

Gluey Love 601

Chapter 601

Her father also said that he wanted to buy her clothes, but she refused. Her clothes were made according to the seasonal trends and were actually very nice and most importantly, suited her perfectly.

She could only nod her head helplessly. "Alright, alright, I'll do as you say."

She had made a rash decision before. Was it too late to regret it now?

Victor saw her nod obediently and said in a doting tone, "That's my girl."

But Eden looked at him with an aggrieved expression.

Looking at her expression, Victor thought helplessly that any other woman would have been delighted to hear these words.

But this girl seemed to be wronged!

He even suspected that what he was giving away was not money, but some kind of injustice.

Why was this girl aggrieved? Shouldn't she be proud to have a boyfriend who doted on her like him?

Eden eventually compromised and kept her head down as she continued to eat.

Victor was satisfied with this and continued with his breakfast.

Eden finished her breakfast and then took out her phone to find that Jasper had sent her over a hundred messages, asking where she was.

Eden was speechless because as she had told him last night that she was safe. With someone as 'dangerous' as Victor, she was not threatened, and in fact lived a better life.

She even felt like a princess in a fairy tale.

She replied to him quickly, "Jasper, you don't have to worry about me."

After thinking for a while, she added, "I am with Victor now."

After a while, Jasper replied with a message, "What are the two of you doing together?"

You're not doing anything else, are you?"

No one knew what the other things Jasper was talking about.

Eden was also quite puzzled.

She replied, "What are you meaning? Jasper, didn't you wake up? Are you too tired from yesterday? I've already had breakfast and will be at the venue in a few minutes. I have a party to attend in the evening and we won't be seeing each other tonight."

Jasper's message, "Did you ever think of coming to see me? You've been avoiding me all this time, you heartless girl. I treat you like a sister, is that okay? Don't hide from me."

In another hotel, Jasper, dressed in a suit, stood at the lift door. His exquisite face was beyond charming. Looking down at the messages on his phone, even though he had a steady disposition but at this moment he was sighing helplessly.

Only if he gave in and compromised would she not turn away from him. In fact, he didn't have many wishes, as long as he could silently stay with her and protect her!

When she found her Mr Right, he would leave in silence. For now he could care for her and protect her, and that would be enough.

How could a silly lass like her not be protected by him?

She liked Victor, and as long as he treated her well, that was fine. Would he have done anything to break them up?

He wouldn't. All these years of protecting her, he really didn't ask for anything in return, just for her to be safe and happy!

He would rather be a family or a brother with her than leave her.

Eden looked at his message with mixed feelings. Then she typed back, "Jasper, I'm the one who owes you. If there's another life, I'll pay you back."

Message from Jasper, "Eden, please be realistic, what if I want you to pay it back for this life?"

Message from Eden, "[Helpless emoji]. Sorry, Jasper, I can only owe you this life."

Message from Jasper, "You don't have to reject me so obviously. I know you, and there is no one in the world who knows you better than I do. See you later!"

Message from Eden, "See you later!"

Victor stood up and asked in a low tone, "Is it Jasper?" He was very jealous.

Eden did not look at him and nodded slightly. "Let's go!"

Victor looked at her for a while and then took her to leave the hotel.

Whatever Jasper wanted to do, he had only one thing in mind and that was that Eden could only be his for the rest of his life. She was his lifelong obsession.

They drove to the venue.

While on the way, Eden made a few wisecracks to cheer Victor up and keep him from looking as gloomy as he did when they left the hotel.

Eden said, "Victor, we're not going to the buffet later, we're going on a date."

Eden immediately made Victor happy.

This was something Victor was most pleased to hear.

It seemed that he had brought them a little closer last night.

Not a little, but a lot closer!

It hadn't been in vain that he had spent two hours searching on Google.

Before going to bed the night before, he lay in bed and couldn't sleep, somewhat helpless and anxious about Eden's retardation towards his affections.

So he went to Google what to do.

There were a variety of answers on the internet.

There were silly answers: to get out of the embarrassment in silence as quickly as possible, talk about your interests or ambitions.

As soon as he saw it, he rejected it immediately. His interests or ambitions were already known by Eden.

There were gay guides too, but he couldn't see how it would suit him.

He searched again for how can a date become more romantic?

One answer: Step one, decide on a destination. Step two, make a date. Part three, developing a relationship. Step four, the sweet period of affection.

So, last night, from in the car to the lift, he achieved his plan step by step, and they really had a sweet ending.

Google replied with good credibility.

Victor was in a good mood, "Eden, I'll have the dresses ready for the banquet later, I'll take you straight there."

Eden looked at him and asked, "I forgot to ask you what the banquet was?"

"The attendees were all the merchants who came to the exhibition as well as the organisers, and a lot of well-known designers, and it was a big scene." Victor answered. He usually never brought a female companion to a party, and this was the first time he had one, and it was the woman he loved.

"Alright!" Eden smiled and nodded. She felt at ease with him around.

As soon as they entered the first building, they met Haven and Paulina in fashionable clothes, who were walking towards them.

They looked at Victor with a smile, ignoring Eden completely.

Haven was still in a small white dress, still quietly ladylike.

Paulina, on the other hand, was wearing a big red dress in a flamboyant and unusual style, showing off her perfect figure and making her look very stylish like a queen.

Eden noticed that she changed her dressing style today and the dress looked aggressive and chill on her.

However, she stayed with Haven...

Eden narrowed her eyes as she watched they get closer and she smiled slightly.

Chapter 602

Haven glanced at Eden with her scheming eyes.

When Haven noticed the clothes on Eden, her face changed. She saw that Eden was wearing a knee-length white veil embroidered with purple flowers, which made Eden look elegant and unique. And the conspicuous embroidery and soft texture betrayed the outline of Eden's form.

"It's gorgeous!" Haven exclaimed in mind.

Meanwhile, Paulina smiled charmingly at Victor, "Hi, Mr. Alwynn, I am the design director of E.H. Our company would like to cooperate with Alwynn Group. Shall we talk about it?" After introducing herself, Paulina reached out and wanted to shake hands with Victor.

Victor glanced at her and did not reach out his hand. He said indifferently, "If you want to talk about cooperation, you can talk to my secretary."

As he spoke, he was about to leave with Eden.

Paulina did not expect that and was extremely awkward.

But she smiled slightly, and the embarrassment was instantly hidden in her eyes.

Just when Victor was about to leave with Eden, she blocked Eden's way and stood side by side with Victor. Her charming smile was back, "Mr. Alwynn, I want to talk to you in person."

Eden saw Paulina's attitude to her suddenly changed, and clearly knew that it must have something to do with Haven. Eden stared at Haven and saw her gloating look, which indicated that she was very proud of her "winning".

"You go first!" Victor's tone was cold and stern.

But in Haven's and Paulina's ears, he is ordering Eden instead of them.

Eden also misunderstood.

Paulina looked at Eden and smiled slightly, "Excuse me, miss, please go first. I have something to talk to Mr. Alwynn."

Hearing Paulina calling her miss to pretend not to know her, Eden raised her head subconsciously and looked at Paulina, who had a disdainful look on her face.

Paulina provocatively looked at Eden. There was a banquet tonight and she must be Victor's female companion.

She had been paying close attention to Victor and she knew that he had never brought a female companion to attend any banquet.

If she can be by his side tonight, she would be the focus.

Eden was not afraid of her aggressive trick. She smiled slightly and walked forward.

"Eden." Victor called softly.

Eden stopped and was confused, "Didn't you tell me to go first?"

"Business is more important." She said.

Victor looked at her and felt quite resigned.

He glanced at Paulina from the corner of his eye. His voice was as cold as ice, "I'm talking about you. Go away."

Paulina trembled with his tone. The confident smile on her face gradually disappeared and she was embarrassed. She didn't expect that he was that unkind. After all, she was the Design Director of E. H. Many companies wanted to cooperate with them. She gave the cooperation opportunity to Victor, but he refused it.

He made her look really bad here, which was even worse.

Haven was also stiff. She thought that Victor would show some respect to Paulina. But she was wrong.

"Victor, Miss Clark just..."

"Shut up. I don't want to hear your voice. Get out of my way. You make me sick." His cold tone now was mixed with anger, and his dark eyes looked horrible.

He did not hide his hate for Haven at all.

Haven's beautiful face turned completely pale in an instant. Why he hated her so much? A feeling of humiliation spread her whole body, making her painful.

she had loved him for ten years! But he didn't care about her at all.

Eden rarely saw Victor act like this. At least, when he was with her, he was always very gentle. Sometimes she would doubt whether there were two souls in Victor's body.

Haven and Paulina didn't dare to speak right now.

Victor took a few steps forward and walked to Eden.

"What a coincidence, Director Bleu." A teasing voice called Eden.

It was Vincent. He was still holding the beautiful woman from yesterday in his arms. He walked swaggeringly, with his eyes fixed on Eden's curve.

Eden raised her eyebrows and looked at the smiling beauty in his arms without saying anything.

The woman knew that Vincent married Haven, but she was still with Vincent.

Haven looked at Vincent mockingly. She knew that Vincent didn't appear last night because he hung out with the woman in his arms. She even kept their video in the hotel to screw with him when they got divorced.

Vincent noticed the weird atmosphere. He glanced at Haven and then looked at Paulina, whom he did not know. At last, he turned to Eden, "Miss Bleu, your dress is really beautiful and suits you very well!"

"Thank you, Mr. Alwynn. You are very handsome today!" she smiled craftily, "I bet you've got me, right?"

Handsome? No, just sarcasm.

Hearing Vicent's words, Victor frowned. But he was relieved a little bit when he saw Eden's cunning eyes.

"Ha-ha!" Vincent squinted at Eden. He knew what did she mean.

He stared at Eden from head to toe. Finally, he fixed his eyes on the collar of her clothes which were carved with hollow patterns, and raised his lips, "Miss Bleu was so seductive today. No wonder Brother was fascinated by you. What a coquettish woman." He said the last few words heavily.

"How interesting." Eden sneered, "Mr. Alwynn, you're really slick. No wonder you have so many fangirls."

Vincent didn't get angry. His smile was still as deep as ever. "You can also be a member of them."

Eden snorted. What a cheeky man. The irony of others seemed to be a compliment to him!

Chapter 603

Victor looked at Vincent with a cold look. He had endured him for a long time and didn't mind punching his teeth through the back of his skull.

"You'd better shut your mouth." He said word by word angrily.

Eden suddenly took his hand and looked at him with a gentle smile, "Honey, don't be mad at this kind of person. He's just a goner."

Hearing Eden calling him honey, Victor's anger boiled away.

She had always called him by his name and it was the first time for her to call him honey. It was so intoxicating. He even began to fantasize about their marriage.

He looked at her obsessively and smiled at her bewitchingly. He wished Eden could call him honey forever.

Haven saw Victor's attitude towards Eden was so different. She almost went mad because of jealousy.

She was the one who grew up with Victor. But why Eden took all Victor's love away from her? Haven's gloomy eyes were full of unwillingness.

Vincent was angry at Eden's words, "Eden, watch your mouth! Do you think Victor can protect you forever?" He had not seen a few people who dare to talk to him like this.

Seeing Vincent furious, Eden felt very gloating.

"Mr. Alwynn, you're the one who needs to watch your mouth. You provoked me first." Eden smiled wickedly. Compared with Vincent's rage, Eden looked relaxed.

Victor looked at Eden and suddenly remembered that Eden had defended him against Vincent when he was young.

"So what?" Vincent sneered. "Let's see what she can do on earth." he thought.

He believed that no matter how strong a woman was, he could make her fascinated by him. The woman beside him, who was arrogant when they met for the first time, was totally captivated by him now.

"So what? Mr. Alwynn, so what do you want?" Eden's face wore a simper as she replied.

Seeing that Eden wasn't angry, Victor didn't intervene either. She could do whatever she wanted because she was his beloved.

Vincent gnashed, "What do I want? You will know it." One day, he would make this woman kneel in front of him and beg for mercy.

"Okay, I'll wait!" Eden answered calmly.

Anyway, she didn't like Vincent's family at all. Her mother was badly hurt by his mother. She would never forgive them.

Vincent thought too highly of himself. He thought he was the center of the world.

She whispered to Victor, "Let's go!"

Victor nodded gently. Then they walked side by side into the room.

But he suddenly took back at Vincent and the woman beside him, with impenetrable eyes.

At this time, Paulina just recovered from the shock. She was extremely angry at Victor. She was always spoiled by other men all the time, but now she was despised even though she took the initiative.

Meanwhile, Haven looked at Paulina with a guilty face and said, "Paulina, I'm sorry! I didn't help you. But don't give up! Persistence will pay off. Take it slow!"

Indeed, Haven sneered in her heart. She knew Victor would not fall in love with any woman as long as Eden was there.

Even if there was no Eden, Victor would not fall in love with others.

"OK." Paulina shook her head with an ugly look. She was not so easy to be knocked down.

Haven smiled and said, "Let's go in first. There are other things to do today."

"Sure." Paulina looked at her and smiled.

They walked into the room, and Haven did not look at Vincent all the way.

This exceeded Vincent's expectations. He thought that Haven would make trouble for him and told his parents. However, she was unusually calm and even disdained him.

Vincent looked at Haven's back and a strange feeling rose from the bottom of his heart. What was her trick?

Also, he felt a bit empty. "Is that because I'm ignored by her?" he wondered.

The woman by his side looked at him with a gloomy face, "What's wrong? Don't you tell me that you don't love your wife? I want you to divorce her and marry me right now! Otherwise, you will lose me!"

"Huh...?" Vincent looked at the woman with a shocked face. It was just a one-night affair. How could she take it seriously?

He smiled strangely and said casually, "Iris, didn't we just agree to have some fun? You should know the rules of the game here. Parting is good for both of us." He had been fooling around with different girls. After one night, they no longer had any intersection. That was the rule.

Iris wanted him to take responsibility. Not a chance.

But it was weird that Haven didn't make trouble for him. He was confused.

Anyway, it was good that Haven didn't make a fuss. They married for business, not for love.

However, Iris didn't give up. She folded her arms in front of her chest and said arrogantly, "Vincent, it was my first time. If you want to be perfunctory like this, then let's meet in court."

Hearing this, Vincent was instantly unhappy. He had never seen such an importunate woman before. Meet in court? She must be crazy.

He said sarcastically, "Iris, how could that be your first time? Do you think I am an idiot?"

Iris changed her expression instantly, and she looked at Vincent coldly. "Vincent, I have warned you when you approached me. You must take responsibility. You have three days to divorce your wife. Otherwise, I'll sue you."

Vincent frowned and retreated a little.

It was impossible for him to divorce Haven. They two had not even had a wedding ceremony yet. If he divorced her, he would be driven out of the Alwynn family.

Chapter 604

Noticing the serious look of Iris, Vincent knew that Iris was not joking. He said gravely, "Iris, I can promise you everything except for this. Haven and I can't divorce." Besides, it was impossible for him to marry a woman who would threaten him.

Iris crossed her arms and sneered, "I don't want anything but this."

Vincent had a severe look on his face and said in a deep voice, "Don't be childish, Iris. Do you have to do push me like this?"

Iris squinted a little. She blinked innocently and looked at Vincent with a sarcastic smile, "Vincent, I'm not childish, and that's why I asked you to be responsible for what you have done. I am not a gullible girl. I know your tricks. Do you still remember the last sentence I said before we go to the hotel?"

Victor's expression turned ugly instantly, and his previous sense of superiority vanished in a moment.

"Vincent, I'm serious. You'd better think twice." That was her last word. All the women Vincent had met said words like this before, but none of them are as difficult as Iris.

Just give them some money. Money talks.

The promise was worthless. But this woman still believed in it.

This matter cannot be known by his family.

Vincent suddenly said with a playful face, "Iris, unwillingness cannot produce desired results. Be realistic. I can give you as much money you want." There was more or less a hint of warning in his words.

"Ha- ha. Interesting." Iris derided but her attention was on the venue. She had more important things to do and didn't want to talk to Vincent anymore.

She also warned Vincent, "Vincent, it was you that seduced me strenuously. Now you want to dump me? Not a chance. As I said before, you only have three days to get divorced. Or we'll meet in the court."

She looked at Vincent arrogantly and turned to leave. While walking, she said, "It's your fault. Your tenderness to me yesterday misunderstood me. If you don't marry me, people will point fingers at me and scolding me. So if you don't want me to do anything big, give me a result in three days." Actually, she knew the rule of the game very well.

But she just wanted more money. The breakup fee was not enough.

Vincent glared at Iris, and his gloomy eyes were full of coldness.

He really got in trouble this time.

"Whew..." Vincent put his hands on his hips and breathing weakly for a moment, "F*ck!"

He pursed his lips and walked to the venue with anger.

Victor and Eden were in Venue No.1. As usual, there were a lot of people coming to their exhibition area.

Eden's work was appreciated by many people, she got a sense of achievement.

She looked confident and calm, with a charming smile on her face.

Victor looked at her from the side, and his eyes were deep and soft.

His beloved, no matter where she was, was shine brilliantly.

At this time, Lucian noticed them while he was negotiating about cooperation with a foreigner.

He was busy, but they just stood by.

"Couldn't they come in together to help?" he sighed.

Victor looked at him. He nodded and motioned for Lucian to continue.

Lucian glared at Victor as there were flames in his eyes.

Victor smirked at him and cheered for him just with his eyes.

Lucian took a look, then completely ignored Victor. If he didn't have shares in the company, he would quit the job instantly.

But he had no choice now.

"I'm making money for myself." He comforted himself in his heart.

Thinking of this, he felt much better.

Then, Victor and Eden continued the process of the exhibition.

Not far away, Haven and Paulina kept looking at Victor and Eden.

Paulina gloomily looked at Eden's sexy back.

Haven glanced at Paulina from the corner of her eye. Paulina looked mature and gentle, but Haven could tell from her malicious eyes on Eden that she was also a person who was easy to feel jealous.

It seems that she had successfully gotten another person to go against Eden.

"Eden, I will let you know that I am invincible." Haven smiled scornfully in mind.

"Miss Clark, I believe that you will get Victor if you have the chance to get along with him. After all, you are a reputed designer and I heard that many people want to cooperate with you. You are much better than Eden."

Hearing Haven's compliments, Paulina felt much happier. All in all, she was the youngest Design Director in the E.H.

Suddenly she said, "I remember that there will be a costume design competition after the conference in Lemmon City in one month. Designers all over the country will participate in it. This is a good opportunity. If I can defeat Eden in this competition, I probably can get Victor interested in me."

But Victor had never had a gossip with any other women except for Eden.

Haven ridiculed Paulina's confidence in her heart.

She knew that Paulina's confidence would be destroyed by him in the future.

But she didn't care.

What she wanted was to prevent Eden from the Clement family forever.

At this moment, Vincent came in. When he saw Haven and Paulina, he instantly forgot Iris's words.

"Haven, here you are." Vincent smiled falsely.

Haven glanced at him and slightly squinted. She looked as calm as usual.

However, no one knew that she was furious in the heart.

She looked at Vincent, neither jealous nor angry, and said sarcastically, "Where is your beauty? This cute baby seems to be your taste, Mr. Alwynn. Why are you not with her?"

Chapter 605

Vincent looked at Haven unbelievably. She seemed to become a totally different person only in one day.

Haven looked at Vincent coldly and then looked away. Vincent only had a 3-minute passion for her. He knew that she went to Tillie's company, so he was very happy in those days. After those days of passion, he still treated her as indifferent as before.

Paulina looked at Vincent and asked, "Haven, who is he?"

Haven smiled, "Miss Clark, he is my fiance."

"Oh! Mr. Alwynn! Glad to see you." she knew Vincent. Their marriage had been widely spread on the Internet and in the upper class for sometime.

But he was a real jerk. He even hugged other women in front of his wife.

Vincent squinted at Paulina. He had never seen an aloof beauty like her before. He showed a playful smile and asked abruptly, "Miss Clark, do you have a boyfriend?"

Haven was stunned. She glanced at Vincent with disdain and scolded in her mind, "He's so stuck in his ways."

Paulina's face turned extremely ugly in an instant. Knowing Vincent's character, she felt very disgusting.

She threw a glance at Haven and said with a sneer, "Haven, there are many good men in the world. Why do you choose a jerk like him? I have to go first. I need to rethink the cooperation with Jotham Alwynn Group."

Then she left without giving a look to Vincent.

Hearing that the cooperation was going to be chucked, Haven felt extremely disappointed.

If she could get the cooperation for Jotham Alwynn Group, she would have a higher status in Phillip's heart.

After all, it was Phillip who was in charge of the Jotham Alwynn Group.

At this time, she had no time to care about Vincent and chased after Paulina.

On the contrary, Vincent was confused about the cooperation they talked about.

He looked at the back of Paulina angrily rushing away and didn't know what was going on.

"Damn it!"

He was stunned with a frown.

Why didn't Haven tell it to him in advance?

He followed Haven immediately, but he was stopped by Rebecca only after a few steps.

"Vincent." Although the voice was as calm as usual, he knew that his mother was angry.

He forced a smile, and then turned to look at his mother, "Mom, what's wrong?"

Rebecca walked over with a gloomy face, looking at her son who was grinning cheekily in front of her, and her beautiful face was full of anger.

"What's wrong? You sold the old style of the last year and said those were new- style, which made me spend a whole day explaining. Besides, you even fooled around with another woman in front of Haven. Did you even consider the image of our company?"

"The woman who was just driven away by you, Miss Clark, is our cooperative partner. Last night, Haven and I went a long way to make her agree to cooperate, but you drove her away with just one word. Good job." She sneered.

"If you don't want Jotham Alwynn Group, then go away. Don't get me in the way" Rebecca finished, and then left gracefully.

She was sad that she had raised such a good-for-nothing son, but after all, he was her son. What could she say?

Hatred flashed in her eyes. She didn't want to live a life like that now. Since Alex returned, she always wanted to elope with him.

"Mom..." Vincent looked terrible after being scolded. Looking at his mother's back, he felt aggrieved. His mother would not stand by his side now.

As for the old- style clothes, none of them were sold last year.

No one would know they were the old style of last year.

Vincent didn't think he did anything wrong. His eyes were filled with frustration.

He walked towards Haven.

He always felt that Haven was rejecting him and thought him nauseous. He couldn't stand her attitude.

The more Vincent thought about it, the more annoyed he became. However, he caught sight of Miss Clark. She looked like a blooming rose, with a tempting and enchanting figure. She was a breathtaking beauty. Looking at her, Vincent felt that his breath started to shorten.

The frustration in his heart almost disappeared.

Vincent chased after Paulina. On his way, all the women he met were glamorous, especially the woman who had seductive figures. They are more attractive than Iris for Vincent.

Iris was also very charming and had a good temperament, but her temper was terrible.

Vincent liked every type of girl, but he needed an obedient woman like Haven as his backup.

Actually, he wouldn't be angry if Haven mocked him for his affair with Iris. However, Haven did not say a word, and even despised him, which made him nervous.

Tortured by these unpleasant things, he was in a mess right now.

Aisling, Buddy, and Delmont saw everything that happened just now.

Delmont asked, "Mom, who was the woman with Haven just now?"

"It's Paulina, the Design Director of the E.H Company. Can't you use your head?"

Delmont looked at his mother aggrievedly. He thought for a while and said, "Mom, I'm busy looking at the goods. How can I notice those things?"

Aisling sneered, "If you noticed, I would be shocked."

Aisling shook her head helplessly. In her heart, Buddy and Eden were the best.

Delmont was too inflexible. He was kind, but he didn't have a business sense.

If he didn't have support from his family, he wouldn't be able to get a decent job.

If he was asked to work for someone else, he might not even be able to do it in an hour.

Aisling turned back to them and said, "Buddy, Delmont, I'm not going on tonight's date. I'll go home to accompany your father. You two take good care of your sister and don't let anyone bully her again. I'll come back tomorrow morning."

Delmont nodded, "Don't worry, Mom. I will take good care of Eden."

Aisling smiled resignedly, "I trust Buddy more."

Chapter 606

Delmont smiled helplessly and looked at his mother. Since she had found Eden, she had more smiles on her face. She looked a lot younger.

He joked, "Mom, your partiality made me sad." As speaking, he touched his chest with an expression of pain.

Aisling cast a glance at her son and said with a smile, "Don't put on an act. Buddy, go check the cooperations we reached yesterday. Sign the contracts after the exhibition. Our performance this year is very good."

"Okay!" Buddy answered steadily, "I heard that Jotham Alwynn Group only has one partner. Whatever they put out there comes back to them."

"You're right. But we still lost to the company of Victor. Their hands must be aching because of signing too many contracts." Delmont made a sarcastic comment with a look of envy on his face.

These days, people came to their exhibition areas were almost the same.

He sighed, "Eden did a great job. If she was our designer, we would earn more this year. I have to say, her designs are really unique." Aisling's eyes darkened slightly. She also wanted her daughter to go back to her company to work, but how could Victor let her go?

He had been waiting for Eden for so many years. No one could take Eden away from him.

But he was Aisling's son-in-law, she could understand.

"Well, there's nothing special about this year's international exhibition." A man with gold-rimmed glasses walked past the Clement family.

"Mr. Rubio, I heard that the exhibits of Alwynn Group this year are good. They are leading the fashion trend from fabric and styles and many companies choose them as the partner. Why don't we have a look?" A young man next to the man with Mr. Rubio advised, "But I don't know if they still have cooperation quota or not."

Mr. Rubio replied disdainfully, "Every company says that their products are the best. But every time I take a look, their products disappointed me."

"Clients in our area like luxurious but simple clothes. The popular colors this year are too bright and not suitable for our area."

"But, they limit their cooperation quota? Interesting...I'll go and have a look."

The man next to him smiled and said, "Mr. Rubio, why don't we go now? Their exhibition area is not far away from here. Here, Venue No.1..."

As their voices faded away, Aisling still stood there proudly.

A good product would never be hidden. Eden's design this year was amazing indeed.

"Eden is awesome! But who is Mr. Rubio?" Delmont looked at Loomis's back with a puzzled look. He had never seen him before.

Buddy's expression darkened and said in a low voice, "Loomis, the richest man in the South Sea region. Mixed-blood. 34 years old. Unmarried. He is the only son and his family is extremely rich. He's a bit crabbed and has very high standards for business partners."

"Wow! Buddy, how do you know all these?" Delmont looked at his brother in surprise.

Buddy looked resigned, "Delmont, I'm the one who in charge of the clothing market of our company. I have to inquire about all affairs about clothing so that I can have more confidence of success."

"Sure. It's your style. You must figure out everything." Delmont smiled.

Buddy glanced at him and did not speak.

Instead, he said to Aisling, "Mom, let's go!"

He had something to ask Eden. He wanted to talk about it in detail at night.

The busy day was over.

At night, Victor took Eden, who had already changed into a dress, to the hotel opposite the Marriott Hotel to attend the banquet.

People in River City all knew that Victor was rich, but they didn't know how rich Victor was. And few people knew he owned the Marriott Hotel.

The banquet was held on the 18th floor. On the opposite of the building was the Marriott Hotel.

Tonight, the guests here were all big shots in the business circles. They are served with delicious wine and excellent food. The magnificent hall added a luxurious atmosphere.

Eden seldom attended banquets like this. Looking at so many rich people in front of her, she had to say that the life of rich people was really comfortable.

Standing beside Eden, Victor was amazed by her beauty.

Haven, Paulina, Vincent, Rebecca, and Tillie had already arrived at the hall.

They stood up and chatted.

When they saw Eden came with Victor, they all had different looks on their faces. Paulina looked at Eden with jealousy.

She was not reconciled at all. Why would Victor like a woman who was in a mess?

Meanwhile, Haven smiled silently, "Eden, you will know my methods. Just wait."

On the other side, Eden came in. she was dressed in a white gown. Her long hair was coiled into a bun. Her crystal earrings shone brightly, making her look more charming and attractive.

As soon as she entered the room, many men were attracted in an instant.

Victor felt very uncomfortable when he saw the eyes of those men. He whispered in Eden's ear, "Eden, stay with me. I don't have many acquaintances here. We can leave first after greeting."

The longer they stayed here, the more men who paid attention to Eden.

"Okay!" Eden nodded obediently.

She was tired these two days, and her injured foot was a little painful. She also wanted to go back early to rest.

Victor looked at her and the corners of his lips curled up happily.

Jasper also arrived in advance. He looked steady and charming, wearing an expensive hand-made suit. He quietly sat in the corner of the hall and looked at Victor and Eden. They matched perfectly, which made him furious.

He didn't bring any woman with him tonight. Usually, his female companion was Eden. In Gate City, he would ask Eden to go to a banquet with him to daunt other women. But he had protected Eden well and would not let other men covet Eden.

At some point, the little girl who had always been by his side had gradually faded away from him.

Jasper noticed that Eden was looking at him. He slightly leaned to one side and avoid her eyes.

He was annoyed and didn't want to talk with her now.

Chapter 607

But Eden, she was too familiar with Jasper. Even if he turned his back to her, she could still recognize that it was Jasper, not to mention his side.

She wanted to call Jasper. But she refrained because Victor was by her side.

She also took her eyes off and walked to the food hall with Victor.

"Look, isn't that Mr. Alwynn? I've never seen him bring a female companion before. How come?"

"It's him. He is the well-known person on the list of the richest people in River City! Many women drool over him! How come he has a female companion today? Oh, my heart was broken."

"Ah! He's really handsome! I wish the person standing next to him is me."

Some women stood by the side and looked at Eden and Victor with envy.

"Go, go, go! Let's have a look!" Victor lady wearing a dress whispered.

"Wait for me!" Other women followed her.

On the other side, Victor walked with Eden all the way and greeted the people he knew. Eden also knew lots of charming men.

This was the first time that Victor introduced his female companion to them.

A good-looking man in a black suit looked at Victor and smiled significantly, "Mr. Alwynn, I've never seen you bring a female companion here before."

Victor glanced at Eden, and his expression was the same as usual. "Mr. Welch, what's strange about this?"

Jarred laughed, "Really strange. Didn't you notice that everyone was looking at you?"

Hearing this, Eden looked around. Most of the people around her were looking at her and Victor with strange expressions, but she was calm as usual.

She was just with Victor, and it was not a shady thing.

Victor didn't want to talk with Jarred, "Mr. Welch, make yourself at home."

As he spoke, he left with Eden expressionlessly.

They sat by the window, where they could see the splendid Marriott Hotel.

The sign of the hotel was bright and resplendent. Seeing that, Eden smile slightly.

Victor also looked out of the window for a while, then he whispered in Eden's ear, "Eden, Wait for me here. Don't go anywhere."

Eden looked at him with frowned eyebrows, then smiled, "Victor, you're so bossy. What if I want to go to the restroom?"

Victor laughed evilly and whispered, "I'll go with you."

Eden was speechless to his words.

She stared at Victor with her eyes opened wide.

"Is he crazy??" she thought.

Victor didn't think there was anything wrong with his words. Because when they were young, he did everything to stay close to her.

"I'll bring you the food you like. Stick around. I'll be back very soon," Victor said, glancing at the area. The lights here were a bit dim. It was a good place to conceal Eden.

The women in the distance looked at the intimate interaction between them, feeling jealous and excited.

Victor left, and the light which was blocked out by him cast into Eden's eyes. She blinked and gradually realized that she was so spoiled by Victor.

She looked down at her phone and suddenly saw Abigail sending a message in the chat group which includes us two and Jasper.

"I heard that you two went to the banquet tonight. Did you think of bringing me, a man who has just returned to China and has no job?"

Eden smiled and replied, "Abby, are you coming?"

Abigail said, "Forget it. I don't wanna be the third wheel."

Eden smiled silently and typed, "Love you!"

Abigail,

Jasper suddenly joined and said, "Eden, say that to me too."

Eden,

She lifted her eyes and looked around, but she did not see Jasper. She did see him just now.

Maybe he was busy with his business. There had always been a lot of people in his exhibition area.

She replied with a smile, "Jasper, don't be silly."

Jasper answered, "Humph! Why do you treat us differently?"

Eden laughed. Jasper was actually jealous of his sister.

Eden: "Jasper, I saw you just now."

Jasper was wordless. He raised his head and saw the girl sitting in a dimly lit corner. She lowered her head and looked at her phone quietly. She was completely in her own world. Everything around her was out of place and was just her foil.

He smiled helplessly. In the past, he would always sit opposite her. They would talk and laugh, and there were endless topics to talk about. They could chat till the end of the world.

However, facing all his enthusiasm, Eden's mind was settled as still water. She was always as calm as usual.

He knew what Eden was thinking, so he had been carefully hiding his feelings all the time.

It was said that happiness was to meet the right person and do the right thing at the right time.

But it was not the right time for them. To Jasper, happiness was like air. He could feel it, but he couldn't grasp it.

The person he had been searching for all these years was right in front of him. He loved her, but she did not know.

Actually, she was pretending that she didn't know. "Eden..."

Jasper looked at the girl who was still lowering her head and called in a low voice.

Even in the dim light, Eden was still like a shining pearl in the sea. Some other men discovered her and slowly approached her.

Eden was still chatting with Abigail, "Abby, how is the cooperation with Mirth Company going?"

Abigail, "Anson stood me up."

Eden frowned. It shouldn't be like this. Anson had done everything to meet Abby. Why would he stand her up?

Eden replied, "Maybe he had some emergency."

Abigail said, "Eden, are you speaking up for Anson? What benefits did he give you? You don't stand by me anymore." Abigail added a string of crying emojis.

Eden smiled resignedly. "No! I love you!"

Abigail joked, "Ewww, stop it!"

Jasper looked at their dialogues and looked up at Eden unconsciously.

Suddenly, he saw a big-bellied man staggering towards where she was sitting. He immediately stood up and walked towards

Eden.

But he was blocked. It was Paulina.

Paulina was dressed in a luxury dress. Her red tight skirt was enchanting, making her every move look more charming in the dazzling light.

She smiled sweetly and said, "Hello, Mr. Joye."

Chapter 608

Jasper looked at the unfamiliar woman in front of him and frowned slightly. His expression turned impatient, "Hello." The cold greeting made by his thin lips revealed his indifference. His behavior was completely different from before. He was so cold that no one dared to approach him.

He always laughed blithely in front of Eden because, to him, Eden's smile was as warm as the sunshine. Whenever he saw her smile, he felt happiness and warmth rose from the bottom of his heart.

Her smile was power, helping him clean the dust in his heart, and casting deep inside.

He could not help but look at Eden. He saw the middle-aged man who was getting closer and closer to her.

Paulina looked at him and suddenly blinked. She said with a chuckle, "Mr. Joye, congratulations on your development in River City! I heard that your company has been working very well. I believe the Joye Group will be at its peak soon."

"Thanks." Jasper replied with one word indifferently and was about to leave. Just as he moved his feet, Paulina blocked the way again.

Jasper's face turned disappointed instantly.

Paulina hooked her lips and said, "Mr. Joye, let's have a drink."

She waved to the waiter not far away.

The waiter immediately came over with the red wine on the tray.

Paulina picked up two glasses and handed one glass to Jasper with a charming smile. However, Jasper did not take it.

Instead, he still looked in the direction Eden was in quietly.

Eden was chatting with Abigail happily and ignored her surroundings.

She felt a dark shadow enveloping her. She thought that it was Victor at first, but she smelt an unpleasant smell. Eden lifted her head and looked at the person who had arrived. She saw a big-bellied middle-aged man was strangely smiling at her. His long narrow eyes were filled with evil.

Eden suddenly had a bad feeling in mind. Why didn't Victor come back?

"Beauty, you are so attractive!" The middle-aged man was like a hungry beast, revealing his desire for Eden directly.

Eden's eyes darkened. She looked at the man alertly, her hand holding the phone tightly. Her white knuckles showed her uneasy at the moment.

She suddenly stood up and said in a deep voice, "Excuse me, sir."

The look in the man's eyes made her very disgusted. How could such a man appear at the banquet? She frowned and was wary of the man.

"Ha! You're unique. Don't you know who I am? Are you going to join me tonight, beauty?" The dreadful man looked at Eden drunkenly and reached out his fat and swollen fingers to wipe Eden's face.

Eden knew that the people at the banquet tonight were either rich or noble. The identity of the man in front of her was not ordinary, but...

She narrowed her eyes at the man's hand that was reaching towards her and quickly dodged it.

The man seemed very upset. He shot out his short and thick fingers quickly again. Eden dodged many times.

Jasper, who was entangled by Paulina, saw this scene. His handsome face was instantly filled with rage, and he was about to rush over angrily.

The wine glass in Paulina's hand was knocked to the ground by him.

The glass fell on the ground but didn't crack. It bounced a few times on the ground and rolled to the corner.

But the red wine on Jasper's clothes. Seeing the red wine dripping down on his expensive suit, his face instantly became gloomy.

"Oh! I'm so sorry. I didn't hold the glass. Did you hurt?" Paulina said guiltily, but her eyes glanced at Jasper cunningly.

Jasper had no mood to care about his clothes. He was about to run to Eden again, just when, the man gave out an extremely painful scream, which attracted the attention of everyone present.

The man kept annoying Eden. So she caught his finger in an instant and break it with her all force. The man cried out shrilly.

"Ahhh... What the f*ck!" Clenching his fingers tightly, the man screamed with his eyes closed.

Buddy and Delmont, who had just arrived, were looking for their younger sister.

They heard this sound and quickly went to the place where the scream came from.

As for Victor, at this time, he was entangled by Haven and Vincent. They talked on and on and did not allow Victor to leave.

Hearing the bloodcurdling scream, Victor's heart sank. It was from Eden's direction.

Victor quickly turned around and was about to leave, but Vincent blocked his way, "Victor, it's not easy for us to get together. Why don't we have a drink?" Vincent smiled weirdly. He was in a bad mood the whole day, so he ridiculed his brother to make himself feel better.

"Victor, you haven't come home for dinner for a long time. Why don't we have dinner together at home someday?" Haven also said at his side.

She knew that Victor hated to go back to the old house and see the Evenbrace family.

"Get out of my way!" Victor pushed Vincent but was grabbed by him again.

Victor looked back at Vincent. His eyes were like ice blades, shooting at him. Then, Victor strode away.

Seeing the horrible look, Vincent loosed his hands unconsciously.

Victor stared at him coldly and said angrily, "Vincent, I can bankrupt the Jotham Alwynn Group if I want. You can have a try if you don't believe."

His steady and sharp attitude stunned Vincent. This was the first time that he had felt Victor's deep-rooted seriousness and ruthlessness.

However, Haven looked at Victor with a sneer, "Go. Go and see your lover being teased."

Paulina was really resolute. She did what she wanted to do without any hesitation.

Haven smiled and said to Vincent, "Let's enjoy the show."

Then, without looking at Vincent's stunning look, she slowly walked towards Eden.

"But, what was the scream just now?" she wondered in mind.

But she didn't think much.

At the same time, Eden was surrounded by people.

Seeing the increasing number of people around him, the middle-aged man lowered his voice.

His face suddenly changed and pointed angrily at Eden, "You shameless woman! I ignored your seduction, then you beat me for that?!"

Hearing the altisonant frame-up and seeing the crowd around them who were prepared to watch a big show, Eden understood the trick of the man. She was the "actress".

He had approached her on purpose in an attempt to ruin her reputation.

However, her reputation had been ruined and she didn't care about it anymore. Actually, now she felt happy because she did not retreat but broke the man's finger very hard. She was not as weak as her appearance.

The middle- aged man looked at Eden who was standing calmly without saying a word. He frowned slightly and felt the pain from his finger, which reminded him that the woman in front of him was not a lamb. He was a bit nervous.

But he wouldn't give up easily. After all, his finger was hurt badly by her.

More and more people gathered. Eden was still standing there calmly, and her eyes on the man were cold.

She curled her lips and smiled innocently, "Well, why don't you tell people how I seduced you, sir?"

"How can you ask such a shameless question?!" obviously, the man was rattled by Eden's words. He looked at Eden exasperatedly.

Eden smiled mockingly. She lifted her eyes and saw Paulina who was looking at her with a weird smile. Her eyes darkened a little. Why would Paulina look at her like that?

She had a guess in mind. She sneered at the man, "It was you that told everyone that I seduced you. Why can't I ask? And here's another question. Why would I seduce you, an ugly, fat, middle- aged man, instead of other handsome men at the banquet?"

The man was either instigated or on purpose.

"Haha..." Some of the people who were watching the show laughed.

The man was anxious and embarrassed. He narrowed his eyes and pointed at Eden, "You... you shameless woman... You're fat...!" as speaking, he lowered his head and looked at his chubby body. Instantly, his voice lowered.

Fat had always been his secret trouble, but now it was exposed in public by this woman, which made him feel uncomfortable. It was as if his heart was pressed by a boulder, and he could not breathe.

Eden felt a little helpless. She didn't want to mess with anyone, but some people always made trouble for her.

She had to defend herself.

In the past, when faced with such a situation, she might be tame and did not dare to fight back. But now she was different. She realized that all lay load would on the willing horse.

She must be strong and strike back thoroughly at one time, and others would never dare to bully her again.

"Sir, please speak with your conscience." Eden said.

Her eyes were sincere and bright. People around her almost lost in thought when they looked into her eyes.

When the middle-aged man looked at her, a sense of guilt rose from the bottom of his heart.

But the pain in his fingers reminded him what he needed to do now.

"Conscience? You seduced me, Eden. Did you consider conscience when you seduced a married man?" the man narrowed his tiny eyes and looked at Eden with a vicious expression.

Eden squinted. How did he know her name? She had never seen this man before.

Meanwhile, Jasper stood in the crowd and looked at Eden silently. He knew that she always had the ability to defend herself, but he still wanted to protect her.

Eden looked up and suddenly found a camera that was just over her head. She smiled slightly and said, "Sir, you're getting more and more ridiculous. What about we check on the surveillance video? I seduced you or you tease me. The video will tell the truth." The man was shocked. He did not expect that Eden would still be so calm even in this situation.

In the past, he would slander the women who resisted him. Most of them would be so anxious at that time that they would leave in a hurry.

But Eden was different.

He quickly looked up and glanced at the ceiling.

There was really a surveillance camera.

The onlookers also glanced at the monitor overhead following the man's gaze.

Eden knew that all the people who came here were either rich or noble. Therefore, the security work and surveillance equipment here were very thorough to prevent accidents.

Paulina also noticed the camera.

"Idiot! " she scolded in her heart.

Eden looked very weak. But she was not as easy to be hooked as he thought.

"I..." The man looked at Eden anxiously.

Victor also saw what happened just now.

He took out his mobile phone and called Jarred, who was the owner of this hotel.

He walked into the corner of the corridor. Soon the phone got through. He said in a low voice, "Jarred, my girlfriend was framed in your hotel. Get the surveillance video and play it on the screen immediately. Let everyone see the true features of the manager of the organizer."

Hearing this, Jarred could only feel shocked.

Victor had a girlfriend?

Victor had a girlfriend!!

What happened? Was this dream? How come Victor would suddenly have a girlfriend?

Jarred tried to be calm, "Okay, okay. I'll solve the problem in one sec! Don't be mad at me." Jarred hung up the phone and ran to the monitoring room. He was afraid that his hotel would disappear if he was slow.

Victor was not easy to mess with. Aro must be crazy.

As the saying goes, a leopard can't change its spots. Every time they met him at the banquet, he would hook up with a woman.

He would even make countercharges to these women who did not obey him.

Eden and Aro confronted each other for about three minutes.

The surrounding people had already begun to point fingers at Eden and spoke ill of her.

Haven came over and saw the scene. She was quite upset. How could Eden be so calm at this time?

"Well, let's check the video and see who lied." Aro suddenly smiled smugly. He knew the owner of this hotel.

Eden was just an insignificant design director, but he was the manager of the organizer. Jarred would not make him look bad.

After all, he was the one who recommended holding the banquet at this hotel.

Eden also smiled confidently, "Great. Then let's find the person in charge."

Eden was about to go when there was suddenly a voice coming from the large screen not far away.

Chapter 610

"Beauty, you are so attractive!"

The video that Eden was accosted by Aro was played on the large screen.

It instantly attracted the attention of everyone present.

"Excuse me, sir."

"Ha! You're unique. Don't you know who I am? Are you going to join me tonight, beauty?"

The whole incident is played out, including the procedure that Aro wanted to touch Eden's face. Eden beat him because she couldn't bear it anymore.

The truth was revealed. Everyone suddenly looked at Aro angrily, who was as dumb as a piece of wood. He had never expected that the video would be found out and played so soon.

"Ha, Mr. Remar, where is your conscience? How could you frame a good girl like this?" a man standing aside looked at Aro and mocked.

"I..." Aro wanted to argue, but he didn't have any excuse.

When Haven saw the result, she just felt that Eden was so lucky that she was able to deal with it well.

Paulina had a gloomy look on his face. Aro, that idiot, now got himself in too.

She knew that Aro was a playboy and liked pure-looking women very much.

Just now, she and Haven deliberately talked about Eden in front of him and talked about the rumors online about Eden.

Therefore, the man could not help but go to find Eden. She discussed with Haven in advance and decided to pester Victor and Jasper individually when Aro was making trouble. But unexpectedly, Aro was such a fool, messing up everything.

Jasper looked at Eden, who seemed proud and happy in the crowd. He curled her lips and smiled gently.

"Mr. Remar, it's not a good idea to make trouble in my hotel." Jarred's cold voice came from behind the crowd. No one would dare to offend Victor's woman.

Aro bearded the lion in its den.

He had to pay a high price for that.

Aro was stunned and looked in the direction of the voice. He knew he screwed up. He might lose his job if the boss knew what happened today.

As a manager, he should have a good reputation, but...

Suddenly, his thought was interrupted. Victor squeezed through the crowd and pulled him hard. The strength made him staggered even he was heavy.

Before Aro could make any reaction, Victor clenched his fist and punched on Arc's fat face.

"Ah!" Aro screamed. Blood dribbled from his mouth.

Jarred looked at them and felt sorry for Aro in his heart. This time, Victor was serious.

Seeing that Victor was angry, the crowd took a few steps back.

Eden looked at Victor's behavior surprisingly.

At first, she thought he was a little too impulsive.

But in one second, she changed her idea, "This jerk deserves it!" she said in her heart.

Jarred swallowed. He especially admired Victor's courage because he dared to beat up anyone for his girlfriend.

After all, Aro was the manager of the organizer.

But as the saying goes, little fish can't eat big fish. Victor was wealthy.

Although Aro was the manager, Victor was far superior to him in terms of money. Money talks.

Victor had remarkable achievements by his outstanding discernment and superior abilities. He was the elite in the business.

His ruthless strategy and accurate foresight gain him a stable foothold. He and Aro confronted each other, it was Aro who should be afraid.

At this time, Aro also recognized Victor, who was looking at him gloomily.

The surrounding discussion stopped abruptly, and the atmosphere became strange.

He was unlucky. When Haven and Paulina were talking about Eden in front of him, Victor was not by Eden's side.

So he misunderstood that Eden came to the banquet by herself. But now Victor, who was indifferent about everything in usual, suddenly came out and punched him for Eden. Aro realized their relationship immediately.

"Ouch!" Aro closed his eyes and did not dare to look directly into Victor's stormy eyes.

"Is that enough?" Victor's voice was like an ice sword. Just speaking, he was about to punch Aro again.

Seeing this, Eden quickly pulled him and shook her head at him.

Looking at her kind eyes, Victor slowly put down his raised fist.

Victor's action just now made the onlookers' hearts in their mouths. Now when they saw Victor put down his fist, their hearts were also relieved.

"Get out!" Victor said heavily with a gloomy face.

Aro squinted at Victor's angry face. He didn't dare to stay any longer and run away in an instant.

Victor looked at Eden with a trace of guilt in his black eyes, "Eden, are you okay?"

Eden smiled, "Couldn't be better." It was Aro who was not okay.

Seeing the interaction between Victor and Eden, the surrounding people were curious about the relationship between them.

As one of the most conspicuous men in the upper class, Victor's every move was in the spotlight.

Eden can let Victor calm down with just one look, which aroused people's curiosity about their relationship.

There were many rumors about them on the Internet, but Eden's ambiguous answer made people confused. No one could figure out the truth.

At this time, the light music gradually sounded, and Jarred finally found a suitable opportunity to speak.

"Ladies and gentleman, it's all over now. We prepare delicacies over there and you can have a taste if interested." Jarred did not forget to recommend the delicious food of his hotel. Although it was a buffet, popularity was still necessary.

People all left tactfully after knowing the "show" was over. No one dared to provoke Victor.

Paulina and Haven exchanged a look, then they also left silently.

In a distance, Tillie and Darlene witnessed what happened just now. Looking at Darlene, who was calm, Tillie smiled coldly and said, "Darlene, your student is pretty good."

After that, she left directly without hearing Darlene's reply.

Jasper also turned around and was about to leave, but Eden saw him.

"Jasper!" Eden called after him.

Jasper was surprised. She saw him.

He closed his eyes slightly and hid all the emotions on his face. He turned back and looked at Eden with a smile. "Eden, good job."

Eden,"..."

She glared at him. "Didn't you see me just now?"
