

Gods Daily 350

Chapter 350: Return to the Eura Continent

Woots spoke.

"The Four-Winged Demon Legion has strengthened the defenses around the passage. If we approach carelessly, we'll be repelled."

"I'll first clear the critical points and look for gaps in the patrols. That way, I can cover you as you approach the passage and leave."

He wasn't worried about his identity being exposed because he ultimately needed to return to the Eura Continent as well.

"I really want to meet the emperor of the Crossbridge Empire. To think that they managed to elevate the strength of the Eura Continent to this level—it's almost unbelievable!"

Aster and the others were also filled with anticipation.

It had been so long since they'd left their homeland, and everything had changed. Just hearing about it, and the legends surrounding it, stirred their emotions. What was the truth behind it all? This was the greatest curiosity in each of their hearts.

...

Elsewhere, one day after Natasha and her group left the Snail Sea.

The destruction of the small world in that area had triggered a violent celestial phenomenon.

Soon, dozens of towering giants, each several tens of meters tall, broke through the void and arrived near the sea's boundary.

"Is this the place?" One of the giants frowned and looked down at the sea.

Another giant took out a long ruler and traced it across the sea boundary. The ruler extended infinitely, dividing the vast sea in half.

They descended straight down to the ocean's depths but detected no abnormalities.

"The celestial phenomenon occurred in this sea area, so it's likely nearby, but the exact location is uncertain."

A giant with a battle axe on his shoulder looked around, searching for any signs of anomalies.

Other giants were also searching, but none of them found anything.

"Forget it, someone else will handle it. Let's pull back."

The first giant who had spoken looked up at the sky, seemingly wary of something, and didn't stay any longer.

...

After leaving the Snail Sea, Natasha didn't stop in Twilight City and headed straight for the Dawonru Empire.

She brought along the Blood Lion Reo and Zach to prevent any leaks of information.

Hundreds of thousands of Elemental Assassins guarded them in the void.

Upon entering the Secondary Demon Realm, Natasha and her group discovered countless troops and heavily fortified defenses around the passage.

As they approached, a terrifying mind power immediately suppressed the surrounding void.

A powerful binding barrier appeared in front of the passage.

Natasha's expression changed drastically. She had personally escorted the Gold Giant Gate, fearing that something might go wrong, and now, her worst fears were coming true.

"All forces, be on alert. There are enemies nearby!"

A large number of soldiers from the Four-Winged Demon Legion were alarmed and rushed toward the passage.

"There is a powerful force that set up a mysterious restriction in the passage, sealing off this space."

A True God deity reminded them.

This restriction, formed by the source of magical power, was woven into the space itself, capable of detecting even the slightest fluctuations. It was clear that after their previous defeat, they had made these preparations to guard against an assault from Eura.

Even the Elemental Assassins would be detected.

"I'll destroy the restriction, and you handle the defense," Cyriel directly said.

For now, protecting the Gold Giant Gate was their priority.

The True God deity nodded. "Master, I'll assist you as well."

The Blood Lion Reo volunteered to help.

One of his mouths opened, unleashing endless golden light like a starry rain, killing large numbers of soldiers and even causing several demon generals to instantly fall.

Cyriel nocked an arrow and shot a Destruction Arrow, piercing through the barrier and causing it to collapse.

Taking advantage of the opening, Natasha swiftly darted toward the passage.

At that moment, a massive hand from the heavens suddenly appeared, covering half of the Secondary Demon Realm and slamming down hard.

Threads of ultimate destruction magic patterns hung down, each one lighting up the sky, carrying immense destructive power.

The True God deity sensed that the one who made the move was stronger than the guardian of the Gold Giant Gate.

She expanded her divine light, attempting to absorb the heavenly essence of the Secondary Demon Realm.

However, as soon as she absorbed part of it, the entire source was seemingly blocked by some force.

The True God deity's face became solemn. Without hesitation, she took out the Doomspear, injecting her True God power into it. Dark magical power surged, and she thrust the spear forward!

The spearhead shot up, bursting with light and shattering the massive hand in the sky.

The entire sky of the Secondary Demon Realm cracked open, erupting into a terrifying chaotic storm.

Natasha and the others seized the chance to rush into the passage, with the Blood Lion Reo close behind.

After striking the spear, the True God deity quickly followed into the passage.

The fierce battle immediately alerted the Demon Lord Lenon of the Darkness Demon Race!

He crossed through the void and arrived, while Wesley stepped onto the battlefield to investigate.

At the edge of the Secondary Demon Realm.

A middle-aged man dressed in a green robe stood, his brow furrowed. A strand of white hair swayed in the wind, giving him a sharp and competent appearance.

He emanated a deep aura, surrounded by numerous laws, with rays of divine light flashing in his eyes.

"Chaotic Artifact... True God-level expert..."

"Such an existence is hidden in this lower realm! Or is it someone from the Abyss Demon Realm?"

The middle-aged man looked astonished.

Recently, the soldiers of the Four-Winged Demon Legion had been frequently assassinated by mysterious assassins, causing turmoil within the army. He had to step in to suppress the situation and focus his attention on the passage.

Originally, the idea was to block the passage to capture intruders from Eura and gather intelligence, but it unexpectedly attracted a big fish.

Interesting!

Wesley stood in the center of the battlefield, his mind power probing in all directions.

A wave of mind power reached him, and he quickly moved toward the middle-aged man.

Upon seeing him, Wesley hurriedly bowed.

"Greetings, Firmament Sage!"

"Prepare well. This battle will not be easy. The Eura Continent hides True God-level experts. Be extra cautious," the middle-aged man advised.

Wesley was shaken to his core.

The Eura Continent actually had True Gods?

How is that possible?

How could such a powerful being exist in this lower realm?

The constant assassinations in recent days had already put him on edge, and this news made him even more anxious.

"Rest assured, everything is still under control," the middle-aged man said calmly.

Wesley looked at the Firmament Sage, his mind gradually settling.

With him here, there was truly nothing to fear!

...

In the Crossbridge Empire, Eryndor City.

Suggwoth, having absorbed divine medicines, the Primordial Draconic Gem, and various divine elixirs, successfully ascended to the God General rank.

A fierce killing intent coalesced around him, forming dark red killing sigils, and his combat power skyrocketed several levels.

He was now ready for war!

Aurek also elevated his rank to near True God level.

Above the palace, the image of a majestic emperor became more solid and clear, signaling that the goal of dominating the entire Eura Continent was nearing its end.

Aurek was reviewing official matters.

These were intelligence reports sent from the Demon Realm by Philip and Lucio, detailing that the Dawonru Empire was actively preparing for war and planning to attack the Crossbridge Empire.

The Elemental Assassins were keeping a close watch.

This was one of his most pressing concerns.

Currently, the Empire's accumulated Emperor Points had reached sixty-two trillion.

To raise the summoning authority to level sixteen, this was still far from enough.

Only by invading the Demon Realm and completely eliminating the threats to the Empire could enough Emperor Points be obtained.

But the problem was, the number of top-tier experts was still insufficient.

Even if they could enter the Demon Realm, it would be difficult to withstand the retaliation from the many powerful beings within that world.

This was precisely why Aurek had spared no effort in cultivating Suggwoth and other special experts.

Now that the Dawonru Empire had actively sought war, he could hardly wait for it!

"Your Majesty, Lord Chuck requests an audience."

Angie's voice rang out from outside the hall.

"Let him in."

Moments later, Chuck entered the grand hall, dressed in his heraldic robe, hand on his chest, bowing to Aurek on the throne.

"Greetings, my Lord."

"What's the matter, Chuck?"

Aurek's quill scratched across the paper as he did not look up.

"Your Majesty, the consolidation of affairs on the Eura Continent is nearly complete."

"The Empire's laws and administrative systems have been implemented across all territories, and the appointments of local leaders and officials have been finalized. Therefore, the Court Council has proposed setting the Divine Dawn Day for the first of next month," Chuck respectfully reported.