

Gods Daily 292

Chapter 292: Feint Attack

The six guardians shouted in unison and rushed forward in hot pursuit.

Chiusen and Dorothy also turned into streaks of light and sped off.

Suggwoth swung his sword toward the shadow clan Divine Cleric charging toward him.

The Army Formation Domain rapidly contracted, and he activated Deathrealm Dominion.

His body fused with the killing aura in the domain, turning into a semi-transparent elemental form.

Boom—!

The magical symbols shattered, and the Divine Cleric's origin power erupted, creating an extreme destructive storm that swept toward Suggwoth.

However, the destructive torrent passed straight through Suggwoth's elemental body, causing no harm at all.

"Why can't I kill you?! Why?!"

The shadow clan Divine Cleric howled in unwillingness as he watched the scene unfold.

Then, his life force was extinguished, and his remains fell from the sky, his eyes fixed on the explosion's center.

The Army Formation Domain contracted, enclosing the area of destruction.

Suggwoth instantly traversed space and broke free from the domain.

Boom—!

Immediately after, the Army Formation Domain exploded with a tremendous force.

The outer sky shattered, and the destructive storm cascaded down from the heavens, making the sea of clouds churn.

Suggwoth's elemental form began to solidify.

This was the terrifying aspect of Deathrealm Dominion—by absorbing the life force from slain enemies, it temporarily elementalized his body.

In this special state, focused entirely on attacking, his body could endure until the absorbed life force was depleted.

Elementalization greatly reduced and evaded damage!

Suggwoth dove down, driving his sword through the falling shadow clan Divine Cleric's remains, completely slaying him.

On the other side, the shadow clan Divine Cleric charging toward the depths of the canyon detonated before reaching his destination.

The terrifying source power and powerful magical symbols of Divine Cleric Level 7 were compressed to the extreme and released in an instant, unleashing a destructive force that swept out in all directions.

Boom—!

In the depths of the Fallen Canyon.

A massive spherical energy light cluster rapidly expanded, radiating intense heat.

As it expanded, all matter around it was obliterated.

The entire Eastern Domain's ground trembled violently!

The six guardians were thrown back.

Chiusen and Dorothy were also knocked backward by the energy shockwave.

The surrounding area was turned into a giant crater!

...

Meanwhile, in the Abyssal Demon Realm.

The Four-Winged Demon Legion's main camp.

A general dressed in black demonic armor quickly walked into the central military tent.

Inside, a towering figure clad in dark red demonic armor stood with his hands clasped behind his back.

It was none other than the leader of the Four-Winged Demon Legion—General Wesley!

"General! A crack has appeared in the portal leading to the Eura continent!"

"It's suspected that something happened on the Eura side, and someone is trying to forcefully break the seal from that side."

Wesley turned around sharply.

"A crack has appeared? Excellent!"

"Now, opening it will be much easier. Immediately deploy three hundred thousand legion soldiers to the Secondary Demon Realm. Ensure it is breached within a year!"

I will report this to the Sovereign right away!"

"Understood!"

The black-armored general nodded and then reminded,

"General, with the portal malfunctioning, it's likely to attract the attention of powerful figures from the Eura continent hiding within the demon realm. I request that elite forces be sent to intercept them."

"Hmph! A bunch of clowns!"

Wesley sneered, "If they dare show their faces, kill them all!"

The black-armored general left to carry out the orders.

"Fate is on my side! Aurek... has he already gone back?"

"Just wait, Aurek!"

Wesley's mood finally improved a bit.

The portal had initially been sealed from the Eura continent, with powerful figures from Eura reinforcing the seals from that side.

From the demon realm's side, it had been extremely difficult to break through, and the entrance had been concealed and constantly shifting, making it hard to pinpoint—this had always been a tough problem.

Now that a crack had appeared, it meant the seal on the Eura continent was weakening, and its exact location had been exposed.

With continuous assaults, the originally decades- or even centuries-long process of opening the portal would be shortened by dozens of times.

This was huge news!

Once the portal was opened, whether Aurek was there or not, it would catch his attention.

If he's there, he won't be able to escape.

If he's not, we'll use his people and descendants to lure him out!

...

Secondary Demon Realm.

A man in red armor frowned as he gazed at the twisted crack in the sky.

"What's happening on the Eura continent? How are Galenor and the others guarding the portal?"

The portal had appeared and was now cracked—this was an extremely unfavorable situation!

A middle-aged man with a friendly demeanor stepped through the air.

"Go inform Pantek and the others. I'll stay here and see if I can fix the crack,"

The man in red armor said.

The friendly middle-aged man spoke seriously,

"It's exposed! It's too late!"

"The Four-Winged Demon Legion is on its way, and we can only delay them or consider completely destroying the portal."

The red-armored man looked deeply troubled; the fate of the Eura continent rested on this moment.

The middle-aged man sighed.

"Fine, I'll consult with Pantek. For now, stay hidden!"

"The warriors of the Dawanglu Empire are keeping an eye on us."

The red-armored man nodded, then suddenly thought of something.

"Try to find Aurek! He controls the strongest demonic warriors of the Four-Winged Demon Legion, he's a huge asset."

"I'll do my best,"

The middle-aged man said quietly, a shadow of despair in his heart.

Though Aurek was a newcomer, his actions in the demon realm had caused quite a stir.

However, he had been relentlessly hunted by the Four-Winged Demon Legion and had gone silent ever since.

The middle-aged man tore through space and left.

"This time, we probably can't stop it..."

The red-armored man's face was filled with helplessness.

How could their meager strength fight against the terrifying Dawanglu Empire?

One of their legions could cause unimaginable devastation to the Eura continent.

Now, they could only watch helplessly, and the feeling of helplessness gnawed at his soul.

...

Back at Godfall Canyon.

The destructive storm gradually subsided.

The six guardians rushed into the canyon and emerged a short time later, their faces grim.

Chiusen and Dorothy stood on the outskirts, their expressions extremely serious.

Suggwoth descended from the heavens.

After slaying several Divine Clerics, his rank had risen to Divine Cleric Level 8, and his killing aura was suffocating.

Every powerful figure present was filled with fear as they watched him.

To single-handedly slay seven Divine Clerics without sustaining serious injury, and with even self-destruction having no effect on him...

Suggwoth's ferocity and strength were like an insurmountable God Mountain, pressing down on everyone's hearts.

If Divine Clerics were the peak of Eura, Suggwoth was the supreme being among the peaks.

This level of power had left ordinary Divine Clerics far behind.

"Even such a peerless warrior serves Aurek... I really can't imagine what kind of incredible power the Emperor holds,"

Countless people speculated in their hearts.

Meanwhile, Galenor and the other two Divine Cleric figures had returned.

Seeing the battle come to an end, they were deeply shaken.

Philip and Lucio had said there was no need to worry about anything under ten Divine Clerics.

They certainly hadn't been exaggerating!

The immensely powerful shadow clan had truly been slaughtered like this?!

They moved to the side of the six guardians.

"The seal has been weakened, and some of the sealing runes have been shattered,"

One of the guardians spoke in a deep voice.

Galenor's face changed drastically!