

Gluey Love 571

Chapter 571

Eden didn't expect that she needed to make an appointment.

She said to the receptionist anxiously, "Can you please tell Mr. Calder that Eden Bleu is looking for him?"

He was the only one who could help the Clement family now. As long as the problem was sorted, she would definitely make it up for him in the future.

The other receptionist looked at Eden with disdain and said coldly, "I'm sorry, this is the rule. Everyone has to make an appointment to meet Mr. Calder."

"Can... can you just let me in for this time?" Eden looked at the two arrogant receptionists and a trace of displeasure flashed through her face.

She knew that ordinary people wouldn't come to such a place normally, so she could understand that even the receptionists here were like snobs.

So she said patiently, "Please can you pass the phone to me? I can explain to him myself. My phone is dead."

If her phone hadn't died, she wouldn't need to do this.

The receptionists seemed to lose their impatiences now, and one of them said, "Who do you think you are? If you don't go away now, we will call the security."

Eden's forehead was covered with sweat right now after she rushed all the way here, and she was also panting heavily, making her look rather pathetic. No wonder the receptionists were treating her like this.

She took a deep breath and said in a cold tone, "You should at least show some respect to others when you speak. Call him immediately." Her cold voice left others no space to question her at all.

However, the more she spoke like this, the crazier the receptionist thought she was.

It was true that people who came to Zaiden for business were generally very rich and noble people, and they would make an appointment in advance and the receptionist would take them to Zaiden's office directly when they were there.

There had never been anyone like Eden who just showed up and asked to see Zaiden.

But if there was something special, the receptionists were supposed to call Zaiden's office.

Eden just looked like an ordinary girl, plus her cold tone earlier, so the receptionist couldn't be bothered to deal with her at all.

Normally, if someone wanted to meet Zaiden without an appointment, they would give some tips to the receptionists. But Eden didn't know it at all.

One of the receptionists sneered and said, "Okay, I'll call the security now."

Eden was speechless.

She didn't understand why they were being like this.

Why couldn't they just let her in?

If she was kicked out of her father's company, it would really be a disgrace to her father!

However, if she told them that she was Zaiden's daughter, they would definitely think she was mad.

And they would think she was that kind of crazy person who just cared about money.

Thinking of this, she said helplessly, "Forget it. I'll just wait in the hall."

The receptionist smiled coldly with a vicious look on her face. She did not intend to just forget it, on the contrary, she picked up the phone.

"Hello! Security? Come to the front desk please."

"D*mn it." Eden thought.

She looked at the receptionist who had an evil look and said, "Are you sure you want to do this?"

The receptionist sneered and said, "I've already done it."

Eden didn't know what to say.

She felt as if she was an idiot.

Soon, two people in security uniforms came over.

Eden couldn't help but say, "Alright, alright. I'll go out on my own. I'll wait outside the door, is that alright?" She turned around to leave as she was speaking.

But a woman's angry voice came from behind, "Throw this mad woman out." It sounded as if it was her house here.

The two security guards stepped forward and looked at Eden coldly.

Eden narrowed her eyes and frowned. A wave of unprecedented irritation surged up inside her.

Since she was to be thrown out, it would be better to make the matter bigger so that she could see her father at least.

So she said coldly, "Don't come any closer, or I won't be polite anymore." She had learned Taekwondo for several years, but she had never used it.

"Do it! Throw her out. Show her that this is not a place where she can just come as she wishes. Who does she think she is? Such a weirdo." The same receptionist said sternly again.

Hearing this, Eden turned around and glared at her angrily. How could she say such awful words?

"What are you doing?" An extremely dignified roar came all of a sudden.

Eden recognized the voice. It was Dawson. She felt much more relieved.

She quickly looked over and smiled after she made sure it was indeed Dawson. "Dawson."

Dawson walked over with a smile and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Eden nodded in a hurry and said, "Dawson, I want to see my dad... No, Mr. Calder."

Dawson said, "Don't worry. I'll take you to meet Mr. Calder after I finish this business."

The two receptionists were totally shocked when they saw that Dawson was as respectful towards Eden as he was to Mr. Calder.

They had seen so many wealthy people over the years, but this time, did they really make a mistake?

Before Eden could speak, Dawson looked at his assistant and said, "Miss Rooney, take Miss Bleu to the lounge to have a rest first. I'll be right there."

Miss Rooney looked at Eden respectfully and said,

"Miss Bleu, please come with me."

Eden suddenly felt as if she came to heaven from hell.

"Okay," she nodded quickly, but she really wanted to tell them that she was in a hurry.

But now, she didn't have much choice.

So she followed Miss Rooney away.

After they left, Dawson's face darkened instantly.

He looked at the two security guards and said, "Get these two awful people out and make sure they are not coming anywhere close to the company again! I've already started investigating how you've been taking bribes for the past few years. The company will sue you once it's investigated."

"No...!" The two receptionists were frightened. This was a huge calamity.

One of them cried instantly, "Dawson, we didn't do anything at all. Why are you sacking us? They insisted to give us money. It has nothing to do with US."

They had been working here for many years, and their salary was higher than that of most companies, plus the tips given by others, it was more than enough to support their families.

It was because of this rule set by Zaiden that they could profit from it.

Dawson said indifferently, "I saw what happened just now clearly. You have been doing this for a long time. You would only call Mr. Calder for them after they pay you. But the person you just offended is not someone you could mess about with. If you don't leave now, I'm sure it would be much worse when Mr. Calder comes to you. Get them out of here!"

There was no emotion in his voice at all.

"No, no, Dawson, we won't do it again. I still have to pay for the mortgage, so I can't lose my job.

Dawson, please." The other receptionist also cried out. They would never imagine that the girl they spoke with earlier could turn out to be someone they shouldn't mess about with at all.

Chapter 572

Dawson looked at her and said, "You clearly know that it was not easy for you to get your house, but you still did such a thing." He said very indifferently.

The receptionist lowered her head in shame and did not dare to speak again. Her entire body even began to tremble.

The people who came here were all bosses of different companies, and they would always offer them quite good tips. Sometimes they were even more than their salaries.

But she was being really unlucky today.

Dawson looked at the two security guards behind him and said, "Watch them leave and arrange two more people here from the logistics."

"Yes, Dawson." One of the security guards answered respectfully.

Only then did Dawson turn around and leave.

The two receptionists looked at each other with remorse in both of their eyes.

One of the security guards said, "You'd better do it faster. Don't make things difficult for us."

The two receptionists had no choice but to pack up their belongings quickly.

Eden did not wait long before she saw Dawson walking in.

She quickly got up and said with a smile, "Dawson, can you take me to see my dad now?"

Miss Rooney had already left after showing her way in.

Dawson smiled and said, "Eden, come here. Why didn't you call your dad?"

Eden smiled helplessly. "My phone is dead."

"I see. Let's go! I'll take you to see your dad. He'll be very happy if he knows you're here."

Eden smiled, thinking that her father probably should be sad if he knew that his daughter was trying to use his money to help others.

Dawson and Eden took the lift to the fifth floor.

In the luxurious office, Zaiden was sitting on a leather rocking chair and talking on the phone.

When he saw Eden coming, a trace of surprise flashed in his eyes. He quickly said a few more words and hung up the phone.

"Eden, why are you here? This must be the first time that you come to my company." He wanted to tell everyone about her, but for her safety, he felt he'd better wait for a while.

Dawson only showed her to the door and then left.

Eden smiled and said, "Dad, I'm sorry. I'm here to ask you for help."

Zaiden also smiled, "You don't need to apologize. I'm your dad, so there is nothing to be embarrassed about. I'm very happy that you came to me when you need help. At least, it shows that I may be helpful."

"Dad," Eden almost burst into tears. It seemed that her father already knew why she was here.

Zaiden looked at her tearful look and smiled dotingly. He knew that she felt embarrassed, so he said first, "You came here for the Clement family, right?"

Eden nodded. Her father was always so kind and considerate. "Dad, no matter what, I am their daughter. Now that something like this has happened, I really can't just stand by the side and watch." She felt so heartbreaking when she saw her mother was being surrounded by so many people.

Zaiden nodded and smiled, "Eden, you have the right to worry about them. No matter what they have done to you, they are still your biological parents. If your mother didn't bring you to this world, I wouldn't have been able to meet you. You don't have to worry about this. I will go there right now and settle the matter today."

Looking at her father's loving smile, Eden nodded gratefully, "Dad, thank you!"

Zaiden smiled, "If you really want to thank me, you should work hard on the management skill. When I get older, I will hand over the company to you. Then your mom and I will be able to enjoy our I'll lives."

After he finished, he smiled again and said, "My biggest wish was to marry your mom in my life. Now that my wish has been fulfilled, so I would like to spend more time with your mom and you, and live the life we want."

Eden suddenly thought for a moment and said, "Dad, let's go to River Town when Kenny has time. It's very beautiful there, and the food is delicious."

"Sure!" Zaiden nodded with a smile and said, "Let's go wherever you want to go!"

Eden smiled sweetly, "That's a deal then."

"Sounds good!" Zaiden's cheerful voice made Eden much more relieved.

After this, Zaiden stood up and said, "Let's go to the Clement Group now."

"Sure!" Eden pursed her lips and smiled gratefully.

When they walked out, Dawson had already got the car ready.

They went to the Clement Group together.

When they arrived at the Clement Group's building, the police cordon had already been set up downstairs.

It already gathered a lot of people in front of the building. Some of them were just bystanders, but most of them were the suppliers and reporters.

Zaiden looked at Eden and said, "Eden, wait for me in the car. Don't worry about anything else. I got it covered."

"Okay. Dad, there are too many people. Be careful." Eden nodded obediently.

Zaiden smiled and gave her a reassuring look. Then he got out of the car with Dawson.

Looking at the crowded street, Eden really had mixed feelings.

She was so grateful to her father for what he had done for her, and the only thing she could do to pay it back was to spend more time with him and take good care of her parents in the future.

On the other side, Victor and Anson also came over in time. They told the suppliers that they would pay them soon, which temporarily calmed those people down.

Aisling and Wyatt finally could relax a bit. It seemed that they would be safe at least for the day.

The reporters were all there watching Anson pay the suppliers.

And Victor was checking the bills next to him.

Victor never accepted interviews from the media, so it was his first time to appear in public today. And the news of him helping the Clement family became the most popular material for the reporters.

However, no matter what kind of questions the reporters asked, Victor still kept quiet.

He had always been such an arrogant person, and the reporters really couldn't do anything about it.

After all, people all spoke highly of him now when he spent so much money and came to sort the problem for the Clement family himself.

Plus his attractive personality, good sense of clothing, and polished behavior, it would not be hard for him to stand out on any occasion.

Aisling and Wyatt were also watching from the side.

At this moment, there was a sudden stir in the crowd.

"Look, is that Mr. Calder? The real estate tycoon."

"Yes, it's really him."

"It is Mr. Calder. He has always kept a low profile and has never appeared in public. Why is he here today?"

The cameras in the reporters' hands instantly focused on Zaiden and Dawson, and Dawson carefully guarded Zaiden when they were walking through the crowd.

Victor, Anson, Aisling, and Wyatt were all shocked when they saw Zaiden.

Zaiden looked at the reporters who were pushing each other and said with a smile, "Be careful." All the reporters suddenly felt that the legendary big shot was so nice and kind.

Chapter 573

People like Zaiden, who was powerful and rich, would always take many bodyguards no matter where they went, but Zaiden only used to take his assistant with him.

No matter where he was, he always kept a very low profile, therefore, people were inevitably showing him respect.

Zaiden walked toward Wyatt, and all the reporters made way for him.

Wyatt already could guess what he was doing here, so he looked very grateful.

"Mr. Calder." Wyatt and Aisling both greeted him respectfully.

Zaiden smiled and said, "Hello, Mrs. and Mr. Clement. I have something to discuss with you today." He was so modest and polite, which made people feel very comfortable.

Hearing this, all the reporters pushed their microphones toward Zaiden straight away as they could tell that they were going to talk about something important.

Victor took a look at Zaiden, wondering if Eden had gone to find him.

Seeing that Victor was looking in the direction of Zaiden, Anson said, "Victor, don't be distracted. Otherwise, we won't be able to finish this. I have already sacrificed a lot to come here with you, so can you be more considerate?"

Victor didn't know what to say.

He just withdrew his gaze and continued to check the bills.

On the other side, Wyatt smiled politely, wondering what Zaiden wanted to discuss with him in front of the public.

Aisling also looked at Zaiden in confusion. He said he wanted to discuss something with them, then it must be something serious.

It must be Eden who had convinced him to come here because he didn't even meet her before no matter how she tried

She was really surprised that he came here today.

Wyatt said, "Mr. Calder, why don't we talk in my office?" He didn't want so many people here to listen to what they were going to talk about.

Zaiden smiled and said, "Mr. Clement, I only need to say a few words, so it won't take very long."

Wyatt nodded with a smile. "Ok, please go ahead."

At this time, all the reporters' eyes were fixed on Zaiden.

Zaiden took a look at everyone and said with a smile, "Mr. Clement, I know that you have a piece of land on Upper Street. I don't know if you would like to sell that land to me so that I could build a plaza for my daughter?"

"What?" Wyatt cried out in surprise.

Aisling was also shocked. Now she was sure that Eden must have talked to him.

She was shocked to hear that the plaza he was going to build was meant to be given to Eden.

"Mr. Calder." Aisling looked at him in a daze.

Zaiden smiled and said, "Mrs. Clement, what do you think? Our company is not a joint-stock company, so I want to give this plaza to my daughter so that she could manage it in the future on her own."

Victor and Anson also heard his words.

Anson's face was filled with envy. He almost wanted to thank God.

Eden was indeed born with a silver spoon.

No one knew how much money and assets Zaiden had.

A reporter asked excitedly, "Mr. Calder, people said that you are married and have a daughter, so can you tell us something about your daughter?"

Everyone wanted to know who this lucky girl was! How could she make him love her so much even though she was not even his biological daughter?

Everyone was so envious.

"Yes, Mr. Calder. Please tell us something about her. Everyone is very curious about your daughter."

"Mr. Calder, could you also tell us about your wife?" Everyone started asking questions all of a sudden. Zaiden kept a kind smile all the time and said politely, "I will tell you all about it when it is time." After that, he looked at Wyatt and said, "Mr.

Clement, I will pay seven billion for the land. I don't think you will get any better deal than this."

Anson, who was drinking water, suddenly choked when he heard these words.

This meant that the Clement family earned two billion from it indirectly.

That was no different from getting pennies from heaven!

Now Eden would become the richest person.

He looked at Victor enviously and whispered, "Victor, your future wife probably will be richer than you."

Victor raised his eyebrows proudly and said, "Isn't that better?"

Anson was speechless.

"Don't you mind?"

"Why would I mind?" Victor said.

The corners of Anson's mouth twitched.

Some people were just so lucky. Even though Eden wasn't born with the silver spoon, the silver spoon just waited for her as soon as she was born.

He couldn't think of anyone else who was luckier than her!

What a life!

He was so jealous!

On the other side, Wyatt and Aisling agreed to Zaiden's offer.

They both understood that Zaiden was helping them.

Dawson, who was standing next to them, had already taken out the prepared contract for them to sign.

Zaiden had already known that such a day would come, so he was prepared in advance.

He also knew that Eden would definitely help them as she was such a kind-hearted person. So he had already told Dawson to get everything ready beforehand.

Therefore, he knew straight away as soon as he saw Eden came to him earlier.

Money was far less important than family to him now.

He would never want to live a luxurious but lonely life anymore. He wanted to live with his family, his wife, and his daughter together forever.

The contract had been signed with the witness of the media, so everything was settled.

Wyatt looked at Zaiden gratefully and said, "Mr.

Calder, thank you so much! I know it's..."

"Mr. Clement, it's good that you know it. I'm not doing this for you. I'm only doing this for my daughter." Zaiden interrupted him with a smile.

Wyatt smiled and nodded. He knew what Zaiden meant.

"Since the contract has been signed, then I will leave everything to my assistant now. I'll see you next time." Zaiden said with a smile.

"Shall we have dinner together tonight?"

Wyatt wanted to thank Zaiden. If it weren't for him and Victor, their family could have declared bankruptcy today.

Zaiden smiled again, "Maybe next time!"

Dawson indicated the reporters to move out of the way.

And the reporters all moved very quickly. After all, no one dared to offend Zaiden as no one knew exactly what he was capable of.

He just spent seven billion on this deal. Not everyone could do that.

Moreover, it was for his daughter. This breaking news had already gone viral online.

And the construction of the land in later days would be several times more than seven billion.

Victor's assets in River City were only a few hundred billion, but he still didn't dare to throw such a large sum of money like Zaiden did, and the later expense was even more shocking.

In this era, no matter how the information was penetrated, there was still something that no one can see through.

At this moment, Eden, who was still waiting in the car, had no idea what had just happened.

Her phone was dead. In order not to make trouble for everyone else, she just sat in the car and waited quietly.

Chapter 574

Zaiden and Dawson got back in the car and left quickly.

Zaiden closed the door very fast as he was obviously trying to protect Eden. Now it was not a good time for the public to know about her yet, and when the time came, he would definitely hold a press conference.

"Dad." Eden said.

Looking at her anxious face, Zaiden smiled and comforted her, "Don't worry. Everything is going to be fine now. Mrs. Clement is really not an expert in real estate, and it is much harder for someone who had not done anything with it before. Anyway, I have bought that piece of land, which has solved the problem for the Clement family for now."

Eden was totally shocked, "Have you bought it? I thought you just needed to invest in it!"

Zaiden smiled, "You will understand it in the future. I will send you back to your company now."

"Alright." Eden nodded and did not ask any further.

Zaiden gently stroked her hair and said, "Silly girl, we are a family. Everyone in this big city has their own stories in their lives and no two stories are the same. Someone might have their stories focused on their partners, and someone might have them focused on their friends and families, but no matter what kind of situation we are facing, as long as we are together as a family, we will get over everything."

His touching words really warmed Eden's heart. Ever since her father and mother came into her life, she, who had always longed for a family, finally felt the warmth in her life.

She understood that her father said this so that she didn't have to feel guilty.

"Dad, I will always be with you and mom, and I know this is the only thing I can do for you," Eden said, looking at Zaiden with a bright smile on her face.

Zaiden laughed brightly, "Silly girl, aren't you going to stay with your husband in the future?"

Eden lowered her head and said in a low voice, "Dad, let's not talk about this now. I don't even have a boyfriend yet. Who am I going to marry?"

"I think Victor is a decent man. I would be happy if you and he could be together in the future."

Hearing these words again, Eden couldn't help but think that Victor really had bribed her father so that he kept saying good words for him.

She raised her eyebrows and smiled. "Dad, are you speaking up for Victor now?"

Zaiden didn't know what to say.

He felt he was only trying to help his own daughter.

But she clearly did not buy it.

He said earnestly, "Eden, I have seen it all, so I can tell that both Victor and Jasper are someone you could trust. But it's still up to you."

As soon as he mentioned Jasper, the warmth flash in Eden's eyes. She smiled gently and glanced at him. "Dad, I know that Jasper is a good person, but I have no feelings for him. He is just like a family member to me. As for Victor, I do have some special feelings for him, but I am not sure if it is love. I don't need to rush it right now anyway, so let's just wait and see." For her, her career was the most important thing at the moment.

She always wanted to be accepted by others in this world, so that's why she had always been so strong and brave.

Zaiden nodded with a smile and said, "That's true. We can't rush it."

At this time, Dawson asked, "Mr. Calder, shall we stop at a concealed place so that Miss Bleu could get off?"

Zaiden said, "Yes, let's go straight to the parking lot of Alwynn Group."

"Sure!"

He then looked at Eden who was still smiling, and his gaze became softer and softer. "Eden, I know you must feel so unfair now. But don't worry, when I get everything sorted, I'll tell the whole world that you're my daughter."

Eden blinked her bright eyes and said proudly, "I heard that you have a lot of money!"

Zaiden was stunned for a moment, but soon he noticed that she was only joking with him.

So he nodded with a smile and said, "Yes, I do have a lot of money."

Such an ambiguous answer really drove Eden crazy.

If a man had a lot of money who was also handsome, then he had absolutely impeccable charm.

After Zaiden finished his words, Eden grabbed his hand quickly.

Zaiden looked at her with confusion, wondering if she was going to announce something important.

But she only said, "Dad, can you buy me an ice cream later? I always hope that my dad can buy me ice cream."

Zaiden was speechless.

So was Dawson who was sitting in the driver's seat.

He also thought that Eden was going to say something important.

"Hahaha," Zaiden laughed out happily.

Dawson couldn't help but burst into laughter too. "Miss Bleu, you looked so serious earlier, so I thought you were going to say something really important."

Eden looked at Dawson and said with a smile, "Dawson, it is also important for a daughter to ask her dad to buy her an ice cream!"

"Yes, yes, it is important!" Dawson smiled, thinking how cute she was.

Zaiden also smiled and said, "Eden, I'll buy it for you in a minute."

He would buy anything that his daughter wanted.

He always had a feeling that he would give as much love as he could to his child if he had one, and now he finally understood how it felt like when he wanted to give everything to Eden ever since she appeared in his life.

This kind of love was really unspeakable.

He said earnestly, "Eden, I feel very happy now!"

Eden was stunned for a moment and then smiled, "Dad, I feel even happier as I'm your daughter."

"Haha..." Zaiden patted her back gently. "You just have the magic to make me feel happy all the time."

Eden smiled sweetly.

Dawson stopped the car suddenly and said, "Mr. Calder, there's an ice cream shop here."

"Eden, wait here, I'll buy you an ice cream now," Zaiden said and then got off the car.

Eden looked at his back with a smile and said, "Dawson, isn't my dad a really good dad?"

"As long as you are good, he would always be a good dad." Dawson's words meant something else because he knew that Mr. Calder had really treated Eden as his own daughter.

He then continued, "Do you know that Mr. Calder also does a lot of charity work? He always goes to the poor areas in person and tries to give everything they really need there. He believes that good things happen to kind people."

"Yes, I also believe that kind people will live a happier life."

"That's right." Dawson nodded in agreement.

Eden smiled. She promised in her heart that she would return her family with her kind heart and love.

Soon, Zaiden came back with a strawberry ice cream and handed it to Eden, "Here you go. From now on, as long as it's sunny, I will buy you an ice cream."

Eden nodded hurriedly. "Deal! You have to keep your promise."

"When have I ever lied to you?" said Zaiden with a smile.

Dawson started the car again and drove all the way to Alwynn Group's parking lot. They only left after watching Eden get in the elevator safely.

Chapter 575

Eden went to the 25th floor happily with the ice cream in her hand, but she still had no clue that the breaking news of what had happened earlier had already gone mental on every social media channel.

People in the upper-class society in River City had always been paying attention to the Clement family, so the tragedy this time made everyone deeply affected.

Phillip and Rebecca were sitting in the office and watching the live news.

Both of them were extremely shocked, especially when they heard that Zaiden bought the land and made the Clement family make two hundred million directly from it.

Rebecca originally dreamt that the Jotham Alwynn Group would then be able to take the rag off in River City after she bought Alwynn Group and Clement Group.

She had never expected that Zaiden would lend a hand and not only prevent the Clement Group from going bankrupt but also indirectly saved them, which totally destroyed her big plan.

She and Phillip were both too surprised to even say a word.

At the same time, Haven and Tillie were also watching the news from their office in L.P.

Seeing that the situation had completely turned, Haven couldn't help but smile.

No one expected Zaiden to suddenly appear, and everyone was now wondering who his daughter was.

Tillie said in a jealous tone, "I can't believe Zaiden regards a daughter who has no blood relationship to him as a treasure and even spent hundreds of millions for her. She is indeed a very lucky girl. Why life is so unfair?"

Haven was also very jealous and thinking this woman was really lucky and blessed.

She bit her lip and wondered what she should do now.

How was she going to explain this to her brothers? She did not say a single word the night before at the bar, but she was clearly on Vincent's side.

Her brothers must have seen it as well. If she knew that there was a turning point, she would have said a few more words.

Now, the Clement family was totally back to normal.

Hundreds of billions were not a small amount of money after all.

Tillie walked back to her chair and said, "Haven, I really didn't expect that such a big shot like Zaiden would even help your family. It seems that your family indeed is well-connected."

Haven was finally relieved when she saw the smile on Tillie's face.

However, deep down in her heart, she was still worried. How was she going to face the Clement family now?

They hadn't given her anything she deserved yet.

But this was just the reality. When she wanted money, money would just slip away from her side.

Only thieves who wanted to steal money from her would ever wish her to be rich.

As soon as Eden got back to the office, Amelia walked up excitedly and said, "Director Bleu, where have you been? Something big has happened."

Eden still had no idea what was going on.

"What happened?" After she had a bite of the ice cream, she frowned and asked. At the moment, she really could not cope with any other bad news.

Seeing that Eden still had the mood to eat ice cream, Amelia almost went crazy.

Eden frowned even deeper and asked again, "Amelia, what's wrong with you?" Victor's gentle smile appeared on her face.

Amelia pointed to her phone excitedly and said in a trembling voice, "Director Bleu, where have you been? Let me tell you, the problem of the Clement family has been solved."

"That's good!" Eden didn't understand why she was being like this.

Amelia swallowed quickly and then licked her dry lips, "That's not the point."

Eden was even more confused. What on earth did she want to tell her?

She had never seen her like this before.

"Mr. Calder, that mysterious man, bought the land from the Clement family and said that he wanted to build a plaza for his daughter." Amelia finally got to the point.

Zaiden's daughter, whom no one had met yet, instantly became the girl that all the women in the world envied.

They were all women, but why her life was so different?

"What?" Eden found it hard to believe. She quickly finished the ice cream in her hand, which instantly gave her a brain freeze.

She took the phone from Amelia's hand in disbelief.

She replayed the video and her eyes widened in surprise.

"Mr. Clement, I know that your family has a piece of land in Upper Street. I don't know if you'd be willing to sell this piece of land to me. I want to build a plaza for my daughter."

Eden looked at her father's smiling face and his loving voice echoed in her ears.

Why didn't he tell her earlier?

Amelia looked at Eden's shocked face and said enviously, "Director Bleu, how lucky this girl is! She must have this luck written all over her face! If she runs this plaza well, she can enjoy endless wealth and glory for the rest of her life."

Eden glanced at Amelia when she heard this.

Right, she was this lucky girl! Thinking of this, a pride look flashed across her face.

She took a look at her face reflected on the phone screen, feeling that luck was indeed written all over her face.

However, everything still seemed to happen too suddenly.

She turned into such a rich person all of a sudden!

Was she a billionaire now?

This was something that she could never even imagine.

"It's said that your life is in your own hands. It sounds right, but how can we compete with such a person who was born with everything? If one was born in a good family, then this person literally wouldn't need to do anything in his or her life anymore."

Listening to Amelia's complaint, Eden smiled helplessly.

Was it even a good thing to have everything ready when one was born?

Some people were born with everything in their lives, then they got so used to not trying for anything on their own and ended up being useless and incapable. Only those who had experienced and suffered a lot in their lives, could stand still in the cold wind and become stronger and stronger.

Only in this way could one be brave and confident in the face of difficulties.

She returned the phone to Amelia and put her phone on charge after she walked back to her own desk.

It took her a few minutes to turn her phone back on.

Victor few messages from Jasper and Abigail came through immediately.

"Congratulations! You've finally become a billionaire!"

"Eden, I'm so jealous! You will have to pay for the dinner tonight."

Eden only got paid last month, which was only enough to pay for the tuition fee for Kenny and the rest of them.

She really wanted to shout out that she was actually very skint.

The money from Gia was all paid to her mother.

This meant that she had no money left for the next whole month.

She typed quickly, "Abby, let's eat dumplings tonight."

Abby only replied with two question marks.

Eden typed again, "I'm so skint."

"Who would believe that you are skint now?"

"Yes, I'm the poorest among the poorest."

Chapter 576

"Are you joking? You'd better come to hold me right now, or I'd pass out by reading your messages," replied Abigail.

Eden didn't know what to say.

It was indeed very hard for her to explain it to everyone.

She replied, "I'll send my love to you now. You'd better lie in bed for a while before I come over to serve you."

"Hahaha ..."

It was from Jasper.

Eden felt a little lost, not because of the seven billion, but Jasper's laughter.

Then Abigail replied, "I am so jealous!"

"Abby, I can even see that you are licking your chops," said Eden.

"Look at you! You are totally hyped up!!"

"I still got a lot to learn."

"Eden, you are getting better with it now! You are definitely more and more modest." "Thanks Abby. I'm very flattered!" "Anyway, I'll just lie down here, and my son is giving me a massage. Graciella said you must be carried away by your excitement right now, so we will have to let you treat us all tonight."

"Again?"

Eden paused for a second, then quickly sent another message, "Abby, tell Graciella that I will come back to make dumplings myself tonight to show my sincerity. I love you!"

Abigail was totally speechless.

Then no one said anything after that.

The group chat of three of them felt totally silent all of a sudden.

Eden smiled and continued her work.

"Wow!" Amelia shouted out all of a sudden, "This news has become a hot topic in the mass media. Everyone is trying to dig out who Mr. Calder's daughter is. Director Bleu, what kind of woman do you think she would be?" Amelia was not in the mood to work at all.

Eden shook her head. "Amelia, stop thinking about this anymore. Hurry up and get your work done. Would you believe it if I say it was me?" She just wanted to get off work early.

She had to attend the International Fashion Week the next day.

Therefore, she'd better have a good rest tonight so that she wouldn't feel too bad the next day.

Amelia said while still looking at her phone, "Director Bleu, stop joking about it. If it really were you, I would have latched onto you already. Why is life so unfair? Mr. Calder's daughter has such good luck!"

It seemed that no one would believe Eden now even if she was telling the truth.

So she smiled and said, "Amelia, money will come and go anyway. What do you need that much money for?"

Amelia quickly looked at her and said, "Well, it sounds right, but what can you do without money? I'm running short of money right now, so I can't understand people who don't care about money."

Eden shook her head and laughed. She didn't want to talk about money anymore, so she asked something else, "By the way, is there anyone else doing Haven's job now since she has left?" Actually, Irene had been taking over Haven's job for the time being.

"No, we haven't found a suitable person yet. They are still hiring."

"Alright!" Eden said and went back to her work.

When it was almost time to finish work, Lucian came over and asked Eden to go to Victor's office.

Victor and Anson also came back.

But what surprised Eden when she got there was that Mr. and Mrs. Clement was there as well.

Eden smiled and greeted them, "Dad, mom, are you all right?"

Her two older brothers were still in the police station, and no one had heard from Adonis either.

Wyatt said, "Eden, I have to thank you and Victor for what happened today. If it weren't for the two of you, our family would really face heavy losses."

Eden glanced at Victor, whose face was pale, and said, "Dad, we are a family. You don't need to say that."

Then she looked at Victor and said with a smile, "Mr. Alwynn, thank you!"

No one else wanted to get involved in such a thing, but only Victor and her father.

Victor started at her for a few second and said nothing.

He didn't want her gratitude. As long as she would think of him when she needed help, then he would feel pleased.

The more she expressed her gratitude, the more it showed that how distant they were.

Eden could tell that Victor was not very happy, and she knew the reason clearly.

Aisling looked at Eden and said with a smile, "Eden, come here."

Eden glanced at her and walked over to sit beside her.

Aisling took her hand and held it tightly. "Is your foot better?"

"It's much better now. It's just that I still can't wear high heels."

"Don't wear them then. Your body is more important. You are tall anyway, so you already look pretty without them." Aisling looked at her worriedly. She just wanted to take her daughter home as soon as possible.

Surely no one could deny the blood bond, neither could the Clement family. As their biological daughter, Eden would never leave them even when they were in trouble.

Eden smiled and nodded without saying anything.

Wyatt asked, "Eden, I'm really grateful to Mr. Calder for helping me with the matters of that land. He actually solves all the problems for us."

Eden smiled, "Actually, I didn't know that he would buy the land when I went to see him. I just thought he would invest in it." She was as shocked as everyone else when she saw the news.

Wyatt said, "Mr. Calder never transferred his company into a joint-stock company. He is really a good dad."

Wyatt's heart ached when he thought of this. Eden would still be more closed to Zaiden no matter what happened. If she hadn't gone missing, she would have lived a very happy life in her own family with them, and they would have also treated her like a princess.

Eden looked at Wyatt and smiled sweetly, "Dad, you are a good dad too."

Wyatt felt much better upon hearing this.

Eden knew that every parent loved their children with all their hearts, and so did they.

Aisling said, "Eden, Victor, why don't we go for dinner together tonight?"

Victor turned his head to Eden.

And Eden also looked at him. The two pairs of eyes met, and Victor's dark eyes made Eden unable to read.

She said, "Victor, are you coming?"

Hearing that she called him by his name directly instead of Mr. Alwynn, he nodded his head happily and said, "Yes."

Eden smiled.

"Then let's call Anson and Lucian as well. I'm afraid Adonis wouldn't be finished until later today because Vincent has no prospect of compromise in sight," said Wyatt.

Aisling snorted coldly. "Does Vincent think no one could tell what he is planning? He just wants to drag Buddy and Delmont away, so that we will have to face everything on our own today. If the Clement family was down, their family can just sit back and reap the profits."

She knew Rebecca too well, and her son was just as ingrate as her.

Now the two families were already bond together, Vincent was still being so ruthless, which was really disgusting.

Wyatt had always been dissatisfied with Vincent deep down in his heart as well.

Eden was listening to them quietly and did not say anything to interrupt.

She did not know the complicated relationship between the Clement family and the Alwynn family, neither could she do anything about it.

Victor said, "Anson has already called Adonis, and Vincent will hear about what happened today soon. As soon as he knows that the problem was solved, he will surely be happy to reconcile with you."

Chapter 577

Hearing this, Wyatt was slightly relieved. "Then let's wait for them."

But Victor shook his head and said, "We don't have to. The three of them can have dinner together. We'll go first." Adonis didn't know anything yet, so it definitely would be a problem if he heard Eden calling them mom and dad later.

He couldn't trust Adonis to keep any secret at all.

He definitely got this gene from his mother.

Thinking of this, Victor picked up his suit jacket next to him.

Eden also got up and said, "Then I'll go back to the office to pack my things."

Her phone was still in the office.

"Be careful when you are walking. Don't walk too fast if your foot is not fully healed." Aisling said with concern.

Eden smiled and nodded, "Okay! Mom, don't worry."

Then she turned around and walked out. It seemed that Aisling was indeed a person who cared about her family very much even though she was being very ruthless to everyone else, just exactly like what Victor had said.

Eden quickly returned to her office and packed her things. After saying goodbye to Amelia, she sent a message to her mother and told them that she was not going to have dinner at home.

Then they went to the River City Restaurant together with Anson and Lucian.

When they arrived at the restaurant, they happened to run into Haven and Tillie, as well as Rebecca and Phillip, who seemed also just arrived.

The tension was palpable when the two groups of people saw each other.

Haven's heart instantly started beating so fast as soon as she saw Eden was with her parents.

Why were they together?

Neither did Eden expect to see Haven here. It seemed that she just couldn't get rid of her no matter where she went.

Aisling started at Haven with a bad look.

Phillip also looked a little surprised when he saw Mr. and Mrs. Clement, as well as his own son.

Rebecca glanced at Eden and Victor and smiled coldly. It seemed that Victor was really in love.

Now she finally could find a chance and get the goods on him.

She couldn't believe that this d*mn brat was still living a good life after everything she had tried.

Haven smiled and said first, "Dad, Mom, are you also here for dinner?"

Aisling didn't say a word with a cold face.

Wyatt said in a low voice, "Yes. Now that everything has been resolved, we just decided to have dinner together because I'm very grateful to Victor and his company."

Haven glanced at Eden and sneered, "Why Eden is here then? She didn't help us with anything." She was actually worried that they would find out who Eden really was.

As soon as they found out everything and took Eden back, everything she had from her family now would all gone. Especially when the Clement family had just got two billion now, she definitely expected the same amount of money as her two brothers.

Victor knew what Rebecca was capable of, so he had been hiding Eden's real identity from the beginning.

Anson, who couldn't stand it anymore, asked mockingly, "Haven, can you be careful with your words? As the daughter of the Clement family, what have you done? Where were you when your parents were in trouble? You didn't even go there. What position do you have to talk about others right now?"

Haven suddenly lost her tongue. Normally, Lucian was the vicious one to her, but today, it seemed to be Anson's turn.

She didn't understand why he was so d*mn bothered about whether she went or not.

"Because I... I had to work, and I believe that my parents can definitely get everything solved. Isn't everything fine now? Mr. Skye, are you trying to play us off against each other now?" She said the last sentence in a meaningful tone.

Anson sneered and said, "Who on earth is the one trying to play off one against another? You even have words to say when we take Director Bleu out for dinner. If you have too much time to care about other people's business, why don't you take more time to mind your own business?"

His words really irritated Haven. She shouted out angrily, "Anson, you are in no position to talk to me like that."

Anson sighed with his indifferent face and then said, "You're thinking too much. I don't even know who you are. I wouldn't even be bothered to talk to you at all."

"You..." Haven was exasperated. She thought that Lucian was already vicious enough, but Anson seemed to be much more horrible than him.

In his eyes, she felt that she was literally nothing.

"Anson, be careful when your words," she warned him and cast him with a cold gaze.

She couldn't believe he just said that in front of her parents, her parents-in-law, as well as Tillie.

Anson spread out his hands and smiled. "Look at yourself. I haven't even said anything bad, but you have already shown us how harsh you are. You told me to mind my words, but have you ever thought about your own words and attitude? You are also a young lady from a well-known family, and you should have learned that if you want respect from others, at least you should respect them first. What do you mean by saying that why Eden is here since she didn't do anything? Have you ever thought that you would need to pay it back when you tried to hurt others?" He had long been displeased with Haven.

She was such an awful and ungrateful person.

The Clement family had treated her like their own daughter, not only did she not feel grateful at all, but she also secretly did many bad things behind their backs. She would have to pay for what she had done one day.

Actually, she was already paying for it. When she married Vincent, she would have endless pain in the future.

Vincent was a good-for-nothing, and he knew very well what kind of a person he was.

"Anson, you..."

"Haven, stop it." Tillie smiled and patted Haven's shoulder.

She stared at Eden and thought that Darlene was really good at reading people. This woman seemed to be free from arrogance and impetuosity, and even her eyes lit up with confidence. Most importantly, her whole body sent out a natural disposition that made people feel so comfortable.

She smiled slightly and asked, "You must be Eden Blew, Darlene's apprentice?"

Eden returned with a polite smile and said, "Yes, I am."

"You are really pretty. Do you have a boyfriend? I can introduce a good guy to you if you don't," said Tillie, crossing her arms in front of her chest and looking at Eden with an arrogant face.

She actually looked better when she was being quiet.

Hearing this, Victor frowned and turned his dark eyes to her.

Eden did not expect this either, especially it was the first time they met. Tillie was such a confident person. To be honest, she indeed kept a good shape and was very beautiful and elegant. She had a unique beauty that only independent and successful women would have.

But this beauty was totally destroyed by her scheming eyes.

She had read many books. The real success for a woman like this should be her business skills and confidence.

Eden smiled and said, "Thank you for your kindness, Teacher Elliott!"

Tillie curled her lips slightly and said, "That's a pity. But I hope you don't mind I made such an offer the first time we met."

Eden said, "No, not at all. I understand you are only concerned about me. It's just that I don't have the luck to accept it."

Chapter 578

Hearing this, Tillie's smile faded slightly as if she suddenly thought of something. She said with embarrassment, "Oh, I'm sorry, Director Bleu. I totally forgot that you are a single mother. The guy I wanted to introduce to you is actually my relative who from a very rich and good family, they would hate me if I really introduced him to you."

Eden still looked at her with a calm smile. Tillie was wearing a white suit, making her look even more confident and elegant.

Victor was so angry, but Eden indicated him not to say anything with her eyes. It was her own business and she could solve it herself.

Wyatt, Aisling, Anson, and Lucian all had extremely unpleasant looks on their faces at the moment.

Eden looked at Tillie's confident and beautiful face, thinking that she was indeed an expert who could insult her like this without even using a single swearing word.

Upon hearing this, Haven felt much better.

Now that Eden must have nothing to say anymore.

As long as Eden was not happy, she would be able to forget about anything unhappy.

Rebecca also smiled coldly. When she was about to say something, she heard Eden's cold voice.

"Teacher Elliott, I am indeed a single mother, but I have never asked you to introduce any man to me. I didn't expect that you would misunderstand my words totally. However, Teacher Elliott, I heard that you are a mistress who ruins other people's families. I don't believe that your relative would dare to hate anyone as outstanding as you. The younger generations like us should really learn from you." Did they really think that she would not fight back when Tillie insulted her like that?

If Tillie wanted to show everyone how perfect she was, she would at least have no flaw in her past.

Then others would have nothing to say when she said those words. But as a person like her, what position did she have to call Eden names?

Hearing this, Tillie's proud and confident face suddenly darkened. What a sharp-tongued girl!

She shouted angrily, "Eden, be careful when your words." No one had ever dared to speak to her like this in public.

She couldn't believe that Eden opened up her old wound in front of everyone.

Eden's calm face suddenly turned cold. "Teacher Elliott, you have to be careful when your words too. After all, you are our role model as a teacher and elder!" Without her peaceful and harmless smile, Eden seemed to have suddenly turned into a different person. She looked so strong and brave now, making people unable to ignore her words.

Victor had never seen her like this. At this moment, she just wanted to be herself bravely, without any other names.

Hearing this, Anson almost applauded her.

At the same time, Lucian was also quietly looking at Eden.

Wyatt and Aisling looked at each other, and they both understood what each other was thinking.

Eden, their daughter, had been convincing people with her own excellence and hard work. All the hard times she had been through really helped her to reach the position where she was now.

Tillie sneered. "Well, Eden, you really impressed me a lot."

After that, she turned around and headed towards the restaurant.

Haven looked at her parents and said, "Mom, Dad, I'll go to have dinner with Teacher Elliott now."

Then she turned and ran after Tillie.

Phillip nodded at Wyatt and also walked to the restaurant with Rebecca.

Neither of them said anything, because Rebecca didn't want to, and Phillip was too ashamed to.

After all, what he had done today was undoubtedly like a slap in the face considering the relationship between the two families.

It seemed that the relationship would be totally ruined this time.

Victor smiled and said, "Eden, let's go."

Eden nodded. "Let's go! I'm starving now."

It was such a long day, and she didn't eat much in the morning. No wonder she was starting right now.

Anson said excitedly, "Eden, you were really amazing earlier. I guess no one would dare to speak to Tillie like that in your whole industry."

Eden glanced at him and laughed, "No matter who she is, no one deserves her insult. I am not the kind of person who would endure the insult and say nothing. Why should anyone be treated like this?"

It was very obvious that Tillie was trying to insult her in front of others.

Moreover, she hated her aunt so much, so why would she want to introduce a boyfriend to her? She just wanted to insult her from the beginning.

Anson smiled happily. Eden looked like a quiet girl, but she actually has a very strong and brave heart.

Victor also looked at Eden, and an imperceptible smile flashed across his face. It seemed that no one had noticed it.

Aisling took a step forward and walked next to Eden. She said, "Eden, don't take Haven's words to heart. I was really stupid to bring back an ingrate. Now you can't even come home because of her. I really wish that you can come home with us."

Her eyes were full of guilt.

Eden looked at her with a faint smile. "Mom, I don't mind. And we are all good now anyway."

Aisling looked at her and shook her head slightly. "No, I'm not good. You've no idea how hard it was to me when I lost you. I originally thought that adopting Haven would help me a little, however, it didn't help with anything but caused us a lot of trouble."

The corner of Eden's mouth was quietly curled into a faint smile. This was their destiny anyway, and no one knew what would happen in the end.

They quickly arrived at the reserved room, and the dishes were soon served.

Aisling put a lot of food on Eden's plate. "Eden, eat more. You've been busy all day long."

Eden smiled and said, "Mom, you should eat too."

At this time, Lucian, who had been silent all the time, said, "Director Bleu, Tillie and Miss Clement will go to the International Fashion Week tomorrow as well, so you have to be careful. Tillie is a very vengeful person. You made her embarrassed today. She will fight back as soon as she has the chance."

Eden looked at him and smiled gratefully. "Mr. Bonen, thank you for reminding me. I will be careful." She had seen all kinds of frame-ups over the years. Some things could not be avoided and it was impossible to guard against.

She had always been very careful.

Aisling said with concern, "Eden, shall I go with you?"

Eden shook her head slowly and said, "Mom, you don't have to worry about me. I'll be fine. It's just a fashion show. If it's a competition or something, I may be worried. They could only say something to me if they really wanted to revenge anyway, and I can deal with them myself. Besides, it's only in River City. I'll be back tomorrow night."

Aisling nodded, but she was still worried, "We also do design in our family business, so I will go tomorrow."

"Sounds good. So let's meet at the hall." Eden said with a smile.

"Yes!" Aisling nodded happily.

Victor said, "Eden, I will go too. Let's go to pick up Mr. Parma together tomorrow morning, I."

Eden looked more confused now.

Why was he going?

It was actually quite important for him to go. He was planning to expand his business, so it would be a good chance for him to show the design products of Alwynn Group to all the customers all over the world. If they had an intention to cooperate, Alwynn Group would be able to open its gate abroad.

Chapter 579

"Sure!" It would certainly save Eden a lot of hassle if someone could drive her there.

The corner of Victor's mouth lifted inadvertently.

Their Alwynn Group was now a leading enterprise in River City, so he was actually invited. He wanted to surprise her on the day, but it seemed that it would be impossible now.

However, he didn't plan to come back so soon after the event as he was planning to do something with Eden.

But unfortunately, plans always fell behind changes.

Anson looked at Victor and asked, "I don't think I need to go, do I?"

Victor gave him a sidelong glance. How could he didn't even get the hint? What would he be doing there?

Did he really wanna be a third wheel?

How stupid he could be!

Thinking of this, Victor cast a meaningful gaze on Anson.

"You don't need to go. You just stay here to deal with the matters with the Mirth Company. Do what you need to do, and make sure to get everything moving as soon as possible."

Hearing this, a relieved smile appeared on Anson's face immediately. He didn't want to go at all. He was planning to ask Abby out for dinner the next day.

Now that Abby was back, he could finally start his big plan.

He could also talk about the contract with her tomorrow, so she would definitely come out.

Lucian looked at him and asked, "Anson, why are you smiling as if you have won a lottery?"

Anson smiled and said, "Yes, you are right." Abby was such a beautiful and charming woman, it would be more pleasant for him rather than winning a lottery if he could be with her.

Therefore, he had to hurry up now.

Wyatt looked at these young men and smiled. It was so good that they were still young.

Eden lowered her head and carried on eating. There would be many famous and talented people in the industry attend this event this time, and it would be a great chance for her to get all the trending information and learn a lot of things.

Victor glanced at her and said, "Eden, your design work of the new season will be shown at the event tomorrow, and it will certainly be a critical moment for the reputation of our company."

Eden suddenly felt the heavy pressure on her shoulders. She smiled and said, "There will be so many famous designers there tomorrow, and I am just a nobody in front of them. Don't give me too much pressure." She wasn't confident enough yet as she understood how unpredictable and fastchanging the design world was.

Especially with all kinds of fashion platforms got popular and more and more young people joined in, there seemed to be no borders for anything anymore. She felt there were more and more new things that she needed to learn nowadays.

Lucian asked, "What about our booth? Who will be there?"

Victor said, "There are eight exhibition halls in total. Our booth will be in the first hall, and you are the one who is in charge of that."

"Me?" Lucian took a quick glance at Eden.

It would be better if Eden could be in charge because he was just a secretary and did not know how to explain everything to people.

Victor laughed and said, "Yes, it's you. I know you don't speak much normally, but you have very good communication skills. There will be more than 600 brands from 20 countries all over the world at the event tomorrow. Our support team has already gotten everything sorted, so you don't need to worry about anything else. You just need to lead them tomorrow. The event will last for 4 days, so you can stay in a hotel if you don't have enough time to come back, and we will cover your expenses. But it is not very far anyway, so you can come back if you are driving."

Hearing this, Lucian instantly turned his head to Anson and looked at him with angry eyes.

However, Anson looked back with a gloating face as if he was saying that it was finally his turn.

Lucian suddenly remembered that there would be media promotion and branding plans at the event, so it seemed that he would have to face the camera.

"I'm not going!" He refused immediately.

Victor did not really care what he said, "You have to. Haven't you been preparing for this all the time?"

Lucian said, "I was preparing everything for you. I thought you'd bring Anson with you."

Anson shrugged and said seriously, "Mr. Bonen, I'm sorry but I am very busy."

Lucian said immediately, "Are you busy with flattering girls?" He really couldn't avoid seeing Anson's huge reminder note.

Hearing this, Anson quickly put his phone back into his pocket.

How did he see that?

He said with an unhappy face, "You don't understand how I feel now as you haven't met your girl."

Lucian could not help but look at Eden when he heard this.

Victor noticed it instantly and also turned his eyes to Lucian.

Lucian had not forgotten.

Aisling saw the look in Lucian's eyes and her heart skipped a beat. Could Lucian..

That wouldn't be too surprising as Eden had always been an outstanding girl.

She had to admit that she was very talented in design.

On the other side, in the private room, Tillie and Phillip's family were also having dinner, but it seemed that no one was in the mood to enjoy any food at all.

Tillie held the red wine glass and kept drinking it silently.

Phillip frowned. He always thought that she was a gracious and open-minded woman, but after what happened earlier, she had totally changed and hadn't even said a word at all.

Haven noticed it as well, so she said, "Teacher, there is no need to be angry with such a shameless woman. Everyone knows what kind of a person Eden is, and she is really not worth it."

Rebecca also said, "Teacher Elliott, Haven is right. Eden is no match for you at all. How famous you already are as a designer now! We shouldn't let a woman like her ruin our dinner." She also knew that Tillie was a very arrogant person who even took Darlene as nothing, so she was very surprised when she heard that Tillie accepted Haven to be her apprentice.

However, knowing what Tillie had with Darlene before, she was no longer surprised.

Hearing their words, Phillip frowned even more.

Tillie nodded coldly. Even Darlene didn't dare to say anything like this to her, who did Eden think she was?

She looked at Phillip who kept quiet the whole time, and said with a smile, "Chairman Alwynn, this glass of wine is for you."

Phillip smiled lightly and did not say anything. He raised his glass and clinked it with everyone else's.

Seeing that Tillie was back to normal again, Haven was finally relieved.

She noticed that Tillie was a very resolute and vigorous woman at work after she had been working with her for a few days.

And she was also a very capable and experienced person.

She was different from Eden who looked more gentle and quiet, however, Eden was definitely not inferior to Tillie at all when it came to designing.

Haven had to admit that she never realized how big the gap could be between different people until she started working.

Now that she was Tillie's apprentice, she could definitely learn a lot from Tillie and even be preeminent above her, so that she could become famous in no time and completely defeat Eden one day.

Rebecca smiled and said, "Teacher Elliott, as a clothing company, Jotham Alwynn Group will attend the event tomorrow as well. Why don't we go together?"

Tillie glanced at her and said, "Sounds good if it's convenient for you. I don't mind anyway." She had never cared about such kind of event.

Chapter 580

Hearing this, Rebecca smiled happily. As long as she got Tillie on her side, Alwynn Group would no longer be a threat for her. Victor was certainly not a reasonable and agreeable man, and if she didn't take action first, he would sooner or later target the Jotham Alwynn Group. She wished she could take him down right now.

"Okay, Teacher Elliott. Haven and I will come to pick you up tomorrow morning, and we will go there together," Rebecca said with a smile.

Tillie smiled and nodded, "Thank you." It probably would be a good chance for her to embarrass Eden in front of everyone.

However, that was not what Rebecca was thinking about. She only worried that the foreign companies would be interested in Eden's work. She had already heard that Victor's company was one of the exhibitors tomorrow.

She had seen Eden's design before and she knew how talented she was. Otherwise, she would not have copied Eden's work last time which made Eden accused her and went after her to her company.

Therefore, even though they had a new designer in their company, she still had no confidence that they would beat the Alwynn Group for this season.

After all, the design of their new season was just barely satisfactory.

Over the past few years, Victor's company had been expanding day by day. He owned hundreds of millions of real estate assets and many industries that she didn't know.

This little brat was really good at doing business.

Haven said, "Teacher, do we also have a booth in the exhibition tomorrow?"

Tillie said, "Yes, but there will be people taking care of it. We just need to go over and say hi."

Haven nodded with a smile. "Teacher, thank you for bringing me along!"

Tillie glanced at her and said with a smile, "Haven, you have a great potential in design. You must study hard during this period of time, and you will definitely become famous in this industry one day."

Since she had accepted Haven to be her apprentice, she would still help Haven to get the fame she wanted although she was only trying to make use of Haven.

Haven grasped the chopsticks in her hand with excitement and said with a smile, "Thank you, teacher. I will try my best!" This would be the only chance for her to establish herself in the industry.

Tillie smiled without saying anything. She had already done what she could, and the rest would totally depend on Haven herself.

As her assistant in her company, Haven had already gotten a lot from her.

When Eden and the others finished their meal and came out, they didn't meet Haven again.

Aisling looked at Eden with concern and said, "Be careful on your way back."

Eden smiled and said, "Mom, don't worry. I will be fine."

Anson shook his head slightly. He couldn't believe this Mrs. Clement in front of him was the same person who used to hate Eden so much.

He couldn't help but sigh in his heart.

How could a person change totally all of a sudden?

Wyatt took a step forward and looked at Eden's pretty face, smiling lovingly. "Eden, take this. As your dad, I haven't done anything for you these years. The money in this bank card was saved for you for all these years. It's not much, but it is what I can do for you. When you get married, I will prepare another dowry for you."

Eden didn't know what to say.

What happened to everyone around her? Why do they all want to give her money all of a sudden?

She quickly shook her head and said, "Dad, I can't take this. It's the time that you really need money now. What's more, I can make money myself." She had done nothing for them all these years either, so how could she take their money now?

Upon hearing this, Wyatt looked a little sad, "Eden, haven't you forgiven your mom and me yet?"

Eden smiled and said, "Dad, it's nothing to do with that. I have a job now, and I can support myself." She was actually quite satisfied with her life right now. Although she was surrounded by rich people, she had never felt anything different at all.

She never wanted much, as long as she could afford what she wanted and live a happy life.

Aisling took the bank card from Wyatt and put it in Eden's hand. She held Eden's hand tightly and said, "Eden, you are a strong and brave girl, and I know that you have the ability to live a good life on your own no matter where you are, but this is what we want to do for you, so you have to take it. The passcode is your birthday."

Eden didn't know what to do, so she smiled and said, "Since you mentioned this, mom, I always wanted to ask you when actually my birthday is. I don't remember anything now."

Aisling felt that her tears almost came out when she heard this. She said in a low voice, "Your birthday is only ten days away from Victor's. You were born on the 12th of September, and Victor was born on the 23rd of September. But you are six years younger than Victor."

Eden smiled and turned her head to look at Victor.

However, Victor looked at her smiling face and didn't know what to say.

Aisling laughed and said, "Victor, from now on, I will ask you to take care of Eden. I know you will do a good job. Thank you for waiting for her and looking for her all these years, and thanking you for not giving up on her."

As speaking, Aisling's eyes turned red again.

Victor said, "Mrs. Clement, this is what I should do anyway."

He then looked at Eden with his soft and bright eyes.

It was the best that Mrs. Clement could trust him.

"Eden, I will take good care of you and your children in the future."

Eden was speechless.

Was she really her mother?

How could she do this to her if she was?

She smiled and said, "You'd better take good care of yourself first."

Victor said, "How can I do that? I have a wife and children now."

A wife?

Who was that?

Eden looked at him and didn't know what to say.

Wyatt and Aisling also smiled without saying anything.

Eden looked at the bank card in her hand. She really didn't want to take it.

"Mom, this..."

"Eden, you must take it. When you and Victor get married, I will prepare other dowries for you. I will make sure that you have the best wedding ever."

Eden was speechless again.

Had she ever said that she was going to marry Victor?

"Oh my God! Then I'll congratulate both of you in advance now." Anson laughed and said.

Ever since Victor had found Eden, he felt as if he was totally a different person. It seemed that every minute in his life suddenly became extremely precious.

Eden shook her head helplessly. How could she explain it now?

She glanced at Victor and saw that he was still looking at her with a smile, and it seemed that he was really enjoying it.

After that, everyone said goodbye to each other and went home separately.

Victor and Eden walked back together.

The evening breeze was a little chilly, so Victor took off his jacket and put it on Eden's shoulders.

Mrs. Clement's words earlier really made him unable to hide his joy and stop smiling anymore.
