Chapter 841: Flame Angel Uriel

Although the only way is to send someone down to retrieve the treasure, Da Fei would rather let a master volunteer to venture into the hell than let his own beautiful and delicate sweetheart go down to pick it up! Who knows what level this treasure is when it's just casually thrown around without even a guardian monster?

Da Fei quickly shook his head, "No, no! You can't take this risk, I'd rather not have this treasure."

At this moment, the golden light of the treasure on the radar suddenly flashed again, with the glow from the riverbed penetrating through the smoke once more!

Elda furrowed her eyebrows, "I seem to hear someone calling!"

Elifel also said, "Yes, it should be this treasure calling!"

Da Fei couldn't help but exclaim, "A treasure that can call out? A Divine Artifact?"

Elda said solemnly, "It should be a cry for help! This treasure should be an angel, an Angel Spirit!"

Da Fei's eyebrows jumped in shock. Another angel in distress? My gosh! I just want to quietly train my troops and return to the city, not trigger various awkward and entangled quest plots! But the problem is, the plot is right in front of me. If I back down, I'll have even more sleepless nights over this!

Without any choice, Da Fei asked Elifel, "Do you think you can go down and retrieve it?"

Elifel said earnestly, "Sir, we angels are Holy Spirit beings without flesh, we won't be maimed by lava. I also possess Advanced Flame Resistance, which reduces negative effects by 75%, and I am the most vigorous individual in the team, most likely to complete the task!"

Da Fei's jaw dropped! Flame Resistance my foot, isn't that just the difference between instant vaporization and instant being cooked to the bone? Who could revive you if you die at the riverbed?

Elifel continued, "More importantly, as a naval instructor, I've never been in the water myself, never experienced it firsthand. This might be why I struggle to comprehend Expert Level Navigation Skills! Moreover, as a Contract Angel, my lord need not worry about my safety."

Da Fei was taken aback to the point of speechless! What she said was so logical that I couldn't argue! Fine, if a troop member can propose their perspective so logically, it indicates her intelligence has evolved to an impressive level. Her proactive request leaves me no reason to oppose, otherwise, it might impede a child's growth!

Da Fei steeled his resolve and asked Elda and Essinger, "What do you all think?"

Essinger said solemnly, "I will accompany her with the Vajra Body for protection!"

Da Fei nodded, yes! The master's skill is indeed formidable!

Elda, however, pulled out a bottle of wine, "Have a drink and cool down before going down!"

Damn! You're an Angel Hero, can't you offer any powerful aid?

Now, the ship slowly approached the section of the river where the treasure was located. Elifel flew high to the top of the Melt Cave, and then, like a water bird, she dived down at high speed—Bang!!! "-237!"

Fire waves surged! Fog steamed!

Just as she entered the water, the damage of over two hundred points immediately popped up above Elifel's head as a red line jumped out! Da Fei's jaw dropped in shock! This was with the Vajra Body and flame resistance; without them, an ordinary angel with three to four hundred health would be instantly killed in this lava!

At this moment, all of the new angel teammates who knew Healing Skills immediately cast all their healing spells on Elifel in the water, but the effect of the healing was rendered weak by the Flame Stream!

Soon, Elifel's figure was submerged by the Flame Stream, and her health had passed halfway! Then, her health was down to only one-third!

Da Fei was dumbfounded! Even if Elifel could retrieve the treasure, the critical question was whether she could come back alive? At this moment, Da Fei lamented squandering all the potions earlier; otherwise, at this crucial moment, he might still pull off a miracle. In the end, life doesn't have the most critical, only more critical situations; it doesn't have the most painful, only more painful!

Quarter health left! In this scene, Da Fei's mind was blank. In the end, the storyline in the depths of hell is absolutely not something current players can proceed with normally. This might really be a case of playing too recklessly ahead of time!

At this moment, Da Fei deeply regretted and couldn't bear to watch anymore. It felt like even time was frozen at this moment! Stopped...

Huh?

After a long daze, Da Fei suddenly realized something was amiss! Frozen time my foot! It was Elifel's health bar that hadn't moved much, right?

Could it be a miracle? In ecstatic joy, Da Fei widened his eyes and stared intently at the riverbed, only to see a mass of red light ascending from it!

Da Fei, overwhelmed with joy, laughed maniacally, "A miracle! It's a miracle!"

Elda, however, said solemnly, "It's the Flame Barrier; being enveloped by the Flame Barrier prevents flame damage. I think I've figured out who this angel in distress is!"

Da Fei asked eagerly, "Who?"

Elda said seriously, "Among the seven great Creator Angels, the Uriel Family member who possesses the title of Divine Fire! Only they can master fire so exquisitely, and their family has always been sent by the divine to guard the Gate of Hell."

Da Fei's eyebrow twitched. Another Creator Angel family? Isn't this just like the Remy in the China Region? All ancient angels waiting for rescue, but this Uriel is even more hidden and cunning!

—Boom! No sooner had the words been spoken than the river surface exploded with a fiery wave, and a fireball enveloped in a red light shield shot out!

Da Fei was once again stunned, was this fireball Elifel?

At this moment, Elda instantly transformed into her Angel Body and soared into the sky, catching the fireball mid-air and shouted, "Quick, heal her! Her body is about to be burned and dissipate!"

Da Fei urgently cried out, "Healing! Everyone, heal!"

As golden glimmers shone down on the fireball, Elifel's health finally began to gradually recover, and the light shield enveloping the fireball slowly dimmed, eventually revealing Elifel's humanoid figure within the fireball!

As long as she's alright, as long as she's alright! Da Fei was in tears!

At this moment, Elda, supporting Elifel, looked down and asked, "Are you an angel of the Uriel Family?"

Elifel's hand glowed brightly, revealing a fiercely burning ring! Da Fei's eyebrow twitched, such a badass ring must be a Divine Artifact, right? My ring slot just lacks a ring!

Only to hear the ring's muffled voice say, "Yes, I am the ancient angel Uriel trapped here during the Divine Punishment War ten thousand years ago. At the moment of my defeat, I quietly transferred my soul into this treasured ring, then sunk the treasure to the bottom of the river. For ten thousand years, I have deeply hidden myself, absorbing the energy of flames, awaiting the right time. Warrior, your arrival is the moment I've been waiting for, let us kill the Demon Dragon in the Melt Cave and destroy my body! In doing so, the Demon Army will no longer be able to use my body to refine Hellfire Crystal Stones!"

—System Prompt: You have acquired the quest item "Uriel's Possession Ring," the ancient angel Uriel invites you to destroy the Demon Flame Crystal Stone Factory, do you accept?

—Task Hint: Use this ring in the quest scene to summon the Flame Angel Uriel. Uriel is an angel proficient in fire, skilled in combat in lava regions.

Da Fei was stunned once again! Are you kidding me? The treasure I fished out with so much effort turns out to be a quest item? Does that mean I can only officially acquire this ring after completing his quest?

However, judging from how deeply hidden he's been, he is probably the legendary hidden pass device. It means that players could defeat the boss without finding him, but the difficulty greatly decreases if he's discovered.

So Da Fei asked, "I've scouted the Demon Dragon in the cave, and it looks extremely powerful, how confident are you in dealing with it?"

The ring grumbled, "If it were when I had my body, this kind of low-level being would have been slain with a single sword. But now, I have no body and must rely on warriors' assistance to succeed."

Damn it! It's indeed the eternal cliché of the game! Da Fei coughed and asked, "I painstakingly rescued you; do we really have to take the risk and challenge the Demon Dragon inside? Can't we happily return home?"

The ring mumbled, "Warrior saved me, so I have no reason to put the warrior in a tough spot. The warrior decides whether to fight or not. If you choose not to fight, then please hand me over to the Guardian Angel Leader after returning to the city, and you will receive decent merits. However, for me personally, I still wish to return gloriously."

Elda sighed, "I understand your feelings, but we all have to face reality."

The ring sighed, "Perhaps, so everything will be up to the warrior's arrangement."

Hey, hey! Aren't you guys speaking in a conflicted tone just because you want to fight? Do you think I don't want to too? With all those crystals, I'm tempted too! The problem is, aren't you not like before, slaying with a single sword? I don't need to risk dead soldiers for the European Union Zone anymore, this is a revival-proof hellhole!

Da Fei then sighed, "My main goal is to train the troops, I'll see what the situation is like before making a decision."

The ring gently said, "I see! To rescue my angel, I fortified her body a bit, hoping it might contribute to the training."

Da Fei was astonished, "Fortified the body?"

The ring chuckled, "Yes, otherwise she wouldn't have lasted. But she has a good foundation. Otherwise, I couldn't strengthen her even if I wanted to. Well, this fortification also consumed a bit of my power, so I'll rest for a while. Call me if you need anything, warrior."

As the ring's glow dimmed, the light shield enveloping Elifel's body also slowly vanished, and Elifel slowly opened her eyes. Then a system prompt sounded with a ding!

—System Prompt: Your Wisdom Angel Elifel has acquired the combined special skill, combining "Holy Body" and "Advanced Flame Resistance" to form a new special skill "Holy Flame Body", Life +300, Mana +300.

—Holy Flame Body: Immunity to curses, blindness, spirit, disease, high temperature scorching, and other negative states, flame magic resistance increased by 50%, absorbs 50 points of flame damage.

Da Fei's eyes widened in shock! Damn it! So unit special skills can also be combined into one!

Chapter 842: The Prerequisites for Brainwashing Are Met

——Holy Flame Body: Immunity to curses, blindness, mental, diseases, high temperature scorching and other negative states, increases resistance to fire magic by 50%, absorbs 50 points of flame damage.

Looking at Elifel's combined special skills, and Elifel's whole body transformed into a red robe with flame patterns, Da Fei was truly awestruck, never imagining that the game could also have such a combined special skill!

The Holy Body is an angel's racial special skill, immune to all sorts of trivial little things, a guarantee of an angel's dignity as a top-level unit. Combined with Fire Resistance special skill, Elifel is now directly immune to high temperature scorching, meaning Elifel is now no different from ordinary demon soldiers, and won't lose health or stamina here. Even if she falls into the Lava River, she might not be as hurt as before.

Even if hurt, there's still 50 points of flame damage absorption to hold on. This means that the flame damage or flame magic damage Elifel receives is directly reduced by 50 points, a solid hard immunity. Paired with Elifel's 95% maximum fire resistance, complete immunity to fire magic is entirely possible.

More important is that with the two special skills combined, doesn't that free up one special skill slot? Wouldn't this be even more advantageous for Elifel to learn skills and grow? That's right! This is the greatest gain!

At this moment, Elifel spoke: "Sir, Elifel did not disgrace the mission!"

Da Fei inexplicably felt a pang of sorrow. To be honest, in over thirty years of living, only NPCs in the game would go through hellfire for me!

Da Fei couldn't help but be excited and said: "Great! You did very well! Actually, as long as you're okay, that's the best thing."

Elifel smiled and sighed: "After this trial, I felt the great power of that lord, he opened the barrier at the critical moment to keep me safe. At the same time, I also gained new insight into the marvel of lava; clearly melted rock, yet it possesses the properties of flames, water, and rock. So I am wondering if the reason your Sailing Skill cannot fully play out here is due to the obstruction of the rocky property of lava?"

Da Fei's eyebrow twitched, then he smiled happily: "Of course, right? The resistance must be much greater than water."

Oh my god! She spoke so much this time, and can even think simply! This is definitely a sign of greatly enhanced intelligence! If she can't learn Expert Level Navigation Skill with this, I'll eat three pounds of shit!

Elifel laughed: "But, sir, it's said the hero's Logistics Skill is about Movement Skill related to rock and soil. If you can perfectly merge Logistics Skill with Sailing Skill, could you create a capability to move swiftly on a Lava River?"

For an instant, Da Fei was rendered speechless and shocked on the spot! It's not just simple thinking! She's addicted to combining skills and wants to create new ones? Her intelligence is bursting through the roof!

——Crash! The sound of a bottle hitting the ground.

Da Fei hurriedly turned his head to see that even Essinger, who was drinking on the side, was also dumbfounded and accidentally dropped his bottle.

Da Fei exclaimed in shock: "Miss Elda?"

Elda shook her head in admiration and said: "It really deserves your trained soldier, really has some ideas. Actually, the skill she mentioned does exist, but only specific races can learn it."

Da Fei was astounded: "There really is?"

Elifel couldn't help but get excited too: "Please guide me, milord!"

Elda nodded: "That's right! The Swamp March of the Lizardman hero, of course, Fishman Clan hero, the Naga Clan hero, etc., all amphibian intelligent races can learn it, but humans can't."

——System Prompt: You have obtained information on the Logistics Skill's special hidden skill "Swamp March"!

Da Fei's eyelids twitched in surprise! Goodness, a hidden skill is one thing, but it's a special hidden one! Sure enough, it's restricted by race? So that's why Lizardmen move lightning fast in swamps, they have skill support!

At this moment, Essinger spoke: "Two sirs, I think maybe not. Although Lizardmen can move quickly in swamps, even quicksand, that is merely an extension of their racial special skills, and the principle isn't a combination of Sailing Skill and Logistics Skill, so it can't be concluded that non-amphibious races cannot learn similar skills."

Elda took a sip of wine and laughed heartily: "An interesting thought! However, for us flying angels, those barbarian skills are completely unnecessary, and as for warriors, they just need to steadfastly move towards the path to Heaven."

Essinger chuckled: "The lord is right."

Da Fei was shocked on the spot! Goodness, how did it suddenly turn into a research conference? Is it triggering a special scene plot? Just like the short play that happened with the Little Banshee and the Skilled Gunner in one cabin before?

It must be! The system must be using these NPCs to tell me something, that Logistics Skill and Sailing Skill can combine into new skills, maybe even now there's already a condition to combine? That's right, with my Master-level Navigation Skill and Master-level Logistics Skill, the conditions are through the roof! But to overcome the racial barrier to learn the skill is like making a pig grow wings to fly, perhaps it's only possible at God-level? Or maybe this skill needs magical assistance like Mysterious Stealth Navigation?

Now, Elda starts drinking again, Essinger goes back to meditation, and the scene is restored. Da Fei thought for a long time and still had no clue.

Just then, Elifel spoke again: "Sir, I've recovered my stamina now and have gained much insight. I'm very confident I can learn Expert Level Navigation Skill!"

Da Fei finally snapped back to reality, yes, let's get down to business!

Da Fei laughed loudly: "I'm also very confident! So, are you ready?"

Elifel firmly said: "I will do my utmost!"

Da Fei waved his hand!

——System Prompt: You cast Master-level Special Soldier Training Skill "Angel Sailor Instructor" on Elifel, successfully teaching Expert Level Navigation Skill!

——System Prompt: Your S-level strategic treasure "Grand Marshal Instructor's Whip Medal" successfully facilitated Elifel's skill learning.

——System Prompt: Your Elifel has learned the hero skill "Expert Level Navigation Skill", gaining advanced growth, Defense +5, Health +100, Mana +100, Stamina +20. Elifel's "Angel Instructor" skill can teach angel units navigation skills below Expert Level.

——System Prompt: You have obtained information on God-level Navigation Skill.

——System Prompt: Congratulations! You have successfully obtained information on Master-level Special Soldier Training Skill.

Oh yeah! Finally nailed it on the first go! Finally an expert! Haha, wow hahaha! I'm one step away from God-level Navigation Skill and Master-level Special Soldier! And this step is surely to push the limits, to train Elifel to master level.

Elifel also joyfully said: "Sir, now that I've also become an expert, I've finally become a real instructor, I can also assist you in teaching!"

Wow hahaha, the legendary teaching assistant? But, what I care about isn't this! Da Fei eagerly asked: "Do you think you have a grasp on Master-level Navigation Skill?"

Elifel frowned: "Sir, right now I can't comprehend the master-level realm."

Damn! So indeed, it's stuck at master level? Da Fei reconfirmed: "Not even the slightest possibility of learning it?"

Elifel shook her head: "At least there's no possibility now. Maybe, after I help you train up more Advanced Angel Sailors, or perhaps after a longer period of navigation will I gain the master level insight.

Goodness! I don't have time! Not to mention, Elifel now possesses the Holy Flame Body, and there's no room for growth here, her intelligence evolution is probably at BOSS level already, if she can't comprehend master-level in the world's harshest waters, then it's just leisure travel when we leave, what could she possibly comprehend then!

That's right, the key is for her to teach other angels "Human Form" as soon as possible! As long as she knows Human Form, I can bring BOSS-level angels onboard, then I can take my time!

In essence, she must continue to advance!

And to make the impossible possible, perhaps only the final ultimate move is left — brainwashing! Now Elifel definitely has met the brainwashing conditions.

However, for such a major thing, I still need a real expert to guide me before I can feel at ease. So, Da Fei solemnly approached Essinger and said: "Master, please guide me!"

Chapter 843: Cleanliness Is Next to Health

Upon hearing Da Fei's solemn request for mind control, Essinger couldn't help but be surprised, "My lord, do you really need to brainwash Elifel? Is it necessary? Given your current situation, as long as you continue to train in this Flame River for several months, any kind of achievement can naturally be realized."

Da Fei shook his head with a bitter smile. How I wish I could just idle here for a few months, but at my level, even if 50 cents were to fall on the ground, I wouldn't have the time to bend down and pick them up.

Da Fei sighed, "Time is running out. I must train the troops as quickly as possible and complete the mission."

Essinger nodded, "I see! However, Elifel is a very intelligent unit, and she's even started to develop a personality. For such units, it's better to facilitate mutual communication before doing any mind control. Let me demonstrate!"

Da Fei quickly said, "Thank you, master!"

Now, Elifel approached Essinger and saluted, "Please instruct me, my lord."

Essinger asked, "Miss Elifel, your commander wishes to use compulsory methods to quickly make you learn the master-level navigation skill. What do you think?"

Elifel nodded, "As long as I can become stronger, I'm even willing to jump into the Lava River, so I will face any challenge calmly!"

Essinger nodded with satisfaction and then smiled at Da Fei, "It's best when the unit itself desires to grow stronger! If it were any normal units, they'd usually just express absolute obedience, which is also a good state. But if they show indifference or resistance, that's a bit troublesome."

Da Fei was surprised, "There are units that might resist?"

Essinger sighed, "When I was trained by demons, I was highly resistant!"

Da Fei was shocked, "And yet, master, you reached your current level?"

Essinger froze momentarily, then sighed deeply, "I was forcibly brainwashed and lost most of my memories from when I was alive, but I vaguely remember that I was incredibly awesome back then! Oh, if only the demon instructor had taken some time to communicate with me patiently..."

"—Then I wouldn't have been able to save you!" Elda interrupted with irritation.

Essinger immediately said, "The lady is right! How could I possibly submit to demons? I would naturally resist to the end, never giving my excellent talents and outstanding abilities to demons!"

Elda nodded repeatedly, "Please continue! I'm a bit interested in this mind control training as well."

Essinger hurriedly said, "The next step is psychological suggestion for the troops. The so-called psychological suggestion, for example, is like taking a timid person to a haunted house, solemnly telling them in advance how terrifying it is. So when this timid, frightened person sees any fleeting curtains, shirts, sheets, or even the wind moving doors and windows, they'll think they're ghosts, looking more and more like them, getting more scared and therefore seeing more ghosts. That's psychological suggestion!"

Da Fei couldn't help but grit his teeth, "Exactly! I was played with like this when I was a kid! The more I think about it, the more uncomfortable I feel!"

Essinger continued, "So, similarly, before mind control, we need to implant a psychological suggestion into the troops, showing them which skills are useful and which are not. If she initially assumes certain skills are useless, the mind control will likely erase those skills she deemed useless!"

Da Fei was astonished, "I see!"

Essinger chuckled, "But this method can only be used on very intelligent units. Regular units naturally wouldn't ponder such profound questions."

Da Fei nodded repeatedly.

Essinger then continued, "Miss Elifel, learning is limited at certain stages for anyone. To learn new things, you must let go of the old ones. The same applies to you. Which skills do you think you need the least? Please express your true feelings; otherwise, you can't truly become stronger."

Elifel was taken aback, then shook her head, "True feelings? I... feel uncomfortable sharing them."

Essinger quickly said, "You must express them! If you don't say it, you'll have psychological pressure, which will bind your soul and become a stumbling block to your growth!"

Da Fei laughed, "No worries, this is hell; there are no gods here. Say whatever you like, it's just us!"

Elifel sighed, "Should I really say it? My lord won't get mad?"

It's just a Bloodthirsty Frenzy, I don't care about that! Da Fei laughed heartily, "I won't get mad, not at all! As long as you don't erase the Sailing Skill and Human Form, I don't care about other skills!"

Essinger laughed, "Some skills can't be erased no matter what. For instance, Holy Body is a racial special skill of Angels, a core skill related solely to the body structure, and won't be erased by mind control skills. By the way, that Holy Flame Body combination created by Lord Uriel is indeed just a skill that can only compose the body, essentially no different from those Alchemists manufacturing magic puppets."

Da Fei nodded, "I see!"

Elifel took a deep breath and said, "Alright, from the moment I was born, my task was to be a healer, constantly healing non-stop for a thousand years or ten thousand years. I'm so sick of healing that I could puke. I'm fed up with meditation! I'm fed up with resurrection! What's more, I'm tired of those monotonous decrees in Heaven! That's why I want to follow Lord Warrior and Lord Selvia on their adventures, no matter how dangerous. I'm willing to risk it all! — That's what I wanted to say the most!"

Da Fei's jaw dropped to the ground! Elda and Essinger stood there dumbfounded!

Oh my! So beneath her serene and sweet demeanor was a rebellious and restless heart! The question is, you wouldn't want to wash away all your healing, meditation, and resurrection skills, would you? What kind of Angel would you be then?

Elda came back to her senses and cleared her throat: "I understand your thoughts, you remind me of my younger days, the result... well, that's how I ended up like this."

Da Fei was shocked again! Your younger days? How old are you? Oh my god! Angels should be at least a few thousand years old, right?

Essinger also came to his senses with a long sigh: "So that's how it is, a strong desire to become stronger, coupled with the determination to break away from the old life, this washing issue is huge..."

Da Fei asked miserably, "Master, will she be wasted by washing?"

Essinger patted his head: "Actually, Lord Warrior, look at it this way: The more skills she washes away, the more it will benefit her understanding of Sailing Skills! Moreover, sometimes things are not altered by subjective conditions. Those spells she has used for thousands of years might have already rooted deeply in her soul, so even if she wanted to wash them away, she couldn't. For example, when I was brainwashed by a Demon, I still retained some skills from my former life – although these skills were preserved against the odds."

Da Fei's eyebrows twitched: "Master, well said!" Then he asked Elda: "What do you think, Miss Elda?"

Elda shook her head: "I understand her thoughts, I've seen her determination, anyway, with so many soldiers, what's one more or less? It's healthier to wash it out!"

Oh come on! Healthier your sister! Exactly because she's the only Angel of this level that I particularly care about!

Essinger said seriously: "Lord Warrior, her current state is almost perfect, nearly controlling her growth direction herself, so it's unlikely to have brainwashing aftereffects. If you've made up your mind, you can use the brainwashing skill on her now!"

No aftereffects? Well then, there's nothing else to say. Da Fei took a deep breath and made up his mind: "Alright, let's start!"

Elifel solemnly said: "Elifel won't let Lord Warrior down!"

With a wave of Da Fei's hand, a flash of light appeared on Elifel!

——System Prompt: You used the Master Level special soldier skill "Brainwash" on your unit Elifel, and your unit Elifel has forgotten "Resurrection Technique" and "Strong Healing Skill"! Your unit Elifel has gained additional growth potential.

At this moment, tears streamed down Da Fei's face!

Oh my! This truly is a transformation! You really dared to wash away all the Resurrection and Healing skills! But luckily, the "Strong Meditation Skill," which is the Wisdom Angel's signature skill, should be a soul-deep skill, and didn't get washed away!

The key issue is, the Bloodthirsty Frenzy didn't get washed away! Damn! The ones that should be washed weren't, and those that shouldn't have been washed were!

Oh well, originally Bloodthirsty Frenzy and Healing Skills were probably conflicting, being able to retain both last time was a miracle, now with no Healing Skills, it's fine. After all, now none of my 17 BOSS-level Angels have Healing Skills. The issue is, with the Power Angel evolving to the extreme, a "Long Weapon" special skill appeared. Elifel, clearly a magic type Angel with no melee special skills, has no use for such a skill, right?

Oh well, it's also a problem faced by the four Power Angels, in any case, without Healing Skills, this blood-sucking skill, even if useless, must become useful.

At this time, Essinger asked: "Lord Warrior, how was the result of the brainwashing?"

Da Fei replied painfully: "Quite satisfactory! Just feels like it wasn't washed enough."

Essinger nodded: "Anyway, that's the method for brainwashing. As long as no attributes are reduced, and potential is increased, it's a perfect brainwash! However, the brainwashing subjects must be extremely intelligent, even the famous Guxin Clan of Demons must pick very smart subjects, so there's nothing more I can teach you, Lord Warrior."

Da Fei's eyebrows jumped: "Guxin Clan?"

Back then, didn't I save those dozens of hybrid Dark Elf beauty slaves and Light Elf slaves from the underground mine outside Radiant City, who were brainwashed by the Guxin Clan? Speaking of which, since raiding that mine, I didn't have time for other adventures, right? Of course, that's not important. What's important is I've never had time to train those slaves I saved! Damn! What a waste! How about I take them all out to sea when I go?

Essinger shook his head: "Guxin is one of the 72 Demon Gods, and their clan holds a very high status in Hell. I haven't had the opportunity to meet them, so I don't understand them well. Now, you can continue to train Miss Elifel, as forgetting two skills gives her a large growth space!"

Da Fei's spirit lifted! That's right, now it's time to get down to business.

Chapter 844: Elifel's Angel Instruction

Da Fei hurriedly asked, "Elifel, how do you feel now?"

Elifel smiled and said, "I feel today is indeed my lucky day. First, my body was transformed by Lord Uriel, and now my knowledge has been reformed. I might just be the luckiest angel!"

Elda sighed softly, "At the same time, you're also the most capable among the younger generation of angels, making me a bit jealous."

Elifel quickly bowed and said, "Thank you, Lord Elda, for the compliment!"

Knowing you're jealous, yet not immediately choosing to follow me? Da Fei couldn't help but chuckle and said, "Even Miss Elda says so. It seems the upcoming study of Master-level Navigation Skill should be no problem, right?"

Elifel solemnly said, "Forgetting those skills that troubled me allows me to devote more energy to studying Master-level Navigation Skill. Please instruct me, my lord!"

Da Fei's eyebrows twitched, understanding that she was ready to learn, but would still face the frustrating failures when attempting to advance to Expert Level! However, turning the impossible into possible is a qualitative leap and significant progress. If I can successfully help her reach Master Level, I'll achieve Grandmaster-level Special Soldier and God-level Navigation Skill. I'm just one step away, so what if I continue to fail here for a few more hours?

With this thought, Da Fei was equally excited and said, "Alright, let's begin!"

"Wait a moment!" Just then, Elda spoke up: "Masters are usually not trained but come from practice. I suggest that since Elifel has become an angel instructor, she should try to successfully train others, thereby indirectly improving herself. This is akin to how a warrior gains improvement by training Elifel."

Masters are not trained? Was that not the same phrase uttered by Tachiusu when she guided my Flower Demon School? Da Fei suddenly realized: "I see, thank you, Miss Elda, for your advice!"

Elifel also bowed and said, "Thank you, Lord Elda, for your guidance. I will start teaching immediately!"

Elda laughed heartily, "Teaching what?"

Elifel was astonished and said, "Of course, Navigation Skill—" At this point, Elifel was momentarily stunned!

Da Fei was also taken aback, "What's the matter?"

Elda smiled and said, "All the veteran team members are already at Advanced Navigation Skill; you cannot teach them. As for the new members, you mentioned they are not yet elites and not ready for Intermediate Navigation Skill, so you won't be able to teach them either!"

Da Fei asked, "What does Miss Elda mean?"

Elda shook her head with a smile, "Of course, teach the warriors the skill you need the most, 'Human Form.' This is a racial skill of the Angel Race, not a hero skill, so it is much easier to teach. Whether or not it succeeds, it is an important way to gain teaching experience for Elifel. Note, instructors are differentiated as ordinary instructors and elite instructors, so what Elifel needs most to upgrade is actually her Instructor Skill."

Da Fei asked, "An elite instructor?"

Elda sighed, "Indeed. An elite instructor needs to nurture many talents above the elite level to be promoted, but most instructors never reach that level. After all, no matter how passionate an instructor is, the student's aptitude and teaching conditions limit the instructor's performance. However, for the warrior, the teaching condition you've created is a cradle for elite leader-level talents. It would be a shame not to seize this opportunity to develop an elite instructor, so I couldn't help but offer a few pointers!"

Learning more! Da Fei nodded repeatedly in surprise and delight, "I see! Thank you, Miss Elda, for your guidance!"

Elda shook her head, "I wasn't obligated to advise you; I was just anxious."

Da Fei chuckled internally, clearly feeling conquered by me!

Essinger also sighed, "That elite instructor defeated by Lord Elda was exactly that. He ascended only through endlessly converting the souls of tens of thousands of warriors who died here, warriors who were undoubtedly the best in the world."

Elda sighed, "Such a pity for those warriors. The Divine Punishment War itself was a foolish war. Well, as there are no gods here, I can say whatever I want."

Essinger chuckled, "Actually, that Grand Marshal Instructor was just one step away from becoming a hero. His death was probably the greatest loss for the Demon Army, so it's easy to imagine the current lockdown they are in."

Elda clapped and laughed, "Oh right! Speaking of heroes, there is a third level for instructors, and that is the Hero Instructor! This type of instructor specializes in cultivating heroes, but the instructor must also be a hero; achieving this realm is probably harder than becoming a god, so let's not even go there."

Da Fei was suddenly startled, a Hero Instructor? Damn! Deirdre's cheap teacher, named Sirel, isn't he a Hero Instructor? Turns out he is such an incredible existence? Indeed, incredible! The very reason why my Elena could advance to God-level Destruction Technique in the Hydra Battle is all thanks to the book of knowledge from Sirel's defeat!"

At this moment, after quietly listening to everyone's discussions, Elifel bowed again, "Thank you, all, for your guidance. Shall I start the teaching now?"

Elda smiled, "Go for it! If one doesn't succeed, then try another!"

Da Fei couldn't help but be excited, "Alright, do your best!"

——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel is teaching the angel racial skill "Human Form" to Power Angel Anvil. Skill teaching failed!

——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel is teaching the skill to Power Angel Lulier... Skill teaching failed!

Now, Elifel begins accumulating teaching experience with her abundant stamina unaffected by the scorching heat. Da Fei, on the other hand, suddenly finds himself with nothing to do.

Da Fei dozed off for half an hour. Then a series of system prompts woke him up:

——System Prompt: You've been sailing in special waters for over 7 days. You and your team heroes gain an extra God-level Navigator experience +330,000, and your team gains extra growth potential!

——System Prompt: Your 8 Power Angel units have grown in harsh navigation, gaining Attack +10, Defense +10, Damage +10, Life +200, Mana +50, Stamina +30, successfully upgraded to elite-level units, acquiring a new special skill: Advanced Flame Resistance.

——System Prompt: Your 20 Blazing Angel units have grown during harsh navigation, gaining Attack +6, Defense +12, Damage +10, Life +200, Mana +50, Stamina +30, successfully upgraded to elite-level units, acquiring a new special skill, Advanced Flame Resistance, Second-level Flame Ammo Pack (extra crystal carry +3)

——System Prompt: Your 3 Wisdom Angel units... successfully upgraded to elite-level units, acquiring a new special skill, Advanced Flame Resistance.

——System Prompt: Your 2 Power Angel units... successfully upgraded to elite-level units, acquiring a new special skill, Advanced Flame Resistance.

Da Fei was so shocked he was completely awake! Elites! All my units are elites, and importantly, the 20 Rocket Cannon Blazing Angels have been trained into elites, and their ammo pack has increased from the initial +5 to an additional +8 units now. This is insanely satisfying! Haha, wahaha!

Just then, Elda laughed heartily, "Elifel, now do you know what to do?"

Elifel enthusiastically said, "Yes, my lord!"

——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel has successfully taught Intermediate Navigation Skill to 1 elite Power Angel unit. Your S-level strategic treasure "Grand Marshal Instructor's Whip Medal" has successfully aided Elifel's teaching.

——System Prompt: Elifel has obtained information on becoming an Elite Instructor.

——System Prompt: You have obtained information on Grandmaster-level Special Soldier Training Technique.

——System Prompt: You have obtained information on God-level Navigation Skill.

——System Prompt: Your 1 elite Power Angel unit has learned the hero skill "Intermediate Navigation Skill," gaining advanced growth, Attack +2, Defense +1, Life +60, Stamina +5.

Oh yes! Successful teaching! My instructor succeeded, which means I can also gain experience; this is the right way to advance!

Elifel rejoiced, "My lord, I succeeded!"

Elda smiled, "Once you have taught all 33 of them, you will know what true success is!"

God-level is right in front of me! Da Fei was so excited he was trembling, "Come on! I have faith in you!" 7 days! I spent 7 days on this bothersome ship; even God's creation of the world didn't take that long. I'm finally about to see the ultimate results, haha, wahaha!

Chapter 845: New Arrivals in Red Name Village

——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel has taught Intermediate Navigation Skill to 1 member of the Elite Blazing Angel Army. Elifel's Intermediate Navigation teaching was successful!

——System Prompt: Elifel has obtained information on Elite Instructors.

Elifel's intermediate teaching smoothly began to expand in batches. Looking at the endless stream of successful system prompts, Da Fei's jaw dropped with laughter.

It's said that if a player is lucky enough to recruit a mutant troop with Instructor Skill in the city, it's a small fortune. If they recruit an instructor of 4th-level soldiers or higher, it's like winning the lottery! Even the instructor troops that are quite valuable on the player market have training success rates that can only be described as painful, with a 1% success rate being considered decent.

However, don't underestimate 1%! Not to mention the enormous base number of low-level troops, just a tycoon Lord player putting 10 archer instructors in their archer barracks and then upgrading the barracks to level 10! The production and quality of the troops would be dazzlingly cool beyond words!

Of course, it's just cool. For cannon fodder-like low-level soldiers, production is still king. The effect of placing 10 instructors in a level-10 barracks is far inferior to 10 level-1 barracks. Precisely because low-level soldier instructors exhibit decent performance, more rare high-level soldier instructors are even more invaluable.

Now there's no doubt Elifel shows her value. Of course, this isn't just her achievement; it's a combined result of Da Fei's Angel Instructor, God-level Navigator, and treasure enhancements. And since Elda knows so much, she might also be a hero with an instructor background, providing a considerable success rate bonus. That's the advantage of a teaching team!

Just as Da Fei was pleased to witness one angel after another advancing and growing, his friend's message sounded, and upon looking, it was Napoleon again! Oh! Receiving a message during my loneliest single-player time, how delightful!

Napoleon solemnly said: "Mr. Da Fei, first of all, I regret hearing about your guild's ordeal, but don't worry. We are your most reliable international friends, so I'm telling you some comforting news: we have acquired the Bone Armor Divine Artifact component you need, Mr. Da Fei. You just need to return to the city. Of course, this is a token of appreciation from our British friends, hoping Mr. Da Fei won't take it amiss."

Da Fei was stunned. My guild's ordeal? What happened to my guild? Damn! Even foreigners know about it; it must be a big deal.

But Da Fei obviously couldn't ask him about such matters, so he hurriedly said: "Thank you so much, friends; I'm currently in a fierce battle, so I'm sorry I can't reply right now!"

Napoleon hurriedly said: "As long as Mr. Da Fei knows, that's enough. I wish Mr. Da Fei success in the battle, won't interrupt any longer, goodbye!"

Da Fei: "BYE!"

After ending the conversation with Napoleon, Da Fei quickly logged into the forum, and sure enough, something big happened! Everywhere he looked, the forum was filled with red bold and hot posts all related to him!

"Royal Blood Sea Skyshattering Three Guilds Failed to Ambush Da Fei Vice Hero Instead Got Wrecked!"

"Royal Blood Sea's 70 Medium Ships Couldn't Beat Da Fei Vice Hero's One Big Ship!"

"No Need for Brother Fei to Act, I'll Annihilate Three Ships and Harvest 31 Dog Heads First! Title Must Be Long and Eye-catching!"

"Blood Sea Guild's Trash! I Destroyed Your Five Ships and Harvested 46 Dog Heads! Title Must Be Long and Eye-catching!"

"Breaking News! Da Fei Dragon Cavalry Commerce's Brother is on a Killing Spree Off the Coast of Elorin, Harvesting Royal Blood Sea Guild Skyshattering Guild's Player Merchants, Achieving a Hundred-Kill Feat!"

"A Sad News, Two Red Name Ships of Da Fei Dragon Cavalry Commerce were Detained by NPC Coast Guard, Without Enough Gold Coins to Pay Ransom, All Sent to Red Name Village!"

Staring at this row of blazing hot posts, Da Fei was shocked and checked each one, only then did he realize so much had happened while he was asleep!

In an instant, Da Fei was filled with emotion and mixed thoughts. In the end, as long as Catherine is fine, that's good. As expected, the daughter of the mysterious mother, having a good ship and good goods! These dog hotshots actually struck behind my back, I can endure it, but my brothers can't! Well beaten! Where to find such loyal and passionate brothers, haha, wahaha! Fun!

However, fun is fun, but the mess still needs to be cleaned up by me, the boss! That's quite troublesome, killing over 100 people and with so many ships involved, it's a mix of murder, robbery, and property damage charges; who's paying all that ransom? Damn!

Right, they didn't attack NPC ships, did they? As long as they didn't attack NPC ships, it's all good, and the guild's reputation won't drop. In the end, it's not that big brother is heartless, it's just there's really no way, you just put up with it in Red Name Village for now; once you're out, I'll find time to take you flying.

As for whether to write something on the forum to respond or encourage, Da Fei thought for a moment and immediately dismissed the idea. What era is it now? Information digital laser era! Back in the day, the head of the Chechen rebels got happy making phone calls, not knowing he was satellite-positioned via his cell phone, and a missile came down and blew him to bits.

I'm such a world-influencing celebrity, just pranked the British again, and although the smog covers me and I'm not worried about their space laser satellite positioning, I still need to guard against them sending 007 Contra SEALs to deal with me secretly, right?

Da Fei shook his head, closed the forum, and checked the time; it was now 10:30 in the morning, and Catherine had reached the borders of the Elf Kingdom, which meant I had to wrap things up here and head back in a few hours.

Wait! As soon as I thought of the French Divine Artifact components, Da Fei suddenly remembered these are to be exchanged with 33 angels! I originally planned to slaughter them for Demon Essence, then return to town and recruit 33 angels to return to them, but where do I have troops to return, having been focused only on training? I couldn't possibly return the troops I've trained to elite status, could I?

Even if it's not fully returning, casually returning a few elites is something I don't want either! This isn't about quantity and value, this is a military secret; if I give them a few samples, with the level of professional player teams, they could easily crack it! Even if one group can't, the entire European Union can break it, right? Then I would lose my edge in advanced superiority!

In that instant, Da Fei remembered Uriel's quest, remembered that crystal mountain site in there. That's definitely a fat sheep! If I could transport the entire crystal mountain back, who knows how much merit that would bring, as long as this deal goes through, plus what I've done at the dock before, giving them a mere 33 ordinary angels would be no pressure!

And more importantly, I already have that passing quest item from Uriel, so the difficulty of defeating the boss is greatly reduced, and Elda's desire for battle is also clear, what reason do I have to hesitate?

Finally, Da Fei made the decision not to hesitate anymore. When the day comes that my divine skills are fully developed, that's when I'll raid the mines and return to the city! So, Da Fei immediately opened the video of the mining area previously scouted by Blood Eagle, and began to ponder the attack plan.

Exile land, a legendary special scene that only extremely red-named players who disobey judge's verdict can reach. Or you could call it the Red Name Village.

This place is a mini international server, gathering red-named players from all over the world, with ferocious monsters rampant and the survival environment extremely harsh. Red-named players cannot trade with each other and must also guard against one another. They must complete monster-hunting and collection tasks released by NPCs in the village to leave this shura field.

Well, that's been introduced earlier.

At this moment, a group of men and women suddenly gathered in the Red Name Village. They are, of course, those carrying the Chinese flag and the emblem of the Dragon Cavalry Chamber of Commerce: Brother Hao, Da Bing, Da Liu, and the monastery beauty players who just joined the guild a day ago.

To everyone, as long as Brother Hao is rewarding, even heaven and hell are reachable, and this trivial Red Name Village is no big deal. Now, everyone has adapted to this desolate ruined village with only one One-Winged Angel NPC, and then everyone's attention was drawn to a few red-named players fishing in the pond outside the village.

Among these red-named players, there was unexpectedly someone bearing the China Region flag, it was Phoenix Feather whom we hadn't seen for a while! And Phoenix Feather coldly glanced over at this new batch of players.

Da Bing hurriedly said, "Brother Hao, that's the Phoenix Feather who was instantly killed by Brother Fei with a fart!"

One Sword Eastward immediately said, "Brother Hao, we have many people here, how about we go deal with him now? I've heard that in the Red Name Village, as long as NPCs don't see it, killing someone is fine."

Brother Hao shook his head, "No rush, I have an idea."

So, under Brother Hao's lead, twenty to thirty people from the Dragon Cavalry Chamber of Commerce marched grandly to the front of the pond.

Several foreign fishing members didn't even turn their heads and coldly said, "Chinese, this is under NPC surveillance, don't do anything stupid."

Brother Hao said indifferently, "Phoenix Feather, forget about the past. Now our guild wants to have some fun with the Royal Family. I'll offer you ten thousand bucks to join our guild. Are you in?"

Phoenix Feather was momentarily stunned, then burst into laughter, "Ten thousand bucks? Are you kidding me? Do you believe that I can instantly wipe you all out with one lightning bolt right now?"

One Sword Eastward coldly said, "Joker! In front of Brother Hao and Brother Fei, being worth ten thousand is an honor for you! With your whole body exploded without even underwear left, who can you instantly kill?"

Phoenix Feather took out a small fish flashing with black light and sneered, "This is a Devil Fish, among dozens caught, there might be one. Eating one in this scene can temporarily add 1 attribute point and 10 health points. I don't even remember how many I've eaten. Do you think I can insta-kill you guys?"

For a moment, the foreign red-named players fishing burst into laughter, while those from the Dragon Cavalry Chamber of Commerce were suddenly startled, and even the Mitsubishi Command Center watching behind Brother Hao and Ono Shinichiro felt a sense of amazement.

Igarashi said in shock, "This Red Name Village actually has such a setup?"

Captain Tsukamoto personally managed Mobility Master and is currently sleeping after staying up all night. Taking his place is 'Gunno Yosai' Tsujiyama: "President, this is a fishing redemption task in the Red Name Village, but this Devil Fish is very likely a hidden task."

Igarashi said in amazement, "Since it's a hidden task, shouldn't this Chinese called Phoenix Feather keep it a secret instead of revealing it?"

Tsujiyama uncertainly replied, "Judging by the situation of several surrounding multi-national players, they all seem to know this task. So, this hidden task might not be completed by just one person, they need to entice more red-named players to complete it together. I think we can have Ono-kun take the opportunity to test this task. Anyway, they are all trash players from Da Fei Guild, not using them is a waste."

Igarashi chuckled, "Makes sense! The current hibernation in the Red Name Village is for greater destruction after leaving, so let them rest here a while."

At this moment, facing Phoenix Feather's provocation, Brother Hao said calmly, "Alright! If you can reach the level of a Vice Hero for Brother Fei, I'll offer twenty thousand bucks for your hire. Are you in?"

Phoenix Feather burst into laughter, then his face sank, "Accompany me in fishing here, then we can talk about anything, otherwise just get out and go cool off!"

One Sword Eastward angrily said, "Blown to death by Brother Fei's fart and still acting arrogant! Have the guts to release lightning!"

Yet Brother Hao laughed heartily, "Interesting, then we'll accompany you fishing!"

Everyone asked in confusion, "Brother Hao?"

Brother Hao smiled faintly, "Time to cultivate and relax, once we're rested enough, we'll go out and fight fiercely with the Royal Family!"

Although everyone didn't understand, they still echoed excitedly, "Yes yes yes, whatever Brother Hao says, we'll do!"

Chapter 846: Lumang Tribe's Teleportation Array Construction

Now, Da Fei has thoroughly inspected the entire cave mine through the video scouted by the Blood Eagle.

The passage he is in is the lava discharge outlet of the mine. Uriel's body should be beneath the lava pool under Crystal Island, suppressed by the Demon Dragon. If it's just one Demon Dragon, Da Fei believes as long as Uriel can hold the line, then his team can swarm in. Even if the Demon Dragon has hundreds of thousands of health, it wouldn't be too big a problem.

The key issue is the densely packed demon soldiers guarding the stone walls around the cave, and their weapons are obviously spears. As soon as his fleet enters the mining area, they would be shot from all directions, and that feeling is quite unpleasant.

How to fight? Should Uriel hold the line, and then the Angel Army clears the weaker soldiers? Under normal circumstances, even players of level seventy or eighty coming here might not have the setup and Divine Artifact attributes that he has. Clearing the weaker soldiers shouldn't be a problem, it's just that there are slightly more of them. However, since he has the Elite Blazing Angel Unit, he's not afraid of a large crowd, so he should target the most densely populated area.

In fact, these issues are not real issues. The key is that he cannot lose soldiers! But after two or three days, it seems the Mount Dragon has grown its wings, so let the Master ride it to attract fire and lead the charge.

Time passed by second by second as Da Fei pondered, and Elifel's training welcomed the 33rd elite trainee.

At this moment, Da Fei was eagerly awaiting to witness the miraculous moment!

—System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel has taught Intermediate Navigation Skills to 1 Elite Authority Angel Unit. Elifel successfully taught Intermediate Navigation Skills! Your S-level strategic treasure "Grand Marshal Instructor's Whip Medal" successfully facilitated Elifel's teaching.

—System Prompt: Elifel gained information on being an Elite Instructor.

—System Prompt: Your 1 Elite Authority Angel Unit has learned the hero skill "Intermediate Navigation Skill," achieved advanced growth, Defense +2, Health +60, Stamina +5.

Uh, nothing happened besides the unit advancement? Da Fei was stunned and looked at Miss Elda, "Miss Elda, what's the next step?"

Elda smiled, "You can ask her questions now."

Da Fei immediately understood and quickly asked, "Elifel, thank you for your hard work. After this round of training, you must have gained profound insight into being an instructor and Navigation Skills, right?"

Elifel rejoiced, "It's not hard work at all, working in this new position as an instructor is very motivating! I did indeed gain significant insights, but—" she frowned, "but I may still be quite a distance from what you require, I will continue to work hard!"

If she says there's still a distance, then there's progress! Da Fei chuckled, "No worries, keep it up, no rush, no rush!"

Elda laughed, "Alright, now that Elifel has gained a lot of teaching experience, she can continue to impart the Angel Race skill 'Human Form' to veteran team members. If she fails, treat it as accumulating teaching experience. Once successful, it will achieve the Warrior's goal, and once successful, the upgraded team members will become smarter, allowing them to challenge Expert Level Navigation Skill on her and further accumulate teaching experience. This forms a virtuous teaching interaction; this is the technique for reasonably arranging an instructor's schedule."

Da Fei nodded repeatedly, "So that's how it is!"

Elda sighed, "In short, imparting skills involves the instructor's abilities, the student's aptitude, and the teaching environment, and you just happen to perfectly fit these three environments. Success is certain, keep up the effort!"

Even the NPC thinks it's inevitable for me, I must succeed! Da Fei couldn't help but get excited, "Thank you, Miss Elda, for your guidance!"

Elifel was invigorated, "Thank you, my lord, for your guidance, Elifel will start immediately!"

Looks like there's nothing for me to do again. That's good, the less I have to do, the more soundly I can sleep. I hope my deputy officer units can handle things on their own in the future, so I don't have to be up all night. Now, I should seize the gap to rest, Da Fei closed his eyes and continued his slumber.

At the Star Guild's command center, the eternally vibrant Eternal Star who hadn't slept all night leaned on the sofa, checked today's latest news. Needless to say, it was all about Da Fei, the European Union Zone, and Da Fei's vice hero underling crushing the Blood Sea Royal Family.

If, at the height of Da Fei's momentum, the Blood Sea Wave and the Royal Family-led revenge action was understandable, then the reckless revenge action by Da Fei's guild underling that ignores the red-name penalty is a bit perplexing to Eternal Star.

Revenge with a red name when there's no personal loss and a significant gain? Even if you want to impress the boss, there's no need to red-name yourself, right? Once you become red-named, what's your use? However, the three parties have a commonality: involvement of tycoons! The conclusion can only be: tycoons are just that willful.

Being willful is great! Eternal Star is happy to see the Blood Sea Royal Family and Da Fei locked in a deadly struggle. Moreover, their three-way conflict must be making Little Huang look bad and struggle to find a good position. Thinking of Little Huang's predicament, Eternal Star couldn't help but laugh.

Just then, a message from Wuhe Xinglong came: "Boss, it showed up! The Flower Demon Hero of the Lumang Tribe appeared in the tavern again!"

The battle's over? There must be good news! Eternal Star was overjoyed, "Live stream the video!"

"Roger that!"

At this moment, the city channel of Farolan was abuzz, "Look, look, last night's Flower Demon Hero has appeared again!"

"Looks like there's no need to argue over which tavern is better, the Dawn Goddess Tavern is the busiest now!"

"Exactly, everyone should aim to become members of the Dawn Goddess' Tavern in the future!"

Now inside the Dawn Goddess Tavern, Tachiusu, who has been here before and is familiar with the place, began posting mission information in the information bar, with Wuhe Xinglong and the entire bar watching.

—Lumang Tribe Mission Announcement: The Lumang Tribe assisted Radiant City in defeating the world-threatening DemiGod-level parasite, significantly accelerating the recovery of the World Tree. They obtained royal permission to build a military teleportation array for the World Tree. Now, the Lumang Tribe recruits Kingdom Warriors for materials to construct a level 1 military teleportation array: "Radiant Dust +1000 units", "Time and Space Shards +100 units", "World Tree Rainbow Essence +100 units", "World Tree Siphon Essence +100 units". Warriors providing materials will gain our tribe's reputation and friendship.

Moreover, once the level 1 military teleportation array is built, we welcome warriors to continue investing in upgrading the teleportation array. Investors will not only continue to gain our Lumang Tribe's reputation and friendship but also share in tribe's dividends.

—Lumang Tribe Chief Tachiusu.

Instantly, the entire bar was amazed, "Trading military teleportation array materials for reputation? Is their tribe's reputation that valuable?"

"It's a tribe that can defeat a Demigod, they must be strong."

"The problem is, didn't they accomplish it with assistance from Radiant City? Radiant City played the larger part, right?"

"Don't forget, Da Fei is not in the country!"

The doubts of the bar-goers were naturally also those of Eternal Star, but Eternal Star thought more extensively. He immediately instructed, "Quickly find her and ask the following questions..."

"Roger that!"

Wuhe Xinglong immediately stepped forward to inquire, "Congratulations, Lady Tachiusu, on your victory. Can you explain what the recovery of the World Tree entails?"

Tachiusu smiled, "Thank you, warriors, for your support of our tribe. The World Tree's issue was not only due to the demon race's pollution from the last Pool of Radiance battle, but also due to parasites hidden deep within the World Tree Space. Now the Pool of Radiance's pollution has been cleared, and the parasites have been eliminated. The World Tree is about to awaken from dormancy, and the Pool of Radiance's barrier will reappear. As for our tribe, of course, we aim to end our isolation and connect with the world, which is why we are building the teleportation array, hoping warriors will continue to support us."

Wuhe Xinglong raised an eyebrow, "So how much help did your tribe receive from Radiant City in this battle?"

Tachiusu smiled, "Radiant City is our tribe's most important ally, they provided us with tremendous support."

Wuhe Xinglong furrowed his brow, "If Radiant City gave you such significant help, why aren't they helping you build the teleportation array, but instead, you, Lady Tachiusu, are openly recruiting Kingdom Warriors?"

Tachiusu shook her head and sighed, "Currently, Radiant City is under threat from a powerful entity whose intentions are unclear. Its presence makes the Kingdom hesitant to continue extending credit to Radiant City, so they lack the funds and permissions to help our tribe. We can only resort to crowdfunding from Kingdom Warriors."

The revelation made all the bar-goers realize, "Ah, so that Leviathan is still hanging around there."

"Looks like Da Fei's life isn't as glamorous as imagined?"

Behind the scenes, Eternal Star was very satisfied with the current intelligence and immediately instructed, "Wulong, rally the bar-goers to support to the end!"

"Roger that!"

Chapter 847: Divine Skill "Human Form

Compared to the high-spirited Eternal Star, Ma Yinglong, who hadn't slept all night, was dejectedly lying on the sofa napping, indifferent even if the sky were to fall.

After all, compared to the total failure on the Hell Race front, at least the Beastman force led by Chang Liang in the Dragon Slayer was advancing rapidly, and the Undead force, which the Dragon Slayer was mainly attacking, had always been steadily developing. Ma Yinglong really had no need to worry endlessly about gains and losses on one front.

But for Lei Huolong, his repeated failures were intolerable. Although various subjective and objective reasons were forgiven by the boss, failure was still failure, caused by his own lack of ability.

Reluctantly, Lei Huolong continued to dispatch team members to recon the Mercury Lake in the opposing space. At this time, the lake shore of Mercury Lake was bustling, with thousands of Demon Children densely stationed beyond the poisonous area of mercury, forming a wall of flesh. Dozens of Tree Spirits were transporting huge facilities, appearing clumsy yet nimble, assembling on the lake shore, obviously constructing a Mercury Factory.

The opponent's factory is ready! By the time we can gather our troops and break out, how many more troops would the opponent have gathered? How much of the resources in this mine would be left? Lei Huolong was deeply worried for a moment.

Just as the reconnaissance team was about to approach for a closer look, the screen flared red, and the scene ahead suddenly blurred and twisted. Needless to say, it was those tavern heroes lurking on the road. As professional players, getting caught in an ambush was not an option, so the reconnaissance action retreated and paused again.

Lei Huolong could no longer bear it and immediately called a team meeting: "We can't just wait anymore! Relying on slowly gathering troops and leveling up here to break out is madness, we must think of a way!"

"But Team Leader, the boss said nothing?"

Lei Huolong angrily said: "By the time the boss says anything, it'll be to call you to clean the toilet, will you go?"

"But Team Leader, our space has already been blocked, even Siriel said there are no other Space Gates."

Lei Huolong shook his head: "This is the matter I've been considering. According to the game's introduction to the World Tree, to absorb various nutrients, the World Tree will invade multiple spaces with its roots, connecting them together, forming different instance map scenes. Since they are connected, there must be entries and exits, it can't have just one Space Gate—we've been so focused on fighting that we forgot to search a more important place!"

Everyone immediately understood: "The Lava Pool where Demigod Crow resides!?"

Lei Huolong punched in the air: "Exactly! The Lava Pool of the Demigod Crow, I suspect there's something mysterious at the bottom of the pool. I'll go explore first, and if there's any discovery, you guys follow me immediately!"

"Understood!"

And so, Lei Huolong first submerged to search the bottom of the Lava Pool, then he was attracted by a surging Melt Cave from which a Flame Stream gushed out—there's a mystery!

Lei Huolong immediately dived into the Melt Cave, and the depth of the cave exceeded his expectations! The deeper it was, the more there seemed to be! Sure enough, there was a faint glimmer at the forefront of the cave. Excited, Lei Huolong accelerated his dive, and indeed saw a shimmering Teleportation Gate!

"Found it!" Lei Huolong exclaimed excitedly!

At that moment, the live broadcast on the large screen wall at the Dragon Slayer Command Center shocked everyone. Even the dozing Ma Yinglong was awakened by the lively atmosphere of the command center, and upon glancing at the large screen, he couldn't help but sit up in shock!

A boiling Blood Sea filled with yellow smoke obscuring sight!

Lei Huolong excitedly shouted: "It's Sulfur Fog! A rich mine of Refined Crystal Sulfur that forms Sulfur Fog, we're in for fortunes!"

Ma Yinglong excitedly said: "Good! A map with monsters guarding it is a good map. Now your team's task is to fully explore this map, figure out the positions of the rich mines and the strength of the monsters!"

Lei Huolong excitedly replied: "Understood! If conditions permit, we'll grind and level up here, the experience must be high!"

Ma Yinglong couldn't help but laugh heartily: "That's the World Tree for you, not interested in ordinary resources, and the resources that catch its eye are rich mines! Well, there are always paths to heaven, I don't believe I can't outplay him even with two maps for development, haha, wahahaha!"

Just as Da Fei was dozily asleep, a melodious system prompt suddenly woke Da Fei up abruptly. Indeed, before sleeping, Da Fei had muted the system failure prompt sounds, and hearing delightful music only meant—— ——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel has successfully taught your Leader Authority Angel Nerxia the skill "Human Form", Elifel's teaching was successfully facilitated by your S-level strategic treasure "Grand Marshal Instructor's Whip Medal".

——System Prompt: Elifel has acquired the knowledge of an Elite Instructor.

——System Prompt: Your Authority Angel Nerxia has learned the Angel Race skill "Human Form", advanced growth acquired, Defense +3, Life +100, Mana +30, Stamina +10.

Looking at this screen full of information, Da Fei was so excited that he was trembling all over, devoid of any sleepiness!

It's a success! Taught it!! Learned it!!! Finally learned to transform into a citizen NPC in Human Form, which means now the Angel Army has completely gotten rid of the cumbersome destiny of not being able to use regular Teleportation Arrays and having to rely on stages for map-crossing transportation! Now I can take them onboard and fly around boastfully through Teleportation Arrays, this is the Divine Skill to dominate the world in one day through global teleportation!

Indeed, for ordinary players, every new town essentially means a fresh start, as a player's troops can't be transported in time from different maps immediately. Either the player breaks the situation with extraordinary personal abilities or purchases troops at a high price locally to complete tasks and gain reputation, and then resell the high-priced troops before leaving, ensuring there's no shortage of buyers.

On Bloodrose's Junxiang's alt, Da Fei last leveled up on the border with a lot of troops purchased by Bloodrose locally. So large guilds always stockpile large numbers of troops in cities with important instances.

But now, none of these troublesome problems will be a problem for Da Fei! For example, the Chimera Forest problem left in the Dwarf Kingdom, maybe the Elite Flower Demon Army transported there is still not enough to solve it, but it doesn't matter. When I return to my country and bring along the Angel BOSS Army to teleport over, I'll take down those Chimeras in no time, hahaha, wahahaha!

At this moment, Elifel happily reported forward: "Sir, I succeeded. I finally met your requirement!"

Da Fei was overjoyed: "Great, with the first one, there will be a second one. It'll just get easier and smoother!"

Elifel excitedly said: "Alright, I'll keep working hard, and I'll ensure everyone is trained well!"

Just then, a strange female voice suddenly echoed: "Seems like it's all your work alone."

Da Fei was jolted: "Who?"

At this moment, the newly promoted Authority Angel, Nerxia, chuckled and said: "Sir, I'm very tired after studying; may I take a break?"

Da Fei's jaw dropped to the ground! Damn, the angel who rarely spoke before now speaks fluently, and it's even noisy! This Divine Skill to transform into NPCs indeed significantly enhances the troop's intelligence! Good! Very good! The smarter, the better, wahahaha!

Da Fei laughed: "It's okay; there's no immediate rowing requirement now anyway!"

Nerxia immediately threw down the oar, laughed, and said: "Sir, you're so nice. Actually, all of us old team members have graduated and can't improve any further by rowing more. The promotion chance should be given to the newcomers. Let them row hard."

Da Fei was stunned: "You graduated and can't improve?"

Elifel frowned and said: "Indeed, they are currently stuck at Advanced Navigation Skill and find it hard to advance further."

Only then did Da Fei realize, yes, Elifel had to risk her life in fire and water to comprehend the Expert Level; expecting other angels to casually break through the advanced level is indeed unrealistic.

Then Elifel smiled proudly: "After all, not every angel is as smart and hardworking as I am."

Da Fei was stunned; this sentence sounded so harsh. Was this something Elifel said?

Nerxia casually shrugged: "Exactly, and that's why Instructor Miss should work harder since she is so capable!"

Then she moved to Elda's table and laughed, "Sir, are you playing chess alone? Can I play with you?"

Elda was taken aback, then laughed heartily: "Sure, we can use the chessboard to play checkers, no problem, right?"

Nerxia beamed: "Alright, Sir!"

At this moment, Da Fei stood there dumbfounded! Hey, hey, hey, what's wrong exactly? Why do I feel a faint, dull ache? As Da Fei looked at Elifel, she appeared sullen!

Damn, I finally understand what's wrong! This damn intelligence boost leads to internal strife, right? Are you kidding me? Isn't the Angel Race supposed to have strict hierarchy? How dare the later students push the instructor? Or maybe, instructors and students are actually equal, and only angels who become officers or heroes are the ones they obey?

No matter, the little Banshees back in the day did tear into each other, but these trivial matters are nothing under my wise and lofty leadership!

Da Fei chuckled: "Elifel, keep up the great work!"

Nerxia also laughed heartily: "Instructor Miss, focus on training Power Angels, don't waste effort on Power Angels; they are the dumbest!"

Pfft! Da Fei spat a mouthful of water! But although it sounds unpleasant, there seems to be some truth?

Elifel angrily said: "Who's the instructor, you or I? Go play elsewhere!"

——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel attempted to teach your Leader Power Angel Luli the skill "Human Form"... Skill transfer failed...

Pfft! Da Fei spat a mouthful of old blood! Are you specifically picking hard challenges to prove a point? This is a tantrum?

Nerxia laughed loudly: "See, that's the result of not listening to advice!"

——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel attempted to teach your Leader Power Angel Meiliya the skill "Human Form"... Skill transfer failed...

Da Fei sprayed blood and urine wildly! Dear Angel Sisters, I beg of you, don't give me a hard time in such trivial matters!

Chapter 848: Transform into Female Demon Form

Now, while Elifel's defeats continue, Nerxia is happily playing chess and drinking with Elda, having a great time. As for Da Fei, he's completely shattered, on the verge of tears.

Indeed, nurturing Angels to this level justifies the system granting them high intelligence and opening up a knowledge database for them, to elevate them to the level of high-tier NPC citizens. But, I'd rather they be clumsy and obedient, instead of giving me a headache!

At this point, there's nothing more to say. This is just a small price to pay for pursuing the high-end. Anyway, the Boss Angels can no longer advance their Sailing Skill, so let's just have them all take a break and focus entirely on learning Human Form. We'll let the 33 elite newcomers who have mastered the Intermediate Navigation Skill continue honing their Sailing Skills.

As Da Fei gave the command for the veteran team members to rest, Nerxia immediately praised: "As expected of the master, you truly understand the essence of training soldiers. It's an honor to follow you!"

Da Fei's eyebrows twitched, feeling as if a refreshing stream surged from his backside all the way to his head, then dispersed instantaneously throughout his entire body! Oh my, this is delightful, no more headaches!

In that instant, Da Fei suddenly realized! I get it! Nerxia is flattering both Elda and me, her special trait is bootlicking! Otherwise, how could she embody the 'Power' in Power Angel? Haha, I love flattery! But right now, Elifel is fuming, isn't she? If I commend Nerxia, wouldn't that dampen Elifel's morale?

Ah, being a leader is tough! Da Fei felt a slight sense of helplessness once more. But why are Nerxia and Elifel not getting along? Is it because she's a European Union Angel, and my Elifel is a Chinese Angel? Wow, this matter must be clarified.

Da Fei then leaned towards the chess table, whispering, "Nerxia, do you have an opinion about Elifel?"

"Opinion?" Nerxia waved her hands anxiously: "Master, do I look like the type to be jealous or mean? I'm just straightforward by nature, and I speak directly, that's all. Can you think of anything wrong I've said?"

Da Fei suddenly understood! Indeed, it seems there's nothing wrong with her words, especially when she said I truly grasp the essence of training soldiers, which is undeniably true. This isn't just flattery, it's stating a fact!

For a moment, Da Fei was filled with guilt and shame: "Nerxia, you truly are an upright and good Angel!"

Nerxia chuckled: "Master is also a wise and capable Commander!"

Da Fei nodded excitedly: "Nerxia, try not to be so direct in the future, you're making me embarrassed."

Nerxia shook her head and sighed: "There's no avoiding it; many people feel embarrassed because I'm too straightforward."

—"Hmph!" At the sound of a cold snort, Da Fei's heart leapt, he quickly glanced at Elifel, who was patting a Power Angel on the shoulder, then calmly said, "Anvil, Nerxia says Power Angels are all fools!"

Da Fei's jaw dropped instantly, oh my! Is this a provocation?

Anvil suddenly spoke up: "I won't argue with young people, both masters are watching, please, Instructor Elifel, teach patiently!"

Da Fei was stunned on the spot! Oh lord, who is this mature and composed Anvil! Wasn't she the same Boss-level Angel who could only recite her name and issue simple commands, just like any regular troop?

Wait a minute! She hasn't even learned advanced skills, how did she become so smart? Could this be another triggered scene event? Yes, it must be a triggered scene! At that moment, Da Fei sensed something big was about to happen!

Elifel nodded: "Then please, Miss Anvil, be prepared, we must give some people a vivid demonstration!"

Just then, Elda pushed aside the chessboard and stood up with a laugh: "I have a very interesting suggestion, would you like to hear it?"

Da Fei's eyebrows twitched, the show is indeed about to start! I'm front row, with snacks ready, watching all of you perform!

Elifel and Anvil said in unison: "Please instruct us, Lord Elda!"

Elda pulled out a bottle of Blood Wine, saying lightly: "Do you both remember the taste of this wine?"

The two frowned: "Unforgettable!"

Da Fei couldn't help but interject: "Intense and violent!"

Elda nodded solemnly: "Good, actually, I think Anvil is not suited to learn Human Form. Of course, it's not that Anvil isn't smart, it's Anvil's state. Anvil's body has been polluted by Blood Wine, so when transforming into human form, these impurities interfere with her angelic nature's humanization, making it difficult for her to master Human Form."

Elifel exclaimed: "But I've also been polluted, and so has Nerxia. How come we can learn it?"

Elda coughed softly: "Well..."

Nerxia chuckled: "Sorry for being blunt, but Power Angels are fools, they can't learn under the same conditions!"

Ah splat! Da Fei spat out a mouthful of blood!

Anvil said coldly: "Smart people should refrain from doing things that invite a beating!"

Ah splat! Da Fei spat out blood again! Meanwhile, Nerxia was so frightened she shrank behind Elda. Wow, she does know fear!

Elda clapped her hands and laughed: "Alright, after this time spent sampling the wine, I've developed a brand new transformation skill that perfectly aligns with this wine's nature, perfectly suited for Anvil. Do you want to try it? Warriors, would you like to try it?"

The two immediately replied: "Please instruct us, Lord!"

With that said, the three of them turned their gaze unanimously towards Da Fei.

Da Fei was suddenly taken aback! Oh my, Elda quietly eating, drinking, sleeping was really about skill research? Turns out I'm not purely a spectator, the decision-making power of the plot's direction is still in my hands? There's no reason to refuse such a thing!

Da Fei exclaimed with excitement: "Of course! As long as it benefits the growth of the troops, I fully support it!"

Elda laughed heartily: "Good! I've named this skill 'Transform into Female Demon Form'. First of all, whether it's instructors or trainees, everyone is deeply impressed by the drunk vision of the female demon, so transforming into one provides a ready-made template, reducing difficulty in shaping. And everyone is polluted by the Blood Wine, transforming into a female demon makes the body filled with Demon Nature, giving a very high chance of skill success!"

Angels could transform into female demons? This truly is a groundbreaking creation!

Da Fei hurriedly asked: "Then why not call it the female Banshee Form?"

Elda shook her head and laughed: "Banshees are too alluring and seductive, making transformation highly difficult. As for female demons, hehe, how are they different from female beastmen? So, Power Angels don't need to focus on appearance. Moreover, the strength of my skill is in fully disguising as a Demon, infiltrating the enemy's Crystal Mine, you understand what I mean?"

Da Fei was greatly shaken! Turns out she is so farsighted, this is truly a Divine Skill for deep infiltration!

Chapter 849: The Final Battle of Day 7

What is a Banshee? A bewitching, sexy, soul-captivating existence whose enchanting power cannot be resisted even by female troops, and is a strategic mainstay fourth-level troop of the Hell Race.

What is a female Demon? A female Demon. This concept is rather broad. From Elda's words, it seems a female Demon may not be much different from a female beastman, which leaves Da Fei a bit conflicted. But it doesn't matter; at my level, it's all about inner quality!

Now, Elda's new skill lesson officially begins.

She pulls out two bottles of liquor with a chuckle: "To create a good teaching environment, you should drink first. Alife, as the instructor, should keep a clear mind, so only drink one bottle. However, this skill is actually a simplified version of 'Human Form,' having already learned Human Form, there's no reason Alife shouldn't. The main focus is on Anvil; Anvil will drink one bottle first, and if the teaching doesn't go well, then drink the second bottle until drunk, and in the drunken state, attempt to comprehend the skill!"

"Yes, Master Elda!" The two took their bottles and drank them up in one gulp.

Elda tasted the liquor and then casually asked, "In your eyes, what kind of creature is a female Demon?"

The two spoke in unison, "Ugly, evil, brutal!"

Da Fei raised an eyebrow, you missed mentioning 'silver shoes'! However, I can totally accept beautiful Banshees having silver shoes, but ugly female Demons are simply intolerable, so it's fine if you missed it.

Elda seriously stated, "Very good! The uglier something is, the easier it is to transform, so you shouldn't care about their physique and appearance anyway; no one cares about the appearance of female Demons. You just need to comprehend their savage essence, are you ready?"

The two responded seriously, "Ready."

Elda waved her hand: "Transform!"

In an instant, a thick blood mist surrounded Alife and Anvil, their figures quickly blurred in the blood mist, then a tall, sturdy, medium-sized humanoid figure emerged from the mist!

Oh no! At this moment, Da Fei immediately felt something was wrong! Even though he suspected the female Demons wouldn't be pretty, as long as they reached the level of female beastmen, Da Fei could tolerate it; appreciating the wild, muscular beauty is a preference some Beastman Race players have anyway.

But what's up with this giant gasoline barrel? As confusion reigned, a slew of system prompts spanned the screen:

——System Prompt: Your team hero Elda successfully taught your army's Wisdom Angel Alife and Power Angel Anvil the transitional human form skill "female Demon form." Your S-grade strategic treasure "Grand Marshal Instructor's Whip Medal" has successfully enhanced Alife's teaching.

——System Prompt: Your Wisdom Angel Alife learned a new skill "female Demon form," gaining elite instructor insights.

——System Prompt: Your Power Angel Anvil learned a new skill "female Demon form," acquired advanced growth: Attack +10, Damage +10, Health +300, Stamina +30, gained item space +1.

Oh my! Success! Anvil's advanced attributes are astonishing, yet I can't seem to feel happy?

Elda laughed heartily: "Success!"

The blood mist dispersed, revealing two female Demons with crimson skin, full of flab, disheveled hair with drooling mouths appearing suddenly! At this instant, Da Fei recalled the two female ogres from the bathhouse in the underground mine of the Pool of Radiance! A wave of nausea came over him.

At the same time, a pair of relatively small bat wings popped out from behind these two fleshy barrels—ah blcgh! Da Fei couldn't hold back and spat out a mouthful of sour liquid!

Elda continued to laugh, "Very well, I didn't waste my time personally instructing you; now let's see Alife's part!"

Alife rasped hoarsely, "Thank you, Master, for your teaching!"

Da Fei cleared his throat and asked cautiously, "Uh, let me ask, can you fly?"

"We can!" After saying this, the two lumps of red flesh flapped their small wings, soaring up, darting around the cave with undiminished agility like two giant, fat flies—baaah!!! Da Fei couldn't help but spit another mouthful of sour liquid again.

Elda laughed and said, "Warrior, although their appearance is extremely ugly, their inner selves are little golden-haired angels loved by everyone, and the benefit of this appearance is that it doesn't affect their combat power as angels. It's very suitable for disguise and sneaking into enemy territory for operations. Moreover, this is just a transitional skill; once they get smarter, they'll naturally learn the official human form..."

Da Fei kept nodding, "Got it—ugh~~!!! Let me throw up a bit first, vomit away until I get used to it..."

——System Prompt: Your Angel Instructor Elifel has taught your Leader Power Angel Luli the transitional human form skill "Female Demon Form", and Elifel successfully imparted the "Female Demon Form" skill.

——System Prompt: Your Power Angel Luli has learned a new skill "Female Demon Form," resulting in advanced growth, Attack +5, Life +200, Stamina +20, and obtained item space +1.

Now, with Elda's guidance, Elifel's "transitional human form" teaching is proceeding smoothly and en masse; indeed, it's easier said than done to turn ghosts into humans.

And looking at the ship full of humanoid demon beasts, Da Fei's mindset gradually calmed down. After all, undead expert players constantly hang out with zombie flesh demons, so this level is nothing. As long as I can transform into an NPC and solve the teleportation array issue, I will have achieved a major victory.

And the attributes and intelligence gained after these angels' advancement haven't reached Anvil's level, showing that Anvil, as the trigger scenario's angel, is a standout among these Power Angels. Or broadly speaking, Nerxia, the first angel to comprehend the skill, is also a leader among the Power Angels. So, the system, as a reward, likely invests its intelligence resources mainly on these standouts; other angels won't reach their level of cleverness.

That's fine too, if the troops are too clever, it'd be hard for me to handle, and the system would struggle too.

Time ticked away during training, and by noon at 12 PM, as the last system prompts scrolled out, all 17 Leader Angels had learned the Female Demon Form. Da Fei's wish was finally fulfilled, and the weight in his heart was lifted.

And at this moment, Elda clapped his hands and stood up suddenly, "Well done, warrior! Now all the veteran members are disguised as female demons, and the enemy doesn't seem to have increased their vigilance; this is the best time to infiltrate enemy territory. Have you, warrior, decided to launch the attack?"

Da Fei was astonished, "Now? Um, I still have training goals unfinished, and this day is about to end. Wouldn't it be better to attack tomorrow after all the team members grow again?"

Elda sighed, "The current environment doesn't offer much value for training the troops anymore, and idly passing today won't improve much. Also, we've been on the march for 7 days; for me or perhaps for angels, 7 is a lucky number since God created the world in 7 days, so mortals use 7 as a weekly cycle. Tomorrow is the start of a new week; I can't guarantee the luck will last, but we've been going smoothly for a week, and I can't promise tomorrow will be as smooth. So, I wish to act while the luck of this week is still on."

Da Fei was taken aback, "You... do you believe in fortune-telling? Since we redeemed the Fallen Angel from the Lava Blood Lake, hasn't it been longer than a week that we've been on missions together? When did you start counting this week?"

Elda sighed, "I started counting after I used the divine art Tarot cards to wipe out the lurker legion at the dock! I performed a destiny divination with the Destiny Card, securing absolute luck for a short time during that battle, then faced at least a month's uncertain fortune, usually bad luck, which for a warrior, encountering bad luck even once means death."

Oh my god! Isn't this just like the Destiny Coin? Da Fei was mind-blown, "But, haven't you been okay this week?"

Elda couldn't help but praise, "Warrior, do you know why I'm willing to join you in this action? Because from the first day I met you, I realized you have God-level Luck, which is unimaginable for mortals. Since you have God-level Luck to avoid bad luck, I dared to use the Destiny Tarot Card!"

Da Fei suddenly understood, so it's my innate extraordinary ability at the end of the day, you can't do without me, and considering what's been said, is this a confession? Haha, wahaha!

Wait, Da Fei recalled something, "But didn't you venture independently to save a friend in the middle? Wasn't it unaffected?"

Elda shook his head, "That's because my warrior friend also has skills and equipment adding luck, just not to your extent; that's why I refused to go on missions with him many times. Otherwise, when I'm unlucky, he'd be unlucky too!"

So that's it! So, that's why I could snatch a beauty away from professional players across the region, haha! A huge sense of superiority arose.

But Da Fei immediately remembered something again and quickly asked, "But if you infiltrate enemy territory, isn't it also an independent expedition? Wouldn't you be out of luck without me by your side?"

Elda pulled out a poker card casually, "Like I said, 7 is the angels' lucky day; if nothing happens today, nothing will happen! If it were an ordinary day, even if you begged me, I wouldn't join the battle."

I've got it! With all this said, why would I hesitate anymore? Don't mention the odds of winning this battle are significant; even if the angel army I trained is obliterated, as long as Elda stays with me, I have Elifel trained, and I fear no setbacks!

Da Fei made a resolute decision, "Very well, then let's conclude today's training with a fierce battle as a perfect ending!"

Chapter 850: The Mysterious Elda

With the operation imminent, Da Fei took out the mission ring and called out, "Lord Uriel!"

The ring flashed with light and immediately responded, "Warrior, have you decided to attack?"

Da Fei nodded, "Yes, Lord Uriel, you have stayed here for ten thousand years and should know the enemy well. Is there anything to watch out for?"

The ring said gloomily, "What you need to watch out for is saving yourself! As soon as your ship enters the mine hall, summon me immediately. Only the lava there has the energy to reshape my body, and you must not be knocked down, or I'll disappear."

Damn, why are you so demanding? Da Fei nodded, "Understood!"

Elda downed a bottle of wine in one go, "Then I'll start the action! When the warrior thinks the time is right, you can support me!" As she spoke, a dark smoke mixed with red mist enveloped Elda, and a tall demon knight clad in Blood Armor and wearing a Blood Helmet appeared in front of Da Fei!

Da Fei was shocked and his skin twitched, "Who is this?"

The "Demon Knight" immediately took out a shimmering red medal and pressed it in front of Da Fei's eyes, growling, "Who am I?"

Essinger exclaimed, "Isn't this the Grand Marshal Instructor Hassim? My lord even has his medal and armor!"

The "Demon Knight" said in a muffled voice, "Is it strange to have the spoils of a loser? Do I look convincing?"

Essinger, in a state of shock, nodded repeatedly, "Make your voice deeper! Speak more slowly!"

Elda lowered her voice again, "Actually, I am an actor!"

Essinger clapped excitedly, "As expected of my lord, it's too convincing!"

Then a snotty female Demon spoke excitedly, "My lord, you are amazing!"

Da Fei was even more astounded! Damn, no wonder she likes independent expeditions so much, it's a great way to pocket equipment! But that's not the main point!

Da Fei was even more shocked, "Miss Elda, how is your Transformation Skill different from that of a high-level Demoness?"

Elda laughed roughly, "Of course, it's more advanced than a Demoness! Warrior, be careful not to accidentally hurt our allies later!"

—System Prompt: Your team hero Elda leads 13 Leader-level Power Angels, 1 Leader Wisdom Angel, and 4 Leader Authority Angels on an independent expedition. Elda's team has entered disguise mode, and you and Elda's team have become hostile. Please be careful not to accidentally hurt our allies.

Damn, Da Fei was again shocked speechless! No wonder she said she could infiltrate; it turns out she's not just transforming into a female Demon, she has a god-level ultimate skill! What kind of skill could achieve this effect?

Elda laughed heartily, "Well then, I'm off!"

Essinger immediately said, "My lord, my Mount Dragon has recovered, please take me with you! Although I can't participate in your infiltration action, I can cause chaos on the periphery just in case."

Elda frowned, "This—"

Essinger hurriedly said, "A Heroic Spirit captured by the enemy, even if I return, I can't wash away the shame. I hope I can return gloriously, even if I die in battle it's worth it!"

Hey, hey! You're the head that gets me promoted, you can't take risks!

"Well said!" At this moment, the ring in Da Fei's hand spoke, "If you have the means, you can enter the workshop energy control hub directly from the third-floor hallway entrance. If you destroy it there, the enemy won't be able to send reinforcements over, making our victory easier!"

Da Fei was surprised, "Turns out there's a strategy after all?"

The ring said gloomily, "Of course, to most people, it's like saying nothing, but this hero can."

Elda laughed heartily, "Alright, now I have more confidence. Essinger, you must survive!"

"I won't die that easily!" Essinger whistled sharply and mounted his dragon.

Then Elda led the entire group into the sky and disappeared into the mist.

Da Fei had nothing to say, summoning the Blood Eagle to follow while commanding the new team members to row to the hall.

Just then, the ring in Da Fei's hand suddenly spoke, "Warrior, don't you want to know how her Transformation Skill differs from a Demoness's Transformation Skill?"

Da Fei was startled, then nodded repeatedly, "Please enlighten me, Lord?"

The ring said solemnly, "The first Demoness in the world was an angel named Lilith during the Creation period. She was also the first wife God gave to the Son of God, Adam. But Lilith refused to be with Adam, born from the dust, considering it an insult, and chose to fall into the mortal world to be with beasts and devils, thus degenerating into a Demoness, joining the Hell Camp."

Lilith! A name as loud as thunder, cited and referenced by countless works! Legend has it that recorded on the Dead Sea Scrolls, after her fall, she had an astonishing breeding ability, able to give birth to one hundred Demon Race offspring every day, and angels sent by God slaughtered one hundred of her offspring every day. After negotiation with God, a lineage called "Lilim" was left behind, known as the top form of the Demoness species in legend.

Da Fei couldn't help but be amazed, "You're saying that angels and Demonesses are the same species?"

The ring angrily retorted, "Idiot! It's the angel family of Lilith left in the Divine Realm and Demonesses that are essentially the same species! Luckily, we're in Hell, where no one hears your nonsense, or in Divine Punishment City, you'd be hacked to death by angels in a few streets!"

Da Fei's heart tightened as he was suddenly enlightened, "You're saying that Elda is a descendant of the Lilith family?"

The ring spoke solemnly, "That's what you said yourself. Anyway, this is all I can tell you, don't mention Lilith's name to anyone, especially not angels in the Divine Realm, or they'll accuse you of ear molestation!"

Da Fei shivered, "Understood!"

—System Prompt: You have obtained information about Lilith.

At this moment, Da Fei's heart was tumultuous! The female bartender, gambling addict, alcoholic, all sorts of "bad habits" unrelated to angels are concentrated in Elda, along with Uriel's hints, basically confirming Elda's origins. As for her One-Winged Angel identity, it's undoubtedly due to her background that she is inevitably ostracized and discriminated against, no matter how hard she tries, it is difficult for her to get recognition!

Finally, I understand her! But don't worry, I'll take you back to the China Region, I'll have you recognize a god-sister in Deirdre, and let you feel the warmth of family!

As Da Fei was deep in thought, suddenly, the Blood Eagle's vision brightened. Elda burst out from the tunnel entrance as a large scolding voice echoed from the mountain wall, "Who! What person!"

Da Fei's heart tightened, it's starting!

Only to hear Elda shout angrily, "I am Grand Marshal Instructor Hassim! I was betrayed by the traitor Essinger! Quick, take me to the central control room, Essinger has found Uriel's Soul Stone in your sewers and has infiltrated here!"

Da Fei's jaw dropped to the ground!

At this time, Elda's troop had landed on the hallway of the mountain wall's gate. A large group of Demon Soldiers surrounded Elda from all sides, and a Demon Soldier who seemed like the leader shouted angrily, "We received a lockdown order that Hassim is already dead! Moreover, this is a mine, not a place Hassim can come!"

"Hassim" pulled out a Token and shouted in fury, "I'm not dead! I want to kill the traitor Essinger myself! He is a Heroic Spirit from the Divine Realm latent in our midst, given that he obtained Uriel's Soul Stone, he can disguise as you fools. Only I can recognize him!"

With that, they slipped past and punched the leader in front of them!

In that moment, Da Fei was almost blown away! Even though he didn't know what divine skill allowed her to disguise like this, daring to actively attack while disguised under normal circumstances would ruin the disguise!

Elda's disguise certainly wasn't destroyed as "he" pushed through the crowd in a roar, "Idiots, whoever blocks me, I'll kill them!"

The Demon Soldiers swarmed in shouting, "Capture him, only the site manager has the authority to enter!"

At this moment, a Fireball whooshed out from the passage and exploded, as a Sky Cavalry whooshed in from the entrance, "I'm here! Idiots!"

It was Essinger, supporting from the outside!

"There's an intruder!" The entire scene immediately erupted, and Da Fei was even more shocked to the core!

"Hassim" seized the moment to push through the crowd towards the central passage's gate and roared, "Idiots, don't mind it, that's the traitor's bait! Someone come with me to the central control room!"

In the midst of this chaos, there were even Demon Soldiers who followed Elda and charged in! Infiltration success!

But Da Fei had no time to be happy! At this moment, with his vision blurred, the only thing Da Fei could do was to try to find a way to cover Essinger alive with the Blood Eagle!
