Chapter 212: Stellar Rank Summoned Units

A strong figure from the Tassidy Temple turned to Rechel and said, "Prince, perhaps you could issue an imperial decree, attempting to persuade the Brotherhood of the Old Gods, Sunlit Chapel, Skyeeye Guild, and Grand Duke Sentino. Promise them a share of the benefits and ask them to cooperate with our actions."

"They are likely hoping that the Pood Empire can hold the Crossbridge Empire's foundation in the western territories and create opportunities for them. We should simply go with the flow."

"At that point, these two hundred provinces can easily become part of the Pood Empire's territory. With you and me stationed here, we'll have no fear of the dying Empire's counterattack."

...

Aurek had killed the two old men from Crimson Hills using the power of the stellar rank calamity.

To defeat the four Stellar rank warriors from Blade City, he had relied on the combined efforts of several Stellar rank elders.

These elders had already overcome their stellar rank calamity and were not afraid of Aurek personally. The few Stellar rank elders who had defected were also hoping to survive the calamity and did not dare use their full strength.

While they might not have been able to defeat Aurek, they were enough to create a deterrent.

If Aurek really fought recklessly at all costs, Pood Empire could simply send more Stellar rank experts for support. As for sage rank... the Pood Empire was not without them!

Moreover, the situation at places like Skyeeye Guild and Sunlit Chapel was also delicate, and they too were eager to bring down the Crossbridge Empire. Everyone was cooperating for mutual benefit.

Rechel naturally understood this calculation. The other strong figures also understood the meaning and nodded in agreement.

"That being said, let's focus on taking the first twenty provinces first."

After a moment of thought, Rechel suddenly changed his mind.

"No, let's take ten more! Let's secure thirty provinces before we make any further moves."

"Even if the situation doesn't develop as we planned, these thirty provinces will certainly belong to the Pood Empire."

"Move immediately. Once Aurek reacts, it will be difficult to seize such a good opportunity again."

...

The grandmaster rank experts immediately received their orders and flew toward their designated provinces to crush any resistance with overwhelming force.

The Pood Empire's legions also began their large-scale advance.

Rechel and the Stellar rank experts from the Tassidy Temple followed closely behind, entering key provinces to ensure control in case of any unforeseen issues.

In the capital of Red Maple Province, Pippin furrowed his brows.

"Hmph! The Pood Empire's greed is truly limitless!"

"With our current strength, we can't resist the Pood Empire's pawns. This matter must be reported to His Majesty immediately."

Even when pacifying the western territories, Pippin had anticipated that the Pood Empire would seize some border provinces during the chaos. However, he hadn't expected their greed to be so outrageous! They had shown no intention of stopping, even deploying their peak Stellar rank forces to invade.

They were advancing relentlessly, showing signs of wanting to annex the entire western region of the Empire!

This made him furious!

...

Deep within Valoria Palace, Aurek activated powerful spatial restrictions, sealing the core areas completely to ensure that no mind power or psychic abilities could probe into this space.

He began upgrading his summoned units.

With 25.8 billion Emperor Points, the resources were plentiful.

Upgrading all summoned units' powers to level 8 required a total of 1.43 billion Emperor Points.

To upgrade the void warlock power to level 9 required 1.3 billion points.

Doomsday Warrior needed 800 million.

Elemental assassin needed 800 million.

Mountain Shieldbearer required 750 million.

Life Sorcerer needed less, at 650 million.

The point requirements grew increasingly larger, causing Aurek to frown slightly. If upgrading to level 10 required such a terrifying astronomical number, it would take a significant portion of his points!

With his current point reserves and considering his own strength and the cost of breeding units, he could only upgrade two or three units to level 9.

[Points for upgrading summoned units are sufficient, would you like to upgrade?]

[Yes] [No]

After weighing the options, Aurek made his decision.

He prioritized upgrading the void warlock and Doomsday Warrior.

The void warlock had unparalleled strategic value, while the Doomsday Warrior was the sharpest spear of the legion.

[Void Warlock power upgraded to level 9. Can breed 3200 Void Warlocks daily.]

[Points needed for next upgrade: 20 billion.]

[Unlocking legion skill: Void Singularity.]

[Note: Level 9 Void Warlocks' Transdimensional Leap radius greatly increased.]

...

[Elemental Assassin power upgraded to level 8. Can breed 1600 Elemental Assassins daily.]

[Points needed for next upgrade: 6 billion.]

...

[Life Sorcerer power upgraded to level 8. Can breed 1600 Life Sorcerers daily.]

...

[Mountain Shieldbearer power upgraded to level 8. Can breed 1600 Mountain Shieldbearers daily.]

[Note: Level 8 Mountain Shieldbearers can generate 8000 layers of Holy Light Shields.]

[Points needed for next upgrade: 7.5 billion.]

...

[Doomsday Warrior power upgraded to level 9. Can breed 3200 Doomsday Warriors daily.]

[Points needed for next upgrade: 210 billion.]

[Unlocking legion skill: Celestial Doom Judgment.]

[Note: Level 9 summoned units have a base power comparable to Stellar rank level 3. If promoted to Stellar rank level 6, they must pass the stellar rank calamity; if promoted to sage rank, they must pass the sage rank trial. Failure will result in the death of the summoned unit.]

[Additional reward: Royal Grace.]

...

Upgrade complete.

Aurek silently calmed the surging waves within his heart.

Despite the exponential increase in points needed, he now had the ability to breed 6400 Stellar rank units and 4800 Grandmaster rank units daily!

Such overwhelming power was truly astonishing! Even Aurek himself could hardly contain his excitement.

The once-distant dream of unifying the entire Eura continent was now becoming a tangible reality.

Aurek no longer tried to suppress his emotions. The increase in the King's power meant the summoned units' strength had reached a new height. The newly unlocked skills represented a deeper application of the powers of attributes.

Void Singularity was the ultimate destruction phenomenon formed by the collapse of spatial structures. Its terrifying pulling force and spatial tearing effect could resonate with the laws of the planes, making it incredibly powerful.

Celestial Doom Judgment simulated the destructive force of a falling star, transforming into a divine strike similar to celestial punishment. It utilized the laws close to the world's origins!

Unlocking these two skills was the result of upgrading summoned units to level 9.

Once Aurek's own level increased, he would also be able to use Void Singularity!

The remaining points would be enough to elevate him to Stellar rank, something he had anticipated.

However, absorbing such enormous energy would take time. Breeding tens of thousands of summoned units daily also created an uninterrupted environment for his advancement.

"Royal Grace!"

Aurek's attention shifted to the additional reward. He paid special attention to this skill!
