Chapter 268: The Fall of the Lord of the Ondor Council

John personally led fifty thousand Stellar rank warriors and one hundred sage rank fighters, launching a sudden assault on the old Eryndor City in Goldflow Bay.

The other powerful figures disappeared into the void, lying in wait for their prey to take the bait.

Lucio stood on a higher cloud, overlooking everything below.

In his hand, he unexpectedly held an ancient tarot deck.

As his hands elegantly shuffled and cut the cards, the images on the cards—such as the Eight of Swords and the Tower, symbols of confinement and separation—faintly glowed.

Instead of drawing a card, he gently wiped the entire deck through the void!

In an instant, countless massive, semi-transparent tarot card illusions descended from the sky.

These cards, like the shackles of fate, precisely fell around Eryndor City, forming a circular cage of destiny.

As the card formation activated, not only was space sealed, but the elements and life force within the formation began to be ruthlessly siphoned away, like sand flowing through an hourglass.

"After weaving so much effort into this, it's time to reap the rewards,"

Lucio's lips curled into a cold, all-knowing smile.

"Prepare for battle!"

Tina's gaze was calm as she shouted sternly.

A pair of exquisite Moonlight Twin Swords had already been drawn and hovered beside her, gleaming with dangerous, cold light.

"This is just a futile struggle!"

John, wielding a double-handed sword infused with divine power, led the charge into Eryndor City.

Fifty thousand Stellar rank warriors surged in like a tidal wave.

A barrage of destructive attacks covered the sky, tearing apart space and sending numerous black cracks ripping through the air toward Tina and the others.

"Defense Sword Formation!"

Tina crossed her twin swords, sending forth a dazzling light imbued with sword domain power.

It formed a narrow barrier above Eryndor City, blocking most of the destructive attacks.

Boom!

Yet still, some of the attacks broke through the sword domain, smashing into the five thousand defenders within the city.

Three thousand of them stepped forward at once, their bodies swelling with a roar, transforming into titans over fifty meters tall!

They swung their fists, as large as houses, into the void in a relentless barrage of blows.

Bang!

Bang! Bang!

The space around them collapsed under their terrifying power.

The incoming energy attacks were also obliterated in the chaotic spatial turbulence, with deafening crashes echoing through the air.

"Kill!"

John, leading the charge, directly confronted Tina.

The tide of fifty thousand soldiers surged forward.

"For the Empire!"

The three thousand titans' eyes blazed like burning furnaces.

Their battle intent surged as they charged toward the fifty thousand enemy soldiers.

Each punch, powered by the Starbreaker Fist and Force Sigil, carried the power to shatter mountains.

With each blow, several Stellar rank warriors were instantly reduced to blood mist!

"Damn it! Their flesh is too strong—don't engage in close combat!"

"What the hell are these things?"

"Ah—!"

Shrill screams and cries of alarm echoed.

In just moments, several hundred Stellar rank warriors had been smashed to pieces.

Even sage rank fighters were knocked back by a single punch, their holy bodies cracked.

"Fight! Fight! Fight!"

The titans roared with bloodlust.

Their giant fists shook the skies, and the powerful shockwaves sent the Eastern Domain forces in front of them flying, spitting blood in mid-air.

"The power of these imperial warriors is terrifying!"

"Even though they're only Stellar rank, their combat strength is on par with sage rank!"

This scene left John, Dave, Sind, and other faction leaders hiding in the void, as well as all the other powerful observers, completely stunned.

Though they had heard of Aurek's special legions possessing strange and powerful abilities, they never expected them to be so ferocious!

Their individual power completely overpowered other Stellar rank fighters and could even face off against sage rank warriors!

This sight weighed heavily on their hearts.

There were three thousand here!

Who knows how many such giant warriors Aurek has under his command?

"Dean, should we deploy some forces to ambush Crossbridge's Eryndor City?"

"Aurek holds the secret to creating such legions. If we could get our hands on that, White Wing Abbey could soon stand at the peak of the Eura continent."

"Perhaps Skyborne Church is pushing for this alliance so aggressively because of this!"

Dave's face was cold.

Witnessing the titans' terrifying power firsthand, he finally realized just how inconceivable Aurek's strength was.

It was no surprise that Skyborne Church was coveting it.

"Wait!"

He said in a low voice, "Let's see how the situation unfolds first."

How could he not be tempted?

But the pre-established plans couldn't be easily disrupted.

Once the situation stabilized, it wouldn't be too late to deploy seven or eight Divine Envoys...

On the battlefield.

The titans' savage punches disrupted the coalition's attack rhythm.

But everyone remained calm. After all, with fifty thousand Stellar rank warriors and one hundred sage rank fighters, even these giants, as strong as they were, would eventually be worn down.

Their primary goal was the incoming reinforcements from Crossbridge Empire.

Seeing the unstoppable titans, the sage rank fighters in the coalition began to channel immense power from the laws, forming destructive giant palm prints and fist imprints to suppress the titans' onslaught.

However, behind the titans, one thousand Void Warlocks immediately activated Spatial Fracture, devouring all the sage rank attacks.

Another thousand Doomsday Warriors seized the opportunity to launch the Dawn Judgment!

The heavens split open, and countless black and red columns of destructive light fell like divine punishment, covering the one hundred sage rank warriors.

"Damn things!"

"What kind of technique is this? Summoning?"

Faced with the relentless and seamless destructive strikes, the sage rank fighters were forced to rapidly retreat.

Meanwhile,

Tina performed her Void Sword Dance, blending her form with the space around her as she flickered through the void, rapidly closing in on John.

"Such strange swordsmanship!"

John furrowed his brow, sensing an immense threat.

He too practiced swordsmanship and was especially keen on the perception of sword intent.

He knew well how terrifying a sword technique that fused space power could be.

He swung his giant sword, cutting through the space effortlessly and creating a massive crack.

Then, he quickly retreated, trying to distance himself.

But Tina pursued relentlessly, bursting out of the void.

Her Moonlight Twin Swords struck like venomous snakes, swiftly cutting down several Stellar rank warriors in her path as she rapidly closed the gap with John!

Seeing this, John unleashed a wave of sword energy!

It was as though layers of light screens were cutting through space, attempting to push Tina out of the void.

But Tina moved nimbly through the space and simultaneously cast Nether Cage, instantly sealing off the space around John with invisible barriers.

"This is bad!"

"What kind of Space Domain is this?"

John felt the space around him solidify and roared, swinging his giant sword fiercely at the void.

Boom!

At that moment, sharp spatial sword blades shot out from several directions toward John!

"Blade Storm!"

John shouted, his giant sword sweeping in a wide arc, unleashing endless sword lights.

It was as though he had opened a world of swords around him!

Countless sword lights tore through layers of space, even shattering the Nether Cage, as his violent sword intent threatened to devour the heavens and erase the incoming spatial sword strikes.

But what he didn't expect was that these spatial sword blades were just decoys.

Tina's real body suddenly appeared directly above John!

The twin swords crossed like a cross-shaped starburst and slashed down vertically!

The dazzling sword light instantly cut through John's sword barrier.

Swoosh—!

The Moonlight Twin Swords became a deadly arc and cleaved down from above, splitting John's body into four pieces!

The wild sword energy sent the remains flying in all directions.

The Lord of the Ondor Council was torn apart!
