairstyle.

However, Sean was an amazing makeup artist.

But he only work for Eden for free.

If she went there on her own, she could only get a fifteen percent discount, and this was a staff price.

It was so expensive to her.

After Eden hung up the phone, she narrowed her eyes slightly. Looking at the snow outside the window, she came up with an idea.

After saying goodbye to Candace, she drove back to the company.

Victor was a little surprised when he saw her come back.

"Honey, why are you back again? I'm going to pick you up."

Eden looked at his charming face and smiled, "Paula called me, saying that our client is dissatisfied with some of the clothes we sponsored, and I have to go the party and talk to her. Let's go there together."

Hearing this, Victor frowned. It could be seen that he was very disgusted with this party, because it was a party held by Irving.

He would have no appetite to eat even if he went there, and he wouldn't be in a good mood.

"Do we have to go there?" Victor stared at her quietly.

That day, they agreed not to go to the party.

Eden stared at his handsome face for a while and then looked out of the window. The expression in her eyes gradually became meaningful, "Maybe someone wants to play a trick on us tonight."

Paula called her specially.

She had told her this morning that she would not go to the party.

She suddenly called her this afternoon, and there must be a reason.

Victor understood instantly, "Fool, how can I let someone play a trick on you? Since someone wants to embarrass you, let's give them a lesson." River City Restaurant belonged to him, and everything was under his control.

"Get ready and let's go there." Eden turned around and went to the inner room to change her clothes. She was a natural beauty, and she did not have to dress up for such a party.

The weather was cold, so she just put on some make up casually.

Soon, they got ready and went to River City Restaurant.

In Love Sea, everywhere was covered by snow.

The night was beautiful and fascinating, and the crystal clear ice sculptures were vivid and lifelike.

They were decorated with colorful lights, and the whole beach looked like a beautiful snow world!

The weather was cold. The couples walked by hand in hand, but they all smiled very happily!

Lucian was dressed in a black coat and put his hands in his pockets, looking at the crystal clear ice sculptures in the distance with a painful expression. His tall and lonely figure was reflected in the ice sculptures.

There was intense sorrow in his deep black eyes. Another day had passed, but there was still no news about her.

"Amelia, where are you?" He had a strong feeling that she was here.

When he came here on a business trip last time, he suddenly had a wonderful feeling, so he believed in his intuition.

On his holidays or even on weekends, he would come here to see if he could meet her again.

However, he was disappointed again that day.

He had no news about her.

Ryan Berry, Lucian's personal assistant, came over. He was twenty-seven years old and looked refined and gentle, but he was shrewd and capable. He was Lucian's right-hand man in Ronen Group.

He stood behind Lucian respectfully and said in a calm voice, "Mr. Ronen, we are going to the airport, or we will miss the last flight."

Lucian looked away reluctantly.

He nodded indifferently and turned to leave.

When he turned around, a pregnant woman in a white down jacket walked past him slowly.

Among all the ice sculptures, she saw his graceful figure that she was very familiar with.

Her pupils trembled, and she looked over quickly. The man who walked away was exactly her lover whom she had been thinking about day and night.

"Lucian!" She burst into tears uncontrollably, and she couldn't stop missing him.

It was really him. She didn't expect to see him like this.

Looking at Lucian's back, she held back all her tears, moved forward with depression and hid behind an ice sculpture. She didn't want Lucian to see her.

Just as she walked past the ice sculpture, Lucian stopped as if he sensed something. He turned his head and looked at the place where he stood just now, but it was empty.

After staring it for a few seconds, he turned around in disappointment. This time, he strode away and never looked back.

"Woo-woo...." Amelia had dreamed of his face thousands of times, and she couldn't get him out of her head. Seeing his familiar face, she cried out loud in pain.

He became thinner, and his eyes were quiet and cold. He was no longer as gentle as before, and he looked lonelier.

"Lucian, I'm sorry. I'm too guilty to come back to you at this time." She looked down at her big belly and wiped the tears on her face with a happy smile, "Babies, did you see that? We saw your father just now. Are you delighted?"

She stood there quietly for a long time before she left.

In River City Restaurant.

Paula saw Victor and Eden enter the hall.

She was in a particularly good mood.

She immediately sent a message to Dahlia.

"Dahlia, Eden and Victor are here. Transfer the money to me."

She liked the feeling of receiving money. Seeing her increasing bank account, she felt at ease, and she could even sleep soundly at night.

Seeing the message sent by Paula, Dahlia said coldly, "What a vulgar woman!"

Chelsea, Adrienne and her other friends all turned their heads to look at the message.

Chelsea smiled sarcastically and said with aloof eyes, "She is silly, but she's greedy, and she can do everything for money. Just give her the money. At least she's a little useful."

Dahlia nodded. This was all Paula could do for them.

She quickly transferred a sum of money to Paula.

After Paula received the money, she went to find Terry happily.

That night, Terry was here, too. She didn't want to get involved with Eden's affairs. Since someone wanted to teach Eden a lesson, she would just wait and see.

Dulcie looked at Chelsea and asked worriedly, "Miss Simpson, have you arranged everything?" She really wanted Eden to become a laughing stock. She had suffered a lot because of Eden.

With a wicked face, Chelsea nodded indifferently, "Everything is ready." She would ruin Eden's pride and confidence that night.

"Baylee, tonight, it's up to you." Chelsea placed all her hope on Baylee.

She knew how much Baylee hated Eden.

Baylee smiled evilly and said in a weird tone, "Don't worry. I have planned everything. Tonight, I will ruin Eden completely and make Victor suffer unprecedented pain."

These evil-minded women all laughed smugly, waiting to see what would happen next.

Irving was very happy to see Eden.

After chatting with several business partners for a while, he walked towards Eden and Victor.

"Eden, Mr. Alwynn, you're here." He smiled politely, and his tone was very friendly. Dressed in a noble suit, he looked like a prince in the movie.

However, standing in front of Victor, he looked inferior.

Victor didn't speak and frowned tightly. His sharp eyebrows were sword-like, and his handsome face darkened to the extreme. He was expressionless and didn't even look at Irving.

However, Eden smiled gently, "Mr. Matthews, congratulations. I heard that you have signed several important contracts recently."

In Eden's mind, Irving and Barrett were tarred with the same brush.

But she had to pretend to be polite on the surface.

Victor was arrogant because he was confident in their products. But she was different. She had her own plan.

Irving lowered his head and smiled. Then he looked at her gracefully, "Eden, I have been looking forward to cooperating with you. Aren't you very interested in real estate business? I hope that I can have opportunities to cooperate with you."

His voice was gentle and very pleasant to hear, and he looked like a very upright man. If Eden did not know how evil he was, she would think that Irving was really charming.

Unfortunately...

Eden was not bewitched at all.

"We can work together if there's such a chance." Eden said leisurely.

Victor suddenly said, "Honey, I don't think Irving will have an opportunity to cooperate with you. I'm your husband. Even if there's a chance, he'll cooperate with me."

He held Eden with his long arms, and his gentle smile was charismatic.

Such a scene was very unpleasant to Irving, and his heart ached.

Rage bubbled just below the surface of his mind when they saw how intimate they were.

His biggest rival in love wasn't Victor, but the fact that he couldn't win Eden's heart.

What he feared the most was that he would become the kind of person she hated.

"Eden, go in first. I will introduce several businessmen in real estate to you." No matter what expression Victor had, Irving only cared about Eden's attitude towards him.

"Alright, thank you!" Eden smiled and took Victor's arm.

Irving smiled sadly. He could never find an answer to his obscure youth.

He turned around and took Eden to know his friends.

He introduced Eden and Victor to those businessmen.

Hearing Victor and Eden's names, those businessmen were very enthusiastic.

After greeting them, Eden found an excuse and went to the bathroom.

Victor was a little worried. She gave him a reassuring smile and told him not to worry.

No matter what happened next, she had ways to deal with it.

She did want to go to the bathroom.

After coming out of the bathroom, she glanced at Thalia who was protecting her secretly.

Thalia nodded at her.

Eden saw a waiter come over with juice. She took a glass of juice and picked up a piece of cake in the pastries area.

She wanted to sit down and eat.

Suddenly, a drunk woman who couldn't walk steadily knocked over the juice and cake in Eden's hands.

Eden's elegant dress became dirty in an instant.

"Oh... I'm sorry... Miss, I... didn't mean it." The woman's face was red and she couldn't speak fluently. It seemed that she was dead drunk.

Eden looked at her silently for a while and did not say anything.

The woman kept apologizing, but she just stood there indifferently.

She looked around. There were not many people around her, and the road was wide, but the woman happened to bump against her.

"Miss, I really didn't mean it. Let me take you to change your clothes." The woman held Eden's hand with a guilty face and didn't let her go. It seemed that she wouldn't let go of Eden unless Eden followed her.

Eden blinked her eyes. Did the woman want to take her to a room to change her clothes?

Since Baylee hated her so much, what would she do?

Eden smiled weirdly, and her eyes were very cunning.

"Okay, I'll go with you." She said in a calm tone.

Chapter 1569

Hearing Eden's words, the woman took her to the room downstairs.

Eden did not say anything and allowed her to take her away.

There were special rooms for guests in River City Restaurant. Parties were often held on the top floor, and guest rooms occupied two floors.

Eden followed the woman to a room by the corner. Then the woman pushed her in.

"Bang..." The door was closed.

The woman no longer looked drunk. Instead, she smiled viciously.

"Eden, just stay here!" After saying this with a sneer, she turned around and entered the room across from her happily. She looked at the woman who sat there and smiled, "It's done."

The woman smiled maliciously, "Then let's wait and see."

Eden, who was locked in the room, did not panic. Instead, she turned on the light in the room. Two ugly bald men sat not far away from her.

They looked at her beautiful face and almost drooled. Their disgusting faces made Eden want to vomit.

One should never intend to do harm to others, but should always guard against the harm others might do to him!

It seemed that someone wanted her to become a laughing stock indeed.

"She's so pretty. We'll have a good time tonight." The thinner bald man looked at Eden with a lecherous expression.

"Ha-ha... I have never slept with such a good-looking woman before."

The two men stood up slowly and walked towards Eden with lewd and greedy eyes.

When Eden came in, she smelled a faint scent. Therefore, she had been standing at the door and did not walk inside.

When she saw the two men's randy eyes, she knew that there was something wrong with the scent.

"Rat-a-tat.."

Someone knocked on the door. Eden pulled the doorknob and opened the door easily. She smiled faintly. Thalia acted faster than she thought.

She immediately pressed the switch at the door and turned off the light.

"Ha-ha... She's shy. She has even turned off the lights."

"Ha-ha... It's good to turn off the lights. It will be more interesting and mysterious."

Eden smiled coldly. When the door was opened, Aro and Thalia stood at the door with two women.

One of them was the woman who brought her here. As for the other... Eden sneered. She knew it was her.

"Send them in." Eden said expressionlessly.

She would do unto them what they did to her. The two women would definitely be surprised.

To avoid more worries, she'd better endure it for the time-being.

But she didn't want to control herself and suppress her indignation.

Her kindness would only make others bully her more.

Human relationships were tenuous, and no one could predict what would happen.

She only wanted to live a happy life with her family.

"Bang..." The door of the room was slammed shut.

Before Thalia left, she woke up the two women.

In an instant, they heard them scream in horror.

Aro's face darkened to the extreme. He didn't expect that there would be such despicable people in this world. They actually wanted to ruin Eden. "Mrs. Alywnn, they have installed a security camera in this room. They want to do live stream and ruin your reputation."

Eden nodded, "Let's make what they're doing live. I'm going downstairs to change my clothes."

She looked at Thalia and said, "Thalia, delete the surveillance video just now."

"Okay, Mrs. Alwynn."

Aro and Thalia took action separately.

Eden was expressionless. She was kind and gentle, but she was forced to become cold and heartless.

She went to the special room on the top floor and changed into a clean suit through her exclusive elevator.

The moment she got out of the room, she heard screams outside.

A faint smile appeared on her beautiful face.

She walked towards Victor at a brisk pace.

At this time, the scene on the big screen in the hall was indecent.

Two men and two women stayed in one room, pulling each other and taking off each other's clothes.

They were about to have sex.

Dulcie, Chelsea and Dahlia, who had been waiting for a good show, were instantly dumbfounded when they saw this.

"Crack..." Baylee slapped the man hard.

She was somewhat sober.

Being slapped by her, the bald man was a little stunned and looked at her in a daze.

"Miss Simpson, why are you here?" The man tried his best to restrain himself.

"B*stard! How dare you touch me! Didn't I tell you two to ruin Eden? Eden should have been brought to this room, shouldn't she? Why am I here?" If she didn't knock into the corner of the bed and sober up, her reputation would have been ruined.

What on earth happened just now?

The lights in the room went out, and they instantly lost consciousness.

Did they meet a ghost?

A chill ran down Baylee's spine.

Seeing that she was naked, she immediately pulled over a towel and wrapped herself.

"Miss Simpson, I... don't know. Didn't you use aphrodisiac incense here? A girl came in just now. She stood at the door when we walked over. Why do you suddenly appear here?" The bald man looked aggrieved. He was hot all over, and he was sexually aroused. What should he do?

"A*shole! Do you want to die? Eden doesn't go far. Go find her and drag her back to the room! I want the whole world to see her have sex with men. I want to ruin her! I want everyone to know how disgusting she is!" Baylee said sternly and harshly. She felt hot and very uncomfortable.

The other woman and man had hugged each other, and the scene was too obscene.

"Miss Simpson, I don't know who Eden is. How can I find her? Didn't you say that you would send Eden to this room? We're waiting for her, aren't we? How should I find her now?"

"Look over there. In order to vent your anger, we have prepared some good things, and we're going to have a good time tonight."

"B*stard! Look for her immediately! If you can't ruin Eden tonight, I will ruin you!" On the big screen, Chelsea's ferocious face made people feel disgusting.

So many people widened their eyes in surprise.

How could such a pretty woman do such a vicious thing?

Seeing this, Victor crushed the wine glass in his hand.

"Bang..." All the people present knew how angry Victor was at the moment.

Irving went berserk as well, "D*mn it! How dare they plot against Eden!"

Barrett, who had just greeted Victor, couldn't feel more embarrassed at this time.

Victor turned around and left madly.

He called Eden as he walked.

However, before he dialed her number, he heard her gentle voice.

"Victor."

His body trembled violently. Then he looked up at Eden who was smiling at him not far away and walked towards her in a hurry.

Chapter 1570

"Eden, are you okay?" Victor looked at her worriedly. Seeing that she had changed her clothes, he frowned and asked sternly, "What did they do to you?"

Eden shook her head, "Someone knocked over my juice and pastry accidentally, so I went to the top floor to change my clothes. I didn't expect to see the live broadcast as soon as I came out."

Victor's eyes were full of harshness and ruthlessness, "Since they dare to plot against you, I will make them suffer a lot!"

Eden held his hand and said with a faint smile, "They're suffering now."

"It's not enough!" Victor's voice was cold, just like the thick snow in the winter. It was so oppressive and suffocating.

"Isn't that Miss Simpson? Why does she want to do such a terrible thing?"

"I don't understand. She actually said that she wanted to ruin someone so openly. It's lawless! Although the Simpson family is the richest in A Country, they can't act against law and reason, can they?"

"The rich are like this. They think they can ruin someone's life just because they have money. She's too arrogant and unreasonable."

"Yes! How snooty she is! She didn't expect to ruin herself, I guess."

"Humph! She asks for it."

The women behind Eden talked about it angrily.

Eden lowered her head. Her face flushed a little and she was a bit dizzy. She inhaled some fragrance in the room.

At this time, she felt a little uncomfortable.

She leaned against Victor's arms and rubbed her face against his chest. Her voice was soft and pleasant to hear, "Victor, let's go home."

Hearing this, Victor sensed that there was something wrong with her.

He caressed her cheeks with slender fingers. On such a cold day, her face was burning hot.

"D*mn it." Victor cursed angrily.

At this moment, Dean rushed over.

"Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn." Dean smiled flatteringly.

Victor looked at him apathetically, "Deal with the things here."

"Ah... "

"Don't come back if you can't handle them well." After Victor finished his words, he left with Eden quickly.

"Ah..." Dean looked at Victor's back in a daze.

"Mr. Alwynn, what do you need me to deal with? Make it clear before you leave."

Thalia came over and looked at him, "Look at the big screen and you'll know it."

Thalia left after saying that.

In confusion, Dean glanced at the screen not far away. The video was still being played.

"Oh..." Dean was dumbfounded, "Jesus... This matter is so tricky! What should I do?"

Feeling very helpless and bitter, Dean could only go to deal with this.

When Victor and Eden were about to go out of the hall, they met Chelsea, Dahlia and Dulcie.

Victor glanced at them with indifferent and cold-blooded eyes.

Seeing that Eden was leaning against Victor's arms safe and sound, they were overwhelmed by hatred.

Especially Chelsea. She even felt a bit scared for no reason.

What made Eden reverse the situation at such a critical moment? Why was she so powerful?

Leaning against Victor's arms and seeing their different expressions, Eden smiled.

Being looked at by her, they were frightened. Her clear eyes seemed to be able to see through everything.

"Eden, why are you so shameless?" Dulcie could not stand to see Eden's gentle and coquettish look.

Victor frowned and stopped to look at Dulcie, "What do you mean?"

His tepid voice reminded Dulcie how stupid she was.

"What... could I mean? I just can't stand her delicate appearance." She immediately found an excuse for herself.

"Humph! My wife looks so charming in this way. Look at you. You're so ugly that even the ghosts will be afraid of you. Since you hate to see others like this, you'd better poke your eyes blind first."

"Victor... you!" Dulcie stamped her feet in anger, but she had nothing to say. She could only glare at Victor fiercely.

"If what happened tonight has something to do with you, I will let you suffer a worse life than death. You'd better wait and see what that woman will suffer." Victor said furiously and then left with Eden.

He felt that Eden could no longer hold on.

It seemed that it was too late to go home.

"Ah..." Dulcie stamped her feet with a frenzy of rage as she looked at Victor and Eden's backs.

"Why do we fail again?"

"Idiot!" Chelsea scolded Dulcie.

"Do you want Victor to know that it has something to do with us?"

"No. Miss Simpson, I just can't understand why Eden could escape." Dulcie was a little uneasy. She was indeed too impulsive just now.

"Humph! What's the point of thinking about this now? Let's solve the current problem first."
Chelsea was very worried.

Although her father supported her to play a trick on the Alwynn family and Eden, she could only do something secretly.

Since so many people had known about this, her father would not show her any mercy.

Hypocritical kindness was more horrible than demons.

"Eden, what kind of magic power do you have? Why can you escape again and again?" She asked in heart.

"Let's go!" Chelsea walked quickly towards Baylee's room.

What a silly woman! Didn't she know that she set up a live broadcast herself?

She even said everything in detail in the room. This matter was too troublesome to solve.

When they rushed to the room, the bald man had lost control.

He kept tearing Baylee's clothes.

"B*stard, sober up! Do you want to die? Then I'll fulfill your wish!" Chelsea cursed the bald man loudly.

What the other man and woman were doing was obscene.

Chelsea looked at them and thought of the live broadcast outside.

Her face turned livid with anger.

The worse thing was that there was a live broadcast outside.

Baylee and this woman's reputations were completely ruined.

If Baylee's father knew that she was the one who had arranged this, he would definitely not let her go.

Seeing such a scene, Dulcie and Dahlia were somewhat scared.

The drug was extremely potent.

Where did Chelsea get this?

"Baylee!" Chelsea cried out in shock.

"Chelsea, save me! Hurry up and kill this b*stard!" Baylee saw them in despair and cried for help.

At the same time, Dean and several security guards arrived.

They knocked out the two men and saved Baylee and the other woman.

Baylee was saved, but the other woman was not so lucky.

She almost died.

Lying on the ground weakly, she looked at everything in front of her with blurred eyes. It seemed that she suddenly thought of something and her pupils enlarged violently. Then she couldn't see anything clearly and passed out completely.

Eden could hardly bear the sight of it and sighed in heart.

If Eden was the one who had been hurt by them, he estimated that Victor would have killed the two men.