

Gods Daily 234

Chapter 234: The Fearless Imperial Warriors

"These guys are too bizarre, we need to leave!"

"Don't these Stellar Rank people value their lives? Why are they fighting us like they're throwing away their lives?"

The Abyss Chorister and other Divine Envoys were terrified by the scene, desperately trying to flee without a second thought.

Although their ranks far surpassed the summoned soldiers, they had concerns when taking action. But facing Imperial soldiers who fought as if they were willing to die to bite them—it was too much to handle.

Even ants can kill an elephant if there are enough of them!

"Trying to escape?"

All the Imperial soldiers surged forward.

The Void Warlocks cast Void Singularity, paying any price to slow down their escape!

One by one, the Doomsday Warriors launched into the air, starting to prepare their ultimate strikes.

They all combined their powers to cast Celestial Doom Judgment.

In an instant, the heavens seemed to tear apart!

Stars from outer space sensed the summoning and released beams of starry light, filled with destructive energy, that crossed the space and gathered together.

Several small stars, forcefully drawn, tore open rifts in space, dragging terrifying flames as they fell toward the gorge.

"Damn, what is that?!"

"Look! It's... meteors falling!"

Those who hadn't yet fled in the outer areas stopped in their tracks and looked up at the sky, their eyes filled with fear.

Stars wrapped in flames streaked across the sky, falling toward the gorge with the power to destroy everything in their path...

Boom!

Boom boom—

The Godfall Gorge, and even the surrounding areas, violently shook.

The molten lava beneath the gorge was sent flying into the sky by the tremendous shock, turning the sky a dark red...

Saint Martin cleaved through the space barrier in front of him with a single slash, charging out from the hellish Godfall Gorge.

After spitting a mouthful of blood, he fled in a panic without looking back.

The Abyss Chorister emerged, clutching the severed remains of his shoulder.

Richard IX also tore through space and escaped, but half of his head was gone, leaving him in a pitiful state.

"Gods above!"

"Get out of this damned place!"

When the Divine Envoy Rank figures were in such miserable conditions, those who were still watching from the outside quickly fled.

These were beings that surpassed Sage Rank Level 9, the strongest of the strong!

If their heads were almost blown off, how intense must the battle inside have been?

What kind of monsters were these Imperial soldiers?

Harry, surrounded by nine buzzing Demon Slayer Daggers, chased after them, bloodlust in his eyes as he searched for the ones who had escaped.

Lucy scanned the area and eventually stopped at the edge of the gorge.

Her long hair was disheveled, and her robe had been torn in multiple places, revealing deep wounds that exposed bone.

One by one, Imperial soldiers also charged out, their armor mostly shattered, nearly two-thirds of it lost.

Not finding any trace of the Abyss Chorister or others, they stopped wasting time.

Sword Veil Apostle, Scarlet Lord Edward, the Four Elemental Lords, the Original Sage Rank, Curtain Weaver, and other powerful figures who once shook the Eastern Region were now forever trapped in the Godfall Gorge.

"No need to chase."

Lucy said, panting heavily, her voice full of exhaustion.

A single Celestial Doom Judgment strike, combined with the numerous Void Singularities, had directly claimed the lives of several Sage Rank warriors.

Even Edward, a Divine Envoy Rank powerhouse, couldn't escape and fell in the process.

But the Imperial legion had also paid a heavy price, with nearly 20,000 soldiers lost.

Focusing on killing one or two Divine Envoys might have been easier, but Richard IX, Abyss Chorister, Edward, Saint Martin, Original Sage Rank, and Curtain Weaver were all Divine Envoys.

Although Sword Veil Apostle didn't reach that rank, he was at the peak of Sage Rank!

These individuals were not ordinary, and they wielded powerful sacred artifacts.

If it had been a regular Stellar Rank army, the tens of thousands of soldiers would have been insufficient to stop them.

Harry stopped.

He looked at the battered Imperial Legion and then turned to the injured Lucy.

He waved, signaling the Void Warlocks to activate Transdimensional Leap and prepare to retreat.

Deep within the Godfall Gorge.

The remains of several small stars, drawn from the outer reaches, fell at the edge of the Space-Time Magic Realm.

"These young people really don't know how to restrain their power. They've shattered the environmental laws here, and now we'll have to work hard to repair it."

At the deepest part of the gorge, an elderly figure in a simple linen robe stood in front of an ordinary grass hut.

Beside him were seven other elderly figures, also dressed in simple attire, all with white hair.

Their gazes pierced through space, observing the situation outside the Space-Time Magic Realm.

"A group of young people fighting and they've even triggered the remains of outer stars."

The elderly figure, surprised, immediately asked,

"Is there any issue with the gate?"

"No abnormal fluctuations yet."

One of the white-haired elders responded.

"That's good."

The elderly figure in the linen robe sighed in relief.

"The unrest within the gate is growing more frequent. I suspect something is about to happen on the Eura Continent."

Another white-haired elder reminded him.

The linen-clad elder sighed bitterly.

"There are too many traitors. One from the Ordon Theocracy, and another from the Skyborne Church. Something like this was bound to happen sooner or later."

"I wonder how that kid Aurek is doing? It seems one of his bloodline descendants has become someone remarkable, with methods that are quite mysterious."

Eryndor City

With the Empire's rapid expansion, Aurek once again gathered several Imperial seals.

For now, he granted William, Heimerdinger, Gaia, Cole, Harland, and other high-ranking officials the title of Domain Protectors of the first rank.

Once the Empire grew stronger and his rank further increased, he would make more comprehensive titles.

William and Heimerdinger were specifically authorized to wield 80% of the Empire's willpower!

After dealing with the urgent border issues, he focused on comprehending the half-scroll of the broken Divine Oracle.

At the same time, he began working on elevating his own rank.

After a night of deep meditation and energy guidance,

Aurek successfully condensed the third and fourth Holy Avatars.

Nine Holy Emblems and Twelve Judgement Knights!

The Nine Holy Emblems represented rule and order, stabilizing the Empire's fortune and solidifying its borders.

The Twelve Judgement Knights were embodiments of pure killing law, the war incarnations that Aurek had condensed.

Each Judgement Knight would carry one of his powerful war divine techniques.

Once summoned, the Judgement Knights would act as extensions of his will, independently casting divine techniques to attack.

Moreover, they were imbued with destructive attributes, absorbing the killing and destructive aura from the battlefield to continuously strengthen their combat prowess.

Aurek then reviewed his information panel.

[Exterminated Brotherhood of the Old Gods, Sunlit Chapel, Skyeye Guild, Emperor Points +51 billion...]

[Godfall Gorge: Killed large numbers of enemies, Emperor Points +119 billion!]

[Soldier casualties: 18,409]

Aside from the massive point rewards, Aurek immediately noticed the huge number of soldier casualties!

Clearly, they had encountered an exceptionally strong enemy.

Otherwise, typical Sage Rank warriors would have been no match for tens of thousands of Stellar Rank soldiers.

Aurek looked at his Emperor Points:

[Emperor Points: 170 billion!]

Aurek felt a sense of calm. He had never fought such a profitable battle!

This amount of points was more than enough to upgrade all his Level 8 attribute warriors to Level 9, but Aurek wasn't in a rush.

He planned to accumulate more resources and directly upgrade to a Level 10 attribute warrior!

His goal was to completely eliminate the threat from the Ordon Theocracy and sweep through the surrounding empires!

Aurek held back his immediate urge to use the points, wanting to plan ahead for his next rank-up.