

Gluey Love 1891

Chapter 1891

Seeing the message, Eden bowed her head and replied, "Jasper, don't worry about me. I'm fine. Don't think too much."

"Okay! Eden, don't worry. I will clarify the misunderstanding, and I will never let that person go!"

"Mr. Joye, what should we do now? Why don't we hold a press conference? It's all because of me." Lyric felt very guilty. How could those people speculate Eden's good intentions with malice?

Jasper looked at her and saw the guilty expression in her big clear eyes.

Lyric was very young. When he saw her for the first time, he felt very comfortable.

Other candidates had better performance than her, but he chose her in the end.

He felt that she was simple, and she wouldn't have any evil intentions. The fact proved that he was right. Lyric was pure and capable, and she worked very hard.

His former assistants all quit after they got married.

"Are you... serious?" Jasper looked at her.

"Of course! These people are talking nonsense. We have evidence, and this is the truth. Why should we be afraid of them?" Lyric said firmly. After returning home last night, she searched for Eden online.

It turned out that she was Mrs. Alwynn!

She was so lucky, because she talked to her favorite designer face to face.

Unfortunately, she couldn't afford to buy the clothes Eden designed!

Eden just met her by chance on the road, but she sent her to the hospital. She was definitely a nice person.

Moreover, she found that Eden was often framed. There used to be gossips about her and Jasper, but the rumour was too malicious this time.

Rumors were more horrible than sharp knives, and people could be crushed by rumours. She hated people who made fun of others' lives.

They couldn't spare those vicious people.

"Oh, Mr. Joye, why are you waiting for? Eden is the saddest one. She is my favorite designer, so I don't want her to be upset. It's impossible for you to be the father of her child. Women are always the most heartbroken in the face of such a thing."

Looking at Jasper, she did not understand why he was hesitant.

Jasper looked at her fearless face. After a while, he smiled gratefully, "Lyric, thank you. I will call the reporter right away and I will clarify it together with you. You are right. Eden is the greatest victim."

"I want to protect her, but I've been hurting her."

He stood up and said with a smile, "Let's go."

"Okay." Lyric turned around. Why did she feel that he was so sad at this time?

Lyric did not think too much. She was so angry that she only wanted to hold a press conference and drive those b*stards mad.

Jasper looked very gloomy. Although he knew there were lots of sinister people in the world, his heart throbbed painfully because those people hurt Eden who was kindhearted and innocent.

Eden got the video from the dash camera and asked Lucian to upload it. Besides, she wrote a passage to clarify this matter.

Lucian saw the video Victor received yesterday and knew who sent the video to him. He focused on investigating the Simpson family and found the address very soon. The video was sent in the Simpson family.

Dahlia sat in her office. The office was not big, but very luxurious.

She liked to see everything luxurious.

Looking at her i-Pad, she smiled wickedly, "Sophie, you're doomed."

When she went back last night, she happened to see what Leilani was doing. Then she went to meet her. After Leilani went to get something, she got the video and sent it by Sophie's computer.

According to Victor's character, he would never let Sophie go.

Since Sophie had beaten her, she had to pay dearly for it.

Therefore, Eden was very smart. She used such a method to get rid of those important people in the Simpson family, and she wouldn't get herself involved in.

She could do the same, couldn't she?

She could also use many ways to keep herself out of trouble. Moreover, she could kill two birds with one stone. Why not?

In the Simpson family.

Leilani saw the news in her room, and she was dumbfounded.

She only sent the video to Victor. Why had it been posted online?

She remembered that there used to be such rumours before. It didn't work that well, and Eden was not afraid.

After all, she was not an actress, and there would always be new topics online. The news would soon be suppressed, and people would only remember it for a few days. Therefore, she sent the video to Victor.

She wanted to cast a bone between them.

She was in so much pain every day. How could Eden and Victor live so comfortably? Her daughter and son were in jail. How could they be carefree and happy?

She couldn't accept the fact and lost sleep every night.

Besides, Barrett didn't care about this matter at all. He couldn't even save his own children. She knew very well how despicable he was. In order to protect himself, he could betray everyone.

During this period of time, she had been transferring her shares and property, and she tried her best not to anger Barrett.

However, this matter was really weird.

"Rat-a-tat." Suddenly, someone knocked on the door, which startled Leilani.

"Who is that?"

"It's me." noveldrama

"Come in."

Sophie pushed the door open and came in. Leilani hadn't seen her smile so happily for a long time.

"Do you see the news online?"

Leilani nodded.

"I don't know who posted the video."

"Ha-ha." Sophie laughed heartily.

"No matter who sent the video, this matter makes me so delighted." Adrienne sat opposite Leilani with joy.

Last time, Leilani gave her fifteen million dollars, and she invested the money in real estate. No one could take away the money from her.

The money was enough to make her, her mother and younger brother live a rich life.

"Rat-a-tat!"

There was a sharp rap on the door. Leilani suddenly had a nasty feeling in heart.

"Come in."

The servant came in hurriedly.

"Madam, bad news! Some policemen are here!"

"What?" Leilani was stunned, "Why did they come here?"

The servant shook her head. She didn't know about it.

"Let's go out and have a look."

When they arrived at the hall on the first floor, they saw two imposing policemen.

Leilani walked over and asked, "Sir, what's the matter?"

The policeman showed her his certificate and asked indifferently, "Who is Sophie?"

Sophie was taken aback, "I'm here. What is it you want to see me about?"

"Someone called the police and said that you deliberately slandered them on the Internet, causing negative social impact and the financial losses of Alwynn Group. We had an investigation and found that the video was sent by your computer. Please go to the police station with us."

"What?" Sophie could not believe what she had heard and roared angrily, "I didn't do anything. How could it be me?"

"The evidence is right here. Don't try to defend yourself. Take her away."

Chapter 1892

Leilani watched as Sophie was taken away, and her legs went limp. She was just afraid that someone was deliberately framing Sophie, and she had no idea who it was.

After Marcia learned that Sophie had been caught again, she rushed over to see Leilani.

Leilani frowned. Seeing that Marcia was about to lose her temper, she immediately said, "This matter has nothing to do with me. Don't think about making a fuss here."

Marcia was stunned for a moment. With a gloomy face, she said coldly, "Is that so? Can you promise that it has nothing to do with you? She has been with you during this period of time. It must be you who framed her! Do you think I don't know how ambitious you are?"

Marcia glared at her fiercely.

Leilani sat on the sofa indifferently. Her luxurious and noble face seemed to have become much older. She said madly, "Whether you believe it or not, I didn't frame her."

Even she couldn't figure out why Sophie could get the video and post it online.

Dahlia started a rumour many times before, but it didn't work at all.

Eden was not an actress, so she was not afraid of the gossips at all. Instead, Victor got something on her and taught her a lesson every time.

"I won't let you go!" Marcia said angrily and turned to leave.

Leilani felt that she was so wronged.

Since she came here, everything had been unlucky.

Therefore, she really wanted to go back to her homeland, but her children were in prison.

"Humph!" Leilani slammed the table in front of her. Just wait and see!

Although Jasper knew that it was someone in the Simpson family who had framed him and Eden, he held a press conference with Lyric.

Lyric gave a detailed account of what had happened that day.

Eden wrote a passage and posted some pictures to prove her innocence. Moreover, Sophie had been caught. The case was entirely cleared.

Everyone watched as Eden whitewashed herself in two hours, feeling that it was great to have a reliable team.

No matter how she was slandered, she could always prove her innocence.

Moreover, so many things had happened, and everyone could feel the hostility between the Simpson family and the Alwynn family.

People all thought that the Simpson family had gone too far.

The netizens deleted their malicious comments and apologized to Eden sincerely.

Eden read the comments. Public opinion was really unpredictable.

When the netizens cursed her, she felt as if she was in hell.

However, some people were very friendly to her.

Many people encouraged and supported her on SNS. Finally, there was a smile on her face.

Seeing her smile, Victor handed her a glass of hot water.

"Eden, drink some water. Sophie has been caught. We found that the video was sent by her computer. Now you don't have to worry." Victor said in a very angry tone.

It seemed that he had to defeat the Simpson family as soon as possible.

The Simpson family had been starting rumours. They were really shameless.

At the same time, everyone was scolding the Simpson family online.

"What a hateful family! As soon as they return to River City, they want to ruin the Alwynn family. I think they just want to occupy the market in River City. Otherwise, why do they aim at Alwynn Group all the time? Such a thing has happened many times. Some idiots actually believed such a rumour."

"You're right. If Victor didn't take over Barrett's company, many investors' families would have been ruined."

"Victor is such a nice husband! He dotes on Eden so much and whitewashed her so soon!"

"He's my Prince Charming!"

"Their love is so touching. Please don't believe such ridiculous rumours again. Director Bleu is innocent."

"That's right!"

"I agree."

Speaking of the Simpson family, the netizens became mad and kept digging up dirt on them.

"Dahlia used to be Irving's fiancée, but she has become Barrett's mistress."

"What? He's even old enough to be her father, right?"

"Isn't it just? I heard that she has got hundreds of millions of dollars from him." noveldrama

"F*ck, I want to be so lucky as well!"

"Hey! We can't be left without a shred of self-esteem because of money!"

"Ha-ha... How could self-esteem be more important than money?"

"Many rich men like beautiful women, while beautiful women like money. Who doesn't like a young beauty?"

"Ha-ha... I don't like beautiful women, and I only love money. In fact, we're not as lucky as Dahlia."

Many people wrote teasing comments.

After Barrett learned about this, he smashed the jade teacup that was worth ten thousand dollars.

It was because of the incident last time that he let the butler become the new legal person of the company.

No one paid attention to the rumours about Eden anymore, and everyone was scolding him. Moreover, Sophie had been caught.

He was so angry that he fell to the ground.

"Idiots! They are all idiots!" Barrett cursed in rage.

The butler stood aside, lowered his head and didn't say anything.

He was afraid that Victor would find that X. G Group was owned by Barrett.

Dahlia did not expect that she would get involved. Countless people abused her on the Internet.

Moreover, after a long time, the relationship between her and Barrett was discussed again.

She was pissed off.

"Bang..." She swept everything on the desk to the ground, trembling with anger.

This matter remained an indelible stain in her life.

Irving was an a*shole! She wouldn't have become Barrett's mistress as long as he could be a little nicer to her.

"You're all b*stards! I'll kill you, and I won't let you live a good life!" She roared crazily with her face twisted. Half of her face was covered by her curly hair, and she looked so ferocious.

"Dahlia, what's wrong with you?" Hearing the noise, Dulcie immediately ran in to have a look.

She was stunned when she saw the mess on the ground.

Dahlia glanced at her, saying with her blood-shot eyes full of viciousness, "I'm fine."

After she said that coldly, she turned around and sat on the swivel chair. After venting her anger, she felt much better.

"Dahlia, you'd better control your temper. You know what? Today we have lost two more clients. I really don't know what's going on." She was very anxious. Those clients were obviously very satisfied with her design, and they all smiled happily when they left. Why did they terminate the contracts just in a few days?

Dahlia was taken aback, and she almost couldn't breathe. Her work and private life both made her suffocated.

"I have been investigating who is playing tricks behind our backs. If my guess is right, they terminated the contracts because Leilani threatened them and offered them interests." Dahlia's face darkened. Leilani blackmailed her last time, but she still didn't let her go.

She failed to kill two birds with one stone, and she was a little regretful.

She was too careless. She should have sent Leilani to jail as well.

Chapter 1893

Hearing this, Dulcie was anxious. She came back from abroad not to live such an unstable life. She wanted to have a stable income and become the design director. These had been her dreams.

She was working for Dahlia. No matter what, she had to keep her salary and position.

She had become reconciled with Carlotta, but it was impossible to use her in the near future.

They only sent messages to greet each other, and they were not as familiar as before.

Dulcie comforted her, "Dahlia, we can't solve any problem by losing temper. Now we need to stop the clients from terminating the contracts with us. We don't have many clients. If we lose them, we won't be able to run the company anymore."

Dahlia was indeed very nervous. Leilani had more money than her, so she was no match for her.

No, she would not lose. She had Barrett.

Dahlia smiled. Although her smile was somewhat bitter, Dulcie was relieved.

"Don't worry, Dulcie. Everything will be okay. Just focus on designing and making the clothes these days. We must aim at quality. I'll think of ways to solve other problems."

Dulcie nodded, "It's something easy for me. As long as the customer service department can do their work well."

They had a lot of orders this year. Although they couldn't make much money, they wouldn't suffer losses.

Their company was newly established, and it was supported by the capital chain. Next year, they would definitely make more money, and she would get a great bonus.

She wanted to buy a house and settle down in this city. Back then, Dahlia offered her enough benefits, so she chose to go back with her.

"Don't worry." Dahlia let out a long sigh, and her expression relaxed.

Dulcie said, "I'll go out and ask the cleaner to clean up here. Sort out the important documents first." After saying this, Dulcie turned around and left.

Dahlia glanced out of the window. The autumn wind blew in through the window, and the light yellow curtain waved in the breeze.

Tears streamed down her face. At this time, she could only take a gamble, hoping that she could get pregnant with Barrett's child. She wanted to get everything of him.

She would let Barrett know that Leilani was transferring her shares.

She sneered, and there were some faint lines at the corner of her eyes.

After composing her emotions, she squatted down and picked up the important documents on the floor.

Danielle sat there in a daze. Looking at the favourable comments online, she frowned and felt that people were so f*cking changeable.

Was Eden so sympathetic? In just two hours, those terrible comments disappeared. Instead, everyone was praising for being kindhearted.

When she was in a trance, the phone on the table vibrated.

She looked down and saw a message sent by that person.

Picking up the phone, she had a look and then put it back.

"You must get Eden's design draft for the international design competition."

Immediately, she received another sum of money.

She sneered. How could it be so easy to get Eden's design draft?

Eden was vigilant while doing things. The design drafts in the company were once stolen, so she was very strict in this aspect.

She only painted at home, and she wouldn't draw the design drafts in the company at all. How could she get them?

The phone rang. Danielle cheered herself up and answered it.

"Danielle, can you come up and do me a favor? I'm choosing fabric according to the styles of clothes. You're quite familiar with fabric. I want to make a dress. Why don't you design it for me? I like the dresses made by you."

It was Alyssa.

"Okay." Danielle hung up the phone and felt somewhat confused.

Why was Alyssa willing to make friends with her?

She remembered that when she first came to the company, she was very diffident because of her poor family.

But she had gained a firm foothold in Alwynn Group by her own ability.

She was a great designer, and she could not give up like this. At least, many customers liked her design.

Thinking like this, Danielle became confident again.

She was very happy because she could go to the 25th floor.

After tidying up her desk, she went to the 25th floor with her bag.

As long as she could go to the 25th floor, she would have an opportunity to do many things.

After Lyric got off work, she put on her own clothes. She did an amazing thing that day, so she wanted to reward herself.

In the supermarket, she was wearing a white hoodie and a pair of blue jeans. Wearing her hair in a bun, she had light make-up on her face. The orange lipstick made her face look delicate and pretty.

She pushed the cart to the snack area.

The so-called reward was snack.

She looked at her phone from time to time. Eden had saved her life, and she liked Eden's design very much, so she asked Jasper for Eden's phone number. After she left the press conference, she sent Eden a message.

She just wanted to know Eden very much. Although Eden was five years older than her, she felt that they had a lot in common.

Jasper didn't want to give her Eden's number at first, for fear that she would make trouble for Eden.

She explained for a long time, coaxing and pestering Jasper unceasingly. In the end, he agreed.

But she could tell that Jasper was very concerned about Eden.

As for her, she care about Jasper's mood.

Thinking of this, Lyric felt a little uneasy. She was just an assistant. How could she be so meddlesome?

Lyric waited for Eden to reply to her absent-mindedly. She took things from the shelf one by one and did not pay attention to the people around her.

Suddenly, someone grabbed a bag of potato chips together with her.

It was a man's hand. His fingers were slender and fair, and his nails were clean and good-looking.

Lyric was jealous. Whose hand was so pretty? Besides, it was a man's hand! When she looked over and saw a well-defined face, she was stunned.

"Mr. Joye, why are you here?"

Jasper was a little embarrassed. He just wanted to buy some snacks, but he ran into his employee. How awkward it was!

"Ah..." Lyric was shocked again when she saw the snacks in his cart.

Jasper looked serious and aloof in ordinary times, but he actually liked snacks!

"What?" Jasper's expression was somewhat unnatural.

"Ha-ha..." Lyric was very happy and looked as if she had found something amazing, "Mr. Joye, why are you so childish? You're not a child, but you like to eat snacks."

Jasper's face darkened more, "You're not a child, are you? But you buy snacks as well. Who says that adults can't eat snacks?"

Looking at his red ears, Lyric was so amused. He was so cute at this moment!

"No one says so. But I'm really shocked to see you buy snacks." noveldrama

Jasper said teasingly, "What's there to be shocked about? Couldn't men eat the snacks you girls like?"

Chapter 1894

"Of course you can. Look at you. You're even angry... No... you're shy. Oh no, you're... embarrassed..."

The expression in Jasper's eyes kept changing, and Lyric changed her words constantly. Her voice became lower and lower.

Jasper was stunned.

Why did she talk so much?

She was even more talkative than Eden.

"You like the potato chips. Here you are." Jasper put the potato chips in her cart and got another packet of crisps for himself.

"Thank you, Mr. Joye!" Lyric smiled lively and sweetly.

She was not afraid of Jasper in private.

Of course, she had to show him respect when she was at work.

She separated her work from personal life very well.

After interacting with Jasper several times, she realized that he was not as coldhearted as the rumors said.

Jasper looked at her and then turned his head slowly. For some reason, he felt that her smile was so eye-catching.

He put another packet of crisps in the cart casually.

He lived alone. When he worked overtime at night, he felt lonely. When he was a child, he liked these snacks very much.

At that time, he liked potato chips, spicy gluten, lollipops and nuts.

His parents had been living abroad, and they gave him a lot of pocket money. When he was young, he used almost all of his pocket money to buy snacks.

Later, he met Eden. Eden liked to eat snacks as well. When they went to the supermarket together, they bought snacks most of the time.

Eden loved the tomato-flavored potato chips and bought a lot every time. He always bought strawberry-flavored lollipops for her.

"Mr. Joye, the spicy flavor will make you suffer from excessive internal heat." Lyric reminded him.

Jasper glanced at her cart and said, "But you've got several packets for yourself."

Lyric was dumbfounded.

She looked down. Just now, she threw three packets of spicy-flavored crisps inside.

She was just lost in thought, and she didn't notice it.

"Hey, I'm young and healthy. As long as I drink more water after eating the crisps." Lyric said reasonably with changeable expressions on her face.

Jasper was stunned. Did she think that he was old?

He was only six years older than her, wasn't he?

He saw her resume before.

No, why did he have to think about such a childish thing?

"Let's go." Jasper pushed the cart and went forward.

Looking at his strong and straight back, she blushed slightly.

"Oh, Mr. Joye, I want to buy some fruit. Since we've met by accident, and I've helped you a lot today, why don't you treat me to dinner?" Lyric went forward and said boldly.

She knew that Jasper was alone, and she felt lonely as well after she came back.

The Mid-autumn Festival was coming. Perhaps she had to celebrate it alone.

Jasper stopped and thought about it. She did a good job that day. Looking at the watch on his wrist, he said slowly, "It's half past six, and it's time for dinner indeed. Since you're so brave today, I'll treat you to a good meal. Let's go."

"Ha-ha..." Lyric was like over the moon.

He actually agreed.

He agreed!

"Thank you, Mr. Joye!" Her voice was sweet, lively and not affected, making him feel so comfortable.

She followed behind Jasper.

Jasper could not help but smile slightly.

They shopped for a more while. After paying the bill, Jasper took Lyric to the parking lot.

He put down the things and took her directly to the familiar buffet restaurant nearby.

Sunset clouds tinted the sky with gorgeous colours, and it was about to be dark. Such a scene was beautiful and fascinating.

The cool evening breeze and lovely sunset made them feel so good.

Lyric was actually a chatterbox. She kept talking to Jasper along the way.

Jasper was in a bad mood because of what had happened to Eden.

Lyric diverted his attention by talking to him, and he felt much better.

Forty minutes later, Jasper took Lyric into a high-end buffet restaurant.

The decoration was elegant and classic. Red and yellow lanterns were hung on the ceiling, and there were plants on the ground. It was high-end and luxurious.

There were exquisite food in each area. They could choose to eat hot pot or roasted meat. There were a lot of people in the restaurant, and the lively atmosphere boosted their appetite.

Lyric had never come to such a high-end restaurant.

She followed Jasper curiously.

Jasper paid the bill and the waiter took them to their seats.

The layout here was very nice. Every small box was separated by hollowed-out wooden carvings.

The sofa and chair were very comfortable.

They could enjoy hot pot and roasted meat at the same time.

Looking at Jasper, Lyric blinked her eyes and said with gratitude, "Mr. Joye, thank you for bringing me to such a high-end place for dinner. This is my first time here."

Jasper smiled, "Don't be so touched. If there is a chance, I will take you to River City Restaurant. The food there is the best."

"Okay! When?" No one could resist the temptation of delicious food. Moreover, she wouldn't get fat no matter how much she ate.

Looking at how expectant she was, Jasper could not help but laugh.

"We haven't had dinner tonight, but you're looking forward to the next meal. We'll talk about it when you make a contribution again. Go get whatever you like." Jasper stood up and walked out.

Lyric followed him in a hurry. She saw a lot of fresh prawns and crabs just now. She had to enjoy herself. Moreover, she was so excited to see the roasted meat.

However, being overwhelmed by happiness, she did not notice that Jasper suddenly stopped.

"Bang!" Her forehead and nose hit against Jasper's back heavily.

"Ah..." It was painful. Her eyes turned red, and tears wet her long eyelashes.

She wrinkled her nose and looked at Jasper uncomfortably, on the verge of tears.

Jasper looked at her and smiled, "Why did you suddenly bump against me?"

Lyric glared at him madly, "Why did you stop? My forehead and nose hurt so much. Why is your back so hard?"

Jasper was stunned. How could he know that she was behind his back?

"Alright. I'm sorry. This is the seafood area, and that's the barbecue area. Let's get the food respectively. Then we'll eat together." He stopped to tell her these.

"Oh, I'm going to get the seafood." She wanted to eat seafood very much.

She hadn't eaten much seafood for a long time.

When her mother left, she had seafood with her. Although the restaurant was not so luxurious, she was very happy. noveldrama

"Okay. Be careful and don't get lost when you come back. This restaurant is very big. You can rest assured that the food ingredients are very fresh." Jasper said. Seeing that she covered her nose and was about to cry, he smiled again.

He walked to the barbecue area in a good mood.

Lyric was attracted by the delicious food immediately and forgot the displeasure just now.

Chapter 1895

Victor took Eden out for dinner that night. Eden was in a bad mood, so he asked the staff in Marriott Hotel to prepare a candlelight dinner.

After work, Victor brought Eden there.

As soon as Eden entered the room, she felt so good because of the romantic atmosphere.

Victor had been observing Eden's expression. Seeing her smile, he grinned as well.

"Honey, do you like it? We're too busy, so we seldom have candlelight dinner." Victor took her hand and sat down, wiping her hands with a hot towel.

His actions were very gentle, and his big hand made her feel very warm.

Eden looked at him with a smile. No matter what kind of grievances she had suffered, as soon as she turned around, he would give her the best warmth.

No matter how strong a woman was, she wanted a reliable embrace.

The candlelight in the room was lovely. They looked at each other with deep affection, and the atmosphere was so warm.

Victor put the towel aside. Leaning against his arms, Eden felt the warmth of his arms and his strong heartbeat. She felt at ease for no reason.

In order to reward him, Eden raised her head slightly and kissed his lips.

Her kiss was very light. Although they had kissed each other countless times, she was still shy in front of him.

Victor didn't move and sat quietly, but there was a gentle smile in his eyes.

All the good things happened at the right time.

Seeing that he had no reaction, Eden raised her head unhappily. She felt as if she was asking for a snub, and her starry eyes were full of resentment.

Victor looked down at her with a smile, "Eden, what's wrong?" His voice was flirty and his eyes were passionate.

It was attractive enough to touch her heart.

Eden glared at him and did not speak. Such a good atmosphere had been ruined by him.

She said in a hoarse voice, "I'm hungry."

"Let's eat first. Then I'll satisfy you." His palm was extremely warm, and his voice was so gentle that her heart melted.

She glared at him, "No, you are really bad!"

Victor leaned against her and asked with a smile, "Why do you say so? Huh?"

Even the air was filled with affection.

"Go away. I want to eat something else, and I don't want steak." Eden pushed him away.

Victor didn't move and looked at the steak on the table, "What about sandwiches?"

"Good. I'm very hungry now." Eden nodded.

"Then I'll ask someone to bring you some sandwiches." It was a pity. What a romantic candlelight dinner! But Eden didn't like it. Forget it. Her feelings were the most important.

Eden put her hands on the table lazily. Smelling the tempting aroma of the steak, she really had no appetite. She wanted to eat sandwiches more.

Jasper had put down his chopsticks, but Lyric was still enjoy eating.

Jasper was quite surprised.

Abigail and Eden ate much less than Lyric.

Looking at her, Jasper did not say anything. Her lips had turned red because of the spicy food. The shrimp was very spicy, but she ate it after dipping it in the spicy sauce.

"It's so spicy and delicious!" Lyric said while eating. She even stuck out her tongue and fanned it with her hand.

Jasper was stunned.

"Since it's so spicy, why do you have to eat it?" Jasper frowned and handed a bottle of yogurt to her.

"Thank you, but it is really delicious. I really like it. Since my mother went abroad, no one has eaten with me. You are the first one to accompany me for a meal."

Lyric took a gulp of yogurt.

Jasper looked at her and knew how she felt.

His parents were abroad all year round, and he could understand her feelings.

After he and Abigail grew up, they even settled down abroad.

He couldn't even meet him once a year.

"Where's your mother?" Jasper couldn't help but ask. noveldrama

After asking, he felt that his question was a little abrupt. They were not close enough to ask about each other's privacy.

Lyric laughed and said, "She's abroad. After divorcing my father, she has been living abroad because of work. Although she can make lots of money to provide me a comfortable life, I don't like living alone. I'm too lonely."

It turned out that her parents had divorced.

Lyric realized that she had said too much. Feeling a little embarrassed, she smiled, "Mr. Joye, I still want to eat squid. Could you wait for me for a while?"

Jasper was shocked. Could she still eat?

"Yeah! It's okay. Enjoy your meal slowly!" Jasper said with a smile in his eyes, and he was very patient.

Looking at his bright smile, Lyric couldn't help but grin. The loneliness in her heart seemed to have disappeared little by little.

She turned around to get the squid. It was not because she was awkward, but because she really wanted to eat it.

She liked grilled squid. Moreover, the squid here was fresh, and it was greatly pickled.

After Lyric took a few steps, she suddenly stopped. Jasper could still see her.

"Hey! I didn't expect to meet you here." A woman stood in front of Lyric. She looked ordinary, but her expression was mocking. She was Lyric's half-sister, Ansley Lamb.

Lyric's face suddenly darkened when she saw Ansley.

She didn't speak, nor did she want to talk to Ansley.

She stepped aside and tried to walk past Ansley, but Ansley stopped her.

"Lyric, why do you want to run away when you see me? Are you afraid of me?" Ansley said in a very disdainful tone.

Lyric looked at her with a faint smile, "There is no need to be afraid of such a crazy woman like you. But I'm eating now, and I don't want to ruin my good mood."

"Ha-ha..." Ansley sneered, "You're as glib as always. Do you mean that I'm crazy? Then let me ask you. If I'm crazy, what about you? Don't forget that we're half-sisters."

"Really? I remember that I broke off my relationship with your family a long time ago. How could I have a sister?" Lyric looked at her with a sneer.

If it weren't the fact that Ansley and her mother suddenly went to her house, how could she lose her warm home?

Her mother was hot-tempered and proud. After knowing that her father had cheated on her, she decided to leave with her. She didn't ask for anything but the right to raise her.

Since Lyric moved out of the house, she had never seen her father again.

She had become unfamiliar with the word "father".

"Even so, your last name is still Lamb, isn't it? Two days ago, dad said that you were at the age of marriage, and he wanted to see you, but could I let him see you? No! Everything in Lamb family is mine. You can't even get a penny."

Ansley said in a very arrogant tone and squinted at Lyric proudly.

"You'd better keep your poor property on your own. A spendthrift woman like you will spend all the money just in a few years."

"Besides, you and your mother care about the property of the Lamb family so much. I'm kind, and I won't take anything from you." Lyric's tone was very sarcastic. Her father didn't expect that Ansley's mother would be pregnant.

She knew that her father did not like Ansley.

Chapter 1896

She knew this from her relatives.

Ansley was only interested in dressing herself up. She would get close to Lyric and pay attention to all the young and promising men around her. Then she would try to seduce them.

The reason was very simple. She did not want Lyric to marry a better man.

Therefore, she was idle all day long and lived off her parents.

Her father was a hardworking man. How could he tolerate such an idle and lazy daughter?

It was because of Ansley that the relationship between Lyric and her father had always been stiff.

"Ansley, what's wrong?" A handsome man walked over. He was dressed a well-fitting black suit, looking charming.

"Lyric, why are you here?" Jadiel Bryant was surprised to see Lyric.

He had chased after Lyric for a long time, but he failed. Seeing her at this time, he had complicated feelings.

"Oh, I'm here for dinner." Lyric took a meaning look at Jadiel. Wasn't he chasing after her a few days ago?

It seemed that Ansley had done something to get close to him.

Ansley took Jadiel's arm intimately and looked at Lyric with a provocative smile, "Lyric, Jadiel is my boyfriend now."

"Jadiel, this is my elder sister, Lyric."

"Ansley... Is she your elder sister?" Jadiel looked shocked.

How could they be sisters?

However, Ansley acted as if she didn't see Jadiel's surprised face and smiled brightly, "Jadiel is the general manager of the sales department of Joye Group."

Lyric was stunned. It turned out that he worked in Joye Group as well. She had just become Jasper's assistant, and she hadn't seen him in the company.

"Lyric, you..." Before Jadiel could finish his words, he saw a tall man approach Lyric and put his hand on her waist gently.

"Mr. Joye..." Jadiel was astonished. Why was Lyric with Mr. Joye?

Jasper nodded slightly, and the expression on his handsome face was bland. He looked at Lyric and said in a tender tone, "Didn't you say you want to eat squid? Go get it."

Lyric paused for a moment and immediately nodded with a smile, "Get a bottle of yogurt for me. I'll be back soon."

"Go ahead. I'll get you yogurt." Jasper smiled, and his eyes were filled with gentleness.

"Mr. Joye, you and Lyric..."

"Can't we come here and eat together?" After Jasper said that, he went to get yogurt for Lyric and ignored them.

How could Ansley meet such a handsome and rich man in her daily life?

Her eyes lit up as she looked at Jasper's tall and straight back.

Ansley didn't withdraw her eyes until Jasper walked away. noveldrama

"Jadiel, is he the president of Joye Group?" Ansley asked excitedly.

He was so handsome, just like an actor.

"Yeah!" Jadiel was still thinking about the relationship between Jasper and Lyric.

After a while, he narrowed his eyes and looked at Ansley, "You and Lyric are sisters. Why didn't you tell me before? What's more, why did you say I was your boyfriend?"

Ansley was stunned for a moment and smiled, "I was just kidding. But Jadiel, you're so handsome today."

However, he was not as charismatic as the president of Joye Group.

When they stood together, Jadiel was much inferior.

"Let's go." Jadiel was somewhat unwilling to leave.

"I have something else to do. Jadiel, you leave first." Ansley let go of Jadiel.

Jadiel nodded. His feelings were complicated, and he didn't think about what Ansley would do.

After Lyric walked away, she still felt a burning sensation on her waist.

Jasper's hand was very warm and powerful. Was he helping her just now?

His voice was so gentle! With a hot face, she took the squid and went back shyly.

When she returned to her seat, Jasper had sat elegantly across from her.

Lyric blushed scarlet. Looking at Jasper, she smiled shyly, "Mr. Joye, thank you. She's my half-sister."

"It's no bother." Jasper replied casually.

"I'll finish the meal soon, and I won't be sad if I'm full." Lyric was still in a bad mood.

After all, she was annoyed every time she saw Ansley.

Seeing that she was in low spirits, Jasper said with a smile, "I'll take you to buy an i-Pad later. I owe you."

"Oh! Really?" Lyric cheered up in an instant. "Could you buy me a better one?" She said greedily.

Anyway, the president of Joye Group was very rich.

Ha-ha...

Lyric said naturally, like a spoiled child.

Jasper smiled and nodded, "Yes, we'll buy it after you finish your meal. But you have to hurry up. The mall will close at ten o'clock at night."

"Oh..." Lyric felt that the squid was no longer delicious. The happiest thing was to hold an i-Pad and watch soap operas at night.

Ansley hid in the distance and looked at them with jealousy.

She couldn't figure out why Lyric was so lucky to get close to the president of Joye Group.

"Humph!" She snorted and said in heart, "Lyric, I will never let you live a better life than me!"

Lyric and Jasper chatted for a while. Jasper's gem-like eyes were bright, looking so bewitching and seductive. His eyelashes were long, and he had a tall nose and thin lips. More importantly, he looked very gentle at this moment.

"Oh, Mr. Joye, Eden has replied to me!" Lyric looked at Jasper excitedly.

"Really? Look at how happy you are." He had investigated Lyric. She had nothing to do with the Simpson family.

If she was suspicious, he would never let her get close to Eden.

"Of course I'm delighted. I like her design so much. It's a pity that I'm not good at designing. Otherwise, I would have applied for a job in Alwynn Group instead of Joye Group. But I still admire Eden very much."

After Lyric said that, she lowered her head and finished the squid, looking at Jasper with a satisfied expression.

"Mr. Joye, let's go. I am full." Lyric wiped the grease stains on the corner of her mouth.

Jasper handed the yogurt to her, "Drink this before we leave."

"Oh, it's a piece of cake." Lyric took it over without hesitation, drinking it while walking.

Jasper followed her, and they walked out of the restaurant together.

Ansley followed them with a jealous face.

They went to the nearby shopping mall, and Ansley followed them.

In a club, Leilani was about to leave after meeting a man, but Dahlia appeared at the door with a sneer and blocked her way.

Leilani was stunned. How did she find this place?

Then she tried to calm down. "Leilani, I did not expect that it was really you!" Dahlia's face was full of anger.

The man who left just now was the client she talked to a few days ago. Since he had met Leilani, he might terminate the contract with her the next day.

"It's me." Leilani admitted gracefully.

Since Dahlia had seen her, she might as well admit it.

"What on earth do you want from me?" Dahlia was so angry and did not care about the people around her.

Chapter 1897

Everyone knew that she was a mistress. Other mistresses could provoke the men's legal wives arrogantly, so could she.

"Humph! I don't want anything. I just don't want you to live a good life!" Leilani smiled. Looking at Dahlia's angry face, she was very happy.

Dahlia could get everything just because of her beautiful face. She had done so much, but Barrett didn't give her anything, which made her very unhappy.

Even if some people could sit idle and enjoy the fruits of her work, they must be her daughter and son.

She was really shocked when she heard that Dahlia was Barrett's lover.

Barrett was more than sixty years old. She really couldn't understand how Dahlia dared to be with him.

But she had underestimated Dahlia's tricks. She really could get thirty million dollars from Barrett.

Dahlia sneered and threatened her, "Leilani, you'd better stop at the right time. Barrett doesn't know that you've transferred your shares, does he? If I lose my clients again, I'm not sure what I will do next."

"You..." Leilani looked at her with a guilty conscience. How dare Dahlia threaten her?

How did she know that?

She had sold part of her shares and transferred the rest of the shares and money.

Even if Barrett discovered it, she would not be afraid of him.

"Just tell him if you want. The shares are mine. I'm his legal wife. Do you think you can be compared with me?" As soon as Leilani finished her words, she found that Dahlia's face turned nervous.

Leilani smiled smugly. Sure enough, Dahlia was a humble woman.

Barrett was stupid.

Leilani smiled and looked at Dahlia. Then she turned sideways and was about to leave.

Dahlia said with a smile, "Leilani, you think too simply. You and I both know what kind of person Barrett is."

After saying that, Dahlia turned around. As she had expected, Leilani stopped.

She knew that Leilani was bluffing.

After all, Leilani knew Barrett better than she did.

Dahlia turned around, walked towards Leilani and suppressed the anger on her face, "Leilani, why don't we have a talk? Victor is our common enemy."

"I become like this because of Victor. I was forced to be with Barrett. You know the reason very well, don't you?"

"I've been grateful to you. It was you who saved my life. I know that I should repay your kindness, but I had no choice at that time."

"Even if Barrett didn't flirt with me, he would be with another woman, wouldn't he? What's more, I was forced that night."

Leilani knew that her words made sense, and she really understood Barrett's character.

But she felt very sad when she thought of what Dahlia had done.

"We have the same enemy, but so what? You betrayed me." Leilani didn't want to collude with her. Her daughter could be released in a few months.

She would return to her homeland with her daughter.

As for her son, it was not a bad thing for him to suffer and learn a lesson. This matter could make him maturer. In this changeable world, everyone could defeat him.

He could only learn a lesson by himself.

"Sorry, I know that my betrayal makes you very disappointed. But it is because of Victor that we live with hatred. I don't know what kind of grudge Barrett has against the Alwynn family. He aimed at the Alwynn family as soon as he came back, but we are all victims." Dahlia said with sincere. She knew Leilani. Leilani was a smart and scheming woman.

But she was not someone to be trifled with

The only solution was to make Leilani her ally.

In this way, she would have one less enemy.

She almost forgot how Leilani's children were sent to prison. She had been thinking about how to deal with Leilani, but she couldn't come up with a perfect solution.

Leilani was much richer than her.

It was better to make her enemy's enemy her friend.

In this way, it would be less bother.

Of course, the main reason why she dared to do this was that Leilani no longer loved Barrett so much. Otherwise, Leilani would not have planned to go back to her homeland.

Leilani took a meaningful look at her and thought about it. Dahlia was right, but she wanted to disassociate herself from this matter. Dahlia was vicious, and she couldn't get involved.

If she had something to do with Dahlia, she might not leave here safely in a few months.

Sophie had been detained, and this was a great chance for her.

"Dahlia, we don't have to cooperate with each other. In the future, we will not interfere with each other's affairs. I won't make things difficult for you again, but you can't ruin my plan."

Both of them wanted interests. As long as they made it clear, things would be much easier.

She was a sensible person.

She had experienced much more than Dahlia, so she knew that Dahlia would come to no good end.

Dahlia was dumbfounded. She did not expect Leilani to have such a peaceful state of mind. She just wanted her own property.

However, such a result was very advantageous for her.

"Alright. I will not tell Barrett about what you have done, and I hope that you will not interfere in my business again." Dahlia agreed readily.

Leilani smiled and nodded slightly.

It was up to her whether she would interfere in Dahlia's business or not.

It was not up to Dahlia.

Watching Leilani leave, Dahlia let out a sigh of relief.

If Leilani did not agree, she would not know what to do.

Last time, she was beaten by Leilani, but Barrett did not say anything.

No matter what, Leilani had given birth to a son and a daughter for Barrett, and she was just a mistress. How could she be more important than Leilani?

Brian saw everything. He sent a message to Victor and then went home to sleep.

At this time, Victor was having sex with Eden. How could he have time to check the message?

Eden's face was red as she leaned on the edge of the bed. Her face always blushed scarlet while bed time.

"Victor, hurry up. I want to sleep." Eden said delicately with dissatisfaction.

Victor smiled, and his eyes were full of passion, "Eden, wait. Just now, you said that I could do whatever I wanted. You can't break your promise."

"When... did I say that..." Before Eden could finish her words, Victor used more strength. She spoke intermittently and could not utter a complete sentence.

In less than two minutes, she had the strongest sexual pleasure and leaned against Victor's arms feebly.

Victor was breathing rapidly, but he chuckled with joy.

"Eden, I'll take you to the bathroom." Victor carried her in his arms and went to the bathroom.

Eden did not even want to move her fingers and allowed him to do whatever he wanted.noveldrama

After coming out of the bathroom, Eden fell asleep. Then Victor picked up the phone and took a look.

Then he sneered and replied to Brian, "Do you need me to teach you what to do?"

Brian hadn't fallen asleep. He immediately replied to Victor, "What were you doing just now? I've been waiting for your reply. Did you read the messages I sent you carefully?"

Chapter 1898

Victor looked at Eden who was sleeping soundly. Her face blushed a little, and she looked very beautiful when she was asleep. Looking at the love-bites, he was more delighted.

"What do you think I would do on such a wonderful night?" noveldrama

Brian was speechless.

"Don't show off in front of me at night. You're annoying."

"How's the preparation of the new company?"

"Very well, but I regret it. I don't have time to date. If I can't get married, you have to be responsible for it."

"Should I take the responsibility? Isn't Aurora your future wife? You two get along very well."

"I've been busy dealing with the Simpson family and the new company, and we have no time to meet each other. I feel so wronged."

Victor was in a good mood, so he was willing to talk more with him.

"Aurora is also very busy this year."

"Therefore, when can I marry her? All of you have got married and had your own children, but I'm still single. Don't you feel sorry for me?"

"I am not you, so I don't know how sad you are."

"That's too much!"

Only then did Victor send a message to Dean.

"Last time, I asked you to contact a wedding dress designer. Call him to ask if he has time. Even if he has no time, he has to find some."

Dean was dating with Dahlia in the hotel. Seeing this message, he really wanted to scream.

He really wanted to say, "Mr. Alwynn, will you be responsible if I suffer from impotence?"

However, he only dared to think like this in heart.

Looking at the resentful eyes of Jaida, Dean was desperate.

"Mr. Alwynn, I'll contact the designer tomorrow."

"Okay, remember to tell me after calling him."

"Sure. I'll go back to work."

Victor was stunned. Was Dean working at this time? He had not finished his words yet.

He wanted to ask Dean to work overtime on the weekend, because he had something to do.

Forget it. He could talk to Dean the next day.

Victor was about to put down his phone when Adonis sent a message in the group chat.

"Guys, I had sex three times this night."

Victor was taken aback. Would Candace be angry if she knew that he shared such a private thing with them?

Adonis really had a big mouth!

Lucian replied, "Sucks."

Anson said, "I'm better than you."

Victor remained silent. He only had sex two times that night.

He was energetic enough, but Eden was too tired.

Adonis said, "Lucian, what do you mean? I don't trust you the most."

"I don't need your trust."

"Humph! I won't believe it unless you have sex before me."

"You will never see it in your life."

"So, I suspect you."

"You're weak, but it doesn't mean that everyone is as weak as you."

"You hurt my heart."

Anson and Victor did not dare to speak.

Victor put down his phone silently. Therefore, sometimes Eden's worry was actually reasonable.

Victor shook his head with amusement and went to bed.

Eden slept well that night. When she woke up, she turned on her phone and didn't see any negative news about her.

The hottest topic was Quincy's band.

"Ha-ha." Eden laughed. Her laughter woke up Victor.

With sleepy eyes, Victor held Eden into his arms.

"Honey, what makes you so happy early in the morning?" His dull and drowsy voice was sexy.

Eden turned to look at him and said with a happy smile, "Honey, I'm in a very good mood today. Quincy's band blows up on social media."

Hearing this, Victor felt upset.

"Oh, is that so? Don't care about them. You can sleep for a while. It's early."

Eden looked at the time, "It's half past eight in the morning. Get up and go to work."

Victor smiled and said, "No, I don't have to go to work today. The most important thing is to accompany you."

Eden was stunned when she heard that. She admitted that she was touched. He cared about her feelings very much.

"There's no need. I am very glad today." Eden said with a smile.

Victor suddenly opened his eyes and looked at her with resentment, "Honey, can't you think for me? I'm very tired at work every day. I want to take a day off and stay with you."

Eden was speechless. Alright, whether he was aspirant or not had nothing to do with her.

"Alright, what do you want to do today?" Eden asked with a smile. He was tired because of work, so she would spoil him for a whole day.

She ran her fingers through his hair mischievously, and he closed his eyes comfortably.

After a while, he said, "Honey, let me think about what we are going to do today."

"Oh, we should go to see Ayman today! Or we can visit Cecil and Cecilla. Visiting Ari is also a good idea." She had not seen Ayman for several days, and she missed him so much.

Ayman was very cute at this age. He looked so adorable when he giggled.

She missed Ari and Cecilla as well. Girls were precious, and she even wanted another daughter.

"No." Victor immediately refused her.

It was not easy for them to have a day off. Why should they go to see these kids?

Eden was stunned. Looking at his unhappy face, she suddenly smiled and asked, "Then tell me what do you want to do. No matter what you want to do, I can accompany you."

Only then did Victor look at her. He looked at her obedient face and said, "I just want you to accompany me quietly like this. Kiss me." Victor pointed to his handsome face.

Eden was stunned, "I can't do that. I haven't brushed my teeth yet."

Victor was speechless. He didn't mind.

"Honey, I don't mind."

Eden kissed his cheek and said with a grin, "Is it okay? Get up. I'm hungry. You can do whatever you want after breakfast."

"Okay." Victor got up lazily to take a bath.

After Eden washed up, she called the staff in the hotel and ordered breakfast.

As soon as she put down the phone, she received a message. Then she picked up the phone and had a look.

It was a message from Lyric.

"Eden, good morning, I am Lyric. I didn't disturb you last night because it was too late, and I didn't want to disturb your rest."

Eden smiled. She was so polite.

"It's okay. I slept late. Lyric, thanks for what you did yesterday." If Lyric was someone malicious, she would definitely add fuel to the flame, but she was not. She even held a press conference to clarify what had happened that day.

As a result, the rumours were clarified, and no one attacked her online again.

But she was too careless. She didn't even know that she was followed by someone.

"Eden, you don't have to thank me. That's what I should do. Mr. Joye was very anxious. He even smashed my i-Pad, but he bought me a new one last night. I'm very happy."

Chapter 1899

Eden was stunned. She knew that Jasper would be affected, but she did not expect him to be so angry.

He even smashed Lyric's i-Pad.

But if she was Jasper, she would also be mad if she encountered that kind of thing.

No matter how patient someone was, he would lose his temper.

"Does he feel better today?"

"Eden, he has been in a good mood since the problem was solved yesterday. You don't have to worry. He's quite delighted today. He even smiled during the meeting this morning. All the managers said that Mr. Joye was joyful."

"That's good. Anyway, thank you."

Sophie had been detained, but nobody knew what would happen next.

She had to be very careful.

She knew that Victor wanted to weaken Barrett's power so that he could not stir up trouble anymore.

There was no doubt that Barrett was no match for Victor in the business world.

However, Barrett was much more despicable and scheming than Victor.

After all, Barrett had no limits.

At this time, Barrett was busy managing his new company, so he did not have time to aim at her for the time-being. Once Barrett had time, she would still be in danger. She had been trying to figure out how to deal with him. The previous methods were useful but dangerous. Victor would not let her have a try. noveldrama

She knew what Victor was going to do very well.

After she waited for a while, Lyric replied to her.

"Eden, you are too polite. This is what I should do. I was really happy when you sent me to the hospital. I live alone in River City, and no one can accompany to the hospital. I have to thank you!"

"Do you live alone? Where are your parents?"

After sending the message, Eden felt that it was too abrupt. It was inappropriate to ask about her privacy.

However, Lyric did not hide anything. She immediately told Eden that she was alone at home.

"Lyric, if you need any help, just let me know. If no one can accompany you when you're sick, you can call me. Of course, I hope you can be healthy all year round."

"Thank you so much, Eden. You're my favorite designer. I'm very glad to make friends with you. I'll go to work first, and I'll talk to you at noon."

"Great!"

"Rat-a-tat..."

Someone knocked on the door. Eden knew that her breakfast had been delivered.

She got up and opened the door. After the waiter greeted her, he pushed the dining cart in.

He put the breakfast on the table. Victor hadn't come out of the bathroom. The sound of running water could be heard.

Eden did not eat and waited for Victor to come out.

Victor's phone vibrated a few times on the bedside table. Eden went over and swiped it open. It was a text message.

"Victor, it's me. I'm back. I heard that you've got married. Why didn't you tell me?"

"I heard that your wife is your childhood sweetheart."

"How romantic it is! I really envy her! Unfortunately, we missed each other. Do you have time tonight? I want to see you."

"In fact, I miss you so much. Don't let your wife know this. Love you!"

Rage bubbled just below the surface of Eden's mind. She was confused, and her head ached.

Why did Victor have so many admirers?

She glanced at the number, and there was no alias.

Victor had used this phone number for more than ten years, and he had never changed it. The only possibility is that this woman remembered his phone number.

Moreover, she didn't know Victor's female friends at all. People who graduated from college together with them all went abroad for further study. Those who didn't live well aboard returned home in the past two years.

It seemed that Victor have many alumni in this country.

"Humph!" Eden snorted angrily.

After putting away Victor's phone, she put on her shoes, took her bag and left the room. She didn't forget to put the milk, steak and pancake into a clean plastic bag before leaving.

After entering the elevator, she munched on the pancake. She had to eat, or she would have no strength to be mad.

She finished her breakfast not long after she arrived at the first floor. Then she stopped a taxi and went straight to Mirth Company to see Abigail.

She was in a very bad mood. The woman even said that she loved him! She didn't believe they had nothing to do with each other.

Eden called Abigail and asked if she had time to go out to play.

Abigail happened to be in a bad mood, too, so she agreed without hesitation.

They made an appointment to go out together.

When Victor came out of the bathroom, he had dressed up, but he did not see Eden in the room.

Moreover, even her bag was missing, and her breakfast was gone.

Victor was dumbfounded. She left without telling him. It seemed that she was angry.

Victor took his phone. Just as he was about to call Eden, he saw a new message.

"Victor, I brought your father some wine. It's very famous aboard. I remember that you don't like to drink, or I would buy it for you as well."

Victor read all the messages doubtfully. He was slightly stunned. Who was this person?

After thinking for a while, he asked, "who are you?"

"Victor, I'm so sad. We studied in the same department in university, but you don't remember me anymore. I'm Sibyl. It was you who suggested that I should enter the entertainment circle. Eight years ago, I went abroad for further study, and you said that I could do whatever I wanted. I came to River City yesterday."

Victor frowned. After thinking for a while, he finally remembered her. But at this time, he was not in the mood to pay attention to her. His wife was gone.

He dialed Eden's number, but he couldn't get through to her.

He called her for six times in a row, but the result was the same.

Victor was very upset. Had she blacklisted his number?

Taking his car key and his personal belongings, he walked out while calling Anson.

"Hello? Anson, where is your wife?"

Anson was confused. Why did Victor ask about Abigail as soon as he called him?

"What's the matter?" He asked warily.

Victor said angrily, "My wife has run away!"

"Ha-ha..." Anson burst into laughter.

"Victor, so, what does it have to do with Abby?"

Victor said, "She's Eden's best friend. The only possibility is that she will meet Abigail. So you only have to tell me where Abigail is."

Anson's laughter came to an abrupt end. In a dejected voice, he said, "Victor, I'm sorry. I don't know where Abby is. Well, I chatted with them last night, and I was going to have sex with her eight times last night, but I failed. She was mad. She doesn't come to work today and has even blacklisted my number."

Chapter 1900

Victor was stunned. Did they have to be so childish?

"Idiot." Victor couldn't help but say.

"Hey, Victor, what do you mean?"

Victor said, "I mean that you're stupid. Alright, I don't want to talk nonsense with you. Where is Abigail?"

Anson was speechless. He didn't know where Abigail was.

He said, "So, why can't you just make Eden happy? Why did she run away from home?"

Victor replied, "I have no idea. You're the same, aren't you? When I came out of the bathroom this morning, she was gone."

Anson smiled and said, "What a coincidence. I'm the same. I didn't see Abby after I took a shower early in the morning. My mother is taking care of Ayman now, and she's happy. I don't know what to do."

Victor asked, "Do you know where they may go?"

Anson replied, "Shopping malls. When Abby is angry, she always goes shopping, and Eden accompanies her. Only by shopping can she feel better."

"Eden doesn't like to go shopping."

"Abby likes it."

Victor was speechless. It was hard to communicate with him. noveldrama

Victor was in a dilemma. Why did Eden suddenly leave? Even if there was an emergency, she would tell him in advance.

But she blacklisted his number phone, which showed that she was angry.

Victor hung up the phone and walked to the parking lot. At this time, he received a message from Eden.

"I've left. I'm not coming back. Don't look for me."

What did she mean by saying that?

Victor typed very quickly with his slender fingers, for fear that she would blacklist his number again.

"Honey, where are you? I'll come to you."

However, he failed to send the message, because she blacklisted him again!

What the hell was going on?

Victor was dumbfounded.

He was a little discouraged and stood still. What was wrong with her?

He turned around, went to the surveillance room of Marriott Hotel and looked at the surveillance video carefully. She left alone, and she looked all right when she left. Eating breakfast while walking, she hailed a taxi and then left.

After watching the surveillance video, Victor was totally at a loss.

He sent the number plate of the taxi to Lucian.

"Find out where this taxi went."

Lucian was quite puzzled.

"Check it first."

Ten minutes later, Lucian replied to him, "M Mall."

Victor went to the parking lot and drove straight to M Mall.

Eden and Abigail met in M Mall. This was a newly opened shopping mall, and it was a prosperous business quarter. There were many people inside.

After seeing Eden, Abigail took her to the fourth floor and they ate together.

In the elevator, Eden looked at Abigail's unhappy face and asked, "Abby, you didn't go to work. Are you in a bad mood?"

Abigail nodded, "I was tortured by Anson for a whole night. How could I feel good? I checked his phone early in the morning and realized that he just used me as a test subject."

"The chat history is disgusting. Lucian can have sex seven times a night. I feel that Amelia is living in hell. It's so terrible..." Abigail could not help but shiver as she complained.

Eden was taken aback.

"I thought they would talk about their ambition. I didn't expect that they would talk about such a topic. It surprises me a lot."

"Ha-ha..." Abigail chuckled, "Could this be regarded as soul infidelity? They don't have to pay a price, and it's not easy to be discovered by us."

"Ha-ha..." Eden was amused.

"Abby, you're right. Although they just chat on the phone, I think what they do will mess up the marriage and hurt our hearts."

Wasn't it just? She got a big surprise after she woke up this morning.

No, this big surprise should be for Victor.

She didn't know if Victor would take actions when he saw this surprise.

Abigail took her arm, and she was still annoyed because of Anson's words, "Alas! Eden, it's said that most men are unfaithful in love. So it is normal for men to have such an idea. In terms of biology, men want more lovers and more children. But they prettify themselves and say that this is a survival need."

Hearing Abigail's exasperated tone, Eden laughed, and she felt much happier in heart.

"Anyway, even though it's soul infidelity, I can't stand it." Eden was very mad.

Their sweet words could win women's hearts easily.

Thus, they could get a great sense of achievement and satisfaction from women.

Looking at her irritated face, Abigail realized that she was strange. She took the initiative to ask her out. What had happened early in the morning?

"Eden, you don't often skip work. What's wrong? Did Victor bully you?"

"No, he doesn't dare to bully me. Hey, Abby, here we are." Eden pointed at the restaurant and changed the topic. The restaurant was not far from the elevator.

She didn't want Abby to be annoyed as well. After all, each family had its own problems.

"Oh, I saw it online. The comments are all favourable. I can smell the aroma from a distance. It must be delicious." Abigail wanted to relieve the anger in heart by eating, and the food here was tasty enough.

They entered the restaurant. It was still early, so there were not many customers. They found a table in the corner. After the waiter served them water, they went to pick up the food they liked with baskets.

Victor went all the way here, but he did not see Eden and Abigail.

Eden knew Victor's character. He must know that she was with Abby.

Therefore, instead of going shopping with Abby, she played games with her on the sixth floor.

After playing games for a day, they felt extremely pleased.

"Abby, I always thought that only children could play here, but we have a good time." Eden won a bottle fruit juice, and she took a sip of it.

"Well, there are lots of games for adults. Let's go for dinner. There is a hot pot restaurant on the fourth floor. It's not hot tonight. Let's eat hot pot."

"Okay, I don't want to go back to cook, and I just want to enjoy myself for a whole day." Eden felt a little guilty. She had ignored Victor for a day and blacklisted his number. He must be looking for her crazily at this time.

They went out of the elevator and walked to the restaurant.

Eden walked a few steps and suddenly stopped. Even her eyes trembled.

"Eden, what's wrong?" Abigail asked.
