

Gods Daily 246

Chapter 246: The Fall of Ordon Holy Mountain

On the battlefield,

The four ancient magical beasts were instantly vaporized in the wake of the twenty thousand destruction beams.

In the blink of an eye, a second round of volleys followed.

The remaining Sage rank of the Holy See fell one after another under this terrifying assault. Karon, with only half of his body intact, managed to escape back to the divine formation.

"Nether Cage!"

The Void Warlocks tore open a hundred thousand Spatial Fractures, trapping the Cardinals of the Holy Temple.

"Celestial Doom Judgment!"

The Doomsday Warriors summoned a meteor shower that thundered down!

Boom—!!

The first round of meteors shattered the Ordon divine formation completely, turning massive mountain peaks into dust.

The ensuing bombardment continued to sink the entire Ordon Holy Mountain, with the surviving followers perishing in the apocalyptic disaster.

The Life Cantor and the other three Cardinals of the Holy Temple couldn't hold out much longer under the relentless onslaught, falling one by one in the sky!

Joanna's lips quivered slightly, and Benjamin was too stunned to speak.

The envoys from the various empires observing the battle also trembled.

They realized clearly that the once-dismissed neighbor had now become the sword of Damocles hanging over the entire Eastern Domain!

When the last holy peak collapsed in the smoke and dust, the Ordon Theocracy, which had lasted for tens of thousands of years, became nothing more than a yellowed page in history!

...

Joanna's fingertips unconsciously traced her lips, and her emerald eyes reflected the distant storm of destruction.

The snow-capped mountains, which had not melted for millennia, were suddenly turned into a fiery hell!

"By the Holy Light..."

She whispered softly.

"Is this really the Eura Continent we know?"

The envoys from Filo Empire, Selene Empire, Pood Empire, and Goldflow Empire simultaneously felt a chill run through them.

They clenched their fists, their knuckles turning white.

Their gaze was fixed on the steel torrent formed by the two hundred thousand Stellar rank soldiers.

This force, capable of toppling the entire Eastern Domain's order, was now stationed right on their borders!

"What a terrifying neighbor..."

The old general of the Selene Empire rasped.

"If this legion decides to pay us an unfriendly visit, the result will be catastrophic..."

Gonsh, standing nearby, frowned deeply.

In the history of the Eura Continent, no Stellar rank army of such scale had ever existed.

What was even more terrifying was the ruler behind this force—Aurek!

How could an empire that had only existed for a mere ten thousand years raise two hundred thousand Stellar rank warriors?

It defied all logic!

"We must investigate Aurek's origins."

A cold glint flashed in Gonsh's eyes.

Far in the distance, Philip and Lucio were equally shaken.

But their attention was more focused on the peak battle between Pope Ronyx and the empire's general Harry.

With the Book of Radiant Light, a SSS-tier divine artifact in hand, Pope Ronyx's strength had reached a terrifying level.

Already at Divine Envoy level 4, with the enhancement of the holy book, his power now approached Divine Envoy level 9!

Additionally, with the secret techniques passed down by the War God Sazin, every strike of his contained the power to shatter stars!

Lucy and Tina, facing this kind of power, were quickly injured and sent flying deep into the void.

Harry, with killing intent in his eyes, withdrew.

The Book of Radiant Light, as a semi-divine artifact that surpassed ancient holy relics, displayed terrifying power under the activation of the Divine Envoy.

Even the anti-magic concealment set by Harry was completely destroyed.

However, when Philip and Lucio realized Harry's true rank, they were both stunned.

Despite the vast gap in rank, he was able to hold his ground against Pope Ronyx without being defeated!

"This is a terrifying warrior!"

Both of them thought in unison.

After clearing the Sage rank followers of the Ordon Theocracy, the two hundred thousand Stellar rank soldiers turned toward Pope Ronyx.

In an instant, the heavens trembled!

Pope Ronyx used all his power to activate the Book of Radiant Light in defense, but he was still forced back, rolling and retreating.

The combined assault of two hundred thousand Stellar rank soldiers had already slain four Cardinals of the Holy Temple, and Pope Ronyx did not dare to be careless!

Despite his confidence that no one beneath the divine realm could take his life, he didn't dare to face such a scale of attack head-on.

Looking back at the Ordon Theocracy, now reduced to ruins, his rage burned in his chest.

He had slumbered since ancient times, waiting for the return of the War God Sazin.

Since the appearance of Sacco, the soul of War God Sazin had given him numerous insights.

As long as he completed his mission, he would ascend to the divine realm and become a True God!

Now everything was destroyed, and his dream of becoming a god was shattered.

This filled him with hatred for Aurek!

"Since you insist on seeking death..."

Pope Ronyx roared, and the Book of Radiant Light erupted in dazzling holy light. He was prepared to sacrifice himself and the two hundred thousand imperial soldiers in a final, desperate blow!

Tina was about to step forward but was stopped by Harry.

"He is a true Divine Envoy, and the gap between Stellar rank and Divine Envoy is an insurmountable chasm."

He said calmly.

"But we have our ways."

Just as the two hundred thousand soldiers were about to launch their next volley, Harry took out the ancient divine beast hide drum bestowed by Aurek.

This artifact was specially prepared to deal with Lars and Pope Ronyx!

Suddenly, a voice transmission sounded in the minds of Harry, Tina, and Lucy.

"Hold him off for half an hour, and I will help you slay him."

Harry frowned slightly and scanned his surroundings with his mind power, but found no trace of the speaker.

But he did not hesitate, and with a leap, he took to the air.

Behind him, the two hundred thousand Stellar rank soldiers locked onto the target.

Pope Ronyx's face became solemn, relying on his rank advantage and the semi-divine artifact to dodge.

Just then, Harry gathered all his power and struck the ancient divine beast hide drum!

Boom—!

The dull drumbeat seemed to come from the depths of ancient times.

The profound runes on the drum radiated brilliant divine light.

The soundwaves rippled outward, temporarily suppressing the pressure from the Book of Radiant Light!

"This is impossible!"

Pope Ronyx spat out a mouthful of golden blood, and the next moment, twenty thousand attacks hit the holy book, knocking it away and slamming it into his body.

Despite activating his divine armor and defensive divine techniques, the continuous attacks shattered his divine armor and defenses, leaving his divine body riddled with holes.

He staggered, dragging his broken body through the ruins, but another round of attacks followed immediately.

He cast a wary glance at the ancient divine beast hide drum, then stowed the Book of Radiant Light and attempted to flee.

Harry would not give him a chance, striking the drum again.

Pope Ronyx had no choice but to throw the holy book aside to block the blows, discarding even the semi-divine artifact and choosing to escape!

"That's... an artifact!"

He gritted his teeth.

"Aurek actually has an artifact of soundwaves!"

How could such a thing be in Aurek's hands?

As he envied it, fear surged in his heart.

The power of a semi-divine artifact could crush ancient holy relics.

The power of a complete artifact was unimaginable!

He had thought he was already in an invincible position, but under the artifact's power, all life was equal!

Pope Ronyx no longer cared about anything else, desperately fleeing.

At this moment, Philip suddenly made a move!

A star chart appeared before him, with sixty-four small flags inserted around it.

He took a drop of Pope Ronyx's golden blood from the air and infused it into the flags, then took a drop of his own blood to form a strange effigy.

Just as he crushed the effigy's head, Pope Ronyx let out a shrill scream from afar.

The divine light in his pupils faded, and his broken body plummeted from the sky.

"What's going on?!"

"What happened?"

"By the stars... is this... a mirage!?"