

Gluey Love 721

Chapter 721

Eden looked at him with a smile and said excitedly, "Victor, why didn't you tell me that there are delicious food earlier?"

Victor looked at her with grievances. Did he have a chance to say it?

He said, "Eden, it's not too late to tell you now. Let's go to the top floor first. We'll see a more beautiful scenery there."

"Alright! Hurry up and go." Eden walked out happily. She found that she had really begun enjoying her life during this period of time.

After having a boyfriend, she got the love of her boyfriend, and also the love of her parents. Moreover, she had two elder brothers and a grandmother, and her children were very obedient.

Everything that had happened recently was good and lucky.

They came to the top floor. It was high, and they could see the neon lights in the buildings in the distance. The night scene was lovely.

The balcony was built with glass, and even the table was made of glass. Stepping on the thick glass made no sound, but Eden was a little afraid that she would miss her footing.

After all, she had been to the glass walkway, so she had a lingering fear when she saw such a house.

Seeing her walking cautiously, Victor laughed, "Eden, don't be afraid."

Eden looked at him, "I'm so nervous. When Abigail and I played on the glass walkway, I couldn't be more scared. I saw a man pee out of fear. He sat on the ground and couldn't get up, so I didn't move a single step. Abby was also frightened, so neither of us dared to walk on it."

Victor took her hand and comforted her with a smile, "Just follow me. Nothing will happen." His gentle voice was as charming as the glorious moonlight.

"Okay!" Eden could not help but nod. She suddenly realized that Victor was too tender in this way.

Following Victor, she gradually overcame the fear in her heart, but she didn't feel completely relaxed until she sat on the stool.

Eden looked at him and said with gratitude, "Victor, thank you. You always remember what I said and do a lot to realize my dream."

Victor's brooding eyes were filled with warmth and gentleness as he looked at her quietly, "Eden, I remember I once told you that you are the most important person in my life. I am willing to do all these for you. In the past, I always believed that you could come back to me. Therefore, promise me that you will never leave me in the rest of your life."

Thinking of Gia's words, he was a little worried. She could only say those touching words when she was drunk, so he couldn't rest assured.

However, Eden nodded with a smile, "In this world, no one can dote on me as you do. I won't leave you even if you want me to." She said these words honestly. During this period of time, she knew what he had done for her. Each time she had different feelings and was moved differently.

"Eden." Victor was so excited that his eyes blurred with tears. At this moment, his worried heart finally relaxed.

He picked up the spoon and filled her bowl of with the soup of three delicacies.

"Eden, come on. Have some soup before eating. You drank wine today, so I prepared light food for you."

"Okay!" Eden said with a grin. She always cared about the feelings of the people she cared about, and she would rather suffer than make them unhappy. She would be nervous if they were upset.

She treated the relationship between her and Victor sincerely.

If she didn't like him, she would try her best to let him give up, even if he would be wronged.

It was said that women were happy because of love, and they would be sad because of love.

When they fell in love with someone, they would face many choices, and they needed a strong heart to hold on to the end.

Since she had chosen to be with him, she would not give up so easily.

After having a hearty meal., Victor took Eden to the garden for a walk. Victor told her that the children had done their homework and they were obedient at home, so she was relieved.

They went to the lakeside. The lake was very quiet at night, just like a bright mirror. There was a winding corridor which was made of mood next to the lake. At the end of the corridor was a pavilion and a wooden table. It looked like a fairyland.

As soon as they sat down, Eden took out her phone and saw the message sent by Abigail.

"Eden, are you alone with Victor tonight?"

Eden replied, "Yeah, Abby, what's wrong?"

Abigail said, "Baby Eden, I feel so worried when I see your question."

"Why?"

"Because you're too stubborn and you're unwilling to sleep with him."

Eden was speechless.

"Abigail, are you really my best friend?"

"Yep, no one treats you better than I do. Baby Eden, think about it. In this world, so many women want to seduce Victor and sleep with him. Don't be too stubborn. If you like him, don't refuse him. I'm waiting to attend your wedding."

"Do you want me to sleep with him just because you want to attend my wedding?"

Abigail said, "Baby Eden, that is worth it. It's a good thing! Come on! I want another god son."

Eden was too helpless.

She had had three children. Wasn't it enough?

Seeing that Eden lowered her head and chatted with Abigail, Victor felt a little wronged. They finally had a chance to stay together alone, and he didn't want to be disturbed by anyone.

"Eden." He called her name softly.

Hearing this, Eden thought of Abigail's words and suddenly felt that the atmosphere was a little ambiguous.

She looked up, and his aggrieved faces made her lightly puzzled, "What's wrong?"

Victor said, "I'm right in front of you."

Eden was speechless, "Victor, there's nothing wrong with my eyes and I can see you."

Victor said, "Eden, there's something with your eyes."

Eden was stunned, "I can see you clearly."

However, his skin was d*mned perfect. She couldn't even see his pore. There was a faint brown mole on his left cheek, but it did not affect his charm.

Victor said, "Can't you see the grievance on my face?"

Eden replied, "Are you showing me your grievance?"

"It's because of you that I feel wronged, isn't it?"

"Is it because of me that you feel wronged?"

Victor was stunned.

What was going on? If they continued to talk like this, he would go crazy.

"Eden, we stay alone tonight, and I don't want to be disturbed by anyone. You can only look at me." His tone and words were overbearing. It seemed that he was jealous.

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled helplessly. After saying goodbye to Abigail, she turned off the phone directly.

"Are you satisfied now?"

Victor nodded happily and grinned with joy.

"You're really obedient." His dotting words were as gentle as the quiet evening breeze.

Eden felt that she had been doted on as a child in an instant.

Chapter 722

However, this kind of feeling was d*mn good.

Oh Jesus!

What should she do? she thought. She had been completely obsessed by him.

Victor was the most handsome she had ever seen, and it was too hard for her to endure her feelings towards him.

Abigail's words echoed in her ears again, and she felt that even the atmosphere had become ambiguous.

Victor said, "Eden, let's live here after we get married. This place is close to the children's school, and there is a courtyard here. They will live more comfortably here."

Victor took the opportunity to make the proposal. In fact, he wanted to tell her the truth that he was the man who slept with her seven years ago.

However, the atmosphere was so warm, and it was not easy for him to get such happiness, so he was afraid that his words would ruin all these.

He didn't dare to say it. He was not afraid of anything, but afraid of losing her.

"Okay!" Eden didn't care about it. As long as she could live with her family, she was willing to live anywhere.

"By the way, Victor, Amelia sent me a message today, saying that someone wanted to order a wedding dress in our company. It is a custom-made wedding dress. I am good at design. Why don't you let me do this?"

There were other designers in the company. However, the clothes she designed this time attracted more attention, and she was more famous than them.

Moreover, Victor was her boyfriend, and she could make use of their relationship. She did want to design a wedding dress. Every woman only wore a wedding dress once in their lives. The white wedding dress represented purity and loyalty. Every girl wanted to put on a wedding dress and marry their beloved men.

Wearing the elegant and beautiful wedding dress was the happiest moment for every woman.

Victor looked at her eager eyes. She was always so serious when it came to work.

He said, "Eden, I will hand over the project to you even if you don't say it. That person asked for you by name. Besides, we've offered a very high price. Now, you only have to draw the design draft."

"Really?" Eden felt a little bit flattered and looked at him in surprise.

"Yeah! Eden, you are really amazing. However, we won't talk about work tonight. I will tell you who that person is tomorrow." Tonight, except for the two of them, he didn't want to mention anyone else.

"Okay!" Eden nodded obediently. She was relieved since he had said so.

They sat by the lake for half an hour. The night wind was a little cold. Victor was afraid that Eden would catch a cold, so he took her back.

Eden went to take a bath, while Victor played with his phone and waited for her in the room.

He searched on google for ways of persuading his girlfriend to sleep with him.

He browsed a lot of articles, but he felt that they were not suitable for him.

"Firstly, if a man faces the woman he loves and wants to have sex with her, he should have physical contact with her and then produce many hormones so as to become sexually aroused."

Victor shook his head quickly. He didn't like this way. What he wanted was that Eden was willing to sleep with him.

"Secondly, create a quiet and beautiful environment."

Victor nodded in agreement. The environment here was quiet and beautiful, and the atmosphere was sweet

He couldn't help frowning when he continued to read. Since he loved her, he should respect her. Otherwise, he would get just the opposite of what he wanted, and she would regard him as a scumbag.

"Thirdly, prepare flowers and fine wine."

"Invite the woman to have a drink in the flower fragrance and music, and the spicy Baijiu is the best. But you can't have sex with her by force after drinking. Women hate indecent behaviors the most."

"Fourthly, whisper in the girl's ear."

"Hug the girl you like from her behind and whisper some sweet nothings. She will be moved when she feels your hot breathing."

Victor nodded slightly. This was reasonable. He had tried this, but Eden had no reaction.

"Fifthly, say some shameless words properly." Victor looked at the following content and felt a little embarrassed. He touched his face unconsciously. If he said those words, would Eden give him a slap in the face and leave here in the middle of the night?

Victor took a look at the sixth advice, "Kiss her gently and let her be infatuated with your affection."

After searching the Internet, Victor felt that those ways were all not suitable for him.

Except for having hormones and a handsome face that was praised by everyone, he didn't dare to do anything else.

Victor lowered his head in a bad mood. He wanted to sleep with her, but he didn't have the courage to say it.

The bathroom door was pulled open. Victor immediately put away the phone and sat on the edge of the bed, as if he had done something wrong.

Eden didn't come out until she dried up her hair.

As soon as she came out, she saw Victor sitting in the room and couldn't help thinking of Abigail's words. Her face blushed scarlet instantly.

Victor still kept his head down, as if he didn't see Eden coming out, but in fact, he was very nervous.

However, from Eden's point of view, he seemed to be lost in thought.

She walked over with doubts and looked at him, "What are you thinking about?"

Only then did Victor raise his head elegantly and looked at her with a gentle smile, "You've come out."

Then, he reached out, took her slightly cold hand and let her sit down beside him.

He leaned over slightly and looked at her. There was a faint fragrance of the shower gel on her body and the smell was cool, making him very pleasant.

Eden nodded nervously, "I..."

"I...*

They spoke at the same time. Victor smiled and said, "Eden, you first."

Eden blushed and said, "You first."

In fact, Victor didn't know what he was going to say. Facing the person he liked, he was like a young man who had his adolescent crushes, cautious and nervous.

He lowered his head slightly and told himself that since he could be a commanding businessman, he could definitely be a perfect lover. After being mentally-prepared enough, he looked at Eden with an wicked smile, "Eden, do you need some water?"

All of a sudden, Victor regretted it so much.

What he wanted to say was, "Eden, let's sleep now."

Eden nodded slightly, "Okay, give me a glass of hot water."

Victor had no choice but to get up and pour water for her...

Eden took out her phone and turned it on. Then, she found that a blogger whom she had been following had posted a new video. She suddenly became interested, because the blogger hadn't updated the video for a long time.

When Victor came back with a glass of water, he happened to see her smiling brightly at her phone.

He suddenly wanted to become the phone in her hand.

Eden waved to him and said, "Victor, come and take a look. Her video is so interesting, and there are bits and pieces of her life in the video."

Chapter 723

Hearing her call him by the name, Victor was in a much better mood.

"Eden, drink the water first."

"Okay!" Eden took the glass and gulped down the water. Then she handed the glass to Victor and looked down at the video.

Victor kicked off his shoes, got on the bed and sat beside her. He pulled the quilt and covered the two of them naturally. Neither of them noticed this ambiguous action. Victor did not do anything deliberately. He just sat beside her gently, lowered his head and watched the video together with her.

Now there were all kinds of short videos online, but he was not interested in them.

He didn't know about these food bloggers.

In the video, the blogger was dressed in ancient-style clothes and making lotus-leaf chicken.

She did everything by herself, and the video was soon ended. The chicken was well made and looked very delicious.

Victor asked, "Eden, do you like the lotus-leaf chicken?"

Eden glanced at him, "No, nowadays, our lives are very busy. She creates her own food miracle in her hometown. Furthermore, the environment in her hometown is very beautiful. She earns her own living. Sometimes, I can be in a good mood by watching her video when I am busy with work."

As for the food, she knew how to cook. However, watching others cook was a kind of enjoyment.

"Not bad!" Victor nodded in agreement.

"You also think so, don't you? Her videos are short, but she does everything with all her heart, makes her video an art and shows it to us." Eden found the previous videos and showed them to Victor.

Victor was not in the mood to watch them. While Eden was searching the videos, he suddenly found that he was sitting beside her naturally. He put his hand behind her back lightly, pretended to be casual and held her waist.

Eden did not notice his scheming approach.

She looked down at the videos seriously.

Suddenly, her hand twitched and she clicked an advertisement by accident. The advertisement was immediately played, "How to make man last longer on bed?"

Eden was stunned and quickly clicked the next video.

She looked up at Victor, only to see that Victor was looking at her with a meaningful smile. His smile was faint, as if he thought that she had clicked the advertisement deliberately.

Only did then she realize that they were sitting very close to each other, and they were covered with the same quilt.

Her face blushed scarlet instantly, "Victor, you..."

"Eden, what's wrong with me?" Victor looked at Eden with his intense eyes quietly. Looking at her red face, he smiled very brightly and smugly. It was too late for her to realize it.

Eden looked at him. Didn't he know what was wrong with him?

When did he sit next to her? Why didn't she know this?

"Well..."

"Eden, are you tired?" Victor interrupted her. He knew what she wanted to say, but he wouldn't let her say it.

"No." Eden shook her head slightly, "Victor, what do you want for your birthday this month?"

She checked the date and found that there was not much time left before September 23. She had to prepare a birthday present for him.

Victor was stunned, and a wave of happiness flooded him. Except for his mother, no one had ever remembered his birthday.

Every year, he would receive a gift from his mother on his birthday.

He wouldn't realize that it was his birthday until he received the gift.

Victor looked at her bright eyes which were so clear that they seemed to be able to see through people's hearts, "Eden, I want you!"

He said this uncontrollably and did not hide his desire at all.

He put his arms around her waist to hold her tightly and rested his head on her shoulder tenderly, "Eden, all I want is always you."

There was a kind of eager desire and expectation in his low and deep voice.

Eden held Victor's hand unconsciously. They held each other's hands, and Victor's heart trembled.

Actually, every time she heard Victor's words, she would feel a sharp pain in her heart at first. After a while, her heart would be filled with sweetness and expectation. She longed to hear his voice, stay in his arms and be together with him.

When she was lying on the bed at night and couldn't fall asleep, she would analyze the relationship between them.

She was a woman who had three children. If she wanted to marry a man who really loved her, it was very difficult. Before she met Victor again, she had never thought about getting married.

But she was really moved. Her children liked Victor very much.

She chuckled, "Victor, aren't I in your arms now?" She said these words boldly. She had experienced a lot since childhood, so she was steady and restrained.

Usually, she wouldn't say such words so easily.

"Ha-ha..." Victor chuckled, "Eden, it's great to have you by my side!"

Hearing her words, he was so delighted that he almost wanted to cry.

At this moment, Eden looked up at him, turned her head slightly and then kissed his lips very lightly.

Victor was shocked, and his breathing became heavy. In a low and hoarse voice, he said, "Eden."

"Mm!" Eden answered with a red face.

Victor gently hugged her and lay down. Then he kissed her eagerly as if he was the burning desert sands which had been poured with water, wanting more greedily. He couldn't get satisfied just by kissing her and wanted more...

The next morning, the sun shone through the glass room. Under the dazzling sunlight, Eden slowly opened her eyes and saw Victor smiling at her. He had woken up.

Eden quickly got up and took a look at the bathrobe on her. She was still wearing it, and she couldn't help doubting her charm.

Victor stopped before he was about to take off her clothes. In the end, nothing happened and they spent the night like that.

Eden sighed. It seemed that she was really not attractive. In fact, she was willing to have sex with him last night, but he...

Eden looked down at herself again. Was it because she was too thin?

However, no matter how much she ate, she was always so slim.

But her breasts were not small.

Victor sat up slightly. Seeing that she looked a bit disappointed, he asked, "Eden, what's wrong?"

Eden looked at him silently. He was as doting as usual, so she shook her head slightly, "Nothing. I'm just hungry."

Victor gently touched her delicate nose, "Wait a minute. I'll ask them to send delicious food to you right now."

Victor put on his shoes and went out.

On the bedside table, Eden's phone rang.

Eden took it and had a look. It was a message sent by Abigail.

"Eden, how is it? Are you so tired that you haven't woken up yet? But if you're awake, reply to me. Did anything happen last night?"

Chapter 724

Eden felt extremely aggrieved when she saw this. She could not tell how she felt, but she was so wronged that she wanted to cry.

Eden sent her a voice message, "Abby, do you think I'm not charming enough? Or maybe I'm not attractive at all. I was disgusted."

Abigail was puzzled.

"My baby Eden, it seems that you're going to cry. Tell me what happened. Did Victor bully you? If he dared to bully you, I will go there and beat him immediately! I must give him a lesson!"

"If he bullied me, I wouldn't feel so wronged. But you know what? I was mentally-prepared last night, but he stopped at the crucial moment. Abby, tell me. What the hell was going on? It was the first time I had made such an unprecedented decision. Or, does he dislike me?"

Victor opened his eyes wide in shock when he heard what she said. She looked so upset early in the morning, and it was actually because he didn't have sex with her last night.

No, it was definitely not like this. He loved her so much. Last night, he was afraid that she was not prepared and he would be kicked out of bed. She didn't know how hard he had endured himself. He was about to explode.

If he had known this, he wouldn't have restrained himself.

Woo-woo!

He was the most wronged one.

He would never search the Internet again. In the future, he would do what he wanted.

The articles on Google were lies.

Eden continued to talk to Abigail.

Abigail said, "Baby Eden, no way! You went to his house, but he actually didn't have sex with you. Just forget it. He doesn't love you sincerely at all. You'd better change your mind and be with Jasper. Jasper treats you ten times better than Victor does."

"Abigail, haven't you woken up from your dream? What nonsense are you talking about?"

"Eden, I was too worried about you last night, and I didn't fall asleep. There are even dark eyes circles on my face now. Can you understand me?"

Eden was speechless.

"You didn't have to worry too much. I was the one who wanted to sleep with him, but I was not as worried as you."

"Eden, don't feel wronged. Anyway, you are a nice girl. Although Victor doesn't know how to cherish you, a lot of men who are lining up to marry you. There is a famous entrepreneur who loves you sincerely in Gate City, right? He is young and handsome. Therefore, don't worry."

Eden looked so helpless. Abigail was indeed her best friend.

She thought of a plan B for her immediately.

Who was the entrepreneur? How come she didn't know?

When Victor heard Abigail's tone, he wished that he could get into the mobile phone and beat her hard. How could she cast a bone between them like this?

This was definitely a misunderstanding.

All of a sudden, Victor felt a tightness in the chest. How could such a thing happen to him?

Eden said, "Abby, I'll talk to you when I get back. Have the children gone to school?"

Abigail replied, "Yeah, you don't have to worry about your three babies. They do everything well and they are very smart. You're the most carefree mommy in the world. Boris stayed in bed today and didn't want to go to school. Graciella was going crazy. He didn't get up until Gia scolded him."

"Boris's bad habits have to be corrected slowly. Abby, I'm getting up. Let's talk when I go back."
Eden said in a listless tone as if she was ill.

Victor left quietly.

He was so regretful that he wanted to beat himself hard. What a d*mned thing he had done!

Eden was very wronged and so was he.

In his heart, Eden was extremely innocent and pure. He did everything cautiously and said every word carefully for fear of hurting her.

However, he hurt her inadvertently.

Eden got up slowly. After washing up, she went downstairs and saw Victor sitting by the window in a hand-made white shirt. He was looking at the distance with gloomy eyes. It seemed that he was lost in thought.

His perfect side face gave her a peaceful feeling.

Eden was in a low spirit. She was depressed in heart. After talking to Abby, she felt a little better, but she still couldn't cheer up.

Hearing her voice, Victor looked back, only to see that she was drinking on the sofa sullenly.

He looked at her and smiled faintly. It was his fault. He made her think that she had been disliked.

He walked over and sat next to Eden. Then he picked up the cup and drank the rest of the water in it.

Eden was puzzled.

She glanced at him blandly, "Since you want to drink water, can't you pour it yourself?" Her tone was still filled with grievances.

As he got closer, she could feel that her heart was beating so fast that she couldn't control it.

So, it could be proved that she had fallen in love with him.

If she was not tempted, how could she be willing to have sex with him?

Victor looked at her with a smile, and his eyes were as doting as ever, "Eden, I'll pour another cup of water for you."

Eden said, "No." Then she lowered her head and looked at her hand. She was in a bad mood and didn't want to talk to him.

Victor knew why she was angry.

However, he had missed the opportunity. His eagerness to get her had never disappeared.

Every time she wore sexy clothes, he couldn't hide the infatuation and desire in his eyes.

Eden took a look at him. He was smiling, but she couldn't understand him for some reason.

How exactly did he feel about her?

At this moment, she wished that she could really understand him. In terms of love, she couldn't suit her methods to the situation. She always felt that love was very complicated, so she didn't want to be in a relationship.

Victor had done so much for her. Over the years, he had been keeping his promises one after another. However, when she wanted to give her all to him, he refused.

Nothing made her more dejected than this.

He did have his own strict style of doing business. Once he had a target, he would immediately take actions, and his methods were commanding and decisive, but...

No, Eden suddenly stopped filling her head with nonsense.

Did Victor suffer from sexual impotence?

There had never been rumors about his love affairs. Only her and the actress were gossiped to be his girlfriends.

"Victor, do you like men?" She blurted out.

Victor was startled.

"Ahem..." He coughed after hearing this. Her words came as a complete shock for him.

When did he give her such an illusion that he liked men?

Could it be last night?

No, he was too wronged. Who did he take heed of his virtue for? It was her, wasn't it?

How could she misunderstand him like that?

Chapter 725

Victor immediately explained, "Eden, you misunderstand me. I can prove to you that I only like you."

Eden looked at him with a face of suspicion, "Prove it to me? How do you want to prove it?"

Victor was helpless.

Hadn't he... made it clear that he would prove it?

She was indeed too naive.

Thinking of her depression just now, Victor stared at her and said cautiously, "Eden, If I can prove it to you, don't be angry anymore, okay?"

Eden was stunned and could not react for a moment. She looked at him with her big clear eyes in a daze and nodded unconsciously. She really wanted to know it. Otherwise, she would be depressed to death in the next few days.

Victor was surprised.

Was Eden really stupid or just pretending to be dumb? She hadn't figured it out though he had made it so clear.

Victor swallowed and stared at her, "Eden, promise me that you definitely can't be angry or ignore me, and I will prove it to you."

Eden said, "I won't be mad with you, and I won't ignore you. Tell me."

She asked him to tell her, so he knew that she hadn't realized what he was going to do.

If he could prove it by speaking, why did he have to do it?

Eden was so simple. What if he have a bad influence on her?

No, he must prove to her that he was not a gay, and he loved her and did not dislike her.

Eden's eyes were as clear as the dewdrop after the rain, bright and lovely. She looked at him expectantly to see how he would prove it.

Victor looked at her innocent and clear eyes and felt a little sorry. However, he thought about it again rationally. That kind of thing could not happen again. He could not let her have any other bad ideas in her heart.

Otherwise, it would be too hard for him to get her.

Therefore, he smiled wickedly and carried Eden in his arms with a hint of desire in his eyes.

"Oh!" Eden was startled. She looked up at Victor, "What are you doing? Just say it. Is it something shameful that you have to say it in the room?"

Victor was speechless. He was really irritated by Eden. She was the best proof.

Eden looked at him and blinked, looking so confused.

Victor's heart trembled as he looked at her. He could smell the pleasant smell on her, and he held her with more strength subconsciously.

"Fool, I'll prove to you now that I am absolutely straight." Victor's deep voice sounded ambiguous.

As soon as he entered the room, he closed the door with one foot and pressed on a button. Then the curtain was slowly closed, covering the light coming from outside.

Seeing this, Eden immediately understood what was going on.

She was shocked and stared at Victor with her eyes wide open, "Victor, what... do you want to do?"

Victor had been sexually aroused as he looked at her innocent eyes, and his mind was in a mess. He got randier and randier. He wanted more and was eager to have sex.

Victor did not speak. He put her on the soft bed gently, leaned over and whispered in her ear, "Eden, you'll prove it for me."

Eden was puzzled.

She stared at him with big and clear eyes, feeling a bit timid and scared. She was really wrong. Why did she understand what he meant so late?

Victor looked at her with keen eyes and said in a low voice, "Eden, you said that you would not be angry, and you would not ignore me.

You have to prove it for me. As a man, I am very wronged to be misunderstood by my beloved woman."

Eden opened her mouth wide and looked at him in disbelief. His grievances seemed to be caused by her.

At this moment, she finally realized it. How could she be so stupid?

Victor could tell that she was afraid. He knew what had happened back then had cast a shadow in her heart.

"Don't be afraid, Eden. It's me." Victor whispered in her ear.

Eden's nervous body relaxed all of a sudden.

She blushed scarlet. She asked for such a result herself.

Victor bent down and pressed on her, overbearing and tender. She had no way to refuse him and was besotted with his affection.

Just as she was about to speak, he suddenly kissed her red lips.

In an instant, the atmosphere in the room became torrid.

Victor was like a thirsty traveler, and she was like a river. She relieved the eagerness in his heart, and he had an extraordinary feeling of relief. It seemed that a miracle had appeared in his life, and he was like over the moon.

As for Eden, she finally got the passionate sex that she had waited for a long time. In his arms, she had the kind of excitement and happiness that she had never had before. With his every action, she felt how much he loved her.

In the evening!

Magnificent sunlight came through the glass walls and shone in, and the room was shining in the reflected rays of the setting sun.

The atmosphere in the room was extremely sweet.

When Eden slowly opened her eyes, she only felt that she had had an incomparably beautiful dream. She had a sense of belonging, as if she had returned to her hometown when her heart was full of depression.

She glanced at the light yellow curtain. Under the setting sun, it looked warm and soft, leaving a glow in her heart. The rustling sound made her mind keep turning in an endless loop.

Eden suddenly realized something. She quickly looked sideways, only to find that Victor was not by her side.

She recalled what had happened in the afternoon and opened her red lips in disbelief. They... were really together.

Eden closed her eyes slightly. Why did she always get obsessed with Victor?

She wanted to refuse, but her heart softened when she looked at his innocent face.

The door was suddenly pushed open and Eden looked over. Victor walked in against the light. His tall figure was bathed in the glow of the sun and the air was crisp and clear.

His handsome appearance was as indifferent as usual. However, when he looked her, his eyes turned tender all of a sudden and he looked at her dotingly.

Her eyes were innocent, and her facial features were delicate. She looked so pure and charming, just like an angel.

Victor walked over with a dotting smile on his face.

"Eden, you've woken up." His deep voice was like old red wine, leading her to endless aftertastes.

However, Eden turned over lightly. She felt that she had fallen into his trap accidentally.

She proved that he was straight, but he had gone too far. He... refused to be gentle on bed and didn't take pity on her.

Chapter 726

Seeing that she was angry, Victor smiled helplessly. Although they had a torrid sex, he woke up earlier than her.

The staff of the hotel had sent them a lot of delicious food, so he went out to open the door when she was asleep.

He walked over, sat on the edge of the bed and helped her up gently. Eden was wrapped in the quilt, and there were faint bruises on her fair skin. Seeing this, Victor was extremely pleased.

Eden just glared at him and didn't speak.

Victor reached out and ran his slender fingers through her hair. He stared at her with warm eyes and said, "Eden, are you hungry? Let's have dinner first."

When Eden heard the word "dinner", she suddenly remembered that she didn't even have time to eat breakfast in the morning, and she felt so wronged.

"You go out first. I am going to take a bath." Her voice had never been so hoarse before.

Victor nodded with a smile. The words she said in the morning were like the catalyst, letting him take an important step forward and making them the most intimate lovers. This wonderful feeling made him so happy.

He got up, kissed her smooth forehead and said in a low voice, "I'll get you some hot water."

Saying this, he turned around and walked to the bathroom without waiting for Eden's reply. Half an hour later, they finally sat down at the table.

Looking at the sumptuous dinner on the table, Eden felt so hungry. She hadn't eaten anything that day, and she had a torrid sex with him. At this time, she was terribly hungry.

Victor poured soup for her considerately. The nourishing chicken soup exhaled a strong fragrance.

Eden glanced at him but did not say anything. In fact, she felt very surprised about what had happened. When they were both horny, this kind of thing would happen naturally.

But she was so stupid that she didn't react at that time and fell into his trap.

Alas!

Eden cried in heart and decided to eat more. She took gulps of the soup and soon drank up half of the chicken soup. Then she ate a chicken thigh, but she couldn't get enough and ate one again.

Seeing that she only focused on eating and didn't talk to him, Victor had a load in his mind.

He wanted to ask, "Eden, did you agree that you wouldn't get angry?"

However, he didn't dare to ask. He was afraid that she would be even angrier.

Seeing that Eden munched on another chicken thigh, Victor felt as if he was chopped into pieces by her.

"Eden, eat slowly. I'll shell some shrimps for you." Victor was a little worried because she ate too fast.

"Alright, shell all of them for me. I'll eat them" Eden pointed at the shrimps on the plate. The food he had prepared for her was very fresh and each of them was very tasty.

Victor laughed and said, "Okay, Eden, eat the lobster first, and I'll shell them for you immediately."

Victor was as attentive as the waiter in the restaurant.

As long as Eden was not mad, he was willing to do everything. Love would make a person stupid, and he didn't mind being sillier.

Looking at what he was doing, Eden was no more so miffed.

After the meal, Eden was stuffed to the gills and felt a bit uncomfortable.

After she ate a plate of shrimps, even Victor was worried about her, let alone herself. Victor had been with her for such a long time, but he had never seen her eat so much.

"Eden, are you alright?" He asked with concern.

"Hie..." Eden burped, pursed her lips slightly and touched her uncomfortable stomach. Why was she out of her mind again? When she was extremely annoyed, she wanted to eat more and indeed enjoyed her meal, but she didn't feel well after eating a lot.

Eden said, "I seem to have eaten too much."

Victor gulped in disbelief. That night, she ate three times her meal in ordinary times.

As he expected, she was not feeling well.

"Eden, I'll take you out for a walk."

Eden glanced out of the window. It was already dark, and they had stayed here for two days and two nights.

However, this was not the problem. The problem was that she had really eaten too much.

"Let's go. I want to have a walk first." Eden stood up.

Victor came over and took her hand.

Eden did not refuse. Furthermore, even if she refused him, he would not let go of her.

Victor stared at her, and his eyes were softer than before.

Constant dripping wore away a stone. Victor finally won her love. Next, they would get the marriage certificate and hold a wedding naturally.

Thinking of this, Victor turned to look at Eden and said cautiously, "Eden, we are already together. Why don't we get our marriage certificate tomorrow morning?"

Eden was taken aback and stared at Victor. Under the night sky, his handsome face was exquisite and soft. His eyes were filled with expectation as he looked at her. It seemed that he had been waiting for this moment in his life.

"Eden, do you know what my biggest wish is?" Seeing that she didn't speak, Victor asked with a smile.

Eden shook her head slightly. He used to say that his biggest dream was to get her. Did he have any other dreams?

Victor pulled her into his arms tenderly, and his broad and strong chest was like a warm harbor.

She could feel his hot breathing and the pleasant smell on him, as well as his intense eagerness.

Victor whispered, "Fool, my biggest dream is to get married with you. I can't rest assured unless you become my wife."

Eden suddenly felt that she had no way to avoid Victor's love.

She could hear their heartbeats. Both of their hearts beat so fast.

Eden raised her face slightly and looked at Victor's eager eyes bravely. Finally, being stared at by him, she nodded.

"Okay! I promise you!" She said in a light tone, but Victor heard her very clearly.

He hugged her excitedly and did a twirl quickly.

"Stop, Victor. I'm going to throw up. It's all your fault. I ate a lot. I'm so uncomfortable now." Eden blamed him.

Victor put her on the ground cautiously and looked at her, "Eden, why don't we go to the hospital?"

Eden shook her head quickly, "There's no need. I'll feel better after talking a walk. You should take the blame. If I hadn't been angry, I wouldn't have eaten so much."

Eden said this and went straight ahead.

Victor looked at her back and smiled dotingly.

He followed behind her.

In fact, Eden was in a good mood. She didn't expect that happiness would come to her so soon.

Just now, she looked at Victor's expression carefully. When he was waiting for her to reply, he was very nervous and his whole body tensed up, like a string that would be broken at any time. His eyes were brooding, and it seemed that he had waited for that moment for a long time, so her heart was moved.

She had never felt the kind of happiness so vividly.

All the bitterness in the past and all the pain disappeared at that moment.

At the daytime, when they stayed together, he tried his best to endure himself and he was eager, but he took care of her thoughtfully.

Chapter 727

She remembered that when she first saw him, he was cold and noble, as if he was the most powerful person in the world. He looked arrogant and lofty, so she naturally disliked him so much.

However, when he looked at her just now, he was so focused, affectionate and cautious. She seldom saw him like this.

The moment he stared at her and waited for his answer, she was his whole world.

If she said no, he would be dealt a severe blow.

Eden walked forward and did not talk to Victor. However, Victor's eyes were full of smiles as soon as he thought that she had promised to get the marriage certificate with him.

Eden went straight to the lake. She stood behind the banister and closed her eyes lightly. There happened to be a street lamp above her head. She was wearing a beige coat and her soft hair hung behind her shoulders. The evening breeze was blowing, and she looked very sweet when she closed her eyes slightly. She had perfect facial features, delicate face and gentle temperament. At this time, she was smiling faintly.

Victor looked at her and was suddenly in a trance. She was really impeccable, and she was the best girl he had ever met.

He walked behind her and hugged her from behind. At this moment, their faces were both good-looking and they were well suited to each other.

"Eden, do you like this place?" Victor whispered in her ear.

Eden opened her eyes slowly, looked around with a smile and nodded slightly, "Yeah, it's very beautiful, especially at night. I feel as if I am living in a fairytale."

Victor looked down at her side face. He knew that she would like it, "Eden, you know what? I took fancy to this place ten years ago. I had been paying attention to it and prepared enough money. When this land was developed, I bought it and built the glass villa according to your preferences."

Victor looked at her in his arms and suddenly felt that he had got all he wanted.

During this period of time, they were in a relationship. They ate, went shopping, watched movies and talked about the future together. Such a life was pleasant and leisurely.

Eden was so touched when she heard that, "Why do you like this place?" She suddenly felt that there might be another reason.

Victor looked at the lake water in the distance and said with a smile, "I brought you here by bicycle ten years ago, and we went for a row on the lake. At that time, this place was very remote and there were very few people here. Then many people flooded into River City. In the past ten years, this place was developed by real estate agent, so I got a chance. When I bought this place, I was very excited."

Eden turned around to look at him, "Victor, you..." Eden's bright eyes glistened with tears.

Victor looked at her, and there was still a gentle smile in his eyes. They were very close to each other. As long as he lowered his head slightly, he could kiss her lips.

Victor whispered, "Eden, that year, I didn't know what I lived for. I lost my mother and you, and my life was in desperation. It took me a long time to drag myself out of the morass of despair."

Saying this, Victor took out a silver tape-recorder from his pocket. This kind of small tape-recorder was very precious when they were young. It could record people's conversation and play tapes.

When Eden was a child, she liked to listen to children's songs.

Victor grinned and said, "Eden, would you like to hear your voice when you were young?"

Eden was surprised, and she said somewhat happily, "Is this a tape-recorder?"

Eden looked at the small tape-recorder in his hand curiously. She remembered that she had seen it when she was young, and her classmates would bring their taperecorders to school. At that time, she was envious. She liked to listen to the songs, but she was poor to buy one.

"Mm! I bought it with my own savings. You liked it very much." As Victor said this, he glanced at her and pressed a button.

Suddenly, a soft and sweet voice of a little girl sounded, "Victor, when you come back from school today, remember to bring me a strawberry flavored lollipop. My father doesn't allow me to eat candies. He's too bad!"

Immediately afterwards, a boy said, "Eden, your teeth will become ugly if you eat too many candies."

"Victor, you're lying to me again. Last time, you tricked me to eat a sour strawberry, and I still remember it. Today, you should buy me a lollipop as the compensation. Look at my teeth. They're white and good-looking. They're much prettier than yours."

"Alright, I'll bring you a lollipop. However, why did you lean over the window early in the morning today? Didn't I tell you not to do that? It's very dangerous."

"Humph! I am not afraid. Victor, I saw that Vincent went to your room and then he took your pocket money and your white shirt. Moreover, he put his own shirt on your bed. Does he want to frame you again?"

"Ha-ha... It turns out that you just wanted to see what he had done. Don't do that in the future. It's very dangerous beside the window."

"No, they often frame you. I'm not afraid."

The sound paused for a while.

Victor pressed the button again.

"Victor, let me tell you. Your stepmother, the old witch, spoke ill of you in front of Uncle Phillip today. Guess what happened later? I splashed the toilet water on her. However, my mother saw it and then she beat me. My grandmother scolded my mom, and they had a quarrel. The atmosphere in my family is tense now. I won't go back to sleep at night. Victor, let me sleep with you."

Then there was no sound.

Victor took a look and patted it a few times, but it couldn't work anymore.

He looked at Eden and smiled, "Eden, it is a little old, and it's always in trouble. It should be completely broken now. But we haven't finished listening."

Victor lowered his head and fiddled with it.

Eden looked at him and didn't say anything. Her heart was full of bitterness.

When he lowered his head, the contour of his face was still cold. His black eyes were bright and brooding, and there was a hint of intense melancholy in his eyes. He was born to be noble and stern, and no one was qualified to desecrate him.

But his cold exterior hid a warm soul.

Eden took the initiative to hug him.

Victor's hand, which was fiddling with the tape-recorder, paused slightly. He looked down at her in his arms and smiled faintly, "Eden, what's wrong?" He asked softly.

"I miss you!" Eden said in a low voice.

It turned out that when they were young, they really stayed together every day, and he took care of her like an elder brother.

"Ha-ha..." Victor chuckled and held her in his arms.

"Fool, I'm right in front of you."

Eden shook her head slightly, "I don't know why, but I feel so sad after hearing the recording just now, and I miss you so much."

Chapter 728

Victor hugged her tightly. Smelling the faint fragrance on her and her pleasant smell, he was in a better mood, "Eden, you're not allowed to leave me again."

"Mm!" Eden nodded heavily, "I have said that I would never leave you. Don't worry."

Saying this, Eden raised her head and looked at him with a smile. She was very confident. If it was in the past, she would not have confidence. But at this time, she was confident that she could hold his hand and spend the rest of his life with him.

In the past two days, when she was with him, he made her feel touched and warm, and she was addicted to this kind of happiness.

Her soothing words left a glow in Victor's heart.

Eden said, "Victor, let's continue to walk. As for this tape-recorder, repair it when you have time." Although she had heard her voice when she was a child, she couldn't recover her memory.

But that wasn't important anymore. What was important was that they were living a happy life.

"Okay!" Victor took her hand and walked by the lake.

It was getting colder and colder, and the wind rasped their faces.

Victor put her hand into his pocket bag. They looked at each other with their eyes full of affection.

That night was still torrid and boiling. Victor wanted to live there with her. However, when he thought that they were going to get the marriage certificate the next morning, he got up early to prepare breakfast for Eden.

The next morning, Eden was pulled up by Victor. For him, getting the marriage certificate was definitely a big thing in his life, and it could not be delayed.

Of course, he was more afraid that Eden would go back on her words all of a sudden.

He could prepare a super luxurious wedding for her and make her the happiest woman in the world.

Eden was tired on the way. Even after they arrived at the Civil Affairs Bureau and got the marriage certificate, she was still sleepy. Her eyes were even drowsy and daze in the photo on the marriage certificate.

But this did not affect Victor's joy.

Victor got on the car with Eden and looked at the marriage certificate. It represented the happiness and sweetness of their life.

When he saw Eden's sleepy face, he felt somewhat guilty in heart. Last night, she was too tired, because he couldn't stop himself from being sexually aroused in front of her.

Victor held her shoulders with a smile.

Eden came to sense and looked at him with blurred eyes, "Victor, we've got the marriage certificate. Can't you let me sleep for a while?" Her tone was full of complaint and grievance.

Victor looked at her, and no words could describe his mood. For him, he owned the whole world on that day, but she only wanted to sleep.

He said in a low voice, "Eden, look at me."

Eden opened her eyes forcefully and looked at him, waiting for him to speak.

Victor said, "Eden, congratulations, you have become Mrs. Alwynn."

Eden was stunned and her drowsiness faded away in an instant.

Looking at Victor's serious face, she couldn't help but smile, looking naughty and sweet, "Mr. Alwynn, congratulations, too. You finally have a wife at the age of 30. You're no longer single."

"Ha- ha..." Looking at her lovely and mischievous face, Victor grinned. He had tricked her into marrying him successfully.

Ah!

He was so excited at the moment, and he wanted to tell the whole world this matter.

"Dear, let's celebrate it now." Victor changed his way of addressing her instantly and called her sweetly.

Hearing this, Eden suddenly felt a little unaccustomed.

Eden glanced at the entrance of the Civil Affairs Bureau. She was no longer sleepy and felt that she seemed to have been tricked by him in a daze.

"Victor, why have I married you?" Eden asked in confusion.

Hearing this, Victor only smiled in heart. She was as innocent as she was when she was a child, and she always late to catch on.

"Eden, you promised me. Now we are husband and wife. You can't go back on your word." Victor looked solemn and said in a serious voice.

Eden shook her head slightly. Looking at the his worried eyes, she smiled, "Victor, that is not what I mean. I mean, have I been fooled by you?"

"No!"

Victor shook his head quickly and denied it.

He would not give her the chance to go back on her word.

"Eden, just rest assured. We will hold a wedding. I will let my mom choose a lucky day."

Eden shook her head slightly, "Victor, it's so tiring to hold a wedding. I don't have so many requirements. This is good, but we can't tell anyone that we've got married. As long as both of us know it. We can make it public in the future. If you tell them, I won't feel so comfortable when I work in the company."

Victor looked at her, "Eden, now you don't feel comfortable, either. No one will dare to make things difficult for you if we make our relationship public."

Eden shook her head and said, "It's not the same. Without my permission, you can't tell anyone. Otherwise, we'll divorce."

Hearing her threatening words, Victor became listless in an instant. All the women in the world wanted to be his women. They announced it to the whole world as long as they had something to do with him.

However, Eden did not want to have anything to do with him in front of others.

Victor was extremely depressed.

Seeing him like this, Eden laughed, "Victor, we can make it public after the national design competition is over."

"Okay! Dear, I respect your choice." Victor could only indulge her.

He had tricked her into marrying him. If he did not agree with such a request, he would feel guilty deep in his heart.

"Ha-ha..." When Eden heard the word "dear", she couldn't help but laugh, "Why do you call me in such a natural way?"

Victor said seriously, "You can call me like this, too."

"Uh..." Eden thought for a moment, but she had to say it. She didn't mean to be affected, but she really couldn't call him like that.

"Give me some time to get used to it." Eden said.

"Alright!" Victor smiled dotingly, "But dear, can we tell mom and Uncle Calder?"

"That's okay." Eden nodded, but was she too impulsive? When she looked at Victor's eyes, she felt that she had been fooled by him.

"Okay, Eden, I'll send a message to tell them." Saying this, Victor took out his mobile phone, took a photo of their marriage certificate and sent it to his mom and Zaiden.

At the same time, Eden received a message.

It was sent by Abigail.

"Eden, didn't you say that you would come back yesterday? You haven't come back now. Are you staying alone sadly because Victor bullied you?"

Eden was speechless.

She just fell into his trap by accident.

"Abby, no, let me tell you. I'm married."

Abigail was shocked.

"Baby Eden, haven't you woken up from your dream? Or are you having a fever? Where are you? I'll call first aid."

Chapter 729

Eden was confused by the message.

She didn't say she was sick. Why did Abby say that?

Eden: "Abby, I'm fine. I am now registering for marriage with Victor."

Abigail: "What?"

Eden: "To be honest, I don't know what's going on. I am muddled"

Abigail: "No, you are not muddled. You're willing. But what about the wedding? You shouldn't do that."

Eden: "What do you mean?"

Abigail: "I mean you need a wedding! Eden, sometimes you're too simple. You are deluded by Victor! I'm telling you, he married you but didn't want to take his responsibilities."

Eden was even more puzzled. It was just a marriage. Abby overreacted to it.

At Eden's house.

Zaiden and Jaida had already come back.

They chatted in the living room.

Zaiden glanced at the phone and saw a picture sent by Victor. He clicked to take a look.

"Gosh!" he exclaimed and his mobile phone fell from his hand.

Seeing that, Abigail guessed that Zaiden also knew the news too.

Graciella picked up Zaiden's phone while eating Wangwang snow cake and said, "Are you okay? Why did you drop the phone?"

Zaiden took the phone with a pale face, looked at the kitchen, and said, "Jaida, your son deluded my daughter into marriage. We need to talk."

Jaida, who was cooking in the kitchen, happened to see the message from her son, so she came out happily.

Seeing her husband's unhappy face, she also felt upset, "Why? Aren't you happy? What do you want to talk about?"

Seeing her angry, Zaiden replied with a stern face, "My daughter is cheated by your son. How can I be happy? How can Victor be so cursory with such a big thing?"

Jaida said, "She is also my daughter, OK? They are truly in love. Isn't it good for them to be together?"

Abigail opposed, "Aunt Jaida, Eden is a little... a little simple. It is possible that she is cheated."

Hearing this, Graciella was unhappy. "Abby, Victor has been waiting for Eden for so many years. Now they are finally together. You should feel happy for them. Cheat? Are you kidding? My brother is a very nice man!"

Abigail said, "But Graciella, don't you feel strange? They only went out for two days and they get married now. Isn't this swindle?"

Graciella felt wronged for Victor, "Uncle Calder, Abby, you make too much fuss. Eden and Victor are just like water and fish. They are perfectly matched!"

"Must water have fish?"

Abigail and Zaiden said at the same time.

After saying that, they looked at each other and nodded tacitly.

They looked towards Graciella together.

Graciella refuted, "Must fish have water?"

"Yes!"

"Of course!"

Zaiden and Abigail replied at the same time again.

Graciella had nothing to refute.

Abigail said, "Victor can't live without Eden."

"Then why you want to break them up?" Graciella asked.

Abigail said, "Because I haven't prepared the gift yet."

Zaiden agreed, "Because I haven't prepared a dowry yet."

Graciella didn't expected that. She laughed.

She had never seen anyone afraid of not giving a gift.

Jaida said, "Don't worry. Wedding is indispensable although they have already gotten the marriage certificate. Eden is my daughter too, she will not be wronged. You have my word."

Abigail beamed, "Great. That's a relief."

Jaida smiled and said, "Abby, Thanks for considering so much for her."

Abigail shook her head, "Never mind. I just want to see her happy."

Indeed, Jasper could give Eden happiness.

He was well aware of the thoughts in Eden's mind.

And Eden wanted to give Jasper a better life.

But Eden didn't understand that Jasper's life would have been more perfect if she had accompanied Jasper.

"I'm going out," Abigail sighed and said.

looked at her and said, "Abby, it's almost time for lunch. Why don't you have lunch first?"

Abigail smiled, "I'm going to see Jasper." After coming to River City, she had not visited Jasper yet.

He had been very busy these days.

Hearing this name, Jaida understood.

The world would not always satisfy one's wish.

Just like Jasper. He and Eden were not fated to be conjugally tied.

"Okay, tell Jasper to come back home for dinner when he has time. I'll make his favorite braised ribs," Jaida said with a smile.

"Okay! You are the best!" Abigail laughed, got up, and went upstairs to change clothes.

Noticing Abigail's mood change, Graciella vaguely learned the things between Jasper and Eden.

"Alas!" "Love cannot be forced." Graciella sighed in heart.

Zaiden was sending a WeChat message. Jaida happened to see the message: "Victor, how can you married Eden without telling us? What are you going to do with the wedding?"

Zaiden quickly replied to his message: "Uncle Calder, if you want me to admit you as my father, don't block my happiness. As for the wedding, you will definitely be satisfied with it."

Seeing the message, Zaiden was relieved.

"OK! I am relieved to hear you say this. Treat my daughter well. If you hurt her, then you are challenging my majesty as a father."

Jaida nodded her head in satisfaction.

Victor received the message, feeling reassuring too.

He looked at Eden who was by his side and smiled, "Eden, Uncle Calder has also agreed."

Eden looked up at him and said with a smile, "I know him. He won't object since we have already registered."

Chapter 730

Victor rubbed Eden's head and smiled, "Eden, don't worry. We will definitely have a grand wedding."

Eden looked at him quietly with her bright eyes, "Victor, I don't care about this. What I care about is your seriousness and love to me."

Victor assured, "Honey, I won't let you down. Let's go to the River City Hotel for dinner now."

He started the car and went to the hotel.

He was going to have a big meal to celebrate his marriage,

Eden didn't want to spoil his good mood. Finally, she did not say what she was about to say.

It was rare for her to see Victor in such a happy mood.

Victor was a dream lover of many women.

Being loved by such a good man, she felt very lucky.

Abigail called Jasper that she was coming. Then she took the elevator directly to his president's office.

Jasper liked simple and fashionable decorations. His office was also tasteful, just like him.

Abigail walked in and saw him work seriously, she giggled, "Jasper, I'm here."

Dressed in an expensive hand- made suit, Jasper was handsome and charming. He raised his eyes, smiled, "Come in and have a seat. We'll have dinner together later."

"Okay." Abigail looked at his office carefully. It was very beautiful.

Jasper's assistant was a gentle man wearing gold- rimmed glasses. He offered Abigail a cup of coffee and then left.

Abigail sat opposite Jasper and asked, "When will you finish these?"

Jasper looked at the documents and said,

"About two or three days."

"Wow! Looks like my younger brother's business this year is also quite good." Abigail looked at her younger brother, who was getting more and more outstanding, with satisfaction.

In these seven years, he had undergone a perfect transformation and stood out amongst his peers.

Thinking of him and Eden, Abigail felt regretful. They could have been a perfect couple.

But they missed each other.

"Jasper, if Eden gets married, will you give her a blessing?" Abigail looked at her brother, with doting in her eyes.

Jasper suddenly raised his eyes. He felt confused. After a while of silence, he forced a smile and said, "What do you mean by this?"

Abigail pursed her lips slightly and looked at his eyes, which gradually became painful. Her heart was filled with pain.

She had witnessed Jasper's feelings for Eden.

"Jasper, Eden and Victor will be together eventually. You know her. I don't want you to be too sad."

Jasper tightened his grip on the pen in his hand, "Abigail, what are you trying to say?"

There were so many women in the world, just as stars in the sky, but he only wanted to give all his love to one of them.

This was his dream, but it was shattered.

The only thing left was work.

Abigail said, "Nothing. I just came to see you." She still couldn't bear to tell him.

Jasper smiled calmly, "That is not you. Just say it. I can take it."

The bitterness in Abigail's heart intensified even further, "Really?"

Jasper smiled slightly and nodded. Thinking of that slender and cute girl, his eyes overflowed with tenderness, "Even if I can't be together with her, I will be happy as long as she is happy."

Jasper's voice was hoarse but calm. These days he had been avoided seeing Eden, and he had really thought through a lot of things these days.

However, she was the only one in the world who remembered his every preferences. Seeing that he couldn't even cut an apple, she blamed him righteously, "You are an idiot about life skills."

This was the first sentence she said to him.

Jasper smiled faintly. His heart was filled with sadness. He had tried so hard to suppress his agony, but it was easily recalled by his sister. It seemed that he was still not strong enough.

He thought he had already let things go. But when it was mentioned, he felt that he was sinking deeper and deeper.

"Just tell me. You know that Eden is the most important person in my life. I want to know her news." he was with Eden for so many years, and the relationship between them, no matter whether it is friendship, love or family affection is not important anymore.

He believed that there was a kind of affection in the world, which surpassed love and all other feelings, and was the most eternal affection.

Abigail thought for a while and decided to tell him, "Jasper, Victor married Eden. They are now husband and wife."

Hearing the news, Jasper's heart hurt as if it was stabbed by a needle.

His eyes were dull. He knew that there would be such a day between them, but he never thought it would be so fast.

"Jasper, are you alright?" Abigail looked at him worriedly.

Jasper took a deep breath and whispered, "I don't understand. Everything was fine when we were in Gate City, but why did I lose Eden when we returned here? Why? I loved her so much, but I lost her in the end..."

He thought that he was adamant enough to face this, but now he realized he didn't dare to face it.

Abigail sighed deeply. Looking at his painful look, she persuaded, "Jasper, don't be too sad. What's done is done. Isn't it fine to have a new start?" "No...It's not fine...", there was pain in Jasper's eyes.

Eden was the girl who had changed his life and lightened his hope. He wanted to share his current achievements with her.

Seven years ago, Jasper lived off his parents, spent all day in games, bars or KI Vs.

His parents and sister could not control him. They sighed almost every day, but he still did repent. His family was rich enough to afford all his expenses, so he lived an extremely decadent life.

One day, Eden broke into his life. Setting Fashion Design as her ultimate goal, she was very hard-working. When he was wasting his time, she was always working tirelessly.

Her succeeded over and over again, and affected his dispirited heart.
