

Gluey Love 1601

Chapter 1601

Humph! Since Chelsea did not care about her family, there was no need for her to care about her life. It was her who asked them to do this.

The woman looked back at her friends. In ordinary times, they were best friends who shared good things with each other.

However, to her disappointment, those women were timid and cowardly as well. Seeing her pleading eyes, they all stepped back and didn't want to get involved.

They could share her fortunes, but they wanted to stay away from her when she was in trouble.

They were all selfish and mean.

"Eden, let's go." Victor took Victor's hand and walked forward.

He glanced at the woman on the ground and then glanced at Chelsea with meaningful eyes.

"Mr. Alwynn, please wait a moment. Please take back what you said just now. It's my fault, and I'll apologize to Mrs. Alwynn. Mrs. Alwynn, I'm sorry. Please forgive me. Someone ordered me to do this."

Victor and Eden stopped. For Victor, the reason why he asked Dean to investigate this woman was to force her to tell the truth.

He was commanding and influential. Those women wouldn't dare to speak ill of Eden before him if no one supported them.

Hearing the woman's words, Chelsea gave her a warning look.

However, the woman was not scared at all. No matter how ruthless the Simpson family was, they were not as cruel as Victor.

Moreover, she had understood that the Simpson family only wanted to use her, and they would not help her at all.

In such an era, interests were the choice of people.

At this time, more and more people gathered around and watched. People who came to River City Restaurant were all not ordinary.

Most of them were rich and powerful.

"Chelsea gave us money and ordered us to do this. She was the one who asked us to slander Mrs. Alwynn here." The woman was afraid that Victor would ignore her, so she simply said everything.

Chelsea was dumbfounded. Didn't this woman want to develop in River City anymore? How dared she betray her!

Eden suddenly looked at Chelsea with a sneer, "It's you."

Failing to slander Eden again, Dahlia and Dulcie were stunned and looked at her in a daze. The target of attack changed so suddenly that they were caught off guard.

"That's right. I asked them to do this. Eden, if you agreed to help me earlier, you wouldn't have been in such trouble." Having been exposed, Chelsea simply admitted it generously.

That day, she came here to be an onlooker.

Hearing Chelsea's words, the surrounding people all pointed at her and talked about her.

Eden smiled faintly. She was very beautiful and charming, just like the snow lotus on the top of a snowy mountain.

Looking at her smile, Victor was in a trance. He had a strange feeling, because he rarely saw such a smile on Eden's face. It was beautiful, but he felt that it was dangerous.

Eden was wearing a khaki overcoat and a white high-necked sweater. Her beautiful hair was coiled up elegantly, which made her look neat and capable. She smiled and walked towards Chelsea.

A chilly wind blew in from the door.

As Eden approached Chelsea step by step, Chelsea felt that her heart skipped a beat.

Irving looked at Eden's smiling face subconsciously. She walked against the light, and he couldn't see her face very clearly, but he knew that she was beautiful and charming. For a moment, he could not take his eyes off her.

"Crack..." Eden slapped Chelsea on the face twice fiercely all of a sudden. Both of Chelsea's cheeks were red and swollen.

Chelsea was dumbfounded. Eden felt that her hands were burning hot and painful.

Everyone was stunned.

Even Victor was shocked. Eden, who had always been gentle, actually did such a bold thing. However, she did a good job. He just felt distressed for her hand.

"Eden!" Chelsea glared at Eden with malicious and angry eyes. She... had actually slapped her twice.

Her speed was so fast that she did not even have a chance to react.

"People have to pay the price for what they do." Eden looked into her eyes and said.

She did not wear high heels. In front of Chelsea who was wearing high heels, she was a few centimetres shorter, but it did not affect her aggressiveness at the moment. Her sharp eyes made people feel scared unconsciously.

There was a faint smile on her face, and she seemed to be provoking Chelsea.

"So, you will pay a higher price for what you have done." Chelsea's eyes turned red with anger. What qualifications did Eden have to slap her?

She was the princess of the Simpson family, and she was in a high status. What right did Eden have to teach her a lesson?

Chelsea's dignity was severely trampled upon.

Others did not even have a chance to mock her, let alone beat her. But Eden slapped her in front of so many people.

Eden stepped forward, got a little closer to Chelsea and said in a voice that could only be heard by them, "Miss Simpson, I'll wait for it."

Chelsea squinted her vicious eyes and said word by word with a malicious and despicable smile, "I will do as you wish."

"I... will wait." Eden's smile was pure. However, Chelsea felt a trace of harshness for no reason.

Why was Eden different from what she had known about?

A farce ended just like that.

Chelsea lost completely, but she did not leave. She went for a meal with Irving and Dahlia.

Victor let go the woman and her family.

As for Eden, she was in a better mood.

At lunch, she had a better appetite and ate two bowls of rice.

Seeing that she was a bit abnormal, Victor and Lucian were both worried.

But they couldn't tell why they were worried about her.

"Eden, are you okay?" Victor asked softly.

Eden looked at him with a smile and asked in reply, "Do I look like unhappy? Or do you want me to be troubled by this matter?"

Victor shook his head and felt that he couldn't see her through.

Lucian blurted out the truth, "Eden, are you planning something that we don't know?"

The expression in Eden's eyes suddenly changed as she looked at Lucian in disbelief, "Lucian, I don't have any other skills except for drawing design drafts. Do you think I have the ability to plan anything?"

Lucian and Victor were both very sensitive. Unfortunately, they cared about their beloved women too much, causing them to overlook many things.

Otherwise, Lucian would not have lost Amelia.

Lucian stared at her for a while without saying anything. He just lowered his head thoughtfully.

Victor looked at the time and said to Dean lazily, "Dean, show me the list of the lots."

"Okay!" Dean handed the list to Victor.

Victor looked down at the list, and Eden was slightly relieved.

Lucian saw her movement clearly.

He sat up straight slightly, took a sip of the tea on the table and waited for Victor quietly.

Chapter 1602

Victor read it very fast. He scanned the list and remembered the names.

Irving was among them, and he was determined to get the diamond ring.

Victor returned the list to Dean.

Dean looked at Eden and said jokingly, "Mrs. Alwynn, you are so cool and impressive today. Such a woman like Chelsea should be taught a lesson, but..."

Dean looked at his phone. The reporters got the news very quickly, and they had reported what happened just now .

Seeing that he wanted to say something but stopped, Eden said with a smile, "But this matter has been reported online."

"Yes!" Dean passed the phone to Eden.

Eden scanned the news casually. Netizens all had one-sided views. They knew that she had been framed by Chelsea, and they begun to defend her.

They cursed Chelsea for being so vicious.

She did not understand what the netizens were thinking about, but some comments were more attractive than the headline.

"Oh... Why is Victor's wife so miserable? She's always been slandered. Chelsea is the most shameless woman I've ever seen! If she was in front of me, I would definitely give her a lesson..."

"Humph! My goddess did a very impressive thing today. Chelsea should be slapped twice!"

"I really hope that Chelsea would get the retribution she deserves."

"How dare she provoke my goddess! I won't let her go!"

Eden smiled and handed the phone to Dean. She was still in a good mood.

Victor stared at Eden with deep affection. When he saw that Eden didn't get angry, his eyes turned soft again.

Of course, he wouldn't let off the Simpson family so easily. He would deal with it personally after the auction.

"Let's go." He got up, held Eden's hand and walked forward.

Dean ran Lucian and asked in a low voice, "Mr. Ronen, do you want the diamond ring as well?" Lucian had a deep affection towards Amelia.

Dean knew this all the time.

Lucian glanced at Victor and said slowly, "Since Victor is here, do you think others will have a chance to get it?"

Dean shook his head decisively, "No."

Lucian said, "Idiot."

Dean was speechless. He just asked a question, didn't he? Why did Lucian regard him as an idiot?

Fine, he shouldn't have asked Lucian about it.

The auction was held in the luxurious hall on the top floor.

As soon as the four of them reached the door, they met Lucian's mother and Edith.

"Lucian." Renata hadn't seen Lucian for a long time, and she was very excited.

Lucian didn't live at home anymore, and she felt lonelier than before.

She knew that Lucian hated her because she forced Amelia to leave.

She sent someone to find Amelia, but Amelia seemed to have disappeared from this world, and she couldn't get news about her.

She knew that Amelia was a good girl. She really loved Lucian, so she didn't want to cause any trouble for him.

Lucian nodded indifferently and didn't speak.

Rage bubbled just below the surface of Edith's mind when she saw this.

Seeing her like this, Victor knew that she was about to lose temper.

Sure enough, the next moment, Edith accused Lucian regardless of her image, "Lucian, is this how you treat your mother? Do you know how she has been doing these days?"

"You never went back to see her. You are her only son! Can't you have some filial affection towards her?"

Lucian's eyes darkened, and he did not look at Edith, "This is none of your business."

"Humph! But it has something to do with me! She regards me as her daughter-in-law! During this period of time, I've been accompanying her and taking care of her on your behalf. You have to marry me one day! It's easy to repay everything except for favors. I just want you to owe me." Edith was as persistent as ever.

Love was the sweetest but also the bitterest. She would never give up.

She was sure that she would be with Lucian one day.

In her opinion, Amelia would never come back. Although Amelia loved him deeply, she knew herself well enough.

Lucian stilled remained silent. Edith was most helpless when she saw him like this.

She felt as if she had hit a bale of cotton with a big hammer.

Renata looked at Lucian with tears in eyes, "Lucian, it will soon be New Year. You..."

"I have to work at that time." Lucian interrupted his mother indifferently.

Victor glanced at him blandly. Everyone had a holiday during the Spring festival. How could he have work to do at that time? Alwynn Group operated according to the legal holidays, and the employees had great material benefits.

Eden was sensitive, and she knew that Lucian wanted to find Amelia.

"I see." Renata lowered her head with disappointment. After greeting Victor and Eden, she went into the hall with Edith.

"Lucian." Victor looked at Lucian.

Without giving Victor a chance to speak, Lucian turned around and entered the hall.

Eden shook her head at him. Lucian seemed to live a normal life, but his heart was dead.

Amelia would be the knot in his heart forever.

At this time, there were many people in the hall. They all came for the diamond ring.

Everyone dreamed to get the ring that was designed by a famous designer.

Victor, Eden, Dean and Lucian sat on their seats.

Irving and Dahlia happened to sit behind them. Coincidentally, Irving was right behind Eden.

Seeing this, Victor changed his seat with Eden.

Irving only smiled elegantly and looked at Eden's pretty and quiet face. He could have a peaceful mind just by looking at her.

At this moment, he was indeed jealous of Victor, because he owned such a wonderful woman.

Victor turned a blind eye to it. Since he sat down, he had been holding Eden's waist, indicating that Eden was his.

Eden didn't care. As long as Victor was happy, she was delighted.

There was no need to make things difficult for herself and upset Victor just because of someone she didn't care.

The maddest one was Chelsea. Her cheeks were red and swollen. Eden was right in front of her, but she couldn't do anything, which made her extremely annoyed.

Dahlia and Dulcie were very aggrieved as they looked at Eden. Originally, they wanted Eden to become a laughing stock, but Eden didn't suffer any loss.

Eden glanced at hall where there were a lot of people.

Victor lowered his head and whispered in her ear, "Eden, you promised me that we would hold the wedding on time."

Eden looked at him with a guilty conscience. They could hold the wedding as scheduled if the Simpson family didn't come back.

But at this time, it was even not easy to be safe.

However, in order to make him happy, she nodded tenderly, "Yeah!"

Chapter 1603

Only then did Victor smile with satisfaction and look at her peaceful face with gentle eyes.

From Dahlia's angle, she could clearly see Victor staring at Eden with tender eyes.

She held her breath. Over the past few years, Victor had become maturer and more charming.

She hated him to the extreme, but her heart could be softened by his gentle smile in an instant.

The auction had started/

The first lot was a diamond brooch.

It was delicate and unique, and it was designed by the famous designer as well. Its starting price was one hundred thousand dollars.

The brooch was embedded with a ruby. Under the lights, it shone out with great brilliancy. The exquisite design was gorgeous, and it looked luxurious and elegant.

"Eden, do you like it?" Victor lowered his head and asked.

Eden shook her head slightly. The brooch was beautiful, and the ruby shone attractively. However, she did not like it very much.

Then Victor didn't say anything.

"One hundred and fifty thousand dollars now. Anymore bid? This is the only brooch designed by the master, and it's unique in the world." With a warm smile, the auctioneer introduced it in a deep voice.

"Two hundred thousand dollars." Another person raised his placard.

"Three hundred and fifty thousand dollars."

"Five hundred thousand dollars." Before the auctioneer could speak, someone raised her placard.

Eden looked over and saw a white-haired old lady. She was somewhat familiar with her back. The old lady was wearing a light blue suit, and her every move was elegant.

That was Angela. Eden blinked her eyes. Did Angela come here as well?

Five hundred thousand dollars was the highest bid, and no one bid for it again.

The auctioneer was very experienced. He brought his hammer down on the table, "Five hundred thousand dollars first."

No one bid for the brooch again. After that, Angela got the brooch.

"Why does an old woman come to the auction?" Dulcie muttered in a low voice.

Dahlia said, "The desire to look attractive is universal."

"Humph, she is over fifty years old. If I were her, I would stay at home and enjoy the rest of my life."

Dahlia did not speak, because the bid for the second lot had started.

The second lot was a set of mutton-fat jade jewelry which was designed by a well-known designer.

As soon as the picture was shown on the screen, Eden was attracted to it.

Eden knew that the designer. Her professional name was Lala.

These days, Lala gradually became famous in the jewelry industry, and her design was popular among people.

The set of mutton-fat jade jewelry was her innovative design. The mutton-fat jade was delicate and smooth, and the style of the jewelry was fashionable and luxurious. It was a kind of new fashion trend.

The pendant, earrings, and ring looked very exquisite and fashionable. The jade was white and flawless, and it had a fine gloss. Under the lights, the jewelry looked crystal clear and smooth, looking very pleasant to the eye.

Mutton-fat jade had the highest density among all kinds of jade.

Eden liked jade. She once read a lot of information about jade and saw some nice jade in person. This set of mutton-fat jade jewelry was the best she had ever seen. She was very excited.

"Victor, I like it." She said excitedly.

"Irving, I want this set of jewelry."

Eden and Dahlia said at the same time.

Lucian said, "Me too."

Victor was speechless.

Lucian said, "I'm determined to get it."

hearing this, Victor was more speechless.

Eden smiled when she heard that. She suddenly remembered that Amelia liked mutton-fat jade very much.

"Lucian, although I like it, I have had a lot of jewelry. You can bid for it."

"Thank you!" Lucian cast her a grateful look.

Amelia told him that she liked jade.

He loved everything she liked. Although she had left, he kept buying what she liked for her.

Originally, Irving wanted to compete with Victor, but he gave up in an instant when he heard that Eden didn't want it anymore.

Seeing this, Dahlia looked at him with disappointment.

She was his fiancée, but he was actually unmoved by her request.

"Eden, if you like it, it will be yours." Victor glanced at Lucian. How could Lucian be more important than Eden?

Eden smiled and shook her head, "Victor, we can buy something else. Moreover, I know this designer. We have chances to buy her work in the future."

Victor looked at Lucian's proud face again, but Lucian didn't even glance at him. He withdrew his gaze angrily and nodded at Eden, "I'll buy you something better in the future."

Eden smiled but did not say anything.

The starting price of the mutton-fat jade jewelry was one million dollars.

Hearing the price, Eden was very surprised.

However, someone immediately bid for it.

Eden glanced at Lucian who sat there leisurely.

As for Irving, he did not even look at Dahlia.

Dahlia lowered her head dejectedly. Dulcie could not stand Irving anymore, but she could not say anything. She felt that the relationship between Irving and Margery was pretty weird.

Although Dahlia was Irving's fiancée, Irving seemed to be an ascetic man, and he never touched Dahlia.

Chelsea asked beside Irving, "Mr. Matthews, it's meaningful to give it as your fiancée as a gift."

Irving did not look at her and said blandly, "No matter how nice the jewellery is, it looks vulgar when someone wear it."

Chelsea was stunned. She didn't expect Irving to say so.

"Irving, you..." Although Dahlia had great endurance, she could not stand this kind of humiliation.

Others were unimportant to her, but Irving was her fiancé! How could he say such words?

"Ha-ha..." She laughed self-mockingly. What was she thinking about? What she had been expecting was just something she could never get. She was wasting her time on Irving.

Victor, Eden and Dean all heard their conversation.

Dean gave Irving a thumbs-up in heart.

What Irving said was so f*cking right.

No matter what Eden did, Irving would love her. However, he didn't like Dahlia, so her every move would disgust her.

Was Dahlia worth a man's love? The answer was no.

Even he could tell that Dahlia was definitely not a good woman.

Ha-ha! Being disappointed by her fiance in public must make her feel so bad!

Someone had offered five million dollars, but Lucian still sat there calmly.

"Eight million dollars."

"Nine million dollars."

"Ten million dollars." Finally, Lucian raised his placard without hesitation.

Renata and Edith sat in the third row behind them.

Seeing Lucian raise the placard, Renata had mixed feelings. She knew that Lucian bought it for Amelia.

She thought that as long as Amelia left, he would accept Edith as time went by. It seemed that she was wrong. With her understanding of Lucian, he was so stubborn, and he wouldn't be with anyone except for Amelia.

"Auntie, does he want to give it to me?" Edith looked at Lucian excitedly.

Renata was rendered speechless. She also hoped so, but the fact was not like this.

Chapter 1604

Her son would never waste time on people he didn't care.

He would only do something for the person who was worth wasting his time.

He would definitely give the set of jewelry to Amelia.

"Auntie, when Lucian sees me these days, he no longer rejects me and drives me away like before." Edith looked at Lucian excitedly.

When Renata heard this, she was more worried. Lucian didn't pay attention to her and didn't drive her away, which meant that he didn't think her seriously at all.

"Alas!" Renata sighed. She didn't know what Lucian had been through, so she couldn't persuade him.

Back then, she lived a bitter life, too. Fortunately, Lucian's father loved her.

Although she didn't love him, he made her live a rich life and spoiled her for a lifetime. They even had such an excellent son.

However, Lucian became thinner day by day. He seldom smiled and got more and more estranged from her. She finally regretted it.

She should have believed that he had the ability to protect the woman he loved.

That was his own life, and she shouldn't have meddled in his affairs.

Renata's eyes glistened with tears as she looked at Lucian who sat straight before her.

In the end, Lucian got the mutton-fat jade jewellery at the price of ten million dollars.

Victor and Eden were interested in the following lots.

Finally, it was time to bid for the diamond ring.

Victor smiled very brightly.

It was an exquisite ring designed by Surruo. The picture of the ring was played on the big screen. People could see its nearly perfect outline from every angle.

Not only Victor, but also everyone present showed their love for the ring.

Eden was an experienced designer, but she was amazed when she saw the diamond ring.

"Victor, it's so beautiful!" Eden could not help but praise it.

Surruo's exquisite and creative conception suffused this perfect and ingenious ring.

"Yeah!" Victor smiled and nodded. Seeing how much she liked it, he finally felt that it was worth coming here.

Hearing Eden's words, Irving clenched her fist slightly. If he bought the ring and sent it to her, she would not accept it, would she?

If it was Victor who gave the ring to her, she would definitely feel very happy.

Irving closed his eyes slightly. When he opened them again, he couldn't see anyone except for Eden. The scene that Victor and Eden looked at each other with affection hurt his heart.

In his heart, no matter how cold the weather was, it would be warm as long as she was by his side.

"Dahlia, it's so gorgeous. Unfortunately, I can't get it." Dulcie looked at the diamond ring and liked it very much, but she couldn't afford it.

Dahlia glanced at Irving, only to see that he kept staring at Eden and didn't intend to look away. To him, Eden was his whole world. Dahlia was overwhelmed by Jealousy instantly.

Irving didn't talk to her about the rumours. He knew that she took over the newspaper office and the rumours had something to do with her, but he didn't ask her anything, which made her restless all day long.

Dahlia was so angry that she trembled all over. However, she maintained a decent smile on her face.

"Alright. Next, we'll bid for the most important lot today, Master Surruo's work of ingenuity, Loyalty. This diamond ring has its own story, and I guess that all of you know its story..." The auctioneer introduced it passionately.

Eden had learned about the story of the ring in advance.

Surruo drew his inspiration from the love story of him and his wife.

Love was that two people met each other by fate. People couldn't wait for love passively or prepare for it.

He and his lover met by chance because of a red egg on the Dragon Boat Festival. They had married for fifty years, and this diamond ring was the witness of their love. Its meaning was very wonderful.

"The starting price is ten million dollars." As soon as the auctioneer said this, the noisy hall became silent for a few seconds. Then people burst into an uproar again.

Dean swallowed and said to Lucian, "Mr. Ronen, I think it would be better to buy a house with ten million dollars."

Lucian replied to him coldly, "How superficial you are!"

Dean was speechless.

"Mr. Ronen, please don't always be so cold to me, okay? You can say a few more words to me. Your voice is so pleasant to hear, just like a melody."

His flattering words didn't work, and Lucian said again, "You're extremely superficial!"

Dean was brokenhearted.

"Mr. Ronen, forget it. The place where you're is so cold." He'd better shut up and watch the show.

The bidd had begun. While Dean was talking, someone had offered fifty million dollars.

Dean opened his mouth in surprise. He had never seen so much money in his life.

Poverty limited his imagination. He really didn't understand the world of the rich.

He glanced at Victor who was determined to win.

"Alas!" He sighed. Sure enough, Victor was willing to do everything for Eden.

If he wanted to buy the ring, he might go bankrupt.

"One hundred million dollars." Irving finally took actions.

Victor wanted to bid for it, but Eden thought for a while and held his hand. She... didn't want to spend so much money.

Victor gently pulled away her hand, bowed his head and whispered, "Honey, I'm not short of money."

Eden looked at him eagerly. They could do lots of things with one hundred million dollars. Why did he have to buy this ring?

She had been working hard to earn money since she was young, and she really couldn't bear to spend so much money.

"One hundred and fifty million dollars." Victor simply added fifty million dollars.

The auctioneer was so surprised that the microphone almost fell off his hand.

Everyone looked at Victor in shock.

"Two hundred million dollars." Irving raised his placard without hesitation and looked at Victor with a weird smile. Victor had made him lose hundreds of millions of dollars, and he would let him pay all the money that day.

Victor knew what Irving was thinking about. But unfortunately, he had planned to pay a billion dollars for the ring, and Irving had to spend double money for the piece of land three days later.

That was the purpose of the auction.

"Three hundred million dollars." Victor casually raised the placard. Even his casual action looked so charming.

Eden was special, so she should own the unique ring in this world.

Everyone gulped in surprise and looked at Eden enviously.

Even Chelsea was jealous at this moment. The Simpson family was the richest in Country A, but she did not dare to squander money like this.

The Simpson family owned hundreds of millions of dollars, but the money belonged to different people, causing the Simpson family to be torn apart.

"Four hundred million dollars." Irving raised his placard again.

"One billion dollars." Victor bid again leisurely.

Dean looked at Victor with his mouth wide open.

How amazing Victor was!

Irving narrowed his eyes. Victor seemed to know his limits.

At this time, the whole hall was silent. Even the auctioneer looked at Victor in a daze.

He had been an auctioneer for more than ten years, but he had never seen such a rich buyer.

Chapter 1605

It was silent in the hall. Everyone looked at Victor.

Eden closed her eyes, thinking that Victor was really spendthrift, but he did this for her.

In fact, she needed such a fancy and useful diamond ring. As Victor's wife, she should not disgrace him.

At this time, some people still said that she used to live a poor life and she cared about money very much. Many noble young ladies looked down upon her. This was normal. She met Victor and returned to the Clement family when she was an adult.

However, she did not care what others said. She only wanted to live the life she wanted. Living a happy life was better than anything else. Whenever she thought like this, she would be relieved.

However, at the thought of this, she could feel at ease.

"One... billion dollars first, one billion dollars second..." The auctioneer's voice was excited. He brought his hammer down on the table three times, and no one bid for it again.

He was experienced, so he quickly returned to normal.

"Congratulations! Mr. Alwynn, the diamond ring is yours." After the auctioneer said this, everyone who knew Victor came over to congratulate him.

Dahlia looked at Eden enviously. Only a man who was as imposing as Victor would spend so much money for his woman.

She was envious that Eden lived like the heroine in the novel.

But she forgot that she was also very beautiful. If she lived in another way, she could have a happy life as well.

Victor asked Dean to deal with the following matters.

Then he took Eden to the lounge and waited.

Victor kept talking on the phone to deal with some business. Eden told him that she wanted to go to the bathroom. Victor nodded and then she went out.

When she came out of the bathroom and turned the corner, she saw Irving standing not far away and looking at her.

Eden looked around. There was no one else here. Thinking of the rumors about them, she wanted to turn around and leave.

Irving seemed to know what she was thinking. While Eden was thinking, he had walked to her front.

"Eden, I'm sorry!" Irving apologized sincerely as soon as he went forward.

Eden knew why he apologized. She said coldly, "What's the point of doing this?" She felt as if Irving gave her a piece of candy after slapping her in the face.

She had made it very clear to Irving, but he still ignored her feelings and did something to hurt her.

Irving looked at her guiltily, and his tone became sincerer and sincerer, "Eden, sorry, I didn't know that Chelsea would use that matter to frame you."

"But I can't control my deep love for you." Irving looked at her frankly. She always knew his mind.

Unfortunately, every time she looked at him, there was only anger in her eyes, and there was no affection.

Indeed, he had been tricked by a woman for the first time, but he was not angry. Instead, he hoped that he could have something to do with her.

"Irving, you know that it's impossible for us to be together. Why can't you give up? Did you love me deeply just to hurt me? I don't understand your so-called deep love."

Irving stared at her with sincere eyes, "Eden, that's because I love you too much. I'm even afraid of sending you a gift. Just like tonight, I wanted to buy the diamond ring for you, but I was afraid that you wouldn't accept it."

This was the reason why he did not bid for the ring. He was as rich as Victor, and he could buy anything that Victor could afford. Although it was not proper for him to spend so much money just on a ring, he was willing to do it for her.

Victor's generosity made him very jealous.

Victor seemed to be telling him that he was willing to go bankrupt for his beloved woman.

However, he was not as generous and commanding as Victor.

After all, the company didn't belong to him alone.

Looking at his sincere eyes, Eden was not touched at all. She did not understand why he kept doing it though he knew that it was impossible.

"Irving, as your friend, I have no reason to refuse your gift. But so many things have happened between us. We are not even friends now. Thanks for your kindness."

"But I still hope that you won't love me and waste your time anymore."

After finishing her words, Eden left without looking back.

Irving stood there in a daze for a long time. Eden refused him and then told him cruelly that he shouldn't love her anymore, which was something more terrible than death.

Back in the car, Irving felt very tired and closed his eyes.

Aidan didn't ask anything and drove home directly.

"Aidan." Irving suddenly said. Before Aidan could answer him, he added, "Do you think I'm tragic? I love her so much, but she doesn't care about me. I am not even qualified to buy her a gift."

Aidan was speechless. If Irving bought him a gift, he would accept it.

A billion dollars! What an astronomical figure! His heart ached no matter who paid the money. In his opinion, the diamond ring was not worth a billion dollars.

He had to persuade Irving earnestly, "Mr. Matthews, you have to understand that something is the exception rather than the rule. If it's something that doesn't belong to you, you can't get it even if you try your best."

"Mr. Matthews, life is short. Just give up. You've tried your best during this period of time, so you won't feel regretful in the future."

He actually understood why Irving was so stubborn. Irving had not found another reason to stick to. If he had another reason, he might start a new life.

Irving refused and shook his head, "I am so obsessed with her that I can't give up."

Aidan was speechless. So why did Irving ask him about it?

Since he couldn't give up, why did he ask him for advice?

"Mr. Matthews, my words may be unpleasant to hear, but it's impossible for you to be with Miss Bleu. Even if she divorces, she might not be with you. What's more, since she's so deep in love with Victor, I'm afraid she would never divorce him."

Irving did not take it seriously and smiled, "Aidan, do fishes really trust water so much? Water can boil fishes. People's hearts are always changeable."

Aidan refuted him without hesitation, "Mr. Matthews, don't dream about it anymore. You can never be with Miss Bleu."

These were the most straightforward words that Irving could listen to. He didn't want him to hurt himself in the end.

"Sure enough, I shouldn't have talked to you." Irving said this and closed his eyes.

After thinking for a moment, he said, "Prepare the money for the piece of land three days later."

Aidan frowned and thought for a while, "Mr. Matthews, I feel very strange. The piece of land has a great location. Instead of developing it himself, Victor wants to auction it. Is it a conspiracy?"

Victor was a very thoughtful man, so they should be more careful.

They had failed many times during this period of time.

Irving closed his eyes, but he smiled smugly, "Even if it is a conspiracy, we will lose at most a few hundred million dollars. Today, I caused Victor to pay one billion dollars."

Chapter 1606

"Mr, Matthews, I think it's better to think about it again. After all, Victor is really a mysterious man. We can't fall into his trap and think that we can get a big bargain." After knowing Victor for so long, he still couldn't figure out Victor's way of doing things.

"Shut up. The reason I pay you you millions of dollars every year is to let you do things for me, not to let you talk back to me."

Aidan pursed his lips and talked back fearlessly, "That's because my ability deserves my salary."

Irving was speechless. How dare he really talk back!

"Aidan, do you think I really can't get Eden?"

This time, Irving asked very sincerely, but he looked very disappointed.

"Mr, Matthews, just think about it in your dream. You can get everything in dream." Aidan didn't know how to answer him. He had answered this question before.

It was impossible for them to be together this life. Irving could only wait until his next life.

"Yeah! I dreamed of Eden last night."

Aidan was stunned. He felt that Irving was insane.

Eden did not expect so many things to happen on the way back. When she was about to return to the lounge, she met Chelsea who took two bodyguards in black suits with her. Obviously, she had bad intentions.

It seemed that Chelsea was more vicious than she had imagined.

Chelsea's cheeks were still swollen. She looked at Eden with intense hatred as if she wanted to kill her.

However, Eden walked towards her with a smile, "Miss Simpson, it seems that you are here to wait for me specially."

Chelsea blinked her malicious eyes and smiled wickedly, "Eden, I said that since you beat me, you must pay the price."

Her sinister voice echoed in the corridor, making people feel scared.

"Is that so? I slapped you twice, but I never regret it." Eden walked to Chelsea at ease as if she didn't understand her words.

She smiled brightly as she looked at Chelsea's furious face. She was so overbearing and arrogant that Chelsea felt herself inferior to Eden.

"In fact, it'll soon be Spring Festival, and I just want to spend a peaceful Spring Festival with my husband."

Eden said with affection, which made Chelsea mistakenly think that Eden knew what she wanted to do.

"Ha-ha..." Chelsea laughed weirdly as she listened to Eden's words. She seemed to have heard a big joke.

"Eden, don't think about celebrating the Spring Festival."

"Is that so? I'm sorry. This is the first Spring Festival that my husband and I will spend alone. I have to make dumplings with him and watch the Spring Festival gala with him. We will watch the most beautiful fireworks together." Eden acted dumb and looked at Chelsea with a smiling face.

She really intended to spend a happy Spring Festival with Victor.

Chelsea narrowed her eyes slightly. Eden's smile was so unpleasant to her eye. Seeing how fearless and arrogant Eden was, she could no longer maintain her elegance and went berserk in an instant.

She looked Eden up and down and then stared at Eden's pure and pretty face proudly. She hated Eden's face so much, "Eden, it seems that you don't know my family well enough. We have connections with both the gang and the police. Since you've offended my family, you can't afford the consequences. Today, I will let you know the consequences of beating me."

"Oh!" Eden glanced at the two bodyguards behind her leisurely, "I know you are not going to let me go, but I am not afraid. Tell me. What do you want to do to me?"

"Ha-ha..." Chelsea laughed strangely. She had never seen such a bold woman. She had made it clear, but Eden was not scared at all.

Her eyes turned cold, and she did not want to waste any more time talking to Eden, "Take her away and send her to the ship. I want to torture her badly."

"Okay, Miss Simpson." The two bodyguards walked towards Eden in an imposing manner.

Eden pretended to be afraid. She stepped back slowly and looked at the two bodyguards vigilantly.

At the same time, she knew that if she was taken away, the consequences would be too ghastly to contemplate. If she was sent to the ship, she would be tortured to death.

Chelsea wanted to beat her at her own game. What she was going to do was absolutely horrifying.

Needless to say, Eden knew that she was taking revenge for Baylee.

Baylee could never be released. She was so vicious that Eden didn't intend to let her go.

Chelsea had been angry for a few hours. Seeing that Eden was afraid, she finally showed a sense of superiority.

Eden did not struggle. Even if she had learned Taekwondo, she would be the one to suffer if she struggled at this moment. Furthermore, she just wanted Chelsea to catch her.

She thought that Chelsea would find an opportunity to catch her outside, but Chelsea was in such a hurry. She actually kidnapped her in River City Restaurant, which was more advantageous for Eden.

Soon, Eden was taken away by Chelsea's bodyguards from the fire exit.

When Victor hung up the phone, Dean had gone through the formalities and returned, but Eden hadn't come back. He felt a little uneasy in heart.

He dialed Eden's phone number, but her phone rang in her bag.

She went to the bathroom without taking her phone, and her bag was on the sofa in the lounge.

Seeing that Victor was very anxious, Dean said, "Mr. Alwynn, how about going out and looking for Mrs. Alwynn?"

He felt a bit uncomfortable here, and he was a little suffocated because one billion dollars were too much.

Although he had known how rich Victor was a long time ago, his hand trembled when he paid one billion dollars.

Over the years, he finally realized that one could do everything with money and power.

"Let's go." Victor picked up Eden's bag and strode out.

He did not see Eden along the way.

Dean called the receptionist but was told that Eden didn't leave through the gate.

Victor's intuition told him that something bad had happened to Eden.

"Dean, go to the monitoring room to check the surveillance video immediately."

"Okay. Mr. Alwynn, don't worry. Mrs. Alywnn might have met her acquaintance. No one dares to hurt her in River City Restaurant." Seeing that Victor was anxious, Dean persuaded him in a hurry.

Victor acted as if he didn't hear him and went straight to the monitoring room.

When they arrived at the monitoring room, they were surprised by what they saw.

All the security guards in the monitoring room had passed out on the ground.

Moreover, all the security cameras had been turned off.

"What's... going on?" Dean asked in shock.

Victor took out his phone quickly and called Lucian.

At this time, the red light was on, and Lucian was in a bad mood.

Seeing Victor calling him, he was quite annoyed, but he answered the phone.

"What's wrong? Victor." His tone was so bland. As soon as Victor heard it, he knew that he was unhappy.

"Lucian, come back now. Eden is missing."

Frowning, Lucian did not ask for the reason. The lights had turned green, so he immediately spun the car round and headed back to River City Restaurant.

Brian rushed to the monitoring room as fast as he could.

Chapter 1607

"Oh, my God, this is the safety system I installed, and it is the best safety system at the moment. How can it be completely destroyed? This person is not simple." Brian looked very shocked.

Victor looked at him coldly and said, "I'm not calling you here to complain. You'd better find Eden as soon as possible." He put on a stern face to everyone.

Brian did not dare to joke any more. He knew Eden was everything to Victor, so if anything happened to Eden, the entire Alwynn Group would be destroyed.

"Have you checked the GPS on her phone?" Brian looked at Victor.

"Eden did not take her phone." Victor's tone was getting colder and colder.

Brian was a little shocked. How could anyone go anywhere without a phone nowadays?

How careless could Eden be?

But he didn't dare to say anything. He just quickly turned on the computer and tried to restore the CCTV footage.

Dean had already gathered some people to find Eden.

When Lucian came over, Brian had already repaired the monitoring system. Unfortunately, the footage of Eden when she went to the restroom was already gone.

Without saying anything, Lucian turned on his laptop and got into the monitoring system outside the River City Restaurant.

However, they still couldn't see Eden anywhere.

Lucian looked at Victor and said in a low voice, "It seems that the other party knows all the monitoring equipment around the restaurant and successfully avoided all of them."

Brian asked, "Is there any suspicious person?"

Victor nodded. "Yes, Chelsea. Eden slapped her today."

Brian was a little surprised. He couldn't imagine that Eden would slap anyone.

In his mind, Eden was always a gentle, quiet, and kind girl. It was the first time he had heard of her hitting people in public.

However, when he met Victor's cold gaze, he shut his mouth immediately. Victor was the last person he wanted to offend at the moment.

At the same time, Lucian still didn't stop trying.

He entered a set of codes and got into the whole city's monitoring system easily.

Brian couldn't help but look at Lucian in disbelief.

It seemed that Lucian was not lost in love. During the time when he lost Amelia, he was still working hard on what he liked.

"Got it." Lucian pointed at a black car on his screen.

"This car is very suspicious. It has been running red lights several times as nothing happened. I think it must be using a fake plate. And it seems that it is going out of the city."

Victor's gaze was terrifying. He immediately called Dean and told him the route.

Lucian packed his stuff quickly and the three of them immediately followed out.

Victor was driving, while Lucian was directing the way. At the same time, Brian also called and informed everyone of the situation. The three of them worked perfectly together.

Brian couldn't help but think of Adonis at this moment. In the past, if such a thing happened, Victor and Lucian would be in charge in the office, and he and Adonis would work together and get the matter sorted quickly.

Lucian looked up at Victor, who looked a little anxious, and thought for a while. He seemed to have finally figured something out.

He lowered his head and continued to track the route of the black car, but his lower jaw was more intense than earlier.

It was dangerous for her to do so, but it probably would work.

Lucian had to admit that if women wanted to be meticulous, no man would not be a match for them.

Amelia was one of them, and Eden was the same. All the women they met were amazing.

Lucian had guessed it thoroughly but did not say anything to Victor. He also knew Eden quite well, so he guessed that she wanted to be able to protect herself because she did not want to hide behind Victor's wings for the rest of her life.

"Victor, we should call the police," Lucian suddenly said.

Victor didn't seem to agree. "If we call the police, Eden will...," he suddenly stopped his words.

"Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn asked Aro to investigate Chelsea and kept it a secret from me. I don't know what she wants to know. Aro wouldn't tell me either."

Victor suddenly remembered what Thalia said to him.

And Lucian's words immediately woke him up.

Ever since she learned about what happened to the Simpson family and the fact that the three children had been sent away, she seemed to have always been feeling very troubled.

He thought she just missed her children and her parents, so he didn't think too much about it.

Now that he thought about it, she seemed to have planned everything since the Simpson family banquet.

"D*mn it!" Victor suddenly hit the steering wheel hard.

The car rushed to the side and the wheels made a terrible sound on the ground.

Brian grasped the handle and looked at Victor, terrifying. "Don't get all of us killed. I don't want my wife to become a widow."

Brian knew that Victor wouldn't care about anything else when he focused on one thing.

However, he didn't know why he suddenly got out of control when Lucina said that they needed to call the police.

Of course, he would not ask Lucian about it. He knew he would not tell him anyway.

But at this time he heard Victor's angry voice, "Brian, call the police."

"Alright..." Brian was stunned for a moment, then took out his phone and called the police quickly.

Lucian knew that Victor had thought it through, so he did not say anything anymore.

Everyone had their own secrets and Eden had her own considerations as well.

Lucian looked at his laptop silently and directed the way. It was surprisingly quiet in the car. Brian hated this kind of atmosphere, but he did not dare to say a word at this moment.

Victor's face looked very pale and intense.

He was confused. Why did Victor look so angry when they were going to call the police?

At the dock. It was so quiet here at night, and there was only one old ship that could be seen.

On the bottom floor of the ship, everywhere looked so rusty and dirty, and the petrol on the floor gave off an unpleasant smell. In Eden's eyes, this was no different from a deathtrap. But for some reason, she was not scared at all at this moment because she had a feeling that Victor would find her and save her.

She did not even know when since that man became the person that she trusted the most in her life.

The sea breeze in winter was so cold that it stung people's faces.

Eden was tied up and was lying next to the window. She was shivering with cold and her teeth chattering. There was already some blood on her pale forehead, but her eyes were unusually bright.

The two bodyguards who took her here were extremely rough, so she would inevitably get hurt.

At this moment, the sound of high heels knocking on the floor echoed in the room.

Eden looked up and met Chelsea's arrogant gaze.

"Eden, you will never get out here again. No one can find you." Chelsea looked confident and raised her eyebrows to look at Eden evilly.

She felt extremely superior because she had finally won.

She really wanted to see how Eden would be tortured by these men here.

Chapter 1608

Eden laughed and then looked at Chelsea calmly, "Chelsea, do you really hate me this much?"

When she knew that the relationship between the Simpson family and the Alwynn family would never be restored, she had never thought about treating anyone in the Simpson family as a friend.

Barrett caused his own failure at that time, however, if he wanted to blame everything on the Alwynn family and her three children, she would never let such a thing happen.

"Yes!" Chelsea admitted it. "I really hate you the most. Who do you think you are? How can you even put yourself on the same level as me? And how dare you even hit me?" Chelsea yelled at Eden with all her strength.

She could not wait to vent all her anger on Eden to regain her dignity.

Since she returned here, she had never lived a peaceful life for even one day.

As soon as she closed her eyes, she would remember how Eden made everything difficult for her.

Today's slaps had completely infuriated her.

No one had ever humiliated her like this. It had always been her who humiliated others.

Eden looked at her and couldn't stop laughing, "Really? It seems that you are thinking so highly of yourself.

Oh yes, I almost forgot that you would be living like a real princess with your father's wealth in the country where your mother is coming from.

However, is that also the reason why your mother has the chance to become someone else's mistress?" Eden emphasized "mistress" on purpose.

She didn't want to say this, but she wanted to provoke Chelsea.

If she said these words abroad, everyone probably would laugh at her. But in this place, the situation of their family was indeed a bit different.

In fact, Barrett was a real genius. He even thought of having his family abroad. Therefore, all his children were very good-looking.

"You... you..." Chelsea was so angry that her entire body was shaking. Her well-defined face was flushed with anger and her big eyes were wide open, looking horrifying.

Eden smiled. She was such an elegant woman usually, but she still couldn't help reveal such an evil face when she was angry.

"Eden, how can you be so bold to say something like that? Huh?" The deafening voice made Eden very uncomfortable.

The wind coming in from outside the window was very cold, making her face look pale and bloodless, but it did not affect her mood as she teased Chelsea.

She did not even know that she would also enjoy such a moment.

She couldn't help but laugh out amusingly again. She looked at Chelsea with a bright smile and said, "Miss Simpson, I can say whatever I want, and I don't need to be bold. However, how can you be so bold to take me here?"

She counted the time on the way here. It would take Victor at least 20 minutes to find out that something had happened to her., and it would take another 20 minutes for him to find she was.

Therefore, she must find a way to slow Chelsea down if she wanted to wait for Victor.

Speaking of this, Chelsea looked confident again. "You can rest assured. Victor is not going to find out where you are. I have already damaged the monitoring system of the River City Restaurant, as well as all the CCTV cameras around it. Do you really think that he still can find you?"

Eden had to admit that she was a little surprised. It seemed that Chelsea was not that stupid.

Brian had personally installed the monitoring system of the River City Restaurant, so no hacker could easily break-in. If Chelsea could destroy the system so easily, she must have a few capable people on her side.

However, she still believed that Lucian could find some traces.

"Chelsea, you'd better not be too confident." Her brilliant smile made Chelsea even more furious. She didn't know she still could smile when she was tied up in such a place.

"Alright, alright. Let's see how brave you still can be later. Do you know where we are, and where I am going to send you to?" The smile on Chelsea's face grew even more vicious. She was like a poisonous snake who wanted couldn't wait to pounce on Eden and bite her.

Eden said, "You look very confident. However, I always trust my husband."

"Humph! Victor? After you die, he will be no different from a dead person either. There's no need for me to deal with him anymore."

"Do you know why our Simpson family suddenly came back?" Chelsea suddenly asked, lowering her body slightly. The fragrance on her body was not strong, but Eden could tell it was a limited edition from a famous brand.

Victor also bought her one before, which smelled lighter than hers. Eden pretended to be unaware and shook her head.

"It seems that Victor really cares about you. Didn't he tell the things between our families?"

Do you know the street where your company is currently in? It belongs to our Simpson family, but the Alwynn family took it away. This time, we are back to get what is supposed to be ours. I don't care about Victor, no matter who he is. What I want are money and power.

As long as I have money, I can get whoever I want." She would not be like Dahlia, who lost her life for Victor.

Eden's eyes flashed. She smiled and asked, "Other than this matter, I would like to know that after capturing me, who would be the next that you want to attach?"

"Of course it's your three children. I heard that your three children are very amazing, and you are very proud of them. Unfortunately, you sent them away already. So you have been playing dumb in front of me. Victor cares about your safety so much, so how can he not tell you about the things between our families?" After saying that, Chelsea kicked Eden's waist with her high heels and stepped on it hard.

Eden gritted her teeth without making any sounds.

The stronger she was, the more Chelsea wanted to break her arrogant dignity.

No matter how painful it was, Eden still maintained her brilliant smile so that she could destroy Chelsea's last self-esteem.

Chelsea grew angrier as she looked at Eden's smile. She stepped harder and harder on Eden's belly, and Eden seemed to have smelled blood.

"Even if you hide those three little b*stards, I will still be able to find them. After that, I will send them over to reunite with you. I think that you will definitely be grateful to me."

"You... don't even think of touching my children," Eden said word by word, gritting her teeth hard.

"Haha... this isn't something you can decide."

Just at this moment, a bodyguard came over in a panic. "Miss Simpson, it's time to leave now. There are many cars coming here."

"What? How come?" She stared at the bodyguard. She did not believe that Victor would find her so soon.

Chapter 1609

"There are not only a lot of cars coming this way but also the police. There are helicopters in the air as well."

Hearing this, Eden smiled.

"What? The police?!" Chelsea cast a sharp gaze on Eden, who was smiling. She felt there was something wrong, but she couldn't tell what it was. "Victor dares to call the police. Isn't he afraid that something might happen to Eden?"

Did she underestimate him?

"We don't have much time now. You'd better get off the boat quickly." The bodyguard looked anxious. All the cars were rushing here very quickly, and it could be no one else except for Victor.

Chelsea snorted looked at Eden. "How can I leave without seeing her die?"

"Miss Simpson, we can take her away first. After everything is settled down, you still can torture her. " The bodyguard looked very anxious. If he was caught by the police, he would be put in prison for a long time.

All of them had criminal records before, and they were helping the Simpson family now just because of money.

But if they were caught by the police, they could no longer live such a happy life anymore.

"Well, you take her away now and call me after you settle down. I have to witness it when she dies." Chelsea was not stupid. She still knew what was more important at this moment.

When she was about to turn around and leave, Eden stopped her. "Chelsea, I didn't expect that you were such a coward. Are you afraid of the police? Don't you want to kill me? Come on, do it now. If you run away like this, I will laugh at you for the rest of my life."

Eden's words successfully made Chelsea stop.

The bodyguard could tell that Eden was just trying to drag them with her.

He took a step forward and slapped hard in Eden's face.

"B*tch, are you trying to play tricks on us? Do you want to drag Miss Simpson into this? How stupid you are! Let me tell you, no one who boarded this ship can leave alive."

Eden was dazzled by his slap. Some blood flowed from the corner of her mouth and her pale cheeks instantly swelled up.

She could not help but cough. This man was so strong that he almost fainted.

Chelsea looked at her and could not help but ridicule, "Eden, are you planning to take me down with you?"

Eden squinted at her and said in an even more sarcastic tone, "Do you think you deserve that?"

"You..."

"Miss Simpson, don't waste time anymore. She is doing this on purpose. When the police arrive, none of us can leave." The bodyguard was a little speechless.

What was Mr. Simpson thinking? Why would he want such a stupid girl to inherit the family business?

What could she do?

However, her sister was much different.

Although her father didn't like her sister, they still had to admit that she was a very clever person.

"I will keep you alive for now." Chelsea did not dare to delay any longer. She quickly said it and left.

Eden shook her head. Her pale face had already turned purple from the cold and she also felt a little dizzy.

In order not to let her escape, Chelsea took off her jacket. Now that she was only wearing a sweater, making her feel freezing.

Just as Chelsea was about to open the door in front of her and run away, the door was smashed open by armed police with a loud bang.

A group of policemen rushed in, then, Victor also followed them in.

Chelsea let out a sharp scream and her entire body froze on the spot.

Victor's black eyes were cold and sharp. When he passed Chelsea, he kicked her to the ground heavily.

This kick made Chelsea almost passed out. She screamed loudly and covered her belly in pain.

Seeing this, the bodyguard looked at Victor in horror. He did not expect them to be so fast at all.

But he quickly came to his senses and wanted to grab Eden as a hostage.

Victor seemed to know what he was thinking. At the moment when he just moved his feet, Victor quickly jumped up and kicked the bodyguard to the ground as well. Then he was pinned down by the police immediately.

Eden looked at the tall and strong figure in front of her and finally used the last amount of her strength. She forced a faint smile on her face and then slowly passed out.

Victor looked over and his whole body trembled. "Eden!"

When he reached her cold body, his heart hurt even more. He quickly untied the rope on her, took off his coat, and wrapped it around her weak body. He picked up Eden and glanced at Brian.

Brian nodded and indicated to him that he could leave first, and he would take care of the rest.

Chelsea watched Victor leave with Eden in his arms, and her gaze gradually became desperate.

Only then did she remember that when she brought people to take Eden, Eden said that she only wanted to have a peaceful New Year with her husband.

She thought Eden was scared, but now that she released Eden was only telling her the truth that she would have a peaceful New Year with Victor no matter what she tried to do.

Eden clearly knew that Dahlia and Irving were involved in this, but she only went after her. It turned out that her purpose was to wait for her to fall into their trap today.

No matter how wise and brave Victor was, he would not be able to destroy the Simpson family over a night.

Therefore, the easiest way would be to completely break the power of their family down.

Now the Simpson family already fell apart, and everyone was holding different shares. It would not be hard for Victor to totally defeat the Simpson family right now.

Chelsea was the most favored daughter in her father's heart, so it was such a wise move to take her down first.

Eden knew that she was arrogant and could not stand being humiliated, so she deliberately humiliated her in front of so many people, and even slapped her in public.

Then Eden successfully made her angry.

Thinking of this, Chelsea couldn't help but laugh. Even if she had to fall, she would want to fall with dignity.

This time, she couldn't blame anyone else that she had been trapped by Eden and was not aware of it at all. It was herself who had ruined her own life this time. She had really underestimated them.

Living in such a big family, she always understood that no one would care about her except for herself. Others would only respect her when she became strong.

Therefore, she used her brothers and sisters to get to her position today. She became the child that her father loved the most. She could do whatever she wanted at home, but she did not expect that her life would be ruined by Eden today.

Chelsea and the others on the boat were all taken away.

Chapter 1610

Victor took Eden to the hospital as fast as he could.

The doctor had a full body check-up on her, luckily, she didn't have any severe wounds. It was just the wound on her belly was a little serious. But after the treatment, she should be able to get better very soon.

Eden did not wake up until the next morning.

When she opened her eyes, she already realized that she was in the hospital because she smelled the disinfectant. She looked around and suddenly saw Victor's deep eyes.

He was sitting by her bed, looking very pale. He must not sleep at all the whole night.

He just kept staring at her silently without saying anything.

His jaw tightened, and his serious face made Eden a little scared.

There was a faint trace of anger in his dark eyes.

She could tell that he already knew about everything, so she slowly looked away nervously.

However, his sharp eyes followed her. Even if she lowered her head, she could still feel the anger from him.

She smiled weakly and said in a hoarse voice, "Why are you looking at me like this?"

Victor still didn't speak, and his eyes didn't move away either.

Eden felt more nervous. She glanced at him quickly and realized that he was truly angry this time.

It seemed that nothing could save her anymore.

Originally, she had planned to go through the legal process with Chelsea.

However, Chelsea was more stupid than she thought. What happened the night before was in her plan, but just happened slightly earlier. Even if she did not do this, Chelsea would still attack her. It was just a matter of time.

She thought that everything would happen after the New Year, but she did not know that her slap totally provoked Chelsea, and made her unable to wait any longer.

"I... I'll sleep for a bit longer. If you're sleepy, just lie down and sleep for a while. I'm fine now." After saying that, Eden turned over. She couldn't help glancing at Victor who didn't even blink and intended to just play dumb.

However, as soon as she turned over, a muffled angry voice came from the top of her head, "You are brave now, aren't you?"

This was the first thing Victor had said since last night.

Eden paused for a moment before turning around to look at him. The fluster and nervousness on her face were very obvious.

She knew she could never lie or do anything bad because her face would sell her straight away.

She carefully reached out and gently pulled Victor's sleeve. She looked at him with her bright and pitiful eyes. "Hey, Victor, I am sorry."

Victor closed his eyes quickly. Even though he knew that she did it on purpose, he still felt that her soft voice melt his heart.

But this time, he would not let her go easily. She had planned such a dangerous thing in secret.

Eden looked at him indifferently. Her eyes looked so bright and innocent. Under the light, her beautiful face shone even brighter.

Victor suppressed the heat all over his body.

"Vic, I'm hungry!" Eden said sweetly. However, Victor didn't seem to buy it at all. She was getting more flustered.

She must have frightened him this time. Actually, she did not expect Chelsea to be so impatient.

It was much faster than she had imagined.

Victor still looked indifferent.

"Honey, I'll make you dumplings tonight."

Hearing this, Victor was a little speechless. Did she think she could get away with it so easily?

"Honey, I'll give you a good massage tonight then."

Victor seemed to be a little tempted this time, but his face remained the same.

Eden started getting a little annoyed when she saw that he didn't seem to buy anything.

Anyway, it was her fault, so she would just put up with it.

"Darling, do you want to go for a date tonight?"

Victor still hadn't said anything. Would she really give him a massage and even go on a date with him?

He did not really believe it.

"Honey, I promise you that I'll listen to whatever you say in the future."

Victor snorted in his heart. She always said it, but she would never follow her words. So he would not listen to it anymore.

"My dear, I will spend every minute and second in my life with you in the future!"

Hearing this, Victor's face gradually looked better.

"Darling, I only have eyes for you. Ever since I met you, I just can't see anyone else anymore."

Victor had totally lost his words.

Eden even felt that she had never been this cheesy before in her whole life.

Victor was overjoyed to hear that, but he still kept a straight face. He knew if he forgave her so quickly, she would be worse in the future.

"Are we going on a date tonight then?"

"Yes!" Eden nodded quickly. As long as he stopped being angry with her, she would do anything he wanted.

"You're in charge of everything tonight."

"Sure!" Eden blushed and nodded. She was totally fine with it as long as he didn't care.

She was not fully recovered yet anyway.

"You have to listen to everything I say in the future."

"Yes!" Eden nodded again.

"From now on, spend every minute in your life with me."

"Yes, 24 hours a day," Eden promised seriously, looking really cute in Victor's eyes.

"What about now?" Victor looked at her and said meaningfully.

Eden sat up happily. She knew him very well, so she knew exactly what he meant.

She slowly pressed her soft lips onto his and stayed there for a while before she moved away.

Victor finally raised his lips with satisfaction, and his gentle eyes were as bright as the stars in the sky.

"Do you know how scared I was last night? After figuring out what you did, I wished that I could fly to you instantly. You are so naughty." There was anxiety in his spoiled tone.

"I understand. But I trust you. I know you won't let anything happen to me."

She was also very scared. After all, those bodyguards were all outlaws. She could not afford to lose at all.

However, she still trusted him so much.

Victor lowered his head and gently kissed her on the cheek. Smelling her scent, he finally felt at ease.

Eden asked, "What will happen to Chelsea?"

Victor's expression suddenly changed and he said in a sharp tone, "She will be in jail. They found some prohibited goods on that ship and her bodyguards all had criminal records. The Simpson family is not simple, so it is impossible to uproot them all at once. It's very dangerous for you to do this. You have sent one of them to the prison this time, but there are still several of them out there."

"I know. I won't be so reckless anymore. I've said it, I'll listen to you." Eden looked very obedient, which made Victor unable to refute.

"I hope you can keep your promise, and don't do such a dangerous thing again. I will deal with the affairs of the Simpson family." Victor looked at her with his dark eyes. He wouldn't want her to risk her life anymore.

"I know! Can I be discharged from the hospital now?" She felt that she was totally fine even though there was still a little pain on her face, and the wound on her belly should not be serious.

"Yes. We can go home and change the dressing every day." Victor helped her to get the shoes. After Eden put them on, they went home.

In Dahlia's apartment.

After returning from the auction, Dahlia had been in a particularly bad mood. She hadn't left her apartment nor turned on her phone ever since.

She sat on the sofa and looked at the ceiling with her angry face.

At this time, someone suddenly knocked on the door.

She got up slowly and went to open the door.
