

Gluey Love 1861

Chapter 1861

In the dim parking lot, Dulcie held a stick in fear. She plucked up her courage and hit the man's back hard. Seeing the other man rushing towards her, she hit him fiercely with the stick again.

The man fell down. "Bang..." The stick in her hand fell to the ground. Dulcie was so scared that she trembled all over.

This was her first time to do such a thing.

"Carlotta, are you all right?" She asked Carlotta in a trembling voice.

Carlotta glanced at her with complicated emotions in eyes.

"Dulcie, why are you here?" She was somewhat puzzled.

Dulcie smiled and explained quickly, "I am the design director now, so I have the opportunity to attend such a party. I was about to go back when I saw you being surrounded by two men."

"I was afraid that you would get into trouble, so I found a stick over there and came to you."

Dulcie had some lingering fear. She didn't want to kill the two men.

Trembling, she squatted down to check if they were alive. Fortunately, they were still breathing.

That was a near thing! She almost exposed herself, because she really hit the men with all her strength.

She was just afraid of being beaten them to death.

Dahlia had ordered her to hit them on their heads.

"Carlotta, they should be fine. Let's go." Dulcie's mouth was dry, and she wanted to leave immediately.

She was afraid that Carlotta would notice something amiss.

Carlotta was frightened at this moment, "Get in the car. I didn't drink, and I can drive."

Hearing this, Dulcie was delighted and got on Carlotta's car immediately.

Although Carlotta gave her a chance, she could not be too enthusiastic to her. She should have a sense of propriety so that she could win her trust again.

Eden was eating fried chicken and drinking beer with Victor, and she was on SNS.

Suddenly, she saw a vicious comment and frowned slightly.

The person said that she got famous because of Victor's help and fame.

The person even said that she was shameless. Anyway, the comment was so unpleasant that Eden couldn't bear to see it.

However, the netizens had wise eyes. They all scolded this person and spoke for Eden.

Eden did not tell Victor about this. The fried chicken was so delicious, and she would just regard the malicious comment as seasoning.

Victor found that Eden had almost finished all the fried chicken. Only a chicken leg was left.

It seemed that she like the fried chicken very much.

However, he was the same. Only a chicken wing was left in his plate.

"Victor, the fried chicken is so yummy." Eden's lips were stained with grease and tomato sauce.

Victor smiled dotingly and reached out to wipe her lips, "This is the fried chicken made in River City Restaurant. Of course it's tasty. This is the new recipe they developed. The fried chicken is crispy and tender. You're the first one to eat it."

"Wow! But we are always at home during this period of time. I have gained two pounds! Do you know what two pounds mean?" Eden looked at herself. Although she could not see her fat, she felt that her tight-fitting dresses were a bit tight for her.

Victor didn't notice that. He smiled and said, "You are too thin. You will be more beautiful if you gain some weight."

"Nonsense!" Eden would not believe him.

Amelia sent her a message to congratulate her.

After thanking Amelia, Eden asked her if Lucian had forgiven her.

She was so busy that she forgot about this matter.

"Eden, he has forgiven me for a long time. Last time, I saved him, and I slept for one day and one night because of him. He was so distressed. If he still did not forgive me, I would have run away from home."

"It's impossible to let him sleep in the guest room. If I lock the door, he will smash the door in."

Eden smiled and nodded. This was something Lucian would do.

Victor looked at her and asked, "Honey, why are you laughing?"

Eden replied casually, "Lucian is very amazing on bed."

Victor was speechless.

He was no longer in the mood to eat the fried chicken.

He narrowed his eyes and his face changed, "Say it again."

Eden was stunned.

"What?"

Victor was taken aback. He felt that she was mocking him, but she was not aware of it at all.

"How do you know that Lucian is amazing on bed?"

Clearly, he was very jealous.

Only then did Eden realize what she had said.

She explained with a smile in a hurry, "Victor, that's not what I mean. Don't get me wrong. Only Amelia knows that Lucian is amazing on bed. I mean that he is overbearing..."

"Huh?" Victor still didn't believe her words.

In order to live in peace, Eden showed him the message Amelia had sent her.

She was so obedient that Victor felt excited for no reason.

After seeing the message, he smiled and returned the phone to her, "Remember that your husband is more amazing than him."

Eden was dumbfounded. She rolled her eyes at him and continued to eat.

After finishing the fried chicken and beer, Eden rubbed her belly with satisfaction.

"Victor, I'm so happy now." Eden smiled and leaned against his arms. Only then did she remember that she had been busy recently, and she went home late every day.

They hadn't had sex for more than ten days.

Victor's heart ached for her and he didn't want her to be tired. He drank some beer that night, and perhaps he wouldn't restrain himself anymore.

"Victor." She said gently.

Victor swallowed. He looked at her with brooding eyes and answered.

"Do you miss me?" Eden stroked his handsome face gently.

Victor got sexually aroused in an instant, and his blood seemed to be burning.

He lowered his head and whispered in her ear, "What do you think?" His hoarse voice was full of charm.

These days, she had been so busy that she fell asleep as soon as she lay on bed at night.

He was helpless and distressed, and he felt as if he had been abandoned.

He had been living in grievances.

Hearing her seductive question, he really didn't want to restrain himself anymore.

He carried her in his arms and smiled lovingly, "Let's go take a shower."

Eden did not refuse him and allowed him to do so.

Adonis held a party the next day.

These days, Eden did not need to go to the company because of the fashion show in O Country.

Victor accompanied her to draw at home.

Eden slept until noon. After having a video chat with the three children, she got up and washed up.

Victor was very satisfied with his performance last night. She finally begged him for mercy on bed.

There were many reasons why a man got jealousy. Anyway, he was just jealous.

He didn't want her to praise any man except for him.

After Eden washed up, she slowly went downstairs. When she woke up at noon, her back and waist were sore, and her legs cramped.

Eden was very regretful and cursed Victor in heart.

Didn't she just say it casually? He made her exhausted again.

Eden took a look at Victor who came out with lunch. She ignored him and went to the kitchen to get some water to drink.

However, as soon as she picked up the cup, Victor handed her a glass of warm water.

Eden glanced at him, took the glass slowly and drank it.

Victor could tell that she was unhappy, so he did not say anything.

He turned around and went to the kitchen to fetch the mushroom soup.

Eden did not care about him. She looked outside and saw a familiar figure rushing across the window.

Chapter 1862

Eden put down the cup and chased out immediately.

The sunshine was dazzling, and Eden was not used to it.

She had been busy, but she didn't forget this matter.

The figure was very similar to the figure she had seen in the town.

Eden chased out as quickly as she could, but there was no one outside the villa.

She could only hear the sounds of the wind and the cars passing by occasionally.

Eden frowned and looked around carefully. There were bodyguards around the villa. However, they should be having lunch at this time.

Since the man could find this place, hide from the bodyguards and let her see him, it meant that he was not an ordinary person. He could know the movements of the bodyguards accurately.

Eden turned around and went back. Victor looked at her, "What were you doing?"

Eden thought about it and explained her doubts.

Hearing that, Victor frowned and looked out of the window. He did not find anything unusual.

However, Eden had always been careful. If she was not sure, she would not tell him about it.

Victor asked her to sit down for lunch first. Then he went upstairs to make a phone call.

He went back to the room and checked the surveillance video. A figure rushed across the window very quickly.

Judging from the figure, Victor was sure that it was a man.

Therefore, Eden was not wrong.

A trace of coldness flashed through Victor's eyes. Who was the man? Since he followed them here from the town, his purpose couldn't be simple, and he was quite powerful.

Eden watched him go downstairs and asked, "Did you see anything strange?"

Victor shook his head slightly, "No, just eat. I've asked Brian to arrange more bodyguards around the villa."

However, since the man could avoid the bodyguards and let Eden see him, he couldn't be underestimated.

He thought of Barrett. However, could Barrett have such a capable helper?

Although Barrett was born in a wealthy family, he was despicable and shameless. He didn't even care about his dignity.

From clogs to clogs was only three generations.

He was well aware of what Barrett would suffer in the end.

They sat down to eat. Victor did not say much, and Eden did not ask much.

"Victor, let's go buy a gift for Ari after lunch. After that, we'll go to the supermarket to buy some daily necessities."

Victor was thinking about moving. They had been found out, so it was unsafe to live here.

But Eden had a happy life here during this period of time.

Her studio on the second floor was big enough. She seemed to have got used to the life here.

Victor looked at her, "Eden, Why don't we..."

Eden knew what he wanted to say and interrupted him. "Victor, if you want to move, I don't agree. No matter where we move, they will find us sooner or later."

Victor knew she was right.

Recently, Barrett had made new moves, but he knew that Barrett was an expert in the stock market.

He had been wary of Barrett's evil intentions.

Therefore, during this period of time, Barrett did not dare to act rashly.

The shares he bought recently showed significant advances.

But Barrett kept an eye on the shares as well.

He guessed that Barrett would leave this city after converting the shares into cash.

He had lost billions of dollars here, and he wouldn't give up so easily.

His father was well aware of Barrett's personality, and he had reminded him indirectly.

"Okay, I'll listen to you. We won't move. I'll still work at home." Victor said with a smile.

Eden didn't think it was a problem. The company was under the charge of Dean and Lucian, and he could stay at home.

He only needed to hold a video conference every morning. In this way, they could have more time to stay together.

"Alright!" Eden smiled and nodded, "It's troublesome to move again and again. I like this place. It's quiet, and can I sleep in peace at night. But it's a little far from the company. You don't often go to the company now, so you don't have to worry about this."

Victor nodded, "I see. You're always thoughtful, so I'll listen to everything you say."

"Of course. I'm the most considerate!" Eden lifted her chin proudly and smiled very brightly.

Victor looked at her dotingly and laughed.

After lunch, Eden went back to the studio to prepare for the fashion show.

At about three p.m., they went out to buy gift for Ari. After that, they went straight to River City Restaurant so that they didn't have to go back and forth.

As soon as they came out of the shopping mall, it rained. It was colder on rainy days.

"It's raining!" Eden smiled and felt somewhat cold.

Victor held her in his arms. Seeing that her fair skin became red from cold, he held her more tightly.

"Let's go back. I'll buy you a coat. You can't fall ill." Whether she agreed or not, Victor pulled her back.

Eden could not dissuade him and could only follow him back.

She felt a little cold indeed.

When they came out at noon, it was sunny, but the weather changed so quickly.

They went to the clothing area. Eden picked up a beige coat. The tailoring was clever. She tried it on, and it fit her well.

After Victor paid the bill, someone called him, so he asked Eden to wait for him and went to answer the phone.

"Victor, I've investigated the person you mentioned. I only saw his back, and I didn't see his face. He is about twenty-five or twenty-six years old."

Victor glanced at Eden who was still picking clothes in the counter.

"That's right. The man Eden saw is about the same age. Investigate it carefully. Nothing bad can happen to Eden again." Victor's tone was stern.

Brian said, "I know. I don't want to torture myself. I will send more people to investigate this matter. When you go out, you should be careful. When you see anyone suspicious, heighten your vigilance."

Brian only hoped that Eden would not get into trouble so that he could date at ease. He would be very grateful to them if he could get married at the end of the year.

He wanted to get married as well!

After hanging up the phone, Victor walked to Eden. Then they went to River City Restaurant together.

Abigail, Anson, Lucian and Amelia had arrived.

Brian and Dean came together.

They met each other at the door, saying that they had a tacit mutual understanding, but Adonis did not agree. He did not want to have a tacit understanding with several men, and he only wanted to be in chemistry with Candace.

Victor agreed with him.

When Abigail saw Eden, Amelia and Candace, she only wanted to chat with them.

After driving away their husbands, they left together. Only Adonis was left to receive the guests.

They entered the private box. They all had children, so they had a lot to talk about.

"Eden, Ayman hasn't seen you for a long time. He misses you."

Eden didn't believe it. Ayman couldn't even talk. How did Abby know that he missed her?

Glenn could call her in a clear voice.

Every time they talked on the phone, he acted like a spoiled child, saying that he missed her.

They chatted for a while. Abigail thought for a moment and asked, "Eden, did Ciara come to you in the past few days?"

Eden shook her head slightly, "No, what's wrong?"

Chapter 1863

Eden knew what had happened last time made Ciara hate her.

Ciara and the four women were fired, and they must be exasperated.

However, they should focus on work instead of seducing a rich man. Since they didn't want to work hard, they should be fired. Money didn't grow on tree.

Moreover, she had learned about their working attitudes. They didn't take seriously indeed.

Therefore, she was not guilty and felt at ease.

She was not someone who liked to bully others with her power.

But sometimes, she really couldn't stand shameless people. It was better to kick them out than be disgusted by them.

Abigail was a little annoyed, "She has been fired, but she still wants to seduce Anson."

Eden, Amelia and Candace were all stunned.

They had a group chat, and they always talked about their children in it.

Abigail had told them about what happened in Mirth Company in the group chat.

They scolded Ciara harshly. After all, they all wanted to defend people they cared about.

Eden was surprised, "It seems that we began at the wrong end. If she's in the company, we can supervise her and drive her out. Since now she doesn't work in the company anymore, she can do whatever she wants to pester Anson."

Candace said, "As long as Anson ignores her, nothing bad will happen."

Amelia laughed and said, "Candace, you are too naive. Let me tell you a real thing. When I was in Love Sea, I saw couples eating noodles in my restaurant every day. A man brought three different women to eat noodles every week. Guess what happened in the end?"

Eden ate the peanuts while saying, "Was the man beaten by those women in the end?"

Amelia shook her head and said, "No. Just like Anson, he's a married man. The female colleagues in the company had been flattering him. He couldn't resist their temptation, so he took different women to Love Sea."

"In the end, his wife found it out and made a scene in the restaurant. They divorced after they went back. In less than a week, she took her new boyfriend to eat at my restaurant. When she talked about her ex-husband, I listened with interest."

Abigail was a little scared when she heard this, "What if Anson is seduced by that woman? I can't stand it anymore!"

Candace was somewhat worried, "Adonis is straightforward, and he likes to help others. What should I do if he meets such a woman?"

Eden was stunned. Adonis was too innocent indeed... But he wouldn't be as silly as before since he had married Candace.

"Girls, you think too much, don't you?" However, Victor was often pestered by women, too. In this way, she was not better than them, but she was not worried.

Amelia teased her with a smile, "Eden, that's because your husband has never made you feel such a sense of crisis, so you never worry..."

"Do I make you have a sense of crisis?" Suddenly, an angry voice came from the door, interrupting Amelia's words. Lucian's tone was a bit mad but very charming.

Hearing his voice all of a sudden, Amelia was so scared that she hid behind Eden and Abigail, "Eden, Abby, help!"

Eden was speechless. This was awkward.

Victor, Lucian, Anson, Adonis, Dean and Brian came in. Among them, Victor, Lucian, Anson and Adonis looked unhappy.

Dean pulled the hem of Brian's coat. He felt that the atmosphere was a bit strange.

They'd better leave here immediately.

Of course, Brian knew what Dean meant. He heard their conversation just now.

But he really wanted to stay and watch the good show.

"Amelia, come here. Let's have a talk." Lucian looked at Amelia with a gloomy face.

No man wouldn't be angry when he his sincerity was suspected.

Amelia held Eden tightly. Originally, they were just gossiping, and they didn't expect to be heard.

"No... I have something to say to Eden." Amelia didn't want to leave. Anyway, she held Eden and didn't let go of her.

"Abby, come here as well. Let's talk. I'm not the kind of man you talked about. Ciara has nothing to do with me." Anson's expression was a little mad. He had to talk to her about it seriously.

Abigail glared at him angrily and didn't say anything. An idea suddenly flashed through her mind, and then she said, "Girls, will someone take care of your children tonight?"

Amelia glanced at Lucian and nodded, "Yes."

Candace looked at Adonis, "Yeah."

"There's no need for Eden to reply to me. My godsons are not here, and she has a lot of time. Let's go to the karaoke bar and have snacks tonight. It's my treat."

Eden laughed when she heard that.

Victor knew Eden would be delighted. Abigail took away his wife from him successfully.

"Alright, I will go." Eden smiled and nodded.

Anson was stunned. Did Abby dislike him so much? Victor, Lucian and Adonis would definitely vent their anger on him.

Amelia said, "I... haven't been to a karaoke bar for a long time. I agree."

Lucian gave Anson a threatening look.

"I'll go... as well." Candace said. She didn't want to betray her good friends.

Adonis was very helpless.

"Dear, I didn't do anything wrong." Adonis felt wronged.

Anson, Victor and Lucian looked at him at the same time.

Did they do anything wrong? They felt aggrieved as well.

During the meal, Amelia, Eden, Abigail and Candace kept talking to each other. Although their husbands were mad, they didn't dare to say anything.

They were even willing to leave their children behind and have a good time. How could they care about their husbands?

Therefore, Anson, Victor and Lucian shifted all the blame onto Anson.

Anson looked at them and felt very disturbed. He was in deep anxiety.

Since Adonis was the host of the banquet, he brought Candace to toast to his friends and relatives.

But Candace took the chance to leave after toasting.

Adonis was dumbfounded and depressed. They talked and laughed, completely ignoring their husbands.

They would have midnight snacks, so they didn't eat too much.

Victor had been staring at Eden. When his business partners came to greet him, he just responded perfunctorily.

Eden didn't think that playing with her friends would make Victor unhappy.

After all, everyone would have their own private life.

However, Victor's eyes were too keen. No matter how dull she was, she knew that Victor was staring at her.

Not only Victor, but also Lucian, Adonis and Anson were all staring at their wives.

They were not in the mood to eat dinner.

The most dejected one was Anson.

After a while, he looked at Abigail and said with a smile, "Abby, let's go home. Ayman is crying."

Abigail didn't even look at him and said coldly, "I told mom that I would stay with my friends tonight. She'll take care of Ayman for me."

Chapter 1864

Anson was speechless. What the hell was going on?

When the four women gathered together, things were always out of his control.

The key was that his wife had invited his friends' wives to play outside.

Finally, the four women left arrogantly under the gaze of the guests.

Meanwhile, they could do nothing about it. If they chased after them and pulled them back by force, the guests would look down on them.

Victor looked at Anson.

Anson looked away with a guilty conscience, "Why are you looking at me? It was not me who asked them to play outside. Can't you even persuade your own wives?"

He wanted to say that they were all henpecked, but he shut up when he thought that he was henpecked as well.

"Come on. Let's follow them to make sure that nothing bad will happen to them." Lucian stood up and wanted to look for Amelia.

Anson looked at him, "What? Aren't you going back to take care of your children? You have two babies."

Lucian lowered his head to look at him and said in a slightly apathetic tone, "How dare you speak now? Can't you deal with the woman who wants to seduce you ruthlessly?" They all had to sleep alone that night because of Anson.

"What? Don't talk nonsense, and don't frame me." Anson couldn't stay calm anymore.

When other men were chased after by women, they would have a sense of accomplishment and superiority.

But he couldn't feel happy at all.

Ciara stopped him at the gate of the company that day. Therefore, Abigail was mad again, and he couldn't live a good life because of this.

His love for Abigail was so passionate. He was once disabled, but she didn't leave him. How could he cheat on her after experiencing so much?

He was the man who loved Abigail the most in the world.

Victor's face darkened as he said, "In the future, we can't let them be together again. They're really naughty."

Adonis said, "But we can't stop them from making friends."

Victor looked at him coldly, "Can you fall asleep tonight?"

Adonis immediately shook his head and said with distress, "I don't think I can fall asleep. I won't be used to it if Candace is not with me. You guys understand the feeling better than I do."

Victor was speechless. That was the truth.

They walked out. Lucian checked Amelia's location. His eyes flashed as he looked at the prosperous night scene, and he frowned slightly, "They didn't go to a karaoke bar, but to the cinema."

"Do they want to watch a movie?" Anson was surprised. Then he said with guilt, "It has been a year since I watched a movie together with Abby last time."

Lucian lowered his head slightly. It seemed that he had only taken Amelia to a cinema once.

Victor said, "Eden and I haven't seen a movie together for a long time."

Adonis smiled and said, "We went to the cinema the night before yesterday." He had lain on bed for too long, so he still couldn't walk nimbly.

But he took Candace to the cinema without hesitation, because she wanted to watch a movie.

"Hey! We can't forget our promises after getting married. We should be passionately in love all the time. When I recover, Candace and I will travel around the world and enjoy our life."

Lucian looked at him coldly, "Since you're not smart, you'd better live in a cautious way first. Didn't you hear Candace's words? You're just too simple and straightforward."

Adonis was a little embarrassed.

Did he really look stupid?

He was not stupid at all.

He just wanted to have a gentle, kind and considerate wife.

But he didn't expect that it would be so difficult to meet such a kindhearted woman, and he was often cheated by women.

It had become a stain in his life, and they all regarded him as an idiot.

Originally, Abigail wanted to go to the karaoke bar.

But they discussed about it after they went out. If they went to the karaoke bar, they would be sleepy in midnight.

What if they got too tired?

They said that they would stay up all night. It would be embarrassing if they went home at midnight, wouldn't it?

Thinking about it, Candace proposed to book a whole cinema to watch movies.

Recently, there were a lot of new movies, including the new horror movies.

If she went to the karaoke bar, she wouldn't be able to sing many songs.

After a discussion, they thought it was a good idea, so they took out their phones.

Abigail was responsible for booking a cinema, while Eden was responsible for ordering take-out and kebabs. She was a gourmet.

Candace ordered some drinks.

Amelia was in charge of buying snacks. They might not eat so much at night, but it didn't matter. They just wanted to enjoy themselves.

They finished everything quickly. When they sat in the luxurious cinema, the feelings was completely different. They were extremely relaxed.

Their feelings were totally different from the feelings they had when they watched a movie with their husbands.

At this moment, they set themselves free completely and even sat down in the postures they liked.

Someone would take care of their children at home, so they didn't have to worry.

They were focused on the horror movie.

Eden held popcorn in her hand while drinking the strawberry juice.

Strawberry was already on the market in this season, and it tasted really good.

There were a lot of kebabs, grilled shrimps and fishes on the table in front of them.

Eden took a sip of the juice. In the horror movie, a head had been cut off and blood gushed out.

"Ahem..." The bloody scene made her tremble.

Candace held the chocolate mousse cake in her hand. When she saw this, the cake in her hand almost fell to the ground.

"Ah... Why is it so bloody? Why is it... so horrible?" Candace was so frightened that she felt suffocated.

She loved and hated horror film at the same time. She wanted to watch it, but she couldn't fall asleep after watching it.

She would think about it over and over again at night and let her imagination run wild.

But she had three friends with her that night, so she braced herself to watch every scary scene.

Only Abigail and Amelia enjoyed the grilled fish at ease. It was spicy and tasty. They focused on eating and missed the plot just now.

Seeing Candace's pale face, Abigail smiled and said, "Candace, girls who always stay at home all like to watch horror movies."

Candace was shocked, "How do you know that?"

Abigail pointed at Eden, "She likes to stay home and watch horror movies."

Eden thought about it and found that Abigail was right. In the past, she liked to watch some strange movies when she did not go out to work.

She watched Sherlock many times.

She quite liked detective films and documentaries.

"Eden, are you afraid?" Candace looked at Eden.

Eden shook her head slightly, "No."

Candace was dumbfounded. Who could understand her?

But they underestimated this horror movie.

Even Eden could not stand it anymore.

The lines "I'll come to you tonight" made them feel a tightness in the chest.

The scenes became more and more thrilling and horrible.

When they were screaming, their husbands appeared behind them.

They were focused on watching the movie, and they were in deep fear. How could they pay attention to their backs?

Candace turned around to take food, only to see four shadows in the dark.

"Ah... There're ghosts!" Her terrified scream stunned everyone.

Chapter 1865

Anson, Adonis, Lucian and Victor were stunned.

They were not ghosts, were they?

Eden was startled by Candace's scream.

She looked back. When she saw the four dark shadows, she was quite calm.

She and Victor were familiar with each other. Although she only saw his outline, she could recognize him.

"Eden, let's... go back. It's so scary." Candace held Eden's arm and shivered.

Eden was taken aback. Didn't she see Adonis?

Eden patted Candace's back gently and comforted her with a smile, "It's okay. Candace, those are not ghosts. Ghosts are much more decent than them. Ghosts won't come out to scare people easily."

Anson, Adonis, Lucian and Victor were stunned again. Were they inferior to ghosts?

"Oh..." Candace still didn't dare to look back.

What she saw just now was too terrifying.

Abigail and Amelia looked at the four men in disbelief.

Why did they follow them here?

Couldn't they have any private space?

Abigail said, "Amelia, have you turned off your phone?"

Amelia instantly understood what she meant.

She gritted her teeth and shook her head. Lucian, this b*stard, actually tracked her.

Abigail said, "Alas, just pretend not to see them."

After getting married, she was no longer as expectant as a naive girl.

They were troubled by household affairs and mistresses all day long. Couldn't they have some free time?

The more their husbands meddled in their affairs, the more rebellious they became.

This was the human nature!

"I think so, too." Amelia agreed with her. She didn't even look at Lucian and continued to eat the snacks in her hand.

Lucian was speechless. He would give her a lesson after they went back.

Candace was dumbfounded. She raised her head from Eden's arms, "Abby, what are you talking about?"

Abigail was taken aback. She was really timid.

"It's okay. I mean, we women used to treat our men wholeheartedly, so we must enjoy ourselves tonight."

Candace was puzzled.

She didn't understand what Abigail meant.

Eden smiled and said, "Sometimes we don't have to argue. Just obey them on the surface."

Amelia said, "Eden, do you mean that we should resist secretly in heart?"

Eden said reasonably, "Amelia, why do you have to make it clear? We should live the life we want."

Amelia was stunned. It wouldn't work. She was cowardly in front of Lucian, and she couldn't go against him.

"Ha-ha... Eden, you are so brave." Candace smiled.

Eden said, "Let's continue to watch the movie. We've booked the whole cinema, won't we? Time will pass by quickly."

Victor felt that Eden had been led astray by them.

"Candace, let's go home." Adonis walked over slowly.

Candace said, "Oh, I seem to have heard Adonis's voice."

Eden was speechless. What a dull girl!

"Candace, are you scared silly? I'm here to take you home." Adonis's heart ached so much. Candace was so frightened that she didn't even recognize him.

Only then did Candace look at Adonis who walked out from the darkness, "Oh, it's you. I thought you were ghosts."

Anson, Adonis, Lucian and Victor felt so wronged.

"Humph! I won't go home. I want to stay with my friends, so I won't go back with you!"

Adonis's face was a bit depressed. The four women really could not gather together.

They were crazy when they played together.

"Candace, then I'll watch the movie together with you." When Candace was afraid, he could at least hug her and comfort her.

"No. How can we be in the mood to watch the movie since you're here? Hurry up and go back." Candace refused him immediately.

In the future, she didn't want to stay at home most of the time. She should come out and play with her friends more often.

Being disliked by her, Adonis was at a loss.

Anson, Victor and Lucian did not dare to speak anymore.

"Honey..."

Candace immediately interrupted him, "What do you call me? We haven't held a wedding yet."

Anson, Victor and Lucian became more timid. They hadn't held a wedding, either.

Anson's face was ashen. When would he have time to hold a wedding?

"I've made up my mind. I'll choose a lucky day tomorrow." Anson didn't want to wait anymore. Money was not as important as Abigail.

Victor glanced at him, "Humph, don't say that you're busy tomorrow."

Lucian said, "I'll choose a lucky day together with you."

Adonis said, "Me too."

Suddenly, Abigail said coldly, "It depends on whether we are willing to marry you or not."

"..."

They sat behind their wives with annoyance, not daring to make a sound.

Abigail, Candace, Amelia and Eden seldom stayed up late. At four o'clock in the morning, they were stuffed to the gills and felt sleepy.

They didn't want to watch the movie anymore and fell asleep.

Victor shook his head helplessly and got up to carry Eden home.

So did Lucian and Adonis.

Anson looked at Abigail. Abigail was the tallest among these women. Could he go out with her in his arms?

After standing for a while, he accepted the fact and carried Abigail out of the cinema.

After taking a few steps, he was somewhat tired.

"Dear... you'd better lose weight." Anson walked with difficulty.

"B*stard, do you think I'm fat?" Abigail punched his chest hard.

Anson felt a dull pain in his chest and looked at her charming big eyes in fear, "Ha-ha... baby, you're awake."

"Just carry me." Abigail glared at him and looked at the other three men. They were walking fast, and only Anson looked tired.

Anson was speechless. What could he say?

When Eden woke up, she only felt limp and numb.

She whimpered and moved her tired body slightly, but she felt limper and limper.

Eden looked at the sun outside the window and squinted her sleepy eyes. When she raised her head, she saw Victor's intense eyes.

She got somewhat mad and complained, "Victor, you... didn't even let me go when I was sleeping."

Victor smiled, "If you didn't wake up, you wouldn't even know what I would do to you. It's not my fault. After all, you looked so attractive when you were asleep."

Eden was speechless.

Seeing that she had woken up, Victor continued. He couldn't suppress his sexual desire anymore.

Eden sighed helplessly. Instead of struggling, it was better to enjoy it.

After the sex, Eden was so tired that she did not even want to move her fingers.

Victor was very happy and felt that all his strength had been used up.

If someone put a knife on his neck at this moment, he would not have any strength to fight back.

He tilted his head and looked at Eden's red face. She looked very charming when she was sleepy. He tucked her in.

He couldn't help but smile. Having sex was the most wonderful thing in the world, and he enjoyed the process very much.

After lying for a while, Victor stood up, took a shower and went downstairs to cook.

As soon as he went downstairs, his phone rang.

Chapter 1866

"Hello?"

Brian said, "Victor, Barrett let his butler register a new company."

Victor was rested and refreshed at this time. Barrett had enough funds. If his guess was right, Barrett would do something big.

It was time to tighten the ring of encirclement.

"Really? Buy the shares of their company in your name. Do you know what to do?"

"I know. Disintegrate his force little by little? That's my favorite thing. I'm lucky to be the president of a company, ha-ha..." Brian was very happy.

Victor did not say anything else. After hanging up, he went straight to the kitchen to make soup.

As soon as he stewed the soup, Adonis said in the group chat.

"Who is going to choose a lucky day?"

Lucian replied, "Has Adonis agreed to marry you?"

"No. She doesn't talk to me and shuts me out. My mother scolded me. Now she's teaching me how to be a nice husband."

Victor said, "You deserve it!"

Adonis asked, "Victor, why are you so annoying?"

Victor smiled proudly.

"I taught Eden a lesson on bed, and she's exhausted. Now she's still sleeping."

They had been used to it when Victor showed off his love.

Anson said, "Abby taught me a lesson, and I haven't slept now."

Lucian asked, "Did she ask you to kneel on the washboard?"

Anson was surprised, "How do you know that?"

Everyone was stunned.

Adonis asked, "Did you really do that?"

Anson replied, "How could I lie to you?" Then he took a phone of himself and sent it.

Victor couldn't help but laugh. Anson really knelt on the washboard.

Victor suddenly thought of Eden's words.

Then he typed, "Lucian, I heard that you are amazing on bed."

Lucian replied, "Just so-so. Last night, she gave in after I had sex with her for seven times."

Victor didn't dare to speak anymore.

Adonis said, "F*ck! Is that real? Lucian, I can't believe it!"

Lucian smiled proudly and glanced at the door. He was amazing enough to make Amelia beg for mercy.

Anson didn't want to chat with him anymore.

Victor locked the screen silently and continued to stew soup.

He couldn't ask Lucian such a question again. It hurt his self-esteem.

In order to make her company develop in a short period of time.

Dahlia had been visiting some clients she knew with Dulcie.

She felt quite proud because their products were being sold in several shops and sales counters in the mall.

That day, they had another special sales counter in the shopping mall opposite Victor's.

Dahlia had to admit that Dulcie was capable. The sales figures went beyond her expectation.

They came out of the mall and talked about what had happened recently happily.

Suddenly, someone walked to their front. They looked up and saw Leilani.

Dahlia frowned, for fear that Leilani would make trouble here. After all, the relationship between her and Barrett was disgraceful.

Leilani had known what Dahlia had done during this period of time very clearly.

Dahlia used to be a designer, and she was kicked out of the design circle because of plagiarism. After having a plastic surgery, she changed her identity and came back, but she still didn't behave herself.

She had Dulcie as her helper and set up her own company. Although it was a small company, as long as she could develop it steadily, the future of the company was promising.

Unfortunately, she got the money in a shameless way.

Moreover, she actually dared to steal five million dollars from her card and shifted the blame onto her. How could she let go Dahlia so easily? She was too naive.

Staring at Leilani's gloomy smile, Dahlia had a nastier and nastier feeling.

"Dahlia, I'll give you one day to return five million dollars to me. Otherwise, I will tell Barrett about this. Do you think he'll let you live a good life?"

Dahlia was startled, and a trace of fear flashed through her eyes. She understood what was going on.

She couldn't believe it, but she knew that she didn't hear anything wrong. How did Leilani know about this?

Seeing that she didn't know what to say, Leilani smiled with satisfaction, "But you should pay me interest. Give me thirty million dollars. Otherwise, I will expose your identity and let people know you're a b*tch."

"You..."

"I have something else to do. Remember my words. I want to see the money at this time tomorrow." After Leilani finished her words, she turned around and left without giving Dahlia a chance to speak.

Dahlia's face was full of anger. How could she have so much cash?

All she had was the real estate Barrett had given her. Although it was her own property, how could she sell it within a day?

She was a little confused. How did Leilani know about this matter?

"Dahlia, what should we do? She's too greedy, isn't she? You don't have so much cash!" Dulcie was anxious. Although she did not know what Dahlia had done, according to Leilani's appearance, she knew that Leilani didn't lie.

Dahlia sneered. Leilani asked her for so much money, which meant that Barrett had taken away all her shares.

"It's okay. I know what to do." Dahlia smiled. After saying goodbye to Dulcie, she went straight to Barrett.

Dulcie looked at her back and felt sorry for her.

No matter what, Barrett was much elder than them. Dahlia could even be with him for money.

Dulcie did not agree with her, but money was so f*cking attractive.

Dahlia was going to make trouble again.

In fact, her life was quite exciting. Carlotta began to talk to her.

Dahlia's trick worked pretty well.

While Dulcie was feeling complacent, Carlotta sent her a message, saying that she wanted to have dinner with her.

Dulcie asked for the address, hailed a taxi and went straight there.

Leilani did not go far away. Seeing that Dahlia had left, she called Sophie, "Dahlia went to meet your father."

"Really? Dad is at home. If she doesn't come here, I will go to her." Sophie sneered.

Was Dahlia worth thirty million dollars?

After hanging up, she looked out of the window indifferently.

Dahlia was really amazing. She could get so much money from Barrett.

As Barrett's children, they had worked hard for him for many years, but he had never bought them a villa.

Why could Dahlia sit idle and enjoy the fruits of their work but they should work hard for this family?

Barrett's every wife married him with rich dowry.

But Dahlia wanted to reap where she had not sown. It was just her wishful thinking!

Even her mother was the daughter of a well-known entrepreneur.

She married into the Simpson family with tens of millions of dollars as her dowry.

Barrett made the Simpson family rich in this way.

Sophie sent away the servants in the villa with an excuse and went back to her room.

In fact, Dahlia did not go to Barrett's house.

Instead, she went back to her own house and called Barrett.

After Barrett received her phone call, he asked the butler to send him there happily. He liked Dahlia quite much.

Watching Barrett's car leave, Sophie stamped her foot in anger.

Dahlia was really scheming.

Chapter 1867

As the famous saying went, silence was gold.

Ha-ha...

Adrienne called two bodyguards and followed Barrett.

Thirty million dollars!

If Barrett dared to give Dahlia so much money, their family would really be ruined by Dahlia. It depended on Leilani.

In the future, they might divide up family property and live apart.

An hour later, Barrett left Dahlia's villa with a satisfied face.

Staring at the check in her hands, Dahlia smiled faintly and put it on the bedside table. Then she looked at the bruises on her body. She felt so disgusted that she was about to throw up.

She put on her clothes and went to the bathroom in a hurry.

The door of the villa opened as soon as she entered the bathroom.

The check on the table was taken away, as well as Dahlia's ID card.

The bodyguard handed the check to Sophie.

When Sophie saw the numbers on the check, she trembled in anger.

Since she had Dahlia's ID card, she could withdraw the money as long as she had an commission certificate.

However, she would not do this. She'd better discuss with Leilani.

"Let's go back." Sophie ordered the driver.

Then, she called Leilani.

Brian smiled happily when he saw this in the dark. This show was even more interesting than he had imagined.

He immediately sent a message to Victor and let him treat him to dinner.

He couldn't go out to date because of this, so Victor should treat him to a meal.

Victor was in a good mood that day, and he transferred a sum of money to Brian without hesitation.

Leilani was rushing home.

When Sophie arrived home, Leilani arrived as well.

Sophie knew how ambitious Leilani was. She must have transfered all her shares secretly.

Leilani loved her son and daughter, and she would definitely help them.

Chelsea would be released soon. When they left here, they could live better than anyone else.

Sophie finally realized that Barrett would not give them any property, and he would just make use of them.

"What should we do now?" Sophie knew what Leilani was thinking.

She was extremely disappointed in Barrett.

However, her mother Marcia was weak, and Barrett could bully her at will. If they stayed, her mother would suffer.

But she had to take away what belonged to her mother. Since Adrienne could do it, she had to do it as well.

Seeing that she was anxious, Leilani laughed in heart. Sophie was really impulsive. She glanced upstairs and said slowly, "Your father will never agree to divide up family property and live apart."

She knew very well what dividing up family property meant.

Barrett knew it better than her.

If they divided up family property, he could no longer be the richest man in the country.

The richest family would be the Woods family or the Parma family, and this was what the two families wanted.

Therefore, they could only think of a way on their own.

Leilani looked at the check in her hand and said with a smile, "Send the check back now. You'll get fifteen million dollars."

She just wanted Sophie to know this matter. The reason why she asked Sophie to send the check back was that she wanted to use Sophie to give Dahlia a lesson.

Of course, if Sophie had the courage, she could take all the money. In this way, Leilani could achieve two things at one stroke.

The property should belong to her children. No one else could get it.

Sophie looked at her madly, "From this check, we can see that dad doesn't regard us as his family at all. We can threaten him to divide up family property and live apart."

"How naive you are!" Leilani lowered her voice and looked at Sophie's determined face. Sophie was rather adorable when she was a child.

"Sophie, if you threaten your father in this way, you will only lose more. Adrienne has taken half of the money from our family, but that's because she has Victor and the Clement family as her backers. Your father has no way to deal with her for the time being. But once he knows what to do, she will die a terrible death."

"Therefore, don't be too impulsive." Leilani persuaded her.

Sophie thought for a while and knew that she could not do it alone.

She went back with the two bodyguards.

"Brian, the woman is back."

Brian was eating fried chicken in the car.

Seeing that Sophie had come back, Brian frowned, "What is she doing? I thought she was going to withdraw the money. We can't watch a good show anymore since she has sent the check back."

"Brian, what should we do now?"

Brian looked at him and said with a smile, "What? The fried chicken is so delicious. Let's eat first. It smells so good!" After that, Brian continued to eat the fried chicken and watch the surveillance video.

After taking a shower, Dahlia found that the check and her ID card were gone. She became so flustered.

Someone actually broke into her villa and stole her check! It was so horrible!

She needed the money to shut up Leilani.

"Who on earth did it?" She went to the first floor madly.

All of a sudden, she saw Sophie come in with two bodyguards.

"Sophie, what are you doing here?"

As soon as she finished speaking, she saw the check and her ID card in Sophie's hand.

"It's you?" She immediately went downstairs.

Sophie raised the check in her hand.

"You shameless woman! Do your parents know how dirty you are? Life is so long. I'm afraid that this will remain an indelible stain in your life."

Sophie threw the ID card on the ground as well, "Oh, I've overestimated you. Someone like you won't be able to live until you have a son and a daughter."

"Are you... cursing me?" Dahlia went berserk. Why did Sophie suddenly come here to provoke her?

"Are you qualified to let me curse you? Remember how much money you've taken away from my father. Not only I, but also all my family will let you pay double price. We don't mind you paying the money slowly." She could get fifteen million dollars, so she didn't waste her time.

"Teach her a lesson! Remember not to beat her face. She had a plastic surgery and her face is quite expensive. We can't afford to compensate it for the time being."

As soon as Sophie finished her words, two bodyguards went forward, beat and kicked Dahlia without saying a word.

"Ouch... Woo-woo..." Dahlia did not expect that she would be beaten several times in this month.

"D*mn it! Brian, everyone in the Simpson family is violent."

Brian sneered, "This woman should be glad that she is in Z Country. If she was abroad, she would have been killed."

"But it's really easy for her to earn money."

Brian punched him, "Remember to be a woman in your next life."

"Hey, I won't be so lucky unless I can do lots of good things in this life."

Brian was stunned, "Is that so?"

"Well, I don't know. I heard it from my mother."

Brian was speechless.

Well, in order to be luckier, he might as well do more kind things.

Sophie left with the two bodyguards.

Blood came out from the corner of Dahlia's mouth. When she was beaten last time, she was not seriously injured. At this moment, she felt painful all over.

Looking at the check on the ground, she felt greatly humiliated.

Why was she living such a terrible life?

It was all Eden's fault. If she didn't meet Eden and fall in love with Victor, she would have lived a carefree life.

Chapter 1868

She said in heart, "Eden, Victor, I will not let you go."

"Even I die, I'll let you die together with me!"

She struggled to get up from the ground and looked at the check on the ground with her eyes wide open. The hatred in her eyes was intenser and intenser.

Sophie's words echoed in her ear like the whisper of devil. She only cared about the immediate interest, and she had never thought about what her future would be like.

What would happen to her children in the future?

However, she was Barrett's mistress at this time. Would she really fall in love and get married in the future?

She had to go abroad. Only by becoming rich could she leave here and start a new life.

Brian looked at Dahlia in the video. Her face darkened to the extreme, and she was overwhelmed by hatred. She was about to faint. Sophie was cruel. She didn't beat Dahlia's face, so no one would know Dahlia had been beaten if she didn't say it.

"Brian, will she go to the hospital? No, Brian, there are thirty million dollars on the ground." Osvaldo couldn't take his eyes off the check.

Brian turned his head and looked at him blandly. Seeing that Osvaldo looked at the check with excited eyes, he smiled and said, "Even if you can pick it up, it will not be yours. Just stay grounded and work hard. You can make so much money in a few years."

"Ha-ha..." Osvaldo touched his head with a giggle, "Brian, I can't make so much money even in ten years."

"Don't bet on it. Those who work for me have earned millions of dollars in a few years. Do you think it's hard to earn ten million dollars?" Brian said with a proud face.

Oswaldo nodded with understanding and said, "Brian, I know what you mean. I'm not jealous of her. I just think that it's so easy for her to make money. The rich are really generous."

"Are rich people generous?" Brian smiled and looked at Oswaldo's innocent face. It seemed that he had a misunderstanding about rich people.

Rich people were not philanthropists.

He was trained by Victor. How could he be so naive?

"Do you have any misunderstanding about the money? You have been staring at the video. Don't you know how she got the money?"

"Oh, she got it by sex." Oswaldo touched his head with a giggle again.

Brian couldn't help but laugh when he saw how funny his movements were.

He bowed his head and sent Victor a message to tell him what had happened here.

Victor was feeding Eden porridge.

When Eden got up, she found her back aching. When she moved her waist, she felt very uncomfortable. No matter she lay on bed or stood up, she couldn't feel better.

Thus, she was angry with Victor.

Victor knew that she would definitely be mad if she got too tired on bed. He cooked porridge early in the morning and bought her favorite strawberry juice, waiting for her to get up.

Sure enough, after she got up, she was angry and didn't talk to him.

He didn't like her to give him the silent treatment.

Therefore, he should try his best to please her. As for what Brian had sent him, he was not in the mood to see it.

After having a bowl of porridge, Eden regained some strength. She shook her head at Victor.

"Eden, don't you want to eat anymore?"

"No!" Eden stood up from the sofa. Wearing a long white dress, she rested her arms on the hips and exercised in the living room slowly.

Staying up late hurt one's health, and it was absolutely true. She still didn't feel well.

Victor got up to hold her.

"What are you doing?" Eden said in an unfriendly tone.

Victor smiled with his eyes full of affection, "Let me hold you. I'm afraid that you'll fall down, because your legs are weak."

Eden was speechless. His words sounded so ambiguous. Her legs were weak indeed, but she would not fall down.

"Go away." Eden did not want him to hold her.

Victor did not let her go. He helped her walk back and forth.

Eden suddenly asked, "Have you found out the man who followed us?"

Victor shook his head, "He hasn't appeared again since you saw him last time. Brian saw his back in the video, and his face couldn't be seen."

Eden lowered her head and thought for a while. This matter was like a time bomb. She had to lure the man no matter what.

"I'll go to the supermarket later." Eden looked at Victor.

Victor knew what she was thinking, "I'll go with you."

"No, you can follow me secretly."

"I knew you were going to take a risk in person." Victor disagreed with her, "Let me do it."

Eden looked at him with amusement, "You are a man. Will he dare to approach you?"

The man was very cautious. She saw his face clearly. His gloomy eyes were filled with hatred, which made her feel a little scared. She only glanced at him, but her heart beat violently at that time. It seemed that the man bore a deep grudge against her.

If this matter couldn't be solved, she could not draw design drafts at ease.

Victor knew that it was better to let her do it. Besides, he didn't like to be watched by someone in the dark.

That made him feel as if his privacy had been peeped on, and he would be particularly annoyed because of this.

"I can lure him out together with you. You are too tired today. Don't do anything and have a good rest. When you wake up tomorrow morning, we will go for a walk. Then, we will walk to the supermarket. I will send away some of the bodyguards to relax his vigilance."

Eden nodded. A person in a high position was liable to be attacked.

People were all selfish. Not many people wanted them to live a good life.

The next morning, Eden opened her eyes before six o'clock. It was not very cold in early autumn morning.

She looked sideways and saw Victor sleeping soundly, so she got up quietly and wanted to make breakfast. But yesterday Victor said that they would go out for breakfast.

She wanted to go back to sleep, but she couldn't fall asleep anymore.

She walked out of the room quietly and did yoga on the balcony for half an hour. She was in poor health, so she had to exercise more often. After two years of recuperation, her injured legs were much better. She wouldn't feel painful when she stretched her legs.

When she returned to the bedroom, Victor had woken up. He was putting on his clothes.

Wearing a thin white woolen shirt and black trousers, he looked as handsome as ever.

After wearing his clothes, he went to the dressing table and applied the lotion to his face very seriously.

It was dry in autumn, so it was very important to moisturize his skin.

Victor really didn't look like a man in his thirties. He seemed to be twenty-five or twenty-six years old.

Moreover, he was well preserved. Sean often told him how to preserve himself and make himself look younger.

Victor didn't care much about it in the past. However, when he saw Sean's young face, he was moved.

Victor turned around. Seeing that Eden was looking at him, he smiled and said, "Am I handsome?"

Eden didn't want to admit it, but she nodded, "Don't be narcissistic. Hurry up. let's go for breakfast after taking a walk."

"Are you hungry?" Victor reached out and rubbed her head with his eyes full of love.

"Yeah, I'm not familiar with this place. I don't know where there are nice restaurants. Anyway, our purpose is to lure the man out. Let's have breakfast in a crowded place and then go to walk in a quiet place."

Victor agreed with her. No matter what they wanted to do, they had to eat well.

After chatting for a while, they walked out slowly.

Bathing in the sunshine leisurely, Eden looked sideways at Victor. It was the best when he was by her side.

Chapter 1869

Victor felt her gaze and asked with a smile, "What's wrong?"

He knew that he was very handsome, and Eden often peeked at him.

Every time he saw her peeking at him, he was in a particularly good mood.

"Nothing. I just feel that it is really good to have you by my side." Eden said with a smile.

Victor's heart was melted.

This was not the first time he had heard such words, but he was very touched every time he heard it.

Being needed by someone he loved really have him strong feelings of pride.

Victor held her hand more tightly. They looked at each other, and there was no need to say how much they loved each other.

Victor and Eden did not look back deliberately. Several bodyguards were protecting them secretly, so they were not worried. Once the man appeared, Victor would know it immediately.

It took them more than twenty minutes to find the snack street. The street was bustling in the morning, humming with activity and life.

"Wow! Brown sugar cake! I haven't eaten it for a long time." Eden pointed at the cake and asked Victor to buy it.

Victor didn't like dessert, so he just bought a piece of cake for Eden.

After walking for a while, they suddenly saw a restaurant. Without saying anything, Victor took Eden in it.

There were all kinds of delicious food in the restaurant, like hamburgers, sandwiches, bread, salad and so on. Eden felt very hungry just by looking at the food.

They picked some food they liked. Eden liked the salad and sandwiches. However, she had just eaten a piece of brown sugar cake, so she couldn't eat too much. In the end, she was stuffed to the gills.

After coming out of the restaurant, they walked back, but Eden did not see the man following them.

Eden frowned and looked around. Would they fail that day?

That was possible. The man was very vigilant, and he wouldn't expose himself so soon.

They hung out for an entire afternoon, but there was nothing strange, so Victor took Eden back home.

Eden looked at him, "He seems to be quite cautious."

"Yep." Victor nodded slightly.

"Then I'll go out again tomorrow. Don't follow me anymore. I will go out alone. Just ask someone to follow me secretly. Nothing bad will happen." Victor was tall and strong, so the man would naturally be afraid of him. How would he show up?

Victor nodded helplessly. If he could not find out the man, both of them would feel uneasy and disturbed in their hearts.

After discussing, Eden acted according to their plan every day.

She got up and went running every morning. Her phone was located by Victor, and the bodyguards followed her secretly to protect her. Only in this way could Victor rest assured.

Two days had passed, but the man hadn't appeared. Eden was not in a hurry. She had a lot of time. However, since the man had followed her for so long, he might not have enough time to waste.

When she saw him that day, his clothes were cheap. For the sake of his life, he could not hide from her all the time.

On the fifth day, Victor had a video conference. She thought about going to the snack street to buy some snacks as their dinner.

Their villa and the snack street were only separated by a river, but the two places seemed to be two different worlds.

The snack street was bustling, while the villa area was cheerless.

Eden walked at a brisk pace. Although she walked quickly, it would take her an hour to come back.

There weren't many pedestrians on the road. The leaves on the parasol trees had turned yellow, and the ground was scattered with leaves.

She found that there were many parasol trees on both sides of the roads in River City, and there were flowers on both sides of the sidewalks.

Eden bought some salad and cold meat. Then she had to go back on the same way.

This road was a little remote. She had been taking this road in the past few days.

The autumn wind was very comfortable. When the wind blew on her face, she didn't feel cold at all. Instead, she was relaxed and refreshed.

She held a chicken leg and walked while eating.

Around the corner was the villa area. She had been observing the surroundings in the past few days. If the man wanted to hurt her, this place was the most suitable.

Eden lowered her head to eat the chicken leg. Suddenly, a dark shadow loomed out of the murk.

She was stunned, and she felt a disgusting smell.

She raised her head. It was the man she had seen that day. It had been more than half a month, and he was a complete mess.

The warm sun elongated his figure, and his face looked horribly gloomy under the sun.

He finally showed up.

Eden pretended to be scared and took a few steps back, "Who are you? What do you want to do?"

The man kept a straight face and did not speak. He approached her step by step.

Eden glanced at his drooping hands. He moved one hand forward slightly. Under the sunlight, the edge of a knife reflected the bright light.

Eden was startled. She saw the point of a knife in his sleeve.

Eden's heart skipped a beat.

When she looked into his melancholy eyes, his eyes were filled with hostility and hatred in an instant.

His face was very haggard. It seemed that he hadn't slept for a long time, and his eyes were completely bloodshot.

It was terrifyingly scarlet.

"Who are you? What do you want?"

"I want you to die!" The man said quickly in a hoarse voice, which was extremely terrifying.

Eden felt as if her heart had been tugged by something, and it was so uncomfortable.

What kind of hatred made him want to kill her recklessly?

Eden's expression changed in the dappled shade. At this time, she was not pretending to be afraid. She was truly scared. She saw real viciousness in the man's eyes.

"Since you want to kill me, you should at least give me a reason." Eden's voice was dry. She had offended many people. However, others bullied her on their own initiative in most cases. She just took revenge on them occasionally.

She could not be bullied without fighting back.

"You... ruined Ciara's life!" The man said very furiously and excitedly.

"Ciara..." Eden immediately understood.

She looked at the man's excited face and frowned slightly, "Who are you?"

"I am her fiance." The man said without any hesitation.

"Does she have a fiance?"

"I am her finance! Do you know how painful she has been during this period of time? She cries every night! Being an actress is her dream. But you ruined her dream just by saying a few words!" The man was so excited and took another step forward.

"You're rich and powerful, so you can ruin someone else's life with just a few words. How can you be so cruel..."

Eden had completely calmed down at this time. She looked at the excited man with clear eyes and asked, "Did she tell you why I terminated the contract with her?"

"You terminated the contract with her for no reason! She didn't even know why she was fired. She cries bitterly everyday. Why are you rich people so heartless? Do you know how much she had done in order to become an actress?"

Eden nodded. It turned out that the man had been used.

"Calm down. I'll tell you the reason why I terminated the contract with her."

"I won't listen to you! You rich people are always reasonable. You regard us as humble ants!" The man was so mad that he took out the dagger in his sleeve.

Chapter 1870

Seeing this, Eden took a step back. She admitted that she was really frightened. The sharp knife had threatened her life. Furthermore, the man was out of control.

The most useful thing to stop him was the evidence, not her words.

All he wanted to do was to kill her at this time.

He was sure that it was her fault, so he didn't give her any chance to speak.

"I'll show you a video, and then you won't think so. You're still young. I hope you won't be used to do stupid things."

Eden looked at him warily, took out her phone and found the video quickly.

Aro had sent her several videos. Since that day, Ciara had been pestering Anson recklessly, and her actions were very crazy these days.

Abby was very distressed and helpless.

It would not be an exaggeration to say that Ciara was shameless and insane.

She went to find Anson everyday. Anson hated her, but he could do nothing about her.

"You will understand once you see the video. I hope that you will not do anything silly." Eden handed over the phone cautiously. Once he had criminal record, it would be hard for him to get a job in the future.

She didn't want an innocent person to be sent to jail.

At least, the man was infatuated, but he didn't seem to know what kind of woman Ciara was.

The man's expression changed when he heard that he had been used. He looked at the phone in Eden's hand with hesitation.

Seeing that his face had changed, Eden braced herself to take a few steps forward. Victor saw Eden's actions and kept frowning. His heart was in his mouth.

He was approaching Eden slowly. A soft breeze rustled the trees, so he did not hear the conversation between them.

"Just have a look. Don't do anything that you'll regret, and don't be made use of by her. You have your family. If you hurt me, you won't be able to escape. Your family will be in great pain." Eden did not mention what Ciara had done in the company. Once she tried to explain, the man would think that she was defending herself.

In that case, the result would definitely turn out to be just the opposite of her wish.

Because everyone had his own weakness and sore points.

But once something was exposed, he had to accept the truth.

The man didn't look confident. Although his eyes were blood-shot and mad, he didn't dare to look into her eyes.

Such a person could be persuaded easily by evidence.

His hard life had worn down his ambition and confidence. He just wanted to use his remaining little courage to prove that he was a useful person.

For example, if he did irrational things for his lover, wouldn't he regret it?

He would regret it. He acted impulsively, so he would often regret it even more.

After hesitating for a long while, the man finally received Eden's phone with trembling hands. His expression gradually became painful as he looked at the video. His eyes were brimming with tears, and he choked with sobs.

He could hear the sound in the video. It was obvious that Ciara had done something to seduce Anson.

"No, that's impossible! It can't be true! I don't believe it...." The man had a nervous breakdown and knelt on the ground.

Victor and a bodyguard suddenly loomed out of the murk.

They immediately pinned the man against the wall. The knife in his hand fell to the ground, and Victor kicked it away.

Eden's phone fell to the ground, but the man's eyes were still fixed on the video.

Of course, that was a video of Ciara having sex with another man.

Since the man appeared, she thought deeply about it. After all, it had threatened her life, so she had to be vigilant.

She thought about all the people she had offended. In the past, she thought that the man might be a killer sent by Barrett, but the people sent by Barrett were all arrogant, and they would never dress up so shabbily.

When she heard Abigail say that Ciara was still pestering Anson, she asked Aro to investigate Ciara again.

Ciara's family was poor, and she was eager for quick success and instant benefits, so she chose a wrong way.

She didn't have money to command others to do things, so she would use people around her.

Victor got up and looked at Eden nervously, "Eden, are you okay?"

Eden looked at Victor, "Let him go. He has been made use of."

"Impossible!" Victor was fierce. Looking at the bright knife on the ground, he said word by word angrily, "He wants to kill you!"

"He is used by someone." Eden looked at Victor firmly.

The man looked up at Eden with difficulty. Her eyes were determined and clear as she looked at Victor.

He was about to kill her, but she was willing to let him go.

If the videos were real, he was really made use of by Ciara.

Ciara told him that Mrs. Alwynn knew that her family was poor, so she did not want to waste time on her and gave the chance to another actress.

He was irritated as soon as he heard that. Rich people could ruin other people's dreams and self-esteem with just a few words.

He hated such people to the extreme, because he once met such a disgusting rich man. The top manager in the company fired him for no reason.

Every night, Ciara cried in front of him. He had been in love with Ciara for a long time, and they were engaged. Ciara was an actress, so no one knew their relationship except for their family.

Ciara was engaged to him indeed, but she refused to sleep with him all the time. However, she suddenly agreed to sleep with him after she was fired.

Every night, he held her in his arms and watched her cry so bitterly. He was heartbroken.

Therefore, he had been paying close attention to Eden during this period of time. He wanted to kill Eden to take revenge for Ciara.

Ciara had had sex with him, so she wanted to do something for her.

However, Ciara was too mean. She actually had a love affair with another man. She was despicable, but she got engaged to him shamelessly.

How could she do this to him?

For her, he was even willing to be a fool in love.

As soon as she cried, his heart softened, and he didn't want her to suffer any injustice.

He was cowardly, and he couldn't save any money every month. Ciara lived a hard life with him, but he could not help her. She complained to him every day, which was why he had been following Eden.

"Mrs. Alwynn, I'm sorry. I misunderstood you. I'm really sorry!" The man cried and apologized to Eden.

He didn't want to go to jail. His mother was old and he couldn't make her sad.

"Eden." Victor's face was gloomy, and his voice was very angry.

Eden said, "Let him go. He won't do anything stupid anymore."

"You..." Victor knew that he couldn't change her mind.

He tipped the bodyguard a wink, and the bodyguard let go of the man.

The man got up from the ground awkwardly and looked at Eden with gratitude. After thanking her, he left with tears.

Victor winked at the bodyguard, motioning to him to follow the man.

Eden saw it, but she didn't say anything. She wouldn't stop him if he could feel at ease in this way.

"Let's go back."

Eden smiled and handed the food to him.
