

Go After 209

Chapter 209

“You guys watch out, from now on this man is never allowed to set foot on the second floor again.” Calvin had just walked down the stairs and Belle’s voice came. He turned his head, only to see Belle standing on the second floor instructing towards the two bodyguards, her face expressionless.

Heartless woman!

Calvin stared at her with hatred, Belle was standing upstairs looking down at him with an inexplicable smile on her face, and Calvin could see a triumphant smile in her eyes.

After this battle, Calvin was defeated and no longer dared to sneak into her room.

Despite missing her and being obsessed with her body, he just didn’t dare to disturb her too much anymore.

Apart from his love for her, he was completely unable to find a way to subdue her, and for the first time he felt that he could not completely conquer a woman.

After eating, Belle picked up her bag and had to go to the hospital to see her mother today.

She drove her car towards the outside.

Just after reaching the entrance of Harvey Mansion, she saw Calvin’s Hummer slowly driving towards the gate.

Glancing coldly at his car, she twisted the steering wheel slightly and stepped on the accelerator.

The car swished straight ahead, quickly passing his Hummer, pulling out of the gate and running off to the right.

Calvin saw Belle’s car driving from behind in the reversing mirror, and was surprised where she was going, but her car overtook his and drive away abruptly to the right.

He froze and then realised that she was deliberately trying to get rid of him!

In his heart he was curious. She had already resigned from him, where was she going!

“Marry, how is my mother these days?” Just as she walked into the VIP corridor, she saw Marry walking out of the lift with a bag of things and greeted her.

“Miss Morris.” Marry greeted her with a smile, “Madam is doing well, her appetite is fine these days, she is recovering well after the operation. The key is that your mother is happy in her heart and willing to actively cooperate, so she is still recovering well from this illness, even the doctor is sure of it.”

Belle was so happy to hear that.

“Mr. Harvey has played a great role.” Marry spoke with a smile on her face.

When Belle heard Marry mention Calvin in a complimentary manner, her heart sank and her face darkened.

Although he did put in a lot of effort, but it's not so exaggerated. Belle thought darkly.

"Mr. Harvey comes over these days to talk to your mother, making your mother in a good mood. Whatever she needs, he will get it over, like that imported medicine. Mr. Harvey is really not an ordinary person." Marry smiled faintly as she spoke, feeling that Belle was indeed blessed to have found such a capable man.

Originally, she was worried about the marriage between Miss Morris and Mr. Harvey, but now she was completely relieved to see Calvin treating her ladyship with such coquetry and ingratiating.

Belle was annoyed.

The damned bastard had taken advantage of the situation to capture her mother's heart, which had upset her heart.

"Yesterday, we heard that Mr. Hudson Harvey has been improved his health, and rumor has it that there is a high-ranking patient had been transferred in. And the hospital is in heavy guard. And the truth is that Mr. Hudson Harvey has been transferred to this hospital." Marry said with great excitement.

Belle was dumbfounded to hear that.

Hudson has returned!

After receiving a call from the hospital in America, she was so heartbroken at the time and she let them call directly to Harvey Mansion, originally thinking that Paige would make the decision, but she didn't know that he was back home so soon!

Just returned home yesterday!

That means it was Calvin who picked him up, no wonder she hadn't seen Calvin for the past few days, so he went to America to pick up Hudson!

She had perhaps misunderstood him!

In fact, it's been almost half a month since she last had a fling with him at the Grand Hyatt, and if Calvin hadn't touched Lexie, he wouldn't have been near women for quite a while.

No wonder he was so impatient last night. He could he stand long time of suppression?

At this, she flushed. This playboy is a womanizer, but Lexie is pregnant, he could do nothing!

The bloody nail marks all over his right face came to his eyes and he sniggered with amusement.

Hudson should be getting better, so it's time to go and see him!

"Mom." Belle called sweetly to Kate, who was sitting at the head of the bed, and ran over and put her arm around her shoulder.

Kate immediately put on a smile at the sight of Belle, her eyes full of doting.

"Mom, you look good, it looks like you will be discharged from the hospital soon." Belle smiled as she surveyed Kate, full of joy.

“Calvin said I can’t be discharged from the hospital for the time being, and I have to take good care of myself in the hospital.” Kate said with a smile, “Today, he’s going to give me a bigger suite towards the south, so I’ll be moving out later.”

“What, move out?” Belle was stunned, “Move to where?”

“I heard from Mr. Harvey that she is moving to the big suite on the eighth floor.” Marry said with a smile.

The eighth floor was where she was hospitalized last time she was injured? That was the best suite in this hospital, and Hudson was also staying in that exclusive large suite, could it be that this guy had arranged it on purpose?

Belle’s heart sank.

What the hell did he want!

This ward was already very nice, why had her mother move to another ward?

Belle’s mind was turning rapidly, but she heard the head nurse say with a smile, “Miss Morris, Mr. Harvey has said that the ward will be changed today, so we are here to help you.”

“Thanks.” Kate smiled brightly, but Belle’s face was black.

She did not want to disagree, but she could not go against her mother’s wishes.

But if she agreed, she was worried that she would fall into Calvin’s trap.

Within a short time, the ward was changed without any problems.

When Belle walked to the eighth floor and took a look, she got furious.

Her mother’s ward was right next to Hudson’s, and she was sure he had deliberately arranged it.

She had just sat in the ward for a while and she heard Calvin’s voice ringing out in the corridor.

“Dr. Morgan, this floor is inhabited by my mother-in-law and father, security should be exceptionally strengthened. If anything happens, I will not spare you.” Calvin’s cold voice reached Belle’s ears through the open window of the corridor.

Mother-in-law? Belle only laughed coldly when she heard that. If he could do the same before, everything would be different now, and Lexie would not have pregnant.

Who was he pretending to now?

“Don’t worry, Mr. Harvey, this is a special ward that is highly regarded.” Dr. Morgan assured him.

Soon they headed towards Hudson’s ward.

“Mr. Harvey, congratulations, it seems that Mr. Hudson Harvey will recover soon, it’s really a great joy.” Dr. Morgan’s complimentary voice steadily managed to reach Belle’s ward.

Belle had a complicated mood at this moment. On the one hand, she was happy that Hudson’s condition had improved, and on the other hand, she was worried about the current situation.

She didn't know if this was a good or bad arrangement!

There were quite a few strawberries and carambolas in the ward. Last night, she wanted to eat them, but she fell asleep later. Before she set off this morning, she found fruits in her bedroom too.

Not feeling well in her stomach, she put a few strawberries in her mouth.

"Mom, is everything alright here?" In the twinkling of an eye, footsteps sounded, and Calvin walked in with a smile, when he found Belle, he gave a bigger smile.

"Yes." Kate said with a smile, "Have a seat."

Calvin walked towards Belle and stood beside her, saying casually, "Mom, if you need anything, please let me know."

"Okay, I will." Kate nodded in satisfaction and suddenly asked solemnly, "Calvin, how is your father's doing?"

Calvin took a look at Belle who was eating fruit with her head down, and his voice became softer, "Mom, my father's illness has improved, both his arms can move now. He is slowly recovering, he should be able to stand up soon, after all, he has been in a coma for a long time, so it will take some time to recover."

His voice was confident, and Belle was secretly relieved to hear it.

"Belle brought back a famous doctor from America that the diagnosis was made." Calvin said with a smile as he turned his gaze to Belle.

Kate listened with even more joy, "It's only right for a daughter-in-law to do her job to take care of him."

Kate smiled with pride and love and turned to Belle, "Belle, Calvin has contributed a lot to my illness. From now on your father-in-law will live next door to me, so you should go over and take good care of him."

Belle froze hearing that.

Calvin, however, smiled more broadly.
