

Gluey Love 1831

Chapter 1831

Maureen smiled and looked at Eden who had her hair cut.

She looked young for her age. Her hair was dyed, which made her skin look even fairer.

"Thank you! The shot hair suits you very well."

"Thank you!" Eden also smiled.

Maureen glanced at her husband behind her, "We have something to do tonight, so we'll leave first."

"Goodbye!" Eden smiled faintly. She felt that Maureen had changed a lot. Her eyes were no longer scheming, but peaceful and relieved. Moreover, she was frank when she looked at others.

Her maternal instinct made her very gentle.

Maureen took a few steps and then turned around to look at Eden, saying with a smile, "Eden, I'm sorry. I was too childish before, and I hurt you."

"In fact, I always want to see Jasper, but unfortunately, I don't have the courage to face him. In the past, I was just unwilling because I couldn't get him. It was not love."

"If you see him, please tell him that I have a good life now, and I'm sorry for him! During that time, he was very tired and even had a car accident because of me. If I could have changed my mind earlier, those things wouldn't have happened."

Eden nodded slightly, "I will tell him when I see him."

"Thank you!" Maureen turned around with a smile. Not far away, her husband came over, put his arms around her waist and smiled at Eden. Then they walked to the cash register.

"Eden, isn't that Maureen? Did she say anything rude to you?" Victor stood beside her and asked.

Eden shook her head slightly and looked up. His face darkened, so she said with a smile, "No, Maureen has married a foreigner, and she has been pregnant for several months."

"Really?" Victor did not expect that Maureen would give up Jasper so easily.

It seemed that she didn't really love him!

"Yes, I didn't expect that Maureen would get married so soon, but I want to congratulate her. Everyone makes mistakes in life."

"You were almost killed by your own kindness. Can't you be more vigilant?" Victor pinched her delicate nose.

Eden slapped away his hand, "No! Don't pinch my nose. It's uncomfortable."

Eden suddenly looked up at him, "As long as you're vigilant. With your care and protection, I don't have to do anything."

However, she found that compared with the past, he was no longer fierce.

Men would treat their beloved women considerately and gave them a carefree life.

He would definitely change himself for his beloved woman.

Victor had become gentler and more humane for her, which was enough.

"Ha-ha... I don't mind making myself more vicious, but what you said makes me very happy. Let's go. Is there anything else you want to buy?"

Eden nodded, "Yeah, we need beancurd, vermicelli, a leg of pig and seasoning. Hurry up. We can only eat it tomorrow if we cook it tonight."

"Is it so troublesome?" Victor did not want her to be so tired, "Eden, it's better to eat in River City Restaurant."

Eden was unwilling, "That's not sincere at all. It's rare for Adonis to come to our house for a meal. I'll just be tired for one day."

Victor couldn't outargue her. Anyway, whatever she said was reasonable.

"Alright, we will do as you say." Victor helped her push the cart, and they went to the fresh area.

It took them an hour to buy everything.

It was almost nine o'clock when they got home.

Eden asked Victor to pack up the things they had bought, while she went to the kitchen with the leg of pig and pigskin.

While cooking the leg of pig, adding some pigskin would make the meat chewier.

Moreover, she needed to cook both of them. She calculated the time and found that they could finish cooking before twelve o'clock.

Victor put down the things quickly and went to the kitchen to help her.

Eden had blanched the pig leg and pigskin.

"Honey, let me help you. I know how to do this." Victor helped her sit aside.

Eden looked at him with amusement, "I've blanched them. Now I'm going to make the brine. Do you know how to do that?"

Victor was rendered speechless. He really didn't know how to do it.

"Honey, you can instruct me and I'll do as you say."

Eden got up and looked at him with a smile, "There's no need. It's not tiring. I will finish it soon. Just skim off the fat from the soup and cook it for about two hours."

"Alright." Victor helped her up. If he couldn't cook well, it would be a waste of her efforts.

Eden made the brine quickly and soaked the pig leg in it. Then she asked Victor to treat the pigskin with her.

Victor had never treated pigskin before. Eden scraped a layer of thick grease off the pigskin, which made him feel a little disgusted.

However, seeing Eden washing it seriously, he washed it carefully as well.

After finishing all these, Eden put some ginger, shallot, anise and cooking wine in another pot before she started to cook the pigskin.

After skimming off the fat, Eden went out of the kitchen and ate the potato chips on the tea table.

"Victor, let's watch TV. It will be cooked around twelve o'clock."

"So late?" Victor sat down, held her and turned on the TV.

"Yes! We just do it occasionally, so it doesn't matter. Besides, we usually have sex until one or two o'clock in the morning, don't we?"

After Eden finished her words, she blushed scarlet.

Victor smiled wickedly, "Do you like it? Huh?"

Eden knew that he asked it deliberately and felt a little angry.

"Honey, tell me. Do you like it?" Victor looked leisurely and whispered in her ear. Feeling his hot breathing, Eden trembled all over.

"Go away!" Eden pushed him with a red face.

"Ha-ha..." Victor's deep and pleasant voice made Eden think a lot.

Then he took her into his arms, watched TV and ate potato chips together with her.

A few minutes later, Victor took away the potato chips.

Eden looked at him with her watery eyes in a daze.

Victor rubbed her nose with his finger, "Don't eat too much, or you'll suffer from excessive internal heat."

"But I've just started to eat it. You ate it as well, didn't you?" Eden looked at the potato chips in his hand eagerly. She had not eaten it for a long time, and she still wanted to eat.

"Eat it tomorrow. I'll get you a glass of water." Victor wouldn't let her eat anymore. She would feel bad when she suffered from excessive internal heat.

After putting down the potato chips, he went to get some hot water for her.

Eden did not care. She picked up her phone and read the news online.

There was a lot of news, and she clicked on them casually.

When she was free, she would only read the news. She would post her new design on SNS, which was well received by people.

Every day, there was different news about different things. Just now, she saw the news that an old couple adopted an abandoned child and raised him up, and she read it very carefully.

After reading it, she wished that the child would get better and better.

Suddenly, she saw a title, and her face instantly became serious. "Adrienne, the eldest daughter of the Simpson family, betrayed her family and married into a rich family with billions of dollars."

Eden was stunned. What... was going on?

Chapter 1832

"Victor, come and have a look. The Simpson family is too shameless." Eden handed Victor the phone, took the water from his hand and sipped it.

Victor sat beside her and skimmed the news.

"They want to force Adrienne to show up and use the public opinion to let her give in."

"Ah..." Eden was slightly surprised and said mockingly, "Doesn't Barrett know his daughter at all? If Adrienne was so timid and cowardly, how dared she sell the company to you?"

In her opinion, Adrienne was quite intelligent and independent.

If she was afraid of the public opinion, she wouldn't have sold the company.

Victor nodded, "Delmont has a project in Lemmon Ctiy. Maybe they'll go there tomorrow or the day after tomorrow."

"That's okay. Barrett will not spare Adrienne. Although they have moved, they will be found sooner or later." They had got the marriage certificate, and nothing bad could happen to them again.

Grandma Clement was old, and she wished that all her family members could be safe and sound.

Victor narrowed his eyes slightly and looked puzzled. He was lost in thought, so Eden did not disturb him.

According to his personality, he would make full use of everything useful.

Victor did not speak. After a while, he picked up his phone and sent a message to Brian, asking him to cover the news.

Just as he was about to put down the phone after sending the message, he suddenly saw a message in the group chat.

"Guys, I will get married three days later. Welcome to my wedding in River City Restaurant. I've sent the wedding invitations."

Adonis said, "Sean, are talking in your dream in the middle of the night?"

"Adonis, I'm so happy to see that you're the first to reply to me. Be my groomsman!"

"No, I'll hold a wedding next month. I'm choosing a lucky day right now."

"Oh... I haven't had a groomsman yet."

"Let Brian be your groomsman."

Brian replied, "Are you bullying me cause I'm single? Humph!"

Adonis said, "You know that you're single. Maybe you'll get married as well after you become Sean's groomsman."

"Thanks for your lucky words! Sean, I'll be your groomsman."

Sean typed, "Okay, the bridesmaid is Aurora."

Brian was surprised, "F*ck! How did you persuade her?"

Sean said, "It seems that you're very delighted!"

"Of course! I was dreaming about chasing after her. She's a little cold, and it's hard to win her heart. I've tried various of ways to pursue her, such as pressing her against the wall. Our relationship is romantic, and I almost kissed her, but she's unmoved. I was even beaten by her."

Adonis said, "That's because she doesn't like you at all. How could you treat her so rudely? What did you say when you pressed her against the wall? Did you say that you wanted to go home with her?"

Brian was speechless. There seemed to be something wrong with his words.

Shouldn't he ask Aurora to go home with him?

Was Adonis out of his head?

Lucian said, "Adonis, stop talking nonsense. However, Sean, how could you keep it a secret from us? Shouldn't you share such good news with us earlier?"

Adonis replied, "Fine, I'd better sleep with my wife."

Brian said, "You b*stards bully me because I'm single."

Adonis typed, "Can't we bully you? If you're dissatisfied, just have a girlfriend."

Brian was speechless.

Anson said at this time, "Such an interesting thing happened when I was changing the diaper for my son. This is a big surprise!"

Brian said, "Anson, every time you chat with us, you show off that you have a son. I'll have a child one day, and I'll make you jealous!"

Anson replied, "Congratulations, you will soon realize how annoyed a child is!"

Lucian asked, "I have two children. What should I do?"

Victor said, "Aren't you ashamed to ask such a question before a man who has three children?"

Everyone felt a contempt for him.

Anson said, "Is it amazing to have three children?"

Brian typed, "It's said that people like to show off what they lack, but you guys are different. This is too much!"

Adonis said, "My daughter is crying, and I'm going to change the diaper for her. Sean, congratulations."

Lucian said, "My daughter is crying, too. I'm going to see her. Sean, congratulations!"

Anson said, "My son is going to drink milk. Sean, congratulations."

Victor said, "I'm going to cook meat. Those who want to eat can come to my house tomorrow. Sean, congratulations!"

Sean said, "I'll going to accompany my fiancée. Thank you all!"

Brian was dumbfounded. He had no child, and he didn't have to cook. What should he do?

He'd better go to work. Only when he became rich could he afford to hold a wedding.

"I'll go to the kitchen."

Eden got up and went to the kitchen. She could smell the aroma in the living room.

Eden was very hungry. She hadn't eaten pot-stewed meat for a long time.

She bought some other food. When the pig leg was cooked, she would add the other food in the soup. All the food would be very delicious the next day.

Victor looked at his phone for a while and discussed with Brian about Adrienne's problems.

Brian said, "I'll see if there's any scandal about Barrett, and I'll post it online."

Victor replied to him, "Paulina is Barrett's lover now. She used to be Irving's fiancée."

"Ha-ha... I know what to do. Just wait and see. Well, money is really omnipotent. Barrett is old enough to be her father. However, you've spared her several times. What do you mean? She used to like you very much."

"Do you want to disgust me?"

"I don't dare. I'm just afraid that you'll be kind to her."

Victor ignored him and followed Eden to the kitchen.

The pigskin had been cooked. Eden was ready to blanch the other meat.

"Eden, are you going to cook this tonight?"

"Yes, it will be ready soon." Eden was very fast. She always did things nimbly.

They kept cooking in the kitchen until one o'clock in the morning. Finally, everything was ready.

It would be much easier for them to cook when they got up the next morning."

Early the next morning, the news that Dahlia had become Barrett's lover caused an uproar on the Internet.

Adrienne was going to Lemmon City. She glanced at the news and put down her phone.

Without thinking, she knew who did it.

As a brother-in-law, Victor was quite nice. He even knew how to help her.

By the way, she had really become his sister-in-law.

She sent Victor a message and thanked him. Then she went to find Delmont's shaver.

At this time, Delmont was packing in the room.

Adrienne did not urge him, but packed what he needed for him carefully.

Seeing this news early in the morning, Dahlia was very uneasy and stared at phone. It was something to be ashamed of! How could she face others in the future?

Chapter 1833

Who exactly was it?

She had been dating with Barrett very secretly. Except for the previous butler, no one knew the relationship between her and Barrett.

Irving knew it, but he pretended that nothing had happened.

Yesterday, the new butler released the news about Adrienne.

He was really stupid!

Didn't he know what Barrett had done?

How could he say that Adrienne had escaped with money and married into a rich family?

He couldn't be sillier, could he?

If Adrienne was afraid of these things, would she dare to sell Simpson Group to Victor?

She felt that she was really unlucky, especially when it came to something about Victor. Although she had changed her identity, she lived in deep distress every day.

She glanced at the comments below.

"Oh my god, there is widespread news about the Alwynn family and the Simpson family these days."

"Isn't it just? I got up early in the morning to see my idol, but I saw news about such a b*tch. Quincy has come to River City. I miss his singing so much."

"Isn't Barrett ashamed to say that his daughter has run away with money? He has deceived so many investors and caused them to be homeless! He can't be more shameless!"

"You don't know this is Chairman Simpson's premeditated plan, do you?"

"It's said that he's the richest man in Z Country, but I don't think he's admirable. He has married several women, but now he even has a lover. This is too immoral."

"Hey, don't you know that? Although he has lost Simpson Group, he's still wealthier than ordinary people."

"Dahlia is so disgusting! I even liked her design before. I will never buy the clothes designed by her anymore. Trash!"

"One hand alone can't clap. She asked for it, and she has no bottom line."

"Bang..." Dahlia smashed the phone in her hand.

"Rat-a-tat..."

Suddenly, someone knocked on the door. Dahlia frowned. Except for Barrett, no one else would come here. Moreover, when he came, he would come in directly without knocking on the door.

Thinking of the news, she wondered...

She immediately sent a message to Barrett.

She bet on her young age and beauty.

No matter how pretty his other three wives were, they were foreigners, and she was the type that Barrett liked.

Otherwise, Barrett would not have given her a villa which was worth hundreds of millions of dollars.

Wearing her pajamas, she put on a coat and got up to open the door.

As soon as the door was opened, she saw Leilani who was dressed in expensive clothes. Her noble face was full of anger, and there was even a vicious smile on her face.

Dahlia's heart trembled. Barrett's wives were all malicious.

Each of them had a very nice background, and they had a feeling that they were superior to others since they were young.

Leilani wouldn't show her any mercy.

"Miss Grant, good morning!" Leilani greeted her with a sinister smile.

"Mrs. Simpson, what's the matter?" Dahlia smiled and said. When she saw the two strange men in suits behind Leilani, she was scared. She must try her best to stall for time and wait for Barrett to come to save her.

"Aren't you going to invite me in?" Although Leilani was smiling, her smile sent a chill down Dahlia's spine.

"Please come in!" Dahlia turned around and walked inside.

Leilani came in with the two strange men.

They locked the door.

Dahlia turned around immediately and glared at Leilani, "Mrs. Simpson, what are you doing?"

"What am I doing?" Leilani suddenly changed her expression and glared at her fiercely.

"Crack..." She slapped Dahlia in the face all of a sudden. It was so painful that Dahlia burst into tears.

But she couldn't do anything. She could only glare at Leilani.

"B*tch!" Leilani's pronunciation wasn't very good, "When you were in trouble, I brought you to the Simpson family and introduced you to work in R. K Group, so you could know Irving. I even helped his father and made you become his fiancée, but you couldn't make him fall in love with you."

"Since you couldn't win his heart, forget it. But I didn't expect you to be so despicable! You actually seduced my husband!"

"My husband once promised me that he would never marry another woman. Polygamy is legal in my country, so I had no right to stop him from marrying so many women, but it's illegal in this country."

"Ha-ha..." Dahlia sneered, "Don't worry. He won't marry me."

She became Barrett's lover just for money.

Barrett only liked her young body.

After the news was released, she would be scolded at the worst, but she could still live a good life.

Those people were just jealous of her.

"That's right. You're just a common people, so he won't marry you indeed, but you have ruined his reputation!" Leilani's voice was proud. As a noble lady in the upper class, she was aggressive.

She was taller than Dahlia, and she looked more and more overweening.

"Although you won't marry him, I don't allow you to be his lover. He has promised me, but he actually betrays me. I can use my shares to threaten him." After saying this, Leilani sat on the sofa leisurely.

She looked around this luxurious villa which was worth hundreds of millions of dollars.

How generous Barrett was! He gave the villa to Dahlia so easily.

Dahlia didn't even give birth to a child for him, but he gave her the villa. If he could give the money to her, she would have saved her son and daughter.

The more Leilani thought about it, the angrier she became. Suddenly, she looked at the two bodyguards and roared angrily, "Give her a lesson!"

Dahlia shuddered.

She tried her best to remain calm.

She looked at Leilani calmly, "Mrs. Simpson, you'd better think twice before doing something."

Leilani smiled arrogantly, "Humph! I don't need your advice. Even if I beat you today, Barrett won't dare to do anything to me. The shares are still in my hands!"

Dahlia was rendered speechless. She knew that in Barrett's heart, the shares were more important than her.

The two bodyguards had approached her. Dahlia retreated to the corner, and they punched and kicked her.

"Ouch... Don't beat me! It hurts... Woo-woo..."

Huddling herself up on the ground, Dahlia held her head and covered her face. Every part of her body hurt badly, and she cried out in pain. However, nobody sympathized with her.

Leilani smiled more and more happily. Dahlia deserved to be killed.

She gave Dahlia a comfortable life, but Dahlia actually became her husband's mistress! What an ingrate! Since Dahlia was so ungrateful, she should give her a lesson and let her pay the price.

It was not until Dahlia became weaker and weaker that Leilani let her go and left with her bodyguards.

Hearing the sound of closing the door, Dahlia was completely relieved.

Her whole body was in great pain, and her mouth was full of blood.

Since she was child, she had only been beaten by Victor and Leilani, but Leilani was even crueller than Victor.

"Woo-woo..." She whimpered, and her long hair was messy. After sitting up slowly, she cried and looked at the door with disappointment. Barrett actually did not come here.

This b*stard!

"B*stard, if I can't take away everything of you, I'm not Paulina!" She smashed everything around her crazily.

Chapter 1834

She smashed the things in the villa for a long time before she calmed down.

She actually lost the bet.

She actually lost.

Just now, she was thinking that if Barrett really came here, there was no need for her to be humble before Leilani anymore.

She could go in and out of the Simpson family as the hostess.

Unfortunately, she lost completely. She was treated as a mistress, and his legal wife beat her severely. Such a thing actually happened to her. It was really ridiculous.

"Ha-ha..." Dahlia laughed crazily and stared at the door in a daze. As expected, men were all heartless and mean.

As long as a man was rich, he could play with people at will.

"Victor, Barrett, just wait and see!" A crazy woman was the most terrible. Dahlia's eyes were like that of a devil who wanted to kill someone.

At eleven o'clock in the morning, Eden had almost prepared the lunch.

The Church family and Candace's mother had arrived.

They brought a lot of gifts.

Wyatt, Aisling and Grandma Clement came as well.

After greeting them, Eden went back to the kitchen and served the dishes.

Victor set the table.

Eden opened the pot. The pig leg had been cooked. It was soft and chewy. She knew that Grandma Clement would come here, so she cooked it for a long time to make the meat tenderer, but the taste was not affected.

"Eden, what is this?" Aisling came in to help her serve the dishes.

She was very surprised when she saw the pig leg.

"Mom, have a try first. It's delicious even if you don't eat it with condiment sauce." She had eaten a piece of meat just now.

"Okay, let me have a try." Aisling ate a piece of meat.

Then she nodded, "It's delicious! Your grandmother will like the taste very much."

"Mom, I've made a lot. You can take half of it home to enjoy it."

"Great! I like this taste, too. Needless to say, this is your father's favorite." Aisling was very glad. Eden was really virtuous.

Eden had been busy in the morning. She made twenty dishes, including salad, fried food, boiled food and steamed food.

Victor was shocked that she could cook so many dishes in one go.

The dining room was big, and the dining table was long enough to accommodate more than a dozen people.

After everyone sat down together, Victor took out the wine and filled the glasses for Wyatt and Harrison. He was going to drive, so he didn't drink.

"Eden, you are really amazing. You cooked so many dishes alone." Azariah looked at Eden and praised her.

Candace was very delighted.

Adonis held his daughter and did not want to let go of her.

Eden smiled shyly, "Aunt Church, without Victor's help, I couldn't make so many dishes." In front of outsiders, she naturally needed to praise Victor.

Victor looked at her and smiled without saying anything, but his heart was filled with sweetness.

"Yeah! The meat is so smooth and fresh. I once ate such meat when I was a child." Grandma Clement was very joyful. She didn't like greasy food, but the pig leg was soft, tender and not greasy. She ate a few pieces of meat in one breath.

"Grandma, but you can't eat too much. I made a lot of meat. Take them back and put them in the refrigerator. You can eat them slowly. If you want to eat them again in the future, I can cook for you." Eden said and put another piece of meat in Grandma Clement's bowl.

"Eden, I haven't had such delicious meat for a long time. Just let me enjoy myself today. I'll only eat vegetables tomorrow." Saying this, Grandma Clement began to eat.

Adonis looked at Victor and said gratefully, "Victor, no words can express my gratitude to you. I can only say that I'll remember what you have done for me in the rest of my life. From now on, my family will be loyal to the Alwynn family forever."

Victor looked at him and patted him on the shoulder. It was not worthwhile to promise like this.

"As long as you can talk like this, no matter how much money I have spent, it's worth it. We're friends. You don't have to thank me."

"Victor, I have to thank you. Over the years, although I have been working for you, you've helped my family a lot. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have survived."

Adonis lowered his head, looked at his daughter in his arms and then glanced at Candace, "Without your help, I would never see them again. Now I am very happy and content."

"I'll be back to work after resting for a month."

"There's no need to be in such a hurry. You had been in a coma for so long. Just come back to work after resting for more days." Although he needed Adonis to deal with the work in real estate, his health was more important.

"Only my head was hurt at that time, and my body was fine. My daughter and wife stay with me all day long, so I am energetic every day. Candace, am I right?"

Whether he was energetic or not, Candace knew it the best.

Candace glared at him shyly and didn't speak.

They chatted while eating, and the atmosphere was very warm.

After finishing the meal, Adonis planned to invite his relatives and friends who had visited him in the hospital to have a meal in River City Restaurant.

Sean would hold a wedding in two days, so Adonis decided to treat them half a month later. At that time, Candace would be in better health.

After all, she had just recovered, and he couldn't bear to let her get in a draught. He should dote on her as much as possible.

.....

In the twinkling of an eye, it was the day Sean and Margery got married.

The weather was very good. At the gate of River City Restaurant, there were pink balloons and several rose-decorated arched doors. Balloons were inserted on the doors, and the floor was covered with red carpet. These things gave the occasion an almost festive air. It could be seen that the wedding wasn't held in haste.

Sean was dressed in a high-class hand-made black suit. That day, he smiled more brightly and looked more serious. He look much more handsome than he was when he dressed in colorful shirts.

He had been welcoming the guests with a smile. As the groomsman, Brian smiled very happily and welcomed another batch of guests.

He had been smiling, so he moved his somewhat sore mouth.

He felt that it was really not easy to be a groomsman.

Looking at Sean's smiling face, he couldn't help but ask, "Are you that happy? You've been smiling for an entire afternoon. Isn't your mouth sore? My mouth is so sore. The creases in my face must have deepened."

Sean smiled and patted him on the shoulder, "Bro, it took me five years to pursue my wife. Do you think it's easy?"

Brian shook his head quickly, "It's not easy. I admire your courage and your patience. I just want to ask you one question. If you had chased after her for ten years but you still failed, what would you do?"

"What else could I do? Just keep chasing after her. As long as there was no other man in her heart, I would definitely succeed."

Brian was stunned. He tilted his head and thought for a moment. He did not know if Aurora loved another man in her heart.

Oh... No! He suddenly thought of a very serious problem.

He looked at Sean with a distressed face, "I'll be forty years old five years later. Would anyone want an old man like me? It's so f*cking hard. What shortcuts do you have? Help me!"

Sean patted him on the shoulder with a smile and looked at his distressed face. To be honest, it was really hard for them to get married.

He fully understood Brian's mood.

"Brian, in fact, I feel that it's quite difficult for you."

Brian was stunned, "What... do you mean? Why is it difficult?" He just wanted to get married, didn't he?

Were married men all so proud?

"Brian, listen to me carefully. On the one hand, you're impatient. On the other hand, you like Miss Parma..." Sean looked around. Seeing that there were not many people around him, he whispered, "Although Miss Parma is an illegitimate daughter, she is from the Parma family. You know the Parma family better than anyone else."

"Besides, Margery maintains frequent contacts with Miss Parma because of work. The reason why she moved out was not that her father didn't like her, but her stepmother hated her."

Brian nodded. He was not afraid of the Parma family. As long as Aurora had enough confidence in him, he could solve the problem.

Although his company was not very famous, he made a lot of money.

He was a lesser-known rich man, wasn't he?

It depended on Aurora's discernment.

"Is there any other news?" Brian wanted to know more. He met Aurora by chance and felt that she had a good character and an outstanding temperament. She was a little different from the other women he had met before, but she was aloof by nature.

In fact, he knew that Aurora wanted to protect herself with her aloofness. She was an illegitimate daughter, and she felt sad about it. Since she was indifferent, no one would dare to make fun of her.

However, the Parma family actually bullied their daughter like this.

Although she was an illegitimate daughter, she was of the child of the Parma family. Mrs. Parma used to be a mistress. Was she qualified to be so arrogant?

Brian was furious just thinking about it.

Sean shook his head, "I don't know. Margery doesn't like to gossip about others. She always says that Miss Parma lives a hard life. They got along well and became friends, so she invited Miss Parma to be her bridesmaid."

Brian smiled, "Well, it seems that she deserves my love."

"Do your best, bro!"

Brian seemed to have seen Sean's abdominal muscles which were very strong.

Why did he feel like Sean was showing off?

"Ha-ha..." He put on a fake smile.

"I will try my best." He didn't want to be single anymore.

"What are you whispering about on such a happy day?" Victor's voice came from their backs.

Sean and Brian immediately looked back. They saw Victor, Eden, Lucian, Amelia, Adonis, Candace, Anson, Abigail, Dean and Thalia.

"Wow! Did you make an appointment to come here together?" Brian looked at them enviously. All of them were good-looking, and their charm was natural. They all looked pleasant to the eye. Moreover, they were in pairs.

Why did he become the last single person?

Adonis smiled and said, "This is called tacit agreement. We met each other in the parking lot."

Brian was speechless and looked at Sean.

They felt as if they had been pushed out.

"Humph!" Brian turned around haughtily.

Sean was a little jealous, too.

Sean looked at them sourly and said, "I think it's better for you four to hold a wedding ceremony together. You've had children and got the marriage certificate. Why don't you get married on the same day?"

Hearing this, Adonis was amused, "Sean, thanks for your lucky words. Guys, why don't we listen to him?"

"Hey, who wants get married together with you? Our relatives and friends are more or less the same. If they have to attending a wedding with four wedding gifts, they'll complain." Anson was displeased.

"No, that's their good fortune. They have never seen four handsome and rich men get married together, have they?" Adonis reached out and held Candace in his arms.

Sean felt even more envious. Why did he have to mention that? Was he insane?

Victor said, "It depends on fate. Let's go in first."

Victor held Eden's hand and walked in. Eden congratulated Sean, glanced at Brian and said, "It's rare for you two to be so serious. You look so handsome today!"

Their broken hearts were comforted instantly.

Eden was right. Sean wore colorful and fancy shirts all day long. He looked really charismatic in suit.

Victor was taken aback.

He took her and walked inside quickly.

In fact, he was very jealous. Why hadn't he held a wedding?

He was looking forward to that day.

Behind him, Adonis and Lucian were talking and laughing.

Looking at Victor's back, Candace felt that he was angry.

She asked, "Adonis, what's wrong with Mr. Alwynn?"

Adonis laughed and said, "Didn't you hear Eden say that Brian and Sean were handsome? He's jealous."

Victor would even get jealous when other men looked at Eden.

"Ah..." Candace smiled, "Does Eden have any male friend?"

"Yes, she has a very nice male friend. But in addition to him, I guess that only we are close to her." Adonis's voice was very low, because Abigail was walking in front of him.

"I see!" Candace nodded.

The wedding was held on the top floor. Just as Sean said, there were only ten tables in total.

Victor and his friends gathered around a table, talking and laughing. They seldom had a chance to gather together.

Their wedding photos were played on the big screen on the crystal catwalk.

Eden looked at their wedding photos quietly. Margery was a model, and she was well-shaped.

Her makeup in ordinary times made her look very apathetic, and she looked very gentle in the wedding photos. She smiled happily and looked very human.

She was so beautiful and eye-catching.

The photographic studio made a short video for them. The video was edited very precisely, and it was like a romantic film.

They saw their sweet smiles, life in the kitchen and interactions in the room.

The scene that Sean doted on Margery was so romantic.

Eden finally understood why women all fantasized about a romantic wedding.

It was really romantic and pleasant!

Margery looked indifferent in daily life, but in fact, she was very tender and coquettish.

"Margery, I've been chasing after you for four and a half years."

"Is it so long?"

"How about me telling you the details?" In the video, Sean looked at Margery with dotting eyes.

His eyes were filled with affection.

It was a scene of them drinking coffee on the balcony. Margery was dressed casually.

She wore a pure white dress and smiled very happily. Sean was wearing a pink shirt. As a senior beauty consultant, his skin was smoother than Margery's. There were bangs on his forehead, and they looked like a perfect match.

The background music was very touching. It was really romantic.

"Then let's get married." With Margery's words, the music suddenly changed and they saw the scene when they took the wedding photos.

Eden glanced at Victor who was staring at the screen, "Victor, I thought about it just now. I want to hold a wedding like this."

Chapter 1836

A touch of excitement flashed through Victor's eyes. She finally wanted to get married.

He would give her a more romantic wedding.

He took her hand gently, put it in his palm and said with his eyes full of smiles, "Honey, I will give you a wedding that is more romantic than this."

His tone was very tender, tugging at her heartstrings like a feather.

Eden nodded unconsciously.

"Alright, I have never attended a wedding before, so I didn't think about holding a wedding. However, today I feel that women who don't want a wedding are a bit silly."

"Fool, this is the reason why I insist on holding a wedding ceremony. We'll be the happiest when we receive blessings from our friends and parents, as well as the support from our children."

"Sorry, Victor, I just thought it would be troublesome to hold a wedding, so I didn't think about it seriously." She didn't think as much as him. She always thought that as long as he loved her, she could ignore such a formality.

Indeed, that was what she thought in the past.

"There's nothing to be sorry about. Even if you think it's troublesome, I'll hold a wedding with you."
Victor took her hand and kissed the back of it.

Abigail was dumbfounded. She had glared at Victor several times.

Victor sat between her and Eden deliberately, not allowing her to talk to Eden.

Victor was more and more annoying!

The video was replayed. "Then let's get married."

The host smiled and said in a sonorous voice.

"Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the wedding of Mr. Oakley and Miss Hubbard. Today is a very wonderful day. On such a happy day, we gather together to congratulate Mr. Oakley and Miss Hubbard."

"We all know that not every love has a perfect ending, but Mr. Oakley did it. Now, let's welcome the groom and bride with great applause."

The wedding song rang out, and everyone waited for them to come in quietly.

Margery had no parents, so she would walk in together with Sean.

When they entered the hall, Eden looked at Margery who was dressed in wedding dress and wished her happiness sincerely.

She knew about Margery's past. Margery was once cheated by her ex-boyfriend.

If it weren't for Sean's persistence and patience, Margery would not have started a new life.

She suddenly understood one thing. No matter how the world became, everyone had a longing for love in their hearts.

Only by accompanying each other warmly could they live together until old age.

"Wow! The groom is so handsome, and the bride is as beautiful as a fairy. Let us witness what they have gone through from knowing each other to getting married." After the host finished his words, another video was played on the big screen.

It was a video about their daily life.

There were scenes of Sean arguing with Margery and caring about Margery, as well as the scene when they first met in Alwynn Group...

It was a short film, and many warm and interesting videos of them were played.

Margery was very surprised. She glanced at Sean and wanted to ask how he got these videos.

Of course, with Brian and Lucian's help, it was easy to get the surveillance videos in the company.

Brian was satisfied with the video edited by him.

This was the long-lasting love. There had quarrels, tears, separation and love.

On the big screen, Margery was a little aloof and overbearing, but Sean's eyes were always filled with tenderness. When they got married, Sean's gentle and loving eyes were still the same as before.

Eden smiled. In fact, as long as she had true love in her heart, her eyes would be filled with affection.

There was a great round of applause when the video was over. Everyone wished them happiness sincerely.

Margery was touched and shed tears, and everyone was smiling with delight.

The wedding lasted for more than an hour. After dinner, Adonis, Brian and a few other friends of Sean wanted to play games on their wedding night.

Victor was not interested in it, because no one could accompany Eden if he left.

Moreover, he thought about it. Sean got married earlier than him. If he bullied Sean that night, he wouldn't let him go when he got married.

In order to have a wonderful wedding night, Victor didn't want to banter and tease Sean anymore.

But he told Sean's friends how to banter him.

In this way, he could make things difficult for Sean, but Sean wouldn't know that it was his idea.

Of course, Sean and Margery were both his employees, so he would pay for the bill in the restaurant for them.

Sean was so touched that he cried. He had been working hard for Victor for several years, and Victor was finally moved by him.

Victor was always generous to loyal employees.

All of them had got his rewards.

Lucian and Anson went home to take care of their children.

After the banquet was over, Victor could not drive because he had drunk. In order to let Dean have a good time, he didn't ask him to send him home.

Victor held Eden's hand and walked back home.

In the end, Eden sat together with Abigail, and they chatted and ate. Eden was too full, so she wanted to walk for a while before hailing a taxi.

At first, Victor didn't want to go back. They could live in there.

However, Eden did not want to. She liked to sleep at home.

The street was brightly lit. The solar street lights illuminated the road brilliantly.

Cars roared past from time to time. The stars were shining bright, and the street glittered with lights. Such a scene was fantastic.

Eden suddenly stopped.

Victor turned to look at her and said gently, "Honey, what's wrong?"

Eden raised her head and looked at him with a smile, "Victor, carry me on your back."

Victor smiled dotingly, and his starry eyes were filled with affection. Her sweet voice left a glow in his heart.

He squatted down, patted himself on the back and said in a pleasant voice, "Come on. Eden, I'll carry you home."

Such a scene was so familiar.

His back was board and warm, giving her a sense of security. Eden climbed onto his back with a smile, and then he carried her at ease and walked forward.

"Eden, are you happy?" Victor asked with a grin.

"Yeah! We witnessed a couple's happiness." Eden pressed her face against his back. She could feel the warmth of his body.

"Eden, let's go back like this."

"Oh, it will take a long time for us to go back by foot! I am sleepy. Let's take a taxi after walking for a while. We need go to bed early, because we have to go to work tomorrow." Eden did not agree. Although she wanted him to carry her, she did not want him to be tired.

Suddenly, a motorcycle whizzed down the road and rushed to them in a high speed. It was dangerous.

Chapter 1837

Eden looked back and saw four or five motorcycles rushing towards them.

They wore black and green uniforms. Their helmets and even motorcycles were all the same.

The deafening roar made people feel irritated, and the passers-by on the road cursed them angrily.

But they chose to step aside because those people rode at high speed.

Victor felt that something was wrong.

Looking back, the man on a motorcycle next to them was trying to hit him with nunchakus.

Victor's eyes were cold-blooded, and Eden's worried voice came from the top of his head, "Victor, watch out!"

Victor immediately put down Eden and protect her behind his back.

Reaching out his long arm, he grabbed the other end of the nunchakus.

There was a sharp pain in the back of his hand. He frowned slightly, but there was a bloodthirsty smile on his face. He tried his best to pull the nunchakus. Then the man lost his balance and fell off the motorcycle heavily.

The motorcycle rushed out like an arrow and hit a car in the middle of the road.

"Bang..." The terrible crash was deafening.

The sudden car accident caught everyone off guard. The brakes were deafeningly noisy, and the tense atmosphere made people haunted with fear.

Eden was startled.

Victor suddenly pulled off the man, which made the motorcycles behind him have no time to brake. A man fell to the ground again. Those who had excellent driving skills drove over the obstacles on the ground. After stopping not far away, they immediately turned the motorcycles round and rushed towards Victor.

They hit Victor with the nunchakus mercilessly.

"Ah..." Eden covered her mouth tightly and did not dare to make a sound. If she spoke, she would alert Victor and he would definitely be at a disadvantage.

In an instant, Victor was surrounded by the motorcycles.

Victor had grabbed the nunchakus with bare hands.

However, he was alone, and those people kept beating him with the nunchakus.

"Bang..." He was beaten to a mass of bruises.

Victor's back was severely hit.

"Victor!" Eden had called for help, and her heart ached so much.

Dean received her phone call. After Eden explained to him, she immediately hung up.

When she raised her head, the glare of the headlights made her unable to open her eyes.

But she knew that the motorcycle not far away was aiming at her.

"Eden..." Victor's furious roar was earsplitting.

Eden only felt an intense pain on her arm.

Eden's heart was full of resentment. She just wanted to walk on the street with Victor, didn't she?

Would she die because of this?

However, the expected pain did not come. A strong man suddenly carried her away.

The person on the motorcycle was pleased because he was about to succeed. However, Aro's appearance ruined his plan. He was flustered. The motorcycle lost control and crashed into a tree not far away. He was thrown a few meters away.

Eden was dumbfounded. She was truly lucky.

It was Aro!

He could always save her life at critical moments.

"Miss, are you all right?" Aro looked at Eden nervously.

Eden shook her head slightly and flicked her hair off her face.

"Aro, I'm fine. Go help Victor."

Eden turned to look at Victor who was fighting.

The people on the motorcycles were obviously good at martial arts. They avoided Victor's attack several times.

Aro rushed over and jumped up. He quickly kicked over a man on the motorcycle.

Victor heaved a sigh of relief when he saw that Aro had saved Eden.

He would be at ease as long as Eden was fine.

From afar came the sirens.

Those men were shocked. They all turned the motorcycles round and escaped, not daring to fight anymore.

"Mr. Alwynn!" Dean braked, followed by a few luxurious cars.

Victor looked at him with sharp and cold-blooded eyes, "Bring them back! Don't let go any of them!"

Dean nodded, "Just rest assured. Aro, send them to the hospital."

Aro nodded slightly and did not say anything.

Dean left a car for them and then chased after the motorcyclists with the bodyguards.

"Eden, are you okay?" Victor walked to Eden in a hurry.

His eyes suddenly turned indifferent when he saw blood oozing from her sleeve. Without saying anything, he pulled her onto the car.

Aro got on the car as well and drove them to the hospital owned by Alwynn Group.

"Victor, how are you?" Eden found that the back of his hand was swollen, and his shirt was full of blood.

She felt so distressed and held his hand tightly, "Why did you just stand there and let them beat you? Why are you so stupid?"

Saying this, she burst into tears.

"It's all my fault. If we took a taxi as soon as we went out, such a thing wouldn't have happened."

Victor wiped the tears on her face with distress and stroked her cold cheeks gently, "Don't cry, fool. I'm fine, aren't I? But you scared me so much. Fortunately, you're all right." When the motorcycle rushed to her, he had no way to save her. At that moment, he was really scared.

Eden lowered her head slightly and didn't say anything.

Someone wanted to kill her all the time, which really made her irritated.

That person was even familiar with her. Who was it?

They arrived at the hospital and had a check-up. Fortunately, their bones were not hurt, and they only had some superficial wounds.

After Anton treated their wounds and gave them a box of ointment, Aro sent them back home.

Dean called Victor as soon as he entered the house.

"Hello?" Rage bubbled just below the surface of Victor's mind.

Dean swallowed before he said cautiously, "Mr. Alwynn, we've caught them, and we beat them severely before taking them to the police station. One of them confessed that it was a woman who asked them to do that."

"They don't know the woman's name, but she transferred a sum of money to them. I have got her bank account. Now I'm waiting for Brian's reply."

After that, he hung up the phone and sent Victor a video of those people being beaten.

After Victor watched the video, he put down the phone blandly and poured a glass of water for Eden.

After Eden arranged their shoes and put them on the shoe cabinet, she saw Victor's movements and walked over in a hurry, "Victor, let me do it. Your hand is seriously injured."

Victor didn't stop and continued to pour water for her, "Sit down. Your arm is injured as well, isn't it?"

He was very guilty. At that time, she was right in front of him, but he failed to protect her.

Eden walked to him and picked up the cup to drink water. She saw him talking on the phone just now.

"Who is it?" She asked.

Victor looked at her with a smile, "I haven't found out who did it. Those riders were caught and confessed a bank account. There will be a result soon."

"It's just a bank account. I'm afraid that we can't find out anything." Eden was deep in thought. She had been thinking about how to lure the person who wanted to kill her.

Chapter 1838

Victor smiled, took her to the sofa and looked at her arm. Almost every part of her body had once got hurt. "It's all right. As long as we have a clue, we can find it out sooner or later. You have to believe in Brian's ability."

"I believe him, but I really live in deep anxiety everyday." Eden looked at the red and swollen back of his hand. It seemed that they couldn't go to the company the next day.

Victor's heart sank. He knew what she was worried about. No one dared to hurt him except for the Simpson family.

"Eden, don't worry. There will be a result soon." His voice was a little cold.

Eden nodded and didn't say anything.

After chatting for a while, they went to bed.

It was a little cold at night. Victor didn't get up slowly and walk out with his phone until he heard Eden's even breathing.

He went to the living room on the second floor. As soon as he sat on the sofa, Brian called him.

"How is the investigation going?" Victor's tone was very indifferent, and his eyes were as cold as the dark night.

He and Eden suffered a lot that night, and he would make the woman pay dearly for it.

Brian said, "I did find out something. It's Leilani's bank account. However, the person caught by Dean is a native in River City, so this matter is a bit suspenseful."

Victor's face was full of hostility, "Take him and go to the Simpson family immediately. I'll be there soon."

Victor smiled evilly and stood up, looking very brutal and cold-blood. When he returned to the room, Eden was sleeping soundly. He lowered his head to kiss her forehead and whispered, "Honey, have a good dream. I'll be back soon."

After that, he turned off the bedside lamp and went downstairs. Four bodyguards were standing at the door.

"Mr. Alwynn." They greeted him respectfully.

Victor looked stern, "Keep this place safe. When Mrs. Alwynn wakes up, don't let her see you and call me immediately."

"Okay, Mr. Alwynn." The four tall bodyguards vanished in the darkness.

Victor drove away quickly.

In the middle of the night, someone knocked on the door of the Simpson family hard.

Barrett woke up with a start.

He immediately turned on the bedside lamp and listened to the urgent knocks outside.

His face looked terribly gloomy.

Taking the coat aside and putting it on, he went out angrily.

The butler had just got up.

"What's going on? Who is knocking on the door so late at night? Can I sleep at ease?" Barrett flew into a rage.

Devin lowered his head and said, "Don't be angry, Chairman. I'll go down and have a look."

As soon as he finished speaking, a loud noise sounded. "Bang..."

Barrett's eyes suddenly turned serious. He narrowed his scheming eyes viciously and sneered, "It seems that they come with bad intentions."

Devin was a little surprised, "But who would come here in the middle of the night?"

"Humph! Go down and we'll know it!" Barrett was furious.

When Barrett reached the first floor, he saw Victor walking in arrogantly.

Behind him was a large group of bodyguards.

"Victor, how dare you!" Barrett trembled in anger. What did Victor want to do in the middle of the night?

Moreover, he actually broke in so aggressively. He was simply lawless!

Leilani and others were awakened as well. When they came out and saw Victor, they all opened their mouths wide in surprise.

Sophie pointed at Victor and cursed, "Victor, you are just the richest man in River City. How dare you make trouble in my house late at night? You get too big for your boots!"

Since she was taken to the police station last time, she had been hating Eden and Victor.

Moreover, recently, SH Entertainment Company had been suppressed by Mirth Company, and it was about to go bankrupt.

She didn't dare to tell her father about this matter. Victor made a scene in her family so late at night, which made her blood boil with the flames of fury.

Victor sneered and turned his head wickedly, "Dean, give her a lesson."

Dean glanced at the two bodyguards behind him. The two bodyguards stepped forward and grabbed Sophie in an instant.

"Let go of me! What do you want to do?" Sophie struggled with all her might.

"Victor, you are just a bandit! You b*stard! Just kill me if you dare!" Sophie flew off the handle completely. She didn't believe that Victor would dare to hurt her in her family.

"Killing you will dirty my hand." His eyes suddenly turned serious, "Dislocate her arm."

Before Barrett had the time to stop it, he had heard Sophie's miserable scream.

"Ah... Woo-woo..."

"Sophie..." Marcia, who had just got up, was so frightened that her face turned pale. She ran straight to Sophie recklessly.

The bodyguards had let go of her, and she fell limply to the ground.

"Chairman, you can't just watch them bully our daughter!" Marcia cried and looked at Barrett pitifully.

Barrett glanced at her without saying anything. He had been very angry because Victor came to his house to provoke him.

How could he allow Victor to make trouble here?

Victor didn't take him seriously, which was great disrespect to him.

Besides, Victor had taken over his company. In his heart, Victor was no different from a bandit.

"Victor, don't be too arrogant. You broke in my house, and it's illegal!" Barrett roared furiously.

"Ha-ha..." Victor sneered, "Chairman Simpson, I'm so surprised to hear such words from your mouth. Since you know it is illegal, why did you send someone to kill me and my wife?"

"What? I didn't do it!" Barrett rejected instantly.

Victor's eyes flashed.

The others were dumbfounded.

Victor was very vindictive. Once he was offended, he would take revenge immediately.

Therefore, they had been behaving themselves during this period of time.

Barrett had warned them not to act recklessly.

"Victor, I don't understand what you're talking about. My company has been acquired by you. We've fought with each other in secret for so many times, but I have never defeated you. It's impossible for me to hunt you so openly. Don't wrong me. I'm a good man." Barrett walked to the sofa aside.

Devin immediately served a cup of tea and placed it in his hand respectfully.

Only then did Victor take a look at Devin. He should be the new butler.

Victor sneered, "Are you a good man?"

Barrett's hand, which was holding the cup, trembled slightly. He looked at Victor with sharp and serious eyes, "Victor, the reason I don't go against you is not that I'm afraid of you, but I'm not feeling well these days. When I recover, I will win you righteously in the business world."

"You have lost." Victor said casually. Barrett was not qualified to compete with him in the business world!

"You..."

"You're not qualified!" Victor interrupted his words decisively, "Smash this house!"

"How dare you!" Barrett's mad voice sounded, "Bang..." He smashed the tea cup with irritation.

However, his majesty and fury did not scare anyone. Victor's bodyguards had begun to smash the expensive furniture.

Chapter 1839

"Bang..."

"Crack..."

"Ah..." In the villa, the noise of smashing things and screams sounded together.

Barrett was dumbfounded. Victor really dared...

"Victor, do you think that I am easy to bully?" Barrett's heart trembled with pain when his beloved blue-and-white porcelain was smashed.

That... was his favorite blue-and-white porcelain. It cost him tens of millions of dollars.

"You b*stards deserve to be killed!" Barrett was so angry that he fell down on the sofa and covered his chest.

However, his words were useless. No one could stop Victor.

Victor looked at him quietly and didn't speak to him.

Devin glanced outside the door. When he went downstairs just now, he had called their bodyguards.

Looking at the car lights outside the window, he breathed a sigh of relief. Their bodyguards had arrived.

A minute later, a few fat bodyguards rushed in from outside.

Seeing this, Dean only smiled faintly.

He finally understood that the Simpson family had raised a group of good-for-nothings.

Barrett had never defeated them.

Seeing his own bodyguards coming, Barrett said with his sharp eyes full of harshness, "Throw them all out and disable Victor! Or I won't be able to vent the hatred in my heart!" With his bodyguards there, Barrett became much more confident.

Only by disabling Victor could he relieve the hatred in his heart!

"Okay, Chairman!"

Those fat men ran toward the bodyguards who were smashing things.

Compared with them, Victor's bodyguards were stronger, and their shapes were more perfect.

Victor was very strict with them. They must watch their figures. He wanted not only their strength, but also their safety.

Soon, they understood that fatter men were not definitely stronger and more muscular.

In less than five minutes, all the bodyguards of the Simpson family were knocked down. They groaned in pain and couldn't get up.

Barrett was stunned. These silly good-for-nothings! He treated them well in ordinary times and provided them with good food, but they were useless at the crucial moment.

Everyone was taken aback.

Only Dean smiled wickedly.

"You good-for-nothings! I let you eat well and live comfortably, but you're so weak at the crucial moment! What's the use of being so tall and strong?" Barrett cursed them helplessly.

The bodyguards were so ashamed that they wished they could escape.

Victor's bodyguards didn't look strong on the surface.

But they were all nimble and deft, and it was hard to catch them.

Barrett's bodyguards could crush a fish head with one punch, but they were no match for Victor's bodyguards.

Victor was very satisfied with the result, "Chairman Simpson, your family is rich. I don't mind you paying someone to kill me. After all, you spend more than you gain. I'd like to see how long you can live with your little money."

Victor turned around and left arrogantly after he said that.

Dean and the bodyguards followed him.

Barrett was so angry that his chest ached.

"Barrett, are you all right?" Leilani sat beside him with concern.

Barrett looked at his family members. None of them were capable enough to take on heavy responsibilities.

Phillip only had one son and one daughter, but they were both excellent.

Her daughter married the richest man in Southern region, while his son became the richest man in River City.

But his children still lived off him.

Thinking about the difference, he felt extremely uncomfortable.

"Tell me! Who did it? Didn't I tell you to behave yourselves these days?" Barrett glanced at them.

Everyone shook their heads. They all knew how miserable Victor was. How dared they play tricks on Victor again?

"No one would hurt Victor except for you!" Barrett gritted his teeth in anger. Ever since he came back, he had been living with worry.

Devin persuaded him, "Chairman, calm down. I'll send someone to investigate what happened tonight. Victor never goes against his principles, and he doesn't act recklessly."

Barrett nodded with annoyance.

Victor returned home, took a bath on the first floor and then went upstairs. Eden did not wake up halfway. When Victor lay on the bed, she opened her eyes in a daze.

Seeing Victor looking at her with his eyes open, she leaned in his arms, "Why haven't you slept?" Her voice was a bit nasal.

Victor smiled gently and said with tenderness, "I miss you so much that I can't fall asleep."

Hearing his affectionate words, Eden was no longer drowsy.

"You're still like this even though you're injured." Eden looked at him and smiled. She was not sleepy at all.

She moved away slightly and looked at his handsome face quietly.

"Actually, I miss you, too." Her voice was very low, but Victor heard it.

"Ha-ha..." He chuckled and smiled very brightly.

Stroking her red lips with his slender finger, he said, "But what should I do? My hand is injured."

"But your legs didn't get hurt." Eden was a little shy and said euphemistically.

Victor smiled more brightly, "But I need my hands to support my body. I don't want you to feel uncomfortable."

Eden was stunned.

"Forget it. Let's sleep." Eden turned over and wanted to fall asleep again. The wound on her arm was uncomfortable and she felt a dull pain!

Victor took her back into his arms and whispered in her ear with a smile, "Fool, although my hand hurts, it doesn't matter."

Eden blushed and her heart beat faster. She glared at him.

"Just sleep!"

"No." Victor was like a child who could not get his candy.

Eden couldn't help but smile, "Honey, if you're greedy for sex, you won't have enough sleep. Sleep well and you'll get better soon."

"Honey, you've forgotten that sex can relieve our boredom, and I can be in good spirits by loving you!" Victor said with a smile. Just now, he went out to give Barrett a lesson. At this time, he really didn't want to sleep. He was injured, so he didn't have to go to the company the next day. He suddenly felt that he would have a comfortable day.

Eden narrowed her eyes and looked at him, "Victor, it's said that a couple would have tacit understanding after getting along with each other for a long time. But why do I feel that we're not like this?"

"Why? We had tacit agreement just now, didn't we? I missed you as well when you were missing me."

Eden was speechless. What she meant was that when she didn't want to talk to him, he ignored her as well.

"Honey, as your husband, my way to get happiness is to hear you call me intimately. I feel particularly good when we have sex and you call me honey."

Eden was dumbfounded. Did they have to discuss this in the middle of the night? Moreover, she couldn't outargue Victor.

In this regard, women were really at a disadvantage.

For example, it was reasonable for a woman to spend a man's money, but it was shameful for a man to spend a woman's money.

When people spoke one way and thought another, it was a kind of disloyalty.

Well, she had thought too much. She'd better solve this problem first.

Chapter 1840

"Honey." Eden called him coquettishly and smiled meaningfully, "What do you want me to do?"

Thinking that he was seriously injured, she'd better listen to him.

In fact, she was a little tempted by his sweet nothings just now.

It was said that women were somewhat foolish in front of their beloved men, and this was actually reasonable.

She became silly again just now, didn't she?

She was willing to do everything recklessly for him.

It turned out that the feeling of proceeding without hesitation was like this.

Victor smiled charmingly. His eyes were intense and deep as he looked at her. She seemed to be telling him that she would agree to any of his requests. "Honey, I'll teach you!"

Victor pulled her with the healthy arm. Then she lay on top of him. He smiled playfully and said wickedly, "Honey, do you know what to do now? When you were drunk, you were really passionate. I..."

"You... shut up. If you continue to talk about it, I will get you to sleep on the sofa or... sleep in another room for a month." Eden interrupted him. How could he talk about such a shameful thing so easily?

Although they should be frank, they couldn't make each other feel too embarrassed.

She had been shy when it came to sex. How could he say it in front of her? He was trying to embarrass her, wasn't she?

It was said that a husband's sweet words could relieve the most of his wife's distress. But there were times when women got tired of sweet words. Therefore, sex was necessary. That was why she wanted to have sex with him and make their relationship more harmonious."

However, he didn't know what she was thinking at all. Instead, he made her so awkward.

"Fool, can you bear to do that? Can you sleep without me?" Victor did not believe that she would let him sleep in another room for a month. Anyway, he was reluctant to leave her.

He would sleep with her even if he had to pry the door open.

"You speak so much nonsense. Do you want to have sex or not?" Eden put on a straight face and glared at him with her big bright eyes.

"Of course! You rarely take the initiative." Victor looked very meek and obedient.

Only then did Eden start to move with satisfaction.

But her slow movements made Victor feel so uncomfortable as if he was lying on the tip of a knife.

"Honey, you can..."

"Shut up! I'm so tired." Eden regretted it. After all, she was really tired, and she was about to fall asleep.

Victor was speechless. He had shot himself in the foot.

Moreover, he felt so bitter but he couldn't express it.

In the end, he couldn't help but move on his own. Thus, they had a romantic and wonderful night.

Eden woke up at noon. She took the phone on the bedside table and saw the photos posted by Margery accidentally. She and Sean were on their honeymoon.

Adonis commented on her, "Nowadays, many people go aboard for honeymoon after they get married. After I hold the wedding, I'll take my wife to the moon."

Everyone despised him.

Anson said, "I have a dream since I was a child. I hope that I can wear sunglasses, drive my Lamborghini and spend my honeymoon with my wife at the end of the world. Now I've realized half of my dream. My wife is in my arms, and I have sunglasses, but I just don't have enough oil in my Lamborghini."

They replied to him with a contemptuous emoji.

Lucian said, "My dream is actually very simple. I just want to keep fit everyday so that I can be energetic and strong. I can spend my honeymoon every night."

Eden was stunned. She didn't expect to speak so undisguisedly.

In the eyes of the other women, Lucian was a handsome and graceful man.

This was the first time she had seen Lucian speak like this.

Looking down, she saw Victor's reply. "After I hold the wedding, I will take my wife to travel around the world."

Brian said, "D*mn it, you're all showing off. I feel so bad because I'm single. When I get married, I'll definitely do something more meaningfully!"

Eden was taken aback.

She had to admire them.

Just as Eden was about to get up, Alyssa called her.

"Alyssa, what's up?"

"Director Bleu, R. Z Company called me just now and said that they have developed a kind of new fabric that is very suitable for making high-end clothes. They want to invite you to the factory when you have time. They have sent the samples here, and the fabric looks nice, but we need to go to the factory to have a look."

Eden thought about it and said, "Let's go there in one or two days. I have something to do these days, so I have no time."

Victor's hand was seriously injured. She didn't want to go out and wanted to stay with him.

"Okay, Director Bleu, I'll talk to the manager of their company."

After hanging up, she slowly got up and washed up.

After putting on her clothes and going downstairs, she found that Dean had come to report his work. He bought lunch for them by the way.

"Mrs. Alwynn, good morning..." Dean was stunned. It was already noon.

"Good afternoon, Mrs. Alwynn!" Dean said, giggling.

Eden couldn't help but smile. She said with embarrassment, "Dean, it seems that I don't get up until noon every time you come to my house."

"Mrs. Alwynn, you're so lucky. It's a blessing to eat well and sleep well." Dean smiled a little cautiously.

Eden thought about it, and she was pleased by his words.

She was not lucky at all. She couldn't get up just because Victor made her exhausted on bed.

Therefore, when she took the initiative to seduce him, she was very attractive to him.

He had no way to stop loving her.

She was so charming that she wanted to reflect on herself. If she was less bewitching, she wouldn't be so tired.

Victor closed the documents on the table, "It's okay. Pay more attention to the Simpson family. Barrett is going to set up a new company, and you have to keep an eye on it."

He just wanted Barrett to use his money like this.

Barrett was indeed wealthy, and he was glad to see Barrett spend so much money.

"Okay, Mr. Alwynn." Dean left with a smile.

Only then did Victor get up and take out the lunch from the insulation can. However, Eden was no longer in the living room.

"Eden, time for lunch." Victor said, but she didn't reply to him.

When he went upstairs to have a look, he heard her talking on the balcony.

"Abby, don't be angry. Those women are not as beautiful as you. Although they want to seduce Anson, he only loves you."

When Victor went to the kitchen, Eden remembered that she had not applied the lotion to her skin. She went upstairs again and received a phone call from Abigail.

Anson ran an entertainment company, and there were many pretty actresses in the company. In order to become famous and get better acting resources, they all flattered Anson. Not long ago, Abigail had given a woman a lesson, but someone tried to seduce Anson again.

However, even if she didn't keep an eye on Anson, he would be loyal to her.
